Top Officials Tumble In Red Purge

Startle East Germans By Sudden Move, Many Called Spies

BERLIN, Sept. 1—(AP)—East Germany's Communist rulers rocked their party and government today with a startling purge of highly-placed officials.

Six party members, including a former Politburo member, were thrown out of the Socialist Unity (Communist) party, the official party newspaper Neues Deutschland announced.

Four more were ejected from jobs in the Russian-backed East German government.

More expulsions were predicted.

The party newspaper gave two reasons for the purge—associating with "American spies" and exhibiting anti-Russian feeling."

Those ejected from the party were:

Paul Merker, State Secretary in the Agriculture Ministry, and Politburo member until party reorganization in July; Leo Bauer, chief editor of Radio Berlin; Bruno Goldhammer, deputy to Propaganda Chief Gerhardt Eisler; Willi Kreikemeyer, general director of the Soviet-zone railway system; Lex Ende, former chief editor of Neues Deutschland and later editor of the Communist Friedenspost; and Maria Weiterer an unidentified party member.

Without party status, none of them can hope to retain their state jobs. Bauer is known to have been thrown out of the radio station already. Goldhammer has not been seen in Eisler's office recently.

Making Hand Felt

The purge action, Neues Deutschland said, was taken by the party Politburo at the direction of the party's secretary-general, Walter Ulbricht, named to that post five weeks ago. The same party post in Russia provided Joseph Stalin with his springboard to power.

Neues Deutschland admitted that the German Communist Party's ranks are corroded with members who no longer can obey Russian dictates without question. This is the worst sin that can be charged against a Communist.

Deprived of their government jobs but still retained as party members were Wolfgang Langhoff, manager of East Berlin's Deutschen Theatre, and Bruno Fuhrmann, Hans Teubner, and

Garbage Tie-up Faces Detroit

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP).—A tie-up of garbage collections threatened Detroit today after a mayor's order for the firing of 1,500 wage demonstrators.

Mayor Albert E. Cobo, invoking a state law prohibiting strikes by public employees, directed the firings of garbage and rubbish collectors who picketed the city hall Thursday.

The 1,500 who laid off work for two hours for the demonstration, represent about two-thirds of the city sanitation force serving a population of more than 1,500,000.

After Mayor Cobo's order, the union said a strike would be called if any of the firings were made to stick.

Bond St. Offering Wing Collars For Dogs

LONDON, Sept. 1 (Reuters).—If Parisian dogs can have nightgowns then London dogs can wear wing collars.

That is the view of a Bond St shop offering white plastic dog collars in the authentic style of London's financial workers. A black ribbon goes around the collar and ties in a bow.

The price: £2 ($6.20) and up.

As for those Paris nightgowns for pups, the store says: "We do not think dog owners in London would like these."

Turn Hoses On Reds

BERLIN, Sept. 1—(AP)—West Berlin police used high pressure water hoses today to disperse several hundred Communist roughies demonstrating in front of city hall. The demonstrators, Germans who live in the west sectors but work in East Berlin for Communist-controlled agencies, were protesting a recent western ban on their exchanging their east mark earnings for west marks.

Seek Rare Blood For Ailing London Woman

LONDON, Sept 1 (Reuters) — Only three people in 100,000 may have the rare type of blood which can help an ailing London woman.

A week-long search has been going on for blood donors of the correct grouping. An international appeal has so far been unsuccessful, although inquiries have come in from many countries.

Mrs. Kathleen Hall, 46, is waiting in hospital here for an operation to cure her congenital intestinal bleeding—a complaint which runs in her family.

Her blood pressure is less than one-half normal. Before the operation can be performed she must have blood transfusions to build up her resistance.

But no surgeon will operate unless emergency supplies of extra blood of her special type are also available. No other type will mix with hers.

Mrs. Hall's case was described Thursday night as "not as urgent as when she entered the hospital last week." Rest and care have increased her reserves, but no further action can be taken until the right type of blood is found.

Test 700 Samples

Technicians said they tested 700 samples in four days. Of these only one sample closely approximated the correct type, but it was not quite right.

What they wanted was blood of the group designated by the letter O RH/CD E.

One person in 200 had blood of this type. But, additionally, the blood must come from an homozygous person; that is, a person who inherited the gene from both sides of the family.

Of the samples so far received 250 had been of the correct grouping, but all were heterozygous.

Only one in 100 of the people with the correct grouping would be homozygous, giving a chance of one in 20,000 of the correct grouping being found for Mrs Hall.

But, as well, two out of five persons satisfying these conditions would have blood of another sub-group designated by the letters O RH/CDU E. The chances are therefore three out of 100,000. The one homozygous donor whose blood had been offered was found to belong to the sub-group with the DU in the designation instead of the O RH/CD E.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1—(CP)—Graham Tower, governor of the Bank of Canada, will leave for Paris Saturday by plane to represent Canada at International Bank meetings.

Two Schools Vanish, Call In RCMP

Buildings Disappear After Clash With School Board

EDMONTON, Sept. 1—(CP)—Two northern Alberta school buildings are "missing" after a bizarre clash between school authorities and ratepayers, and the R.C.M.P. today launched a "search."

They are armed with a search warrant from the acting Alberta premier, Dr. W. W. Cross.

The two wooden buildings were reported missing from near Falher in the high prairie school division when teachers began preparations for school opening Tuesday.

"The persons responsible for removing the schools will be ordered to put them back—and will likely be charged with theft," Dr. Cross said.

Taken By Bulldozer

District residents say the schools were dragged by bulldozer to the parish grounds of the Roman Catholic church at Girouxville two weeks ago. Board officials who tried to move them back were met with protests from the residents, who said they were "guarding" the buildings. The board retreated.

Bishop Henri Routier said residents had sought to have the schools more centrally located but the board refused. He said the schools were placed on the parish grounds because a dormitory is nearby.

Dr. J. W. T. Wood, board chairman, declined comment.

Use Red Pepper Grab Payroll

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP)—Two bandits today threw red pepper into the face of William G. Sinclair, president of the Sinclair-Ferguson Construction Company and robbed him of a $5,000 payroll, police said.

Sinclair told police that the thieves, at least one of whom was armed, accosted him in front of an incinerator on Keele Street in suburban North York township.

Diet Of Water Lilies Now Vogue In England

SOUTHFLEET, Kent, England, Sept. 1.—(CP).—A diet of water lilies has become the vogue in this rural community.

It all started after the local rector, Rev. W. M. Falloon, disclosed his secret of good health and long life at a party in celebration of his 78th birthday.

Every morning in the lily season, the rector said, he picked a nice lily from his goldfish pond, put it between two slices of bread and ate it before breakfast.

"I have been doing that for 16 years and thrived on it," he said.

US Vessel Sets Record In Reaching Arctic Area

OTTAWA, Sept 1 (CP) — A United States ship recently pushed to what is believed to be the northernmost point in the western hemisphere ever reached by a vessel under its own power, the external affairs department announced today.

The ship, the United States coast guard's Eastwind, moved to within 445 nautical miles of the north pole while passing the northeastern tip of Ellesmere Island, 1,500 miles north of Churchill, Man.

The vessel, along with three United States navy ships, sailed into Canadian Arctic regions in July to supply the joint Arctic weather stations operated by Canada and United States. The stations are on Ellesmere and Cornwallis islands.

The Eastwind and the U.S.S. Edisto smashed through heavy polar pack ice of up to 30 feet in thickness while moving to supply one of the stations on Ellesmere Island. This was the heaviest ice encountered in five years of Arctic supply operations.

The Edisto and the Eastwind carried helicopters, and they were used extensively in short-range ice reconnaisance. They also were used to transport Canadian government surveyors and other field technicians to locations where astro positions, terrain elevation, geology, wild life and other reconnaissance field studies were accomplished.

Long-range ice reconnaissance was furnished by the RCAF.

While in the north, the senior United States official on the supply mission—C. J. Hubbard, chief of Arctic projects in the United States weather bureau—was killed in an RCAF plane crash on Ellesmere Island that claimed nine lives.

FIVE KILLED—Five provincial forestry officials died in the flaming wreckage of an Ontario government seaplane (circled) Wednesday when it crashed into the grounds of the Temagamin Country Club, 50 miles north of North Bay. The plane hit the ground just about 200 yards short of Maille Lake where Sidney Hutnick, the pilot, was attempting a forced landing. It is believed the engine failed.

US Plane May Have Strafed Manchurian Airfield By Mistake Austin Reports

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 1—(AP)—Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb took over today as President of the United Nations Security Council, determined to end Russia's Jakob A. Malik's month-long stalemate of pending council moves to localize the Korean war. A spokesman quoted Jebb as saying: "We shall turn the calendar back to July 31. We shall pretend that Malik has never been president and get on with our work."

At today's council meeting Jebb was reported to have planned as the first order of business the seating of a representative of South Korea and the refusal of a place to a North Korean envoy.

Malik had, through one parliamentary move or another, prevented this action while he held the presidency during August.

Then, the British spokesman declared the council would take up an American resolution declaring the North Koreans to be the aggressors and calling on all U.N. members to refrain from aiding them.

"The Soviet Union will probably veto this, and then we shall go on to our next piece of business," he said.

That would be consideration of Communist China's charges, presented by the Soviet Union, of American aggression against Formosa and air raids on Manchuria. The council voted Thursday, 8-3, to hear the air-raid charges.

Will Be Present

The fact that the two Russian-backed items are on the agenda was taken as conclusive evidence that Malik would be present and would not renew his boycott of the United Nations which ended when he assumed the council presidency Aug. 1.

U.S. delegate Warren R. Austin took the council by surprise Thursday by admitting that an American fighter plane might have strafed a Manchurian airfield by mistake Aug. 27.

He asked for a full U.N. on-the-spot investigation of the charges, and promised, if they were proved, that the U.S. would

Prince Philip Sets Out To Take 1st Command

LONDON, Sept. 1 — (AP). — Prince Philip, a lieutenant-commander in the Royal Navy, set out today to take over his first command. He left in one of the King's private airplanes for Malta, where he will be piped aboard as the new skipper of the 1,430-ton anti-aircraft frigate HMS Magpie.

He had spent a month's leave here with his wife, Princess Elizabeth, who is getting along nicely following the birth of their second child, Princess Anne, on August 15.

Princess Elizabeth is expected to join her husband for a holiday later this year at Malta, headquarters of the British Mediterranean Fleet.

Civic Workers Consider Offer

HAMILTON, Sept. 1 (CP). — Hamilton civic workers meet today to decide if they will accept a new wage-hours plan and go back to work after nearly three weeks on strike.

The strike has pulled out nearly 1,000 city garbage collectors, grave-diggers, street, waterworks and sewer maintenance men.

Representatives of the Hamilton Civic Employees Union (CCL) agreed to refer to the members a settlement formula drawn up Thursday after a six-hour meeting with Board of Control.

The formula offered a three-year contract with a progressive cut in working hours to 40 hours a week by Jan. 1, 1952, with no cut in take-home pay.

The men now work 44 hours a week at a basic wage of $1 an hour.

The proposed three-year contract calls for an immediate cut to 42 hours a week. There is to be a cut to 40 at the end of 1951, a cost of living bonus of $1 a week to start Jan. 1, 1951, with a sliding scale of additional bonuses. Workers would get an extra 50 cents a week for each rise of 1½ points in the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' cost of living index over the figure for August.

Kiss At Party No Crime—Court

SHREWSBURY, England, Sept 1 (Reuters)—It is no crime to kiss a girl in the dark at a party, an army court-martial decided here Thursday.

Capt Anderson Murray Marshall was before the court on a charge of assaulting Miss Vera Burns at an army party.

Miss Burns said that towards the end of the party she heard someone calling her on the terrace. She went out, and found Marshall there.

She said Marshall said he would go away if she gave him a kiss. The answer was no. Miss Burns said Marshall grabbed hold of her and kissed her. She threatened to call someone so he kissed her again.

"I got upset," she told the court, "and slapped him across the face with his hat."

Marshall said the girl was standing close to him and he thought she was expecting to be kissed—so he kissed her three times.

Marshall was acquitted.

As they parted this time, he and Miss Burns shook hands.

Defence Costs Will Soar Claxton Says

Sees Greatest Danger In Germany, To Help Arm Europe

OTTAWA, Sept. 1—(CP)—It's guns before butter nowadays for Canadians. The Commons was told Thursday by government spokesmen that Canada, ready to play her part in stopping Russian aggression, plans to spend large sums on an accelerated defence program and on rearming Europe.

Defence Minister Claxton said parliament at this four-day-old emergency session will be asked to vote another $140,000,000 to $150,000,000 for Canada's defence needs this fiscal year, as well as "very substantial" sums to help arm Europe. The last regular session of parliament earmarked $425,000,000 for defence purposes.

"The events of the last few months have shown that the Communists are prepared to run great risks to extend the sweep of the Iron Curtain," the Defence Minister told the Commons.

No Choice

"It is sometimes said that the democracies have a choice between guns and butter. For me there is no choice. We must continue to develop our resources, expand our economy, extend the area of all the freedoms within the nation, and at the same time, with other nations, meet the threat of aggression by the one thing that will stop it—trained, united strength."

Mr. Claxton made the statement after External Affairs Minister Pearson, in an outline of foreign policy, pledged Canada to bear her "proper share" of the burden of collective defence against Soviet aggression.

The Cabinet ministers spoke in debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, will resume the debate today and will be followed by other party leaders.

Mr. Pearson, saying that events in Korea may be repeated on a "larger scale" in Western Germany, called for a rearming of that former enemy.

Money For Europe

Mr. Claxton did not disclose how much will be spent on European rearmament, but informed quarters outside the House reported that a bill authorizing the government to give Western European Allies more than $300,000,000 in arms aid will be introduced.

The Defence Minister said more than 1,000 regulars are being posted to the army's Special Force. That move will enable the

Revised Marriage Law Effective October 2

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP)—Ontario's revised marriage law becomes effective Oct. 2, it was disclosed today by the provincial secretary's office.

The legislation, passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, will allow, in addition to religious marriages, the performance of ceremonies by county and district judges and by magistrates.

Another provision is that a judge may declare a person missing for seven years to be presumed dead so the way is cleared for the other party to marry again.

Buckoski's Father Dies

TORONTO, Sept. 1—(CP)—Frank Buckoski, Sr., 66, father of the man held in Los Angeles on a charge of murdering Alfred Layng here more than a year ago, died Thursday of a heart attack. He was a chef in a hotel.

Army Holding Investigation In Mortar Blast

PETAWAWA MILITARY CAMP, Sept. 1 — (CP). — An Army investigation into a mortar bomb explosion which took the lives of four soldiers and injured another four continued into its second day today.

Meanwhile medical authorities at nearby Pembroke Cottage Hospital said the condition of Cpl. Nicholas W. Puddicombe, 21, of Ottawa—most severely injured in Thursday's blast—still is critical.

Although the nature of his injuries was not disclosed, it was indicated that Puddicombe was badly wounded by flying shrapnel.

Three privates, also injured, are being treated at the military hospital here and are expected to be released shortly. Their injuries were described as "slight."

All of the dead and injured were members of the 1st and 2nd Battalions Royal Canadian Regiment. Three of the dead and the three slightly-injured privates were of the 2nd Battalion which forms part of the special brigade earmarked for possible duty in Korea or elsewhere.

Release Names

Bodies of the dead, after examination by the district coroner, are being removed to homes of next-of-kin for burial service. The dead are: Cpl. K. R. Ray, 1st Battalion, of Rosemount, Que., Pte. W. E. Brayley, 2nd Battalion, Rothesay, NB, Pte. D. J. Murphy, MM, 2nd Battalion, of Montreal; Pte. N. E. Hughes, 2nd Battalion, Niagara Falls, Ont.

Cpl. Puddicombe, a permanent force soldier with three years' service, apparently had been instructing members of the 2nd Battalion in two-inch mortar drill at the big weapons range here. It is believed the bomb burst prematurely when inserted in the mortar barrel.

A court of inquiry, launched immediately by Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes, general officer commanding Central Command, is investigating the circumstances surrounding the blast, including a shipment of mortar bombs to see whether the bombs themselves may be defective.

Soviet Pushing Drive Win Iran's Friendship

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 1—(AP).—Russia is stepping up its campaign for Iranian friendship by agreeing to discuss long-standing border disputes, it was learned authoritatively today.

The Soviet proposal came in the midst of trade talks here, which apparently are intended to counter negotiations under way for an American loan to bolster Iranian economy against Communist pressure.

For years Iran has been trying to get Russia to settle a dozen boundary disputes which in the past have led to minor frontier clashes.

An Iranian source confirmed that Iran and Russia have agreed to set up a boundary commission, but said that Premier Ali Razmara ordered strict secrecy over the delicate talks with the Soviet.

Gov't Calls 4 By-Elections To Be Held On October 16

OTTAWA, Sept. 1 (CP)—The government announced today four by-elections to fill vacancies in the Commons have been called for Oct. 16.

The ridings are Rimouski, Welland, Joliette - L'Assomption - Montcalm and Montreal St. Mary.

The Welland seat was vacated by the death of Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, and that of Rimouski by the death of Gleason Beleile, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott.

Gaspard Fauteux, former speaker of the Commons, resigned the St. Mary seat a few days ago to become Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec.

Georges Lapalme resigned the Joliette-L'Assomption - Montcalm seat to take over as Quebec Liberal leader.

The by-elections will fill all present vacancies in the Commons.

The standing now is: Liberals 184; Progressive Conservatives, 43; CCF, 13; Social Credit, 10; Independent, 5; Independent Liberal, 3; vacant, 4; total, 262.

Enemy Drives Ahead Over Dead

UN Troops Recapture Haman, As Reds Stage All-Out Attack

TOKYO, Sept. 1—(CP)—Storming forward over their own dead, North Korean troops hammered today at two vital sections of the Allied defence line in their biggest offensive of the war.

On the south central sector along the Naktong River they shoved American troops back as far as 10 miles from flat country between Hyonpung and Yongsan.

Farther south, where the Communists are making an all-out drive toward the key port of Pusan, American troops fought their way back into the town of Haman, which the Reds had taken during the day. The Americans pushed on to occupy ridges east of the blazing city.

It was to the north of Haman that the biggest threat was developing. Jumping off at midnight Thursday the Communists swiftly drove a salient four miles wide and eight to 10 miles deep east of the Naktong River.

Abandon Yongsan

The town of Yongsan itself had been abandoned, with the Americans pulling back to high ground to the east. They dug into positions from whence they will try to check the Red drive, aimed at the Taegu-Pusan highway, main artery of communications and supply for the defenders.

The Communist offensive cut quickly through the old Naktong bulge from which the Americans drove 12,000 Reds two weeks ago.

An American intelligence officer said still another major Red offensive may develop elsewhere on the beachhead. He said the largest mass of enemy infantry still is presumed to be in the Waegwan area, northwest of Taegu.

The Communists were paying a heavy price for the ground they took. An officer of the U.S. 2nd Division told an Associated Press correspondent: "Bodies are stacked up by the hundreds, but they're still coming."

Wilson Retires From Racing

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (CP). — Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, 38-year-old driver of the Canadian Harmsworth challenge boat Miss Canada IV, announced his retirement from powerboat racing on Thursday night on the eve of this year's Harmsworth race here.

Wilson said he will retire at the end of this season for both personal and business reasons.

"Win, lose or draw," in the Harmsworth this weekend, he would quit his racing career but would "most probably" take another crack at breaking the world water speed record at Picton, in the latter part of September.

He said he had "done my best for Canada" in boat racing, "although my best has not always been good enough. My only hope now is that another Canadian will step into the picture and carry on in this wonderful game."

Hall Tells Unions Not To Hold Spite

MONTREAL, Sept. 1—(CP)—Frank Hall, speaking for 124,000 rail employees involved in a wage-hour dispute with Canadian railways, today said union members should "let bygones be bygones" from the nine-day national railway strike.

In a statement, Mr. Hall said "The important thing is to re-establish sound relationship with the railways and get on with the work.

"It is the earnest hope of these unions that agreement can nbe reached with the railways on the matters to be discussed. It is in this spirit that our negotiating committee will resume the negotiations."

Liberals Call For Delegates To Convention

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP). — The Ontario Liberal Association today issued an official call for election of delegates to the Toronto convention Nov. 9-10 which will pick a provincial leader to succeed Farquhar Oliver, who resigned a year ago.

To each of the 90 provincial riding associations went an invitation to name six delegates and six alternates, said secretary W. G. Hale, who reported that arrangements for the convention are well advanced.

Mr. Hale said preparations are being made for about 1,000 voting delegates and some 500 or more guests. In addition to representatives of the riding associations, accredited delegates will include Liberal Privy Councillors and Senators in Ontario; all Liberal candidates in Ontario in the last Federal and Provincial general elections; officers of the Ontario Liberal Association and its women's organizations, its management committee and committee chairmen.

Two Candidates

Two candidates definitely in the field for the leadership are Campbell Calder, member of the Legislature for London, and Walter C. Thomson, Federal member for Ontario constituency. Others may enter the field before convention day.

Mr. Oliver who represents Grey South in the Legislature, was elected leader after the resignation of Mitchell Hepburn in 1945.

The convention is also the association's annual meeting and in addition to selecting a leader will also consider a new Liberal policy statement being prepared by a committee under the chairmanship of Colin A. Campbell, former Ontario Minister of Public Works.

Active in convention arrangements are Norman Mathews of Toronto, association president, and William A. Bennett of Toronto, chairman of the general convention committee.

force to move to unit and brigade training in 10 weeks.

Various factors are enabling the force to complete basic and advanced — that is, individual — training in mid-November, months ahead of normal schedule. However, it would be a matter of weeks running into months after that before it took the field in Korea or elsewhere with 6,775 men in its ranks and front-line reinforcement camps, and with another 3,000 men awaiting the call farther back.

Mr. Claxton made no reference to reports outside the House that the United States has been pressing Canada to speed dispatch of ground troops to Korea, and other reports that the force, a brigade in size, will do its formation training in Japan.

Mr. Pearson declared that Canada's part in the Korean war is limited solely to the defence of that Asiatic peninsula and does not include any intervention in Formosa or the restoration of the Nationalist Government in exile there.

He made clear Canada's dislike for a "preventive" war, as proposed by U.S. Navy Secretary Matthews, and said this country does not propose to "acquiesce quietly when others suggest this course of action."

Defines Task

Defining Canada's task in the Korean war, Mr. Pearson said:

"We should do our part . . . to defeat aggression in Korea, so that the lesson of the failure of aggression there can be learned elsewhere, where it needs to be learned.

"We should also speed our military preparations so that we may hope to be able to defeat any similar acts of aggression which—if the above lesson is not learned—that may break elsewhere, and we can never hope to do that alone."

Soviet communism, he said, may foment war anywhere.

"Tomorrow, there may be an aggression against Indo-China or a civil war in Germany.

"Soviet attacks will be made wherever and whenever the members of the Politbureau think the circumstances are favorable for the achievement of their violent purposes. Therefore, we must keep our eyes peeled for dangers that may arise in any quarter of the globe."

Germany Dangerous

It was in Germany that perhaps the greatest danger of a large-scale Korea lay. West Germany was comparatively unarmed while the Soviet-dominated sector has powerfully-equipped forces.

"It is, I think, becoming increasingly obvious," said Mr. Pearson, "that the disparity between the military forces of Eastern and Western Germany must be redressed.

"It is no longer a question of whether or not Germany is to be rearmed, because the Communist part of Germany has already been rearmed, and by Soviet Russia which controls it."

Mr. Claxton said that should an emergency arise, the government now will know immediately how many men it wants for each service, how many in each succeeding year, what kind of men, where they will go and what they will do.

Place Big Orders

Stating that defence expenditures will be higher next year, Mr. Claxton said the accelerated home-defence program calls for improvement of existing anti-tank and anti-aircraft weapons, and for purchase of new ones in addition to acquiring "very considerable quantities" of ammunition and motor vehicles.

Substantial defence orders will be placed in Canada for arms for both herself and the Atlantic-Pact Allies. The orders, he said, must make inroads on output for civilian purposes. Canada was going ahead with a program that would allow her to stand proudly forth as one who, in every way, was doing her part.

Airlines Lose Money

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Britain's state-owned airlines lost £9,135,481 ($28,381,991) in the year ended last March 31. This compared with a loss of £9,740,000 for the preceding 12 months.

Anti-Red Blast Expected At Labor Rally

The special Labor Day message to the Peterborough and District Labor Council will be delivered by Sam Baron, Canadian director of the Textile Workers Union of America, and a strongly anti-Communist trade unionist.

Text of Mr. Baron's address has not been released but it is expected to contain a heated anti-red blast with specific reference to the trade union situation in Peterborough. He was one of the top Canadian Congress of Labor officers who urged the break with the left-wing World Federation of Trade Unions and the formation of the new right-wing International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

Other speakers will be Gordon K. Fraser, MP; Hon. Harold R. Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests; and Mayor Max Swanston.

That will be the serious part of the day-long celebration—labor's special contribution to Peterborough's centennial. For the most part those who go to Riverside Park will find the carnival spirit in full sway.

Children will be the big winners.

Plan Parade

The opening gun of the holiday's activities will be fired when playground children and the 12 locals affiliated with the Canadian Congress of Labor move off in parade formation from the CNR freight shed, Charlotte and Aylmer Sts. Parade marshal Albert Johnston, local CCL organizer and TWUA director, has set the time at 1 p.m.

Girls and boys from the city's eight playgrounds will follow the Havelock pipe band and the CGE pipe band. Last year there were 650 children in the parade and there is a prospect of an even larger turnout this year.

Award Pennants

Pennants, awarded by the Labor Council, will go to the playgrounds with the best turnout in the parade and also to the one receiving the most points at the athletic events. More than 250 crests to individual prizewinners have also been donated.

Judges will also pick the boy and girl with the best novel costume and the most fancy. Other prizes will be for decorating bicycles, doll carriages and wagons.

The four speakers are scheduled for 1:30 p.m., or shortly after the parade reaches Riverside Bowl.

One of the chief events of the afternoon will be the girls' softball game between Riverside and Flemings. There will also be playground championship competition in horseshoes, softball, track and field and volleyball, and possibly basketball.

Alex Sinclair, playground director, is co-operating in the sporting end of the day's entertainment although handicapped through lack of staff. (The playground year ends August 31.)

Each boy and girl in the Labor Day parade will receive free tickets for ice cream, and chocolate or plain milk.

Prizes to the playground winners will be handed out at 6 p.m. And the draw prize winners will be announced at the end of the evening. A combination radio and record player, an electric stove and an Axminster rug, will go to the three winners.

Lose Confidence

The general charge of espionage was levelled at all 10 purgees. In addition they were accused of lacking confidence in the Soviet Union.

Neues Deutschland said there was evidence they had been in touch with the American Office of Strategic Services during the war. They were also said to have associated with Noel H. Field, former American State Department employee who disappeared mysteriously behind the Iron Curtain in 1949.

The Communists said recently that Field was an American spy, but did not disclose what had happened to him.

Terrible Toll

Air observers in the southern front also reported a terrible toll in North Korean lives, where aircraft and artillery backed up the American counter-attack.

However, the North Koreans had far from exhausted their effort and were expected to renew their assaults in the Haman sector under cover of darkness.

The Tokyo headquarters summary issued shortly after midnight said Allied forces were "poised for an all-out fight" to restore positions four miles east of the Naktong-Nam River junction. This summary evidently was well behind field dispatches, however, as it had the Reds still holding Haman, which Americans have recaptured.

A' Out Attack

Gen. MacArth r's intelligence officer described the assault as all-out. But he said it was expected.

Fifty thousand Communists were involved—30,000 in three divisions. Another 20,000 Reds were in reserve.

An American division pulled back eight miles to heights at Yongsan, on its own left flank. The position was only 12 air miles west of the main highway from Pusan to Taegu, allied communications and supply hub in the central sector.

The Red bridgehead was reported in field dispatches as wider and deeper than the one established on the east side of the Naktong two weeks ago. That one was wiped out by a reinforced United States division.

Cross At 17 Points

Field dispatches said the Reds crossed the Naktong in 17 points cutting off two American battalions who were fighting their way back to the new lines.

Earlier field dispatches reported the North Koreans established a road block behind American positions 23 miles southwest of Taegu.

The entire might of the United States sevent fleet' carrier planes was ordered into the battle. They joined American and Australian fighters in close support of ground forces.

One unarmed American observation plane was shot down by the first Yak fighter reported in action over the front since the earliest days of the war.

American helicopters hovered over the battle. While bullets whined around, the 'copters whirred close to the ground and pick up American wounded where they had fallen.

Some United States field officers regarded the offensive as the Communists' last major effort to take Pusan and Taegu.

Battle Bitter

The battle was bitter. Tanks fought at close range. Thunderous artillery fire raked the fighting front. American officers expressed confidence that the lines would hold, however.

Field dispatches from AP correspondents Stan Swinton, Ben Price, Leif Erickson and Jack MacBeth gave this picture of the developing action as of noon (10 p.m. EDT Thursday):

The main blows were hurled on the 25th Division on the south and the U.S. Second Division on the 25th's right flank. And on the right flank of the 2nd Division, the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division went into action on the central sector of the 120-mile beach head front.

Regarded as the most serious sector was the 25th Division's front, where the situation was described by Gen. MacArthur's summary as "fluid." The division was reported holding against heavy pressure.

Light Resistance

Meanwhile, on the northern front, South Korean forces recaptured Kigye, nine miles northwest of the port of Pohang. The South Koreans, moving northward of Pohang along the main coastal road, regained more than a mile of the ground lost in a three-day battle ending Wednesday. Red resistance was light.

In the critical fighting on the southern front, Allied air power roared into action.

A mass aerial attack was thrown at the Reds on a four-mile front directly west of Mason. Earlier hard-pressed U.S. troops had broken up a Communist pincer movement around Masan, battled through the city and were engaging the Reds fiercely west of there.

Indicative of North Korean losses was a report by correspondent Swinton of more than 1,000 being killed in one action around Masan.

The Reds had thrown two divisions—some 20,000 men—into the Haman sector. They had another division in reserve, ready to exploit any break through.

Just to the north of Haman, from the confluence of the Naktong and Nam rivers to Tuksong, 12 miles southwest of Taegu, some 10,000 Reds were attacking American positions.

It was on the left flank that the eight-mile retreat followed a vicious battle from the Naktong's bank to Yongsan. AP Correspondent William Shinn described the retreat as "orderly although several companies apparently were cut off."

American troops were digging in on heights overlooking the road junction at Yongsan, 16 miles northeast of Haman.

The Reds sent spearheads across the Naktong at four points on the Haman front—three crossings by two reinforced battalions near Pugong, eight miles northwest of Yongsan, and one by two battalions at Tuksong.

Communists crossing the stream near Pugong advanced nearly a mile and then dug in. Correspondent Prices said North Korean infantrymen seized high ground 23 miles southwest of Taegu and threw up a road block behind the American troops.

Needed Tanks

During the confused fighting at another point on the second division's sector, 200 Reds infiltrated the defenders' lines and were driven off only after the appearance of American tanks.

How many Red tanks were knocked out in the first 12 hours of the offensive was not generally reported, but Correspondent Swinton said one U.S. division had destroyed six. Other Communist armor rolled into battle over the bodies of their own soldiers.

Two Men Join YMCA Staff; Start Monday

Two new faces will greet the YMCA members and guests Monday as the new general secretary Charles D. Forsyth, and the new boys' work secretary, William McFarlane, commence their duties.

Today the YMCA was quiet as the former staff members were either beginning their new positions today or preparing to do so Tuesday. Al Clark, physical director at the local YMCA since 1939, today filled his appointment to the Ingersoll YMCA as general secretary. Donald Duncan, boys' work secretary at the local YMCA since 1944, will join the staff of the London YMCA Tuesday as the boys' work secretary.

G. H. Roper, general secretary at the YMCA for the past 35 years will assist Mr. Forsyth during September. Then he will go into retirement. He succeeded C. V. Meserve in 1915 as the general secretary. He first came to the local YMCA in 1905 but only stayed a year.

Mr. Forsyth is the former general secretary of the YMCA at Niagara Falls and Mr. McFarlane is the former boys' work secretary at the YMCA in Saskatoon. Both men worked together at the Winnipeg YMCA for a period of time.

Base Metals Push Higher On Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP). — Base metals pushed higher for a fifth successive session on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. The remainder of the market encountered considerable selling pressure following strong gains in previous sessions this week. Volume for the first three hours was 1,067,000 shares.

Base metals opened under downward pressure but renewed demand boosted key issues into new high ground. The strong gains of earlier markets have pulled the average price level of the list to the highest point since 1937. Consolidated Smelters was again higher and Anacon Lead continued in heavy demand. New Calumet and Waite Amulet jumped briskly.

Industrials slipped slightly in early dealings but were recovering at the half-way mark. Steels, utilities and foods were firmer while leading papers, liquors and refining oils tended easier.

Western oils firmed in dull dealings. A handful of issues crept into plus territory for gains ranging up to 10 cents.

Gold stocks were held to a narrow price path. Senior producers brightened but leading juniors weakened. Ventures Ltd., a holding company, boomed to a new high at $8.50 in heavy trading.

Find Driver Not Careless

A charge of careless driving against William Batten, RR 2, Lakefield, was dismissed in police court today.

Evidence was that Batten had run into the rear of another car driven by Fred C. Mason on the Lakefield Highway opposite the Drive-In Theatre July 17.

"He was keeping his place in traffic. And considering the driving conditions and that there is no proof of excessive speed nor any evidence of not keeping a proper lookout, the charge is dismissed," Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, said.

Batten, it was said, had been driving in a line of traffic during heavy rain. Traffic was heavy both ways. A car further up apparently stopped to turn off and car behind it were forced to halt.

Mason, driving 100 feet behind the car in front of him was able to bring his car to a stop with four feet to spare. Batten, 40 to 50 feet back, said he saw Mason's brake lights go on and applies his own brakes. He began to skid on the wet pavement and he released his brakes in an effort to keep the car under control.

Cars were approaching from the other direction and he steered to the east ditch, hitting the right rear corner of Mason's car and careening on to hit a hydro pole just before he stopped.

pay an indemnity and take "proper disciplinary action" against those involved.

When the delegates got their breath after this statement—much franker than is usual in diplomatic parleys—they speculated that the United States may have pulled off a significant diplomatic coup.

They pointed out that it is highly unlikely that either Communist China nor North Korea will permit a United Nations investigating committee to come into their territories.

If they refuse, these sources said, the world will conclude that either the charges were frivolous propaganda or that the two Communist states have secret reasons for refusing an inquiry.

19,000 GE Workers Out On Strike In U.S.

BOSTON, Sept. 1 — (AP). — A strike affecting 19,000 General Electric Company workers in six Massachusetts plants to-day threatened to spread to a seventh.

The executive committee of the International Electrical Workers Union (CIO) recommended a strike vote by 10,000 members at the GE plant in Pittsfield.

Some 19,000 already were out in plants in Lynn, Everett and Holyoke. The union called out a majority of those after charging management with "stalling" in contract negotiations. The others were made idle by the strike.

Renovate School Built At Cavan 105 Years Ago

CAVAN, Sept. 1 — (ENS) — Whitfield's School, SS No. 8, Cavan, is being renovated and modernized.

It is one of the oldest schools in the township and has been standing for approximately 105 years.

The first school was built in 1841. It was of logs and had an earthen floor. The pupils sat on benches placed around the wall.

The first teacher was Thomas Whitfield who came from England about the year 1840 and settled on the land just north of Gardiner's cemetery. He built the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burns. Mr. Whitfield had been a private school teacher in England and it was through his efforts that the first schoolhouse was built.

Mr. Whitfield taught from 1841 to 1863 and it was during the period of his teaching that the present schoolhouse was erected.

In 1900, a new hardwood floor was laid by Charles and Harry Gardiner, according to a note found in a sealed tin box when the renovating committee began operations this summer. Three years ago hydro was installed.

This year it was decided to tear out the brick work as the mortar had fallen away in a great many places and the bricks were becoming loose. A foundation of cement blocks has been laid.

The south wall of the building is being built almost entirely of large windows. The walls are of cement blocks. The east side is being extended and will contain a washroom and cloak room.

It was thought the work would have been completed for the commencement of the school term in September, but difficulty in obtaining some of the building material has caused a delay.

For the first part of the term, school will be held in Mr. Joseph Buenoes shop.

Mrs. Alex Miller, Peterborough, will resume her position as teacher for the coming year.

OFF TO NEW JOB — Gas-Pard Fauteux, former Speaker of the House of Commons, leaves Ottawa Airport to take over his new job as Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec. Mr. Fauteux resigned his Commons seat for Montreal St. Mary on the eve of the emergency session last week called to cope with the Canadian railway strike.

School Expands Into Orange Hall

COBOURG, Sept. 1 (ENS) — Increased school attendance at both the collegiate and public school is expected to mark the opening of the fall term. A record number of 475 are slated to enrol at the collegiate, and 770 at the public school.

The front part of the Orange hall has been leased in order to ease the load on the collegiate. This building is conveniently located in regard to the collegiate institute. A new physics room has been equipped in the collegiate and at the public school two rooms have been redecorated.

Several staff changes have been made at the collegiate. Duncan Symore of OAC, Guelph, has been hired to replace Miss H. M. Wright and will teach agriculture. # Jungle Hunter Uses Arrow To Kill Animals

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 1 (AP).— Howard Hill, just returned from killing elephants, lions, rhinos and other African beasts with his bow and arrow, is home to assemble a movie from 38,000 feet of film he shot during a nine-month trip. He intends to call it "Timbo," a native term for elephant.

"I am the first person to kill an elephant with an arrow," he said, "except for the Pygmies, who use poison arrows.

"My arrows had to penetrate 31 inches of the elephant's hide. The only way you can kill an elephant immediately is to hit him in the brain, which is a target five inches wide and seven inches long, and he charges with his trunk up, so you have to shoot through the trunk and into the brain."

The lion, he found, is not as ferocious as his publicity has indicated. Lions may even ignore humans a short distance away, he said.

"But don't get me wrong," he added. "The lion can be a fighter when attacked. That's why the bow and arrow is ideally suited for hunting lions.

Arrows Better

"A bullet is a bruising blow to an animal. The lion is hurt by it and immediately connects the hurt with the gunshot and attacks where the noise came from.

"The arrow, on the other hand, merely stings. It is like cutting yourself with a razor while shaving. The lion doesn't know where it comes from, because there is no noise."

Drift Helplessly

TORQUAY, England, Sept. 1 (Reuters)—An engine breakdown forced a 1,470-ton steamer to drift helplessly in the English Channel Thursday night. At one point the steamer, Lady Enchantress, was perilously near the dangerous Casquet rocks. A tug finally rescued her. The 397 passengers on the day-excursion who were issued blankets and served coffee, were landed here 18 hours late.

Strangle Magazine

LONDON, Sept. 1 (Reuters)— British Ally, the Russian-language weekly published by the British embassy in Moscow, ceases publication next Sunday, it was announced tonight. # Vandals Wreck Boy Scout Camp At Cobourg

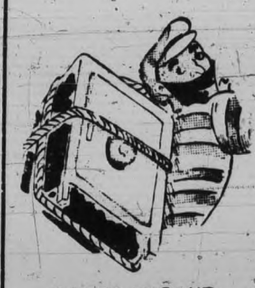
COBOURG, Sept. 1 —(ENS)— Vandals who invaded the Boy Scout camp after it was closed a few weeks ago, caused considerable damage.



They threw mattresses into the creek, broke screens and windows in the cook house and damaged various items of equipment that had been stored for safekeeping from the elements until next year's camp.

The discovery of the vandalism was made this week.

The Boy Scouts financed their camp equipment to a large extent by colections of waste paper and the damage to the camp has aroused considerable indignation.

Atlantic Treaty Council

Now that the railway strike is over, headlines again shift to Korea. There is other news of importance to Canadians who certainly have a stake in Asia but whose first commitment is across the Atlantic. This week the Atlantic Treaty Council of Deputies is meeting in London. These are the experts who are planning the joint defence of the twelve Treaty members, one of whom is Canada. Western Europe is re-arming, Canada is re-arming (undoubtedly 200 million of the three hundred million dollar short-term loan which the Government borrowed Wednesday from the chartered banks will be used mainly for special military expenses not budgeted for.) The United States is semi-mobilized. Britain has increased the service time of conscripts. It is the task of the Council of Deputies to devise a frame work on which the separate arms efforts of the Atlantic countries may most effectively be used for common defence. The plans will be presented to the Treaty nations' foreign ministers when they meet in Washington in the middle of this month.

The war in Korea and the massive problems arising from the strength of Asiatic communism must not blind Canadians to the European situation. Asia may be potentially more important than Europe, but its bigness, its billions of people and its civilizations do not make it now more important. If a choice has to be made between saving Asia and Europe, Europe is still most worth preserving. The Atlantic Treaty is a bond for self-defence of member nations and it is at the same time the chief existing design for saving Europe from Communism. However large Canada's Korean effort may be, her main task is eastward across the Atlantic, not westward across the Pacific. It is common sense, in view of our trade, our culture, our cousinship and our protection.

Canada Has No Territorial Ambitions

Canada yawns at other nation's greed for new territory. (She has so much room to yawn in.) If she had any annexation tendencies she would not have sat unperturbed for nearly two centuries while a foreign country occupied two hunks of land at her very gate. The islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence between the provinces of Newfoundland and Nova Scotia have been in France's possession from early days, and that possession was guaranteed by the Peace of Paris in 1763. The islands are in a corner of the news this week because of their good system of navigational lights—a subject on which we know nothing and forbear to speak.

Canadians other than fishermen and rum-runners and a few curious tourists dropping over to buy a bottle of champagne at low prices, never set foot on either island. The government of France keeps an administrator in residence and the people in food when they cannot get it for their Canadian dollars which they prize more than their own francs. During the war a shocking thing happened. St. Pierre and Miquelon went stubbornly pro-Vichy. Now Canada is not so uninterested in her front-door steps that she could permit a near-enemy government to sit on them. Steps were taken (via ship and plane) and the islands went under a Free French administrator for the duration.

The recent accession of Newfoundland to Canada (it was not Canadian territorial acquisitiveness which brought that about—merely a natural desire to share our roof and good name with our cousins) may some day change the Canadian attitude towards France's lingering hold over St. Pierre and Miquelon. They are now squarely set between two provinces, not just pinpricks off our coast. But as long as Canadian tourists can get perfumes, French West Indian rum, and French wines from them at low prices, and as long as smuggling has a romantic flavour, there will probably be no national demand to put the islands under Canada's banner.

Potato Chips And Small Potatoes

We publish today two letters which protest against the action of a committee of the City Council in terminating the license which Mr. Dick Ouimet holds to sell potato chips from a wagon on the streets of Peterborough. We do not suppose that the Council has any very deep motive in cancelling this license. There is a widespread idea that street vendors are a nuisance, and that they compete unfairly with taxpaying merchants. Not long ago a popcorn man who had been a familiar figure on the streets was put out of business in a similar fashion.

We wonder, however, if the Council is not being a little too strict in this matter. A small popcorn wagon and a small potato chip wagon do not do a great volume of business—certainly not enough to alarm larger establishments. And they give pleasure to many people who like to buy refreshments at a ball game or as they walk along the street; not everybody is so forehanded as to go to a game provided with potato chips, and there is a certain pleasure in buying them on the spot. Many people, we believe, have a fondness for the informality of a street vendor. To take away his license to sell potato chips has an unpleasant suggestion of small potatoes.

Our readers may disagree. Perhaps a majority of people in Peterborough resent the presence on our streets of refreshment wagons. Our letter columns are open to them for expression of opinion. Today we print letters from two men who think that the Council has been arbitrary; letters from people who agree or disagree with them will be welcome.

Romeo And Juliet Were Not Like This

A good deal of attention has been directed toward the rowdy romance of Constantine Kephaloyannis and Stassoula Petracogeorgi, who live on the island of Crete. The young man has apparently abducted the young woman and taken her to a cave. Their families are political enemies, and oppose the match with firmness and considerable abuse. Indeed, Hercules Petracogeorgi, who lives in Detroit, has described Kephaloyannis as a bum, and declares that his sister would be happier dead than married to such a fellow.

Some sections of the press have likened this romance to that of Romeo and Juliet. The similarity escapes us. It is true that the families of those famous lovers were at odds, but no Capulet ever described a Montague as a bum in a $65 transoceanic telephone call.

The question, as we see it, resolves itself to this: to what extent can and should families interfere in contracts of marriage? There is no union so intimate, and no union in which outside advice and opinion is of so little value. And yet there is no matter in which people who are not themselves directly concerned are so apt to interfere. Parents do not like the men their daughters want to marry; brothers criticise the mates chosen by their sisters; mothers do not think that prospective brides are good enough for their darling sons. And they all express their opinions with a lamentable absence of tact and restraint. Is it any wonder that there are runaway marriages and that, as in this particular Cretan instance, couples run away to a cave to get a little respite from the nagging of their relatives?

September?

Today is the first of September. Already so soon summer wanes—if indeed it waxed at all this curious, cold, wet summer—school days are at hand and in precisely three weeks less a day autumn will have set in officially. We can hope that, despite the September date, the gremlins who preside over the weather and have given us this ridiculous travesty of a summer will be kind enough to allow us three good weeks to end it. Actually, September is frequently a warm, hot month, so hot sometimes that school is let out half-an-hour early so that pupils and teachers may cool off outside. If there is any fairness to the ordering of weather, twenty-one good, dry and summerish days are our due in these first three weeks of this new month.

NOTE AND COMMENT

If the Korean war hasn't provided you with the excuse you want for hoarding and panic buying, what about trying the possibility of another rail strike.

An Unruffled Empire

By RAWLE KNOX

"WHEN you reach Goa," said the Portuguese Minister in Delhi, smiling his farewell, "try not to be jealous. Remember that we have been in India 440 years. We have perhaps a little more experience than the British in how to run an empire."

He had given me a pamphlet, entitled "Here, It Is Portugal." It explained that all Portuguese overseas territories are provinces of the mother country, with common political rights. The meanest Goan peasant might be Premier of Portugal—but for the fact that Dr. Salazar has been occupying the post for some years past. The pamphlet was, of course, designed to rebut Pandit Nehru's claim that "Goa must return to India."

MR. SKOTSKAR, secretary of the Goan Political Prisoners' Relief Fund, lives in a part of Bombay that is deep behind the grand facade of the international port. I climbed the four flights of stairs to his rooms in steaming heat and the strongly mingled scents of paraffin and musk. Half-finished meals lay occasionally about the stairs, and little piles of filth that people had swept so far and then abandoned. There were children sleeping, fly-covered, along the walls; there were children running and crawling everywhere. Through their cries and screams came the steady drone of someone's harmonium.

Mr. Skotskar, surrounded on every wall by drying laundry, was intense. "The state of the Goan masses," he said, "is one of oppression." (The Goan masses number about 800,000.) "Mr. Vishwinath Lawande, secretary of our Goan National Congress, has been sentenced to twenty-eight years' imprisonment."

"That sounds very severe," I said. "What did Mr. Lawande do "

"You see, there was a dacoity—some money from a bank. And a policeman was killed."

"Of course."

It seemed tactless to question the secretary of the Political Prisoners' Fund further. (Note: Mr. Skotskar must be out of a job by now; recently Portugal declared a general amnesty for political prisoners. And perhaps I should add here that the Indian Government does not lend its support to Mr. Lawande.)

THE last eighty-six miles of the train journey from Bombay to Murmagoa are nearly all through Portuguese territory; to cover them takes eight to twelve hours. The Portuguese for a station waiting-room is "sala da espera." I would like to translate this as "room of hope"; it is, in fact, the only possible description.

"Here, it is Portugal." Thick-walled, pink and blue houses, their window-panes fashioned of sea-shells; an expiring casino in Vasco da Gama; solid white churches plumped on headlands and hilltops; children dutifully walking to school, and priests authoritatively hailing one's car for a lift; a profusion of bars and convents. It almost might be Portugal. But the road, stained blood-red with flame-of-the-forest petals that have fallen to the lashing monsoon; the almost naked Indian, cheroot in mouth, following his bullock-plough through laterite soil that has become liquid tomato mud; and the peasants in the brilliant green paddy-fields, forever weeding, hooded against the rain by their gunghari, that make them look like giant grasshoppers poised to spring. Here it is very much Southern India.

THERE are no industries in Goa (save two small and clean ones concerned with manganese ore and cashew nuts); and consequently no suggestion of such a tenement monstrosity as that in which Mr. Skotskar lives in Bombay. The Goan's physique is strikingly above that of the average southern Indian; and there are no beggars. Everyone has enough to eat because the Government imports all the extra food necessary and sells it cheap. Naturally, therefore, nobody complains about the Government, which is convenient, because nobody would be allowed to, anyway.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE Portuguese get nothing out of Goa; they are there because they think they ought to be there. "We come to seek Christians and spices," said Vasco da Gama. His ancestors feel bound to protect what Christians remain (about 47½ per cent. of Goa's population). Like Vasco da Gama, they put spices second. Goa's imports are worth five times as much as her exports, and there is very little Portuguese capital invested in the country.

HIS Excellency the Governor-General, a most cheerful man with some alarming conversational gestures, explained much to me. He even explained why forty-four Indian papers are banned and the poor local papers, which rely solely on the official Portuguese news agency, are subject to pre-publication censorship.

"We do not wish to trouble the minds of the people," said the Governor-General. After shuddering realistically at the nightmare problems of Asia today, "We may find," he said, "that the future of humanity in Asia lies in Goa." He added that he could not see why Goans should want to join the Indian Union when they had plenty to eat as they were. And to do him justice, I am sure that 90 per cent. of Goans think the same. Only the inevitable intellectuals would disagree.

THE Portuguese sit in their coats and ties, and perspire slightly, and smile. They think that if they do this long enough, India, beset by so many more tearing worries, will forget about Goa. But India can find pressure points. There is that single, sluggish railway, managed by an Indian railway company for the British owners. The present contract expires in December and it has not been renewed yet. There are the Goan colleges, affiliated to Bombay University, teaching 25,000 students desperately anxious to get a degree that will qualify them to work in India. If Bombay disaffiliates those colleges, Goa's surplus of educated youth is lost. There are countless other little digs which India might give. She does not have to rely on the Goan National Congress.

IT has its fascination, this tiny mock battle. The Portuguese Empire is, after all, the only one in the East that can claim to rest almost unruffled. Young Portuguese don't seem to think it will remain so. For them Goa is no longer a popular tour of duty; they prefer to go to Africa where there's a future. But their seniors deride them for cowardice and sit, ever more solidly, in their office chairs; while the Goans eat, laugh, and make music ("Easier to sell a harp here than a tractor, I can tell you," said a passing salesman), and perhaps imagine occasionally that they are among the luckiest people on earth.

(Special to The Examiner from the London Observer.)

A STEADYING INFLUENCE

Letters To The Editor

WHY CANCEL OUIMET LICENSE?

Sir: What has the city got against Mr. Dick Ouimet?

A few weeks back I read where upon applying for a renewal of his license the chief of police and the manager of Zeller's had no complaint on the way he was conducting his business. Yet he is being deprived of his bread and butter to satisfy the whim of some person or persons in the City Council. Why?

I have never met Mr. Ouimet but I do know that he was, with the help of others, largely responsible for the erecting of the Civic Arena without which we would still be going out of town to see a game of hockey. He has an excellent war record. All in all, a very desirable citizen.

Yet he is being sniped at in such a way that he cannot fight back.

If there is a reason for not granting him his license let's have it!

In closing I would like to say if Mr. Ouimet ever decided to run for alderman I know where he'd get one vote.

FRED HAYES.

169 London St.

SOME ADVICE FOR THE COUNCIL

Sir: Just as was expected, the Finance Committee has had its motion adopted to push Dick Ouimet and his business off the streets of the city.

Nobody can give one good reason why he should be made to go, for his business has been conducted properly in every way. His vehicle has been parked exactly where instructed. The area surrounding his truck is kept clean, and is tidy when the day's business is done. The truck itself is kept spotlessly clean, and, in addition the product he sells is tops in town. Still—he must go.

Why? Well anyone who reads the council reports in the Examiner knows who brought the motion up and by putting two and two together can come up with the answer.

It's all wrong for a local citizen to try and make an honest living with a legitimate business, but alright for a midway to park in town for four days and sell miserable chips at fifteen cents per cone, from a stand that looks as though it never saw soap and water since the start of the fair season. Justice? Bunk!!

This isn't the first instance of such a move, there was the Greek and his peanut wagon who returned to Greece, and his successor refused permission to carry on, and a similar squeeze play was attempted to prevent the new bowling alleys from going up on George St.; only that one wasn't successful. Another case is that of the service station hours.

The committee is recommending to the 1951 council that no more licenses for that type of perambulating business be granted. Who are they to tell the 1951 council what, and what not to do? They'd do well to attend to 1950 and let those elected for 1951 look after that year's business as they see fit. If the present council is stuck for something to do, let them get the snow cleared from the sidewalks this winter, clean up Little Lake, fix some of the rotten roads in the city, do something about double parking and parking at bus stops, forget about parking meters in the Market Square and sell the ones we have now for junk.

I'm not a partner in the perambulating chip business, even doubt whether Dick Ouimet knows who I am. Never owned a peanut wagon, have no shares in a bowling alley, and I don't operate a service station.

But—I am a citizen of this city and believe that every person has a right to live and earn his or her living as he or she sees fit, providing it's a legitimate living and no one can deny that Dick Ouimet's business is that. So please leave the man alone, he has to eat the same as anyone else.

Thanking you,

Yours,

N. J. THOMAS.

453 King George St.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom . . . And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us. (Ps. 90: 1, 12, 17.)

Unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ . . . Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ . . .

This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind, having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart . . .

But ye have not so learned Christ; if so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus, that ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts; and be renewed in the spirit of your mind; and that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness. (Eph. 4: 7, 13, 17, 18, 20-24.)

"I WONDER WHERE THOSE TANKS CAME FROM?"

Battled Constable After Crash Driver Charged With Obstructing

Charged in police court Thursday with obstructing a peace officer in performing his duty, careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident, Charles Hyderman, 380 Grady St., was found guilty of careless driving, not guilty of leaving the scene, and judgment was reserved in the obstructing charge.

Evidence was that Hyderman's car had hit a car driven by Joseph Collins, 169 Fradette Ave., while Hyderman was passing Collins' car on the Chemong Road on the down grade of a hill just one-quarter of a mile south of the turn into Bridgenorth.

"It is a pure case of cutting in shortly and is certainly the type of negligence which comes within this section," Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., commented in fining Hyderman $10 and $13.25 costs for careless driving.

Following the collision in which Collins' front bumper caught in Hyderman's rear fender and ended in the ditch when Hyderman's fender broke free, Hyderman drove on some distance before coming back to the scene.

When he arrived back escorted by Collins and a passenger, George Freeman, RR 5, Peterborough, Hyderman said the accident didn't amount to anything and he was going to leave.

At that point Constable Carmen English, constable of Peterborough county and Smith township, put his hand on Hyderman's shoulder and said, "Wait, Mac, until you get it straightened out."

Showed His Bodge

Constable English, who is also the constable of Chemong Park, testified Hyderman then said, "And who the devil are you?"

The constable said he showed Hyderman his badge and the accused replied, "Oh, anybody can wear that."

Hyderman then started to move away and Constable English put his hand on Hyderman's shoulder and "he struck me with his elbow."

The constable tried to put handcuffs on the accused, but he struggled and got away.

Arriving at his pickup truck, Hyderman jumped in the right side and Constable English went in the left side and took the ignition keys from the switch, but Hyderman snatched the keys from his hand, and "he jumped me again in the truck."

The officer got out of the truck and started around to the other side of the truck where Hyderman was waiting for him.

Used His Billy

"He knocked me into the ditch," the officer said. He scrambled out of the ditch and pulled out his billy. He struck at Hyderman and thought he may have hit him a glancing blow on the side of the head before the billy struck Hyderman's shoulder.

They tussled again, partly in the ditch, and at that point James Allen came along and took Hyderman by one arm.

Under cross-questioning by Gordon H. T. Farquharson, the constable said he was in civilian clothes at the time and happened to be driving along behind Collins and Hyderman. However he didn't see the accident, because it happened on the other side of the hill, but he heard the crash.

Questioned about the limits of his jurisdiction, the officer said it was his duty to investigate an accident in the township, but he usually called in the provincial police in serious matters. On this occasion he had sent someone to call the provincials. When Constable Archie Eadie arrived, the county officer asked him to "take in" Hyderman.

Refused To Act

"They refused to act," Constable English said, and he told Constable Eadie and another provincial, "Loo, I could have you up for refusing to act."

Freeman testified he had seen Constable English show Hyderman his badge at the beginning of the affair and he saw the constable get the blow in the chest.

Allen said he assured Hyderman Constable English was a police officer because Hyderman was still protesting the officer was not a constable.

Hyderman testified, in his own stable English before. He said the officer didn't show him his badge until Allen arrived after their struggle.

"I thought he was trying to start a fight," Hyderman said. "I pulled away. I don't think I hit him."

As he was walking away from Constable English, he said the officer "kept grabbing for me and waving something in his other hand."

He learned later the officer had been brandishing handcuffs. He went to his truck to examine the damage done. He saw the policeman reach for the keys and beat him to them.

"I didn't see any reason to give him the keys," Hyderman said.

Struck On Side of Head

He said the constable then out his billy, and "hit me on the walked around the truck, pulled side of the head. After he struck me two or three times, I tried to protect myself. I couldn't, so I pushed him away."

Hyderman continued, "He came at me again and hit me on the side of the ear."

He said he didn't strike the officer because he was an older man and was wearing glasses. After Allen told him Mr. English was a constable, he said, "Even if he was a constable, he had no right to strike me without provocation."

He said it was then the constable showed him his badge.

House Painter Held In Murder

LITTLEHAMPTON, England, Sept. 1 (AP) — A 26-year-old house painter today was charged before a special court with the Lovers' Lane murder two years ago of Joan Woodhouse, London librarian.

The arrest Wednesday of Thomas Philip George Stillwell came as the result of investigations of a private detective after Scotland Yard had given up on the case.

Stillwell pleaded innocent and was ordered held in custody without bail pending a further hearing Sept 8.

The nearly nude body of Miss Woodhouse, 27, was found Aug. 11, 1948, near the Duke of Norfolk's historic Arundel Castle in Sussex. She had been on a vacation at a nearby youth hostel, and had been reported missing 12 days earlier.

Scotland Yard investigators said the shy and scholarly librarian had been attacked and strangled.

Four New Sub-Hunters Introduced By Plane Firms

By HAROLD K. MILKS

FARNBOROUGH, England, Sept. 1 —(AP)— Britain's aviation industry, with an eye on reports Russia is building an undersea fleet a thousand strong, will present four new submarine killers at its annual show starting Sept. 6.

Three of the four new sub-hunters are turbo-prop powered. All four are designed to range far beyond Britain's shores with heavy loads of detection equipment and weapons.

Last year the society of British Aircraft Constructors emphasized civil aviation in its annual display. Top dog among the 60-odd planes on show was DeHavilland's new all-jet transport, the "Comet."

This year's emphasis is plainly on improved and new military planes, with the four anti-submarine craft first in line.

The Blackburn Aircraft Company's two sub-killers, the YA-5 and the YB-1, will get their first public showing during the five-day show at historic Farnborough airdrome, wher Britain's first military balloonists were trained. Others are the new Short SB-3, a twin turbo-prop plane with a long radar nose like a parrot's beak, and the Fairey GR-17, still screened by security restrictions.

Improved Versions

Improved versions of Britain's latest jet fighters, including the fast-climbing Venom, will be flown at the annual display.

Another newcomer to the list of military planes is the giant Blackburn universal freighter, a 50-ton cargo craft capable of lugging a single-deck bus, heavy artillery or tanks in its fuselage. Second only in size to the giant Brabazon transport, it will have its first showing at the SBAC show.

Sixty different types of aircraft have been entered for the show. Military and civil aviation officials from all parts of the world —including the iron curtain countries—have been invited to inspect them. Several with still secret equipment aboard will be roped off to prevent visitors from making their inspection too detailed.

Mutuals Rub Out Oshawa In OASA Playdown Series

The power-packed Mutuals (sponsored by the Mutual Benefit Co. here) did something last night that local men's softball teams have been trying to do for years—they eliminated an Oshawa squad in OASA playdowns. Beating the Oshawa Broncs 5-3 at the Bowl before a good-sized crowd, they swept their first-round OASA intermediate "A" playdown series in two straight.

Johnny Russelle's bunch looked impressive in their win against a good team, though the visitors kicked in with several bad errors. Dean McLaughlin and Bob Greenlaw each allowed seven hits in the snappy encounter, but the visitors had five errors to one by the home crowd. Mutuals got in there early for three runs in the first and they later added single markers, while Oshawa counted two in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Two For Three

Bob Crowe (on the limp from an injury a week ago) led in hitting for the visitors with two for three, one a double, and Al Menzies got two infield hits in four tries. Howie Dalton came through with a triple and Nels Foster slashed out a double. Fred Bidgood, of Oshawa, hit a homer and single in three, while Taillon got a homer—a partly misjudged long fly—and a single in four attempts. McLaughlin hit a double. Smart catches were pulled off by Reg Leether and Red Carpenter, and the winners, all of whom looked real good defensively in this scrap, came up with the only double-play of the tilt, George Hawkes to Howie Dalton. The umpiring was good throughout.

Senior Baseball Cub Raises Required Sum

Following is a report to the citizens of Peterborough from officials of the Senior Baseball Club:

"We are extremely glad to report to the citizens of Peterborough that we have fulfilled our pledge in raising $15,000 for floodlights in Riverside Park, this amount having been turned in to the city treasurer.

"The response from the management of industry, business and professional men, and the general public was very gratifying, and we are quite sure they feel as we do, that the lights provide a long-felt want in our city, and we wish to thank all those who gave so generously and made our appeal a success.

A special vote of thanks to Harry Beatty and his efficient hydro staff for an excellent installation job.

"We believe that these lights will be of great benefit to the city of Peterborough for years to come.

"R. V. Dawson,

UE Secretary Of Soccer Writes A Letter

The following letter, under the heading "The facts re the cancellation of the UEW vs. Cobourg soccer game scheduled for Aug 31," was sent to the sports editor yesterday afternoon:

Sir—The Peterborough and District Football Association were invited to a general meeting with Mr. Sinclair (recreation director) to discuss the centennial sports week. No members of the Football Association were informed of this invitation, and neither the secretary or any person delegated by him made an appearance.

Mr. Sinclair was approached by one of the soccer public after a statement had been issued for sports week and quefied as to why there was no soccer included. An appeal was made by Mr. Sinclair to the sports committee to include soccer in the week's activities and was given the OK. He then told the P and DFA to go ahead and arrange a game. All the above took place in July.

On Aug. 18, the secretary of the P and DFA phoned the first official invitation to the UEW secretary to take part in a game with Cobourg. The invitation was accepted and further information was to be given us in due course.

A statement was put in the paper about the coming game and no further information was volunteered to the UEW secretary until Aug. 25. We were then informed that the parks commission would take the posts from King Edward Park to Riverside Park.

This appeared to be the only definite arrangement made, as our club was expected to carry the brunt of things by putting the posts in place, providing and painting two balls specially for floodlights, arrange to have the field marked off—or do it ourselves—and provide a man to take a collection. On top of which we were expected to supply extra equipment for the Cobourg team.

On Aug. 27, four days before the game was due to be played, we contacted Mr. Sinclair to see if we could get some information on the game, but he knew less than we did and was only too eager to try and make some definite arrangements, and after some deliberation the following arrangements were made:

1. The parks commission would take the posts from King Edward and place them in position in Riverside Park.

2. Arrangements were made for the man who marks the field off to have an interview with Mr. Sinclair and make his own financial arrangements for his efforts.

3. The city would provide two new balls which we would paint and return to the city for the use of children.

4. Financial arrangements were agreed upon.

5. The time of the game was fixed.

6. Through our own investigations we had found that Cobourg were not an organized team, and were not fully equipped with strip, so we were making our own arrangements to help them out in this respect.

All that remained to be done was to notify Cobourg and the referee of the starting time.

The above arrangements were conveyed to the dormant Football Association, who immediately told us that all arrangements we had made would be cancelled and, as for the referee, the president himself was taking over, although he had neither refereed or watched a game of ours this season.

We stated there and then on Aug. 27 that the arrangements we had made were to stand and that an active referee was to be nominated or we were withdrawing from the game. The reply we received was that the president was arranging all matters concerned with the game.

It came to our knowledge on Aug. 30 that the president had not communicated his decision to the city and once more he was contacted and asked to make a decision again, which he did with the same answer.

We made further contact with Cobourg on our own initiative with regards to a game in the future and were informed that had they come for the game they would have been short of men, had no jerseys or strip, and intended to play the game in ordinary work boots.

The feelings of the UEW club is that no foresight was used by the Association with regard to the possibilities of such a game or toward furthering soccer as a sport. Another point which stands out is that the personal ambitions of one individual were considered more important than the game itself.

In conclusion, considering what has been learned in the last few hours, it is definitely fortunate for soccer that the game was not presented to the unsuspecting public. — A. L. Featherstone (signed), Secretary, UEW Soccer Club.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor

The senior baseballic Petes are on the w.k. spot this eve at 8.30 in Riverside Park. Weather being right, that is. You see they lost 2-1 to New Toronto to start their best-of-five Viaduct Major League semi-finals, and another loss this p.m. here for the men o' Murphy would mean they'd have to win three in a row, two of them in New Toronto on Saturday and Sunday. A mighty tough task and elimination would be staring them in the face ere loop finals commenced. So, they've got to dig in there tonight and square the series or local fans might see them no more this year. It'll be another swell playoff scrap and rates a record crowd.

* * * * * *

In OLA competition, the senior "A" Petes still await word on quarter-finals, opening next week. But there's a junior tilt at 8.30 tonight in Miller Bowl with Toronto Maitlands meeting Lou Vitarelli's young Petes. A win for the local gutted-stick aces would give them the provincial junior "B" championship as they've taken Toronto twice so far in the best-of-five sawoffs. It ought to be a keen contest. Our bantams and midgets didn't go to Orillia yesterday, owing to rain there, but should get word today when these OLA return tussles are being held.

King And His Court

Kiwanis Club wants to remind softball fans and others that the King and His Court—that fabulous touring four-man team—will stop over here Saturday night on a trip from Montreal to Toronto for a game. It's at 8.30 betwixt the four-man crew and the Peterborough men all-stars, making up for the rained-out exhibition these teams planned Tuesday. King Eddie Feigner has dozens of deceptive deliveries and can fan out topnotch batters blindfolded or hurling from second base, believe it or not! He and his three buddies rarely lose even to the best of clubs. We certainly don't want to miss this show and, given good weather, a record crowd is practically assured.

* * * * * *

Woollens face a stiff test tomorrow aft at the Bowl along about three, meeting Toronto Sherrins in the second of their two-in-three PWSU junior playdowns. Sherrins romped to any easy victory on the Toronto diamond a couple of nights back, and the return game—or games, if necessary—will be here tomorrow. Should the local lasses pull an upset to tie up the series, they'll go right back at it Saturday eve in the Bowl at 6.15. Meantime, CGE and Ashby's have another round-robin playoff (about Wednesday) ere the local title can be settled. It looks like the season is almost over for Peterborough girl softballers.

Mutuals Oust Oshawa

It did these watery old eyes good to see a local men's softball team finally eliminate an Oshawa outfit in OASA playdowns here last eve. And even genial Jack Legris and big Lou Lebarr wept quietly but happily at the finish, Manager Johnny Russelle just taking it in his stride. It was the case of Mutuals beating Oshawa Broncs 5-3 to sweep their OASA intermediate "A" series in two straight, and to tell the truth we can't recall when a local squad got by those softballic Oshawans before. Bob Greenlaw pitched nice ball, with Bob Crowe and Al Menzies leading at bat, and the whole crew clicking like hot dice. Don't know what team they meet next, but it won't be until next week anyway.

* * * * * *

The amateur all-star baseballers of the Intercounty Loop and the Toronto district were leading Toronto Leafs 3-2 last night when rain washed it out in the last of the fourth at the stadium. 'Twas an exhibition game for the benefit of Toronto kids, and Pat Wilson and Danny Brown of the Petes were invited to perform with the all-stars. Danny scored the last run when he singled, moved up on a walk and counted on a wild throw on a pinch-hit single by Goody Rosen of Galt. Danny is just getting used to the feel of it as he expects to perform for Springfield in the International League next year. The short game didn't make the pro Leafs look any better.

Bethany Victorious In Durham League

BETHANY, Sept. 1 (ENS) — In the final playoffs of the North Durham League, Bethany were the victors in Wednesday night's game played at Blackstock by a score of 8 to 1.

It was good baseball all the way, Edmunds hurling excellent ball for the winners with Reynolds receiving. Bethany scored a run in the first, two in the third, one in the fourth, two in the fifth and two in the seventh, with Ray Stewart starring at bat.

Bill Dysart was on the mound for Blackstock, with N. Dysart receiving. They got their single run in the fifth inning: Ray Stinson also came through with a neat triple hit.

The lineup:

Bethany: Edmunds, p; Reynold, c; Sisson, 1b; Stewart, 2b; Ginn, ss; Ryley, 3b; Lowes, cf; Smith, lf; Kerr and Pomeroy, rf.

Blackstock: W. Dysart, p N. Dysart, c; Hackwood, 1b; Cochrane, 2b; Grieves, ss; Stinson, 3b; Crawford, cf; Bailey, rf; Werry, lf.

The Duncan Trophy was formally presented to Reg. Edmunds, captain of the Bethany team, at the close of the game and is on display in his store window. This trophy was donated three years ago by Mr. W. J. Duncan of Viewlake, who is a keen baseball fan. Previously it had been won by the Janetville team. Manager Chris Cummiskey and Coach Bruce Ryley are justly proud of their Bethany team this year. Out of 16 scheduled games, the boys won 13 and lost three. In the semi finals, a two out of three series with Janetville, they won two games and lost one. In the finals with Blackstock they took the two games straight. They will now go on to compete with the South Durham League, but no schedule has yet been arranged.

Catches Odd Fish

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., Sept. 1—(CP)—William Vasko, 79, hauled in his fishing line. He had a perch—no, it was a catfish—no, it was a "cat-perch."

The seven-inch long oddity had a flat forehead dropping abruptly to a protruding lower jaw.

Except for the difference in color and the absence of whiskers, the head had all the appearance of a catfish.

Otherwise it was a perch.

Ohio Housewife Wins 4th CNE Swim Title

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP). — Berneice Looney Crandall, 23-year-old Ashtabula, O., housewife, who Thursday night picked up her fourth straight Canadian National Exhibition women's professional swimming championship, said a few degrees of temperature may have stood between her and a record.

Mrs. Crandall, married since her appearance here last year, got $1,500 prize money for her one hour, 24 minutes and 45 seconds in Lake Ontario, but said she had her heart set on a record.

She told reporters the water—at about 67 degrees—was a bit too warm. It made her sluggish.

Jean Lucille Pattison, Gananoque, Ont., climbed out of the water 13 minutes and 48 seconds behind Mrs. Crandall, while Marion Townshend, Hamilton, finished third in 1.50:23. They won $750 and $500 respectively.

Sets Torrid Pace

The tall, fair-haired Berneice, a member of the swim-famous Looney family of Warren, O., set a torrid pace and led from the beginning. She used a sprinter stroke, 76-78, throughout and picked up a quarter-mile lead in the first mile.

Coaching the winner from her pilot boat was Berneice's aunt, May Looney of Warren, who won the title in 1934 and was runner-up three years later. She believed her niece could have broken the record this time.

"She had speed and endurance, but something went wrong. It was just one of those things," May Looney said.

The race record of one hour, 21 minutes, 24 seconds was set in 1937 by Lenore Wingard, Holmstead, Pa.

Marian Sadlo, Whitestone, NY, whose father Bill Sadlo, Jr., finished ninth in the men's professional marathon Tuesday collected the $200 fifth-place prize. Dorothy Evans, Toronto, won the sixth and last prize of $200.

Rachel Thomas, Charlottetown, grabbed the seventh position when Barbara Elliott Lorena, of Oshawa, was pulled from the water a few yards from the finish line.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Playing up in Toronto yesterday, in the ladies' Mail and Globe doubles, Mrs. R. Dyer and Mrs. C. Renaud won all three games and have reached the fourth round. There are only 16 pairs left in the competition. Our ladies are picked as having a good chance to win out. Here's hoping.

The following information was given to us yesterday by the chairman of the games committee: Tuesday, Sept. 5, postponed games of June 1. Wednesday, Sept. 6, postponed games of July 13. Thursday, Sept. 7, club singles. Friday, Sept. 8, men's doubles tournament. Choose your partner. Fee $1.00 per pair.

During the presentation of the prizes at the Black Memorial tournament on Wednesday evening, the visitors were loud in their praise of our club and our committee. Thursday the bouquets came from another source—our own members. They, too, went along with the visitors in their praise. It shows the boys that their efforts are being appreciated.

Tonight, men's rinks tournament.

Saturday night, the Family Hour tournament.

Do you believe that a forger is a fellow who gives a cheque a bad name?

Fred Doty, the little quarterback who can't play football this year, may take his case to the Canadian Rugby Union.

The pint-sized veteran who called the signals for three Dominion championship teams for Toronto Argonauts, wasn't asked to turn out for the scullers this year. But when Ottawa asked Argos for his release in order to sign him as a second-stringer, the Toronto Big Four club wouldn't let him go.

Argonaut president Bob Moran said he was getting back at the Rough Riders for their refusal to let halfback Steve Karrys play in Toronto this year. Karrys subsequently abandoned his plans to live in the Ontario capital and has turned out with Ottawa.

A Big Four rule prevents a club from signing a player who formerly played for another club even if he is out of football, without obtaining a release from his former club. Doty says he may get a court decision on the legality of the rule.

Second-seeded Louise Brough bowed to unranked Nancy Chaffee of Ventura, Calif., 6-2, 7-5 in the first upset of the national tennis championships at Forest Hills, N. Y. Barbara Scofield, Margaret Osborne, Dupont and Pat Todd joined Miss Chaffee in the women's singles quarter-finals.

Australian John Bromwich and Czech exile Jaroslav Drobny were knocked out of the men's singles, Vic Davitt of Cornell University edging Bromwich in five sets while Art Larsen of San Francisco dropped Drobny in four.

An all-star team of Ontario amateurs led Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League 3-2 in Toronto Thursday night when the game was called for rain in the bottom of the fourth.

The proceeds from the benefit game were ear-marked for minor baseball in Ontario.

The all-stars jumped in with a run in the first inning when Tex Kaiser of the Intercounty League's Galt Terriers tripled to centre. He scored on Sherry Rowland's single.

Leafs got the run back in their half of the first, but three errors and three stolen bases gave all-stars a second run in the second inning. Again the Leafs tied the score.

The final run came in all-stars' half of the fourth when Danny Brown of Peterborough Marines singled, went to second when Charlie Walsh of Ottawa was walked and scored on a wild throw on a pinch-single by Goody Rosen, Galt's playing manager.

Giants Blank Orioles 6-0

By The Associated Press.

Roger Bowman, one of the prized pitching prospects in New York Giant farm system, is the newest member of the "I almost made it" club.

Bowman, a lanky lefthander, pitched Jersey City Giants to a 6-0 one-hit victory over Baltimore Orioles in the only game played in the International League Thursday. A triple in the first inning spoiled his chance for a no-hitter.

Bowman fanned seven, walked three, and hit a batter in posting his 15th victory. The defeat eliminated the third-place Orioles from the pennant fight.

A scheduled game between Springfield and Syracuse was rained out. The other teams were not scheduled.

Hodges Gets Four Homers As Dodgers Wallop Braves

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Gil Hodges, called by many the strongest man in the National League, has just about proved it.

The husky Brooklyn first-baseman hit four home runs Thursday night to record a feat performed only five times before in major league baseball. Hodges walloping of four separate Boston Braves pitchers temporarily shared attention with the hot American League pennant race.

It happened at Ebbets Field as the Dodgers trounced Billy Southworth's men 19-3 to gain half a game on the idle Philadelphia Phillies. The Phillies still lead the National League by six games.

"I was really swinging for it when I realized I had a chance at the record," Hodges said after the lopsided affair.

Hodges also equalled the major league record for total bases in a game—17. The big slugger came up six times, singling and grounding out when he did not connect for the circuit.

Couldn't Stop Him

He hit homers in the second, third, sixth, and eighth innings, with the victims Warren Spahn, Norman Roy, Bob Hall and Johnny Antonelli. Two were on base when he powered his third-inning smack. On the three other occasions one runner was on.

Hodges now is even with his entire 1949 output of home runs—23.

Gil's fourth round-tripper made it 153 for the 1950 Brooklyn team, smashing the club's record of 152 last season.

In the only other National League game, New York Giants squeezed out a 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh, gaining a tie with St. Louis Cardinals for fourth place. Jim Hearn, the Giants' bargain-basement pitching sensation, chalked up his seventh triumph in limiting the Pirates to four hits.

Blow Game

In the American League, Detroit's stumbling Tigers blew a 2-1 game to Washington and dropped two games behind the league leaders, New York Yankees, who were victorious over Cleveland 7-5.

The American League battle also saw Boston's blistering Red Sox climbing to within half a game of Detroit by virtue of a -3 decision over Chicago White Sox. It was the Beantown band's 16th victory in 17 games.

Cleveland, in bowing to the Yanks and losing the entire four-game series, fell five games off the pace. The Indians are fourth.

Home runs by Johnny Mize, Cliff Mapes, Yogi Berra and Phil Rizzuto, contributed to the Indians' sixth straight loss. They all came off 20-game-winner Bob Lemon with none on base. Tommy Byrne started for the Yanks and gained his 14th victory, although Fireman Joe Page and Tom Ferrick came in for relief chores in the late stages.

Bearden Bad Man

The Tigers were victimized by a former Cleveland pitcher, Gene Bearden, who won his third game of the season. Art Houtteman limited the victors to five hits, but three straight in the third inning gave Washington both its runs.

After rain had delayed the Red Sox-White Sox game an hour in the ninth inning, Boston's Clyde Vollmer walked on four straight balls by Billy Pierce, forcing home the deciding tally.

The only other American League competition saw Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns splitting a twi-night doubleheader. The Browns won the opener 4-3 and the A's the nightcap 3-2.

Pt. Hope Juveniles Edge Cobourg 9-7

COBOURG, Sept. 1.—Port Hope the first game of the Lakeshore Baseball League juvenile finals here Thursday night by 9-7 over Cobourg. Len Harrison went the route for the winners. Jerry Lawless started for Cobourg and was relieved by B. Heart in the seventh.

Chub McIvor, Cobourg's second baseman, was thrown out of the game for fighting with Port Hope's first-sacker, Stuart Breamer, in the sixth inning.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

Fred Brocklehurst and Mitchell Oakes exchanged punches in a St. Regis-Canadiens Senior lacrosse game at Montreal and precipitated a riot 11 years ago today. The fracas lasted two full periods and went on after the game despite police intervention. The Canadiens won amid the tumult, 12-2.

Unions Used A Secret Code To Announce Strike's End

OTTAWA, Sept. 1 — (CP). — Secret code words carried the order to 125,000 striking railwaymen to go back to work.

The code words went out Wednesday night by telephone and radio as the union leaders here called off the nine-day stoppage at the direction of Parliament.

The idea of using code words to give strike instructions originated back in the days when some employers sought to trick strikers into returning to work by sending false messages over the signatures of union chiefs.

As employed in this strike, different methods were used by leaders of 15 international unions and the chiefs of two Canadian unions.

The international group had a pre-arranged word for ending the strike, and it was delivered over a national radio hookup at 10:15 p.m. EDT by Frank H. Hall, the spokesman for that group.

For the Canadian group, A. R. Mosher told his area and district leaders in a broadcast to open an envelope marked "top secret." There, they found the word.

Immediately, Ottawa headquarters telephoned area leaders and spoke the word. In turn, the area leaders sent the word down to the district leaders, who instructed the men directly to go to work.

Both groups declined to disclose the key words today.

Jean Morgan Enters Fourth Tennis Round

OTTAWA, Sept. 1 (CP)—Jean Morgan of Pasadena, Calif., hasn't been able to spend much time practising her tennis lately. But no one would ever guess.

The 18-year-old college sophomore, who has played the west coast tennis circuit during the last four summers she has spent in Victoria, Thursday advanced to the fourth round of the Canadian junior tennis championships.

However, her mother, Mrs. D. L. Morgan, who knits as she watches her daughter's progress from the gallery at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club, says tennis isn't Jean's only interest.

She has others, particularly music. They all keep her busy and don't permit her to work on her tennis as much as she used to.

Jean, together with most of the other foreign entries, put in creditable performances in Thursday's events.

Air Services Take Extra In Stride During Strike

MONTREAL, Sept. 1 — The nine-day railway strike threw a heavy load on airlines in Canada, and a task taken in stride despite extra flights and sharp increases in passengers and freight tonnage carried.

John Baldwin of the Air Transport Board in Ottawa, said the smooth co-operation of commercial lines cut the need of priority controls and no general application was necessary.

Mail loads were increased and cargoes included shipments practically foreign to normal air transportation.

Miles flown, 640,000, an increase of 25 per cent.

Passenger miles, 15,500,000, increaseof 44 per cent.

Total passengers carried, 31,700, increaseof 44 per cent.

Mail Up 15 Per Cent

Mail amounted to 202,500 lbs., an increase of 50 per cent, without increased revenue because the contract rate is stationary.

TCA's North Star planes, used on transcontinental and other long flights within Canada, flew 70 extra flights. There were 28 extra flights between Montreal and Vancouver, 26 between Montreal and Toronto, 12 between Montreal and Moncton, and a few others.

In addition, DC AE planes made extra flights—the number not yet computed—on the shorter, intercity flights.

To carry out the extra work involved, some 3,000 passenger and cargo agents and reservation clerks put in between 18,000 and 20,000 hours of overtime.

No flights were made to points not normally serviced by the company.

Ship Connections

Canadian Pacific Airways reported that on the Montreal-Quebec run there were three or four extra sections daily. Many of the extra passengers were bound to or from ships that dock at Quebec.

No extra sections were used by CPA on the Val d'Or-Rouyn-Noranda flights to and from Northwestern Quebec, but there were substantial increases in the traffic.

Mail and cargoes also showed heavy increases, particularly on the Quebec flights.

Trans-Canada Air Lines reported a weird assortment of freight cargoes in all parts of Canada.

Enough yeast, usually a minor commodity, was carried to make 1,500,000 loaves of bread. It went to bakers' suppliers all over the country.

A three-ounce guage for use in a grain elevator was sent from Toronto to Western Canada. From Toronto to Winnipeg also went a shipment of rats to be used in medical research work.

Exiled "Gov't" Now In Windsor

WINDSOR, Sept. 1 (CP) — A government in exile, led by elusive Mayor Orville Hubbard of Dearborn, Mich., is carrying on that city's business from a hotel room in Windsor.

Mayor Hubbard, who has good reasons for not returning to Dearborn, held a meeting of his department heads Thursday. It was probably the first time a city administration was conducted across an international boundary.

The breezy, fast-moving mayor didn't seem to be minding his exile. Not as much as he would mind a return to Dearborn, or Wayne county.

He faces a possible nine-month jail term as a debtor if he returns to the domain of the Wayne county sheriff. Several months ago Mayor Hubbard lost a $7,500 libel suit to John L. Fish, Dearborn attorney, who was unable to collect the money and ordered a body writ against the mayor. The mayor has stayed clear of the sheriff ever since.

The writ can put the mayor in jail for nine months.

Tons Of Love Blooming In Berlin Zoo As Hippopotami Plight Troth With Kiss

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (AP). — East-West love bloomed in the Berlin Zoo today, tons of it.

Olgo from Leipzig in the Russian zone and Knautschke from West Berlin plighted their troth and sealed it with a blueberry hippopotamus kiss.

Zoo keepers introduced the two hippos to each other and held their breaths. So did a crowd of 1,000 German onlookers. But they got along fine. The crowd cheered. It was good East-West cooperation.

The 3,000-pound Olga, aged 10, came here two weeks ago.

Knautschke, an old West Berliner tipping the scales at 3,500 pounds, is aged seven. He directed a cool like look through the bars at the petite girl friend until this morning when keepers decided they'd probably get along.

Olga waddled into a six-foot deep pool, stared around at the peeping Toms and shyly ducked under. Knautschke came to the open cage door, yawned prodigiously and lazed into the pool. It took the dumb cluck almost 10 minutes to find Olga.

Survey Discloses Canada Has 8,059 Practising Lawyers

TORONTO, Sept. 1 —(CP)— Canada today has 8,059 lawyers in active practice, proportionately fewer than at any time since 1900. One-third are in Toronto or Montreal.

These and other facts were disclosed today in the first of a series of reports on a survey sponsored by the Canadian Bar Association and financed largely by the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

The report, released by C. P. McTague of Toronto, survey director, is in effect a census of barristers and solicitors. It was published today in the Canadian Bar review and will be followed later by studies of various other aspects of the profession.

Second Report Soon

A second report, about lawyers' income and fees and other economic aspects, will be released soon. When all reports are complete, the survey council—21 lawyers and business men appointed by the Bar Association—will publish a summary of its findings.

Newfoundland — 55, one for 6,327; Nova Scotia—269, one for 2,397; New Brunswick—214, one for 2,411; Prince Edward Island—41, one for 2,292; Quebec—2,603, one for 1,494; Ontario—2,943, one for 1,498; Manitoba—459, one for 1,694; Alberta—430, one for 2,025; Saskatchewan—371, one for 2,320; British Columbia—668, one for 1,667.

Lawyers tend to favor practices in metropolitan cities or in small towns and villages, the report shows. Least well served are towns and small cities of 5,000 to 25,000 population.

More Partnerships

Fifty-three per cent of lawyers practise with one or more other lawyers, whereas two-thirds of United States lawyers are in independent practice.

The number of women lawyers is increasing steadily; there was one 50 years ago; now there are 113.

Thirty per cent of all lawyers are King's Counsel, slightly more than half are 45 years of age or under.

Lawyers generally are older in Western Canada than in the East. Young men are most prominent in Prince Edward Island, where almost 40 per cent have been called to the bar since the Second World War.

At New Peak

The report notes that law-school enrolment is at a new peak and says of suggestions that there is "overcrowding":

"The profession as a whole has a responsibility to the public to see that the legal knowledge and skills of the lawyers are available to every private citizen for the protection and the enforcement of his rights.

"Until there are enough lawyers to meet all the needs of the general public and until those lawyers are distributed in such a way as to be most readily accessible to fill those needs, the problem of overcrowding cannot properly be discussed."

In all of Canada, the report says, there are about 9,700 legally-trained persons, including 293 judges and some 1,300 lawyers either in government service or in active practice. This leaves 8,059 available to the public.

Classroom Shortage Overcome In Most Of Canada

By The Canadian Press

Things will be a lot quieter around the house this week.

The annual hush will descend, too, on back yards, swimming holes, parks and street-corners across Canada. The youngsters who have been whooping it up all summer will be back in confinement behind their school desks.

A cross-Canada survey by The Canadian Press indicates that the serious post-war shortage of both teachers and classrooms has almost been overcome. What pinch still remains will be felt largely in suburban and rural schools and the lower grades of city schools.

The textbook supply is reported adequate.

The majority of schools reopen Sept. 5. But in Quebec, where Labor Day is not observed, 600,000 students enrolled in Roman Catholic schools will return a day earlier. In Saskatchewan, rural schools reopen Aug. 1, other schools open on the usual date.

About 750,000 students are expected to enroll in Ontario—20,000 more than last year. In many schools there will be curriculum changes.

Changes Slow

Education minister Dana Porter says that the changes will be slow and experimental in aspect. Revisions already made include: Abolition of high school entrance examinations, reorganization of grades to eliminate the dividing line between primary and secondary schools, redistribution of the teaching load in some subjects to permit greater emphasis on individual instruction.

About 50 new elementary schools, and about 25 new secondary schools constructed at a cost of more than $10,000,000, will be ready opening day.

In Quebec, too, a heavy school building program has begun, to ease overcrowding. Crowding in Roman Catholic schools has been virtually overcome.

The teacher shortage in Protestant schools is fairly acute.

In New Brunswick the teacher shortage is being overcome by the use of "local licence" teachers, who qualify for their jobs after a two-week training course.

Get Three New Schools

A schoolroom shortage will be relieved in rural Nova Scotia by three new high schools at Brookfield, Tatamagouche, and Syd River.

Newfoundland is in the midst of what might be termed a "school boom." Some 75,000 students are expected to go back to school this year—a record for the island.

A shortage of teachers still exists in Manitoba. Aside from a few urban areas, schoolroom congestion should be slight.

Saskatchewan, unlike other provinces, has no crowding in its schools. Since 1940 the total school population of the province has been decreasing about 2,000 a year. The teacher shortage remains, especially in rural areas. Crowding occurs in only a few schools.

One Vancouver high school is introducing radar and radio courses, but otherwise the curriculum is much the same in British Columbia schools.

Seek to Make Late Premier Somewhat Mystic Figure

By JACK SCOTT

KINGSMERE, Quebec. — Since Mackenzie King's death many Canadians seem to have felt a compulsion to understand him as a man, as he was never understood while he lived.

In Ottawa, particularly, there is already the beginniing of a Mackenzie King legend in which the former prime minister emerges as a somewhat mystic figure, yet with a stature few people seemed willing to concede him in his lifetime.

The thousands who filed solemnly past his casket to stare at the heavy face of a man they never knew ,the crowds who are still visiting Laurier House, his Ottawa home, and the beautiful summer estate here in the green Gatineau hills, reflect a kind of delayed realization that Canada had known the statesman and politician without understanding the man.

Something of this same feeling was behind our visit to Kingsmere, but the clues available are mainly contradictions.

The estate is a beautiful place. Every corner of it looks like a color layout in House and Garden. So many tourists have driven out here since Mr. King's death that signs have been placed on the white fences inscribed "No Visitors Please," (a temperate warning which Mr. King would no doubt approve). I had made arrangements in Ottawa to go through the grounds and Mrs. Frank Kelly, a lively Irish woman who had been Mr. King's housekeeper for the past six years, came out of the white two-storey house to welcome me.

We stood for a moment looking up at the window of the second floor, where Mr. King had died, and Mrs. Kelly was moved to some of the kind of reminiscing one hears a good deal in Ottawa from those nearest Mr. King.

"He was a very quiet man," Mrs. Kelly said in her soft Irish voice. "We had to be careful to see what kind of mood he was in. Some mornings he would be quite cheery and pass the time of day, but of course he was never the kind of man you felt you could chinwag with. Usually he was deep in thought and we tried not to bother him."

Mrs. Kelly paused a moment, as if trying to recall her employer's personality. "He was a very quiet man," she said again.

Morning Stroll

Wherever you walk about the 580 acroes of the Kingsmere place you're reminded that Mr. King was a lonely man or, at any rate, a man very often alone.

Behind the house, where an immaculate lawn slopes away to the moors stands a giant old maple and in under its shade is a small wrought-iron table. This was a favorite retreat for Mr. King on hot days and when one heavy limb of the old tree split loose from the trunk he had a heavy chain cinched about it. From this leafy place there is a view of a large vegetable and flower garden, bright with color now.

"Mr. King loved flowers," Mrs. Kelly said, "and he liked to walk out over the moors. Most mornings after breakfast at eight he would take Pat, his little dog, and set off on a stroll. If you walk through the gate you will see the path he took."

I decided to follow the route and found that a neat path had been mowed through the tall brown grass. It wound upwards through groves of pine trees and it was not hard to imagine Mr. King, dressed in the white linen suit he wore regularly in the country, taking his morning stroll and pausing on high ground to contemplate the rolling green hills. It gives the visitor a sense of history to realize that many decisions affecting his life must have been made in this pastoral scene.

The path is intersected by another which leads to the home of the Pattersons, life-long friends of Mr. King who rented his adjoining cottage, itself beautifully kept and surrounded by summer blooms.

Mrs. Patterson, a fine-looking woman with snow white hair, came out to the porch and spoke simply of the loss of her old friend and neighbor. "We miss him, but then everyone does, I imagine," she said.

From inside the home came the sound of a news announcer with the latest bulletins on the railway strike. "It would never have happened if Mr. King had been at the helm," Mrs. Patterson said resolutely. "He had a genius for finding a way to compromise."

As It Was

In his will Mr. King bequeathed his Kingsmere home as a permanent summer residence for future prime ministers of Canada and the acreage surrounding it as a public park.

At the moment there is an almost eerie hush over the estate and to wander alone through the gardens and fields beyond, remembering that Baldwin, Neville Chamberlain, Roosevelt, Attlee and many another shaper of destiny strolled here, invites reflection. Ottawa is no more than 15 miles to the south, but it might be in another world.

The house itself is deserted except for the rooms occupied by Mrs. Kelly and her husband, who had been Mr. King's gardener 15 years, and while some of the furniture has been moved from Mr. King's quarters to Laurier House the rooms are exactly as they were when he was alive.

The house is not open to the public, but a glance through the curtains reveals sedate, period furniture and an atmosphere with a formality not generally associated with country houses or bachelors.

50-Cent Gain On Cattle Lost This Week

TORONTO, Sept. 1 — (CP) — Gains of 25 cents to 50 cents on opening cattle prices were erased under heavy dealings following runs this week at the Ontario Stockyards, the Dominion Marketing Service reported today. Truck deliveries of cattle were about double the volume anticipated and there were more cattle offered than the trade required. A sizable holdover was expected.

Sheep and lambs were $1 higher and hogs gained 50 cents.

Calves were steady.

The cattle run of 8,157 head was 1,200 more than for last week and 735 more than the same week a year ago. The great bulk of the offering was killing cattle with motor trucks hauling cattle from almost every Ontario county.

Top for choice weighty steers on Monday was $32.50 with two loads at $32. Top for the rest of the week was $31.50. Good choice light steers closed $29-$30. Good heifers $28.50-$29. Choice fed yearlings closed at $31-$33. Good cows were $22-$23.50, with heifery cows at $24. Canners and cutters were mostly $16.50-$18. Good heavy bulls sold at $23.50-$25, and light bulls sold at downwards to $19. A few lots of common to medium stockers sold at $21-$27, with good stockers up to $29.

Calves totalled 1,873 head. Prices were unchanged at $30-$32 for good to choice vealers, with common to medium from $20-$29. Stock calves ... $22-$27.

Hogs amounted to 2,283 head. Prices were up 50 cents cwt. at $33.50 for Grade-A, with sows at $23.50 dressed.

Sheep and lambs were 2,332 head. Lambs gained $1 on a light run with good ewes and wethers at $31 and bucks at $30. A few cull lambs sold at $25. Good light sheep were $13-$16.

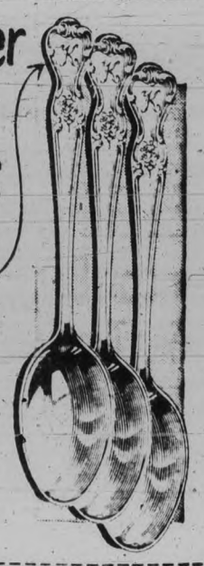
St. Pierre Island Boosts Fishing Industry



ST. PIERRE—(CP)—A big reconstruction program is being undertaken by the French government on the little islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon that lie off the south coast of Newfoundland.

Biggest emphasis is placed on the fishing industry, particularly in connection with salted cod and fresh fish.

In recent months five modern fish driers have been installed at key points on the French-owned islands, and another capable of processing 1,700 hundredweight of fish monthly is being constructed. Two modern trawlers bring their catches direct to the plants.

The St. Pierre government is interested in establishing a fresh fish filleting plant on the island and negotiations have been under way for some time. Such fish would be marketed in the United States, St. Pierre hopes.

John G. Pierce To Check Ont. Boundary

Ontario Land Surveyor John G. Pierce has been appointed Ontario Inspector by the Provincial government to accompany Manitoba's assistant director of surveys, Edward Gauer on a visit to the Manitoba-Ontario Interprovincial Boundary early this fall. They will meet in Winnipeg about Sept. 7 and, weather permitting, will fly in a Manitoba Government Air Service seaplane from Lac du Bonnet to the Island Lake —Hudson Bay coast boundary section.

Several articles dealing with Mr. Pierce's experiences while directing the cutting of the line, were published in the Examiner in 1948-49. The job was considered by Dominion survey specialists to be one of the most accurate ever accomplished.

In the no small matter of driving a line about 170 miles long through the most impossible type of wilderness country to a predetermined cairn on the Bay, the computations brought the surveyors within 15 feet of their goal.

It is of special interest to Peterborough people, that Mr. Pierce's father, the late John Wesley Pierce, spent several seasons over a period of years laying out the same boundary line from the Lake of the Woods to Island Lake and that his son completed the job successfully.

During this summer, construction crews have been erecting permanent cairns on the sites of survey pin-points and it is the duty of Messrs. Pierce and Gauer to see that this work has been accurately carried out.

Mr. Pierce thinks it might be possible to do all his work in a week but he is taking along his warmest bush clothing in case the weather decrees otherwise.

ON SCHEDULE

Work on the new city hall is going according to schedule, Superintendent Frank Paddock said today. Workers are continuing to pour foundations, and at the south end of the building foundations have risen above ground level.

Old Anglican Church Set Up As First Youth Hostel Established In Kawarthas

By HAZEL PAULL

The first hostel set up by the Canadian Youth Hostels Association in the Kawartha district opened this year at Fenelon Falls, bringing many cyclists, walkers and hitch-hikers on cross country holidays to this part of the country for the first time. The Youth Hostel movement stretches across the country and also has a wide membership throughout Europe. It operates especially for those travelling "under their own steam" either on foot, by cycling or by hitch-hiking, and provides overnight accommodation in rural areas at low cost.

During this summer, 84 people have stayed at the Fenelon Falls hostel, which was opened this year by Charles Brown, a Fenelon Falls builder, who has long felt the need for this type of accomodation.

The old Anglican church, built in 1835 and in disuse since the new church was erected in 1902, has been converted into a hostel. It was scheduled to be pulled down two years ago but Ernest Hand who has returned to Fenelon Falls, his birthplace, after a newspaper career in Peterborough and the surrounding country, bought the property to save it from demolition.

The church, situated on a hill overlooking Fenelon Falls, was built in 1835 shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Langton and their children John and Anne settled there. It has been standing derelict for many years.

But the church is an historic building which holds fond memories for many old timers in the village who attended Sunday school there and played a part in the life of the church until 1902, when it was superseded by the new building.

Demolition work had already started when Mr. Hand took over. There were no longer any pews and the east end had been completely dismantled. Part of the floor had been taken up but the sorry state of the building did not deter him from buying the church which played a vital part in his childhood and early manhood days.

"We could do with two or three thousand dollars to fix it up," Mr. Hand said this week when taking a look over the dilapidated walls. But he is happy to see the building in use once again.

The east part of the building has been boarded off by Mr. Brown and two rooms equipped with bunks, have been set up at the back of the church. And there is a kitchen with wood stove and electric hot plates.

Small Charge Made

Charge for staying at the hostel overnight is 50 cents and visits are limited to three nights in one hostel. It is essentially for hikers and cyclists and hospitality is refused motorists.

The building is sadly in need of repair and Mr. Hand is hoping it will not be long before funds are available for this purpose. The church is believed to be the first built in Victoria county and because of its close association with pioneers whose memories are now treasured throughout this part of Ontario, it is worthy of preservation, says Mr. Hand.

It is in this church cemetery that Thomas and Ellen Langton were buried and also Mrs. Langton's sister, Alice Currer. The three are buried in one grave and the tombstone states that Mr. Langton died in 1838, Mrs. Langton in 1840 and Alice Currer, in 1864.

Mr. and Mrs. Langton were the parents of John and Anne Langton, whose published letters have revealed much to the modern generation about early life in the bush country in this part of Ontario.

THE ANGLICAN CHURCH on the hill at Fenelon Falls, built by pioneers who settled Victoria county in the 1830's, was converted this year into a youth hostel. The building, LOWER RIGHT, although in serious need of repair, serves as one of the chain of Canadian Youth Hostel Association buildings where overnight accommodation is provided at 50 cents a night for hitch-hikers, cyclists and walkers. Ernest Hand, LEFT, who purchased the building to save it from destruction, unlocks the south door. RIGHT, pots and pans hang neatly on the wall above the stove.

Swim Champions To Present Display At Pool

Swimmers of the past will meet swimmers of the present Saturday night at the Lions pool in the centennial sports week aquatic show.

Former Canadian champions Bill Lech and Al Marshall will team with Stan McBride, holder of all the free style records at the YMCA, in a medley relay race. They will be competing against three of the top swimmers of this year in Ontario, Donald Wood, Ontario backstroke champion, Jim Heffernan, another Ontario champion, and John Boorman, holder of two international championships.

Twenty-five young swimmers who were unable to swim when the classes began this summer, will give a demonstration. Each can now swim at least the width of the pool. Nine-year-old Carol Howe, who placed second in the girls under 10 years 50-yard free style event at the CNE Monday, will perform.

Canoe Safety

Herb Cardwell and his sons from Wallace Point, will demonstrate canoe safety such as tipping the canoe, throwing out the occupants, and then righting the canoe properly. They will also do canoe tricks which they perform at the various regattas in the district.

Water polo, a game which was introduced to local boys at the pool, will be demonstrated. The two teams have been instructed by Bill Lech.

Stan McBride and Cliff McInroy will perform fancy dives.

The Peterborough Ornamental Swimming club will perform for half an hour demonstrating routine work as well as performing solos and duets.

Three-Year-Old Falls From Moving Tractor

Three-year-old Donna Mahood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Mahood, RR 1, Lakefield, was injured Thursday when she fell from a moving tractor on her father's farm.

She was rushed to Civic Hospital where officials say she is suffering internal injuries that are believed not serious.

Her father said "I was giving her a ride on the tractor at the time. I don't know how she fell off."

Doctors told Mr. and Mrs. Mahood that Donna would probably be back home in two or three days.

Complains Parked Car Hit By Show Truck

Norman Freeman, who lives at the YMCA, reported to police Thursday night his car parked on Murray St. was hit by a truck which drove away without stopping.

The truck had been parked in front of Freeman's car. An eyewitness said the truck, with E. J. Casey's All Canadian Shows painted on the side, backed up and drove the car back about 15 feet before driving away.

About $100 damage was done fenders. Constable D. S. Mackay investigated.

ANOTHER SKUNK

Police and Martin-Hewitt Containers Ltd. added another skunk to their record today to make the count four in four days or eight in two weeks. Constable Andre Dalton was called and shot the latest one trapped by plant superintendent Bill Stanbury this morning.

Two Trucks Sideswipe Both Drivers Unhurt

A sideswipe collision between two trucks early today on the Warsaw road caused a total of $40 damage.

Seven miles north-east of Peterborough, a Trent Valley Baking Co. truck driven by B. A. Henderson, Dublin St., turned out to pass a second truck, also going toward Peterborough, driven by Gerald Ellis, Lakefield. At the same moment Ellis veered slightly to the left to make a right turn, and a sideswipe collision followed.

Neither driver was hurt. Provincial Constable Fred Rawlings investigated.

Father Kennedy Dies At Rectory Of St. Alphonsus

Rev. Martin Joseph Kennedy, CSSR, died suddenly early this morning at the rectory of St. Alphonsus parish. He had been ill some time ago from effects of a heart condition which is believed to have recurred in his sleep.

Father Kennedy was born at Pickering, June 28, 1901, attended the local school and was graduated from St. Mary's College, Brockville, in 1926. That year he entered the novitiate of the Redemptorist Order, and made profession of his membership in August, 1927. From that groundwork for the priesthood, Father Kennedy continued his studies in philosophy at Montreal, and in theology at St. Alphonsus Seminary at Woodstock, Ont.

He received the sacrament of holy orders in June, 1933, assisted in teaching for a time at St. Mary's College, Brockville, and then began his career as a Redemptorist missionary in Western Canada with headquarters at Moose Jaw, Edmonton and Vancouver. He was recalled to the East in 1942 and was stationed in Quebec City and St. John, and then was transferred to Peterborough three years ago.

Father Kennedy was engaged in parochial missions until last year when he suffered a heart attack. For the last few months he had acted as assistant priest at St. Alphonsus Church, off Western Ave.

The body will be resting at St Alphonsus parish house from 10.30 a.m. Saturday. The office of the dead will be offered in the church beginning at 8 p.m. Sunday, and the funeral mass will be celebrated there at 10 a.m. Monday. Interment will be in Toronto.

POLICE NOT RESPONSIBLE

Either a bad heart or too much alcohol in the system led to the death of James York, 45, Fenelon Falls, a coroner's jury has decided. York died on his way to Lindsay after being arrested for drunkenness. Evidence showed that York suffered from a coronary disease and had a high alcoholic content in his system. The coroner was Dr. W. R. Crowe, Lindsay.

Melville Fountain Faces Charge Of Manslaughter

Melville Fountain, 27, of Fenelon Falls, was committed for trial Thursday in Newmarket on a charge of manslaughter.

Fountain, an employee of the Canada Packers in Peterborough, drove a car in which two women died after a collision August 5 near Newmarket.

Killed were Bernice Ruth, 20, of Emily township, and Mrs. Hulda Gosplin, 48, of Wayne, Michigan. Mrs. Gosplin was Fountain's sister, and he was bringing her to Canada for her holidays at the time of the accident.

Fountain's car was in collision with a truck, and an inquest was held into the two deaths. Fountain was charged shortly after.

Constable Sees Car Run Into Back Of Taxi

While Constable Donald S. Mackay watched, a car operated by B. B. MacDonald, 321 Dalhousie St., ran into the rear of a taxi waiting for a stop light on George St. at Hunter St. about two a.m. today.

Constable Mackay reported MacDonald had his left hand out in front of his windshield adjusting the windshield wiper and ran straight into the taxi, driven by Cameron Bennett, 759 Donegal St.

No damage was done to the taxi, but about $45 damage was done to the grill, right headlight and radiator of MacDonald's car.

Ken Fallis Commends Hay Exhibit at Peterborough Exhibition . . . Norwood Grain Growers Winners at C.N.E. . . . Ken Hunt Flew to Britain to Visit Shorthorn Breeders . . . Junior Wheat Club to Be Organized Tuesday, September 5 . . . Dr. J. D. MacLachlan Begins O.A.C. Presidency

"Probably the first baled hay show at Peterborough Exhibition didn't settle anything, certainly not the old controversy of round vs square bales," is a comment of Mr. K. E. Fallis, fieldman of the crops, seeds and weeds branch of the Ontario Department, in a summary of his impressions here last week. He had a departmental display relating to basic hay facts in the background of the tent that was used for this new competition sponsored by the directors of the show.

The generous prize list of $300 did bring out a large entry of all types of hay, first and second crop alfalfa, red clover and mixtures including clovers, timothy, orchard grass and brome.

This made no cinch for the judge, Prof. Kennedy of the Animal Division, OAC, who proved equal to the task, selecting a bale of second crop alfalfa with lots of leaf, fine stem and exceptionally good color for the $100 first prize.

He followed this with a bale of second cut red clover, commenting on the exceptionally fine job of conserving leaves and color in both these bales. He said he would have liked both these entries better if they had contained a proportion of grass.

The third prize bale was a good mixture of alfalfa, timothy, orchard and brome, first cutting, hence a little coarser, and lacking the exceptionally bright green color of the first and second prize winners.

Contrast in Quality

"Probaly the most striking feature of the display was the variation in quality of bales between early and late cutting, the late cut hay being coarse, stemmy, and lacking in rich green color. Weathering was noticeable, too, and it is significant that none of the over ripe, over weathered entries got into the prize money.

"Some very fine quality hay also failed to make the prize money because of insufficient curing. Hay which was heating or tough enough to be likely to spoil did not find favor in the eyes of the judge.

"Discussions in the hay show tent throughout Fair week indicated that farmers were thinking in terms of including grasses with their alfalfa which would be present not only in the first, but also the second crop hay. Brome and orchard grass have the advantage over timothy of being more leafy, and also of coming strongly in the aftermath.

Several of the prize winning bales contained considerable of these grasses. Orchard grass had cured well and retained plenty of green color and apparent palatability, indicating that orchard grass can make good hay if cut early.

"Much interest was expressed in grass silage, chopped hay and of course, the forage harvester. Apparently a number of these machines are already operating in the Peterborough district, and it seems a certainty that the hay show committee will be asked to include a class for grass silage and chopped hay, in connection with next year's show.

"Judging by some very fine hay tied in both round and square bales, it would appear that saving hay depends on the care and skill of the farmer rather than the shape of the bale. At any rate no one suggested separate classes for the two types of bales. It was strongly recommended that separate classes be designated for first and second cutting hay.

"Altogether, it looks as if next year's hay show will be even larger and more varied than the one just concluded."

NORWOOD WINS AT CNE

In the Agricultural Society section of the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, classes 238 and 239 the East Peterborough Agricultural Society (Norwood Fair) won first prize ($60) in class 239 for the best sheaf exhibit of barley, wheat and oats.

They also won second prize of $45 in class 238, on their exhibit of grains (in sacks), comprising five lots of different grains, grown and contributed by individual members of the Society.

G. A. Brethen, president of the Society, writes: "Owing to differences in soil and climate conditions, the province was divided into three sections, northern, eastern and western. Norwood Agricultural Society was entered in the eastern section, comprising the counties of York and Simcoe and all the counties easterly from York to the Quebec boundary."

"The members of the Norwood group showing in the sheaf section were: Ronald Webster, Beaver oats; Charles Lobb, Barboff barley; G. A. Brethen and L. R. McMillan, Cornell 595 wheat, all of RR 1, Norwood."

"In the grain or seed (in sacks) section, class 238, the five Norwood members exhibiting were: Milford Parker, Beaver oats; Gordon Stinson, Horton rye; Charles Lobb, Barboff barley; G. A. Brethen and L. R. McMillan, Cornell winter wheat, all of RR 1, Norwood; and Wm. G. Barrie, Timothy seed, Norwood RR 2."

"The 60 members of the Norwood Fair Beaver Oats Derby who are still in the running for the $275 prizes at Norwood Fair, Oct. 7-9 (Thanksgiving Day) are busy preparing their sheaves for that competition."

"Arrangements are being made to clean and grade bushel lot exhibits at Norwood farmers' seed cleaning plant, or elsewhere, upon application to the secretary or president, Norwood, around Sept. 15, when the wheat rush is over."

JUNIOR WHEAT CLUB

Seed at $4 a bushel is not deterring a group of juniors from joining the boys' and girls' winter wheat club which R. E. Bell, assistant agricultural representative is organizing Tuesday evening Sept. 5.

At two bushels to the acre, that is an investment of $8 by each of the juniors.

Ten members have already turned in their cash, and the club will be complete with five others, some of whom have reported their intention of joining.

Neary two months ago, Mr. Bell arranged with Robert Armstrong of Cavan for enough of his registered Cornell 595 wheat for the prospective members.

Those who have already signed applications are: Gerald Bolton of Douro; Neal Whitfield, John Waterman and Howard Johnston of North Monaghan; Dorothy and Don Chambers, Robert Hutchinson and David Stewart of Otonabee; Orland Brown of Asphodel; and Donald Irwin of Smith.

Stewart Bowman, district grain inspector for the Dominion Department of Agriculture, will be present to help in getting the young grain growers off to a good start.

One of the rules this year requires each member to keep records of cost of production, according to a suggested scale of charges which include rent of land at $3 an acre; rent of tractor $2 an hour; rent of horse 15 cents an hour; man's wage 50 cents an hour; boy or girl's wage 30 cents an hour; cost of seed, fertilizing and threshing.

TRIP TO HAMILTON

For the members of the junior tractor management club there is a trip in store to the Hamilton plant of International Harvester company, sponsored by Cliff Curtis. It will probably be in the week of Sept. 18.

Mr. Bell said definite information would be complete in another week.

The junior clubs are now beginning the final month of their affairs which culminate with achievement day Sept. 30. Mr. Bell is arranging the last series of meetings for the boys and girls.

FLY TO BRITAIN

Kenneth Hunt, Lakehurst, accompanied by Frank Laing, Kingston, took off by airplane Monday for the British Isles, where they plan to inspect the top Shorthorn herds and purchase some additions for the Shorthorn herd of L. Cadesky of Luada Manor Farms, Harvey township.

✦ ✦ ✦

NATURE'S BALANCE

The hedge of choke-cherry trees may be of more value to farming than is commonly supposed.

In parenthesis it may be recalled that on his trip to Illinois early in the spring, Norman McConkey was impressed by the absence of such hedges in a new policy of "clean farming" that would not shelter a humming bird.

That kind of farm is suspected by the US Soil Conservation service of helping insect pests to multiply by driving away birds which would thrive on them. Field boundary hedges of woody vegetation are recommended to reduce the insecticide bill.

In some areas "living fences of multiflora rose bushes have been planted." They are cheap to establish, easy to control, grow so thickly that they bar animals, and provide an inviting habitat for birds and bees. That is a means of maintaining what is known as the balance of nature.

When Thomas Austin of southwest Melbourne brought in 24 wild rabbits in 1859 for his game preserve, as recalled in the Wall St. Journal, he unleashed a costly plague from which his country may not recover for centuries.

"Within six years, Austin, apparently realizing his error, killed 20,000 rabbits, but estimated there were 20,000 left. They spread rapidly throughout southern Australia, depleting pasture land, ringing small trees and paving the way for wind erosion. Not only are large sums spent on fences and poisons, but it is said that five rabbits take the feed of one sheep. The ranges of New South Wales would carry 12,000,000 more sheep if only that ship bearing Austin's rabbits had never sailed."

SEVENTH OAC PRESIDENT

Dr. J. Douglas MacLachlan, 44, assumed the presidency of Ontario Agricultural Society today, Sept. 1, succeeding Dr. W. R. Reek. He has been head of the botany department for the last two years. Dr. MacLachlan becomes the seventh president of OAC in its 76 years of service to Ontario and its agricultural industry. Dr. Reef is making his home at Blenheim.

A GRASS FARM IN VIRGINIA

Eleven years ago gully-washing rain gouged the corn fields on the rolling farm of C. T. Rice, Oakton, Virginia. From that experience he decided to go out of corn and into grass. Since then he has not owned a plow as related by Wellington Brink, editor of "Soil Conservation."

In 1937 Rice sent to Oregon for 15 lbs. of the new wonder legume, ladino clover. It has been a key part of his program ever since, along with orchard grass, alfalfa, red clover, timothy and rye grass. He declares there is no finer hay mixture for the eastern part of the USA than alfalfa, ladino and orchard grass.

Seventy acres last year produced all the pasture his 37 Guernsey cows could graze, plus 130 tons of grass sileage, plus all the hay needed for winter and 40 tons of hay for sale. For many years this herd has averaged 9,500 pounds of milk per cow. Butterfat yields have ranged from 420 to 450 pounds.

Every 4 or 5 years as legumes are crowded out by orchard grass, blue grass, reseeding is indicated. All soil preparation is done by a cut-a-way disk harrow followed by a spring-tooth harrow to level the seedbed.

Mr. Rice fertilizes his pastures at the rate of 600 to 800 pounds per acre, using either 2-12-12; 0-12-12 or 3-12-6 formula. The 70 acres are divided into 14 lots for rotation grazing which begins about April 1 and continues to the middle of November. First grazing in the spring is on blue-grass sod, about two weeks earlier than the legumes-grass mixture. After that, the pastures which have not been used for silage are brought into rotation.

When grazing ends in a pasture lot, the cows are moved on to another, and the pasture is clipped. At the end of the season four inches of growth are left to protect the plants through the winter.

Mr. Rice specializes in seedbed preparation, grass-legumes mixture, fertility and conservation, and he supervises 11 farms other than his own.

2,4-D GEESE

Strawberry growers have made a big discovery about geese — they'll do a better (and cheaper) job of weeding strawberries than anything else, according to the (US) Farm Journal.

"Last year Theodore Berry, Washington farmer, put 16 geese on his weediest three acres of strawberries. The geese cleaned those acres of all kinds of weeds —even quack grass. They didn't touch a strawberry leaf.

Those three acres made a good profit for Berry. The year before he spent $500 hand-weeding them, and still the yield was so low that he lost money."

$1,000 FOR A-A SIRE

Top price of $1,000 for the Anderdean-Angus herd sire, "Bandolier of Don Head" at the dispersal sale Wednesday at the farm of R. B. Patterson of Tara in the Owen Sound area. Average price of females was $386 and calves $205.

Mr. Patterson bought the Angus bull from Don Head Farmers Ltd; and it returned to them in the auction ring. Ill health forced him to sell his farm and herd.

HOLSTEINS AVERAGE $347

Sixty-six Holsteins averaged $347 for a total of $22,935 at the Glanworth consignment sale Monday. High price of the day was $600 paid Phillip Miller, Swartz Creek, Mich., for the bred heifer Rag Apple Catherine, consigned by W. H. Shore of Glanworth. Scond high was $595 for an 8-year-old cow that went to Mill Valley Farms, Romeo, Mich. Twenty-four milking females averaged $343; 29 bred heifers $395.

NEW LIEUTENANT - GOVERNOR—Clarence Wallace, 57-year-old Vancouver industrialist, has been appointed by Prime Minister St. Laurent as lieutenant-governor of British Columbia. He will succeed Charles A. Banks, 65, whose retirement becomes effective Oct. 1.

HIGH COMMISSIONER — Thomas Charles Hislop arrives with his wife and 13-year-old daughter, Susan, at Ottawa airport to take up his new appointment as New Zealand High Commissioner to Canada. He succeeds James Thorn, who was High Commisisoner from 1947.

The Legacy Of Autumn

Hay fields are flowering with red clover and the purple bloom of the second crop of alfalfa. Their leaves are tender and full of sweet juice that imparts an inviting aroma and flavor to the last of the forage before the corn is cut.

Although they have grazed since spring in lush and fragrant meadows, cattle are likely to ruminate in munching contentment that, after all, the year has saved its good wine to the end of the feast.

Another August contemplates in departing its fulfilment of the indefinite promise of April, and leaves to autumn its seeding chore for the miracle of another spring. The tufts of the bulrushes are brown as in biblical times. The curled dock of the roadside is heavy with its seed, leathery of color like the oak leaves after the frosts of October.

The fruit clusters of the elderberry shrubs along the fences are still green, and the yellow flowers of the frail jewel-weed are not so vivid as the plumes of the acres of goldenrod flaming in fields just west of the city's new industrial properties. Goldenrod and ox-eye daisies and the lavender bloom of the asters are brief beauty in the legacy of August.

These are days of change to the pedestrian wayfarer, but they cast an illusive spell of permanence in the seasonal repetition of scenic pattern. He bemuses himself as an enduring part of it all, perennial and dispensed from the penalty of time, until reality descends on his fancies.

Somehow words of Caesar in one of Bernard Shaw's plays seem apposite: "One year of Rome is like another, except that I grow older, whilst the crowd in the Appian Way is always the same age."

Beauty Candidate Sent by Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Sept. 1 (AP).—Alaskans think they are sending the only candidate to the Miss America contest who can climb a mountain, make a mukluk, or smoke a fish.

She is 22-year-old Maxine Cothern. The far northern climate doesn't give much opportunity for display of some of the other attributes of a potential Miss America, but she has 'em.

As Miss Alaska, the new Mexico-born beauty sets out by airliner today for the Atlantic City board walk.

Miss Cothern has been an assistant to the home department director at the University of Alaska. She is an expert cook and craftsman, and one of her many sidelines has been swapping ideas with the Eskimo women.

She taught them handwork and they taught her to make parkas, mukluks (rawhide footwear) and to sew furs. (She doesn't expect to be wearing any of them on the boardwalk.)

Bethany News

Mrs. Grace Smith of Ingersoll who celebrated her 95th birthday on Saturday is paying her annual visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James McKinnon. She thoroughly enjoyed the motor trip from Ingersoll to Bethany; goes out calling on the neighbors and visiting with her grandchildren, Mrs. Vincent Jackson, Mrs. Bruce Ryley and their families.

Mrs. William Bailey of Ingersoll and Mr. and Mrs. F. Hathaway of Port Huron are also guests of Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon.

Bobby Ryley is visiting in Lakefield with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Staples.

Mrs. R. V. McAree and Miss M. Stewart of Mimico have been guests of Miss Rena McKinley during the past two weeks.

Miss Beverly Pomeroy, who has spent the summer at Bewdley, returned home this week.

What's Right?

You decide that it is time for you to leave a party.

WRONG: When your hostess leaves the other guests to go with you to the door, stand talking at the door for awhile.

RIGHT: Once you decide to go, go without lingering so that your hostess can get back to her other guests.

MRS. ANN WALLACE SUHR (right) formerly of Holdenville, Okla., may be Seoul City Sue, who is broadcasting for North Korean Reds, according to unconfirmed reports from Tokyo. Woman with her is her Korean secretary who travelled with her in 1930. A sister, Mrs. L. F. Battles, who still lives in Holdenville, says she understands that Mrs. Suhr is the last American remaining in Seoul since the Reds took it over. Seoul City Sue, the counterpart of Tokyo Rose, may be a missionary whom eastern Oklahoma Methodists sent to the Orient 20 years ago. Mrs. Suhr's sister says news despatches from the fighting front have convinced her that Seoul City Sue is her sister.

Better Chance for Westerners In New CBC Audition Plans

By GLENNE CURRIE

TORONTO — (CP) — One of the few criticisms of "Opportunity Knocks," CBC talent program, has been that the show has not been completely representative of Canadian talent.

The corporation has also felt that artists from some parts of the dominion may not have been given an equal chance with those from the Toronto-Montreal area and plans are under way to remedy this.

To date, the half-hour program has originated either in Toronto or Montreal, with a natural preponderance of eastern artists. As usual, the "east" has become the villain of the piece, with the "west" being the victim.

In an attempt to make the series more truly national in charcter, H. G. Walker, manager of the CBC Dominion Network, and Geoffrey Waddington, CBC musical adviser, will make a flying tour of Western Canadian cities this fall to set up semi-permanent audition panels to select artists for appearance in the east. To begin with, these panels will be set up in Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Set Dates

The two men are scheduled to appear in Winnipeg Sept. 5 to 8; in Vancouver Sept. 8 to 12; in Edmonton Sept. 12 and 13; in Regina Sept. 14 and 15; and Winnipeg again Sept. 15 and 16. With the next "Opportunity Knocks" series starting from Toronto Sept. 18, they hope to have the system well under way by the time they return.

The choice of contestants is, however, only one angle to the scheme of nationalizing the program.

There is always the problem of transporting the participants to Toronto. Providing transportation from Vancouver and back once a week would be a severe strain on the program's budget, especially since it is strictly on a sustaining basis.

With regard to this, Mr. Walker says: "We are hoping that in any scheme that is developed, local organizations such as conservatories, boards of trade and chambers of commerce will get behind it and help to sponsor appearances of their own artists on the national network."

Professional Rates

Thus, if any organization has a protege with an eye on a professional career, they will, if necessary, forward funds for the trip. It's not all just for the fun of it, however. Each contestant receives a regular professional fee for his stint and if he is given a return engagement as the most popular artist on any program he gets a $50 fee. Then, for the lucky one who takes the grand award of each 13-week series, there is a network program series with the CBC.

The, possibility of having the show originate in other key cities of the dominion was discussed and discarded. Principal reason was the necessity of a large orchestra, well-trained in accompanying artists in their first appearances.

"While not denying the quality of orchestras in other cities," said Mr. Walker, "we feel that we can get the best results and give the artist a better break with an orchestra which works as a unit each week, and knows the program inside out.

To Bring Artists

"Such an orchestra is available either in Toronto or Montreal, as well as the organization for arranging the program. Rather than have the orchestra follow the show to cities hundreds of miles apart each week, which would be out of the question economically, or use a different orchestra each week, we decided to bring the artists east."

Another reason for the centralization of the program is the fact that John Adaskin, "guiding light" of the program, has business commitments which prohibit his travelling further than Toronto or Montreal. And where else would the CBC find someone to conduct weekly auditions, make all arrangements for the program, act as master of ceremonies and conduct the orchestra? "Opportunity Knocks" has been Adaskin's brain child from the start, when he and CBC officials worked on the first series, which started in Toronto in July, 1947.

While nothing definite has been decided for the future, the program will probably run for 26 weeks in the winter, closing down during the summer months. The series will be split between Toronto and Montreal.

If the Walker-Waddington tour is at all successful, "Opportunity Knocks" is in for a bumper season, with the "new Canadian" contralto from New Westminster, BC, having equal opportunity with the comedian from Toronto.

Four Generations Greet NB Woman Visiting Britain

By MURIAL NARRAWAY.

TILBURY, Essex, England — (CP). — Forty members of the Courtney family rolled out the red carpet when Mrs. Vera (Lizzie) Lanigan of Rexton, NB, came to Britain from Canada.

It was her first visit in 31 years and everybody was there at London Airport to meet her, from 76-year-old Grandma Courtney down to 11-months-old Linda.

Busiest member of the reception committee was Grandpa Joe, 79, who picked up four generations of the family in a 32-seater coach. Other Courtneys converged on the airport in taxis.

Mrs. Lanigan—Lizzie Courtney that was—sized up the situation.

"Separate those I know from those I don't," she commanded.

This done, she kissed each one in turn. Then she went off to her parents' home in Tilbury, a dock area near London, where she is still meeting Courtneys.

A Big Family

In all, Grandpa and Grandma Courtney have six sons and seven daughters still living, 86 grandchildren and 39 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Lanigan, 57, herself has had 12 children, nine of whom are still alive. She has eight grandchildren.

Most of the family are still in Tilbury, where Courtneys have lived for more than 50 years. Others live in Manchester, Southend, Gravesend, and Rainham.

"It's going to take some doing to see them all," said Mrs. Lanigan, who will return to Canada on September 8.

War bride of the First World War, she is glad to be back in Britain at last. She hoped to return during the Second World War, but was refused permission. A second attempt was delayed by family matters.

"It's marvellous to be in Britain again," she told the Canadian Press. "It's just as beautiful, despite all the bombing. People have not forgotten their love of flowers and gaiety.

"I would love to stay, but back home I have my husband, family and grandchildren."

Lizzie is already speaking of her next trip. Next time, she says, "I'll probably bring my husband with me."

Day of Hoopskirt and Low Prices Business Done by Barter And Ham Sold Six Cents a Pound

The happy times of low prices and hoopskirts are recalled in a record of the day-to-day business at the general store in Keene, operated by George Read in 1862-3. Mr. Read was the father of W. G. Read, Margaret Ave.

The store was situated on the north side of the road leading to the bridge over the Indian River. Later it was occupied by Thomas Campbell and James McNeill. They later sold the business to Anderson and Skinner.

The day book was kept by Thomas Campbell, father of the late W. D. Campbell, of Campbell and Best, and the entries are written in a clear, neat hand.

Not only can this record be looked on as a diary of business, but also as a reflection of the life and times of the inhabitants during the middle 1800's.

Much of the business done was by barter, and entries are common showing how farmers brought in bushels of barley and other commodities, the value of which was placed to the farmer's credit.

For example, John Blezard brought in 81¼ bushels of barley and was credited $36.57; barley selling at 45 cents a bushel. Peter Londerville, supplied the store with 12 pork barrels and was credited with $15.

Played No Favorites

Mr. Read played no favorites, charging himself 20 cents for two pounds of crackers and 40 cents for "4 lbs. cheese." Not far distant from this entry is one in which his cousin, Dr. Amos McCrea, was charged $1.90 for a pair of boots.

Then, a barrel of salt sold for $2.25 and a pound of tea for prices from 90 cents to $1.50. Eels sold at three cents a pound, and codfish at five.

Then, when school was over in June of 1862, we see that "William Simpson's son" bought fish hooks and a line for 22 cents. Hard-earned pennies they were, too, for a brief holiday before working most of the summer on the Simpson farm.

There were some odd entries in this day book of the Victorian era. James McCann, the cobbler at Keene, bought a pint of "pale seal oil" for 14 cents. Some boots were known as bloomers, and John Grier paid 50 cents for an item listed as "to writing." Possibly a letter dashed off by Mr. Campbell in his neat hand.

Signs of spring can be spotted without looking at the date. Farrel Shaw bought himself some onion and cabbage seed. James Wason purchased 38 cents worth of calomel, quinine and jalap.

Peter Anderson, the tailor, is a common entry in the book. Usually he is credited with four or five dollars for making a suit, and sometimes 90 cents for a pair of pants for John Plunkett or D. McCarthy's son.

Overalls 90 Cents

Ham sold at 6 cents a pound, olive oil at 25 cents a pint, and a pair of overalls for 90 cents. Coon skins were valued at about 21 cents each—Douglas Sharer was credited 62 cents for three he brought in to Mr. Read.

Credit Peter Hewie 12 lbs. wool at 30c, $3.60 and 24 26-34 bush: oats at 40c., $9.90. Arch. Bryce 2 pr. socks 70c. Rich. Quinn 4 oz. snuff 12c. N. Woodcock balance on brogans 22c.

Mrs. A. Fife 1 pr. scissors 32c. Peter McIntyre 1 pitcher 15c. Francis Birdsall 10 lbs. candles $1.34; 1 package of cards 33c. James Gallon paid A. McGregor $3 for making a coat.

Dec. 24—Wm. Lang, brass candle sticks 40c, 2 lbs. raisins 34c, 2 yds table linen $1, ½ doz. knives and forks $1.40. Wm. Calder's daughter 2 lbs. raisins 34c, ¼ lb. allspice 4c, candies 13c.

There was Christmas in the making 88 years ago. People were buying the familiar and unchanging ingredients of cakes and puddings. Those were the days of tallow candles, scythes, homespun and lots of wild rice on the table. And George Read, who supplied the demands of those days, was not only storekeeper. He was an ex-MPP, postmaster, clerk of the township council, clerk of the division court, and issuer of marriage licences.

Though the people are dead, the names live on: Drummond, Birdsall, Read, McCrea, Blezard, Fifex, Miller, Gillespie, Mahony, Elmhirst, McFee, Anderson, and so on. Hundreds of names that still appear in the business and social affairs of Otonabee and Keene.

Rain Plagues Exhibition In Toronto

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP).—The rain-plagued Canadian National Exhibition had a new theme song today as it moved into the half-way mark of its annual 16-day extravaganza.

The theme song, "Rain, rain, go away."

Hollywood comedian Danny Kaye started it all when he fell with a resounding "boom" on a slippery open-air stage in the middle of the evening grandstand performance Thursday night.

Soaking wet from a heavy shower that fell on the grounds, Kaye jumped up unhurt and singing "Rain, rain, go away," then continued his performance right to the end.

Heartily echoing the song today were CNE officials, who have watched four straight days of rain and showers hold down attendance figures and interrupt some scheduled events.

Attendance Thursday was 178,000, 3,000 down from the same date last year. Total attendance, however, still is 7,500 more than it was at the same period last year.

Program Highlight

Highlight of the program today—press and radio day—was the opening tonight of the big CNE horse show which will continue until the exhibition ends Sept. 9. Tonight's performance has been thrown open to the public without admission in a bid to stimulate interest in the show. The official opening is Saturday night.

In a wide ranging program on Thursday, Ontario cattle men and sheep breeders paraded their prize livestock before the judges in the livestock show ring.

Brig. John M. (Rocky) Rockingham, leader of Canada's new army brigade, paid a flying visit to the Ex. to inspect the big tri-service defence display, and took the salute at a march-past of the Army-Navy-Air Force precision drill team, a featured attraction at the nightly grandstand performance. He returned to Ottawa by air later in the evening.

A special attraction Thursday night was a 10-minute performance by the crack Calgary Stampeder's Maccabees drill team. Dressed in eye-catching red and white cowboy shirts and 10-gallon Stetsons, they visited the CNE while returning to Alberta after winning a drill-team competition at the Maccabees convention in Detroit last week.

Higher Prices Likely Remain For Some Time

By FORBES RHUDE, Canadian Press Business Editor.

Word of higher prices continues to dot the news.

This was to be expected, for we already were in a resumed boom before the Korean fighting started. There was some possibility of that boom easing off, but the increased demand of the international situation makes it likely that it will be with us for some time.

It is in the interest of both business and consumers that prices don't run away, and both sides can do much to prevent them from doing so.

Business can help by keeping prices as low as reasonable profits will allow, and thus stave off controls which it won't like. The individual can help by refraining from panic-buying and by turning away from price tags which are unduly high.

In addition to the real causes for the present boom, it can become a partly-psychological state wherein people run thither and yon, grab up this and that, and get ideas of "get rich quick."

Strong Trend

At best there will be a strong upward influence, and only sane thinking offers any prospect of keeping it under control.

One of the strongest inflationary influences at the moment is fear of inflation, which causes people to turn cash money into stable goods, houses, stocks, and so forth. Ordinarily this is a most laudable thing, and probably still is. But the old rule of investigate before investing holds, for along with opportunities there are plenty of pitfalls.

We don't know what changes in values are in front of us, including the value of money. But our economy has shown a great adaptability which in the main has worked out well for most people. Probably it can continue to do so if we keep our heads.

The government's action Thursday in lowering barriers against United States goods probably is intended as one step towards increasing the supply of goods and therefore of competition, and this may help in restraining prices.

If they are not restrained, we may expect other measures.

New and wonderful!

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Sliced Stuffed Olives Give Add Color to Chicken Loaf

Here is a recipe from this newspaper's seventh cookbook release, "500 Tempting Salads and Dressings," which will be a sure-fire hit for evening buffet table or luncheon, alike. And like all the other books in the series this typifies the many unusual and easy-to-make ideas found in this remarkable series of twenty-four cookbooks that are being made available to you, a book a week, with a coupon clipped from any issue of this newspaper.

Chicken and Olive Loaf

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
3 cups chicken stock
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1-3 cup sliced stuffed olives
1-3 cup shredded almonds
1 cup diced celery
2 cups diced cooked chicken

Soften gelatin in cold water 5 minutes and dissolve in hot stock. Add salt and lemon juice. Chill until it begins to thicken. Fold in olives, almonds, celery and chicken. Turn into loaf pan and chill until firm. Unmold, for 6.

For a finishing touch for this delightful salad you should try one of the mayonnaise variations in the Salad book. There are so many that it will be hard to decide which one you will want to use. But there is one to suit every taste and need, and with crisp curls of lettuce for trimming you will have a salad that will appeal to the most finicky taste.

So far, Snacks, Leftovers, Cakes, Poultry, Pies, Soups, and now Salads are the cookbook titles which have been released. You will want every one of them, so all you have to do is clip a coupon from any issue of this paper and present the coupon with 25 cents to The Examiner office your Examiner carrier, or Braund's Food Markets. If you would find it easier to order by mail send the coupons with 30 cents for each book (5 cents additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, The Examiner, Peterborough.

DOROTHY DIX

Men Who Resent Obligation Should Remain Bachelors

I married, I guess I loved my husband as much as any man ever was loved, but today we are strangers because he shut me out of his life. He never talks to me. Never speaks unless spoken to. I know less of his affairs than a stranger, but on the outside I bear he is quite a chatterbox and when friends come to our house he monopolizes the conversation. I am not included in these talking sprees, so I have quit talking to him. I tried being very affectionate to him, but it was like adoring a stick of wood, and now I am cold toward him. I don't think there is any other woman, but if there is, she is welcome to him. But why do you suppose he married me?

WONDERING WIFE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Many another woman, who has a husband like yours, asks herself that question and finds no answer to it. Indeed, why men marry is one of the crossword puzzles that nobody can solve, for apparently a large number of men commit matrimony merely to repent it.

Urdomestic Type

Why does the man marry, for instance, who hasn't an ounce of domesticity in his nature, and who wants to always be going places and doing things and is bored to death at his own fireside? There that who clap on their hats the minute dinner is over and fare forth to the club or to the theatre or a prize fight or to play poker with the boys, anywhere to do anything except spend the evenings with their wives.

Why does the philanderer marry? Why does the man who knows himself for a petticoat-chaser, and that he can never resist a pretty face and that it isn't in him to be faithful to any woman, not pass up matrimony and keep himself at liberty to flutter from flower to flower? Why does he want to torture some hapless woman with jealousy and break her heart with his infidelities? Nobody knows.

Why does the stingy man, the man who begrudges the very food his wife and children eat and what it costs to support them, marry? He knows beforehand how much it costs to set up a family and if he isn't willing to pay the price, why doesn't he stay single and keep his money for himself instead of marrying and raising cain over the bills? It keeps his wife guessing, but she never guesses the answer.

Why does a man marry a woman he trusts so little that he never discusses his business with her, or who bores him so much he can find nothing to say to her? Why does a man marry a woman who apparently isn't a single thing he wants in a wife and with whom he never speaks except to find fault? Why does a man marry a woman except that he loves her and enjoys her and admires her? Nobody knows. Least of all the wife.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a boy of 17. My mother will not let me think for myself and I'm going nuts. She will not allow me to go to a show unless she takes me, but all the boys in my crowd can go alone to a night movie once in a while, and even take a girl now and then, but not me. Mother says that I have plenty of time for that when I get to be 21, but I'd like to go a little now. I know that Mother is "thinking of me only," as she says, but I would enjoy thinking for myself some time now, not when I'm 21.

SEVENTEEN.

ANSWER: You have my sympathy, poor little overmothered lad. Your mother doesn't realize it but she is doing you as deadly a wrong in not letting you think for yourself, even when you are 17 years old as she would have done if she had kept you from learning how to walk until you are that age.

No mother would be cruel enough to handicap her child physically by preventing it from using its body. But she does all in her power to keep her child dependent upon her and from using its mental muscles. She will decide every question for her child instead of letting it exercise its own judgment. She won't let the child do its own thinking or develop its own character and the excuse that she makes for this is that she is afraid that the child will make mistakes, that he may get to know the wrong people or make injudicious decisions.

Of course he would, just as a little child learning to walk falls and bumps its nose, but it learns by mistakes. It learns how to stand on its own feet and take care of itself as the child never does whose mother always holds it by the hand.

The child who had always had to depend upon himself could take care of himself. For alas, our mothers cannot always go with us and hold us by the hand and protect us against the dangers and hardships we must meet, and if they have not prepared us for this, they have failed as mothers.

Twenty-one is too late to let a boy think for himself. He should have begun that in his cradle.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My fiance and I are planning to be married in a very short time, but we have seen so many of our old friends' marriages go on the rocks that we are beginning to wonder if a wedding ring destroys the beautiful love that precedes it. Do you think it does?

D. W.

ANSWER: Not at all. Marriage is the greatest preservative of love because the mere sense a man and woman have that they are bound together gives each the value in the other's eyes that we have for the things that belong to us.

Likewise, married people have the strongest of all ties in that they have a mutual interest in their home, their children, their prosperity generally. They rise or fall together.

Outline Good Suggestions Brighten School Lunch Boxes

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, Sept. 1 — (CP) — It's time to start planning those school-lunches again. And of course mothers know it takes plenty of imagination to concoct daily lunches that are nutritious, tasty and lovely to look at.

May we suggest that you set aside a corner of the kitchen for all those necessary lunch-box trappings—a sharp slicing knife, waxed paper cups with covers, waxed paper and paper napkins. In the long run this will save a lot of time and energy.

Two sandwiches with a variety of fillings and bread are the mainstay of any lunch-box. Egg salad with pimiento makes an appetizing sandwich filling. Chopped roast meat with pickle and mayonnaise is another. Peanut butter and salad dressing also is an interesting combination.

Uncooked Vegetables

An uncooked vegetable should be included, whether it be a few crisp celery curls, carrot sticks or a tomato.

The youngsters will always welcome a banana or an apple with perhaps a piece of gingerbread or a cookie for dessert.

Either hot or cold drinks may be carried in a vacuum bottle. If the beverage is hot rinse the bottle with hot water before filling; if cold, rinse with cold water first.

Welcome Addition

Ginger snaps make a welcome addition to any lunch-box.

Ingredients: One cup molasses; one-half cup shortening; two teaspoons baking soda; two tablespoons warm milk; 2½ cups all-purpose flour; one tablespoon ginger; one teaspoon salt.

Heat molasses to the boiling point and add shortening. Dissolve soda in the milk and add molasses mixture. Sift ginger and salt with flour and mix well, with other ingredients. Form into rolls and wrap in waxed paper. Chill overnight. Slice and bake on greased cookie sheets. Yield: about 75 cookies.

The health department reminds every homemaker that when planning meals be sure to include foods from every group in Canada's food rules. These groups: milk, fruits, vegetables, cereals, bread and meat.

It also notes that cheese should play an important part in everyone's diet. Cheese is a good source of calcium, protein, vitamin A and riboflavin. It should be included in the diet at least three times a week by itself or in a combination with other foods.

Nurse Works 59 Years, Going Strong

TORONTO—(CP)—Mrs. Caroline Sewell's immediate ambition is to keep nursing for just one more year—to bring her record to 60 years on the job.

The 79-year-old-nurse, now doing floor duty at the Toronto General Hospital, sees nothing remarkable in her long service. "After all," she says, "I was only doing my job. There are lots of other nurses like me, if you look for them."

Mrs. Sewell was graduated from Queen Charlotte's hospital in London, where she specialized in midwifery. She delivered at least 3,000 babies there before coming to Canada in 1908 with her husband. After coming to Canada, she says, "I had to call in a doctor for the delivery."

She herself has nine children and 22 grandchildren.

Following special training in home and foreign centres, Mrs. Sewell served for two years in Alexandria, where she came into contact with everything from measles to Bubonic plague.

When the Sewells came to Canada they settled in the Temiskaming district of Northern Ontario. She continued her nursing in the district, as her husband's heart condition prevented him from doing heavy work. When Mr. Sewell died in 1928, she went back to nursing, later moving to the Sarnia district, where most of her children have settled.

She came to Toronto six years ago and was accepted as staff nurse at the Toronto General.

"I hope to go on one more year," she says, "but one never knows just what is ahead."

SUGAR REFINING

The refining of sugar is one of Canada's oldest industries, the census of 1870 showing four establishments in this industry with 300 employees and output worth $4,000,000.

Beleves Russia Ready For War Late In 1951

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP). — Russia may be ready for total war by late next year, Nicholas Nyaradi, former Finance Minister of Hungary, said Thursday.

Nyaradi srved in the Hungarian coalition government as a representative of the anti-Communist smallholders' party before the Communists seized control. He now is lecturing and writing in the United States.

In an article in a magazine, Nyaradi said information he gained while in the Hungarian government and since that time "led me to conclude that the Russians hoped to achieve maximum military and economic preparedness by the end of 1951."

"Kremlin measures in satellite countries aim to ensure by that time two-year reserves of grain, metals, oil and rubber," he said. "I still believe that Russian preparations for total war are unfinished. But they may be complete by late 1951."

Machine Deficiencies

"Deficiencies were mainly in machine tools, ball bearings, industrial equipment, locomotives, railroad cars, non-ferrous metals (especially copper and zinc), electronics, and precision instruments, and pig-iron," he continued.

But Nyaradi said shortages are not major obstacles to Soviet war production, and in emergencies Russia can manage.

He used steel as an example. Russia hoped to achieve production of 25,000,000 tons of steel in 1950 or only one-quarter of US production, he said.

"But since Soviet and satellite steel is reserved largely for military purposes," he declared, "the Soviet war machine has had more steel at its disposal since 1948 than any Western army — perhaps more than all the Western armies."

1,200 Railmen Return To Jobs

STRATFORD, Sept. 1.—(CP).—Nearly 1,200 railway workers who refused to return to their jobs until the end of the full period of grace allowed by federal legislation ending the rail strike went back to work today.

Canadian National Railways motive-power shops workers were back at their tasks for the shift starting at 8 a.m. and they swung back into work with a lower-than-usual rate of absenteeism and only one of the 1,180 was late, possibly a record.

"There won't be any overtime as things look right now," said J. L. Whitty, general foreman. "We'll just have to push our schedule back nine days."

Only 35 men failed to turn up for work, five less than the average rate of absenteeism among these shop workers, believed to be the only rail workers in Canada who did not report immediately after the Dominion Government passed special legislation to end the work stoppage.

Civil Servants Ask St. Laurent's Help

OTTAWA, Sept. 1 — (CP) — Representatives of Canada's 125,000 civil servants have appealed to Prime Minister St. Laurent to help them find relief from the high burden of living costs, it was disclosed Thursday.

The Civil Service Federation of Canada made public a letter which it has written to the prime minister urging him to allow the federation an interview.

With the railway strike over, the federation hoped "that the government will find time to deal with the critical situation of its own employees with regard to adequate salaries."

Brief Power Failures

TORONTO, Sept. 1 — (CP) — Brief power failures occurred in two sections of Toronto today. Parts of the downtown and in the west-end, including the Canadian National Exhibition grounds, were without power when conductors at the Esplanade and Strachan Avenue stations failed. The Esplanade station was off six minutes and Strachan Avenue two minutes.

Possible Spies

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 1—(AP)—Two Germans, including an employee of the Allied Military Security Board, were arraigned before an American court Thursday on charges of possessing information dangerous to the security of the occupation forces. The back-to-work order came after emergency sessions of Parliament.

Tells Indians Organize To Get Franchise

TIMAGAMI, Ont., Sept. 1 (CP) —The amalgamated Indian tribes of Ontario were told today they must organize to obtain the franchise but not at the sacrifice of treaty rights.

Magistrate E. R. Tucker, of Cochrane, flying chief of the Indians of Ontario, told the second annual convention of the tribes at nearby Bear Island: "You must regain your rights as Indians, your rights to treaty payments and your rights to medical and dental care."

He said all other Indian problems were secondary to obtaining the franchise.

"The franchise will give you a political voice and all other things will follow. Men will come to your reserves seeking votes. Then you will get action on your problems."

The Indians from the James Bay Basin direly needed all the rights presently granted under their treaties, he said. They lived in frightful poverty and disease was rampant, among them.

Indian Councillor Joseph Friday said the 135,000 Indians of Canada should pick a single party when they obtain the franchise.

"If we all voted on the one way we could become a force in the land," he said.

2 People Killed In Car Crash

KITCHENER, Sept. 1 (CP)—Two persons were killed and three injured Thursday night in an automobile collision a mile and a half from here on the Guelph-Kitchener highway.

Killed were Mrs. Kenneth Shiry, 26, of Kitchener, and Herbert Barlow, 22, of Guelph.

Injured were Mrs. Robert Mackie, 26, of Kitchener; Carlyle Bates, 24, of Guelph; and Kenneth Shiry.

Mrs. Shiry, a passenger in a car police said was driven by her husband, was dead on arrival at hospital. Barlow, who had been riding in a car said to have been driven by Bates, died in hospital without regaining consciousness.

Waterloo township police said the cars met almost head-on, with the Guelph car, a 1943 model, landing in the ditch. The impact threw Barlow from the front seat into the back of the Guelph car.

7-Cent Increase Granted At Hudson

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP)—The United Automobile Workers' Union (CIO) said Thursday the Hudson Motor Car Company has granted a seven-cent hourly wage increase to 20,000 employees.

Delwin Craig, president of Hudson AUW Local 154, said the company also would give an additional three cents to skilled workers.

Hudson thus becomes the fourth automobile manufacturer to accept the current wage pattern. The others were General Motors, Chrysler and Packard.

Hear Police Chief Resigns Again

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 1 (CP)—A report that London township's latest police chief was submitted his letter of resignation remained unconfirmed and undenied late Thursday.

Chief Robert Hall, who took over as chief constable Aug. 14, declined to say whether he is in the process of resigning or sent in a letter of resignation earlier this week.

Reeve W. Roy Bloomfield voiced concern that such reports leaked out before council was informed: "We're satisfied with the chief," he said.

The reeve said that there is a letter from the chief, still sealed, in the township clerk's office. He said he is uncertain whether the letter will be opened before council's next regular meeting Sept. 6.

Appointment of Chief Hall climaxed weeks of discussion and dissension over police matters in the township.

Strike Forced Tanker To Take Odd Cargo

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., Sept. 1—(CP)—The Canadian railway strike forced a cargo on the tanker Translake that was believed unparalleled in Great Lakes navigation.

The Translake, owned and operated by Transit Tankers and Terminals Limited, picked up about 50 tons of flour for Montreal Wednesday. She carried the cargo as a deck load on tarpaulins stretched over her tanks.

Seek Hide-Out

SINGAPORE, Sept. 1 (Reuters) —Searchlights blazed over Kuala Lumpur Thursday night for the first time since the Japanese invasion, as British and Malayan troops sought out a guerilla mountain hide-out. British troops in the area were reinforced and Europeans warned not to travel outside the five-mile limit following reports of guerilla concentrations 12 miles north of the capital.

Labor Congress Urging BetterConditions

OTTAWA, Sept. 1 — (CP) — Heads of Canada's two big labor congresses, in Labor Day messages issued Thursday night, called for improved social conditions to combat the spread of Communism in the democracies.

The messages came from R. Bengough, who leads 480,000 workers in the Trades and Labor Congress, and A. R. Mosher, whose Canadian Congress of Labor has 360,000 members.

To make democracy work in Canada, Mr. Bengough said, there must be extended social security measures; price control to hold down living costs, and better working conditions.

"Communism with few exceptions breeds among the frustrated and the hungry," he said. "It doesn't find fertile ground among those who have good homes, reasonable incomes, and who can face the future and the recurring crisis of life with confidence."

Mr. Mosher said the aggression in Korea "should put the democratic nations on guard and lead to a determined effort to abolish social conditions which encourage the spread of Communism within their borders."

While the Korean conflict had intensified efforts of Canadian workers to uproot Communism within their ranks, opposition to Communism was not enough.

"Communism," he said, "can be destroyed only if the free countries of the world make their institutions function effectively in promoting the welfare of the people."

Pope Ends Vacation

KINGSTON, Sept. 1 — High school students are going to college a few years ahead of time.

Five classrooms at Queen's University are being made available for a limited period to house secondary school students. They will be without permanent accommodation until the new wing of the Kingston Collegiate and Vocational Institute is completed in three weeks.

Tenor Rouses Enthusiasm At Performance

TORONTO, Sept. 1—(CP)—It takes more than an appendectomy to silence the golden voice of Joseph Victor Laderoute, internationally - known tenor who comes from Sault Ste. Marie.

He underwent the operation last Monday. Last night he was guest soloist at the weekly Toronto Promenade Symphony Concert and he literally brought down the house.

Mr. Laderoute's numbers were in keeping with the orchestral program, devoted to Viennese music because it was in Vienna that guest conductor Nicholas Goldschmidt received his musical education.

He sang Franz Schubert's "Serenade" and "Ungeduld" adding as an encore a devoutly-rendered Ave Maria by the same composer: "Morgen" and "Devotion" by Strauss; an aria from Mozart's Don Giovanni and Lehar's "You Are My Heart's Delight."

His performance won the praise of the newspaper critics.

John L. Watson wrote in the Globe and Mail that "his voice, though light, is extremely pleasant and he sings with clarity, ease and authority."

"He tended to over-romanticize Schubert, but he displayed real art and understanding in two of Richard Strauss' lovely songs and of course brought the house down with Lehar's grand old warhorse."

Gordon Attacks Inspired By Leftist-Ker

TORONTO, Sept. 1 — (CP) — Frederick I. Ker, publisher of The Hamilton Spectator, said today in an address that attacks on Donald Gordon over the rail strike were leftist-inspired.

Describing the Canadian National Railways president as a "fearless and capable" public servant, he said the criticisms show that "when the leftist hierarchy and their political puppets don't get what they want they bitterly attack those who oppose them."

"All too frequently these attacks are headlines and broadcast by newspapers and radio stations with an eye on the leftist circulation," he said in an address prepared for delivery to a Canadian National Exhibition directors' luncheon.

"Don't blame our governments if this continuous propaganda is interpreted as reflecting the will of the people. Those contrary-minded show no such zeal in making known their views and in defending members of parliament and public men from the unfair and unworthy attacks that are made upon them."

Overhanging Menace

Speaking on the CNE's press and radio day, he called attention to what he termed "a menace which overshadows the press and radio of this country at the present time."

Mr. Ker, who is a director of The Canadian Press, noted that the American Newspaper Guild (CIO) was certified last April as bargaining agent for editorial employees of The Canadian Press. The certification was resisted by the National News Service "on the grounds that it seriously endangered freedom of the press."

Because of its opposition to the union, which he described as "pledged to the CCF" through its affiliation with the CIO, The Canadian Press was "bitterly criticized by the interested labor leaders."

"This is a matter of the utmost importance to the security of this country, and yet what individual or group of individuals, what political party, chamber of commerce, bar association or other organization has publicly come to the support of The Canadian Press, creating a reflection of public opinion contrary to that advanced by a minority group seeking an insidious control over the National News Service?"

Hurl Back Red Troops On All Fronts

Enemy Casualties Said Staggering, UN Forces Advance

TOKYO, Sept. 2—(AP)—Reinforced American troops drove the shattered remnants of two North Korean divisions back across the Nam river late Saturday night, smashing one prong of the Communists' major three-day offensive.

Victorious U.S. troops counted a toll of 10,000 Red casualties on the southern front. American Navy planes, strafing and pocketing the Reds as they fled across the river, added to the toll.

All along the blazing 120-mile front United Nations forces seized the initiative from the 120,000-man Communist juggernaut.

Other U.S. troops drove back into burning Yongsan, blunting the deepest penetration of the North Korean offensive. It fought nearly one mile west of the town. Still other American forces attacked to knock Reds off three key hills near Waegwan in the north.

Pursuing Reds

South Korean reported they were pursuing Reds retreating above the east coast port of Pohang. Other South Koreans were pushing Communists back on highways from the north leading to Taegu, vital communications centre.

All elements of the Allied air forces hammered at Red lines Saturday. Superforts plunged 200 tons of bombs on three Red concentration points — Kumchon, Chinju and Kochang—from which the North Koreans were feeding reinforcements to the front.

But the Communists still posed at least one ominous threat to the United Nations beachhead. They were reported massing tanks to exploit the dent of nearly eight miles near Yongsan on the second division's southern flank. The Reds scored their biggest gains there in the Changnyong bulge of the Naktong river line.

Two Hurricanes Threaten Caribbean Area

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 2—(AP)—Two potentially dangerous tropical hurricanes—each growing in both size and intensity-threatened the western Caribbean and the lesser Antilles today.

Each came to a virtual standstill Friday night, about 1,200 miles apart. But the Atlantic hurricane picked up speed early today and began moving in a northwesterly course. The weather bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, said the storm probably would continue that pace for the next six to 12 hours.

The Caribbean storm, only about 200 miles southwest of jittery Havana, Cuba, was discovered late Friday by a steamship and later by a Navy hurricane-Hunter plane.

Still in its infancy, it already carried an 80 to 90-mile-an-hour punch near its centre and was growing hourly.

The Atlantic hurricane—which had dealt tiny Antigua island its second major pounding in less than a week—wallowed less than 100 miles northeast of St. Thomas in the Virgin Island group, but still was more than 1,000 miles southeast of Miami.

After smashing the island of Antigua and St. Martin of the Virgin Island group with 144-mile-an-hour blasts, the twister lost some of its punch in crossing the land mass. Aircraft probing the furious little hurricane Friday estimated its highest winds now ranged from 110 to 135 miles an hour—but still growing and winding up.

Antigua still was virtually isolated after the second devastating blow dealt by nature. A terse radio message sent by Pan American Airway's station at Coolidge Field, St. John's, reported "considerable damage."

Seek Inquiry Next Week Into Alleged US Bombing

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 2—(AP)—The United States sought today to have a special Security Council meeting called early next week to order an inquiry into Red China's charges that U.S. planes bombed Manchuria. The move followed the speed-up program of the Council under its September president, Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb, who took over the job Friday.

Russia's Jakob A. Malik, who had the post in August and blocked council action on Korea for the whole month, tried to slow up the council from his delegate seat and partially succeeded.

Jebb managed to get Ambassador John M. Chang of the Republic of South Korea to a seat at the council table before Malik could object. When Malik did object, the council voted him down 9 to 1.

Friday's long debates, however, kept the U.S. from introducing a resolution calling for appointment of a two-man inquiry commission, composed of representatives of Sweden and India, to look into the charges that U.S. planes dropped bombs and killed Chinese north of the Korean border in Manchuria.

Week-end Recess

The council took a week-end recess that will continue through Labor Day Monday. Its next regular meeting is Tuesday afternoon.

Further discussion of the Korean conflict and condemnation of North Korea's two-months long defiance of U.N. cease-fire and withdrawal orders is first on Tuesday's schedule.

The council got that far when Jebb told Chang to move from a spectator row, where he had sat at meetings since July 31, to a seat at the table.

Malik had always refused to seat Chang, charging a council decision June 27 to do so was illegal because Malik had not been there. Beaten on his objection to Jebb's move, Malik tried to get the council again to invite the North Koreans. He was beaten on that proposal, too, 8-2, Yugoslavia voting with him. Egypt did not vote.

Friday's meeting was significant for the fact that Malik ridiculed legal reasoning of Sir Benegal N. Rau, the Indian delegate, who said the North Koreans must not be invited until they end their fighting and pull back to the 38th parallel they invaded June 25.

Mayor Decides To Arrest Self

WINDSOR, Sept. 2—(CP)—The exiled Mayor of Dearborn, Mich., Orville L. Hubbard, says that some time next week he will put on his Deputy Sheriff's badge, arrest himself, and march himself to the Wayne County jail.

This will end his city's "government in exile," which has been functioning from a Windsor hotel room.

Mayor Hubbard has been a fugitive from his home town, and Wayne County, for more than a month, seeking to avoid a debtor's cell which may await him for nonpayment of a $7,500 libel judgment.

The judgment was won by Dearborn Attorney John L. Fish. When Fish was unable to collect, he obtained a body writ against Hubbard that could jail him as a debtor. Hubbard left town.

Since the writ can be put into effect by a Wayne County sheriff's officer—and Mayor Hubbard is just that—he can arrest himself.

"Now mind you, I'm going to jail as a debtor," the Mayor declared. "I feel it's no disgrace to be poor and to go to jail for being poor."

Larger US Drafts Seen As Truman Asks Huge Army

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP).—President Truman's call for a 3,000,000-man American fighting force to block the path of Communist aggression pointed today toward greater spending, higher taxes and larger draft calls in the United States.

The plan for broader mobilization, announced Friday night, drew quick pledges of Congressional support. And Truman said "further increases may be required."

To "arm . . . more quickly," he said, the U.S. must step up production of guns, tanks, planes and other military equipment, increase stock piles of vital materials, expand war-production capacity, work hard and sacrifice.

With this program, Truman coupled a warning to Russia against underestimating American might. The U.S. has the ability and resources, he said, and let no "would-be aggressors" make any mistake about that.

The armed strength of the U.S. has been about 1,500,000. The previous goal has been an increase to about 2,500,000 by next year.

Ready support in Congress for a still higher figure underscored another presidential warning:

"There will be no profit for any people who follow the Communist distatorship down its dark and bloody path."

The President spoke mainly to tell the American people about objectives, and why some 75,000 Americans are fighting in Korea.

If aggression were allowed to succeed in Korea, Truman explained, it would be "an open invitation to new acts of aggression elsewhere."

"Korea is the front line in the struggle between freedom and tyranny."

Wedding Ends Family Feud

GARAZO, Crete, Sept. 2 (AP)

A happy ending with a marriage ceremony has been written to Crete's Romeo and Juliet love story, which for 12 days threatened to break out into a gang war.

Constantine Kephaloyannis and 19-year-old Tassoula Petracogeorgi came out of their Mount Ida hideout Friday to be married in an isolated monastery, it was disclosed today.

The couple had been the subject of a search by 3,000 police and gendarmes following the girl's disappearance with her lover in what had been termed a kidnapping. The indignation of Tassoula's father, rich, politically powerful Liberal parliamentarian George Petracogeorgi, threatened for a time to stir an ancient family feud into a war with the Kephaloyannis clan.

But Petracogeorgi reportedly softened. Following their wedding the couple appeared in this village, headquarters of the search.

Mayor Refuses Sign Delegates' Cheques

STRATFORD, Sept. 2—(CP)—Although $1,000 travelling expenses to a Vancouver convention for two city delegates were approved by council, Mayor Thomas F. Henry has refused to sign the cheques.

As a result Fire Chief L. N. Hammar and Alderman Glen Ingram, chairman of the fire hall, market shelter and city hall committee will not attend the Dominion convention of fire chiefs Sept. 4-8.

Council approved the expenditure Aug. 21. Today Mayor Henry says $500 to each of the delegates is "too much". They could travel for less than $200, he added.

Request MP's For Money Immediately

Ask Power To Boost Long-Term Defence Commitment

OTTAWA, Sept. 2—(CP)—The government served notice today that it will ask parliament at the current special session to vote $442,200,000 to meet Canada's growing defence program this year. This amount will be additional to the $425,000,000 defence budget already approved.

In addition the government will ask parliament to boost its power to undertake long-term defence commitments from $144,000,000 as approved in the last session to $553,000,000.

This power likely will cover a vast long-range defence equipment-purchasing program for the production of ships, aircraft and other defence weapons for Canada's forces and forces of her North Atlantic partners.

Hamilton Strikers Reject Offer

HAMILTON, Sept. 2—(CP)—Striking Hamilton civic workers refused Friday night to accept a formula for settling their strike, now in its third week, that had been worked out at a six-hour negotiating meeting Thursday.

A secret ballot of the nearly 1,000 members of the Hamilton Civic Employees Union (C.C.L.) showed a count of 462-66 against the settlement. There were six spoiled ballots.

The formula offered a three-year contract with a gradual reduction of working hours from 44 to 42 with no cut in pay and a cost-of-living bonus.

The men—garbage collectors, sewer, waterworks and road repair men and grave diggers, had demanded a boost of two cents an hour in addition to the reduction in working hours.

Has Doctors In Dither Elephant Baby Late

ROME, Sept. 2—(AP)—Romeo, the big daddy elephant of Rome zoo, had a wherefore-art-thou look in his beady eye today.

For the time is long past for his expectant mate, Juliet — the most famous lady elephant in Europe—to become a mother again.

Her pediatrician, Dr. Ermanno Bronzini, says Juliet's appetite is excellent.

In addition to a wheelbarrow filled with beets, Juliet disposes of 160 pounds of hay, bread, fruit, and other vegetables daily.

When her baby arrives, Juliet will be the first elephant in a European zoo to bear two calves in captivity.

Toronto Police Seize $20,000 In Narcotics

TORONTO, Sept. 2 — (CP).—Police seized narcotics valued at $20,000 and $960 in counterfeit United States currency Friday night in a raid on a west-end house. Five men and a woman were arrested.

Officers said they believed the seizure was linked with a three-way ring between Toronto, Montreal and the United States. The narcotics seizure was the largest of the year in Toronto. The counterfeit money was in $10 and $20 bills.

Sidney Skolnick 22, Robert Benson 24, William Reardon 21, all of Toronto, and Jack Waga 24, of Montreal, were charged with illegal possession of narcotics and with possession of counterfeit US money. Victor Chernick 24, and Geraldine Kozlik 33, of Toronto, were charged with illegal possession of narcotics.

Suspicion Of Murder

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2—(AP)—Frank T. Miller, 23, wanted by Toronto authorities on a murder charge, was booked on suspicion of murder here Friday in the slaying of a 78-year-old Los Angeles woman. Also jailed on suspicion was Miller's wife, Jean, 24. Police say he was known in Toronto as Stanley Buckowski and is wanted there in the 1949 slaying of Albert Layng.

Safety Rules Not Broken But Firm Liable

TORONTO, Sept. 2 (CP)—Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson ruled Friday that an employer who has complied with all safety regulations, may still be liable for damages if an employee dies prematurely because of working conditions.

The Ontario Supreme Court decision could have far-reaching effects on industry.

He awarded $2,500 damages to Mrs. Dorothy Mackie of Kitchener in her action against the Canada Skate Company, Ltd., for the death of her husband, Harvey Mackie in 1948.

Mackie, a welder, died at 46 from bronchitis. The court ruled his illness was aggravated by smoke and fumes at his work which might not affect a healthy person.

Mrs. Mackie was refused compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act because her husband's disease is not listed as an industrial disease. She sued under the Fatal Accidents Act.

The justice ruled: "It is the duty of an employer not only to warn his employee against unusual danger known to him, but also to make the place of employment as saf as . . . reasonable skill and care will permit."

Not Safe Job

He said the company should have known, after numerous complaints by Mackie, that the job was not safe for him.

The award was based on Mackie's life expectancy of 26.76 years. It was calculated on the amount of his $22 to $23 weekly salary which would go into his home after deduction of his personal expenses.

Mackie had the disease when he joined the company in 1934. He resigned in 1942 and was on half salary for more than three years.

Mr. Justice Ferguson's judgment said: "I think the defendants knew there was unusual danger for Mackie and they failed to take the precaution of warning him of it. Their compliance with the Factory Act regulations was not sufficient.

"An employer who, through breach of duty to his employee, aggravates a disease from which the employee is suffering, thus accelerating death, cannot escape liability by showing that he was not responsible for the onset of the disease or that death from the disease was inevitable at some later date. Compliance with the statute and regulations does not relieve him from his common law duties."

St. Laurent Indicates Plans For Limited Controls To Curb Any Inflation

Canadian Living Costs Set Record Peak Increase By One Point; Ottawa Not Planning General Controls

OTTAWA, Sept. 2—(CP)—Federal action to haul down the still-rising cost of living is on the way. Coincident with the disclosure that the official living-costs index has hit its sixth new peak since the start of 1950, Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Friday that anti-inflation measures will be announced in a matter of days. He did not say what type of action is planned, but he made clear it would not involve legislation empowering the government to impose a general system of controls on prices and wages.

Reports in the capital today were that anti-inflationary steps would be coupled in a "little budget" with increased taxation to meet defence costs.

Measures to be expected might include increases in personal and corporation taxes, and increased levies on luxuries such as automobiles.

Some of these might be aimed more against inflation than for producing revenue.

There was some renewed speculation, too, that the dollar might be revalued to par with the United States dollar, as a means of reducing the price in Canada of some consumer goods through U.S. competition.

About the only clue to the possibe type of measures in Mr. St. Laurent's statement was that the justice department has been considering whether they could be justified without general invasion of provincial jurisdiction. That consideration was just about completed, he said.

Meanwhile, the Bureau of Statistics announced that the government's official cost-of-living index had hit an all-time peak of 168.5 at Aug. 1—up one point from the previous month. The index basis is 100 for the 1935-39 price average.

The indicator was pushed up during July by higher prices for meat, eggs, sugar, coffee, shoes, piece goods, Eastern Canadian telephone rates, and coal and coke in Ontario and Quebec.

Meanwhile, too, the Progressive Conservative and CCF parties in the commons moved non-confidence motions on the government's cost-of-living policy, and new consumer pressure was applied for anti-inflation devices.

During the day, the government was told by the Canadian Consumer Association, representing 12,000 persons, that it views "with alarm" recent price increases in essential commodities.

On the previous day, the Canadian Federation of Civil Servants, which speaks for 125,000 federal employees, asked for an interview with the prime minister to seek salary increases or other means of meeting high prices.

Air Manoeuvres

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 2 (Reuters)—American bombers operating from western Germany will make mock attacks on southern Norway in a seven-day air exercise next week. Norwegian fighter squadrons will try to intercept the attackers and ground stations will also be in action.

U.S. Prepared To Speed Japanese Treaty

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Five years after Japan's surrender, preparations for a Japanese peace treaty have reached a stage where the United States is about ready to talk terms with other Pacific war victors.

Qualified diplomatic informants today said preliminaries have been completed in readiness for the New York meeting of the western big three.

What to do next about Japan is one of the major decisions confronting the British, French and U.S. foreign ministers when their three-day talks start Sept. 12.

Whether the U.S. administration favors going ahead with the drafting without Russia and Communist China — assuming they are invited and refuse to take part—is one of the unanswered questions about the American official position. Russian and Nationalist China are among Japan's conquerors.

Want Prompt Action

But American authorities made it clear there now is a definite intention to press for prompt action, and that long-standing differences between the state and defence departments have been ironed out.

The formal Japanese surrender was signed just five years ago today. Gen. MacArthur, since then the supreme military commander of the islands on behalf of the allies, declared on the eve of the anniversary that the occupation has achieved its aims.

The view that it is time to wind up the occupation now is administration policy.

Pickering Man Killed In Crash

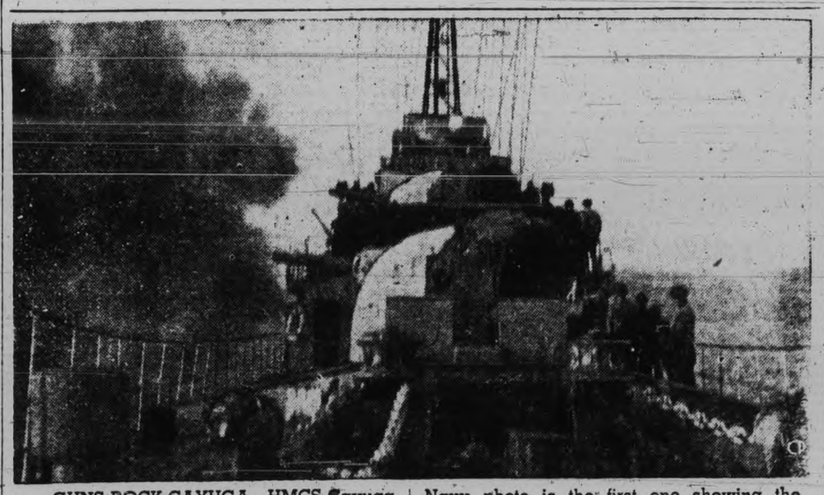
A Pickering man was killed early today when his car went out of control and crashed into a hydro pole on the outskirts of Coboconk.

The fatally injured man was Charles Booth, 26, Ajax. With him at the time was John Forget, 18, Pickering. The two men were motoring from Pickering to Hallburton when the accident happened shortly before 5.30 a.m. today.

There is a steep grade on Highway 35 where it enters the village. The car went out of control as it started down the hill. It plunged into the ditch and smashed into the hydro pole.

Forget was shaken up but not seriously hurt.



Dr. R. E. Jamieson, of Coboconk attended Booth. Provincial Constable L. G. Lyle investigated.

Anglo-Egyptian Talks Referred To Govts.

CAIRO, Sept. 2 — (AP).—The British Embassy announced today that discussions on Anglo-Egyptian relations have reached the state "necessitating reference to the two governments."

Talks have been going on in Alexandria for the last two months as the result of Egyptian demands that British troops get out of Egypt and Britain permit union between Egypt and the Sudan.

The 1,000,000-square-mile Sudan area on the Upper Nile now is jointly administered by Egypt and Britain.

GUNS ROCK CAYUGA—HMCS Cayuga one of three Canadian destroyers on United Nations duty in the Korean War, blasts at Communist-held installations of an unidentified South Korean port. This Royal Canadian Navy photo is the first one showing the Cayuga in action in the Korean theatre. The camera was in perfect focus but the blurred effect resulted from concussion of the guns.

MP's Agree Armed Unity Means Peace

Opposition Moves Non-Confidence Vote Rap Unpreparedness

OTTAWA, Sept. 2—(CP)—Canada's top political leaders agree that world peace depends on the willingness of free nations to strengthen their armed forces and unite against any possible aggressor.

They made that clear in the Commons Friday during continued debate on the address in reply to the speech from the Throne. The debate saw the Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. parties move motions calling for votes of non-confidence in the government for having "failed to provide adequately for the defence of Canada."

Prime Minister St. Laurent, defending the government's defence program, said he felt that if the United Nations could demonstrate during the next 10 months that they could, by united action, effectively put down aggression "we can look forward to a long period of the absence of war—if not full peace."

There could not be "full peace" while the world was in the throes of a "nerve-wracking cold war." He noted that a veteran diplomat recently was quoted as having said that the possibilities of peace now are "greater" than at any time since the outbreak of the cold war. Someone else added the proviso that the free nations must get through the next few months

Agrees With Reservation

Mr. St. Laurent said he was inclined to agree with that reservation.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said that some look on the war in Korea as the preliminary to a third world war. He held the firm conviction that it could be the very opposite because of the swift, united action of the free countries.

"I have very great hope today" he said. "For the first time we have seen the free nations joined in giving a positive undertaking that collectively they will resist aggression anywhere. . . It may well be that if we in this country do all we can with the utmost speed the dark clouds in which he now are enveloped will pass to reveal the brightest days yet known to man."

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, also expressed his faith in united action, but said that more than military aid is needed for oppressed countries. They needed food to feed the hungry masses and economic and financial help to improve living standards.

When the debate swung to the back benches, a veteran of the two world wars—Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes (PC-Nanaimo) — said Canada is wide open to attack and that attack could be made of far greater magnitude than the diversionary raids the government says are the only logical threat to this country.

Little Protection

Gen. Pearkes, wartime Pacific coast commander and now military spokesman for his party, said the dispatch of three destroyers to Korea left British Columbia with three jet planes and one training ship—the cruiser Ontario—to protect its long shoreline.

There was no American fleet, there was nothing to prevent the Russians from landing a force, say, at Prince Rupert before any effective strength could be marshalled against them.

Ralph Campney (L-Vancouver Centre) said he could not agree that British Columbia was not in as an effective position as any other part of Canada.

In his motion of non-confidence Mr. Drew asked the House to express regret that the government had "failed to provide adequately for the defence of Canada" and had "failed to take steps to deal with inflation and the rapidly rising cost of living."

Mr. Coldwell incorporated that into a motion of which called for reimposition of price controls and subsidies on essential products. It also asked for economic aid to oppressed countries.

Wants Subsidies

Mr. Low, prevented by House rules from bringing in a non-confidence motion at this stage of the debate, said the government should revive the subsidy system to help bring down the cost of living.

Replying to the non-confidence motions, which will be voted on at the conclusion of the debate, Mr. St. Laurent said it will be for the House to say whether the government, once it has brought down its full program, has done enough.

The Prime Minister followed Mr. Drew who contended Canadians were "amazed and disturbed" to find their defence so inadequate at the time of Korea, that they were wondering what had been done with the $1,500,000,000 voted for defence since 1945.

May Give Up Tennis Court For Movie Set

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2 (AP)—Frankie Parker, longtime tennis star, is thinking of giving up the courts for the movie sets.

"I feel I have about two more goon tennis years in me yet," said the handsome athlete, who is 34." "But a married fellow has to look to a more stable future and I hope to find it in pictures."

At present, Parker is playing a reporter in "Ace in the Hole," but he doesn't aim for an acting career. He has been chatting with producer-director Billy Wilder about a job in the production end. Before the war Parker was an assistant director in the special effects department at MGM.

Saturday Sidelights

Few stars of today have much perspective on Hollywood history. Robert Ryan is an exception. In his new dressing room at RKO, he has put up photograpns of three movie pioneers — Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., D. W. Griffith and Charlie Chaplin. "I figure those are the three men who made our industry what it is," he explains.

Far be it from Hollywood to underdo a good thing. You'll soon see two pictures inspired by the Kathy Fiscus tragedy — "Three Secrets" and "Ace in the Hole." And in each picture the newspaperman is the villain. Aw, come on, fellas . . .

MORE ABOUT—
Hurl Back

Counter-attacks Saturday appeared to have halted the Red smash across the Naktong. The division's central and southern sectors, which had been split by the force of the original Red assault, rejoined firmly.

Today tank-led U.S. troops rolled back into shattered Yongsan—recoiling against a sledgehammer blow which had carried the Communists 8½ miles east of the Naktong River Friday.

Fight Way Back

U.S. infantrymen, who caught the main impact of the offensive on its first day, fought their way half-a-mile west of Yongsan today, and began attacking nearby ridges.

This afternoon, AP correspondent Ben Price said a large infantry force of Reds with 10 to 15 tanks was observed three miles west of Yongsan, possibly preparing a counter-attack.

Yongsan guards the road to the Taegu-Pusan highway, 12 miles east of the city. This highway was the first objective of the Reds who had thus hoped to split U.S forces.

Today Red divisions thrust hard with tanks and "suicide" units at U.S. troops guarding Haman, 35 miles west of Pusan, the United Nations' lifeline point. In bitter and at times confused fighting this morning, the UN force gave some ground, then regained it by noon.

American troops yielded Haman Friday morning, recaptured it in the afternoon. Today isolated American elements fought hand-to-hand engagements in the area to break out of encirclement.

A briefing officer said that by Saturday afternoon the Allies had "generally reoccupied all former positions held when the enemy launched his offensive."

Masan Objective

The Reds' immediate objective was Masan, nine miles south-east of Haman. They were under orders to capture Masan by tomorrow and plunge on toward Pusan 27 air miles eastward.

Farther north, US troops were cut off yesterday by the Red push that swept into Yongsan. Today, while US advance forces battled westward from Yongsan, 300 of these isolated infantrymen fought their way out of encirclement, back to the American lines.

Giving evidence of the built-up power of the United Nations forces, attacks were launched today north of Pohang and west of Waegwan while the big Red offensive was being checked.

A South Korean spokesman told AP correspondent Tom Lambert that a North Korean division has begun a "general retreat" north of Pohang. The spokesman said that east coast anchor port now can be considered "secured."

Near Waegwan, the north-west pivot of the 120-mile battle perimeter, US troops today opened attacks aimed at seizing three heights overlooking the Naktong River. This drive was aimed at forestalling any move by Reds reported massed in that sector to open another major offensive against the key American advanced base of Taegu. Waegwan is 12 miles north-west of Taegu.

Red Losses Mount

Communist losses in men and material mounted by the hour. The Air Force alone claimed it had knocked out or damaged 27 Russian-built Red tanks. Bazooka firing ground troops and supporting tanks reported destroying seven Red tanks in the first day of the fighting.

See-saw fighting today around Haman and Masan in the deep south typified the bitterness and confusion. One surrounded US artillery unit broke out of an encirclement by lowering its big guns and using point-blank fire.

Engineers turned infantrymen to escape being cut off. Cooks and bakers grabbed rifles and fought Red infiltrators. South Korean Marines wiped out an infiltrating force which had reached a rear-area hospital.

AP correspondent Don Whitehead, reporting from the Haman area, was told by an American field officer that Communist "bodies were stacked up by the hundreds" in front of some American positions.

Jr. Chamber Closes Booth After 3,000 Tourist Inquiries

A grand total of 6,440 people were serviced at the Junior Chamber of Commerce Booth on Charlotte St., this summer. "It has been a wonderful summer," commented booth operator Bill Duignan before his departure from the booth for the summer, Friday. "Perhaps the highlight of my work here has been the great number of interesting people that I have met, not to mention some of their humorous inquiries," continued the booth operator.

"We have had twice as many calls at the booth as last year. Our only hope is that Bill will be able to come back next year." Doug Vaisey, past president of the Junior Chamber commented.

Not willing to take all the credit for the success of the booth this summer, Mr. Duignan paid tribute to the several member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce who operated the booth week nights from 6 to 9.30 p.m. and on weekends without any financial remuneration.

An aspirant lawyer, Mr. Duigman is planning to leave soon for St. Francis Xavier University in Antigonish, Nova Scotia, to continue his studies.

38 A Day

The average number of calls a day at the booth during the summer were 38, and the average number of people serviced, 80. More than 1,200 were accommodated at various tourist resorts in the district. Four hundred were sent to tourist homes, 124 to hotels 56 to motels, 492 to cabins, 800 to lodges and 546 to cottages.

Approximately 3,109 inquiries were made.

There were 3,109 inquiries for directions in the city and district and 2,863 pieces of information material in the form of pamphlets, maps, brochures and booklets were given out.

Information sought included road conditions, mileage, directions to the lift lock, liquor outlets, the scenic drive in the city, eating accommodations, shopping centres and garages, as well as inquiries concerning tourist accommodation.

Two hundred and eight persons were serviced on the peak day at the booth.

Trips and tourist accommodation were planned to Gananoque, Orillia, Haliburton, Muskoka, the Kawarthas, the Rideau Canal, the Land o' Lakes and North Bay.

"We plan to give even better service next summer," stated Mr. Vaisie. "We have hopes of enlarging our booth; however it will remain on the same site on Charlotte St."

The booth will close for this year on September 5.

Legion Boy Choir Make Big Hit In CNE Showings

The Peterborough Legion Boys' Choir received a great ovation in their six separate appearances at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, Thursday and Friday.

The 53 members of this choir, under the direction of Walter Bent and accompanied by E. Karney, made their first appearance at the Government Building at 2 p.m. Thursday. At 4 p.m. they sang from the huge bandshell on the exhibition grounds to a crowd of more than 1,200 people.

After this performance, the boys were given a great deal of praise by J. S. Atkinson, music director of the C.N.E.

Invited to Chicago

Two half-hour broadcasts were made by the boys during their stay in Toronto at 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday. Compliments were also received on their performance by Leslie Bell, well known director of the Leslie Bell Singers. Mr. W. H. Brown, Producer and Director of Music for the Chicago Boys' Service Club, extended an invitation to the Peterborough boys to put on a benefit show for crippled children during the Christmas holidays.

The boys also made appearances in the Horticultural Building, the Engineering Building, beside the grandstand and in the Pure Foods Building.

While at the Exhibition, the boys were the guests of the exhibition directorate and the Toronto Kiwanis Boys' Club.

Deloro Man Killed By Rifle

MARMORA, Sept. 2 (ENS).—Harry R. Haacke, a former well known resident of Deloro, was found dead with a bullet wound in his head at his Crowe Lake summer home at noon Friday.

Mr. Haacke had been alone at the cottage since Thursday. The discovery was made by his wife when she returned from Toronto, where she had gone the day previously to drive her daughter and family home from a vacation at Crowe Lake.

A .22 calibre rifle was found beside the body and Dr. R. S. Parkin of Marmora, pronounced that death had occurred about six hours previously.

Mr. Haacke was about 65 years of age.

Mr. Haacke had been manager of the Deloro Trading Company store at Deloro for several years until failing health forced him to give up the position a few years ago. Since then he and Mrs. Haacke have lived in Havelock, and spent the summer months at their Crowe Lake cottage.

Besides his wife, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William Kerr (Dorothy) of Toronto, and two sons, Harry of Norwood and Ewart of Toronto.

An inquest will probably be held.

Wilkes Urges Council Tax Outsiders Jobbing In City

Licensing of non-resident tradesmen who carry on work in the city was suggested to the council in the valedictory report of Norman A. Wilkes, former assessment commissioner, who is now head of the assessment department in Hamilton.

His proposal was as follows: "One suggestion I should like to leave with the council concerns outside contractors, plumbers, electricians and others carrying on business in the city.

"Local concerns are assessed for 50% of the value of their premises for business, and pay taxes in the city. (That is a reference to the business tax in addition to the ordinary tax on their property.)

"A number of others located outside the city limits are in direct competition with our local firms, and pay no taxes to the city as they have no place of business in the city. I am calling this to the attention of the council as I feel that an assessor should do all in his power to protect the taxpayer as well as to assess him. A substantial license fee should be levied against all such parties carrying on business in the city whom we are unable to assess for business tax."

Mr. Wilkes mentions his initiation of his successor, Edward Davis, into the assessment statistics and other information. "I am sure that with the same fine co-operation of the staff which I have enjoyed, the work of the Department will be carried on efficiently."

"In this connection I should like to draw your attention to the fact that James Moher and Murray Thomas were appointed as junior assessors. In my opinion Mr. Thomas, through ability and close application to his work, is sufficiently advanced to be given the authority of assessor, while Mr. Moher requires a little more experience."

Reassessment Job

"Unfortunately, I have been unable to complete a reassessment of the city. In this respect I should like to assure the council that there is nothing seriously wrong with the present assessments, but inequalities do exist which must be corrected. In doing so, it has been my intention to introduce a modern, efficient assessment system, simple to operate and easily maintained. Nearly completed, this will be left with my successor, and I will keep him informed as details are completed. This deals entirely with buildings."

"Land revision is also necessary due to development, growth of the city and improvements. Showing the need of land revision is a report secured by one of the larger cities which shows Peterborough as tenth in population and seventeenth in assessment per acre.

"The complete reassessment, as stated in a previous report, requires a vast amount of detail work which we have been working on. It may be possible to complete it for the 1951 assessment."

Doctor Believes Reds Operate On Prisoners

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y., Sept. 2 (AP)—Do the Communists operate on the brains of prisoners in order to obtain "confessions" and statements?

That's the theory of Dr. Charles M. Pomerat, chairman of the American Tissue Culture Association and a professor at the University of Texas Medical School.

He told reporters Friday that he believed the Communists may have tampered with the brain of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty and other political prisoners to make them docile.

He referred to an operation called a "lobotomy," sometimes performed to quiet insane persons. Usually, nerve fibres on either side of the brain are cut, he explained, and this "relieves the functions of the rear part of the brain."

Another Type

However, variation developed in Portugal calls for removal of an eyeball, he said. Two nerves back of it are severed and then the eyeball is replaced. No outward scare is left, Dr. Pomerat pointed out.

He said this might be the Communist technique and it may have been used on Cardinal Mindszenty before he was sentenced last year to life imprisonment.

The cardinal was convicted in Communist-controlled Hungary on charges of treason, seeking to overthrow the government and illegal trading in dollars. He was alleged to have confessed.

Expect To Live Over Weekend?

Every Peterborough and Canadian driver starting out on the highways today and Sunday expects to come back on Monday night—alive.

But not all of them will. Somewhere on the highway between here and Toronto or here and Ottawa or on one of the city streets, a car will crash in one of a hundred ways. And broken, dead bodies will be lifted out of the wreckage.

These deaths can be avoided. It requires only that drivers obey the simple laws that are quite familiar to them and common-sense rules such as laid down in the magazine, The Employers' Pioneer, and called 13 Commandments:

1—Obey speed limits.

2—Respect the rights of other motorists.

3—Yield the right-of-way to pedestrians in crosswalks.

4—Do not pass a car that has stopped to permit a pedestrian to cross.

5—Come to a complete stop at stop signs.

6—Heed signs and pavement markings.

7—Follow other vehicles at a safe distance; allow at least a car length for every ten miles per hour of speed.

8—Be alert at railroad grade crossings.

9—Watch for school zones. Be alert for children.

10—If you drink, don't drive. If you drive, don't drink.

11—Help rid our country of the crime of traffic carelessness.

12—Know the traffic laws and obey them strictly all the time.

13—Don't forget to obey all school bus laws.

Payroll Bandits Linked With Beaverton

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—A bandit wearing a false nose and glasses dashed pepper into the eyes of Company President William G. Sinclair Friday and escaped with the Sinclair-Ferguson Construction Co. payroll of $5,000. A second bandit drove the getaway car.

Mr. Sinclair told police the pair drove in front of him, forcing him to stop on Keele St., north of Eglinton Ave. W.

A third young man wearing a false nose and glasses came to the window of his car. He said the man asked for street directions, then suddenly threw red pepper in his face.

Grabs Box

"I could hardly see," said Mr. Sinclair. The man opened the car door, pushed a gun into Mr. Sinclair's ribs and grabbed a wooden box off the front seat which contained the payroll.

"I was wearing glasses and that saved me from going completely blind," said Mr. Sinclair. "Tears were running down my face and I just saw the man run to the other car where the second man was waiting. The car went north on Keele St."

Sinclair drove to a nearby farm and called police. It is believed the gunmen may have been from the same gang that escaped with $263,000 in cash and bonds from the Bank of Commerce at Beaverton last week. Pepper was found in an abandoned car near the scene of the bank robbery.

Mr. Sinclair was taking the payroll to the new North York incinerator being built by his company.

"The man must have known all about the payroll because he didn't touch my briefcase which was also on the front seat of the car," Mr. Sinclair said.

Five Soldiers Honored For Bravery

OTTAWA, Sept. 2 (CP) —Five soldiers have been awarded the King's Commendation for Brave Conduct for peacetime bravery beyond the call of duty, the army announced Friday night.

Those given the awards were Sgt. W. H. Hoskin of Ottawa, member of the Royal Canadian Engineers; Cpl. S. L. Fiset, Petawawa, Ont., and St. Eustache, Que., Royal Canadian Engineers; Spr. D. C. Coyle, Petawawa and Amherstburg, Ont., Royal Canadian Engineers; Spr. F. L. laderoute, Pembroke, Ont., Royal Canadian Engineers, and Sgmn. M. T. Carter, Almonte, Ont., and Ottawa, Royal Canadian Signals.

Sgt. Hoskin's citation said that in disregard of his own safety he saved the life of a civilian electrician who came in contact with a 4,600-volt wire while working on a transmission line near Ottawa on Aug. 5, 1949. The sergeant, working with J. Thomas on the same pole, kicked Thomas free of the live wire and helped lower him to the ground unconscious.

Sappers Fiset, Coyle and laderoute were cited for bravery without regard for personal safety in helping control a shook mill fire last April 17 at Pembroke, the spread of which would have destroyed the mill and a large number of nearby homes.

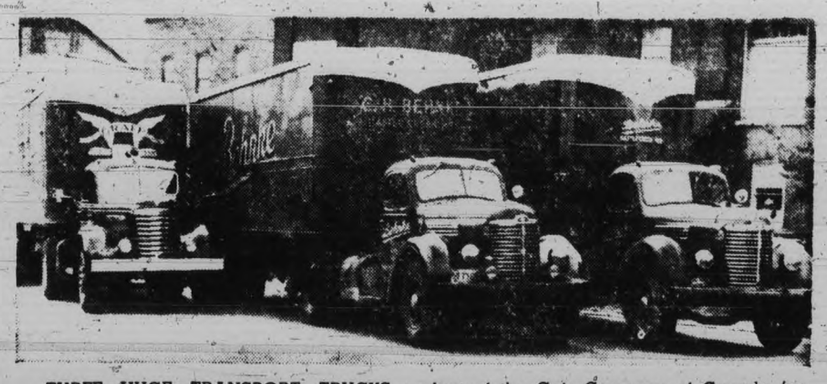
Signalman Carter was commended for "selflessness" in making four crossings of a river log jam in the Northwest Territories May 5 to assist an Indian woman in serious condition giving birth to a child.

COST OF LIVING — Living costs in Canada moved up again during July, boosting the cost-of-living index to a record high of 168.5—an increase of 1.0 points over the previous month. The U.S. figure jumped 4.4 points, from 168.1 at May 15 to 172.5 at June 15. These are not comparative figures but merely indicate the trends of the two indices.

Doctor Travels 2,000 Miles To Deliver Baby

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 2 (AP). —The story of a doctor's 2,000-mile trip to deliver a baby on a tiny island off the tip of Gaspe Peninsula was described Friday by the father.

Robert L. Katz, Verona, N. J., said the physician, Dr. Irwin W. Winfield, Newark, and his nurse, Miss Agnes Baumgartner, made the long trip, which included a rowboat and motorboat crossing to rock-bound Bonaventure Island.



The baby boy was born Aug. 23 on a homemade delivery table constructed by Katz earlier this summer following instructions sent him by Dr. Winfield.

Katz said his wife, Bernice, 33, had the baby—her third—on the remote island because in recent years her asthma has become severe during the summer pollen period.

Katz and his father-in-law built a bungalow on the island this summer.

When the doctor and nurse arrived at Perce, on the mainland, the 3½ miles to the island were almost unsailable and no boats would attempt the passage to the island until they learned a baby was involved.

After great difficulty, he said, he and a motorboat captain launched a rowboat and got out to the motorboat and over to the island.

THREE HUGE TRANSPORT TRUCKS from Battle Creek, Michigan, left Campbellford this week, with nearly 50 tons of wood pulp, destined for that American City. The pulp is used in the manufacture of boxes and newsprint. Nine truck loads, each of about 16 tons, have left the Campbellford plant of the Gair Company of Canada for Battle Creek. Since the rail strike caused a cut off of the pulp to the American newsprint industry the Gair Company plant will reopen with the midnight shift on Monday, Sept. 4, if shipments of pulp, which have been sidetracked by the strike, arrive on time. # Ungava Railway Work To Start QUEBEC, Sept. 2 (CP). —Work will start this month on a 350-mile railway into Ungava, part of a $100,000,000 project for mining northeastern Quebec's rich iron deposits.

Premier Duplessis, at his weekly press conference Friday, described development of Ungava's iron wealth as one of Quebec's "greatest enterprises."

He said that Hollinger North Shore Exploration Company already has spent $10,000,000 on preliminary development work.

Details of Ungava operations were supplied to the Premier this week by Jules Timmins, W. H Durrall and J. Rankin, three Hollinger officials, he said.

The Premier said, building of the railway from Sept Iles, St. Lawrence river north shore port 300 miles below Quebec, will take three years.

It will lead to the Knoblake-Burnt Creek iron mine district where 400,000,000 tons of ore are spread through Ungava and Labrador. Premier Duplessis said two-thirds of the confirmed ore deposits lie on the Quebec side of the boundary with Newfoundland.

The Premier also announced that the Quebec government is making all preparations to receive delegates to the Federal-Provincial constitutional conference here Sept. 25.

Railway Strike Costs

Statisticians have already begun to compute the costs of the nine-day wonder, the Canada-wide railway strike from August 22nd to August 30th inclusive. When it is all added up the total is bound to run into millions. In lost wages alone the figure must be tremendous; the wages lost by 124,000 railway men on strike, the wages lost by 70,225 other Canadians not connected with the railways who were thrown out of work by the stoppage; the thousands of railway workers not on strike, but who went off their jobs because of it.

* * *

There are the production losses to manufacturing companies who were hampered by lack of materials or inability to get their produce to markets; losses to farmers with perishable goods; extra expenses to which commercial and industrial companies were put in making special arrangements so that the disruption of their business would be lessened. Not to be forgotten are the biggest losers of them all, the railway companies. All their services, involving millions of dollars of capital idle for nine days, were brought to a stop. During nine days the companies' revenues on which railway workers are dependent for their wages were gouged. There are hundreds of other costs, direct and indirect, which must be taken into a final count.

* * *

But the costs must not be reckoned only in terms of public dollars. What of the private, unassessable costs to individuals and firms worried, harassed and inconvenienced by the strike? For instance, we, like others, are only now getting mail which was needed and due ten days ago. It is this sort of effect of the strike which will dispose most people to look with asperity on the union leaders and others responsible for the breaking of negotiations which led to the strike and the summoning of Parliament.

Fishing That Matters

Fishing is Canada's oldest industry but its importance since these coasts were discovered by fishermen has been diminished in succeeding centuries by fur-trade, lumbering, agriculture, mining and manufacturing. Now in fact the fisheries are, next to trapping, the least productive of dollars of any of the chief industries. Canada ranks only eighth in the volume of fish landings (following Japan, U.S.A. U.S.S.R., Norway, China, United Kingdom and Korea. Yes, Canadians catch fewer fish than Koreans.) But there are indications that the fisheries of this country are to become more important.

Now that Newfoundland is a province, Canada is the world's leading exporter of fish. Last year she exported $102.6 millions (U.S.) worth of fish; the value of the fish exports of her keenest competitor Norway was $93. millions (U.S.). Surprisingly, the United States is by far the chief market for our fish products importing last year $67.2 millions. Next came the U.K., importing $8.22 millions.

The new importance of the fisheries is not because more Canadians are eating more fish. They are, a little, but ever since the French began to farm and hunt in Quebec, fish has never been a staple of the Canadian diet. History shows that fish-eating countries are those where the land is or has become insufficient to produce enough food for the people. Thus the West Indies, Mediterranean countries, China and Japan are fish-eaters, and Canada, with ready access to the world's most extensive fishing grounds, hardly eats fish even on Fridays.

Newfoundland, one of the great fishing centres of the world, is now part of Canada. The Canadian government has already instituted a new fisheries program, to make the Atlantic fisheries more efficient, to modernize methods of catch, and to conserve and develop the fishing resources. Methods of sale and packing have changed the markets for fish in this century. Formerly the industry provided merely salt fish—cod and the like—in bulk quantities for Europeans who used it as a cheap staple food. The introduction of canning, filleting operations (begun in Canada in the '30's), of cold storage and quick freezing, has widened the markets and made fish attractive as an item of choice rather than a necessary staple. Canadian salmon, lobster, white fish and halibut, comparatively high-priced species whose marketing has been possible through the use of tins, quick transportation facilities, and scientific methods of packing and distribution, now are among the most valuable catch. By-products such as medicinal oils, fish meal and fish solubles have increased the market value of the industry's products. These developments are likely to continue.

The Pacific coast fisheries are the most advanced, and there is joint American-Canadian regulation of fishing seasons, size of mesh nets and the like, to ensure conservation and stocks. Through these, and the construction of fishways and hatcheries, the production of salmon may be brought back to its original levels.

The East Coast fisheries provide the greatest opportunities for development and expansion. The grounds are very extensive, (it is still worth the while of U.S., Portuguese, Spanish, French, British and Icelandic fishermen to make the long trip over) and new ones are being found. As the current issue of the monthly commercial letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce points out, with better methods for quick freezing, refrigeration, and canning, as well as better trawlers and other fishing equipment (radio, depth-sounders, radar) the entire Atlantic fishing industry may develop tremendously.

There is not likely to be any great spurt to inland fishing (lake trout, pickerel, whitefish, saugers and pike). But inland fisheries need not be underestimated. Last year their catch value was eleven million dollars. New inland fishing areas are being developed, for instance Great Slave Lake.

The forests of Canada seemed to have lost their great value by 1900, when they had been fished out of their big timber. But new developments in the pulp and paper industry in the first half of this century, pushed our forest products into top place. Will the fisheries have such a boom in the second half of the century, through new techniques and the diversification of products and markets?

Rarity Determines The Price

A good deal of interest has been aroused by a report (not confirmed) that Danny Kaye is receiving $50,000 for his performance in the grand stand show at the C.N.E. This is undoubtedly a lot of money, but we should not be surprised, or dismayed, if that is what Mr. Kaye is getting.

Even in the present democratic world, where we sometimes seem to be trying to be as much like our neighbours as possible, rarity commands high prices. And Mr. Kaye is a rarity. With his songs, his jokes, and his wonderful antics he can keep a large crowd of people completely enthralled for half an hour at a time. There are probably not more than a dozen men in the world who can do what Mr. Kaye is doing at the C.N.E. That is why he gets a large fee for it.

Let no one imagine that this money is easily earned. First of all, one must have Danny Kaye's talent, and money cannot buy that. But in addition to the talent there must be a technique which is only learned by hard work—hard work of a kind which demands concentration and discipline of an unusual quality. And finally, a comedian who hopes to entertain several thousand people by his own efforts must fit himself to the task with a completeness which is extremely exhausting. Probably Mr. Kaye works for about two hours each day. But during those two hours he works so intensely that he has expended energy equivalent to a brisk eight-hour day at an ordinary job.

If anybody doubts this, let them try to do what Mr. Kaye does. They will find out that all that spontaneous clowning is very hard work, even if they are able to do it at all. And certainly they will not do it as well as Danny Kaye.

An attempt to mate two rhinoceroses in a Chicago zoo has failed, for the second time. Looks like a case for Dorothy Dix.

An illegal traffic in horsemeat has been traced to Ottawa. Where everything must be kept clear, of course, for the highly paid traffic in baloney.

One of the early inhabitants of the city of Edmonton will soon be seen in London, England. Described as "a beaked vegetarian, 14 feet tall and 30 feet long", it is a Trachodont Dinosaur, and the Natural History Museum has bought it. Other Canadian cities having quaint old vegetarian inhabitants should apply to the same source for prices.

Happy, Hand-Set Days

By SENATOR RUPERT DAVIES
In Canadian Printer and Publisher

GREAT changes in the method of printing daily newspapers have taken place during the past 50 years. When I was apprenticed to the printing trade in the Expositor office at Brantford, Ont., in the middle '90's all the type was set by hand. We printed a four-page paper on Saturday. There was also a weekly edition which was printed every Thursday night.

* * *

FIFTY years ago an Ontario provincial daily newspaper such as the British Whig employed eight to 10 news compositors, a couple of advertisement compositors, two or three apprentices and one make-up man as well as pressmen. The journeymen compositors were paid for the amount of type they set. If one of them was lucky enough to get a heading, which was set in larger type, it helped the measurement of his string very much at the end of the day.

* * *

THE journeymen had to keep their own cases supplied with type. This was a serious matter in all small newspaper offices where money was scarce and equipment was poor. Starting on Friday, a certain amount of type would be set aside each day for weekly edition, part of which would be printed on Tuesday and part on Thursday. This tied up a lot of type and made it necessary for the journeymen to come back late Tuesday and Thursday evenings to distribute the type into the cases.

Those were the days when beer and strong language were both common in most newspaper composing rooms. The beer had to be fetched in a can from the nearest tavern by an apprentice, and the strong language was brought into full play if said apprentice happened to spill some of the precious liquid between the tavern and the composing room. The excuse of spilling some haltingly made to some rough, tough and dusty compositor occasionally had to cover the fact that during the trip through the pressroom and up the back stairs the pressman had grabbed the beer can and taken a hearty swig.

STRONG language was occasionally used, too, upon apprentices in connection with the distribution of cases. Most journeymen would prefer to pay an apprentice 25 cents to distribute 5,000 ems into his case than give up a couple of hours in the evening to do it himself. It was a custom which helped apprentices to make a little extra pocket money of which most of us were glad to avail ourselves. But, woe betide the poor apprentice who had been careless in his "dissing" and who had dropped e's in the d box or a's in the r box, or made other similar errors.

Ontario provincial newspapers were not using type based on the point system in my young days. Now, printers talk in terms of six-point, eight-point, 10-point, 12-point, etc.; 50 years ago we talked about type by name. The smallest type I ever remember using was nonpareil, or six-point, although there was a smaller size called pearl. After nonpareil came brevier, minion having been discarded some years earlier. Brevier was the body type common in most newspapers. For the solid matter of advertisements we used long primer, small pica and pica or 12-point. In some offices there was a 14-point type called English, and then of course there was great primer or 18-point. Display types were called by the names of their makers and in most Ontario provincial daily offices fonts of display type were a very mixed bag indeed.

* * *

I NEVER recollect Caslon type until after the turn of the century. Caslon, which was designed by a distinguished type designer of that name in the early eighteenth century, had not come into vogue in the smaller offices in the '90's since its first wave of popularity ended about 1850—it might have been because it was an expensive type to cut.

This was the era of pointers, curlecues and all sorts of embellishments in advertisements and job printing.

* * *

A HALF century ago most provincial dailies were printed on flatbed presses and folded on separate mechanical folders. Usually the press was a double feed: That is the blank sheets of newsprint were fed in at both ends and came out printed at opposite ends; they were then carried by hand to the folder, and from the folder to the mailing table where, as today, they were counted out in routes and wrapped in parcels for the trains.

About 1895 typesetting machines came into use in Canada. It is probable that in Montreal and Toronto they were used a few years earlier, simultaneously with New York, Boston and Chicago. The New York Sun was setting its type on the Typograph about 1890. In the smaller newspapers of Canada the two machines which were used first were the Typograph and the Monoline. The Typograph was the most popular. Operating the Typograph was hard manual labour because the molds were distributed by throwing the heavy top back so that the moulds could slide down the wires.

* * *

THE piecework system prevailed on the machines, and many operators preferred to cast the lines on the Typograph by hand rather than by power, as it could be done faster. The Typograph was made in Windsor, Ont., and produced a solid slug of type. The Monoline, which was used on the British Whig, was, I believe, made at Niagara Falls. It was known as a sit-down machine. I never operated one, but I had it explained to me one day by the late Alex Cathcart, former collector of customs in Kingston, who was at one time an operator on the British Whig.

* * *

THE most successful typesetting machine for newspapers was the Linotype, the wonderful invention of Ottomar Mergenthaler, a German immigrant who came to America in 1872. It was invented before the Typograph (Rogers, who invented the Typograph, having been a consulting engineer with the Mergenthaler Company.) But the Typograph was very much cheaper to build than the Linotype and thus was at first more popular with Ontario provincial dailies, few of which had much money to spend on equipment. The old Canadian Linotype, built in this country about 1900, was a square-base machine. The magazines, which contained the type molds or matrices, had to be removed from the back of the machine, and the type range of the early Linotypes was very limited. There was also a type-setting machine called the Linograph but it did not become popular in Canada. The only one I ever saw in Canada was on the Wallaceburg Herald.

IT is a far cry from the Canadian Linotype of 1900 to the modern machines used today in all newspaper offices. The daily newspaper had to keep up with the progress and development of the Dominion of Canada. It was also spurred on by the demand for a greater and faster coverage of world news. The last daily newspaper to be set by hand in Canada was the Halifax Acadian which went out of business when Mr. Blackadar the publisher died about 25 years ago.

Today newspapers are set on modern Linotype or Intertype machines. Large display type is cast on a machine called the Ludlow, and the space material is made on an automatic machine called the Elrod. Papers are printed on fast Hoe, Goss or Duplex presses and are delivered folded and counted, from the presses to the mailing table by conveyor.

* * *

THE happy hand-set days and the flat bed press have disappeared from newspaper plants. Who can tell how long the Linotypes and the present high-speed presses will last? Even today in many large offices, Linotypes are operated automatically from punched tape, and experiments are being made with photo-engraving plates on thin, light metal. The demand is for speed and yet more speed in collecting and printing the news, and mechanical means will be found to meet this demand.

Centennial LABOUR DAY—as it nearly was!

Letters To The Editor

ATTACK ON DONALD GORDON

Sir: Apart entirely from the wages-and-hours issue of the railway strike—in which the writer has a high degree of sympathy for the status of the worker in a runaway, inflationary economy—it is time to call a halt to the witch hunt which has the destruction of Donald Gordon as its purpose.

I clearly understand what Mr. Hall has in mind. He is invoking the old technique of turning the spotlight of criticism off himself and onto Gordon. If he can "get" Gordon, the inference will be that Gordon was responsible for the strike. Which is nonsense.

The position of Mr. Coldwell of the C.C.F. is something else, however. When his party executive urged that the government settle with the C.N.R. "and the C.P.R. would be forced to follow suit", it was tantamount to saying that the C.N.R. should be a political railroad. I believe that Mr. Coldwell is the last man who wants a return to pork barrel days. But now, in virtually demanding Gordon's head and stating that he has "outlived his usefulness", he has taken a step which is bound to undermine the morale and discipline of the railway's employees.

In so doing, Mr. Coldwell plays into the hands of every interest in the country which would destroy the publicly owned transportation system. Strip the C.N.R. of its morale, and one more backward step brings us to a reprise of the tragedy of Sir Henry Thornton, who was finally crucified by similar techniques, but not by similar people.

To the writer's knowledge, when Donald Gordon accepted the presidency of the C.N.R., his stated intent was to secure a capital structure in keeping with the road's physical value. As and when that is done, and the top-heavy structure imposed by both major political parties is whittled down, the real accomplishments of their railroad will become crystal clear to the Canadian people. That would be no body blow for men of Mr. Coldwell's views which, in this respect, I share. I am inclined to believe it might also be a very good thing for the people who work for the railroad. Remove Gordon and the hope of getting a capital structure that makes economic sense will disappear with him. In his place, Mr. Hall would undoubtedly get from a government anxious for peace and quiet an amenable and probably distinguished political nonentity. Then we'll be right back where we came in before Thornton, running a political swill trough.

If that is what Mr. Coldwell wants (and I am sure he does not), it is certainly not what I, and thousands of believers in public ownership of public services want.

It is no more proper for those who speak for Labour to call for the firing of Donald Gordon than it would be for the railway, the government or the public to demand the removal of Frank Hall as an intransigent leader, which he has shown himself to be in at least as great degree as Gordon has. That Gordon should be the victim of a whispering campaign which smacks of McCarthyism and character assassination is despicable. Donald Gordon rendered this country service during the war unexcelled by that of any civilian. He is likely to repeat as President of the C.N.R.—but not if he is constantly undetermined by the leaders of the railway workers through the medium of an artificially manufactured clamor to "get" him.

LESLIE ROBERTS.

POLITICAL BLACKMAIL

Sir: Over the radio, one morning recently, a labour leader was quoted as saying that if the Government did not give the railway men what they wanted, they would vote against the Liberal party at the next election. Those may not be the exact words of the statement but convey the gist of it.

To me that savours of blackmail. I should like to tell any man who even thinks such a thing that he is a miserable wretch and is unworthy to be called a Canadian.

Let the leaders of the labour party realize that the whole is greater than the part. Our Federal government takes into consideration the whole of Canada and I'm sure will enact legislation fair to everyone—fair even to the striking railway workers. The great majority of voters in Canada will stand for nothing less.

Yours truly,
C. J. DAVIS.

A DAY SET ASIDE FOR SERIOUS CONTEMPLATION

SQUIRE OF NORTHCOTE FARM, George Mellis Douglas of Lakefield, still engages actively in all forms of outdoor life befitting to an exciting past of explorer, mechanical engineer and author. Canoe pennants of craft which have carried him to the Arctic and Indian and Eskimo memoirs decorate his library fireplace, Above. Three of his canoes used on wilderness trips are shown, Insert, one of Mr. Douglas' personal photos, on a MacKenzie River beach at Fort Norman NWT.

Engineer, Arctic Explorer, Rare Collector Lakefield Prodigy Keeps Frontier Touch

By NICK NICKELS

Hobbyists who collect stamps, old coins, ancient firearms and Indian relics are fairly numerous. But a man who collects canoes in the same ratio is something else again.

George Mellis Douglas, the squire of 300-acre Northcote Farm on the east shore of Lake Katchewanooka above Lakefield, not only collects canoes and other types of water craft but each piece of equipment has a personal association.

People do not barge into Northcote Farm to look around. They go there upon invitation of the owner. Those lucky few who pay it a visit will remember it for a long time afterwards and a visitor who would draw the most enjoyment from it should have some knowledge or background of life in Northern Canada to appreciate the occasion to the full.

For, in a few minutes of driving through the neat rolling woodlot and pasture land to the Farm's main buildings, the mood changes from typical Southern Ontario to an atmosphere of wilderness living, the gracious kind to be found at posts in the far-off fur country on the shores of Lake Athabaska or Great Slave.

Squire Douglas is a kindly host, a tall, erect, white-maned man of 75 years whose long striding gait, as he comes to greet you, tells of years spent wading through deep tundra in summer and tramping endlessly over the same type of wilderness by snowshoe in winter. When talking directly to anyone, his keen blue eyes pierce into one's very character but more often his gaze swings to the horizon's rim.

His more vigorous youth in the outdoors does not seem to have slackened a whit. You may see him anywhere in the county paddling, sailing, hiking, skiing or snowshoeing, according to the season, or pedalling easily along highways and byways on a high-framed bicycle. He also may be seen, very occasionally driving a car in which he seems ill at ease

LOG CABIN KITCHEN is used in spring and autumn by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas with products of a lush garden at its very door.

For this special interview, Mr. Douglas paddled down from his Clear Lake cottage and spent the night on his one-room raft cabin, fondly named the "Floater." It is moored by a poplar point a few hundred yards from his main house and you have to use care on the path to it to step over sizeable trees felled each night by a small colony of nearby beaver.

Aboard the Floater, we sat down to talk of places near and chiefly of those far-off. Mr. Douglas' personal background had to be pieced together from casual sentences that popped up from time to time.

Son Of His Father

He was born in Halifax in 1875, son of the late Col. C. M. Douglas, RAMC, and Mrs. Douglas, and it is correct to assume that young Douglas was exposed to sea craft and shipping from the very first. His father, before retirement from an Indian regiment, first distinguished himself by winning the Victoria Cross for gallant action on the Andamand Islands in the Bay of Bengal. Soon after arrival in Halifax as a civilian, the colonel designed the second steamship to cross the Atlantic, the "Royal William." The task of building the "William" in Quebec yards, instead of on the Clyde, was considered a remarkable feat in the early annals of Atlantic crossings by steam.

Col. Douglas moved from Halifax to Lakefield in 1883 where he purchased Northcote Farm. Son George was sent to Trinity College School in Port Hope and during the holidays went in for wholesome outdoor living, especially canoeing and sailing. No doubt his father often lectured him to prebare for a profession 'So the twig is bent,' it is small wonder that the youngster chose mechanical engineering as his goal. He eventually specialized in diesel engines which were then revolutionizing industry in Europe.

Before the son's college days mentioned above, Col. Douglas answered the Queen's call to the colours and was appointed Surgeon-Major to take charge of the field hospital in Saskatoon during the Northwest Rebellion of 1885

He went by rail to Swift Current and overland to Saskatchewan landing to travel the remaining 200 miles of the Saskatchewan river by water. The colonel took with him a 12½-foot collapsible folding canoe which he made in Lakefield, patterned on the "Berthon" canvas boats then used in the navy as auxiliary lifeboats. In place of boarding the steamer "Northcote" he decided to paddle the river alone. He reached his destination in six days on the spring flood. He soon passed the steamer which had become stranded on a sandbar and arrived at his post a few hours before many casualties from the Fish Creek fight poured into his hospital for immediate attention.

Engineering Career

And now, back to his son George. His family had moved back to England, he was a full-fledged combustion engineer and he toured diesel plants on the Continent, even to interviewing Dr. Rudolph Diesel in Munich.

Mr. Douglas was associated with mining companies in Mexico and the American Southwest for some years, an extremely arid section of the Continent, and he was seized with a thirst for exploration and water. A cousin, James Douglas, grubstaked him to report on the copper-bearing rocks of Herne's Coppermine river.

Without the assistance of native guides, George Douglas and two other men spent 18 months on an expedition to the Canadian Arctic that resulted in the recording of scientific information of great interest and importance. He wrote a travelogue of 285 pages entitled "Lands Forlorn" which was published in 1914. The book is not widely known but to an inexperienced critic like myself, I found it very interesting and capable of keeping me wide awake for many late evenings.

Books And Canoes

All this information was noted during a talk on the "Floater" houseboat. Upon taking my leave we walked through the main dwelling, looked into a small spring-and-fall cabin used by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas and examined some data in one of the most complete libraries on Northern Canada. Above the field stone fireplace were red and white canoe pennants that had flown from the decks of some of the Douglas canoes. Polynesian names, Ivaha, Pahie, Mizar and classicla ones, Alcor, Polaris Alcyone and Procyon.

We looked into boathouses and barns where canvas, cedar-strip and folding canoes rested on their racks. There was a Chipewyan birch canoe high up on the dusty rafters, and dinghies in various stages of repair. In all, I counted fifteen boats and there were still more that we did not look at.

Two weeks later I met Mr Douglas at the Kawartha Park Regatta. He was not only watching the canoeing events with a practised eye but acting as an official timekeeper. That in itself seems enough proof that even a collector of canoes rides his hobby constantly.

with NICK NICKELS

A recent news item tells of the difficulty of a Department of Lands and Forests aircraft landing three drums of gas to a Mines Department prospecting party 40 miles from Moosonee on the James Bay coast. Reminds me of a time six years ago when I was a member of an aircrew that delivered 200 gallons of gas from Mont Joli, P.Q., 500 miles to Sandgirt Lake in Labrador.

Such well-worn names as "Operation Gas" or the "Octane Airlift" were unknown then. We called it the Gas Job. Burly Capt. Herb Jones was in the driving seat of a Dakota wheel craft, crewman Lucien Gauthier of Seven Islands was the pusher-outer, and I rode on the right-hand seat now and then. The gasoline in 10-gallon steel kegs weighed 10 pounds apiece and the problem was to deliver the gas by skip-bombing them onto the lake's surface from about 15 feet. We had skittered a few kegs onto soft snow in Upper Ungava the previous winter and thought we knew all the answers. Jonesy would rassle the DC-3 off the long runway on the South Shore on his 1,000-mile-round-trip jaunt while Lucien and I played cribbage on the cabin floor for a couple of hours before coming over the "target." With the freight-loading door off, it was cold away up thar, and it was July.

As soon as the Skipper started letting down, we took our places, Lucien by the open door with a rope around his waist and I to roll the kegs to him for the big heave on a signal light from Jonesy. On some trips we made several normal passes and drops, but when it was gusty it took a lot of expert flying. Even though we had battened the kegs with wooden strips to break the impact, several burst on hitting the surface. The Department of Transport radio station said their boatmen were able to salvage about 50 per cent of the total drop. And two weeks later another broadcast advised us to fly in a large quantity of food for the natives, since the spilled gas had killed all the fish and the Indians were starving. What the big brass in Montreal said about our gas-dropping experiment was soul-searing and, in plain English, there was to be no more of it.

Fish Trailing Beaming Fishermen

Seems to be a lot of whoop-de-do, in other fishing areas than the Kawarthas, that this season is generally a poor one. Oh, yes, you will hear this sort of subversive talk around town but I won't subscribe to it. Why, more fish have walked into this office trailing beaming fishermen this week than you shake a club at; sleek lunge that tops 30 lbs, marble-eyed pickerel that scale better than eight, and gaping green bass that set street door loungers whistling, (at least, I think it was the fish). And I look for much better times since the weather has cooled off.

Would like to have hunkered down in the muskie bull session at Keneden Lodge with proprietor Arne Mackey, Doc Brown of Elwood City and George Robey, owner of the late Ack Ackerman's Guide. George heard more in an hour about the wiles of the Pigeon Lake pretties than for several years past — he's an outdoor columnist. In fact, he is so wrought up, that he vowed to spend a month up there in '51 and even hopes to telecast the muskies' antics.

Deer-Hunting Frame of Mind

With the present muggy temperature drifting around the 80's, it is not quite the time to get in the deer-hunting frame of mind. Official dates will be of interest to several, nonetheless. In all townships of the Counties of Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton, with the exception of Crown Game Preserves, the date for deer is from Nov. 6th to 18th, above the Highway 7 boundary. Have heard a little coffee-talk lately about the fine looking elk herd north of the Oregon Trail (Highway 36). Well, boys, all you can do is look at them; they're protected in these parts. In fact, if your hearts are set on elk hunting, you will have to go north and west of the French and Mattawa Rivers.

Fishing Out Lake Trout

A friend of mine stopped me on the street the other day to say that anyone who wanted some excellent lake trout fishing would only need to apply to him for particulars. Will give his name if you are serious about having a try at it. It set me to thinking of the lake trout fishing several years ago in the deeps off Salmon Island, Crowe's Landing way. It was always the spot to go and there were whoppers to be had. But it was fished out. I passed this two-acre water stretch one night at dusk a couple of weeks ago and counted fourteen boats milling around like mad; several of them had two lines out. I just mention this to point up the fishing pressure that happens when somebody makes a haul in some accessible spot. It takes a lot of restocking and conservation practice to support an incident like that. And it happens everywhere.

THAT GOOD FISHING NEWS: From Young's Point—Ella Siviter of Toronto, an 8-pound pickerel . . . From Pigeon Lake—Fred Bowen of Pine Crest Cabins, one of the same size, north of Gannon's Bridge. From Belmont Lake—Stan Zaylack and Julius Burke of Latrobe, Pa., in seven days, 2 muskies, 15 and 8 pounds, 7 pickerel and 24 large and small mouth bass . . . # Thirteen Schools Had Blackboards By 1850 Numerous Churches Set Up, Lodges Come

By HOWARD PAMMETT, M.A.

Colborne District in 1842 had 13,706 people (7,392 males, 6,314 female) in 2,151 households; 9,587 of these were children and unmarried persons. There were 3,551 Anglicans, 3,394 Roman Catholics, 3,340 Presbyterians, 1,414 Methodists, 288 Baptists, and a few others. Born in Canada were 5,565, United States 172, Ireland 4,675, Scotland 1,730, England and Wales 1,116 By 1848 the district had 21,361 people (11,444 male 9917 female) in 3,674 families; 14,844 of these were unmarried and children, indicating the high proportion of youth in the population. There were 5,139 Anglicans, 6,352 Roman Catholics, 5,236 Presbyterians, 2,813 Methodists, 576 Baptists, and some others. Born in Canada were 10,721, United States 276, Ireland 6,274, Scotland 2,548, England and Wales 1,516, 1,488 owned their own property, while 961 were tenants. Agriculture occupied 2,717, commerce 112, while there were 95 in the professions, 516 craftsmen, 103 factory-workers and 300 labourers. The district contanied three town halls, 28 churches, 87 schools, 49 inns, 47 shops.

Ten Schools.

The 1842 census showed only 10 schools in the district, with 276 pupils (163 boys, 113 girls) John Quinn, teacher at S.S. 1, Dummer, 1842-44, described the school as a log cabin 24x18 feet with large windows and a boarded ceiling. Long double-desks had moveable board benches along both sides. "We had no maps, and I used spelling-books and an old English reader; we had also Walkingame's arithmetic, and some other American schoolbooks until the advent of the Irish National Readers, introduced by the late Dr. Ryerson after he took office (as Supt. of Education for Canada West) in 1844 . . I then went to Otonabee and taught until Jan 1, 1846, in an old log dwelling-house fitted up with desks and seats."

BOREDOM

There is nothing so insupportable to man as complete repose, without passion, occupation, amusement, care. Then it is that he feels his nothingness, his isolation, his insufficiency, his dependence, his impotence, his emptiness.

Blaise Pascal:
Pensees, XXV, 1670

The Common School Acts, of 1843 and 1846 organized the school system and provided teacher training and standard texts and grants. Township school superintendents were appointed in 1844: Smith—Wm. Nicholls; Otonabee—Jas. Anderson then Rev. A. Stark; Douro—Maurice Clancy Asphodel—Henry Fowlds; Dummer—E. Hartwell; Ennismore — Pat Sullivan; Belmont and Metheun—N. C. Beattie; N Monaghan—H. Dunsford. Godfrey, a British writer, wrote in 1844: "There is dificulty in many parts about primary education, for though there is a government school in each township, the distances are often too great for settlers to avail themselves of it." Elias Burnham became Colborne superintendent of schools in 1844 at £25 a year later doubled), and served until 1850, travelling six to eight hundred miles each year to inspect schools He reported the first year that schools were in poor condition, especially in Ops and North Monaghan: "In no instances in ny recollection, with one or two exceptions, have I seen the English grammar in use; very seldom geography, and no history except occasionally in a reading book. The Bible I found in general use."

Alex Rogers began teaching in 1845 in the Stewart settlement at S.S. 12, Otonabee, the usual log cabin. "The desks were arranged around the walls, and there were long benches without backs for seats. A large square box-stove heated the room. The teacher's desk was at the end, leaving room in front for recitation There was a small blackboard, and a map or two; but no other apparatus to assist the teacher." His twenty pupils were "obedient, agreeable and polite."

By 1848 the District had 87 schools with 2,995 pupils (1,552 boys, 1,443 girls) all between the ages of five and sixteen; these, however, were only 40% of the children of school age Thirty schools used the Bible, but none had a library. Six schools were graded first-class, ten second-class, and seventy-one third-class. Teachers' salaries for 84 men and five women totalled about $10,000. The government granted $2,400; the District $2,000, and the townships $3,100; the school boards levied fees on the parents to make up the balance.

No Maps, Blackboards

In 1850 there were 94 schools: Asphodel 3, Belmont 1, Douro 6, Dummer 7, Eldon 5, Emily 12, Ennismore 2, Fenelon & Bexley 3, Mariposa 17, N. Monaghan 3, Ops 7, Smith 10, Otonabee 11, Verulam & Harvey 2 Of 7,204 children between five and sixteen years, 4,362 were in school (boys 2,406, girls 1,956) average attendance being in winter 2,204, in summer 2,153. Of 96 teachers 87 were men and nine women, but only four (men) had normal school training. Average annual salaries for men were $160, for women $100; board and lodging took $40 of this. Of the schools, none was first-class, 23 second-class, 48 third-class; 37 were in bad repair, 81 being of logs, 13 of frame, and none of brick or stone. Thirteen had blackboards, nine had maps, two had globes 11 had libraries (1,100 volumes). The township superintendents made some interesting comments in 1850: James Hogan of Douro hoped for better attendance; William Manley of Dummer said only half the children attended, that school lasted only six months a year, and that most teachers were "inferior"; O. Rogers of Mariposa said average attendance was only 36½%; Rev John Gilmour of North Monaghan said "Teachers labour under great disadvantages. The schoolhouses are most miserable . . . Another evil is the want of good books and uniformity in the books—no maps no blackboards."

Cavan township in 1847 had 15 schools and the teachers received a total of $2,280; by 1850 there were about 20 schools. SS. 8 was built in 1841, a log school with clay floor where pupils sat on benches around the wall; the first teacher, Thomas Whitlaw (after whom the school is named), was noted for his fine handwriting and his strict discipline. The Fallis Line School, S.S. 10, was begun in 1847 after the pupils for several years gathered for instruction in various barns.

Very few students a century ago went beyond the common (elementary) school. For the few there was the Colborne Grammar (Secondary) School, at Peterborough, or private schools in Peterborough or Cobourg. Even fewer went on to King's College (Church of England) in Toronto, Queen's College (Presbyterian) started in 1840 at Kingston, or Victoria College (Methodist) created from Upper Canada Academy, Cobourg, in 1841.

Of the twenty-eight churches in the district by 1848, some have been mentioned. The Roman Catholic parish in Emily was organized in 1840. Bishop Strachan (Church of England) came to Cavan in July 1841 to visit Rev. S. Armour's flock, and preached to large congregations in two churches; he mentioned "the large rich farms everywhere around." From 1842 on, the Millerite sect was strong in Cavan, Ops and Emily, preaching the forthcoming end of the world. The Methodists held many camp meetings and home services in this region also, but had no church in the northern part until after 1850. At Lindsay, the Presbyterians built a church in 1845. Two years later at Springville the Methodists erected a frame church, with a cemetery nearby. In 1846 the first Roman Catholic church in Douro was opened, and about the same time another in Marmora. This year in Keene the Presbyterians bought a lot from Dr. Gilchrist for $50 and built for $300 a church which was opened by Rev. J. Roger, of Peterborough; Rev. Mr Wallace, newly graduated from Queen's College, was the first minister at $120 a year.

Mr. Miller, of Keene, in an 1847 letter described a two-week camp meeting held near Hiawatha "chiefly got up for the revival of religion among the Indians. They erect camps and cover them with bark, erect a temporary stage for the preachers, and build large fires in the night. They stay for 6 to 10 days and pray and preach nearly all the time . . . They are all Methodists and Baptists. Hundreds of whites attend the meetings, some to join in the worship, and others to scoff." He mentioned that "the Sabbath Schools are well attended"; the 1848 census noted that the only libraries in the district were 649 volumes in eight Sunday schools; by 1850, however, libraries had been started in many common schools

The Canadian Almanac 1850 listed the district clergy: Church of England: R. Taylor, Peterborough; R. Harding, Emily; S. Armour, Cavan; Presbyterian: J. Douglass, Cavan; J. M. Roger, Peterborough; vacant charges in Otonabee, Dummer, Asphodel Emily and Ops; Methodist: I. B Howard, Peterborough; W. Morton, Norwood; J. Bell, Cavan; H Lane, Otonabee; R. Brooking and J. Sunday, Rice and Mud Lakes; H. Lane and N. H. Howard, Hope and Otonabee. No district Roman Catholic clergy are listed in the Almanac, but among them were Father Burke, Emily and Ennismore; J. Butler, Peterborough; Hugh Fitzpatsick, Douro. Smith's "Canada: Past, Present and Future," 1850, listed the village churches: Peterborough: five churches—Episcopal, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic of stone, Methodist of frame, Baptist of brick; Omemee: Presbyterian and Roman Catholic; Lindsay: Presbyterian and Roman Catholic; Fenelon Falls: Episcopal; Bobcaygeon: Episcopal; Norwood Presbyterian, Methodist and Roman Catholic; Keene: Presbyterian and Methodist.

Lodges

Governor Maitland on his Peterborough visit 1826 advised the Irish settlers to drop "all associations which have their rise in a difference of religion, or in differences of any kind," and to unite against their common enemy, the forest. There was a Masonic Lodge near Cobourg in 1818 which expired in 1827, but the political troubles of the 1830s revived Freemasonry to defend "British institutions" against "Yankee influences"; for a long time the Grand Master was Sir Allan McNab, militia leader and Tory politician. In 1847 Ontario Lodge at Port Hope was formed, and in the next year Corinthian Lodge No. 834 at Peterborough received an English warrant; two of the leaders were Rev. Robert Taylor and Robert Dennistoun. In 1849 Dennistoun and Wm. Weller, of Cobourg, were Grand Lodge officials. Otonabee Lodge No. 13, Oddfellows, was functioning at Peterborough in 1846 under Wm. Cluxton, V.G., and C. Forrest, secretary; in 1848 they bought the Grover house for use as a meeting-hall, but according to Poole the Lodge disbanded about ten years later. There were Orange Lodges in Northumberland and Durham Counties from early times but none is recorded in Peterborough, perhaps due to Maitland's advice.

The Orange Order spread rapidly in the 1830s north from Cavan, where it was very strong, into Emily and the Lake district. In 1846 Billy Parker, a South Emily Orangeman, received a beating in Lindsay, and after the July 12 celebration that year hundreds of Cavan and Emily Orangemen marched on Lindsay seeking revenge; a delegation went to meet them at Lang's Corners while Lindsay armed for "battle," but finally a truce was called. Later there was many a skirmish by Sturgeon Lake lumbermen when they came down through Ennismore to celebrate

European Game Water Polo Newest Peterborough Sport

By DON GRANT

Peterborough's house of sports has another new occupant as the result of the Lion's club swimming pool in Riverside park.

During the past several months the Ashburnham residents may have been surprised to see boys shoving each other under the water with a mighty swoosh. But that is only part of the exciting and (believe it or not) healthy sport, water polo.

It might be thought from the word "polo" that horses are used in this game; but not even a seahorse appears. Originating in Europe, water polo is in many ways similar to Canada's national game, lacrosse.

Water polo is played without a stick but the positions and number of men are the same as lacrosse. Seven players participate, a goalie, two defencemen, three forwards and a rover. Bill Leek, instructor at the Lions' club pool, explained that there are no offsides and a player may score from anywhere in the pool.

There are two types of water polo. Americans, he said, have elaborated the European game to introduce underwater polo. The Canadian game requires the ball to be kept above the water and if it does touch the water, the opposing team is awarded the ball.

Water polo as played here has two other main rules. The first requires all players with exception of the goalie to handle the ball with only one hand and the second requires all players to stay off the bottom of the pool.

Wednesday Night Games

Since the pool opened in June Mr. Lech has been holding games on Wednesday night with about 15 boys taking part. He has been teaching them the game and the best players will be selected to play on a team which will represent the Peterborough YMCA in a league this winter.

Primarily an eastern Canada game two leagues have been formed, in Quebec and Ontario. The local team will be in the Ontario league with Hamilton, Toronto Varsity and Toronto YMCA teams. Games will be played in the YMCA pool and Gordon Minty, coach of the YMCA swimming club, is expected to coach this team.

Should water polo expand according to the number of new swimming pools being built throughout the province, it could easily become as well organized as softball or hockey. Who knows but some day the world championship may come to Canada, instead of going as always to Hungary.

Cobourg Whips Port Hope, Makes Finals

LINDSAY, Sept. 2— Cobourg Legionnaires moved into the Lake Shore Intermediate "B" baseball finals with Port Hope Ontarios by edging Lindsay Merchants, 4-3, in the third and deciding game here Friday night.

Soup Campbell took over from Phillies prospect Bill Jamieson in the ninth to pitch three strikes and end a belated Lindsay rally. Cobourg bunched five hits in th third and fourth innings to push across two runs in each frame. Fred Goody, who fanned three times, started the winning rally with a single in the fourth.

Jamieson and Doug Loucks hooked up in a pitching duel after the loosely played early innings but Campbell put out the Merchants' fire, fanning Junior West who previously singled, doubled and tripled. Loucks fanned nine in a losing cause for Lindsay, while Jamieson whiffed seven. Burke Clarey paced the winners at the plate with three singles.

Lindsay won the opener 2-1 over Jamieson while Campbell hurled the Vets to a 2-1 victory in the second.

LAWN BOWLING

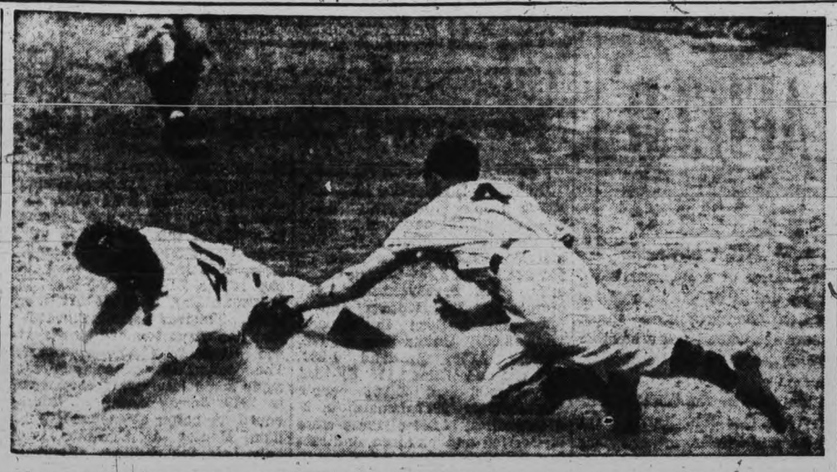
By HERB MARTIN

Playing all day Thursday and Friday in Toronto, in the Mail and Globe Scotch doubles, Mrs. R. Dyer and Mrs. C. Renaud came through to win the consolation event and received for their efforts each a purse of $25.



True, our leaders did not win the main event, but they did well, losing only one game in seven. It is the premier doubles tournament for ladies and when you consider there were 117 pairs entered from 67 clubs from Buffalo, New York, Detroit and the province of Ontario, their achievement was wonderful.

We join with the members of our club and with their many friends outside the club and offer congratulations.

Tonight will be the regular Family Hour mixed rink tournament at 7.30 o'clock. A big turnout is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Mowry are today celebrating their 41st wedding anniversary. Congratulations.

Ladies' results—Mrs. H. Northrop won from Mrs. F. Staunton; Mrs. W. Welbourne won from Mrs. C. Renaud; Mrs. G. Coleman won from Mrs. J. Arnold; Mrs. F. Dawe won from Mrs. W. Hepburn.

STEALING FROM THE INDIANS—Hard-pressed by the Yankees all through their visit to New York, the Cleveland Indians had a chance to win this game—until the eighth inning. One reason was Yankee Joe Collins' steal from first, which he completes safely here as Indian Second Baseman Joe Gordon makes the tag too late. Yanks forged ahead 4-3, in this inning and wound up the game with that score.

Bowling Alleys In Shape For Big Season

A sure sign of the nearness of autumn is the activity shown by the indoor bowlers around town. They are starting already on their long season, running from this weekend until well out in the spring. Not oly the many regular leagues, but a whole lot of independent bowlers are itching for action again in friendly games.

The new alleys of last year down George St., south a piece, the Playfair, starts Tuesday with open bowling all week, instruction for the ladies in the afternoon, and some women's afternoon leagues commencing shortly, as well as the high school inter-form loops. The alleys have been refinished for the season coming up. Duffus' has started again with improved alleys, open bowling on now and the men's City League, among others, ready to go. Early action is expected also at the K. of C. and YMCA alleys to try to take care of the many hundreds who bowl regularly through the fall, winter and spring here.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Sports centennial week here winds up with Bowl softball and a Lions' Pool aquatic show tonight, plus a golf match at the Kawartha Club on the morrow. Recreation Director Alex Sinclair had a good program of baseball, softball, lawn bowling, lacrosse, golf and the swim show (the soccer game fell through) to underline the part athletics play in community life in Peterborough's 100th year. Various sports bodies co-operated well, too, and a lot of people enjoyed the week-long program. The season, of course, forbade the showing of such sports as hockey, curling, basketball and the like.

* * * * * * *

A softball tourney is planned for Keene on Sept. 16, entry fee two bucks with first prize $50 and second one $15. District teams may bolster but city teams should first contact Harold Kempt or Fred Whalen at Keene. Races for players, merry-go-round, etc. Idea is to build their ball field into a community park to go with the new arena and to promote sports for the village youngsters. It's an okay centre for sports and has in the past produced some fine teams. Remember the one in 1938. They won the OASA intermediate "C" crown with such players as Bill Wood, Fred Whalen, Jack Gall, Boyd Renwick, Don and Orme McCarthy, Doug Brown, Rollie Rennie, Ivan Fletcher, Toey Ibey, Earl Hahm and a few more. A classy club.

Bowl Brimming Over

Let's see what the Bowl softball setup is. Toronto and Woollens have a PWSU junior playoff at three this aft and, if necessary, again at six this eve. The King and His Court play the local men all-stars at 8.30 tonight and this should jam the place as the four-man squad is really worth seeing. Mutuals await word on their next playdown round, while East City has Oshawa Colts here on Tuesday night at 8.30 in the Bowl to open their best-of-three OASA senior "B" series. Don't pass that one up, folks. No city finals until well out next week, and same with the girls. Oshawa junior men play Orphans here next Thursday in OASA competition, too.

* * * * * * *

And the OBA picture. In senior, the Petes play New Toronto away this week-end and settle it, if necessary, Monday a.m. here—that's on the holiday. On Labor Day aft at two, Oshawa and the East City juveniles start their two-of-three OBA playdowns, our bantams and midgets being at Oshawa today. Nothing yet on the peewees and that'll likely be against Toronto in about a week. So, there'll be one ball game here for sure Monday, weather permitting, the OBA juvenile fray at two p.m. Fans ought to see some good diamond action as these future senior stars perform.

Series All Sewed Up

If a fifth game is necessary to settle the Viaduct Ball Loop semi-final series betwixt New Toronto and the Petes, it'll be here Monday a.m. at 10. Meantime, these clubs are at it twice today in Toronto with the series squared away at one win each. The men o' Murphy began to hit in the last half—after spotting New Toronto an early 5-0 lead—and came on to take it last eve 9-6. Doug Plunkett was wobbly at first but pitched lovely ball the last half, and his buddies belted the ball in the right spots. Johnny Cabot lasted the seventh for the visitors and Jack Gastrell finishing up. Bud Harrison's double was most timely. Dalton and Garvey also being a big help at bat. Scott led the losers. Several arguments over close decisions, no Toronto umpire showing up for the playoff.

The young Petes—also known as Filter Queens—came through nicely here last night to down Toronto Maitlands 16-4 and take the OLA junior "B" title in three straight. A fine showing by Coach Lou Vitarelli and his hustling young lacrossers. Goalie Bill Nicholls shone in the cage and Joe Whitnell, the Robinson boys (Gary and Brian), Rock Batley, Bill Killingbeck, and the rest dished up a dandy performance before more than 400 cash customers. Our hearty congrats. It's a triumph, too, for Ken Kingston, Walt Murphy and other hard-working officials of the PMLA, which produced these good juniors. They rode about in noisy celebrations following the decisive victory.

Miss Canada Withdrawn From U.S. Race

DETROIT, Sept. 2 (AP).—The Harmsworth Trophy, emblematic of the world powerboat racing championship, was retained by the United States today after the only foreign challenger—Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, Ont.—withdrew late Friday night.

All that remains to be determined now is which of the three U.S. boats which had been defending the trophy against Wilson's Miss Canada IV, will take the individual honors.

The Canadian challenger, after a fourth-place showing in the first heat Friday, was scratched from the second heat set for late this afternoon. Wilson said at Windsor, that side planks of his sleek craft were split during the Friday heats. Repairs could not be made in time for today.

Thus Wilson's last attempt at taking the speedboat trophy ended before he could even complete his final challenge.

Probable Victor

And unless she breaks down, Slo-Mo-Shun IV, the speedy Seattle craft, will probably win the heat today to score individual honors in the now-changeless contest.

That was the conviction of most speedboat experts who saw Stan Sayres' 28-foot hydroplane streak around the Detroit river Friday to run away easily from two other American boats and the Canadian challenger, Miss Canada IV, in the first heat.

Driven by Lou Fageol, substituting for Ted Jones, who suffered a hand injury, Slo-Mo-Shun roared eight times around the five-mile course at an average speed of 91.127 miles an hour.

Well Ahead

At the end, Slo-Mo-Shun was about 2½ miles ahead of My Sweetie and Such Crust II, the other members of the American defending team, and something like three miles in front of the Canadian boat.

Excepting that Slo-Mo-Shun's lead increased with each lap, the positions of the contenders never changed. My Sweetie, driven by "Wild" Bill Cantrell, finished second with an average speed of 85.004 miles an hour; Such Crust, with Dan Arena at the wheel, third for an average of 84.705, and Miss Canada IV, piloted by Harold Wilson, of Ingersoll, Ont., fourth with an average of 80.410.

Slo-Mo-Shun's best speed was made in the first time around the course, which was covered at 94.04 miles an hour. Neither this nor the average for the 40 miles equalled last year's record marks. In the 1949 Harmsworth Jack Schafer's Such Crust I of Detroit made a lap mark of 98.164 miles an hour.

Wilson reported his boat's steering shaft supports became loosened during the race, causing the boat to withdraw. This apparently was after the fifth lap in which she almost matched her fastest speed shown in the fourth time around.

EAGLE KEYES, second-year centre of Alouettes, who occupies a key-spot in the team's bid for another Grey Cup. The Eagle was rated the best at his position at the close of last season. He'll be around and about in this year's Big 4 scuffle.

Petes Tie Up Senior Series On Two-Bagger By Harrison

A timely two-bagger to drive in two runs in the seventh by big Bud Harrison put the Petes in front at Riverside Park last night and they went on to win 9-6 over New Toronto. It tied up their Viaduct Baseball League best-of-five semi-final series at a win each, the teams going back at it in a twin bill today in Toronto and here at 10 a.m. Monday, if necessary. A big crowd saw the fray last evening. The Petes were trailing 5-0 in the early innings but fought back to gain the decision, getting to Johnny Cabot for three runs in the fifth and chasing him in the seventh with a four-run outbreak. Jack Gastrell finished in good style for them. Doug Plunkett, though in trouble in the early frames, settled away to hurl nice ball, whiffing eight and holding them to one run in the last six innings. Both sides kicked a few and it should have been 4-3 for the locals on earned runs.

Howie Shone

Howie Dalton not only sparkled with a one-hand running grab in the fourth but he led his mates at bat with two for three as Fred Garvey got two in four tries. Bud Harrison hit a double and he drove in three runs. Murray Scott topped New Toronto with three for four, Ralph Hosking getting three in five, and Kitch Jeffers two in four trips. The Petes had a snappy double play, and Ron Cabot looked good on a hard pickup and throw at second.

A walk, hit, error and double steal gave Toronto two runs in the first, and they kept gaining away for one next heat, two in the third and another in the fifth. The Petes smacked out three hits by Plunkett, Brown and Dalton for two runs in the second, and they got three in a big fifth on an error, walk and hits by Lowrey and Menzies. Two walks and a missed fielder's choice loaded them up in the seventh and Harrison scored two with his double, Garvey later singling to send two more home and make sure of the game.

Junior Petes Capture Title Against Toronto Maitlands

By FRED MAYBEE.

Lou Vitarelli's fighting juniors gave Peterborough its first Ontario junior "B" lacrosse championship last night at Miller Bowl as they defeated Toronto Maitlands 16-4, to win their best of five final series in straight games while more than 400 rabid fans cheered in delight.

It was a fitting climax to a highly successful season's play—a personal triumph for a fine coach and an achievement long to be remembered by as fine a group of young athletes as one could wish to represent the city, in any sport. They all played a great game from the opening whistle and the outcome was never in doubt. Brian Robinson, Joe Whitnell and Bobby Wyatt fired three early goals behind Dick Powers in the fast first period without a setback though Toronto fought hard all the way to keep the game under reasonable control. Their failure to do so was due to the superior teamwork of a better coached club.

Fast and Clean

Play was very fast and clean all the way with but eight penalties in all for minor offences, but Filter Queens held a good margin in territorial play to outscore their rivals in every period. Only in the finale did Maitlands come close to an even break in scoring as Bill Nicholls gave a phenomenal all round performance in the nets behind his hard working front crew.

Joe Whitnell, who played a fine game and Brian Robinson with three apiece, led the goal-getters with Bill Killingbeck, Gary Robinson and Rock Batley following closely with two each. Gary also assisting on three to lead his team in points with five. Gerry O'Reilly assisted on three smart tallies while Bob Wyatt, Al Beavis, Jim Shearer and Joe Heffernan each dented the mesh once in a fine display of teamwork.

Worked Hard

Toronto's best showing came in the second and fourth periods scoring twice in each with Bob Woods, Jack Bond, Lou Nickle, and Bruce Jones their marksmen but at no time did Frank Hayward's boys have sufficient power to put up a sustained offensive. The Vitarelli crew had a stone-wall defence equally as formidable as their attack, with every man playing his part in the championship struggle.

Royals Lash Leafs 8-4 Behind Landrum

By The Associated Press.

Jose Landrum, who was a bust at Brooklyn, is finding the International League much more to his liking.

A right handed slow-ball pitcher, Landrum has won four games and lost only two since the Dodgers sent him to Montreal Royals a short time ago.

Landrum, voted the most valuable pitcher in the Texas League while at Fort Worth last year, pitched the Royals to an 8-4 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs Friday night to strengthen the Royals' grip on second place.

Home runs by Walt Fiala, Landrum's team-mate at Fort Worth last year, and Johnny Welaj, former Maple Leaf, sparked the Royal attack. Fiala connected with two in in the eighth inning to wrap up the decision.

The third place Baltimore Orioles dropped a 3-2 decision to Jersey Giants. Andy Tomasic stopped the Orioles on four hits in turning in his 12th victory.

Carden Gillenwater slammed a grand-slam homer in the eighth inning to lead Syracuse Chiefs to a 7-4 triumph over Springfield Cubs. Gillenwater's clout featured a five-run uprising that wiped out a 4-2 Springfield lead.

The scheduled game between the league-leading Rochester Red Wings and the tail-end Buffalo Bisons was postponed because of rain.

Hastings Beaten

HASTINGS, Sept. 1 (ENS). — Hastings Juniors, last year's winners of the OASA Junior C title, find themselves just a game away from elimination, as Brooklin took them 6-5 at Brooklin in the first game of a best-of-three series, with the next game slated for Hastings under the lights.

McKay, on the mound for Brooklin, proved too much for the Hastings lads, giving up but six hits in going the full route, while West was touched for 12.

It is no new experience for Hastings to be the underdog. Last year, in finals with Port Robinson, they dropped the first game, only to come back and take the next two, and they are hoping to repeat this year.

The line-ups:

Hastings—Spencer cf, Fife rf, Kelly ss, Macoun 1b, West p, Richardson lf, Oliver c, Morrow 3b, Thomas 2b.

Brooklin—Schell 2b, B. Johnston ss, C Johnston 3b, Croyall cf, A. McKay p, Kivell lf., Arksey c, B. McKay rf, Carveth 1b.

Mize Saves Day For Yanks Homer Sparks 6-2 Victory

By RALPH RODEN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Johnny Mize is 37 and in the twilight of a brilliant career, but he's shining like the aurora borealis for the New York Yankees.

The slow-moving first-baseman has been swinging one of the most murderous bats in the American League since his return to the Yanks in the middle of June.

Mize, who hit more than 300 home runs during his National League career, has belted 17 for the Yanks since his recall from Kansas City.

The moon-faced slugger currently is belting away at a furious clip as the Yanks seek to widen their American League lead.

Mize has smashed out nine hits in 17 trips to the plate in his last five games, a .529 pace. Four of his blows were home runs and he has driven in eight runs.

Saves Bacon

The big cat pulled New York out of a hole Friday night by cracking a three-run homer in the eighth inning. That started a five-run rally which gave the bombers a 6-2 victory over the pesky Washington Senators. The triumph increased the Yanks' lead to 2½ games over the idle Detroit Tigers.

The Yanks also stretched their lead over the third place Boston Red Sox to 3½ games. The Sox dropped a 4-2 decision to the lowly Philadelphia Athletics.

Meanwhile, Philadelphia continued along its lonely way in the National League pennant dash. The Phils knocked off Boston Braves 7-3 to pull seven games ahead of the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers, who were ambushed by New York Giants, 4-1.

Bubba Church, the rookie down from Toronto, in front all the way scattered eight Boston hits to gain his eighth victory against two losses. Dick Sisler and Andy Seminick led the Phils' 11-hit attack.

In Fourth Place

A crowd of 29,517 fans took in the game at Ebbets Field to boost Brooklyn's home attendance to 1,000,122 for 54 home games.

The victory moved the Giants into fourth place over the sagging St. Louis Cardinals. The Missourians tumbled to fifth by losing to the Pirates in Pittsburgh, 10-4.

Pittsburgh's tailenders broke a scoreless tie with a five-run barrage against Cloyd Boyer in the third inning.

Besides Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox in the American League, Cincinnati and Chicago in the National League were not scheduled.

Crashes 3 Cars Both Sides Of Charlotte St.

Crashing into three parked cars on two sides of Charlotte St. Friday evening, W. M. Farrow, 25, 538 Rose Ave., was charged in police court today with drunk driving.

Farrow, driving south on Water St., turned west into Charlotte St. and ploughed into a car owned by Leonard E. Porter, Toronto, parked at the north curb. Farrow's car bounced off the Porter car and crossed to the south side of Charlotte St., where he hit a car owned by James H. Payne, New York state. He then smashed into a third car owned by Gordon Day, Toronto, parked behind the Payne car at the south curb.

Mr. Payne had just gone into the hotel there to ask if it was alright to leave his car there while he unloaded some luggage.

Out of Date Permit

Traffic Officer Harold Mesley, who investigated, reported that Farrow was driving on an out-of-date temporary driving permit.

The rear left fender, both left doors and all four windows on the left side of the Porter car were damaged. The Payne car had a damaged rear fender and body panel in front of the fender. The front bumper and front left fender of the Day car were hit.

Big Blow

BARRINGTON, NS —(CP)— Winds of 125 miles an hour were clocked on the wind gauge of Dr. J. R. Gallagher during a hurricane that raked this southwest coast Nova Scotia village recently.

Petes Take The Title In Peewee Lacrosse

The Petes won the city peewee lacrosse championship yesterday, turning back the Tigers 23-3 in one game and winning the other 13-6 to make it three games to two in the finals. Hawthorne, Ferguson, Davis, Coombs and O'Neill were all prominent on the attack in the first fray for the winners, while Anthony and Pace led the losers. The other scrap was tighter with Anthony, Jay and Ketcheson putting up a stiff but losing battle for the Tigers. Kent, Ferguson, Coombs, Davis and O'Neill sparked the victors to their crown in a nifty showing.

Teams:

Tigers—G. Heffernan, Ketcheson, Barrie, Maniece, Murduff, Pace, Anthony, Jay, Randall.

Petes—F. Heffernan, Coombs, Mountney, Ferguson, Hunt, Davis, Kent, O'Neill, Hawthorne, Pearse, Ronco.

Referees, J. Fitzgerald and N. Cournyea.

Urges Canada Adopt At Once Greatly Expanded Immigration

TORONTO, Sept. 2 — (CP) — A greatly-expanded immigration policy for Canada was advocated today by W. F. Holding, of Toronto, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Addressing the directors' luncheon of the Canadian National Exhibition, he envisioned a population of 50,000,000 or more within a few decades, with a higher standard-of-living than now enjoyed by 14,000,000.

Said Mr. Holding in part:

"It has always surprised me to hear people qualify their endorsement of a vigorous immigration policy by stipulation that the immigrants must be of the 'right' kind. My own view of an immigrant of the 'right' kind is a morally, mentally, and physically healthy person who, of his own free will, desires to improve his condition by migrating to a country which can offer him the opportunities that are not present in his native land . . .

"The pitiful results from any efforts we have yet made to increase our population by immigration would lead one to the conclusion that what our government considers to be desirable immigrants are not available in sufficient numbers.

Follow U.S. Example

"Under such circumstances, I advocate that we follow the policy adopted with such success . . . the United States. During a relatively few decades they (government officials) have developed their country from a comparatively minor position in the family of nations to the foremost place among democratic nations . . .

"Because the area of Canada which we regard as habitable is small in relation to its total area, I don't think we properly appreciate how very large our habitable area really is.

"Holland, which has a population of 10,000,000, is about the same size as Vancouver Island . . . In Southern Ontario alone there are 77,000 square miles; Britain has 88,000 square miles—by no means all arable or useful land . . . Alberta and Quebec are rich in natural resources far beyond the needs of their present populations.

"One must indeed be a pessimist or a defeatist to question the ability of our country to provide within a few decades a high standard of living for 50,000,000 or more, even with the incomplete knowledge we now have of our natural wealth.

"This standard of living would be considerably higher than we enjoy now, because the development of the natural resources and the utilizing of our raw materials within our own borders will lighten the burden of taxation, provide a greatly-increased domestic market for our agricultural products, make it possible to manufacture a greater variety of domestic merchandise and at lower cost, and reduce our dependence on the United States and other nations."

Gone Furthest

Mr. Holding said that since the war, in a desire to co-operate in restoring world trade, Canada has gone further than any other country in admitting goods.

"It is amusing—when it is not maddening—to hear proposals that Canada and the United States make equal reductions in their tariffs. Don't people realize that Canada's tariff rates are much lower than the U.S. tariff rates and that the effect of equal reductions would be to facilitate the entry of more U.S. goods to Canada, without bringing the U.S. tariff to a point where Canadian goods can be sold in the United States?

"The value of manufacturing to Canada should be clarified in the public mind. One-quarter of the entire population depends directly on wages paid in Canadian factories. Most of the rest benefit by the growth and maintenance of manufacturing in Canada."

Detroit Tigers were a downhearted bunch of ball players as they arrived home Friday after an eastern road trip which saw them lose eight of 12 games and their American League lead.

More than 500 loyal fans and two bands braved a rainstorm to greet the Tigers.

Manager Red Rolfe sounded a battle cry to his Tigers.

"We may be down, but they haven't buried us yet and I know we'll bounce back into the league lead if we get a few breaks," he said.

His sentiments were echoed by veteran pitcher Paul Dizzy Trout who told the fans, "We hit the bottom on this trip, but from now on we'll get back to winning our share of games."

Rolfe had a simple explanation for the Tigers' slump on the road trip—"We weren't hitting and our lack of speed on the base paths caught up with us."

A long list of ailments on his squad also caused Rolfe considerable worry and he hastily summoned reinforcements from the Tigers' Toledo farm club.

He recalled catcher Joe Ginsberg and first baseman Dick Kokoski.

"We've got to get a little extra power and these boys may be able to come through if I use them in the right spots," Rolfe explained.

The British Columbia Lacrosse Association has about a week in which to select an all-star squad to meet St. Catharines Athletics here Sept. 9 for the Minto Cup.

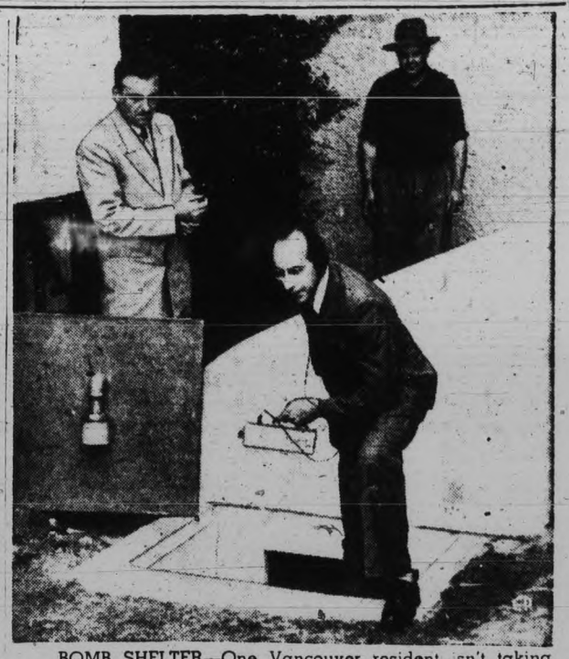
Victoria Juniors will play a sudden-death final with Vancouver Burrards, with the winning team forming the nucleus of the 18-man squad contesting the Canadian junior lacrosse championship.

Nine lettermen will be missing when the defending champion Western Mustangs open football sessions Tuesday at the University of Western Ontario.

Coach John Metras announced Friday that he does not expect as large a turnout as last season when some 80 grid hopefuls answered the roll call for the initial practice of the intercollegiate champions.

Captain Bill Ford heads the list of Mustangs back from the 1949 squad. But nine others, including flashy Jack Parry, big George Wearring, Ticky Duck, Bill Downe and Doug MacKinley, have been graduated.

Philadelphia Phillies have announced the recall of 20-year-old Steve Ridzik, a pitcher from their Toronto farm in the International League.



Ridzik, a six-foot righthander, has been in the Phils' system four years. He was with the major league club during spring training this year.

The young hurler will not be eligible for the World Series if the Phillies win the National League pennant but is expected to see action before the season ends.

Vancouver Firemen defeated Winnipeg Northerns 5-4 Friday night in the fourth game of a best-of-five series for the Western Canada senior men's football championship.

Vancouver leads the series 2 to 1 with one game ending in a scoreless deadlock.

The winners of the series will travel to Toronto later this month to challenge for the Dominion championship.

BOMB SHELTER—One Vancouver resident isn't taking chances with another war. He's built an atom bomb shelter in his back yard. The resident, who wants his name withheld, asked consulting engineer George Hill, carrying the Geiger counter, and A. Eccles, LEFT, contractor who built the affair, to have a final check of the shelter.

Canoeing comes naturally to Canadians whose forefathers moved a precious cargo of furs on Ontario streams and rivers. Today, there is an equally rich traffic on these water courses. U.S. visitors on canoe trips, hunting expeditions, or bound for a week of camping, bring extra prosperity to Ontario. Everyone shares in this tourist trade. DATING BACK TO THE REBELLION OF 1837, St. James' Anglican Church of Fenelon Falls, was originally a log structure. It was recorded by both early historians, John and Anne Langton, who lived five miles south of the settlement, in the old home shown in the UPPER RIGHT. The third and present church is shown at the UPPER LEFT, and the interior of the second wooden church, now a Canadian Youth Hostel, is pictured in the LOWER photo; the clergyman delivering the sermon is the late Rev. William Farncomb. His brother, the Rev. John Farncomb, was incumbent at Lakefield and the parish of St. Mark's, Warsaw. The grave of the Langton family in the old church cemetery is inset.

Langton Home, Old Church Long Connected With Life Of Fenelon Falls

Sunday attendance at services in St. James' Anglican Church, Fenelon Falls, often involved a day's outing for the early settler's who travelled by boat up Sturgeon Lake but in spite of the arduous journey, there were seldom fewer than 80 or 100 people in the congregation. The church which was built on the hill commanding a beautiful view of the falls and lake, still stands there but is no longer used for its original purpose. The church building now serves as a youth hostel.

Sunday At the Old Church

Anne Langton, from whose letters and other writings the history of this part of the province has been handed down, tells of a Sunday at the old church.

"About ten o'clock two boatsfull put off from the landing and wended their way up the river to Fenelon Falls and as soon as there was an appearance of the congregation assembling, we walked slowly up the hill to our little church. After morning service, at which about eighty to a hundred people might be present, nine children were brought to be baptized. When this ceremony was over, the time before evening service was so short that some of us preferred remaining in church to encountering another walk and the gentlemen were so good as to bring up some sandwiches and a pail of water which was extremely refreshing, for we have now hot summer weather."

Beautiful Panelled Walls

It was a five mile trip on the lake for the Langton's whose pioneer home is also one of the old landmarks still standing. This building of wood siding and plaster is now derelict and Oscar Graham, who now has the farm, lives in a brick house which stands a few feet further away from the lake.

There still remains in the old house the beautiful panelled walls which were the handiwork of the settlers.

Since the recent publication of the book "A Gentlewoman of Upper Canada" from the journals of Anne Langton, many tourists have visited Fenelon Falls to see the old church and the Langton homestead.

James Wallis, who donated the site for the church, conducted the services for the first two years. Then, in 1838 a special service to mark the opening of the church, was arranged by the Rev. C. T. Wade.

This service celebrated the opening of a log church which was burnt about ten years later. This was something of a catastrophe. But the faithful group of worshippers did not take long to rebuild and in 1852 a much larger church was built on the same site. That is the building which is there today.

Sunday after Sunday the parishioners climbed the slope to worship in their hill-top church but it was realized that the steep winding approach was a continuous inconvenience for old members of the congregation and an impossibility for a horse and carriage. It is no more passable by the modern automobile.

Built New Church

So plans were made in 1902, under the ministry of the Rev. Richard Macnamara, to build a brick structure and this was built on Bond St. at the foot of the hill. This is where the present incumbent, the Rev. George Ball, holds services for the parish of St. James'.

The bell which tolls before services at the new church is the one which once rang in the belfry of the pioneers' church.

The beautifully engraved sterling silver communion service which is used today, is also the one which was used in the old log church.

It was not until 1839 that a clergyman was appointed to the full-time ministry at St. James'. A sufficient sum of money had been collected in England to pay a stipend of £60 a year and so, in 1839, the Rev. Thomas Fidler took full charge of the spiritual needs of the parish.

Some years later Mr. Fidler met a tragic death while returning from a Sunday service. After portaging his small boat over the falls, he and a companion were caught in the swift current of the upper river and were swept over the falls before help could be summoned.

Since that time, more than 25 clergymen have been in charge of the parish. The most recent addition to the life of the church, was the erection of a new parsonage on Bond St. next to the present church building.

Seats will be reserved for these representatives. The service prepared for the occasion will be printed for the use of the congregation.

Simon Peter: Sifted, Strong Strength Beneath Weakness

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, DD

The key verse for an understanding of the Apostle Peter, and what he became, is found in the words of Jesus to Peter, recorded in Luke 22:31-32: "Simon Simon, behold Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat: but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren."

Was it a coincidence that Jesus said, "Simon, Simon," and not "Peter, Peter?" Simon was the name of the disciple's weakness, the name of what he was; Peter, meaning Rock, was the name that Jesus gave him.

For Jesus perceived the strength that was in him beneath his weakness, once divine power had made him great. It was of this divine power that Peter himself was to write (II Peter 1:3), knowing full well what it had accomplished in him.

The prayer of Jesus, too, was significant. It was not that Simon should not fail, but that his faith should not fail. It is the failure of faith that marks the downfall of the man. And this is true in the lesser as well as the greater things of life.

The inventor who loses faith in his power to produce something new is done for. The business man who loses faith in himself and his enterprise is already on the way to collapse. The writer, or artist, who loses faith to put upon the page or canvas what he sees, has also failed. Faith is at the very foundation of all creative achievement. And this is particularly true in the moral and spiritual areas of life.

There is one exception. It is when despondent and frustrated men turn to a power greater than their own, and in their very weakness are made strong. Paul tells of this in II Corinthians 12:9-10, but it was something Peter had not yet learned. He was boastful and confident in himself. He had not yet learned that it is in humility and in the consciousness of one's weakness that strength is found.

Proof that he suffered a temporary loss of faith lies in the fact that he denied Jesus only a few hours after boasting that he, Simon Peter, would never abnegate Jesus. It was as if he had suffered a blackout of the vision that prompted him to throw aside his fishing net and follow in the footsteps of Jesus.

No doubt Simon had anticipated an earthly kingdom in which he was to have a place and power. He was intensely disillusioned when the soldiers arrested Jesus, his idol and Master. It was the intensity of this disillusionment that moved his lips to frame a denial. When a man's faith in goodness is destroyed, often he will turn with equal passion towards evil. Few stop halfway.

A reassurance of faith came to Peter the next morning when the cock crowed, recalling the prayer and prophecy of Jesus. Peter went out and wept bitterly. The disillusionment was over. And Peter began to sense the greater things that lay ahead.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CI. No. 53 — SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1950 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Coventry Singers Take CNE Award In Competition

In the closest adjudication of the entire Canadian National Exhibition competition, Haileybury Ladies' Choir Friday afternoon took first place over the Coventry Singers of Peterborough in the senior choir class. The winning choir was awarded 84 points and the $400 cash prizes attached thereto. The Coventry Singers were judged one point less, at 83, and winners of the second award $100. Their placing at 83 points was the second highest mark for any choir entered in the various sections of the competition.

The competition, sponsored by the CNE and radio stations, was open to the entire province. Prize lists were valued at $1,500 in three classes: secular, junior and church choirs. Adjudicators were Dr. Drummond Wolfe, Dr. Charles Peaker, and Dr. Leslie Bell.

Big and Small Choirs

The Haileybury Ladies' Choir of more than thirty young voices showed expert precision, stylish presentation, and eagerness. Dr. Charles Peaker, speaking for all the adjudicators, praised the Coventry Singers, a group of 19, for their balance, their quiet effects, the excellence of their cadences in both works sung, and the affectionate rendition of their second offering "Caleno Castu-rame," an early English song dating from the sixteenth century. Their first chorus was "Allen-A-Dale Went A-Hunting," by de Pearsall. Dr. Peaker told the large audience that judging was especially difficult in this class because of the great difference in the constitution of the choirs taking part.

The Coventry Singers are directed by John Hooper.

Although it has been organized for two years, its first public performance was in a series of Christmas carol broadcasts over CHEX last December.

It sang two groups of songs at the Members' Concert of the Community Concerts last season, and this spring took part in the Kiwanis Musical Festival. At that it was awrded the highest number of points given any performers at the festival.

WIND IN THE EAST

Sun and sky were promising today fine weather for the week-end and Labor Day, but the wind was from the east and not to be trusted too far.

A PILE OF PORK LOINS was examined by a portion of a 35-boy group of Northumberland County Junior Farmers on Friday at Canada Packers Limited. Under the direction of Agricultural Representative Ralph Bembury of Brighton, LEFT ABOVE, were Bill Turney, Howard Clark, Bob Lisle, Gerald Fry, Eldon and Bill Petherick; the butcher at the cutting table is Vincent O'Keefe.

Riverside Park Floodlights Cost $29,584

Total cost of the floodlighting of Riverside Park is $29,584.71 as reported by R. L. Dobbin, manager, to the Utilities Commission Thursday.

Finance committee of the council expected this week that the amount might be between $30,000 and $35,000.

"From the last report I had," said Ald. Hugh Waddell, chairman, "it may not be much over $30,000."

Directors of Peterborough Baseball Club have turned into the city treasurer more than $15,000 which they undertook to raise by subscription providing the council would assume the rest of the estimated cost, and sanction the purchase and installation of the lights.

Vern Dawson and George R. Clarke took the brunt of the collecting detail, and their total is something in excess of $15,000. The bulk of the money, it is understood, was obtained from Peterborough industries. That leaves around $15,000 or less to be provided by the city.

The floodlighting system, meanwhile, has been speaking eloquently of its usefulness and popularity in the city.

To meet the remaining amount due to the Utilities Commission, who have been asking for their money, the finance committee proposes to issue short term bonds, probably five years.

Expected revenue from the ball park, through the Recreation Commission, will be credited to the lights account. It is hardly likely that receipts from the park will reach the volume of Civic Arena, but with this season's record of the ball club and the reviving interest of the city and district in its fortunes, it is hoped that the floodlights will pay for themselves.

Utilities Commission decided to send their bill at once to the council. The meeting was held at the Chemong Lake cottage of Gordon S. Matthews, chairman, who is laid up for awhile with strained ligaments of one knee.

The other members, G. A. Macdonald and Fred Hills, were present.

FORMER EXAMINER reporter - photographer Jack Peterson is back in the army again. Accepted Friday by the army for the special Korea brigade, he will resign his job as mayor of St. Thomas next Tuesday. He will go back in as a major, a rank he won along with the DSO in the last war.

Jack Peterson An Officer In Korean Force

Jack Peterson, mayor of St Thomas and former Examiner reporter-photographer, has been accepted by army headquarters for the special Korean brigade.

He will enter with the rank of major which he earned in the Second World War with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders. He enlisted in 1940 as a second lieutenant.

Overseas with the regiment, he won the DSO and was promoted to major, serving with that rank until the end of the war.

At war's end he returned to Canada and went to live in St. Thomas where he set up radio station CHLO. Last December he was elected mayor of the city after serving two years as an alderman.

Tuesday night he will hand in his resignation to St. Thomas council.

GLADIOLI "MULTIFLORA"

Kawartha Gardens, Lansdowne St. west, are a riot of color these days as thousands of gladioli bloom. T. H. Jackson had shown his spikes in a commercial exhibit at the local Exhibition.

Influx Started By 6 a.m. For Big Holiday

Taking the weatherman up on his prediction of a sunny, warm weekend, tourists started to pour into the city early today. A large percentage were from the U.S. Carloads of them arriving in the early morning hours after travelling all night.

By 6 a.m. both downtown cafes that were open were crowded, and in one case, hungry tourists lined up outside waiting for a place to sit. Parked cars lined both sides of George St. between Hunter and Charlotte Streets.

The CPR reported one extra train running—the afternoon train from Toronto will come in, in two sections. The CNR reported no extra trains and said passenger traffic so far had been normal.

Headed for the CNE this morning on both CPR trains were heavy crowds, a forecast of the weekend traffic.

The bus lines said no extra buses would run this weekend, but that ticket sales indicated "fairly heavy" weekend business. They said all three buses to Toronto this morning—two express and one regular—were crowded.

Break-In Attempted At Refreshment Booth

An attempt to break into the refreshment booth at Riverside park with a crowbar was discovered Friday afternoon.

Some time after 11 p.m. Thursday night someone used a crowbar to try to pry a padlock staple from the back door, but without success. Then the would-be thief tried to open the serving door on the south side, but a chain resisted his efforts.

Missionary Returns To City Spent 8 Years In Bolivia

"We don't try to change their mode of living, but rather their motive of living," stated Miss Grace Woodcock when commenting on her work with the Quechua Indians in Bolivia. Miss Woodcock arrived in Peterborough Thursday night after spending eight years in Bolivia as a missionary.

"It would be almost impossible to try and introduce a more modern existence or way of living to these people," continued Miss Woodcock. "All we are trying to do is bring the Christian message to them and try to introduce a few of the fundamentals of education, such as reading and writing. When a Quechua Indian is able to read and write, he is considered extremely well educated by his own people."

In an interesting account of the type of life led by these Indians, Miss Woodcock gave a very vivid description of their homes and ways of life. Her work is in connection with the Bolivian Indian Mission which has its headquarters in the town of Challapata, situated in the south-western part of the country near the border of Chile.

Crude Agriculture

The Indians live on tableland in a high altitude 12,500 feet above sea level, and their means of subsistence is a type of crude agriculture. Their houses, called adobes, are made of mud bricks and thatched roofs. "They only have two meals a day," stated Miss Woodcock, "and their main diet varies between toasted flour, dried corn and frozen potatoes. In the winter, it is so cold that they don't get up until the sun has risen."

In order to carry on her work it was necessary for Miss Woodcock to learn both Spanish and the Quechua dialect.

"It is amazing to see the change in these people when they accept the Christian faith," said Miss Woodcock. "Not only do they live a more moral life, but they try to raise their standard of living. A greater degree of cleanliness is one the major results."

Take Camp Cots Along

In answer to questions about her work, Miss Woodcock explained that she spends time both at the headquarters mission and also travels to the Indian settlements called ranchitos. Most of her travelling is done on foot, by car and truck. When the missionaries make long trips, they take their own folding camp cots and bedding. The Indians provide living quarters, which have usually been well swept and cleaned before the arrival of their Christian friends.

Meetings and teaching groups are held in homes or small school buildings. "It is definitely a man's world in Quechua country," explained Miss Woodcock. "At any public meeting, the men always get the chairs and the women sit on the floor. This custom is also carried over into eating practices. The men are always served first."

Coal and wood are almost unknown in this district and the Indians dig up green moss from the

MISS GRACE WOODCOCK, daughter of Mrs. Edgar Woodcock, 57 Aylmer St., returned to Peterborough Thursday night after spending eight years as a missionary in the tableland district of Bolivia. Miss Woodcock hopes to return to her work in Bolivia after a year's furlough.

Widely-Known Priest To Be Buried Tuesday

The funeral of the Rev. Martin J. Kennedy, C.S.S.R., will take place Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock to Mount Hope Cemetery, Toronto, from St. Patrick's Church on McCaul St.

As previously announced, the body of the late Father Kennedy will be resting here at St. Alphonsus parish house this evening and until late Sunday afternoon when it will be carried into the church for the requiem mass Monday at 10 a.m.

Born at Pickering, Father Kennedy was a son of Michael Kennedy and his wife, Mary McGuire. He leaves four brothers in Toronto, William J., Michael Alphonsus, J. Francis, and Albert Augustine. He was widely known throughout the province in the Roman Catholic communities in which he had assisted in missionary work, and will be remembered with affection for his kind personality and priestly devotion.

NEXT SEWER WORK

Next sewers to be laid in the Utilities Commission fall program will be on Ford and Western Avenues, north of the May's School section of a newer part of the city annexed from North Monaghan.

20 Harvesters Leave For West

A second group of 20 district farmers left Peterborough Friday as part of the 1950 prairie farm excursion to help harvest the crops in the western provinces. The first group left in mid-August and arrived in Winnipeg just before the rail strike began.

William Mellis, manager of the National Employment office, said today that he did not know if a third group would be sent.

To join the excursion the farmers had to have agricultural experience and had to make transportation arrangements through the local NES office. The office had the authority to issue warrants covering a portion of the cost of the journey. The warrants were issued with the understanding that the applicant would accept harvest work on a farm to which he was referred by NES officials in the prairie provinces.

The prevailing wages for experienced men on farms vary between areas but are expected to be from $6 and up a day with board for stooking, and somewhat higher for threshing. The payment will be only for days worked. When the weather prevents work, board is provided.

5 Steers Escape 1 Invades Store

A young steer, one of the five who escaped from the public scales enclosure on the Market Square Friday afternoon, ran into the rear entrance of Neill's Shoe store and got almost half through before he was turned around by some of the startled clerks.

The steer slithered and skidded on the waxed linoleum floor, but didn't knock anything down before he was shooed out.

There was plenty of excitement for a few minutes as three of the frightened steers, owned by Nelson Brothers, Bewdley, charged about at the back of the police station. Another one galloped out into the market square between parked cars, but was finally rounded up and herded back.

In all about nine yearling steers had been brought to be weighed. They were weighed at last and chased back up a loading ramp to Nelson Brothers truck to be taken to market.

Claims For Unemployment Hit Record Low Of 704

Unemployment insurance claims hit a record low for 1950 in August when only 704 district and city unemployed drew funds, William Mellis, manager of the National Employment office, announced today.

Construction work in this district increased to such an extent during the month that it absorbed a great portion of the unemployed on claims. Several of the factories began to hire as business became better, cutting down the number of men and women on short time claims.

During the recent rail strike 392 claims were taken by the local office from people forced out of work. Most of these will be returning to work next week and therefore will not be able to meet the requirements to draw funds.

May's unemployment claims of 1,001 were the low for this year prior to August. In June money was paid to 1,005 and in July 1,039. Figures for April were 1,120 and May 1,628.

In the city in August 550 unemployed received funds, 334 men and 216 women. Postal claims were sent to 65 men and 41 women.

Short time claims accounted for the large drop in payments during August. These people who are working for two or three days a week or working on a weekly alternative system numbered 143 men and 363 women in July. In August the total was 22 men and women. The return to normal staff at the Western Clock company in the past month and a half was a large factor in the drop.

Vacancies for men in August dropped slightly on July's figure but were still more than double the August 1949 figure. Jobs open for men were 89 in August as compared with 41 in August 1949 and 135 in July.

Opportunities for women increased on July's figure but decreased on August 1949 figure. Twenty-five vacancies were available in August this year against 35 last year. Women's jobs open in July numbered 17.

The number of men looking for employment decreased in August to 462 as compared with 516 in August 1949. The women wanting employment registered at the local office totalled 351 in August and 395 in August 1949.

Discover Bizarre Side To Personality Of Mr. King

By JACK SCOTT

KINGSMERE, Que. — Most of the obituaries written about Mackenzie King referred to the lack of ostentation and display in his private life, and so the visitor here at his summer home is startled to find one of the strangest private collections imaginable.

It is surprising that so few writers have described the "synthetic ruins" on view here at Kingsmere. If these objects had been collected by an American public figure they would have been used by his enemies to prove a conceit or by his friends to prove a depth of imagination.

Yet very few Canadians ever realized that their long-time leader, so often pictured as a drab and colorless man, had a bizarre side to his personality expressed in this private, unusual way.

"The ruins" (as his neighboors and servants invariably call the collection) stand in that part of the estate Mr. King acquired at the beginning of the century and named "Moorside."

The former prime minister's own handsome country home is a five-minute walk from here but the original "Moorside" may be reached by a pathway leading across the hills. In recent years Mr. King had used this original "cottage" for guests and more particularly, for his sister's use during the summer.

Mrs. Frank Kelly, who was Mr. King's housekeeper at the time of his death, suggested I see the ruins, and when I wondered about why Mr. King had made such an exotic collection, she shrugged.

"Oh," she said, "I just think it's that every man naturally likes to collect things. And they don't seem so strange when you see them. They're really quite nice."

On A Knoll

I walked from Mr. King's home down a roadway shaded by maples and butternuts until I came to the gate marked by the recently added "No Visitors Please" sign. A broad driveway curves back under the sun-filtering maples to a two-car garage and the old house, recently painted white and with a broad verandah that gives it somewhat of a pavilion appearance.

Frank Kelly, a lean, taciturn man who had worked with Mr. King for 15 years (and who with his wife was left $1,000 of Mr. King's $750,000 estate) was in a field haying and directed me to the path. As we walked by the house he pointed out an immense bell which hangs under the porch. It had come from a Nova Scotian sailing ship and Mr. King is said to have bought it in a second-hand shop.

Kelly left me here and I walked on alone through a gate, leaving behind the quiet, well-tended gardens. The path led across a grassy sward through thick-set, silver-blue pines.

Suddenly, framed between two pines, there was a sight that stopped me in my tracks. It was like coming upon a transplanted slice of ancient Greece. Ivy-covered arches and walls of old and heavy stone stood on a green knoll. There were four structures arranged in a square, each standing by itself.

Fronting on the rolling green hills and with a magnificent long view across the misty blue Ottawa Valley is a tall, glassless bay window frame. Mr. King had taken a fancy to it when an old Ottawa mansion was being torn down and had it reconstructed here.

The other pieces in the group, none of which is marked for identification, are the old stone doorway from the original Bank of British North America in Ottawa, a stone fireplace from the chambers of the Speaker of the British House of Commons, and a tall grey stone arch, also from Westminster, wearing a mantle of brick-colored ivy.

Quiet Place

As Mrs. Kelly had suggested, the feudal-like masonry did not appear out of place in this quiet spot, as I'd expected.

H. Reginald Hardy, one of the former prime minister's biographers, says that the collection began because Mr. King wished a wind-break on this pleasant knoll, where he liked to read, and that "one thing led to another."

Certainly the place on a peaceful late summer day is soothing to the nerves. I sat in one corner of this "courtyard" which Mr. Kelly had said was his employer's favorite spot. A slight breeze whispered through the gaunt-looking window, the bees droned about the ivy and there was a delicate scent of clover from the nearby fields.

It had taken a man of some imagination to know that such structure in this very Canadian setting would be in harmony and not merely a freak.

To come up from Ottawa, where I'd been hearing the inevitable stories of Mr. King's hard-headed political acumen, and then to sit in contemplation among these ruins, makes Mr. King seem even more of an enigma.

Picturing him here in the rather formal attire he affected even in the country, his dog Pat at his feet and perhaps with a volume of Tennyson or Matthew Arnold in hand, makes the Mackenzie King of Kingsville seem a different man than the Mackenzie King of Ottawa and perhaps, in the long run, the man who will be remembered.

Announce Finding New A-Particles

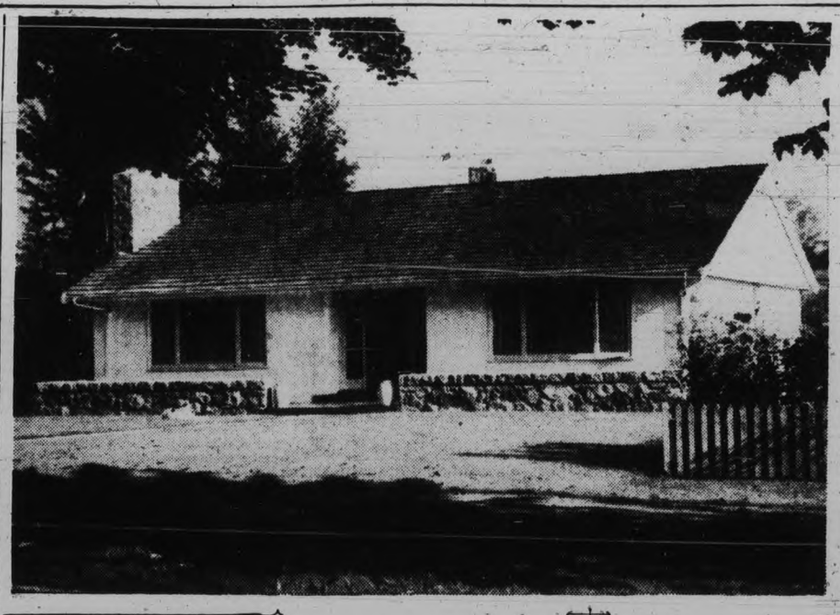
BIRMINGHAM, England, Sept. 2—(AP)—A Nobel prize winning physicist announced Thursday the discovery of two new atomic particles found in cosmic rays which bombard the earth from outer space.

Announcement of the discovery was made by Professor P. M. S. Blackett of Manchester University at a meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

Blackett said the particles are part of the complex structure of the atom, released when the atom is broken up. They are about 900 times the size of an electron, he said, and survive for only three ten-billionths (3/10,000,000,000) of a second.



They have been named "V" particles, because of the shape at their photographic track.

Blackett was awarded the Nobel prize for physics in 1948 for his work in the investigation of cosmic rays.

IUEW Wins Vote At Willard Plant

TORONTO, Sept. 2—(CP)—In a vote conducted by the Ontario Labor Relations Board, workers at the Willard Battery Plant here have chosen the International Union of Electrical Workers (CIO) over the United Electrical Workers (Ind.). The vote was 105 to 33 and there were four spoiled ballots.

This is the fourth group of workers wrested from the UEW by the UEW since the UEW's expulsion from the CIO. The others were at the Guelph plants of Leyland Electric and of Copper Wire Products and the Cobourg plant of Canadian General Electric.

Gets $5,000 As Director

KITCHENER, Sept. 2—(CP)—James B. McCormick, manager of Waterloo Memorial Arena since January 1, 1947, Friday tendered his resignation to become director of the Kingston Community Centre at a basic salary of $5,000.

Mr. McCormick's resignation is effective October 15 when he will assume his duties at Kingston's $800,000 centre.

The Kingston Arena, now under construction, is expected to open January 1. The Community Centre also embraces a baseball park and agricultural grounds.

Mr. McCormick came to Waterloo from Montreal, where he was supervisor of recreation at Westmount for eight years. He also served as director of recreation in Waterloo in 1949.

Ask Government Sit Three Times Daily

OTTAWA, Sept. 2 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent served formal notice on the Commons Friday that the government wants it to meet morning, afternoon and night until the end of its emergency session.

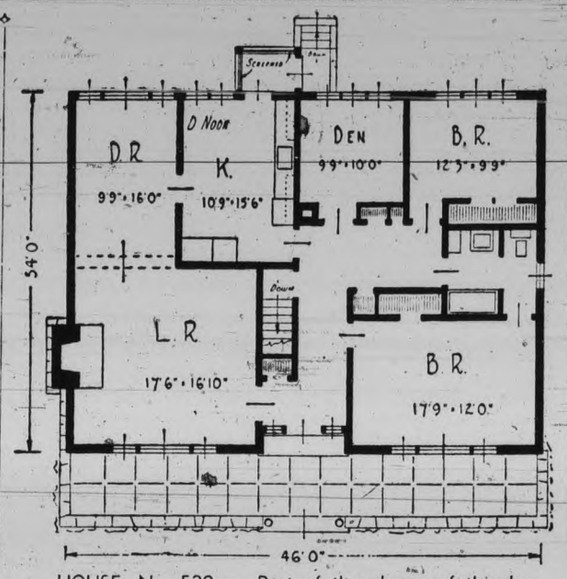
He gave notice that he will move Saturday to add an 11 a.m.-1 p.m. sitting to the customary afternoon and night sessions. This would begin Monday—Labor Day.

In addition, the House is foregoing its customary Saturday holiday to meet tomorrow at 11 a.m. However, the prime minister's notice does not indicate there will be further Saturday sittings.

Chiselling Of Tourists Main 1950 Complaint

TORONTO, Sept. 2 — (CP) — Tom C. McCall, Ontario's Deputy Travel Minister, Friday criticized persons guilty of "chiselling" American tourists.

In a prepared statement predicting 1950 would see the province enjoy its fifth consecutive record year in the number of tourists from the United States, Mr. McCall said the "single dark spot" has been the number of complaints from failure to give visitors a proper premium for U.S. funds.



"Chiselling for 50 cents on a $5 transaction can cost us thousands of dollars in goodwill and future business," Mr. McCall said. "A few of these people—and they are relatively scarce—can destroy our reputation for fair dealing and honest value."

Plane Turns Back With Engine Trouble

SHANNON, Republic of Ireland, Sept. 2 (AP)—A New York-bound Pan American Airways plane with 62 persons aboard was forced today to turn back 1,000 miles out over the Atlantic Ocean because of engine trouble.

One of the passengers was Mrs Lewis Douglas, wife of the U.S. ambassador to Britain.

HOUSE No. 529 — Part of the charm of this low-modern-style home is its unadorned simplicity. The facade is completely honest in every detail. The broad gable roof is of hand-split cedar shakes, and the walls are stucco embedded with fine stone and glass, covered with white oil paint. Trim and clapboard gable ends are painted cream. The terrace is smooth red concrete, surrounded by low grey stone walls. Besides the six room shown in the plan, there is a basement playroom complete with sound movie projector, and a stone fireplace. House contains about 31,000 cubic feet. For further information, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Detroit Zoo Hippo Has New Heart Interest

DETROIT, Sept. 2 — (CP) — Alice, Detroit zoo hippopotamus who was pretty much upset when she lost both her mate and child, has a new heart interest.

Alice was moping and refused to eat her bale of hay every day. The heart interest — Barney, a young hippo who recently came all the way from Africa — was bashful and sulked in his cage.

But Alice finally took a shine to the newcomer. She coaxed Barney down for a swim in the rhino house.

"You might say that Alice is charmed by our importation," the zoo keeper said. "Barney is still shy but we are sure he is shy only about people, not Alice."

Accidental Blast

PARIS, Sept. 2 (Reuters) — A diver was blown to pieces at St. Nazaire Thursday when he accidentally set off an explosive charge aboard a launch. Two mechanics were badly injured and the launch sank. The explosive was for demolition work aboard the British troopship Lancastria, sunk with loss of more than 2,000 lives by German air attack in 1940.

Urge Modifications In Occupation Laws

BONN, Germany, Sept. 2 — (Reuters). — The West German Government has sent the Allied High Commission a memorandum suggesting substantial modifications of the occupation statute, it was learned in usually reliable circles Friday. A draft of this memorandum was said to have been handed to John J. McCloy, United States High Commissioner, before he left Germany for Washington Tuesday.

Discuss Defence

LONDON, Sept. 2 (Reuters) — The five western union defence ministers will hold their eighth meeting in London Sept. 5, it was announced here Friday. It was understood the ministers would discuss defence progress since a meeting of their foreign ministers at The Hague the beginning of this month. The five countries in the western union are Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Keep Cement For Repairs To Your Home

Keep a small quantity of Portland cement on hand for household repairs. You will find it very easy to preserve if you keep it in a moisture-proof container such as a covered tin can or glass jar.

Cement is very handy in repairing cracks in cement flooring or imperfect joints in the wall. Small repairs of this sort can usually be made by using cement alone, or preferably, by the use of cement mixed with one or two parts of sand.

As a specific example of such a repair, let's suppose that a narrow crack has developed in a concrete basement floor. First, chip away the concrete on both sides of the crack to the width of approximately ½-inch and a similar depth. Clean away carefully all loose material. Next, saturate the concrete along the crack with water. Do this thoroughly so that the concrete will absorb as much water as possible.

Let Cement Dry Slowly

Now make a thin cream of water and cement and with a small, stiff brush apply it freely to the side of the channel which has been chiseled out. Mix a sufficient quantity of 1:2 mortar, adding to it only as much water as is necessary to handle it readily with a trowel. Fill the channel with this mortar completely. After the mortar has dried it is a good policy to keep the floor in the vicinity of the crack wet for a few days by covering it with wet sand or burlap, or by sprinkling it frequently. This will insure a good bond between the fresh mortar and the old, and proper hardening.

Add 10% Dehydrated Lime

Repairs of points in brick, tile stone and concrete block walls can be made in a similar manner if you will add about 10% of dehydrated lime, based upon the weight of the cement. For such repairs, however, work out the old mortar and then follow the same procedure as was given previously. A similar mixture may be used for plastering a brick wall. Make sure the wall is thoroughly clean and saturated with water before applying the cement.

Cement may be used in filling cracks in laundry tubs; holes where water and gas pipes enter the basement; furnace casing and fireplaces; joints and breaks in drain pipes; repairing breaks and cracks in concrete walks and steps; connecting smoke pipes to chimneys, and in patching stucco. Before repairing the last three items, however, keep in mind the fact that such cement patching is not always good looking, so unless the repairs are essential for the maintenance of the walk, steps or stucco, it is better not to make them than to have a plaster patch as a constant eyesore.

Wins Violin Class

TORONTO, Sept. 2 — (CP) — Bavid Zafer, Toronto, Friday night won the open violin class at the Canadian National Exhibition music festival. George Trowsdale, Stratford, and Anthony Ginter, Windsor, tied for second. Tied for third were Toni Grimm, Regina, and Janet Jamieson, Ottawa.

Enrolment At Universities Expected Smaller This Year

By The Canadian Press

Second world war veterans who have crowded Canadian universities for the last five years will be missing from the campus scene this fall. Without them, enrolment in most of the institutions of higher learning will be smaller than last year.

A Canadian Press survey shows that, for the first year since the end of the war, housing for single students will be relatively easy to find, although married couples may have to scramble for suitable shelter.

While enrolments are down from those of the immediate post-war years, in most universities they still are larger than in years before the war. The University of Toronto, for instance, expects a registration of 12,200, compared with 14,100 last year, nearly 17,000 in 1946 and an average of 7,000 in prewar years.

Expect Increase

One university expecting an increase is Laval in Quebec, where enrolment of 2,400 will be slightly higher than in 1949-50. An increase of five to 10 per cent is expected at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, which had its smallest freshman class since the war last year with slightly over 100 starters in a total registration of more than 700.

But the University of British Columbia in Vancouver expects 6,200 students, 1,000 fewer than last year. University of Manitoba in Winnipeg, while giving no figures, anticipates a drop of "10 or 12 per cent."

Heavy Enrolment

Fredericton's University of New Brunswick is counting on 850 students in place of more than 1,000 last year. In Edmonton, the University of Alberta expects a "slight decline" from last year's 4,253. A decrease also is expected from 1949 enrolment of 4,656 at University of Western Ontario in London and 1,155 at McMaster University in Hamilton.

Heavy enrolment in science and engineering courses is seen at McGill University and the University of Montreal. Engineering is the most popular course at University of Alberta, while arts and science share the popularity at University of Manitoba and arts and engineering at Mount Allison University at Sackville, N.B.

Registrations will be heavy for medical courses at University of Toronto and at Laval. About 600 would-be doctors are expected at Laval and university officials say this is an encouraging development in view of Quebec's shortage of medical men.

The year ahead will be Newfoundland University's first as a full-fledged university. It was raised to that status by provincial legislation last year. Registration has barely started but indications are that all its courses will be well-filled.

Moslems Pledge Support Girl

SINGAPORE, Sept. 2 — (Reuters)—A mass meeting of Singapore Moslems Friday pledged support for 13-year-old Nadra Adabi—married name of the Dutch girl Bertha Hertogh—against any attempt to restore her to her Christian parents in Holland.

"Jungle Girl" Bertha recently married a Malay schoolteacher by Moslem rites.

The meeting approved a resolution calling for a Moslem deputation to lodge a strong protest with the Dutch Consul-General at Singapore against the legal action due to begin Monday to annul Nadra's marriage and restore her to her parents.

It was agreed to establish a Nadra defence committee.

A proposed bill in the Singapore Legislative Council would make the minimum marriage age 16 years. Child marriages which took place before its passing will be regarded as valid.

It will be introduced at the forthcoming session of the Legislative Council.

Toronto Stock Markets Resume Broken Advance During Week

By FRANK KAPLAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Stock markets resumed their interrupted advance this week. Buyers moved in slowly, carrying selected issues steadily higher following a mild setback the previous week. Prices had advanced steadily for five weeks prior to the mild decline.

Individual issues reacted briskly and strongly to news affecting them. Traders were sitting on the sidelines early in the week watching and waiting for an opportunity to pick up bargains.

The New York market started the week on a firmer tone as rails brightened, but profit-taking held the list in check Tuesday. Short bursts of selling pushed prices lower Wednesday and the market was held to a narrow path on Thursday. Sparked by a surprise dividend by Chrysler Motors, buyers moved in strongly yesterday and carried a wide list of isues higher. Television stocks were also in strong demand.

The Associate Press 60-stock index climbed .5 Friday to 78.7, a gain of .3 from the previous Friday.

Canadian Markets Lead

Canadian markets walked ahead of Wall Street despite a country-wide rail strike which ended Wednesday night. Investors regained confidence as the strike appeared near an end and market leaders were carried steadily into new high ground.

Buying early in the week was light but steady. Companies that at first appeared to be very vulnerable during the rail tie-up — like pulp and papers—paced the upturn as the picture cleared. Streeters began buying as they finished assessing the effects of the rail strike on earnings.

Various annual reports, quarterly earnings statements, dividend announcements and price hikes of products were reflected by individual companies. A 50 per cent reduction in the dividend of National Breweries sent that stock reeling downwards while lead and copper producers reacted to price increases.

The mining boards also attracted more attention. Production reports from several smaller producers sparked increased activity and news from the Western oil fields affected dealings in interested companies.

Climb to New Levels

In Toronto, the Exchange's industrial and base metal indices climbed to new peak levels. The advance was uninterrupted for four days, but slowed to a standstill in yesterday's pre-holiday session as traders sought to clear their books prior to the Labor Day week-end.

The industrial index gained 5.16 over the five days and base metals rose 5.46. Western oils added 3.80, reflecting news of possible new fields and the first flow of crude in a section of the new pipe line. Golds dipped on Friday, losing earlier advances for a decline of .08 on the index. Volume increased to 7,881,000 shares for the five sessions.

In Montreal, paper stocks held the spotlight. The papers boomed steadily for a gain of 25.04 on the averages. Other changes were: Banks off .14, utilities up .4, industrials up .5, combined up .5, golds off .08. Industrial volume was 377,191, as against 293,962, and mines 1,133,572, as against 955,217.

Grain markets weakened slightly from last Friday. In Chicago, September corn, oats and rye showed losses up to three cents while wheat held steady. In Winnipeg, October oats were firm, but barley and rye easier. Flax jumped strongly.

Desert Preserve For Bushmen Being Sought

WINDHOEK, South Africa, (CP) — A reserve may be proclaimed to save the bushmen — South Africa's vanishing race—from extinction.

Col. P. I. Hoogenhout native administrator, said a two-man commission, consisting of Professor P. J. Schoeman, and Major J. W. Naude, a former police officer, now is in the Kalahari desert investigating means of preserving the bushmen.

These primitive little people now are estimated to number between 2,500 and 3,500 and they are dying out.

They are scattered in southwest Africa over an area of about 60,000 square miles, most of which is inaccessible, unknown and largely uninhabited.

They migrate with the wild animals, following the lightning, which, to them, indicates rain and therefore, water and good hunting.

The idea of a reserve is not so much to fence the bushmen in as to keep ther traditional enemies—the Herero and Ovambo tribesmen—out. The Hereros and Ovambos rate the bushmen no higher than a wild animal.

Child Murder

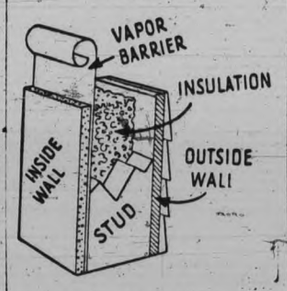
They are, however, not the only threat of extinction to the bushmen. They are decimating themselves by child murder, a ruthless pruning of their decreasing numbers in order that the few may continue to exist.



If, as often happens, the infant of a mother who has died in childbirth cannot be disposed of by adoption, the baby is buried alive with the mother. Illegitimate children are also usually put to death. When twins are born one is invariably killed. Because of the severe conditions of life infant mortality is unusually high.

This is not the first attempt to save the bushman from himself and his enemies.. In the eighteenth century an effort was made to persuade this nomadic people to settle down. They were given farms and livestock.

They killed and ate the stock and returned to their hunting in the trackless wastes.

Prevent Condensation By Using Vapor Barriers

While insulation, caulking, weatherstripping and similar tight construction methods have undoubtedly contributed much towards the living satisfa[illegible] present-day Canadian ho[illegible] they have introduced a new problem—condensation.

This matter was of little concern to owners of houses built years ago as looser construction, without insulation or caulking, presumably permitted water vapor forming inside the house to reach the outside cooler air before it condensed inthe walls or roof. Walls and ceilings of today's houses, however, are more resistant to air passage. Consequently, the results are often ruined paint jobs, damp spots on the ceilings and walls, structural rot. Also, the efficiency of insulation is often greatly reduced by dampness.

Proper application of vapor barriers can overcome this difficulty. These barriers, which usually consist of asphalt-treated felt or other similar materials, must be installed between the insulation and the interior finish.

Where it is impossible to apply vapor barriers of this type, as in the case of an existing house, two coats of high quality oil paint, rubber base paints or aluminum priming paint may be used with good results.

Nationalist Party Assured Of Control

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Sept. 2—(AP)—The ruling Nationalist Party seemed assured Friday of long-time government control following an overwhelming victory in South-west Africa's first election.

Prime Minister D. F. Malan's party captured all six seats allotted the territory in the South African Parliament, plus 16 of 18 local legislative posts, in Wednesday's balloting.

The result raises the Nationalist majority to 12 in the National House of Assembly and opens the way to boosting its Senate margin from one vote to five.

Crushed By Car

PRINCETON, Sept. 2 (CP). — Jack Richardson of New York City was almost instantly killed Friday one mile south of Gobles when his old model automobile struck loose gravel, throwing him out and turning over on top of him. A passenger, Lewis Burkhold of Princeton escaped with minor injury.

Votes Against Motion In Railway Crisis

OTTAWA, Sept. 2—(CP)—Jean Francois Poulliot (L-Temiscouata) drew to the attention of the Canadian Press Friday to the fact that he had voted against a Progressive Conservative motion in the Commons Wednesday for the establishment of a national administration of railways pending settlement of the wage-hour dispute.

The CP erroneously reported that Mr. Pouliot had supported the motion. The error occurred when his name became confused with that of Raoul Poulin (Ind-Beauce), who supported the Progressive Conservative proposal.

Mr. Pouliot both voted against the Progressive Conservative motion and spoke against it in the debate. He voted for the Government's bill to get the strikers back to work.

Business Failures Mounting In Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 2 (CP). — Business failures in Canada have been on the increase for four years, and in the first half of this year 720 went under as compared with 500 in the same period in 1949, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday.

Defaulted liabilities of the companies concerned amounted to $12,400,000—a 43 per cent increase over the total for the 1949 period.

Quebec Breeder Wins Top Turkey Prizes

TORONTO, Sept. 2 — (CP).— L. P. Paquin, Templeton Papineau, Que., swept three of the four first-place awards in judging of broad-breasted bronze turkeys at the Canadian National Exhibition on Friday.

Textile Union Gets Contract

CORNWALL, Sept. 2—(CP) — A new working agreement calling for company-financed pensions, a five-day 42-hour week and wage increases up to 10 cents an hour is scheduled to be signed today by Courtaulds (Canada) Ltd. and Cornwall locals of the Textile Workers Union of America (C.C.L.-C.I.O.)

The contract affects 1,850 employees of the company's rayon and staple fibre manufacturing plants here.

The agreement provides for reduction of the work week of day workers from 44 to 42 hours with the same take-home pay.

Increase in basic wage rates resulted from incorporation of part of the 22-cents-an-hour cost-of-living bonus into regular earnings. Under the new agreement, 10 cents of the 22-cent bonus paid men and five of the 11 cents an hour paid other workers will be included in basic hourly rates.

The contract also provides for optional retirement of employees at 62 with a maximum pension of $60 a month paid by the company.

Scented Transportation

ACCRINGTON, Lancashire, England —(CP)— Accrington corporation buses are sprayed with perfumed disinfectant. "The disinfectant we used before left that lingering hospital smell," said an official, "so we decided to try something a little more alluring."

National Health Grant Made To McMaster

OTTAWA, Sept. 2 (CP). — Funds from national health grants have been awarded McMaster University of Hamilton, for a study of the effects of domestic and industrial sewage on the plant and animal life of Hamilton Bay, the Health Department announced Friday.

The project will take about a year to complete and will be under the general direction of Dr. A. Emerson Warren, head of McMaster's zoology department

The federal grant amounts to $4,500. The Hamilton Harbor Commission also is making a $500 grant for a special study of the effects of sewage and wastes on harbor installations.

Find Ancient Tomb

STOCKHOLM —(CP)—Traces of a huge tomb dating back to about 500 A.D. have been found near Sundsvall, Northern Sweden. In the stone- andtimber-covered tomb were found iron and bronze kettles, swords, buckles and bits of polished glass.

Two Men Killed

KITCHENER, Sept. 2 (CP).— Two men were killed Friday when an automobile in which they were riding crashed into Freeport bridge over the Grand river. First reports were that one man—Lloyd Lohnes, 18—had been killed. The body of Gordon Kubisewsky was found later in the river.

Spends Last Hrs. With Two Sons

GUELPH, Sept. 2 (CP).—Ailing, 75-year-old Mike Alveano wanted to spend the last few days of his life with his sons here.

But the hospital in Kingston, where Mike lay critically ill with a heart condition, was a long way from his son, Mike, Jr., in Guelph.

Then several persons in Hamilton heard of Mike's plight and decided they could help him.

Kingston doctors agreed that Mike might be better off if he made the trip.

A few hours later Mike was on his way here in a volunteer car, wrapped in blankets donated by the Hamilton Red Cross and breathing through an oxygen mask donated by a Hamilton drug firm.

He was escorted on the 50 mph trip by Provincial police with wailing sirens.

Suspend General

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP) —The United States Air Force on Friday suspended Maj.-Gen. Orvil A. Anderson as commandant of its air war college after he was quoted as offering to attack Russia's atom bomb centres. Gen. Hoyt S Vandenerg, chief of staff of the air force, announced the suspension in a statement declaring that the air force "first, last and always is primarily an instrument for peace."

1,200-Mile Cruise Lubbers' Vacation

TORONTO —(CP)— A 1,200-mile cruise in a tiny outboard motor launch would make any expert seaman thing twice, let alone a landlubbering Toronto taxi driver.

But 28-year-old Ian Garrett and his wife recently completed such a trip in a three-week vacation. They travelled through Lake Ontario, New York State waterways and the St. Lawrence River as far as Sorel, Que.

Garrett terms his boat, The Wanderlust II, a "right seaworthy boat." Motor is a 16-horsepower outboard.

For a colorful—and cheap—way to travel, says Garrett, it can't be beaten. The whole cruise cost them only $170, of which $65 went for gasoline. They slept in their own tent and bought food as they went.

Pioneer Descendants Mark 70th Wedding Anniversary

TORONTO, Sept. 2 (CP). — Seventy years of married life will be celebrated quietly Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Ash. The couple, both 91, are descendants of pioneer families in the Peterborough-Cobourg district.

Mrs. Ash, still spry and in full possession of all her faculties, said her recipe for long life and married happiness is, "believe in God and do right."

She will be a guest on a radio program tonight from the Canadian National Exhibition.

In an interview she said her wedding in Rochester, N. Y., in 1880 interfered with a possible career as one of the country's first women doctors.

A visitor to the family's summer resort on White's Island in Rice Lake—named after her family—was Mrs. McCarren, of Rochester, one of the first women doctors in the United States. She prevailed on the young woman to return with her to study medicine and obstetrics.

However, she was engaged to Mr. Ash, then a carpenter in his native Cobourg. They returned to Cobourg after the wedding and moved to Toronto in 1903.

Mr. Ash's family, United Empire Loyalists, were among the first settlers in Cobourg. His father fought in the Fenian raids.

They have two surviving children, three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Mr. Ash is the only surviving member of a family of nine; Mrs. Ash's sister, Mrs. William Patterson, now 97, lives in Calgary. Mrs. Ash's parents both reached 90, and Mr. Ash's mother was in her 90's when she died.

in Peterborough. An Orange Lodge was organized by Ben Beresford in northern Smith in 1833, meeting at a house on the river bank; later they moved to Lakefield and in 1848 obtained a warrant as Beresford LOL No. 122. The same period produced the so-called "Cavan Blazers," and for the same reasons, but as most of their recorded exploits took place 1850-70, they will be described later.

Crime

The Peterborough newspapers gave many more interesting items than can be mentioned here. The "Backwoodsman and Sentinel," 1850, felt better road and water transport to Port Hope would increase property values 25 per cent. The "Gazette," November, 1845, mentioned a meeting of the Court of Quarter-Sessions for three days with "two criminal and four civil cases, all minor." One case involved the theft of some harness; again a reward was offered for someone who had desecrated gravestones in the Protestant cemetery. In August, 1846, an item appeared about "an atrocious outrage in Otonabee . . . Daniel Hoolahan was found dead on the road . . . his countenance disfigured by blows," and John Leslie and Wm. Reynolds were held for trial; the ending of this episode is not noted.

In 1846-1847 there was an epidemic of ague and fever from Rice to Sturgeon Lakes, due to the raising of water levels, and among many victims were the three elder Langtons; the other Langtons moved to Peterborough this year; and the Traills moved from the Scotch Village to Gore's Landing, the new hamlet on Rice Lake. In 1847, 5,400 Irish emigrants mostly diseased and destitute, were dumped ashore at Cobourg by unscrupulous ship captains; many of these come north into Colborne District, bringing plague and fever. Two of the victims were Hon. T. Stewart, who had recently been collecting funds for the relief of Ireland, and Dr. J. Hutchison, who tended many of the sufferers.

Only Half Lived

The 1840s were a period of progress toward security, yet 90 per cent still were engaged in farming, living in log cabins dependent on fireplaces for heating and cooking, on home-made candles for lighting, making their own clothes, tools, soap, food, etc. Only a few were yet wealthy enough to build frame houses, buy "Yankee stoves" and "newfangled oil lamps"; Anne Langton complained on one occasion that brother John could find no lamp oil or candles in Peterborough and Cobourg, and only one box of soap. Most homes had only a book or two, but nearly always the Family Bible, in which were faithfully inscribed the numerous births. Of the children born, only half survived into adolescence, due to lack of sanitation and medical knowledge. In winter innumerable cords of wood were burned in an effort to keep warm; in spring the rains caused mud everywhere, resulting in pleurisy and pneumonia, since there were then no galoshes, rubbers or umbrellas; in summer came the flies and mosquitoes in hordes, bringing ague, malaria, and typhoid. We can understand the tales of "'super-men" in pioneer days, as only the hardiest survived to maturity. The District census 1848 recorded 13 deaf mutes, 15 blind, and 16 of unsound mind; in the whole District there were no hospitals, sanitoria, homes for the aged, public libraries, and other modern necessities. Yet as frontier self-sufficiency yielded to the demands of commerce, the lives of the people gradually became healthier and more comfortable. As one example, drinking declined with the development of temperance societies, although somewhat delayed by the lumber industry. With the building of churches, the establishment of agricultural societies and other clubs and lodges, and the beginnings of team sports, the excess energy of the people was diverted into healthier activities.

Wages, Prices

Wages and prices reflected the living standards of the people in the 1840s. Per diem the wages were: For a mason $1.50, blacksmith $1, carpenter 80-90c, laborer 50-75c; cradling wheat brought $1 a day in harvest-time, but a common reaper got only 50c. Typical prices were: (1) FOOD—Turkeys 50-75c each, chickens 25-35c each, eggs 12-15c a dozen, butter 10-15c lb., beef 4c lb., pork 5c lb., ham 12c lb., mutton 6c lb., lamb 8c lb., tea 90c lb., coffee 25c lb., salt 2½c lb ($4 bbl.), rice 10c lb., raisins 25c lb., candy (horehound, licorice, peppermint, etc.) 25c lb., cheese 10c lb., oatmeal 4c lb. ,flour 4c lb. ($3 cwt.), bread 20c loaf (for the rare person who did not bake bread). (2) PRODUCE — Per bushel, wheat 80c-$1, timothy seed $1, onions $10 ((first recorded 1848), rye 75c, barley 70c, beans $1.20, peas 50-60c, potatoes 35-45c, oats 25-45c, hay $10 to $18 a ton. (3) CLOTHING—Coat $7.50, fur cap $3.50, cap 30-40c, straw hat 25c, handkerchief 25-30c, boots $2-$3 a pair, shoepacks 90c a pair, mittens $1 a pair, gloves 90c a pair, trousers $4 a pair, shawl 90c, blankets $3-$4 a pair, cotton 20-40c yard; linen 90-95c yard, home-made flannel 75c yard. (4) HOUSEHOLD GOODS—Razor $1, bakepan 60c, pot 45c, pail 25c, broom 30c, spoon 6c, candle-mold 20c, candlestick 50c, candles 7c lb., nails 8c lb. (5) WORKING NEEDS—Wagon $65, horse $60, ox $30, trace-chains 35c each, axe $2-$4, scythe $1, scythe with cradle $1.65, drawing knife $1.50, shovel $1.50, shingles $1 a bundle, horse-blanket $1.50, birchbark canoe $5, tobacco 20-25c lb., whisky 15c quart. Very little cash was used in store-trading; the farmer traded a bushel of grain for certain amounts of various necessities, and his wife traded her butter and eggs for her cloth or tea; the storekeeper controlled barter rates, and could make money on his account-books, but when it came to collecting hard cash, he often was "credit poor."

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Traits that Appeal Before Wedding May Appal Later

IF many of the qualities that look so alluring to a man in a woman before marriage wear a different aspect in his eyes after marriage, so also do women discover that the traits of character that were fascinating in a lover are often unbearable in a husband.

For instance, there is the caveman stuff. There are mighty few women who don't fall for that. If every maiden got her heart's desire, she would be wooed with a club and dragged by the hair of her head to the altar by a determined he-man who married her despite her protests, real or pretended. She longs to be dominated. She is thrilled by being ordered about by a man who is big and strong and ruthless and who makes her jump when he tells her just where she gets off.

Dorothy Dix

Good. But not so good after marriage. Masterful men are interesting figures in fiction, but they are a pain in the neck around the home. Intelligent, educated women who have held down good jobs before marriage don't take kindly to being bossed about by husbands who treat them as if they were feeble-minded girl babies.

Hate To Ask

Nor do they relish having to ask husband's permission to go to see Mother, or play bridge on Wednesday afternoon. And they simply see red when their tyrants supervise the amount of lipstick they use and pick out their clothes. Perhaps you have noticed that when a woman says, "I'll have to ask my husband if I can do this or that," she always grits her teeth. That is the curse she is putting on her strong-man dream.

Another quality that few girls can resist in a man is sentiment. They adore the man who "understands women" and all the queer impulses that motivate them; who always sends violets because they are the color of their eyes, or lilies because they match their souls, and who makes love in beautiful romantic language on a moonlight night with sobbing music in the distance, instead of blurting out something that sounds like a proposal while they are dodging traffic in the middle of the day on a crowded street.

But after marriage there is no percentage to a wife in her husband understanding women too well and knowing when they cry for grief or just to get their own way, or because they are simply bound to have a new fur coat. Likewise, the wife soon finds out that when a man has a gift for love-making it is like any other talent. He is never happy unless he is using it, and he doesn't waste much of it on his wife. The great lovers of history were none of them renowned for their domesticity. It is the wife who had to help her husband propose who doesn't have to always be looking after her fences and keeping them painted.

Then there are the playboys who seem the answer to a maiden's prayer for a husband. They have such a keen line that a girl feels that one of them would make a simply thrilling fireside companion. Always the newest story and the best joke. And wouldn't it be grand to be married to a man who was a good dancer and always ready to go out and who wouldn't have to be dragged to places the way Mother does Father?

Marriage Is Serious

But, alas, when you get married the party is over, and you have to settle down to work and the playboy still wants to play and spend his money on good times instead of paying the butcher. And when the babies come he still steps out and leaves wife to spend her evenings by her lonesome. Somehow gaiety and lightheartedness and carefulness in a man don't make a hit with a wife that they did with a sweetheart. Women are funny that way.

Then there is the go-getter, the man who is wrapped up in his business. He looks like a safe bet to a girl. She figures it out that, while he may be a little short on romance, he is long on dependability and she will never have to worry about him after any other woman except the one on the dollar.

But after marriage a husband's absorption in business doesn't seem as shining a virtue as it did before and, no matter how profitable the enterprise, a woman who is interested in the cultural things of life gets fed up on listening to all the details of the grocery trade or the stock market, and as she yawns her head off she wonders why she ever thought a cash register would make a parlor ornament.

Then there are the men who appeal to women by being good sons until their wives find they can never cut Mother's apron strings. Or by their weaknesses until their wives get tired of picking them out of the gutter, or supporting lazy loafers, or keeping philanderers from wandering, and give it up and spend the remainder of their lives wondering what they ever saw in the men they married that made them do it.

Woman Sponsors Cairo Hospital For Animal Care

By GILBERT SEDBON

CAIRO —(Reuters)— A frail, grey-haired Englishwoman comes to Egypt yearly to inspect the work which for 15 years has been her main preoccupations—the care and welfare of animals.

Her annual visit to Egypt is a busy time for Mrs. Geoffrey Brooke, wife of Maj.-Gen. Geoffrey Brooke. She spends much of her time at the Brooke Hospital at Sayeda Zeinab, a suburb of Cairo. During the last 15 years 10,000 horses, mules and donkeys have received veterinary treatment here.

The Brooke Hospital is not only an institution it is a tradition —and a proud one. The poor, who would otherwise be unable to have attention for their diseased and injured animals (often an important help in earning their living), can obtain advice and treatment.

It all started with Mrs. Brooke's interest in old war horses.

When she visited Egypt in 1931 Mrs. Brooke began making inquiries about the thousands of horses, veterans of the Palestine campaign, sold in Egypt at the end of the First World War.

She discovered many were owned by men too poor to feed such large animals, that nearly all were at heavy work unsuitable to their age and training. Numbers had perished miserably diseased, debilitated, exhausted.

Bought 4,500 Horses

Mrs. Brooke acted vigorously. About 4,500 of the old horses were bought with money raised by her appeals. She assured them peace and comfort during their last days.

Thus began the old war horse memorial hospital. Four years later, the Brooke Hospital was born.

No injured or sick animal of a poor owner is ever refused admittance, day or night. Complaints range from severe acid burns—the result of carelessness in transporting quicklime or sulphuric acid—to flop ears in young donkeys. Ignorant owners frequently sew the flopping ears of donkeys together in an effort to straighten them.

Open-Air Clinics

Doctors Murad and Yussef, have been conducting the open-air clinic for more than a decade. They give on-the-spot commonsense advice to owners.

One of the pleasant sections of the hospital is the maternity block. Here mares may be brought to foal and enjoy four weeks' rest and good feeding.

As no facilities exist for laboratory examination and identification of organisms found in wounds, the veterinary college of Fuad Awal University, Cairo, undertakes this work. Recently a number of Egyptian students have been attending the hospital to gain veterinary experience.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

A letter from New Haven reads as follows:

"Recently bot hsides needed fifty only but the discard pile was frozen from the start, and no one melded at all for several rounds. Finally, I made an unfortunate discard and the next player took the discard pile and made several melds including one canasta.

"My partner failed to meld anything and the next player completed one more canasta, built a couple of melds up to six of a kind, and discarded. My hand was joker-ace-ace-ace-king-king-king-7-2-2-2. I drew another ace and promptly melded out concealed. My partner had nothing to say, but both opponents criticized me severely for melding out without giving my partner a chance to put some meld down.

"I contended that if I waited even one round, they would be likely to make one or two more canastas and that would cost us more than we could gain by my partner melding. What do you think?"

I think that my correspondent did exactly the right thing. Her opponents had melded but still had plenty of cards in their hands. The chances were that they could complete at least one more canasta if they had any way of suspecting someone was about to go out and get the hand over with. Hence, the correct play was to go right out and end the hand.

Of course, if the New Haven lady had some means of telling her partner to meld, without warning her opponents of the situation, then she should not have gone out. Unfortunately there was no such way available. If she asked, "Partner, may I go out?" her opponents would know the situation.

If she made the canasta in aces, melded the three kings and held up one deuce, her opponents would not know that she was able to go out for sure, but they would know that she would surely have a chance to go right out. Hence, they would meld everything they could anyway.

Finally, I think things are getting into a pretty state of confusion when opponents start doing the criticizing. In a partnership game, there are plenty of instances where a player will criticize his partner. Such criticism may be given in such manner as not to disrupt the happy home, assuming the partners are married and may often prove constructive and valuable. However, when one side starts criticizing the other, it is time to call a halt.

Missionary

mountain sides for fuel. When they travel they pack their belongings on donkeys or yamas and trudge behind them on foot.

Although some of these Indians are quite artistic, the only time that they display their wares are at huge festivals that are held at frequent intervals through the year. Miss Woodcock has brought some very interesting samples of their work back with her. As well as excellent leather and clay work, they make colorful sweaters and woollen goods. These goods are not knitted, but rather woven.

"The women do a great deal of this work while they are tending the animals," explained Miss Woodcock.

A great many interesting adventures, trips and experiences were recounted by Miss Woodcock. On one occasion she and another missionary were staying at a remote Indian settlement when a young boy had his hand blown off by a small dynamite stick. These sticks are used at all the festivals, and the lad had set fire to it while playing. "There was no doctor within miles and the two of us had to clean the wound, cut off all the hanging flesh and crushed bone and bandage it as best we could. We treated him every day and fortunately no infection set in. The lad was back in school in a month."

Communists Busy

"Bolivia is a democracy with a president at the head of the government," stated Miss Woodcock. Despite the fact that there have been numerous uprisings in the last few years, the government is doing an excellent job according to the missionary. She claimed that most of the trouble is caused by Communists who go about stirring up the ignorant Indians to rebel.

Arriving in Peterborough on Thursday, Miss Woodcock's boat docked in Brooklyn on Wednesday. The boat she travelled on left Antofogasta, Chile, on Aug. 6. This is the second time that Miss Woodcock has been home since she went to Bolivia, eight years ago. The first time she returned was four years ago.

"I haven't had much opportunity to see if Peterborough has changed since my last visit," commented Miss Woodcock. "I hope to return to the same district in Bolivia and continue my work there at the end of a year. In the meantime, I hope to do some studying. One of the things I intend to look into, is auto-mechanics. When you are stranded in the middle of nowhere, it is very useful to know how to handle any type of car trouble that might occur. I also hope to be able to take a jeep back with me for travelling."

During the interview with Miss Woodcock at her mother's home, 57 Aylmer St., telephone calls and visits from friends and relatives brought continual interruptions. "I only hope that I can get unpacked sometime," was her parting remark.

Return To Jobs

LONDON, Sept. 2 (Reuters) About 1,500 London gas workers who went o nstrike Friday for more pay decided to return to their jobs Monday—but said they would not work overtime. The men, maintenance workers at 21 gas works, are complaining about delay by the state-controlled gas council in answering their claim for another four pence an hour.

LONDON, Sept. 2 (Reuters).—Labor Minister George Isaacs has ordered a court of inquiry set up to settle the London printing trades strike. More than 3,000 compositors are on strike over an overtime dispute. Production of weekly periodicals is affected.

Long Weekend At Labor Day Popular Holiday

By The Canadian Press

Canadians this weekend will take advantage of the last "long weekend" of the summer months to take part in parades, picnics, meetings, and sporting events.

The occasion? The first Monday in September—the 57th celebration of Labor Day.

Although all sections of the populace take advantage of the holiday, it is still organized labor which takes the initiative in parades, meetings and speech-making. With about 1,000,000 members of labor unions in Canada today, there will be many spectacular doings.

It is this family-holiday spirit that sets the North American labor holiday apart from its European counterpart, whose very name carries pictures of riots and violence—May Day. Even back in the 1880's when a movement was afoot for a statutory labor holiday in North America, May 1 had unsavory political overtones.

The knights of labor, an American organization which disappeared about 1894, started the movement towards a national holiday. Demonstrations in New York, later in Toronto and Montreal, developed into parliamentary issues.

First in 1894

Largely due to the work of Canadian-born Alexander W. Wright, editor of the Knights of Labor Journal, the United States established the first Monday in September as Labor Day—the first one in 1894. Wright argued for the September date, partly due to antagonism towards the political implications of May Day, partly because we generally have better weather at this time of year.

Wright came back to Canada that same year and lobbied in Ottawa for his dream. He obtained a sizable backing from members and then proceeded to talk Prime Minister Sir John Thompson into personally introducing and pushing through the bill.

The bill was passed in 1894, making Sept. 1 the offical Labor Day. The idea of the long weekend was strong, however, and the date was later changed to the first Monday in the month.

Mixed with the festive atmosphere this weekend will be some tragedy. Last year 48 Canadians died violent deaths on Labor Day; in 1948 there were 32 deaths.

But the worker who will have a chance to be with his family and friends and to remind Canada of what he has done for her would sooner be docked a day's pay then lose "his" day of the year.

To Up Electric Power In East End Cobourg

COBOURG, Sept. 2 (ENS). — The low voltage for the east of Cobourg will soon be stepped up to bring it on a par with the higher voltage prevailing in the west end. When days were dull and lights were on, citizens have complained that electric toasters were not hot enough and refrigerator motors were slow to start up.

Power voltage last year was increased in the west end of the town and plans have been laid to boost it in the east end. This is expected ti put an end to the complaints of east end residents of inadequate current potential during peak load periods.

Friends Honor Family Moving To Havelock

NORWOOD, Sept. 2 (ENS). — A surprise party of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Would, on Wednesday evening, for a social hour before the couple move to Havelock. Mr. Would has spent 30 years in this neighborhood.

An address was read and Mr. and Mrs. Would were presented with an electric lamp. Miss Jean Would was given a compact and Blythe Would a lighter from friends and neighbors.

Lunch was served and an enjoyable evening spent.

Apsley News

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Scott (nee Dora Whitmore) and daughter Madeline of Brandon Man. left for home Friday after visiting relatives here.

Mr. Elgin Newberry of Toronto is visiting his brother Don and Mrs. Newberry.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Fredenburg of California are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Lean, and daughters Mrs. Young and Mary are holidaying at Jack's Lake and visiting at the home of his twin brother, Jim, and other relatives.

Scottish Dishes Delight Visitors Seeing Festival

EDINBURGH — (Reuters) — Music is not the only delight begin savored by visitors to the Edinburgh Festival.

As side attractions, they have bannocks, smokies, brose, kale, stovies and forfar bridies.

These are lesser-known cousins to the more published Scottish table delicacies, the haggis an the cockieleekie.

Edinburgh is providnig them to tickle visiting palates—and judging by the comment, this fare is causing almost as much delight as the festival events themselves.

Reigning over all is the haggis, most devastating of all puddings, consisting of oatmeal, onions, herbs, meat and other ingredients known only to the Scots, sewn up in a sheep's stomach and resembling a bomb.

Close behind come the bannocks —man-sized oatcakes" with a flavor all their own. Edinburgh tables groan with them.

Then come the forfar bridies—semi-circular pastries packed with minced beef and onions—a sort of Scottish hamburger, only heavier.

Seekers After Truth

The knowing Edinburgher can direct the seeker after truth to a quiet place where he can absorb a plate of cockileekie (soup made from a fowl cooked with leeks).

Then there is brose—that stern breakfast food which makes porridge look like baby-food. Brose consists of raw meal, topped by a knob of butter, over which boiling water or milk has been poured.

Some local wiseacres declare themselves ready to initiate the Sassenach into the dark mysteries of kale-brose, in which a rich vegetable soup takes the place of milk.

And quite a few private families have delightful overseas guests by throwing a dinner with sheep's head broth — once described by an authority as "a deal of fine, confused feeding."

For smokies (haddock darkly smoked, with the flesh left snow white, and bearing no resemblance to the finnan haddie) visitors are sending to Arbroath, home of this delicacy, for supplies.

Stovies, a rich mess of boiled potatoes and meat, are again delicacies that must be sought among friends. They do not figure on restaurant menus.

Ice Revue To Practise In Cobourg Arena

COBOURG, Sept. 2—(ENS)—An ice revue featuring Canadian professional skaters has signed a contract with the board of management of the recreational centre for use of the artificial ice rink.

They will rehearse the first three weeks of this month and will produce a two-night show toward the latter part of September. Eileen Seigh, internationally-known skater, has been signed for the show and the rest of the cast will consist mainly of members of the former Barbara Ann Scott show Canadian tour.

Jerry Rehfield, who was partner of Barbara Ann Scott on the tour of her show last year, is a featured performer of the new show and also one of the promoters. After the Cobourg initial appearance of the new ice revue, it will go on tour.

Noisy Trains Back Residents Sleep Again

COBOURG, Sept. 2 (ENS) — A diesel rolling through on the CNR at 6.10 Thursday morning was the first sign of life on the tracks since the railway employees went on strike.

During the day trains began to pass in greater frequency and things began to take on pre-strike activity. Some residents who live only about 50 yards from the tracks, said they found it hard to get to sleep the first night of the strike because of unaccustomed silence.

Local factories, which were beginning to feel the effects of the strike through threatened shortage of supplies and difficulty in getting shipments out, welcomed the resumption of railway traffic.

Archie Clysdale Judges Cattle

The wide experience of Archie Clysdale of Peterborough in the breeding and management of Hereford cattle is being significantly recognized by directors of Ontario fairs and exhibitions this season.

He judged the Hereford class at the Ottawa Central Exhibition Aug. 22 and he has a similar assignment at the CNE, Toronto, next Tuesday. He has also been engaged to judge Herefords at Lindsay Exhibition, and at Barrie Fair.

It should be of interest to junior farmers of today to know that Mr. Clysdale was one of the four Peterborough boys on the team selected and coached by the late Prof. A. D. Runions for the junior judging competition in the livestock classes at the Royal Winter Fair in 1936.

His associates were Clare Lean, Charlie and Stuart Whittington. This Peterborough team captured first honors in that provincial contest at the Royal. Since then Mr. Clysdale was for years manager of the nationally known Old Orchard Farm herd of Herefords that was established by John Stuart Jr.

Mr. Clysdale was judge of the Herefords at the recent Lakefield Fair.

Canada's Military Role In North Atlantic May Be Increased Soon

Dominion Can Be Proud of Korean Effort Pearson Tells Commons

3 Quebec Members Battle Special Brigade

OTTAWA, Sept. 5—(CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said Monday that Canada's military role in the defence of the North Atlantic area may be increased because of Korea. But he said he couldn't elaborate because the subject now is under negotiation. He threw out that hint in a rebuttal to Progressive Conservative attacks on the scope and speed of Canada's Korean effort, and on the government's use of some $1,500,000,000 voted for defence since the war.

Canada may be proud of her Korean effort, he said, speaking in a Throne-speech debate that saw the number of Quebec members who openly have opposed the dispatch of Canada's special army force to Korea rise to three. Two others have backed the move.

The three opponents are Henri Courtemanche (PC-Labelle), P. E. Gagnon (Ind.-Chicoutimi) and Dr. Raoul Poulin ( Ind.-Beauce). Mr. Courtemanche's stand contrasted with that of his party, which has generally taken the line that Canada's Korean effort has been too small and too late.

Leon Balcer (PC-Trois-Rivieres) and Maurice Boisvert (L-Nicolet-Yamaska) supported the raising and dispatch of the force.

The opponents said it raises the prospect of conscription and of Canada's involvement in another world war catastrophe.

Replies To Criticism

Mr. Pearson's second appearance in the throne-speech debate, which may end today, was engendered after criticism by John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) and Howard Green (PC-Vancouver-Quadra) on defence matters and by Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) on price controls and Canada's economic aid to backward countries.

Mr. Pearson said the 12 pact powers are working out plans to meet aggression against any one of them.

Canada's contribution, too, was being worked out. It would be announced after it was known, but was difficult to discuss it at this stage.

It was possible, however, to say

Russian Plane Shot Down By U.N. Forces

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—The United States announced today that a plane marked with the red star of Russia was shot down Monday after attacking United Nations naval forces off Korea.

In an unusual flurry of post-midnight activity, the State Department called the incident to the attention of the U.N., under whose flag U.S. and other forces are fighting off the Communist invasion of South Korea.

It was the first time the United States had charged direct Russian participation in the fighting around Korea.

(In Tokyo, both British and American officials said they knew nothing of the official announcement in Washington. A British aircraft carrier and supporting units are operating off the Korean west coast, but British naval officials said the incident had not been reported to Tokyo.)

The state department said the bomber "identified only by bearing a red star" passed over one of the outer ships in a U.N. formation and headed toward the centre "in a hostile manner."

"The bomber opened fire upon a United Nations fighter patrol which returned its fire and shot it down.

"A United Nations destroyer succeeded in picking up the body of one member of the bomber crew. Identification papers indicated that the body was that of Lieut. Mishin Tennadii Vasilebiu of the armed forces of the USSR, serial No. 25054."

Lord Hay Grabs Queen's Bouquet

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Sept. 5 (AP)—Lord Hay, son of the Countess of Erroll, purloined the Queen's bouquet here Monday and he kept it after a sharp psychological skirmish.

The noble lord is two.

He pounced on the posies as the queen set them down during greeting ceremonies at an historical exhibition.

He resolutely refused to give them up despite rebukes from his nurse and the countess, who as hereditary high constable, holds "supreme jurisdiction in all matters of assault and riot within four miles of the sovereign's person in Scotland."

But Queen Elizabeth was equal to the crisis.

"Keep it, dear," she said.

"Bye-bye, pretty lady," said Lord Hay.

2 Gunmen Loot Safe Get Several Thousands

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 5 (CP)—Loot estimated at several thousand dollars was obtained early today from Table Rock House by two masked gunmen who tied up the watchman and blew open the safe.

The safecrackers smashed a door and two windows to enter the cashier's office on the ground floor. They used nitroglycerine to blow the safe, believed to have contained Labor Day week-end receipts.

The 62-year-old caretaker, Roy Boyle, investigating the noise from the office, was tied up with fish-line. Later, he broke free and phoned police.

A Rough Trip

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 5—(CP)—Five of six U.S. naval reserve planes cracked up here Monday night. None of the pilots was injured. The planes were flying non-stop from Columbus, O., to Pensacola, Fla., when they ran into bad weather and the Squadron Leader decided to bring the flight into the Atlanta Naval air base. The first plane landed and blew a tire. It collided on the runway with the second plane. A third plane crashed into a fire truck. The fourth plane nosed over. When the fifth plane ran out of gas, the pilot parachuted safely.

80 MPH Gales Scream Across Florida

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 5 — (AP).—The screaming winds of a tropical hurricane bore down on mainland cities today, toppling trees and sending residents scurrying for storm shelters as its centre crossed the coastline from the Gulf of Mexico at Cedar Keys 52 miles south-west of Gainesville.

Heaviest winds reported were 75 to 80 miles an hour at Cedar Keys, where the storm started inland.

The erratic storm left a 50-mile stretch of resort coastline damaged and soggy.

Tides to eight feet higher than normal swept the resort area from Clearwater to Sarasota, washing out roads, toppling a beachfront house, sinking a few small boats, putting a tug into distress and piling sea water like lakes around homes and hotels.

Wind Subsides

Police at Cedar Keys reported by radio that the wind was beginning to subside six hours after the first hurricane force gusts.

The beaches around St. Petersburg were hard hit by a raging surf. At least 17 cottages and two concrete buildings were destroyed at picturesque Indian Rocks, a beach resort village 10 miles south of Clearwater. Wind-driven tides were eight feet higher than normal.

The slow movement of the storm—about eight miles an hour toward the northwest—would make its march across the state nerve-rackingly slow. The storm has been erratic since its birth in the Caribbean five days ago, and forecasters watched it for other possible tricks.

Residents hurried from low-lying Gulf coast areas Monday night and battened down farther inland.

Fly Warnings

Hurricane warnings flew north of Daytona Beach to Savannah, Ga., and northeast storm warnings were up north of Charleston to Cape Hatteras.

Gaining momentum as it neared the coastline, it whirled toward the centre of the state at 16 miles an hour, leaving high tides and rough seas in its wake.

Forecaster Norton said the Tampa Bay area could expect tides as much as eight feet above normal.

500 Killed Across US During Long Holiday

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (AP)—More than 500 persons were killed in violent accidents in the United States during the Labor Day holiday—one of the biggest tolls on record.

Traffic fatalities were under the predicted total, but as usual the heaviest toll was in motor mishaps.

A country-wide survey showed 512 killed in accidents from 6 p.m., (local time) Friday to Monday midnight — a period of 78 hours. This figure was less than the record-breaking toll of 550 over last Labor Day, but more than the previous high record of 428 in 1937.

Acquit Three Detectives In Bank Hold-up Inquiry

MONTREAL, Sept. 5 —(CP)—Chief Judge Edouard Archambault today acquitted two Quebec Provincial Police detectives and a former detective on charges of conspiring to commit bank hold-ups.

Exonerated were Lieut. Marcel Patenaude, chief of the Provincial Police hold-up squad; Det. Sgt. Gaston Archambault and former Det. Paul Hervieux.

The three were charged specifically with having conspired with Charles Emile Poliquin, 28, to commit robberies in rural banks. Poliquin was the principal prosecution witness.

The 30,000-word judgement termed Poliquin's accusations against the officers as "a conspiracy to discredit the whole Provincial Police force unjustly."

The judge branded the tape recordings as "forgeries" and ruled they were, in any case, inadmissible in law.

Poliquin is slated to go on trial Thursday on a charge of perjury arising out of the conspiracy hearing and is awaiting sentence on charge of armed robbery at St. Hugues, Que., to which he pleaded guilty.

O Poliquin's attempt to implicate Hervieux and Archambault in the St. Paul incident, the judge said:

"The abundant lyings and perjuries of Poliquin.... have reduced to naught his version of the event, a version in itself so fantastic and cynical that it is not believable...."

Of the St. Hugues robbery: "It is evident that we cannot place any faith in the word of Poliquin and Berthe Galipault (Poliquin's girl friend). The theft of St. Hugues was carried out by Poliquin alone and proof shows that he planned it alone...."

Reds Crack North Arm U N Forces

Whole Northern Front Threatened By Breakthrough

TOKYO, Sept. 5—(AP)—Red Koreans cracked the northeastern arm of the 120-mile warfront tonight and threatened all allied forces dug in the mud on the north.

AP correspondent Ben Price reported that the break in the centre of the Allied right flank near the Korean east coast had developed into a dangerously fluid threat that could force withdrawal of the whole northern front.

Price said Allied troops were digging in high ground about 2½ miles north of the important road junction of Kyongju on the coastal road from Pohang port to Pusan, main Allied harbor on the southeastern tip of the peninsula.

The Associated Press writer said Allied troops were preparing to defend high ground west of the Kyongju-Pohang highway linking northern front forces with Taegu, major base in the northwest corner of the Allied defence perimeter.

Wide Breakthrough

A U.S. Eighth Army communique said the North Korean breakthrough was wide and by a force of unknown strength. The communique said the main penetrations were at Kigye, nine miles northwest of Pohang, and across the Pohang - Yongchon road, which connects Taegu with the east coast.

On other fronts Allied troops held or advanced and took a heavy toll of the North Koreans.

A slashing rain blotted out normal Allied air support of ground troops all along the winding battleline, which runs from the east coast 45 miles to Waegwan and then turns south to the coast.

Twelve miles north of Taegu the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division pulled out of a walled hill-top citadel near Tabu under North Korean fire.

U.S. Marines and the 2nd infantry division assaulted "no name" ridge 32 miles directly south of imperiled Taegu.

On the extreme southern anchor of the long battle line, the U.S. 25th division annihilated what was called a sizeable force of Reds trapped west of Masan, port city 27 airline miles west of Pusan.

Serious Threat

The eastern sector ground fighting was called a serious threat to Taegu by a Tokyo spokesman for Gen. MacArthur.

In that bitter struggle, an integral part of the five-day Red drive on all fronts, American and South Korean troops attacked Angang, a no-man's-land south of Pohang, main allied east coast port above Pusan.

Associated Press correspondent Ben Price reported counter-attacking United Nations troops on Tuesday checked the North Korean drive toward Kyongju five

British Ports Tighten Security

LONDON, Sept. 5. (Reuters)—Security precautions at British ports are being increased, a survey showed today.

The Port of London, world's largest harbor with its 69 miles of river and 44 miles of deep-water docks, is conducting a big security drive.

A closer check is being made daily on dock passes carried by visitors, passengers, seamen and dock workers, port officials said.

At Southampton, the Cunard White Star Company has banned visits to the Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary.

The transport ministry has warned every major port in the country to check its security arrangements and see that they are "sufficient."

Recent alleged sabotage attempts on British naval vessels and the outbreak of fighting in Korea are believed to be among the causes of the security tightening-up.

13 Holidayers Killed In Plane Crash

UTICA, NY, Sept. 5 — (AP)—Charred wreckage strewn over a farm pasture was all that remained today of a DC-3 airliner that carried 13 persons to their deaths Monday. Ten injured holiday travellers were in hospitals.

The Robinson Airlines plane crashed into tree-tops and burst into flames about two minutes after taking off from nearby Oneida Airport. It was bound for Newark, NJ.

A family of five and the three-man crew were among those killed.

Witnesses said the pilot, Capt. Harold Carter, apparently tried to bring his disabled plane down for an emergency landing. But the craft hit the frees, caught fire, and plunged to the ground.

One witness said a wing dug into the ground and the plane appeared to spin around on it as it plowed across the field. The left wing was torn off.

Four Thrown Out

Four persons were thrown out as the plane hit. Three crawled through escape hatches and the passers-by pulled other survivors from the flaming wreckage.

It was reported unofficially that a piston of one engine blew about 30 seconds after it left the ground. The plane was too low to return to the field.

Just one seat was empty when the ill-fated airliner took off with 20 passengers, including homeward-bound vacationists and seven servicemen. That empty seat belonged to Ernest Kapps of Rome, NY, who got to the airport five minutes late.

Commandos In Civies Airborne For Korea

LONDON, Sept. 5 (Reuters)—Royal Marine Commandos, dressed as civilians, were Korea-bound today in specially-chartered planes to join in the fighting.

The last party left London on Monday night in a four-engined British Overseas Airways passenger plane.

The fighters, Britain's tougest, wore civilian clothes to comply with international regulations when the planes touch down in foreign airports for refueling.

Three Firemen Injured Fighting Montreal Blaze

MONTREAL, Sept. 5—(CP)—A three-alarm fire which blazed furiously for two hours Monday night gutted a six-storey commercial building in downtown Montreal, causing damage estimated at more than $250,000. Three firemen were injured in the fire which still burned early today. Only one person—the janitor identified only as Munro—was reported in the building when the first alarm was sounded at 9.25 p.m. He escaped from his top-floor room shortly after the outbreak.

The fire centred in the Victoria Chambers building on downtown McGill Street and at times threatened to spread to two adjoining structures. The other two buildings suffered extensive smoke and water damage. About 20 business firms were affected.

Huge sheets of flame, aided by a 15-mile-an-hour wind, shot upwards from the four upper storeys as thick black smoke covered Montreal's financial district.

250 Firefighters

More than 250 men from 18 fire stations fought the flames with 42 streams.

Fire Director Raymond Pare said the fire, of unknown origin, started in the basement of the building below Childs' restaurant occupant of the first floor.

The fire was the second in the old building in eight months. A two-alarm blaze last January caused $50,000 damage.

Flames shot rapidly up through the open staircase and elevator shaft engulfing the stone structure within minutes.

Deny Sabotage On Cruise Ships

OTTAWA, Sept. 5 — (CP). — The preliminary investigation into the burning of the Canada Steamship Lines cruise ship Quebec at Tadoussac, Que., has been completed and there is no evidence of sabotage or suspicious circumstances, informed officials here said today.

Transport Minister Chevrier, questioned about Quebec reports of evidence linking sabotage in fires aboard the Quebec and the Noronic at Toronto last September, said he knew of no such evidence.

Other Ottawa sources, including a Royal Canadian Mounted Police spokesman, termed the reports incorrect.

Attlee Warns Trade Unions Purge Reds Within Ranks

BRIGHTON, England, Sept. 5—(AP) — Prime Minister Attlee warned the 8,000,000-member Trades Union Congress today to beware of Communists in its ranks.

Attlee called upon the union delegates at their annual conference for "constant watchfulness" against followers of the Russian line. He added:

"To defeat the fanaticism of the Communist, we need in every member of the great labor movement a constant realization of the ideals for which we stand, the constant determination of very individual to do his or her utmost to build a kind of society we want.

"The danger in democracies comes from indifference, and from leaving the work to be done to the other fellow."

At Monday's opening session, trades union delegates booed and cheered a denunciation of "Soviet Imperialist aggression" by Alex Rose, of New York, representing the American Federation of Labor.

The Communists still hold some high office in British unions although the TUC purged the Reds from its executive council about a year ago. Since then it has been trying to oust them from union posts.

Attlee said the Communist attack in Korea had necessitated that Britain undertake her new three-year, £3,400,000,000 defence program if the United States will help foot the bill.

He repeated his frequent warning that the defence program would mean sacrifices.

Attlee again acknowledged the postwar aid received by Britain from Canada and the United States.

Will Present Proposals This Session

Want Tax Adjustment To Pay For Defence, Cut Down Inflation

OTTAWA, Sept. 5—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott told the Commons today he expects he will propose some tax changes at this session of parliament.

Mr. Abbott gave no details in replying to a question from Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre).

At the House opening, Mr. Knowles asked the Finance Minister if any tax changes were to be proposed at this session.

Mr. Abbott replied merely that he anticipated he would have "some proposals."

Reports Current

Reports that the government would seek tax adjustments have been current for several days, since the government disclosed it was going to undertake anti-inflation measures and boost Canada's defence spending to a peacetime high.

It has been suggested that tax changes would have the dual purpose of combatting inflation by draining off purchasing power and raising revenue for the expanded defence budget.

Non-Confidence Vote

Meanwhile the Commons voted 145 to 59 today against a Progressive Conservative motion of non-confidence in the government.

The motion, sponsored by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, charged the government with having "failed to provide adequately for the defence of Canada" and with having "failed to take steps to deal with inflation and the rapidly rising cost of living."

It was moved during debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. The debate ended with adoption of the address "on division"—without a formally recorded vote.

King To Visit N.Z. During 1952

LONDON, Sept. 5 (Reuters). — The King and Queen will visit Australia and New Zealand in 1952, it was learned today.

Princess Margaret may accompany her parents if other engagements permit, it was understood.

The Royal visit probably will extend from January to July. This would be as long as the one planned for 1949 when the visit was cancelled because of the King's illness.

Details of the itinerary have yet to be worked out

It was first announced in March, 1948, that the King and Queen and Princess Margaret would visit Australia and New Zealand in the early part of 1949.

November 23, 1948, it was announced from Buckingham Palace that because of illness the tour had been indefinitely postponed.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman today said "the King's medical advisers now consider him to be fully restored to health, or he would not be able to contemplate the trip."

Prime Minister Sidney Holland of New Zealand announced in Wellington that he had been asked to plan a preliminary itinerary.

Flees From Hospital Prisoner Surrenders

SIMCOE, Sept. 5—(CP)—John Henson, under arrest for attempted armed robbery, fled from a hospital room Monday night, then gave himself up a few hours later.

Shivering with cold and weak from a wound he received Aug. 26, Henson surrendered to a householder less than 100 yards from the Norfolk County General Hospital where he escaped by jumping from the ground-floor window of his room.

He had been in the hospital since Aug. 26 when he was shot in the leg during his arrest by Provincial Constable Roy Burkett. He was arrested, police said, while trying to break into a bakery.

Room Ablaze Woman Killed In 75-Ft. Leap

PORT ARTHUR, Sept 5. — A naked 35-year-old woman was fatally injured in a 75-foot plunge from her burning room on the top floor of the Prince Arthur Hotel here early Monday morning.

The woman, Mrs. Alice Bray of St. Paul, Minn., was found on the terraced lawn at the rear of the hotel at about 3:30 a.m., minutes after the fire was discovered. She was attempting to crawl on the grass when first seen, and died 30 minutes later in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Police believed the fire might have been set deliberately. Wet towels were found around the door of the room and the mattress of the bed was tilted on end, indicating that the woman had probably not been sleeping. At 12:45 this morning she ordered four packets of cigarets.

Nothing was known about Mrs. Bray other than her name and the fact that she had little baggage with her when she checked in last Friday. Dr. Charles Powell, district coroner, said an inquest would be held.

Prompt action by the hotel staff forestalled panic among the other guests in the 90-room hotel.

Child Trips On Wire Gashes Head

ROSENEATH, Sept. 5 (ENS)— On Sunday evening seven-year-old Patsy Surerus received a deep cut on her head, while playing she tripped over a wire and fell against a binder wheel. She was rushed to the office of Dr. Wilkins and Woods, Cobourg, where stitches were required to close the ugly gash.

Just two weeks previous Patsy's two-year-old brother, Barry, fell on the axe, amputating the ends of two fingers on his right hand.

GM Employees Get Increases

OSHAWA, Sept. 5— (CP) — Wage adjustments for approximately 10,000 employees of General Motors of Canada were announced today.

The company said the workers will receive increases in line with a recent rise in the cost-of-living index.

Some 8,000 hourly-rated employees will get an extra three cents an hour, effective Sept. 16. This adjustment will carry through for the rest of this year.

About 2,000 salaried employees will receive a $15 cost-of-living allowance for the period between Sept. 16 and Dec. 16.

The announcement said wages and salaries at General Motors are adjusted quarterly in line with an increase or a decrease in the cost-of-living index. The August index was 168.5, compared with the base index of 164 points below which the firm's formula does not operate. The unit of adjustment is one cent an hour for each 1.3 point fluctuation of the index.

Tweed Lad, 5 Burnt To Death

Five-year-old John Martin, of Tweed, went to his death Friday when fire broke out in his bedroom.

His mother heard the flames and rushed upstairs only to have her rescue attempt foiled by leaping flames. She threw several pails of water on the fire but it had no effect.

John had been put to bed for the night. Somehow he obtained some matches and lit fire to his bedclothes. He is believed to have become frightened and crawled beneath a bed in another room.

When firemen were able to get into the room they found the badly-seared body. He is believed to have smothered to death before the flames got him.

MORE ABOUT—
Canada's Military

"at this time, pending revision of those plans which now are under way in the light of developments since June, that it is understood that our position in regard to collective defence in an attack on western Europe would be that, on land, of using our permanent force to assist U.S. forces or to be assisted by U.S. forces in repelling a direct attack from the north and using it as a basis for the expansion of our army for a later expeditionary force to defend Canada outside of Canada."

Changes To Be Announced

"If and when that position is altered—and it may be altered in the light of developments and we may have to do other things—that change will be announced."

The North Atlantic Council of foreign ministers would meet in New York shortly "and it may well be that important decisions will be taken." Their deputies had been revising plans for supply, for strengthening forces, for mutual aid in the light of Korea. Korea had speeded plans and things now would be done well ahead of pre-June schedules.

Mr. Pearson also said:

1. If the world can maintain peace during the next 18 months "we may then have time to settle our problems even with those people behind the iron curtain." But western strength must be built fast.

2. If the army's special force doesn't go to Korea, it will go somewhere else. Canada, in forming it, it starting "something important," a move to give the United Nations forces to combat new Koreas. This step would probably be discussed by the U.N. General Assembly this month.

Investigate Policy

3. Between the time Canada was asked July 19 to send troops and her Aug. 7 decision to do so, the government was busy investigating such matters as the uses for them and United States policy towards an extension of the Korean war to Formosa and China.

4. It would be unwise to seek a military arrangement with Spain or to launch a Pacific pact.

5. Canada will do her share in building up underdeveloped areas, but it is discouraging to see some of those that need aid spending half of their budgets on defence. He named no countries when he said this.

Mr. Diefenbaker charged that Mr. Pearson and other ministers have "detoured from the truth" and said Canadians would be willing to pay more taxes for defence if they were given facts to show their money was being spent efficiently and effectively.

He proposed establishing some body such as the Hoover Commission which had investigated U.S. government methods and spending. An effective use of the Combines Invesigation Act could help fight unjust profiteering.

A dominion-provincial commission should be established at once to guide development of those natural resources needed for war. The reserve army's effectiveness should be aided by freeing its members from income tax on the service pay they get.

Want Details

The people wanted to know many things. One was just what obligations Canada had under the Atlantic Pact. Another was what had happened to the $1,500,000,000 spent on defence since 1945.

Reds Crack

miles north of that highway juncture.

But another Red column was punching westward toward Yongchon, another main highway juncture 20 miles east of Taegu.

Drive In 12 Miles

MacArthur's spokesman said the South Koreans gave some ground on the eastern sector but that they generally held firm. The Red assault, which broke through the South Korean lines Monday, carried the Communists 12½ miles into the defence perimeter.

The few allied fighters able to penetrate the rain clouds were sent to the eastern sector to aid the fighting men on the ground.

Some bombers went on a limited number of sorties.

The Reds were deeper into the allied perimeter than they had been able to penetrate before.

They have cut the Pohang-Taegu highway in force.

MacArthur's summary said regrouped defensive forces had been unable to stop the advance.

Later he reported an American and South Korean attack on Red troops near Angang. The town itself is not important but it is near high ground that commands a main road network.

Important Decision

The outcome of the battle in the east will determine who governs one of the main roads needed by the North Koreans to tighten their squeeze on Taegu, long a goal of the Reds.

MacArthur's summary said elements of the South Korean capital division were forced to withdraw south of Kigye. Presumably this referred to the Red punch Monday which thrust tank-supported columns onto the highways leading toward Kyongju and Yongchon.

Car, Truck Hit Three Killed

BARRIE, Sept. 5 (CP). —Three men were killed and another injured Monday night when the automobile in which they were riding struck a soft shoulder, careened across the highway and collided head-on with a cattle truck.

The dead are: Gordon Gillam, 24; Don Miller, 22; Stanley Ramsden, all of Mount Dennis, a Toronto suburb.

The injured man, Walter A. Petrie, 22, also of Mount Dennis, driver of the car, was charged today with manslaughter.

Existe Lantaigne, 43, of Belle Valle, near New Liskard, driver of the truck was not injured. A companion, whose name was not disclosed, also was uninjured.

Petrie suffered minor injuries and will be released from hospital today, police said.

Wide List Of Stocks Advance On Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 5 — (CP) — Vigorous demand pushed a wide list of stocks forward over a broad front in brisk dealings on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. The slight setback the market suffered Friday was wiped out as accumulated weekend orders kept trading brisk and forced prices upward.

Volume for the first three hours was 1,248,000.

Gains were predominant in the industrial groupings as refining oils, manufacturing, agriculture and steels displayed a slightly weaker tendency. Ford A and CPR slipped.

Base Metals put on a strong show after early weakness had been partially overcome. Quemont, Steep Rock, Noranda and International Nickel were among those ahead.

Bandit Slugs Cashier Collects $10,000

TORONTO, Sept. 5 (CP) — Nearly $10,000 was stolen today when a bandit slugged a loan company cashier with a flashlight and made off with the company's weekend receipts. The cashier was on his way to the bank.

Police said Samuel Stern, an employee of the Public Finance Company, was knocked unconscious. They said $1,700 in cash and $7,700 in cheques were taken.

9,000 Workers

Here are a few statistics on Peterborough labor and industry that were cited by Mayor Max Swanston speaking to the Labor Day gathering in Riverside bowl, Monday afternoon. In this city there are more than 100 industries, producing more than $100,000,000 worth of goods a year. Wages paid to some 9,000 workers total $30,000,000. Approximately 25 per cent. of the labor force in Peterborough is female.

Heavy Damage To Two

Two cars were heavily damaged Monday night when they collided at the Chemong Rd. and Highway 7. Involved were cars driven by Walter N. Baptie, Water St., and Royston S. Hicks, Lindsay. Baptie applied his brakes to stop as he approached the highway, and the other southbound vehicle struck the rear end of his car. Damage to Baptie's car is $200 and Hicks' $300. Provincial Constable Jack McKendry investigated.

$500,000 Fire Sweeps Fish Factory

SHIPPIGAN, N.B., Sept. 5. — (CP)—Damage estimated at approximately $500,000 occurred in this northeastern New Brunswick fishing community Monday when flames destroyed two buildings at the plant of the Sea Land Food Corporation of Canada, Ltd. earlier, loss estimates ranged up to $1,000,000.

The fire started at 6.30 a.m. and raged for six hours before being brought under control. No one was injured.

It was a Labor Day disaster for this section of the province. Some 250 men were thrown out of work.

The first estimate of a $1,000,000 loss came from the company president, Nathan Smofsky. Later, after a more thorough survey was possible, the plant manager, Aubrey Smofsky, estimated the loss roughly at $500,000.

Believed to have started from an explosion in an engine room, the fire destroyed a two-storey wooden cold storage building filled with frozen sea foods.

Also lost was the largest of five packing sheds. Although this one-storey structure had been finished inside and out with asphalt, the flames penetrated into the interior. More than 250,000 pounds of cod awaiting processing were destroyed.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS — By Merrill Blosser

Funeral Services For St. Alphonsus Priest

"Death is not a trapdoor into the cellar of nothingness and never ending sleep. It is a door entering into eternity where we live in close union with God."

This fundamental of the Christian faith was expressed by Rev Russell Conway, C.SS.R., of St Alphonsus church, at the requiem high mass on Monday for Rev Martin J. Kennedy, C.SS.R., who died suddenly Friday morning of a heart ailment.

Recently the newspapers published the story of a prominent man's suicide," Father Conway said. "Prior to his fatal leap from a window he had been reading the "Chorus to Ajax," by the Greek poet, Sophocles. This pagan poet spoke about the hopelessness and frustration of life, and found comfort in the dark prospect of the grave.

Sophocles offered the black advice: 'Better to die and sleep the never ending sleep than linger on and dare to live when the soul's life is gone.' The modern pagan of our present day society lacks the true purpose of life and the true viewpoint of death. Man was created to know God, to love and serve Him and be happy with Him in eternity.

Life is but a pilgrimage designed by God. Our destiny is in heaven. Father Kennedy understood the purpose of life, and in his convalescence after his serious illness, he realized death would come suddenly, and he lived to be ready to meet his God and give an account of his stewardship."

Sympathy Extended

Father Kennedy was a missionary at heart, and as a missionary he worked across the breadth of Canada helping to save souls redeemed by Christ. A few years ago, obedience brought him to our new foundation in Peterborough. He preached missions, retreats, Forty Hour devotions and other exercises in this diocese. Since his illness he was unable to continue his missionary work, but he helped in the parochial duties of this young parish. We feel his loss keenly, but we resign him to God.

"We extend our sympathy to his four brothers who are present. They will miss Father Martin, as he was affectionately called. Believing in the Communion of Saints, we know he will continue to pray for us, and let us pray for the repose of his soul. Like all mortals he had frailties, but we pray that all will be washed in the Blood of the Lamb."

Celebrant of the mass was Very Rev. Daniel Ehman, provincial Superior of the Redemptorist Order, assisted by Very Rev. Robert Macdonald, rector of St Alphonsus church as deacon, and Rev. Edward Meyer, Toronto.

Master of ceremonies was Rev. A. Conologue, Peterborough, and the thurifer was Rev. S. McGrath, Toronto. Assisting acolytes were altar boys James McDonald and Kenneth Ferren.

Picton Motorbikers Draws Cobourg Fans

COBOURG, Sept. 5 (ENS). — Several motorcycle fans from Cobourg took in the motorcycle races yesterday at Picton. There, the crowd was smaller this Labor Day, and the entries less numerous, than on the same day last year. However, considering the competition of the dirt track races at Avondale on the same date, it was a very good meet at Picton Ted Sturgess of Hamilton and Godfrey Neil of Grimsby dominated the heats and the final in the expert and senior classes. A very nice race was driven by Jim Foster of Kingston, winner of the junior three mile final. The track was excellent.

Bride, Groom Feted By Toronto Friends

ROSENEATH, Sept. 5—ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Richardson, nee Aureen Brown, were tendered a miscellaneous shower, by their Toronto friends on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis, Earl St., Toronto.

Following the presentation lunch was served by the host and hostess.

Traffic Heavy

COBOURG, Sept. 5.—Traffic was heavy during Labor Day weekend but accidents were few and of a minor nature in this district. The fact that during the early evening Monday cars were travelling almost bumper to bumper, accounted for the lack of serious accidents. Provincial police reported that on the whole automobile drivers were careful and observed the highway regulations.

Montreal Man Remanded On Fraud Charge

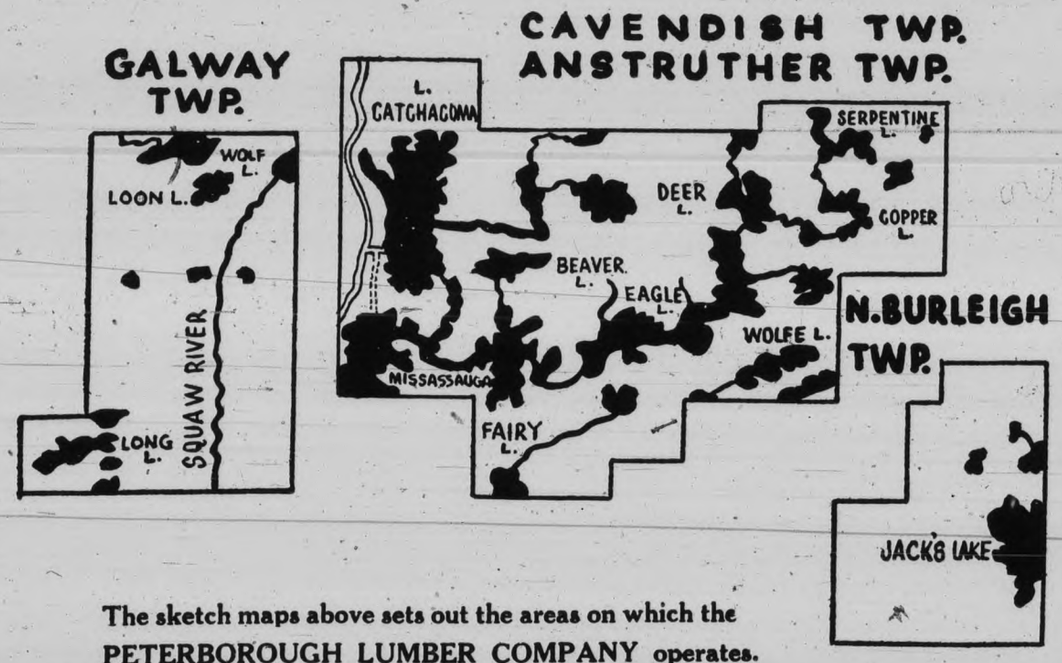
COBOURG, Sept. 5 —(ENS)— Gerard Martineau of Montreal, charged with unlawfully obtaining lodging at a local hotel, was remanded further when he appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp in court here Friday. Crown Attorney Harry Deyman said other charges would be laid.

Police said Martineau had been taking orders for an out-of-town photo firm and when they sought him on the hotel charge he was hitch-hiking out of town. However he unwittingly tried to thumb a ride in the police car and was brought back to town.

Howard Fraser of Picton, 26-year-old war veteran with a wife and two children, pleaded guilty to seven false pretence charges and was sentenced by Magistrate Philp to three months definite and two months indefinite in the reformatory, terms to run concurrently. The young man's father said that his son was a psychopathic case.

Fraser was charged with obtaining $9.70 worth of mens wear from a local store, giving a cheque which was returned NSF. The offense occurred on July 26 and after his arrest, other charges were laid. Fraser was charged with false pretences in the amount of $30 at Kingston, July 29; Kingston, August 1, $29.40; Brockville, August 3, $70.38; Kingston, July 29, $36 and Kingston, August 1, $19.50. Most of the purchases were for clothing but one purchase was for a wrist watch which was later pawned, he said.

Crown Attorney Deyman said that due to the number of charges he couldn't consent to suspended sentence, restitution only having been made in connection with the Cobourg charge. A psychopathic condition did not excuse a man from theft, he declared.



The youth's father, a Picton farmer, said that his son had been two years in the armed services and had lived for some time on his father's farm with his wife and family. He had the habit of wandering off without any apparent reason for a week at a time. Most of the purchases made by worthless cheques had been for clothing and the accused, when a shirt was soiled, threw it away and bought another. He had been examined by psychiatrists who diagnosed his condition as psychopathic, his father said.

OPERATING AREAS LOCATED IN PETERBOROUGH COUNTY

The sketch maps above sets out the areas on which the PETERBOROUGH LUMBER COMPANY operates.

The areas constitute some 100 square miles in the County of Crown Lands under license to the Company. From these areas, we procure logs of various species for a portion of our customers requirements. The forested area is logged with a view to having a "sustained yield". Trees below a certain diameter are excluded from cutting. These are allowed to grow to greater diameter for future cutting. Selective logging has been in effect for over ten years. The results—retention of water in storage lakes—the assurance of future timber and the proper utilization of the standing trees of today.

The Hopes Of Communism

Communism can be scotched, not killed, by bombs and guns. Communism will continue, and even flourish until people can be convinced that American capitalism, British socialism or other forms of democracy have better to offer. Many North Americans fail to realize that Communism is attractive to millions of people. It professes to offer the downtrodden hope of betterment (for instance, land reforms in China), and ideologists a torch of life. Professor A. R. M. Lower of Queen's University had some sound and round things to say about this to the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs meeting last month at Lake Couchiching:

"The major task for the west . . . is nothing less than the rejuvenation of its own institutions. If it cannot clarify its own ideals and purify its own way of life, it can have little to offer to others which they will esteem worth fighting and dying for.

"Hence, do not write off Asiatic Communism: It obviously has given millions new hope. Our job is to get something with just as big an appeal . . . We have got to recapture passion for our institutions."

• • •

Be it noted that food and money (such as were poured into Italy before the last elections) are not enough. Hungry people can be won by these means, but not their hearts. If the food and money are gone, they are again ripe for conversion to Communism. The important thing is to get at the spirit of the people, and particularly the minds and spirits of the kind of persons who can become Communist leaders. If all the leaders of Communism in Italy had been fired for western democracy by as much zeal as Communism has inspired in them, there would have been no fear of Italy becoming Communist. Material comforts are relatively unimportant to the kind of people who can be the torch-bearers. As Richard Crossman remarks in his introduction to six studies in Communism by Koestler, Silone, Richard, Wright and other ex-Communists, such people care most about spiritual freedom. The six chose Communism because they had lost faith in democracy.

• • •

Communism does not grow spontaneously. It is fomented and fed by leaders. Without leaders who are enthusiasts Communism would wither. The primary appeal of western democratic countries must be made to the young men and women of all countries (our own included) of high hopes and ideals who become tomorrow's leaders. We should demonstrate to them the superiority of our political and social system, and not merely its superiority on the soft-drink, indoor-plumbing plane. In the past converts have been made to communism because the material nature of western democracy has engendered despair.

Governor's Day At Illinois State Fair

At most of the state fairs held south of the border, a day is set aside as Governor's Day, and state governors usually take advantage of the occasion to call attention to the supreme merits of their political parties—or, if independent, to the fine leadership the state has received. Not often, however, is a state fair taken over as a stage to the extent witnessed at Springfield, Illinois, not long ago, when the Democrats turned Governor's Day into a Democratic rally.

The party may have been spurred into outdoing their political opponents by a successful Republican rally held the day before, or it may have been impelled by the belief that its candidates face more serious opposition than most observers think. At any rate, although Governor Adlai E. Stevenson was there, the afternoon quickly became a campaign meeting for Senator Scott Lucas, Senate majority leader, and the chief speaker of the afternoon was Vice-President Alben Barkley. There were acrobats, floats, speeches, and a fruit queen tossing apples into the crowd of 12,000, and the spectacle was reported as most impressive compared with the Republican rally of the day before.

It is not unusual to read about U.S. political meetings being conducted against a midway backdrop, with the audience munching cotton candy, hot dogs and French frie.. and drinking pop. There is also plenty of additional evidence that our neighbours to the south enjoy a rich mixture of politics and the circus. In Canada, perhaps the only events remotely comparable to state fair political rallies were the old-time political picnics, and we doubt that these would attract large crowds nowadays. And we doubt that Canadians generally would take to the hoop-la and razzle-dazzle of U.S. politics, although many of them find these things interesting and amusing to read about.

Italian Cooks In Heather?

There is a touch of comic opera combined with a John Buchan thriller in the despatch from Britain that the London manager of the La Scala Opera Company is searching Scotland for a cook who can dish up food à la Italien. Thousands of Italian prisoners of war were comfortably settled in Britain during the late war years and until 1947. Undoubtedly some of them have remained. Perhaps there are a few who can cook among them. But if any one is tracked down in the Highlands or Edinburgh (where the La Scala are performing at the Festival) what will his cooking be like now? Reared on Scotch instead of Chianti for four or five years, smelling heather instead of olive branches, he is as likely as not to serve up oatmeal instead of ravioli and to be able to puff up scons rather than to blow the holes in spaghetti tubes.

We have a wisp of sympathy for the point of view of Antonio Ghiringhelli, general manager of La Scala who says: "It is impossible to make the good performance on the English food". What diva can reach high C on suet pudding? What tenor can soar above porridge? But we do think a good mezzo soprano could do quite well on Edinburgh cakes and a nip of Atholbrose to wash them down.

The Square Dance

A few weeks ago, when we were driving back to Peterborough, we passed through Dunsford, and saw one of the prettiest sights that we have ever met with in this district. A part of the road had been roped off, and a square dance was in progress. The band and the caller were on the back of a truck, and although there were two or three flares, most of the light was supplied by a fine full moon.

We stopped to watch. The dancers wound their way with the greatest neatness and grace through what appeared to us to be a very complicated set of figures, and came to a stop. The pause was not a long one. A few couples got drinks from a store nearby; a few others stepped out of the enclosure; the majority stayed where they were, chatting quietly and waiting for the next dance. And when the signal came to begin again they assembled quickly and without fuss, like people who know precisely what they are doing, and who are not unconscious of their skill. Then they went to it again, advancing and retiring, twisting and twirling in the moonlight, happily engrossed in the practice of a beautiful and complicated art. We drove on before this dance was finished, for although we would willingly have watched until the last dancer grew weary, we had business which called us home. But we shall not forget the charm and grace of that dance, which far surprassed anything we have seen in a ballroom.

Square dancing comes down to us from the old country dances of Europe. Luckily it is having a widespread revival at the present time. It would be a pity to lose these dances, so graceful and refreshing; indeed, it would be a pity if these dances, which have survived in the country, did not find their way to the city. For it can hardly be denied that what is called modern ballroom dancing is the dreariest excuse for entertainment that afflicts us today. Let us bring back the square dance, which gladdens the heart.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Sunday ball games are now permitted in Kingston penitentiary. With a strictly limited understanding of the term "home run", of course.

Add to stories about frugal Scots: William McKay lost his hoop in a tree when he was 13; the tree was cut down last week and Mr. McKay, now 78, was on hand to recover the hoop.

Those dogs who find their way home after being lost now have a competitor in an ape who returned to his English owner over a distance of 100 miles. Obviously a boomerang-outang.

Autumn fashions include semi-formal gowns which reveal one shoulder, and this is called "the cold shoulder line". Young men who are given the cold shoulder this season will at least be able to see what they are getting.

Rosa Ponselle, once known as an opera star, has divorced her husband; the settlement gives her his handsome house in Baltimore, blocks of stock in two corporations, and all personal property except books, polo ponies and a dozen highball glasses. And then people have the nerve to go on repeating that "it is the woman who pays—and pays—and pays"!

Musical Notes

By PETER PIPER

As the summer draws to an end our thoughts naturally turn to the next musical season. Peterborough cannot boast of all the facilities of a large city, but there are signs of an increasing awareness of the place of the Arts even in our modern mechanized civilization, and it can be said that the standard of taste is rising. But we cannot afford to be complacent. There are many fields in which we are woefully backward, and in some respects there has even been a decline compared with previous years. Due to the pervading influence of radio and the films people have come more and more to expect amusement to be served out ready-made, with little or no effort on their own part. Enjoyment of music is too often a passive affair. The music-making in the home of the old days may not always have been of the highest calibre, but at least there was the joy (and trepidation) of active participation. What we need today is a little less "Musical Appreciation" and a good deal more music-making in small groups.

◇ ◇ ◇

We extend our heartiest felicitations to the Coventry Singers on being selected to sing at the Canadian National Exhibition. While it is not the general policy of this column to mention local musicians by name it is only right and proper that full credit should be given to Mr. John Hooper for the remarkably fine work that he has accomplished with his choir, showing what can be done with a small body of enthusiasts. One of the most interesting features of the Coventry Singers is the fine choice of their repertoire, ranging from the Elizabethan madrigals to contemporary settings.

◇ ◇ ◇

One of the most impressive features of the musical life of the United States is the growth of the School Band movement. While on a recent visit there I was lucky enough to meet the conductor of a school band that was one of the first to be formed and has since won many awards in nation-wide contests. During my visit they had just returned from Washington, where they had given a concert. Unfortunately I did not hear them play in the flesh, but I heard some strip recordings of their work which Mr. Houseknecht, their conductor, kindly played for me, and I was immensely impressed by the professional ease with which they tackled the formidable difficulties of the "Tannhauser" Overture arranged for wind band. I also heard them play Holst's arrangement of Bach's exhilarating "Fugue a la Gigue" and also a very capable arrangement by the conductor of Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D minor. They have a fine auditorium and a very good library of pieces to which additions are being continually made, thanks to a liberal financial allowance. The concerts that they give bring in money, and an active Parents' Association is another source of income. In addition to the first band there are three others, and a system of promotion and demotion based on frequent check-ups keeps the youngsters on their toes. Naturally some of these players graduate to the big symphony orchestra on leaving school, but the great majority go to form a more enlightened musical public. The school itself comprises some four thousand pupils and there is a good selection of competent wind instrument teachers in the town. The townfolk are naturally very proud of their High School Band. In this city we have a Collegiate Band that was very highly commended at the last Kiwanis Musical Festival and is a credit to the city. We should do well to give it all our encouragement and support.

◇ ◇ ◇

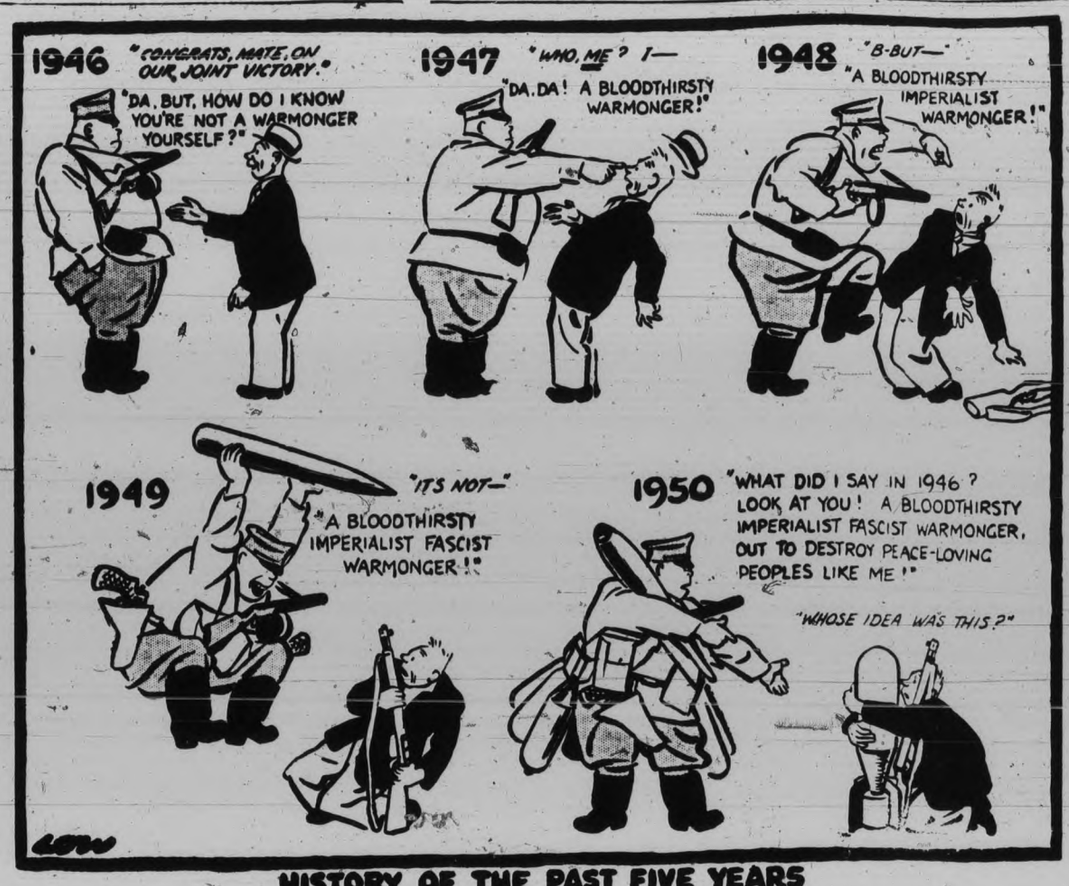
Recent disorders in Belgium reminded me of the odd fact that the revolution in which that country achieved for the first time her independence was touched off by a performance of an opera, Auber's "Masaniello", sometimes known as "La Muette de Portici". Even omitting the early school of Flemish composers Belgium has an impressive list of musicians for a country of her size. Amongst the most famous are Franck and Ysaye. The "Grand Old Man" of Belgian music is of course Joseph Jongen, who has written in all forms of music except opera. His work is much influenced by the French impressionists and is distingulshed by its graceful and flowing style. He is perhaps best known by his numerous piano pieces.

◇ ◇ ◇

When did you last have your piano tuned? Compare this with when you last had your car lubricated. A string-player tunes his instrument each time he uses it. Fortunately for the pianist it is not necessary to attend to the piano as often as that, but time and again we are asked to try out a piano which has obviously not been tuned for two or three years! Upright pianos should not be placed too near the wall; sufficient space should be allowed for the air to circulate. It is a good idea to use the vacuum cleaner inside the piano from time to time to remove the dust that accumulates. Great care should be taken, however, not to injure the delicate action. Never try and tune a piano yourself: it is a highly skilled job, and permanent harm can be done by inexpert tampering.

◇ ◇ ◇

Talking of pianos, I am reminded of an advertisement that I once saw in the London "New Statesman and Nation" about five years ago. It ran like this, "Young musician with wife and piano, both upright, urgently desires accommodation!"



◇ ◇ ◇

And so once again we return to our musical studies, our choirs and our concerts as a new season starts, hoping to make up for the time lost during the pleasant summer months. This is an appropriate time for me to wish all my readers, whether they be performers or listeners, ever-increasing musical enjoyment during the next season.

STUTTERS TOO MUCH!

Old Charley Big Horse, the Arapahoe, was frowning as he strode away from a half-dozen of his cronies who were squatted in a circle in front of the reservation trading post. The owner of the store, standing on the porch, said, "What's wrong, Charley? You're going home early today."

"Pow-wow too slow!" Charley grunted. He turned, pointed to an extremely-palsied old Indian in the group. "Old Sam Blue Feather stutter too much when he talk sign language."

HISTORY OF THE PAST FIVE YEARS

Loony Laws for Railroads

(TRAFFIC TRACKS MAGAZINE)

There is a Kansas law still in existence which reads: "When two trains approach each other at a crossing, they shall both come to a full stop and neither shall start up until the other has gone."

A search through the statute books reveals that this is not the only loony law that applies to the railroader, railway companies and the travelling public. Some of them sound strange but do have a practical purpose—but others are fantastic.

An Indiana law forbids anyone to attack a train. Texas has a law against use of cocoa mats in waiting rooms. In Maryland it is illegal to "knock a train off the tracks." And Alabama solemnly warns, "Do not shoot at an engine cab." In Rhode Island they're even more particular on this point, proclaiming "It is unlawful to throw anything at locomotives."

South Dakota frowns upon its citizens placing firecrackers on railway and trolley tracks, "especially if you touch a match onto it."

Louisiana feels strongly about the matter of cuspidors. A state law decrees that every depot shall be equipped with such a receptacle. (A tobacco-chewing senator or two must have felt the great public need for this one!) And in Texas the law says that there must be a cuspidor for every three seats in the parlour cars and one for every two seats in the smoker.

A Los Angeles law prohibits "firing on jackrabbits from the rear-platform of a train," and Idaho protects game birds with a similar law.

Pennsylvania says it is illegal for a railroad to haul any vehicle except railway cars. Rhode Island has made it a crime to run a passenger coach between the locomotive and a carload of dirt.

In Mississippi any conductor who puts a passenger into the wrong compartment can be fined $500. A conductor can go to jail in Minnesota if he doesn't eject a swindler or arrest a gambler on sight. And in Idaho there is a penalty for the conductor if he doesn't telephone ahead when his train is late.

In Arkansas no railroad company is allowed to let Russian thistles or Johnson grass go to seed on its right of way. It's a crime in Mississippi to soap railroad tracks, and in Alabama you are not allowed to put salt on tracks.

Railroad trestles in Montana are required by law to have sidewalks for cattle. Arizona has a law that is humane in intent: "Any train that is flagged in a desert must stop and give water to any person who needs it." Florida trains must stop for a doctor at any place he cares to get on or off.

The law that just about tops them all is one that was enforced in Washington State in the early days (and it has never been removed from the books): "A dog shall be carried on the cowcatcher of all trains. The dog is necessary to put to flight cattle obstructing the track." The old Walla Walla and Columbia roads were the only ones that ever complied.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven. Thy faithfulness is unto all generations: thou hast established the earth, and it abideth. (Ps. 119: 89-90.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all. Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest over all; and in thine hand is power and might, and in thine hand it is to make great, and give strength unto all.

Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name. (I Chron. 29: 11-13.)

For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ . . . For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God. For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory, while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal. (II Cor. 4: 6, 15-18.)

I will say to the north, Give up; and to the South, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth; even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him, yea, I have made him . . . Ye are my witnesses saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen.

This people have I formed for myself; they shall shew forth my praise. (Isa. 43: 6, 7, 10, 21.)

Hoop-Dee-Doo

(Pravda, Moscow)

In what way, the world asks, is President Truman, that sanctimonious hypocrite, perpetrator of so many bloody deeds in all corners of the earth in postwar years, instigator of murderers, traitors, and marauders, today's murderer of Korean women and children, better than the mad Fuehrer? Truman, bustling like a haberdashery shopkeeper, scribbling envenomed, manhating epistles; whispering under cover with the professional butchers, the Bradleys, MacArthurs, and the Forrestals; signing the order for intervention in Korea, with an ominously scratching pen—such is the unseemly, disgust-provoking spectacle of the world of imperialist gangsters in the grip of violent insanity.

Underground A-Bomb Explosion Not As Dangerous As Air Burst

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—The United States Atomic Energy Commission has conducted two major atom bomb "tests" with pencil and paper.

The AEC wanted to find out what an A-bomb—and presumably an H-bomb—might do if exploded underground or deep under the sea.

Outside of the two high-air-burst bombs used in combat in Japan, actual tests so far have been an airbust relatively close to the ground in New Mexico, three such at Eniwetok, an air-bust above water and a shallow underwater burst at Bikini.

AEC's estimate of what would happen in underground and deep underwater blasts are contained in its new book "The Effect of Atomic Weapons."

Get Fair Idea

AEC scientists apparently figure that from atomic tests already held—and from earthquake and other studies—you can get a good idea of what to expect.

Here's the picture they present:

If a bomb of the Hiroshima type were dropped from an airplane and penetrated 50 feet in ordinary soil before exploding—

A crater about 800 feet wide and 100 feet deep would be formed.

About 500,000 tons of radioactive earth would be blown out of the crater.

Appreciable quantities of material from the crater might be carried as much as four miles downwind and about eight-tenths of a mile upwind.

Buildings Collapse

A shock wave through the earth would have the effect of a strong earthquake, capable of causing "appreciable damage."

There probably would be destruction in a considerable area around the crater—say from 1,350 to 3,300 feet from the point of underground explosion. Buildings would undoubtedly collapse.

There probably would be "appreciable damage" to masonry walls, chimneys and foundations up to 1,800 to 5,000 feet.

Finally, you might expect "light damage" at 2,700 to 10,500 feet—almost two miles away.

Bad as all this sounds, the damage would actually be less than that to be expected from an atomic bomb burst in the air.

The scientists figure that an underground bomb would cause blast damage only one-half to two-thirds as far away as an air burst.

Complete Destruction

The AEC's report doesn't say anything about an H-bomb but some scientists have figured that an airburst H-bomb 1,000 times more powerful than an A-bomb would cause almost complete destruction of buildings for about 10 miles in all directions, compared with one mile in the case of the A-bomb.

If an airburst H-bomb could destroy virtually all buildings for 10 miles in all directions, an underground H-bomb would do that in a radius of five to seven miles.

Now how about that deep underwater burst?

If the blast took place at 1,000 feet below the surface of the sea, damage would probably be as follows:

"Severe" damage to merchant-type hulls and light naval craft would extend out more than a half-mile. But heavy, multiple-bottom vessels would probably survive as close as 2,000 feet.

Labor Day Celebrations Unofficially End Summer

By The Canadian Press.

While Parliament, in an unprecedented Labor Day sitting, debated the state of the country's defences, Canada Monday marked the unofficial end of summer.

It was really a holiday devoted to labor. But for most Canadians Labor Day has become the final long week-end of the summer—a time for the last trip to the beach, for closing up the summer cottage — and a time when the football and baseball seasons overlap.

But there was an ominous note to the celebrations. While the rest of the country played, a special session of Parliament sat on Saturday and Monday in Ottawa, considering Canada's role in a threatening international situation.

Highways across the country were jammed with traffic. Thirty-eight persons were killed in motor accidents. A Canadian Press compilation showed 18 more killed in other mishaps from Saturday to Monday.

Labor Minister Gregg picked Labor Day to defend the actions of trade unions during the railway strike.

Watch Charges

In a speech at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto which followed the parade of 15,000 unionists, Mr. Gregg said the charges of irresponsibility against labor leaders should not be allowed to go unchallenged.

He said: "The charge of 'blackmail' against the workers is the kind of talk that can do no more good than the charge of 'dictatorship' against management. The long history of labor-management relations in this country stands as absolute proof against this charge."

Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, and James Maguire, vice-president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, were with Mr. Gregg at the luncheon table.

More than 280,000 persons—a Labor Day record—jammed the CNE grounds Monday.

In Montreal, some 20,000 persons witnessed the annual Labor Day parade celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Sheet Metal Workers Union. In Windsor, George Burt, Canadian director of the United Auto Workers (CIO-CCL) gave notice that his union seeks company-financed, full-scale health benefits for its members.

A huge parade celebrated Labor Day in Corner Brook, a west-coast Newfoundland industrial town, with speeches by Resources Minister Edward Russell and Sir Eric Bowater, head of the huge Bowater paper enterprises.

Actress Lana Turner Put Back In Sweaters In New Picture

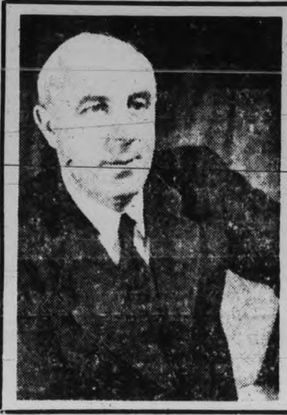
By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5 (AP)—They finally got Lana Turner back in a sweater.

It took a bit of doing, but Lana is wearing a couple of sweaters (one at a time) in "Mr. Imperium" with Ezio Pinza. This may not sound earth-shaking at first, but you must remember that Lana provided the biggest boost to the sweater industry since the development of cashmere.

"There's nothing wrong with a girl in a sweater," she said on the movie set. She was wearing one, and I agreed with her.

"But I got sick and tired of that 'sweater girl' tag that they pinned on me. I think it's the same with anyone who gets a handle like that.



"After 12 years, I think I've been able to shake the title."

Capsule Review

"Three Secrets" is almost as good as "A Letter to Three Wives," which it closely resembles. It concerns three women who gather at the mountain rescue of a boy, lost in a plane crash that kills his foster parents. Each woman thinks he is her son, since each gave a boy for adoption at the same time and place. Eleanor Parker, Patricia Neal and Ruth Roman are all excellent, with Miss Neal pulling slightly ahead for top honors.

Petes Sew Up Big Series As Oshawa Protests Fray

After dropping the first of the Viaduct Baseball League four-of-seven finals 10-4 Monday morning to the Merchants in Oshawa, the Petes came back at home that night to win 8-5 and square the series. However, the game was protested in the third inning by Oshawa over two balks called on pitcher Tony Delaurentis by Umpire Pat Calladine on the bases. The third game is in Oshawa on Wednesday and the fourth in Peterborough the following night.

The evening holiday scrap saw Lefty Bill Dadson hurl six-hit ball and fan 11, with the Petes spotting Oshawa an early 3-0 lead and then going on to pound out a win. They had an earned run in the second and score three in the third on two singles, a two-base error, a walk, wild pitch and two balks called on Delaurentis for making a motion to throw without following through. The interpretation of these balks caused a big argument and a protest.

Changed Hurlers

The Petes got to Delaurentis again for four hits and two runs in the fifth, and Paul Michals took over in the sixth and got by with one run against him the rest of the route. Bud Harrison led the Petes at bat with three for four, while Danny Brown hit long balls for a triple and double in four. Dadson helped his cause with two in four, as Joe Lowrey had two in five, and Pat Wilson a two-bagger. Walsh got a homer for Oshawa, with Bitman and Wood hitting doubles. A pickup at third by Bitman and a Petes' twin killing were fielding features, Oshawa playing errorless ball throughout.

A Tough One

The afternoon saw the Petes drop a tough one in Oshawa, Jerry Creasy went the distance for the winners but was wobbly, though the Petes couldn't do much right till late in the fray. Doug Plunkett pitched fine ball five frames but a costly error in the sixth paved the way for an all-out Oshawa splurge and no less than nine runs counted before the smoke had cleared, Whitehill finishing in a relief role. Brown led the losers at bat with two in four, while Wood topped the victors with three in five tries. The game in Oshawa drew about 1,000 while nearly 800 braved the cold weather in the nightcap at Peterborough. The box scores:

Crowd Of 4,500 At Bowl For Kiwanis Go

A record softball crowd of some 4,500 for Peterborough paid tribute to the King and His Court at the Bowl on Saturday night. The Kiwanis-staged exhibition between the fabulous four-man touring team of King Eddie Feigner and his three mates and the local City League all-stars ended in a 1-1 tie in seven innings, but the score was only incidental.

What the great throng came to see—and they saw it— was the masterful demonstration of twirling deliveries which have made Feigner famous in the States and Canada. He allowed but one hit in seven innings while fanning 17 and walking just one. He struck out luckless opponents on fast pitches, slow throws, curves and everything imaginable, including windmill windups. He whiffed them blindfolded, kneeling and even throwing from out at second base.

Give Demonstration

Feigner's teammates were catcher Meade Kinzer, Jerry Jones with a roving commission at first, and Gord Meilecke, who took care of shortstop, second third, left and centre field, as well as fielding bunts. Following the interesting tussle, they staged a funny exhibition of shadow ball and later Eddie gave a demonstration of fancy flinging which the big crowd applauded heartily. It was a happy crowd all through.

A walk, an out and a hit gave the visitors a run in the first, while the locals got one in the third on a triple to empty left field by Don Bigford and the Court's lone error of the game. The homesters muffed two and were held to one hit while the other side got three hits. Bigford, Ken Guilfoyle and Haddy Eakins each showed on the home mound for the team handled by Tom Walton and Ossie Anderson. Other players were Crowe, Taylor, O'Heron, Pryde, Thomson, Jaquith, Mackness, Sullivan Crowley, Foster, Hawkes, Wade and Legrow, with the umpires Pat Calladine and Harold Dormer.

Oshawa Wins Tilt

TORONTO, Sept. 5 — (CP) — Norm Bagnell hurled Oshawa Pedlars to an easy 7-0 victory over North Bay Dodgers to reach the Canadian National Exhibition softball playoffs Saturday. Bagnell struck out 23 North Bay batters, including the first 18 men to face him.

Tigers Smash Ottawa, Argos Head Big Four

(By The Canadian Press)

It's been a long time since a Hamilton club led the Big Four.

And it's been two years since Calgary Stampeders were anywhere but on top of the Western Conference.

That's precisely how the Canadian football picture looks today after its first full-scale weekend this season.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats, rebuilt from the ground up, smashed Ottawa Rough Riders and Toronto Argonauts to take first place in the Big Four. Last year, Hamilton finished a dismal last.

Calgary dropped two games to Edmonton Eskimos. The Stamps, Grey Cup winners two years ago and finalists last year, have yet to win in four starts.

Hamilton beat Ottawa, winless in two starts, 26-17 Saturday while Argos were beating Montreal Alouettes 26-6. Then Hamilton took Argos into camp 13-6 in a Labor Day game in Hamilton.

Swamp Beaches

At Sarnia, the senior Ontario Rugby Football season opened with the Imperials swamping Toronto Balmy Beach 39-0.

In the West, Edmonton pounded Stampeders 19-13 Saturday and repeated 18-8 Monday. Saskatchewan Roughriders beat Winnipeg Blue Bombers 17-2 for Winnipeg's first loss this season.

Thirteen thousand fans—biggest football crowd in Hamilton history—saw Hamilton's solid wingline swamp Argos' offensive attempts. Quarterback Stan Heath's deadly passing set up huge gains while Bill Gregus and Ed (Special Delivery) Jones ripped off yardage along the ground.

Gregus plunged 15 yards for the first major and set up Dick Brown for a one-yard buck for the second. Toronto's long major came on a 30-yard pass from Al Dekdebrun to Ulysses Curtis.

Same Technique

The same technique gave Hamilton its win over Ottawa. Jones rolled for two majors, Gregus one, and Don Toms got the winning touch. Bruce Cummings, Bill Larochelle and Gibson got the Ottawa touchdowns.

Sarnia's sweep over Balmy Beach was led by a 21-year-old rookie half, John Chorestecki who played with University of Toronto last year. He picked up two touchdowns, two field goals, four singles and three converts.

In the Argo-Alouette game Montreal picked up a first-quarter touchdown on a third-down pass from Bruce Coulter to Ralph Toohey. Then Argos went for touchdowns by Bill Bass, Curtis, Dekdebrun, and Marvin Whaley.

Saskatchewan's win over Winnipeg jolted the Bombers out of first place into a second-place tie with Roughriders, two points back of Edmonton.

New Challenger To Speed Record

DETROIT, Sept. 5 —(AP)— A challenger for the title of world's fastest competitive speedboat appeared on the Detroit river Monday.

She was the Detroit-owned Miss Pepsi. Because she cut inside a course marker, the boat lost the silver cup trophy on points to Such Crust I, another Detroit boat. But she turned in a five-mile lap record of 107.654 miles an hour and a 10-mile speed of 107.394.

This topped the best competitive mark of Seattle's famed Slo-Mo-Shun, winner of this year's Gold Cup and Harmsworth trophies. Slo-Mo-Shun set a 5-mile record of 102.676 miles an hour in the Harmsworth Saturday.

Slo-Mo-Shun Monday did five miles in 106.175 miles an hour. Her speed for 10 miles was 104.318.

Slo-Mo-Shun and Miss Pepsi came together only in the first heat of the Silver Cup. Bearing trouble forced the Seattle boat out of the race.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

It's senior "B" softball tonight at 8.30 in the Bowl, weather being right, with Oshawa playing East City to open their best-of-three OASA series. Return in the Motor City on Friday. Those scrappy East Citizens—who are presently tied with Mutuals in city finals—rubbed out Kingston in two straight, but will likely have their hands full against a powerful Oshawa pack. Red Sullivan and his buddies aren't unduly worried, though, figuring Oshawa outfits can be beaten, too. Haddy Eakins or Ken Guilfoyle will probably draw the starting slab assignment for the local crew, a team which has a big following.

* * * * * *

Let's see the score in girls' softball. Ashby's meet CGE at seven tomorrow e'en and a win for Ashby's would give 'em the Knox intermediate trophy, Westclox having the Cotton Cup for senior supremacy, and Woollens the Quaker Trophy for junior play. If CGE win tomorrow, they are tied with Ashby's and Marines, forcing two sudden-death playoffs Friday and Monday after a draw for the bye. Woollens lost out to Sherrins of Toronto 18-5 here Saturday aft to drop their PWSU junior series in two straight to a classy young team. That ends PWSU play here this year.

Largest Crowd Yet

Biggest Peterborough sports crowd on record—officials estimated 4,500 at least—jammed the Bowl on Saturday night to see the King and His Court play the local all-stars. A 1-1 tie, but the four-man team didn't take it too seriously. Pitcher Eddie Feigner (the King of flingers) gave a great demonstration. The guy is in a class by himself and he made a big hit with the huge crowd. He had speed to burn, curves, floaters, hypnotic windups, throws from behind his back, under his leg, from second or centre and even blindfolded. It was well worth seeing.

Word came through Saturday afternoon of the OLA senior "A" playoff draw. And darned if Peterborough wasn't drawn by Owen Sound for the quarter-finals, the first-place club having a draw on the bottom four, while the second-place St. Kitts drew Mimico for their series, leaving Hamilton to go against the Brampton Excelsiors. So, we're in series "A" which called for the open in Owen Sound last night, the second game here this Wednesday at 8.45, third in the northern centre Friday and fourth here on Monday. Other tilts, if necessary, Sept. 13, 15 and 16. A tough chore facing the Petes, but one never knows in playoffs. A whopping crowd no doubt on deck tomorrow.

Heavy Playoff Rush

The Petes won the Viaduct Ball Loop semi-final series o'er New Toronto Saturday. Men o' Murphy lost 8-3 in the aft but tied it up again in the eve as Bill Dadson hurled great ball in the 9-1 triumph. Then New Toronto (figuring they'd had it) decided to default the fifth one Monday in Peterborough, saying they could not afford another trip. Executives then put the Petes in finals against Oshawa—who ousted the Aces—and the series, best of seven, opened Monday with two games, next in Oshawa tomorrow. Then they'll be back here at 8.15 Thursday, away Friday and here again Saturday eve. Little notice and a heavy rush when playoffs come.

* * * * * *

Bill Dadson came up with another swell six-hit chore (and fanning 11) here last eve to even up the series after the locals lost that 10-4 affair in the morn at Oshawa. The evening game was protested by the Merchants over two balks called by Umpire Pat Calladine in the third inning on pitcher Tony Delaurentis. They based their argument on OBA rule 8.05, para (B), in the second case which says: "The pitcher, while touching his plate, feints a throw to first base and fails to complete the throw." Their first kick was because the hurler feinted a throw to second and didn't complete it. Oh, well, there never was any love lost between these teams when it came to baseball playoffs.

New Hambledon Gets Friendly Cricket Win

New Hambledon defeated the local cricketers 165-122 here Saturday in an exhibition game in connection with sports centennial week. The home club batted first and lost B. Roberts for a run, with A. Pope and F. Booth taking the score to 32 for the two when Pope was out for a fast-scored 22, including five fours. Booth and Wright made it 70 for four when the former was out for 26. Wright got little support and it was only 82 when he was eighth out, but T. Pope, 11 not out, and F. Dyer, 20, made it a good stand for the last wicket. Pollard went best, bowling five wickets for 19 runs.

A. Pope bowled the first visitor with his first ball and three wickets were down for 15 runs. Then M. Newman (25) and Mayers (25) made it 75 for four and, with five wickets down, the total was 93 for five. Peacock (48) and Pollard took it to 145. Peacock was caught by B. Roberts' bowling for 49, including three sixes and five fours. It ended at 163, Pope was not used after eight overs. W. Freeman took two wickets for eight runs, and B. Roberts, J. Pope, A. Harris, and W. Wright had one each. This is the last match here this season, as the P-W club goes to Ottawa on Saturday to play the Ottawa Valley council combined team.

New Toronto Loses Out To The Petes

Dividing two with New Toronto on Saturday and taking the deciding game by default, the Petes qualified over the weekend to meet Oshawa Merchants in four-of-seven Viaduct Baseball League finals. New Toronto won 8-3 in the afternoon, lost 9-1 in the nightcap, and then declined to make the extra trip to Peterborough on Monday, because of lack of finances. The executive then called it a default to send Petes into finals against Oshawa-Aces winner on Monday, Oshawa taking that series Sunday.

Joe Brown and Gunner Whitehill had a fine duel in the afternoon for seven heats, Ed Murphy went in to pitch-hit for Whitehill in the eighth and drove in Harrison to tie it at 3-3, but New Toronto got to Bill Edger in the eighth for five to win out, Kitchen having a two-run homer. The Petes had lapses on the bases. Scott led them at bat with two in five, while Brown got two in four for th Petes and Dalton two in five.

Fans a Dozen

Bill Dadson was in superb form at night to scatter eight hits and fan a dozen, as big bats swung by Joe Lawrey, Fred Garvey, Howie Dalton, Al Menzies, Pat Wilson and Dadson smote Russ Enright's pitches all over for an easy win. The Petes were also hustling in the field. Lowrey had a two-run homer and Garvey had a triple. Two hits were garnered by Dadson, Menzies, Dalton and Lowrey, as Phelan and Hosking got two each for New Toronto. Bobo Kitchen started a triple-play in the fifth, a liner to third, a peg to first and a throw-in to the plate for the third out. The box scores:

Owen Sound Takes Opener Against Petes' Lacrossers

By DON GRANT

Loose balls and loose checking by the Petes in the third quarter were two opportunities the Owen Sound Crescents just couldn't turn down Monday night. With great delight they took advantage of the two Petes' weaknesses to give them their lead to win 15-6. This was the first game of the senior "A" playoffs and the return game will be Wednesday night at Miller Bowl.

A peculiar type of lacrosse was witnessed by 1,000 fans. Both teams started all periods except the third, with a slow, cautious brand of lacrosse. This developed in the three periods to a fast, fierce hardchecking game.

Peterborough in a quiet, then a hectic first quarter outshone and outscored the Crescents 2-0 but the breaks went the other way in the second as they continued to press. Owen Sounders were left unchecked several times to drift in for scores, ending the half with the Crescents up 4-2.

Livened It Up

Both teams found interest in the game early in the third as they began to rough it up. They banged each other around the slippery floor with stiff checks and hard cracks with the gad. This wide-open lacrosse provided thrills at both ends but the Crescents went unguarded and seemed always to have a man in scoring position. The result was they rapped in three goals before the Petes tallied and then added three more to make the third score read 10-3.

Again in the fourth the teams opened with slow close checking, this time sprinkled with scoring. The Petes had more than their share of the play in the fourth but had difficulty with the Crescents defence, particularly Lloyd Wooton in the Crescents' goal. Despite this they were only edged in the quarter scoring 5-3.

Only three penalties were handed out during the game which seemed the occasion for goalies to get hurt. In the second Ralph Speck was hammered on the head with a close-in shot and floored. After five minutes, still in a shaky condition, he continued.

Lloyd (Moon) Wooton received his shaking late in the third by the Petes' Don Ashbee. The Peterborough player believed the Crescents' goalie to be out of the crease and nailed him solid. He went down like a ton of bricks. Just after referees Joe Murphy and Lou Vipond, both of Toronto, motioned Ashbee to the penalty box, Harry Kazarian charged into him to earn a two-minute penalty also. The other penalty was also in the third when Marlowe Woods caught Arn Dugan with a crack across the face.

Don Campbell and Woods shared the scoring honors, each with four points. Campbell got four goals and Woods' four assists. Russ Slater had three goals while teammate Jack Mason scored two and helped on a third. Bob Thorpe was the Petes' best with two goals while Sid Wright and Bob Breakspeare each score one and assisted on one.

Toronto Lasses Rub Out Local Woollens

Toronto Sherrins eliminated the local Dominion Woollens in PWSU junior playdowns here Saturday, winning their second straight in the afternoon by an 18-5 score. They had won 20-0 in the first fray in Toronto earlier in the week. A slim crowd saw the one-sided match, with Sherrins piling up an early lead to coast home. It was a loose tilt with some heavy hitting seen, Sherrins having 17 safeties while Alma Fewster held the homesters to seven bingles, as she fanned five. M. Laing took over on the Woollens' mound from S. Harris in the eighth.

A. Hammond, S. Willis and A. Fewster went defensively for the smart victors, while D. Dunk, M.Laing and S. Harris were the pick of the losers in the field. Sonya Willis led the Sherrin squad at bat with five singles in six tries, and A. Bexpolock had a double and two singles in six. J. McIlwain topped the home crew with three for five, J. # Giants Get Double Shutout Over Flashy Philly Team

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The flashy Phillies appear a shoo-in to capture their first pennant in 35 years, but it might have been the same old Philadelphia story had pitchers Jim Hearn joined New York Giants earlier and had Sal Maglie been given starting assignments sooner.

Actually the Giants have fared better than the Phils since Hearn and Maglie became full-fledged members of New York's big four. In the last seven weeks the Giants have won 34 games while losing 17. During the same stretch the Phils have won one less and lost the same number.

Off to a ragged start, the Giants now are no better than fourth place, 10½ games behind the Phils. Eddie Sawyer's youthful league leaders, playing consistent baseball all the way, hold a seven game bulge over the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers with but 25 games left to play.

Except for a 3-2 loss by Hearn to Boston Aug. 9, the Giants' two new pitching aces have achieved perfect records since becoming starters. Maglie has won all his nine starts. Hearn has won eight of nine.

Double Shutout

The duo didn't yield a run on Monday as they hurled the Giants to a double shutout over the Phils 2-0 and 9-0. Hearn yielded only five hits and Maglie nine. Hearn now has beaten the Phils three times this season and nine times without a loss since he reached the big leagues. Maglie, who boosted his season's record to 14 victories and three losses, turned in his third successive shutout. Each hurler has pitched four shutouts this year.

Despite their double loss, the Phils didn't lose an inch of ground as the Dodgers bowed in both ends of their Labor Day doubleheader to the Braves in Boston 11-4 and 3-2.

Cincinnati Reds moved to within one percentage point of sixth place, downing the fading St. Louis Cardinals twice, 5-4 and 8-4. Pittsburgh Pirates dumped the Chicago Cubs twice, 5-3 and 3-0, for their fourth and fifth victories in a row.

Race Unchanged

The American League race remained unchanged as all clubs divided doubleheaders. Detroit Tigers lost an opportunity to cut the pacesetting New York Yankees' two-game lead by half when they blew a chance to sweep both ends of a twin bill from St. Louis Browns.

The Yankees had already split with Philadelphia, winning the opener 2-1 and losing the second 4-3. The Tigers had won the first game 4-2, and were winning the second 3-0 with the Browns batting in the eighth.

Dizzy Trout, who was given a "day" in between games, had a five-hit shutout working for him. But the Browns jumped all over him and reliever Hal White for four runs in the eighth. St. Louis got another in the ninth that proved to be the winning run.

Rally Falls Short

The Tigers rallied for a run in their half of the ninth but the rally fell short.

Boston Red Sox remained 3½ games off the pace, splitting a pair with Washington. The Red Sox won the opener 5-4 and Washington took the second 5-3. Cleveland won a 1-0 second-game thriller from Chicago after the White Sox had won the first game 7-1. Mike Garcia received credit for his 10th triumph although Sam Zoldak pitched four scoreless relief innings to preserve the shutout after Garcia was hit by a line drive off the bat of Nelson Fox and had to retire in the sixth.

Excelsiors Whip Mounties 23-14

BRAMPTON, Sept. 5 — (CP) — Brampton Excelsiors defeated Mimico Mounties 23-14 Saturday in the first game of their two-game total-point playoff for fourth place in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior series.

Archie Browning and Ollie Raine paced the winners with five goals apiece. Kenni Dixon, Mimico's ace forward, netted six goals. No date has been fixed for the second game.

Baptists Ask Quebec Bylaw Changed

MONTREAL, Sept. 5 (CP). — The Val d'Or city council has been asked to amend a by-law under which 12 Baptist evangelists recently were jailed.

Rev. J. R. Armstrong, secretary-treasurer of the Union of Regular Baptist Churches of Ontario and Quebec, has just returned from a fact-finding visit to the Northwestern Quebec mining town. He said in a press statement that he had writen a Val d'Or city clerk J. A. Nadon, asking for the by-law change.

The 12 Baptists were arrested on a charge of obstructing traffic while holding street-corner revival meetings. All pleaded innocent and when found guilty, took jail sentences instead of fines.

Mr. Armstrong said that two other Baptists, Newton McKenzie and J. H. Dobson, both of Montreal, were arrested Saturday on similar charges.

Mr. Armstrong proposed the by-law be amended so its provisions should not be interpreted as prohibiting the preaching of the gospel on the streets.

He said his letter to Mr. Nadon added "Surely you must realize that where deep-seated religious convictions are involved, men would rather die than suppress their consciences."

Newspaper Raps Barbara Ann

LONDON, Sept. 5 (Reuters)—The newspaper Reynolds News has criticized skater Barbara Ann Scott for allowing her photograph to be used in the Conservative party's monthly paper, Popular Pictorial.

The Tory paper is produced on popular lines with a sprinkling of lovely ladies in bathing suits among the party propaganda.

Reynolds News, owned by a co-operative movement, said Barbara Ann, former world champion from Ottawa who now is reported to be earning $6,000 a week with a London ice show, was wrong in allowing herself to be "dragged into the political arena."

When she was questioned on the appearance of her photograph Miss Scott said, reported Reynolds, "What is a Tory? I guess it is a new word to me."

She explained that when agents arranged for the photograph she had the impression they wanted to publicize knitting wool.

The picture showed her in an attractive woollen pullover, and the paper gave directions for knitting it.

Unionists Brave Raw Winds To Hear Sam Baron Urge Ousting Present UE Leaders

In the strongest anti-communist speech heard by a Peterborough labor audience since the Korean war began, Sam Baron, Canadian director of the Textile Workers Union of American (CIO-CCL), on Monday urged the CGE production workers to reject their present leadership. Mr. Baron, who is also international vice-president of the textile workers, was one of three speakers at the Labor Day celebration of the Peterborough and District Labor Council (CCL). A crowd of about 500 trade unionists and others braved a raw wind to hear the Labor Day messages delivered in Riverside bowl.

The Labor Council consists of 15 CCL locals with a total membership of 5,000.

Mr. Baron bade the local UE-affiliated workers to cease "directly or indirectly financing the program of the agents of Stalin" in Canada.

He devoted a major part of his address to the current jurisdictional dispute raging in Canada between the "Communist-run" UE and the rival International Union of Electrical Workers. The UE has been expelled from the Canadian Congress of Labor for its left-wing policies.

"Tragic" Situation

"It is tragic to see workers of a large industrial plant of the first importance in the event of war dominated by Communists," he said.

"To some well-meaning workers in the plant the meaning of this Communist domination is completely lost. They have yet to come to the realization that they are aiding and abetting the kind of leadership that has continuously demonstrated that its first loyalty is to Soviet Russia."

Mr. Baron warned Canadian electrical workers in blunt language that maintenance of a Red-dominated union helped, directly or indirectly, to finance the Communist party in Canada.

"In the United States workers in the electrical industry have faced the same issue," he said. "They have gone a long way in resolving it in behalf of democracy. Canadian workers can and must do likewise."

Unionists Brave

Giant strides have been made in the Canadian labor movement during the past ten years, he said. Labor has won better wages, better hours and better conditions. "But we still have a long road to travel before we achieve the economic justice that must parallel political democracy if that political democracy is to survive."

Two Foes

Labor faces two foes: reaction and Communism. It must guard against those in management "who would turn back the industrial clock. . . and the mighty forces of Stalinism which seek to dominate the world by internal subversion and armed aggression."

Mr. Baron referred to the war in Korea as "the classic example of the Communist belief that you can fool all of the people all of the time."

The Soviet-sponsored phoney peace drive has led the western world to believe that the Soviet Union and Communists generally are the only proponents of peace . . . . Only the Communists can support aggressive warfare and yell 'peace' at the same time They have no moral or ethical standards whatsoever."

Mayor's Tribute

Mayor Max Swanston paid tribute to the part labor has played in the growth of Peterborough during the past 100 years Most of the workers here own their own homes, he pointed out They enjoy unequalled recreational facilities at very little cost

Where else, he asked, can a worker so easily indulge in his favorite recreation: games of all kinds, and the outdoor sports of hunting, fishing, boating, swimming, skiing and tobogganing.

The Hon. Harold R. Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, warned that there is a war now raging on the home front—"a war of propaganda and subversion." He asked organized labor to fight this menace as it had fought similar threats to the Canadian way of life.

Missing Traveller Found Dead In Jordan Lake

The badly decomposed body of W. Chester Vipond, 55, Toronto, missing from his home since Aug. 23, was found Saturday evening by two Toronto fishermen floating on Jordan Lake in Kudor township about 26 miles south of Bancroft.

The body of the commercial traveller was clothed in the navy blue suit and black shoes Vipond was reportedly wearing when he disappeared.

W. CHESTER VIPOND

Charles Green and his son Richard, of Kingswood Rd., Toronto, out fishing on the lake, discovered the body.

Orders Inquest

Dr. O. W. Anderson, of Bancroft, coroner, said that an inquest is ordered to be held Sept. 20.

Vipond was believed last seen in a Coe Hill restaurant Aug. 24 accompanied by another man described as elderly, short and heavy-set, with grey hair.

Vipond's car was found parked on Highway 62 locked about a half mile north of a small government park on Jordan Lake, across from which his body was discovered.

Police believe a strong east wind which blew for two days may have carried the body across the lake.

The day Vipond disappeared, he left his Toronto home to go downtown. That was the last his family saw of him. They told police he had recently undergone a nasal operation and feared he might have been suffering amnesia. The next day his car was found on Highway 62. A $250 reward had been offered for information of his whereabouts.

Corporal Archie Grayling, of the Bancroft provincial police detachment investigated.

Rover Scouts Of US, Canada Kosh Lake Moot

Wintry blasts failed to freeze the spirit at the 12th annual Ontario Rover moot held at Kosh Lake over the weekend. More than 240 Rover Scouts from the United States, Quebec and Ontario took part in the three-day camp which had as its theme, conservation.

The spirit throughout the camp was best illustrated by three Kitchener boys. They bicycled from the Western Ontario city to Peterborough.

According to Peterborough Assistant District Scout Commissioner Peter Dominik the rough 1,000-foot frontage along Kosh Lake in the Blue Mountain region filled the bill for all the Rovers. Their request in the spring for such country was more than answered.

The operations of the Department of Lands and Forests officials highlighted the camp's program. Fifteen men of the Ontario department led discussion groups on forestry, fishing and rock formation, showing movies and demonstrating forest fire fighting.

A department plane added to the color of the moot as it took part in the demonstration of fire fighting, showing the co-operation between land and air forces. A portable radio, called the Kosh Lake portable, contacted various fire stations throughout Ontario.

Lands Minister Attends

The Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, brought the department's portion of the program to a close Sunday night. He spoke at the moot's campfire on the functions of the department. Wilfred Hilton, assistant district commissioner in Toronto, presented Mr. Scott with a Scout letter opener.

Following the regligious programs Sunday morning (the Rovers' Own), an interdenominational service, held at the top on the Blue mountain) the Rovers were shown the nepheline mines. A mine official spoke to them briefly on rock formation, the mining and processing of the nepheline.

Monday morning the Rovers held discussion groups on Rover training, future plans for Rovers and the national moot which will be held for the first time next year.

First Since 1937

Not since 1937 has a Rover Scout moot been held in the Peterborough district. This year when the Ontario Rover round table received requests for a site with rough terrain, the Peterborough Boy Scout Association invited the Rovers to the Kosh lake camp. Rover crew hosts were the members of the All Saints' Church Rover crew.

Supreme Court Sits Today

There are no criminal cases listed for the jury sittings of the Supreme Court opening today in the Peterborough court house.

The Hon. James C. McRuer, chief justice of the high court, is expected to preside.

Late Saturday two actions for trial with a jury were settled out of court. As these were the only two listed, prospective jurors were notified they were no longer required.

Two non-jury damage actions, both the result of car accidents, are listed. Also two divorce actions, an application for custody of an infant, and several motions

Water Put On Grease Explodes, Causes Burn

Water poured on burning grease Saturday night caused a small explosion that burned the face hands and arms of Mrs. D. B. Bowerman, 559 Gilmour St.

The burns were not serious and Mrs. Bowerman treated them herself.

Before firemen arrived flames demolished the kitchen curtains and blind and had singed the wall. The room will have to be redecorated.

A can of grease that had been left on the stove to warm caught fire. Mrs. Bowerman took it to the sink with the intention of quickly extinguishing the blaze: but when the water struck the hot grease there was a small explosion.

Since then Mrs. Bowerman has been "the busiest woman in Peterborough" as she answers telephone calls from anxious friends

Elect City Clerk President Municipal Ass'n

City Clerk E. A. Outram was elected president of the Ontario Municipal Association at its 52nd annual convention ending Saturday in Sudbury. A vice-president for some years, Mr. Outram succeeds H. H. McFadden of Lindsay.

E. A. OUTRAM

Elected vice-presidents were Reeve Anne Shipley of Teck township, City Clerk James Berry Hamilton, Ald. Thomas Currah of St. Thomas, Ald. John Booth, Fort William, and Charles Kirk, clerk of Westminster township.

"There were some 435 delegates, in spite of the railway strike," Mr. Outram commented to the Examiner today. "The attendance impressed everybody. We had to change the date twice, and then under the handicap of the complete railway tie-up we still had a big assembly.

"All parts of the province were represented, from Fort Frances on the west to the Ottawa River. We didn't have so many county delegates this year, I think their absence was caused by late crops."

Ask Share of Tax

The association sent a request to the provincial government to divert a part of the amusement taxes for the benefit of municipalities in meeting hospital costs of indigent patients.

A tour of the nickel district was provided for the visitors. Of special interest to him, Mr. Outram said, was the Frood mine, operated on the open pit method to a depth of 375 feet. "It's so big you could put a good sized town in it. The mines are operating 24 hours a day, and with three shifts there is considerable movement and life at night."

THREE LUCKY WINNERS

Two Peterborough residents were among the three winners in the Peterborough and District Labor Council's lucky draw. Vincent J. Anglesey, 220 Braidwood Avenue, won the combination radio and record player, and Michael Kelly, 292 Brock Street, won the rug. Edith Joyce, Simpson Avenue, Toronto, drew the winning ticket on the electric stove.

3,000 Dozen Eggs Swamp Campbellford Grade Depot

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 5 (ENS)—Everybody has their troubles. At MacMillan's egg grading station in Campbellford over the week-end, the trouble was eggs—36,000 of them. There were light eggs and dark eggs, big eggs and little eggs, piled in the centre of the floor of the plant, in cardboard fillers.

Hector MacMillan, owner of the grading station, explained that the recent railway strike caught him with his crates down. Plenty of crates were on the way from Montreal, but in the meantime eggs kept piling up. The hens didn't seem to understand the situation.

On Monday, cartons began to arrive and the staff worked over the holiday to pack the eggs, over 3,000 dozen in all for shipment.

Mrs. Peter MacMillan and Lois Adamson, stood by the pile of eggs as they started the job of grading and sorting them. "There's a pile of work for us there," said Mrs. MacMillan. Miss Adamson replied, "That's nothing, think of the poor hens."

Suffers Concussion In Fall From Horse

Thrown or falling from her cantering horse while making a turn on the Nassau road north of the city, Miss Louise Leslie, 21, was knocked unconscious for half an hour Sunday afternoon.

Her riding companion was ahead of her and did not know what had happened until he realized Miss Leslie's horse was no longer running.

Nearby residents phoned for an ambulance and the girl was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where it was found she was suffering concussion. She is being kept under observation.

Two Men Held In Thefts Outside Theatre

Two arrests were made Monday in connection with thefts from two cars parked near Queen Mary School August 25 in which a medical bag and a quantity of stocks taken.

Jack Billingsley, 21, 555 Douglas Ave., is being held on a charge of theft and Robert Livingston, RR 11, Peterborough, is being held on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

The medical bag and its contents valued at $250 were taken from a car owned by Dr. Russell Morgan. A lug wrench had been thrown through the right rear window of the car and left inside.

Stocks valued at about $100 and two bags were stolen from the car owned by D. R. Wiley, 445 Gordon Ave. Both Dr. Morgan and Mr. Wiley had been attending the Summer Theatre.

Billingsley and Livingston were charged in police court this afternoon.

PLACES THIRD

Donald Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Wood, Court House, and Ontario junior men's backstroke champion, placed third in the junior men's 100-yard backstroke event at the CNE Monday He was awarded a medal for his efforts.

Anglers Meet 150-lb. Bear Stone It Dead At 20 Feet

COBOURG, Sept. 5—(ENS)—A rock thrown 20 feet by a Cobourg angler ended the days of a 150-pound black bear Saturday at Mink Creek in Haliburton.

Two Cobourg men — Scotty Grieve and Les Ducat—and Art Burns, of Toronto, rounded a bend on the creek and met the bear. The animal apparently had cubs near, as she lunged at Ducat, who grabbed a heavy stick and swung at the bear.

The bear knocked the club flying and advanced snarling. Grieve picked up a rock and scored with his first throw at 20 feet. The rock hit the bear squarely on the crown of the skull.

The animal wobbled and fell over dead.

"It's a lucky thing we had Scotty along," said Ducat.

School's In; Enrolments Up; New Type Fluid Promotions Varied Curricula Initiated

As thousands of children thronged through the doors of Peterborough schools, opened again this morning for a new school year, reports are that the enrolment in both public and separate schools will be higher this year than last. Percy Windrim, public school inspector, said the situation was well in hand in elementary schools, but he will not have exact attendance figures until Wednesday, when enrolment lists will be completed. Last fall 4,001 public school pupils registered on opening day. PCVS, which had an enrolment of 1,261 last year, expects to show a decided increase. "They have plenty up there" was the remark of Superintendent of School's K. S. Wightman. Principal C. S. Browne, having prepared for an influx of 430 new Grade Niners, this morning counted 17 more heads than he had bargained for among the newcomers.

The Catholic schools had no figures available at the time of going to press, but a significant increase in enrolment is expected. St. Peter's High, which had 255 registered a year ago, reported 294 in attendance this morning.

At the Collegiate an extra Grade IX class has been added, as well as the new two-year terminal course for those who do not intend to go further. The latter is an innovation of the Department of Education, designed to help those students who want to learn something essentially practical before applying for a job.

New Break-up

Following instructions from the Hon. Dana Porter, Minister of Education, Peterborough Board of Education is seeing that the 13 grades are gradually broken up into primary, junior, intermediates and senior schools.

To some extent this is no novelty in Peterborough as for some time now pupils (particularly those below Grade V) have been allowed to progress at their natural rate of learning ability. No longer are they required to remain 10 months in a classroom even though their natural ability surpasses these arbitrary bounds.

"We're cutting down on the idea that all promotions come in June," summed up a Board spokesman.

Eventually the grades will be divided as follows: Grades I, II and III (primary school); IV, V and VI (junior school); VII, VIII and IX (intermediate school); and XI, XII and XIII (senior school).

Last September 525 children enrolled for kindergarten and it is expected the number will be up some this year. The influx of pupils in Grades 1 to VIII is not abnormally large.

"Controlled Vocabulary"

Another thing: the days when youngsters were expected to digest and appreciate difficult poetry and prose have gone. Take the new Grade V and Grade VI readers for example. These are "controlled vocabulary" readers. The vocabulary is based on analysis of the reading ability of that age group. Difficult words are cut out and will be encountered by the pupil only when he has advanced sufficiently to understand them.

The Grade IX enrolment of PCVS compares with 424 last September. There are 11 Grade XI classes—one more than last year. In 1949 there were more than 40 students to a Grade IX classroom and this was considered too many for proper instruction; hence the extra class.

Boys taking the new terminal course will take English, Social Science, Mathematics and Science, Physical Training and Health, and Occupations. The first year will be all shop work, but in the second year the students will be permitted to specialize in electrical wiring, carpentering or machine repairing.

Lakfield Chief Addresses Firemen In BC

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 5 — (Special to Examiner)—One of the features of the convention opening here today of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs was the secretary-treasurer's report given by Chief Allan H. Clark, of Lakefield.

Mr. Clark, who was accompanied to the convention by his wife and their daughter, Miss Jean Clark, reported on an active year in the cause of fire prevention and protection. He emphasized the work of the association in "stirring up" public apathy on the dangers of careless smoking, one sequel to which, he said, had been the educational safety campaign instituted by the largest tobacco manufacturer of the Imperial Tobacco Co. of Canada. "This," he said, "shows the interest taken in our problems by authorities outside the fire services."

Chief Clark leaves for Lakefield at the end of the week when the convention closes. The delegates, from all parts of Canada, have a busy program of civil defence and fire fighting subjects.

Wm. Gray Funeral

The funeral for William E Gray, 75, of 628 Rubidge St., who died Thursday, was held Saturday at the Kaye Funeral Home. The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite of All Saints Anglican Church conducted the funeral service and was assisted by the Rev. Preston Brown. Mr. Gray was born near Garden Hill, the son of the late James and Elizabeth Gray. He spent most of his life farming in that vcinity and in 1945 he retired and moved to Peterborough.

The pall-bearers were Lloyd Augustus, Stewart Gray, Harold Hamblin, Edmund Morrison, Stewart Whittington and Egbert Wilson.

Ford Grants New Increase For Workers

DETROIT, Sept. 5 (AP)—The Ford Motor Company Monday tore up an unexpired contract with the United Automobile Workers (CIO) to grant an immediate eight-cent-an-hour cost-of-living increase in wages.

The addition of Ford's 126,000 hourly-rated employees brings to almost 1,000,000 the number of auto workers riding a new wage booster in the industry.

The new contract is for five years and in addition to the immediate eight - cent increase grants workers an annual four-cent-an-hour raise, beginning next June 1.

A cost-of-living escalator also was written in. It permits wages to go up or down one-cent an hour every three months for every 1.14 advance or drop reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. They can keep on rising, but cannot drop more than eight cents an hour, and the four-cent annual increase will not be affected.

Royals Blank Wings Twice

By The Associated Press

The International League season ends Sunday, but three first-division berths still are undecided.

Only Rochester Red Wings, who Saturday clinched their first pennant in 10 years, can take it easy until the playoffs begin.

Montreal Royals are in second place but enjoy only a 1½ game edge over the third-place Baltimore Orioles. The Royals have only five games to play while the Orioles have eight.

Baltimore in turn is only 1½ games in front of the fourth-place Jersey City Giants, who clinched a playoff berth yesterday. The Giants have seven games remaining, including five with the Orioles.

The Royals Monday strengthened their hold on second place by shutting out the Wings 1-0 and 4-0, while the Orioles downed Syracuse Chiefs twice, 9-0 and 11-7.

The Giants took both ends of a twin bill from the fifth-place Springfield Cubs, 7-4 and 5-3, and Buffalo Bisons and Toronto Maple Leafs divided a twin bill, the Leafs winning the 10-inning opener 3-2 and the Bisons the nightcap, 1-0.

Dewey Changes Mind

ALBANY, N.Y., Sept. 5 (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey changed his mind about retiring and said he would seek a third term as governor of New York. Dewey's yielding to a draft call came two days before the Republican state convention. The convention is expected to renominate him by acclamation.

FIRES CAN BE COSTLY

In Canada last year, an estimated four million dollars worth of valuable timber was destroyed by forest fires. Many of these started as a result of carelessness. Help reduce this threat to one of our most important natural resources. When in the woods, never leave a live camp fire. Be sure cigarettes and matches are safely out before throwing them away. Set an example yourself, and impress on others the need for care at all times. It's "Good Citizenship".

Macdonnell Criticizes Borrowing Program

OTTAWA, Sept. 5—(CP)—The government's proposal to use $300,000,000 in borrowed money to finance its arms program for Europe and Canada was attacked in the Commons Saturday by the financial critics of the official opposition who said that is precisely the method then Finance Minister Ilsley opposed in 1939.

J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Toronto Greenwood) said borrowing at this stage in Canada's economy could only add to an early serious inflationary spiral. It was the most extreme and naked form of inflation because instead of draining off purchasing power it poured more money into the buying stream.

"NERVES" She Called It

Losing interest—losing friends—she never went out any more—always too tired. "Nerves", she thought—but it was her kidneys—the filters of her blood—that needed attention. She used Dodd's Kidney Pills at once. The improved action of her kidneys helped to clear away blood impurities and excess acids. Fatigue, backache, headache, lack of energy disappeared. Dodd's Kidney Pills contain essential oils and medicinal ingredients that act directly upon the kidneys—and help restore their normal action. 144

U.E. Gets Win Over Belleville 7-4

Peterborough UE soccer eleven travelled to Belleville Saturday afternoon to play a Belleville All-Star team and won 7-4 in an exhibition encounter.

UE took the initiative right from the start to find Halroyd scoring from close in. This success was followed soon after by Strong who beat man after man to finish with a hot shot. Gemmell, of Belleville, enacted a similar performance to send a low grounder inside the upright. Then Smith, Cobourg player, at inside left, rattled the upright. On an individual effort, Boyd made it 3-1. Just before half-time Smith quickly evaded the opposition to make it read 4-1 at the interval.

On resuming, UE confined their activities to the Belleville area where Moody, Belleville custodian saved from the foot of Halroyd and Strong. Gemmell, of Belleville, came into the picture again with his elusive play to reduce the count. On a cross from the left wing, Halroyd registered the fifth goal. Gemmell, on his own, completed the hat trick as he outsped the full-backs to shoot home an unsavable drive. UE at this point outplayed Belleville as Featherstone and Strong scored two quick goals. Cotton, at centre-half, played very effective defensive football and it was mainly his efforts that finally rewarded UE with a win.

Belleville—A. Moody, goal; B. Findley and F. Dale full backs; G. Carter, J. Williamson and R. James, half-backs; J. Carthcart, J. Gemmell, A. Gemmell, H. Ellis and R. Alexander, forwards. Sub., J. Hughes.

Peterborough UE—J. Chamberlain, goal; S. Murduff and S. McGann, full-backs; H. Steele, E. Cotton and J. Craig, half-backs; R. Strong, A. Boyd, R. Halroyd, J. Smith and A. E. Featherstone, forwards.

Archaeologists Find New Burial Ground

MIDLAND, Sept. 5—(CP)—Discovery of what may prove to be the first Christian burial-ground in Ontario was announced Monday by Dr. Wilfred Jury, archaeologist of the University of Western Ontario at London.

Dr. Jury, with six assistants, has been excavating the site of Forte Ste. Marie, built by French Jesuit missionaries more than 300 years ago and wiped out by Iroquois Indians.

Eight bodies, at least one that of a white man, were found in what rosary beads marked as a Christian cemetery. Dr. Jury said he expects to find still other bodies.

An anatomist from the University of Western Ontario is expected to arrive today to examine the bodies. He will try to determine which are those of white men and which are Indian.

US-Red Soldiers Eat Together In Greatest Harmony In Austria

By RICHARD O'REGAN

VIENNA, Sept. 5 —(AP)— One place in the world today American troops and Russian soldiers each eat at the same table.

Russian officers toast Truman. Americans hail Stalin.

This is in Austria. It is part of a great political deception in which all the great powers—the United States, Russia, Britain and France—are partners.

It goes on despite Korea. The aim of delusion, on the surface, is to show occupied Austria that east and west can co-operate. But nobody—least of all the Austrian—is deceived.

This is how fine the "co-operation" looks on the surface:

On July 4, 10 out of 11 top Soviet generals in Austria accepted a US invitation and made merry. A month later, as US casualties mounted in Korea, the Russians gave a party. New US state department men in Vienna ate Russian caviar and matched the Russians toast for toast with vodka and caucasian wines.

Twice a month the top commanders of the four powers meet council to watch over the occupation of Austria. The commanders are polite and ostensibly courteous.

Hatred Underneath

But below this apparent sweetness and light between east and west in Austria, there is bitterness and hatred.

The troops of the four countries ride together but, even in their common pidgin German, there is not much desire on the part of the westerners to talk to the Russians.

They eat at the same table. But the Russians keep apart.

When the allied control council discusses the common problems of occupied Austria, there is bitter disagreement.

East and west have some mutual reason for "co-operating" here:

Russia hopes ultimately to bring Austria under her control and so extend her influence westward. America, France and Britain hope, somehow, to create an independent Austria and so drive back Communist influence.

The US, France and Britain hope Russian defeats elsewhere—either of a military or political nature—will improve chances of negotiating with the Russians a withdrawal of all occupation troops.

More Firms Bankrupt

LONDON, Sept. 5—(Reuters) —More British firms are going bankrupt now than in the years immediately after the war, statistics show. In 1946, only 323 businesses failed to meet their obligations, but last year the total rose to 1,491. The provisional figure of 921 for the first half of this year suggests that the 1950 total will not fall far short of 2,000.

Held For Murder

MANILA, Sept. 6—(Reuters) —A taxi driver was arrested here for murder, charged with shooting his firm's cashier over a nine-cent shortage in his pay envelope. Police said 42-year-old Ceferino Mardoqnio waylaid the cashier, Armando Santos, and fired a double burst into his stomach.

Jumps From Truck Boy Fractures Arm

TRENT RIVER, Sept. 5 (ENS) —Terry McLaughin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin, fractured his right arm when he jumped from the back of a truck Friday night.

He was taken to the office of Dr. W. M. Judd and there it was found necessary to take him to the Peterborough Civic Hospital.

His condition is reported satisfactory.

Good Morning To Bear

MARMORA, Sept. 5 (ENS)— A quiet "good morning" can be as effective as a shotgun in chasing a bear from a cabin, Earl McInroy discovered one morning last week.

He woke up to find a 300-pound black bear, facing him. Earl said, "Well, good morning." The bear ran out. The cabin door had been left open, and sometime during the night, the bear wandered in.

Woman Guerrilla Shoots G. I. Soldiers

By STAN SWINTON.

MASAN FRONT IN KOREA, Sept. 5 (AP).—A Communist woman guerrilla shot down seven American prisoners Sunday night. Five were killed and two wounded were left for dead. Also slain was a South Korean guard.

The story was told by a Michigan soldier, whose name was withheld. In a bedside interview he said he was left for dead among the corpses after being wounded in the leg.

"We were a Signal Corps detachment running a relay radio station," he said.

"We were all asleep. There were 10 Reds and three of them were girls. They tied our hands, grouped us together and then shot us down. I could not see which one did it."

However, the other survivor, a corporal from New York City who was shot through the stomach, whispered that they were shot by one of the women. He said each of the girls appeared to be about 19 years old.

An officer from a nearby hospital found the dead and wounded. He reported that the American bodies were in a pile.

The radio station was smashed, its tent ripped with rifle bullet holes and knife slashes.

The station was about eight miles behind the southern front.

Entries from Mr. Brownridge and Mr. Boynton won the senior champion boar and sow awards, respectively. Junior champion boar honors went to George Douglas, Mitchell, and another Brownridge entry was declared junior champion boar.

Building Still Climbing But Find Housing Down

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

It would have taken a lot of enthusiasm back in 1948 to have forecast that Canadian building would be reaching towards new records two years hence. It would have taken even more enthusiasm in the record year 1949 to have said that the real record year was yet to come.

But that is exactly how it is, for this year, according to all indications is going to roll up the biggest building figures yet.

In August, says MacLean Building Reports, Ltd., contracts were let for $144,511,000, a high for that month to date, and up $53,800,000 over August last year. For the first eight months of the year the total was $881,634,000, up $172,872,000. That is a jump of some 24 per cent, which is altogether surprising.

An interesting factor is that residentials construction which has been carrying the burden of recent increases, is actually behind August of last year, but industrial increases are up all over the country.

Figures by classification for August, with August a year ago in brackets, were:

Residential, $42,532,400 ($55,913,600); commercial, $47,101,100 ($24,674,700); industrial, $14,012,000 ($2,702,200); engineering, $34,865,000 ($7,364,100).

Top award in August was for a $17,000,000 blast furnace in Hamilton, while other jobs included:

The Harrows, N.B., $5,600,000 hydro development; Toronto provincial office building, $3,500,000; St. Catharines hospital, $1,750,000; Ocean Falls, B.C., saw mill project, $1,500,000; fish processing job at Louisburg, N.S., $1,000,000; monastery and school at Jacques Cartier, Que., $1,000,000.

GOOD NEIGHBOUR POLICY

Hanging out my laundry I noticed that Mrs. Layton's, next door, was whiter. I couldn't help asking her why. 'Reckitt's Blue keeps out that yellow tinge', she said. 'Just swish it through the final rinse. You can only obtain pure white with blue, and you don't take chances with anything that may damage fabric.' That's what I call good neighbourliness and good advice. It's Reckitt's Blue for me from now on, particularly as it costs so little.

Autumn Styles Must Sport A Loud Rustle

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON —(CP)— Evening gowns with the picturesque grandeur of a portrait by Reynolds or Gainsborough are this season's choice among London's fall fashions.

Except for cocktail and informal wear, short evening gowns are definitely out.

For the grand occasion, rich brocades and velvets, embroidered satins, star-spangled tulles and chiffons sweep the ground in voluminous folds.

The season's most sought-after creation, however, is something that rustles. If the dress itself is soft, the rustle must come from a frou-frou petticoat.

Helena Geffers achieves this with a narrow, tiered petticoat of finely pleated taffeta under a "merry widow" gown in black satin, striped with velvet. With shawl collar tipped with lace, slim waist and hugging hipline, the full, lace-tipped hemline falls softly in a diagonal line from hip to knees.

Exotic Frou-Frou

The exotic frou-frou of richly embroidered brocades, jewelled slipper satins and voluminous tulles with equally full petticoats, are chosen by Worth, and Norman Hartnell, the Queen's dressmaker.

Worth presents a gown of ivory satin brocaded with pink carnations, its semi-crinoline skirt sweeping the ground in folded flares. The strapless top is cuffed with pink velvet to match the collar and lining of a matching long-sleeved jacket.

Hardy Amies favors both crinoline and hobble skirts. His ice-white satin gown billows out from a tiny moulded bodice of silver lace covered by delicate grey chenille embroidery. The lace is also used in a floating exit appeal.

Rich metallic broacades in silver, pewter and copper are the choice in hobble-skirted gowns. Deep cape collars repeat the line of the stiffened peplums, which fall in wide hip-panels to the hem.

A new line by Victor Stiebel has dramatic exit appeal. Immense fullness, concentrated at the back in deep folds comes from a large back bow. The bodice is strapless and beautifully moulded, and a deep waist tuck suggests a low waistline.

Strict Parents Drive Girls To Dating On Street Corners

DEAR MISS DIX: We are four girls between the ages of 16 and 17 and we are desperate, wanting a bit of fun which is denied us by our very strict parents. We cannot go to any place of entertainment. We are not allowed to have any dates and even when we go out with girls of our own age we are accused of talking to or going out with boys and bawled out as if that were a sin. We cannot use any cosmetics. We are so tired of being cut off from all the pleasures of youth that we are ready to do anything, to run away from home, or elope, anything to escape and get a little freedom. What shall we do?

FOUR LONESOME GIRLS

ANSWER: There is nothing you can do except to submit to your parents until you are old enough to be legally free and until you have learned some trade whereby you can support yourselves. As long as you are minors and as long as you eat their bread and butter you are legally and morally bound to obey the rules of conduct they lay down for you.

Dorothy Dix

Parents are Wrong

I think your parents are entirely wrong in being so strict with you. I think they are incredibly stupid and that their treatment of you is calculated to drive you into the very harm they are trying to prevent. I don't blame you for resenting being cut off from the pleasures that belong to your time of life, but don't let your fathers' and mothers' mistake cause you to make a bigger one.

But I wish that I could say something to the misguided parents who, with the best intentions in the world, are doing the worst thing posible for their children by being too strict with them. Girl's are going to have beaux, and if they can't have boys come to see them at home they will meet them on the street corners.

Parents who will not let their daughters receive their company at home and have their pleasures at home are simply throwing their girls to the men who prey upon girls who are determined to have their fun at any price.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married six years. My husband and I love each other very dearly and the only drawback to my happiness is that I long for a child and he is not willing that we should have one. He likes to be petted and made much of and fussed over like a baby, and he says that if we had a child we would not love each other any more—that a child would part us. Do you think this is true?

MRS. A. M. C.

ANSWER: Very often this does happen, so your husband's apprehensions are not without foundation There are millions of women who apparently lose all interest in their husbands as soon as the first child is born and thereafter regard their husbands not as men, but simply in the light of slaves to support them and their offspring.

Probably your husband has seen so many other men's noses put out of joint by a baby that he is afraid to run the risk of setting up a rival on his hearthstone. But you ought to be able to reassure him on this point and make him believe that your chief reason for desiring a baby is to have a replica of himself.

But in case the blessed event does occur, have enough sense not to make your husband jealous by ousting him from his throne and installing the baby on it. Don't save all your petting and kissing for the youngster. And remember that a woman makes a great mistake when she ditches her husband for her children. For in a few years the children grow up and marry and leave her and then she is desolate if she has lost touch with her husband.

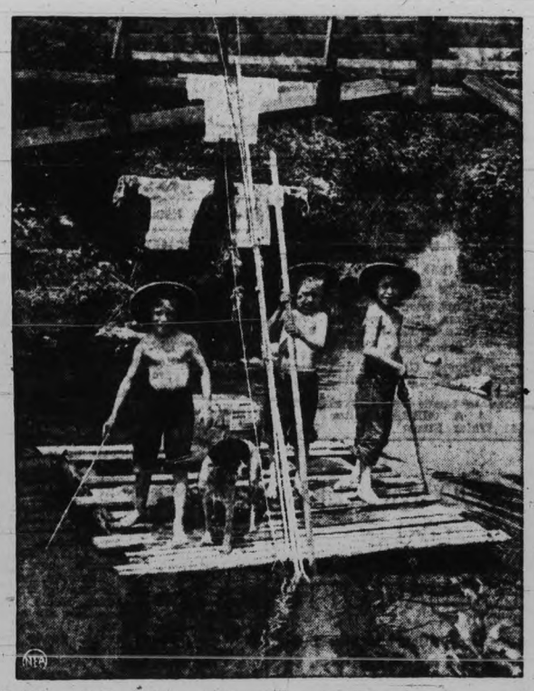
DEAR MISS DIX: How can I tell whether I am in love or not? I am a boy of 19 and have been in love with a number of girls. Each time I would think that this was fatal and that she was the only girl and I'd be crazy about her until I saw some other girl who took my eye. Then I'd start all over again. Is this because I don't know my own mind, or am I easily infatuated?



HAL

ANSWER: It is both, and because you are a boy. Your taste hasn't jelled yet and you don't know what you want in a girl. You are really in love with love and you try to fit every girl into your pattern of romance. Just be patient. You will get over this and when you are really in love you will know it.

We Had a Raft of Fun, but Now Our Toil's Begun

We could never really tell you what a summer this has been
Things like Tom an' Dick an' Harry makin' like Huck Finn . .
Days were bright and carefree, nothin' special was the rule.
You'd a never thought a fella ever had to think of school.

But, "them days is gone forever" . . . (if not forever, for too long).
Cause that ol' brass bell is pealin' out its sad, come-hither song.
So we're packin' off to face it, mister. That's the situation,
An' the only way to figger is: just nine months 'til vacation!

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Flank Steak Fillets Easy-on-the-budget Recipe

"250 Ways to Prepare Meat," the eighth book in the series of twenty-four Culinary Arts Institute cookbooks being made available to readers of The Examiner, is full of money-saving recipes, tempting illustrations, tasty ideas and marketing helps. Like the other books of the series already released — Snacks, Leftovers, Cakes, Poultry, Pies, Soups and Salads—the recipes are easy to follow for the beginner and full of unusual suggestions for the experienced cook.

Here is an excellent way to make a delicious dinner out of a comparatively low-cost cut of meat.

Flank Steak Fillets

Have flank steak scored lightly crosswise. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour, and pound well with potato masher. Roll steak around strips of salt pork, skewer, cut into slices. Brown in hot fat. Braise with tomatoes, onion, and green pepper.

A mound of mashed potatoes in the centre of serving dish with fillets arranged around the outside makes an attractive serving, with the green pepper and tomatoes affording the color contrast.

You will be sure to want to look through, and then own this excellent cookbook. The surprising thing is that the Meat Book and each of the other books are yours for 25c each and a coupon clipped from page 2 of any issue of this newspaper. Just present the coupon and 25c at the Examiner office or to your Examiner carrier or at Braund's Home Food Markets or send 30c and the coupon (5c additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, Examiner, Peterborough.

TheBestLunchYou Can Pack Is Not Too Good for School

By MARY MOORE

While I am writing this Peter the Eater is starting on a new chore we have delegated to him—packing the three daily carried lunches we need every day in this family.

He did not blink an eyelash when we drew lots to apportion our daily duties. As long as Marianne will DRY the dishes and get the breakfasts he will keep quiet about this lunch-packing.

This is to be his routine: On Monday evenings he makes (1) 3 jars of sandwich fillings which are chopped egg, ground meat and some such fish as salmon or tuna; (2) a cake from a boxed cake-mix, but covered with one of his elegant home-made butter icings; (3) a pan of cookies also from a boxed mix.

We figure that that will be sufficient ahead-of-time preparation for him. The rest he improvises as he goes along—hoping we will have a roast on Sunday that he can carve fast slices for his Monday's lunches when he is not yet stocked up.

I pass these preparation ideas along for what they may be worth to you.

In addition to them we have a tomato, a peach and a banana each—for I do not take the cake!

School Lunch Important

It is such an easy matter to slight a carried lunch that I am going to insert some scare sentences here.

Think of carried school lunches as containing one-third of the nutrition your child receives every day.

Think of eating a cold lunch yourself every day.

Think of how utterly empty any child is by noon.

Good and well-balanced lunches (not on top of the head as my youngsters sometimes did) can mean the difference between a malnourished and well-nourished child.

Do not put wafer-thin slices of ham or bologna in your dearest littles ones' sandwiches — make that meat filling THICK—and what is more—OH Min!—put it between whole wheat bread slices generously buttered or margarined and add a thick leaf of lettuce. That's the kind of fare that is satisfying and has staying power.

Variations Lunch Surprises

(1) Peanut butter and chopped apple on whole wheat bread.

(2) Peanut butter and crisp fried bacon on whole wheat bread.

(3) One-half banana and one teaspoon lemon juice mashed with a package of cream cheese. This is a good dessert piece if you are short on cookies, spread on date and nut or Boston brown bread.

(4) Honey and chopped bacon on home-made cornbread.

(5) Ground ham mixed with an equal quantity of grated raw vegetables and moistened with mayonnaise—on rye bread.

(6) Chopped hard-cooked eggs and half as much chopped cucumber moistened with relish spread on whole wheat bread.

(7) Equal quantities of ground dried beef and cheddar cheese moistened with a little tomato catsup—on white bread (for once!).

(8) Half and half cream cheese and honey mixed with a few chopped peanuts or almonds on cheese or bran or nut or fruit bread.

EVERYBODY SHOULD HAVE EIGHT OUNCES MILK FOR LUNCH.

What's Right?

When you get ready to leave a large party you notice that your hostess is talking to another guest.

WRONG: Leave without saying "goodby" to the hostess, rather than interrupt her.

RIGHT: Go up to the hostess and say "goodby," but make the farewell brief so that she can finish her conversation with the other guest.

Girl Crosses Canada On Horseback

LYTTON, BC —(CP)— A 22-year-old Montreal girl and her 15-year-old mare have arrived here on the last leg of their cross-Canada tour.

Barbara Bradbury expects to arrive in Vancouver, 150 miles away, by mid-September. Then she will take the train back to attend the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph.

They began the long jaunt from Montreal in July, 1949, wintered in a Northern Ontario logging camp, and made it here in another five months. Her expenses this summer were about $100.

"I wanted to see our country and I figured this was the best way," Barbara said. She spent some nights en route in farm houses, others camping out.

Her chief trouble was with paved roads, which "are not made for horses,"

T.V. Audience Enjoys Jewel Display

LONDON —(CP)— Jewels worth thousands of pounds, ranging from 18th- to 20th-century creations, were "brought home" to televiewers recently when the National Jewellers' Association took part in the "And Now—Nylon" show.

Among the many envy-provoking ensembles paraded before the television cameras was a simple black afternoon dress, the ruby buttons of which were beautifully matched by the rubies set in a gold, ruby and diamond clip and pair of earrings. Each jewel took the form of a cockatoo. Rubies also gleamed from the cocktail watch of gem-set gold.

A minute fob watch, in the shape of a herald of gold, platinum, sapphires, rubies and diamonds was one of the highspots of the show. Viewers were given a close-up of the flick of the model's finger which released the watch concealed by the banner of the herald's trumpet.

Beautiful Earrings

Long pendant earrings and a beautiful bracelet, all of diamonds worn with a lilac chiffon gown, proved that fashion in jewellry takes no assount of time, for the fashion-right jewels were the work of a craftsman of about 1780.

The adaptability of modern jewels was beautifully illustrated by the model who wore a diamond tiara—not on her head—but round her throat. Also of diamonds were the large six-stone earrings beautifully highlighted a Paris-inspired gown of blue and gold satin stripes.

HIGH DIVER AT 70

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa—(CP)—Although suffering from paralysis in both legs and one hand, 70-year-old Joseph Koeppler is a regular visitor at the local swimming tank where he makes 30-foot dives. He believed his condition is helped by the friction of the water on his body.

Boy Bumped 3 Cars Tangle

An eight-year-old boy received a bump on the head, but no one else was hurt when three cars tangled, two sliding into ditches off the wet pavement of Clonsilla Ave. Monday evening.

Paul Ochitwa, 386 Bathurst St. Toronto, said he took the ditch when he saw he could make a right turn while travelling away from Peterborough near the city limits. He said another car, driven by Robert Gibson, RR 4, Peterborough, approaching from the opposite direction made it impossible for him to make the curve on the wet pavement without colliding, so he cut in front of Gibson's car into the two-foot ditch. No damage was done to his car.

When Gibson saw Ochitwa's car go into the ditch he stopped on the east side to give aid if necessary. He left his wife in the car and walked back.

Sideswiped

George Newton, 682 Rhodes Ave., Toronto, driving out of the city, sideswiped Gibson's parked car. He veered to the opposite side 41 feet to the ditch and then 40 feet along the embankment, landing on its right side.

Bruce Newton, eight, one of Mr. Newton's twin sons, cut his forehead, but a doctor at the Peterborough clinic said the bump was not serious.

About $500 damage was done to the Newton car and about $150 damage to the Gibson car. Constable Douglas M. Stark investigated.

YW Swimmers Off To Big Start

More than 500 swimmers and potential swimmers are expected to enroll in the swimming classes at the YWCA this year according to Miss Audrey Hustwitt, swimming director.

"Swimming classes started today and judging by the number of phone calls and inquiries, there will be a full schedule this season," stated the swimming director.

One of the new features planned at the "Y" pool this year will be a new group, the business girls' swimming club which will be trained in synchronized swimming and diving.

Classes For All

Classes will be held for beginners, intermediates and advanced swimmers. Training for the Royal Life Saving Award of Merit and Bronze Medal is also on the swimming agenda.

"We hope to stress speed in the advanced swimming classes this year and hopes are high that this will result in the "Y" capturing several trophies in swimming meets during the year," continued Miss Hustwitt.

A welcome addition to the "Y" pool are the eight new hair dryers that are being installed.

Elected Clan Chief

COBOURG, Sept. 5. — John Ewart of Cobourg was elected Monday president of the McCulloch clan at a re-union held at Campbellford. Mr. Ewart traces his link with the McCulloch clan through the fact that his wife is a member of the McCulloch's.

Ottawa Told Chiang Support Very Dangerous

OTTAWA, Sept. 5 — (CP)— Hugh MacKenzie (L.—Lambton-Kent), an UNNRA worker in China for two years, said Saturday great danger lies in any attempt by the west to restore the "corrupt and discredited" Nationalist regime to power in China.

He told the Commons it was "the greatest mistake in our life" when "we buried our heads in the sand and said we would have no contact with them (the Chinese) at all . . . we played right into the open arms of Russia."

It would be disastrous, he said, if "we provoked and developed" all-out war with Communist China over Formosa. That island headquarters of the Nationalists was in his opinion the centre of the greatest danger to world peace. If the Chinese Communists attacked it, the third world war could easily be on.

Canada, in entering the Korean war, must face the fact that "the government there was not satisfactory and the Kremlin capitalized on that fact in a big way."

Formosa, too, had an unhappy memory of the Nationalist regime that had settled there. Its rule had left thousands starving. When they protested more than 12,000 were shot.

NATURE UNSPOILED

YOURS TO PROTECT

The BROAD-WINGED HAWK is another of the useful predators. Smaller than a red-tail, he may be seen soaring over hilly, forested places. He lives on small destructive mammals and insects, and is very valuable. He should be protected. Watch for the wide white tail-bands.

Full Of Cocktails Landing Gear Works

PRESTWICK, Scotland (CP)— Passengers on an Icelandic Airways plane drank a hearty toast to pilot Tony Jonsson for his ingenuity in bringing them safely to earth after an emergency.

A broken oil feed line had thrown the plane's hydraulic system out of commission just as the pilot was about to land at the nearby airport. The pilot gained altitude and signalled the control tower that he had to make an emergency landing which might be difficult.

Jonsson then called for several bottles of cocktails from the aircraft's bar and poured the entire contents into the faulty hydraulic system. It worked.

Scientists Expect To Learn If Humans Can Breathe Fluid

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 — (AP) — Before the year is over, scientists expect to learn whether humans can survive by breathing a fluid instead of air.

The experiment, employing a fluid in which oxygenis dissolved under pressure, is one of the boldest projects being pushed at the Illinois College of Medicine.

"Theoretically, it's very feasible," said Dr. S. N. Stein, one of the researchers.

The scientists expect to submerge a monkey into a tankful of oxygen-impregnated fluid this fall. If that works, trials on humans will be the next step.

Fantastic? Not if you remember two things. Lungs use oxygen, not air. And many babies start life with amniotic fluid in their lungs. This is expelled when they take their first breath of air.

A Durable Creature

A man with liquid in his lungs would be a durable creature. He could go deep into the ocean. He could survive starts and stops in rockets that would crush the chest of an air breather.

The possibility of fluid breathing was discovered by Dr. Stein, assistant professor of psychiatry and assistant to the director of laboratories at the Illinois Neuropsychiatric Institute, and Dr. Warren S. McCullouch, professor of physiology and psychiatry.

They agreed that knowledge obtained from the project had shown that such breathing is theoretically feasible. The function vital to life is to get sufficient oxygen through the membrane coating of the lungs to the lung blood capillaries.

Ordinary water would not do. It contains traces of dissolved free oxygen—enough to sustain fish with their large gill areas for extracting it—but not enough to prevent suffocation in an air breahting animal

Interesting Pssibility

But why not a liquid containing a high percentage of oxygen and the same minerals and proteins found in body fluids? This offers a possibility of sufficient oxygen supply without the danger of damage to lung tissues.

If the monkey experiment is successful, means will have to be worked out for its practical application to man.

A helmet, with the special fluid surrounding the head and filling the diver's lungs, conceivably could be used for deep sea work. A rocket traveller could be immersed in a tank or breathe the fluid via tube from a container strapped to his back.

Non-Confidence Vote Defeated

OTTAWA, Sept. 5 —(CP)— A CCF motion of non-confidence in the government was defeated 93 to 18 in the Commons Saturday shortly after an Independent member had expressed the first opposition to the dispatch of a special Canadian force to Korea.

The CCF motion, moved during continued debate on the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne, called for a vote of non-confidence in the government because it had "failed to provide adequately for the defence of Canada" and had 'failed" to deal with the high cost of living. It urged reimposition of price controls and a revival of subsidies on essential products.

The motion also criticized the government for not including in its plans substantial economic aid for underdeveloped countries of the world.

The CCF and Social Credit parties voted for the motion, while the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives voted against it.

Gov't Intervenes Halts Walkout Of G.E. Plant

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (CP)— Eleventh-hour government intervention Monday succeeded in averting a labor walkout set for today against the huge General Electric Company.

Stepping into a wages dispute between GE and the CIO electrical workers which threatened vital defence production, the Federal Mediation Service won agreement from the union to put the issues to mediation.

Today's strike call was intended to have called out 37,000 members of the International Electrical Workers' Union (CIO) in addition to 23,000 already on strike. The dispute threatened to affect 46 or more GE plants and 180,000 employees—only a third of which, however, are IUE members.

Something Went Wrong

TORONTO, Sept. 5 (CP) —The "crime doesn't pay" show on the Canadian National Exhibition midway has cause to wonder at the effectiveness of its presentation. Stolen sometime during the weekend from the show, which attempts to drive home its slogan by portraying scenes from actual crimes in which the culprit was caught and punished, was a pair of hands from a mannequin. The dummy was sitting in an electric chair.

Sky-Sail In Motorless Plane Thrills Church Brother Too

By JACK SCOTT.

PENDLETON AIRFIELD, Ont. —I squeezed into the cockpit of a motorless plane this afternoon, went for a sail in the sky and found something new under the sun.

Jack Scott

The back of the pilot's neck was a foot in front of me. We sat tandem-style in a fabric kite that weighed not much more than the two of us together.

The pilot waved his arm and ahead of us, down the field, a Tiger Moth began to advance, its motor revving. Some 250 feet of nylon rope tightened and we began to move forward, scraping along the grass of the air strip. We were airborne before the Moth's wheels left the ground.

The Moth climbed slowly in wide circles until we were just under 2,000 feet above the airfield. It was a humid, sunless day on the ground, but the breeze was cool in the cockpit. Still, I was beginning to be a little disappointed. Being dragged along in the air like a kite was a novelty, but that was all.

Suddenly there was a metallic bang from the front of our glider. I saw the Moth fall away through the air like a Kingfisher, the rope trailing out in its slip stream and we were free.

A feeling of exhilaration came immediately. Silently and as easily as an eagle wheeling in flight we were floating through the sky. A thin whistling through the struts was the only indication that we were speeding along at upwards of 70 miles an hour.

I felt like whooping with delight and did. The pilot turned around with a grin and banked us hard over. The thin, tapering wing dropped and we planed in a clean, sweeping arc.

I knew I was going to hate getting back to ground.

Boys Aloft

It just takes one flight to create an enthusiast for gliding or, as the French have it, "vol-a-voile," and that may explain all the activity around Pendleton, an abandoned wartime RCAF base between Ottawa and Montreal used almost exclusively now by light sports planes and gliders.

To me, the flight was no more interesting than meeting a 53-year-old French-Canadian who took to the air at an age when most men take more easily to carpet slippers.

Brother Hormisdas is a mild, benign-looking man who sometimes startles spectators at Pendleton by getting out of his robes, putting on an old pair of coveralls and a small, peaked cap and soaring off into the blue.

As a member of the Brothers of Christian Instruction, he teaches physics at St. Michael's High School in the pleasant little Gatineau town of Buckingham in Quebec.

A couple of years ago Brother Hormisdas, who had taken a ride in a glider once in the States, decided to form a club in the school. He forthwith completed 150 flights to get an instructor's certificates, sold the town on the need for young people to take their part in the Aviation Age (most parents were afraid their sons would break their necks), and before the year was out went up over Buckingham in the Club Vol-A-Voile's first glider. Now more than 20 boys have made solos and when Brother Hormisdas lectures on aerodynamics he has a full house.

Each Sunday afternoon the Brother and a jeep-load of his boys motor up to Pendleton and spend the day practising the art of staying aloft.

"Dis," says Brother Hormisdas, "Dis is the king of sports an' de perfect introduction to power flying. When you are up dere alone widout a soun', riding through the sky, you know about flying as de birds do. Also, you are boun' to get interested in physics."

And 'Shorty'

I made my flight today with Canada's most colorful gliding pilot, Ovila "Shorty" Boudreault, aptly described by one of his friends as "a towering five- foot-one." It took Shorty a lot longer than it ought to have, to become Canada's top soaring man because of a weakness for airsickness.

Because of the weather, our flight was pure gliding, which means that we were losing altitude at all times.

The real thrill, according to Shorty, is when atmospheric conditons allow the frail craft to soar, rising on dry, warm air, or thermals, so that the glider may be winged down streets of clouds or taken up to heights where the ice will form on the slender wings.

Shorty tells of one enthusiast, Jack Ames, of Oshawa, who released his ship in perfect soaring weather and after 25 minutes decided to come down only to find out he could not lose altitude. The prospect of remaining permanently suspended between heaven and earth, Ames confessed, gave him "a few long thoughts" until a hole was found for escape.

Another unusual experience was that of Col. L. A. Smallwood, chief instructor of the Gatineau Gliding Club, who reached more than 4,000 feet in height by simply riding the smoke from a grass fire near the airport. "It was the first time," as he put it, "that I had ever really smelled a thermal."

But the really surprising thing about the sport is that it's not more popular than it is.

What A War!

VANCOUVER, (CP). — American troops passing through here on their way to Korea never had it so good. They arrived on a luxurious passenger train and were sped on their way via an equally luxurious Canadian Pacific Airlines plane. "Say, are those stewardesses really coming with us?" asked one G.I. # Attack On South Korea International Police Army

By SIGRID ARNE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP) The Communist attack on South Korea has brought into being the very international police force which the Russians have fought against in the United Nations for five years.

But it is only a provisional police force. What will happen to it after the Korean matter is cleaned up is not yet apparent. The question of establishing a permanent force—and the make-up of that force if it is established —still is up in the air, although there is a great deal of unofficial talk about it.

For the first two months in Korea the ground battle against the Communists had to be waged by South Koreans and American troops alone. They had almost immediate support, however, from British and Australian planes and from naval vessels of Canada, Australia, Britain, The Netherlands and New Zealand in addition to US planes and ships.

Make Preparations

By the end of two months 30,000 troops from nine other UN countries were pledged. They were either en route or training for action.

The following countries had pledged troops: Canada, Australia, The Netherlands, New Zealand, The Philippines, Thailand, Turkey, The United Kingdom and France.

The following had pledged naval aid: Australia, Canada, France, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway and the United Kingdom. Three Canadian destroyers are in action in Korean waters.

The following had pledged air aid: Australia, Belgium, Canada, Greece, The Union of South Africa. Canada now has a transport squadron in action taking supplies and troops to Japan.

The Nationalist Chinese government offered troops and planes, but acceptance was delayed in view of Communist threats to Formosa, where most of the Nationalist forces are stationed.

Offers of medical aid had been made by: Denmark, Ethiopia, India, Israel, The Philippines and Sweden.

Other Offers

Offers of economic help had come from Chile, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, Lebanon, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, The Philippines and Thailand.

Shortly after the fighting started the UN Security Council asked the US to name a UN command in Korea, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur was appointed.

The Korean Communists will shortly learn, the hard way, that their cause is opposed by the whole non-Communist world, whether white, yellow or brown.

No Antelope Season

REGINA (CP)—Game Commissioner E. L. Paynter said present information indicates there will be a closed season on antelope in Saskatchewan this year. An aerial census showed the antelope down 30 to 40 per cent from the number counted last year. The drop was attributed to "continuous, severe winter conditions."

Paris To Become Inland Port With 6 Docks

By ROGER BARJERON

PARIS, Sept. 5 (Reuters) — Paris may become a sizeable inland port by 1955.

An ambitious project to bring the ocean to the capital is under way at Gennevilliers, northern suburb of Paris, where the first two of six full-size docks already have been built.

When complete, these docks will have a traffic capacity of 3,000,000 tons a year, or about one-half the capacity of Le Havre before the war.

Gennevilliers, 2½ miles from Paris and about 150 miles from the sea, lies in the heart of an important industrial centre with big gas and electric plants.

Linked To Railway

It is linked to the French railway system by the northern network, major freight-carrying line handling 25,000,000 tons of coal a year, and the eastern network, outlet for the country's iron ore and heavy industry.

Work on the Gennevilliers project started shortly before the second world war under the direction of Jean Grandel, mayor of Gennevilliers, who was shot by the Germans in 1941.

The docks were excavated under an economical arrangement—instead of cash payment, contractors were allowed to keep the sand they shovelled out of the foundations.

A "green belt" of gardens and sports stadiums, part of the greater Paris city planning scheme, will separate the port from the suburb of Gennevilliers itself.

Dredgers will dig up 17 feet of the Seine River bed to facilitate ship movements. Bridges between Paris and Rouen destroyed during the war will be rebuilt with 23-foot clearance above the river.

Nanticoke Farmer Takes Cow Prizes

TORONTO, Sept. 5—(CP)—A Nanticoke, Ont., farmer proved conclusively Monday that good breeding stock means victories in the show ring.

The get of Atkinson's prize cow, Bonnie Nellie won both the grand champion bull and the grand grand champion female ribbons for dual purpose Shorthorns together with four lesser championships.

Mr. Atkinson said the founder of his herd still holds the Canadian lifetime milk production record of 126,212 pounds of milk and 5,212 pounds of butterfat.

ALLIES HALT PLUNGING RED DRIVE

Enemy Tanks Rushed To Front Line

Counter-Attacking U.N. Troops Retake Yongchon

TOKYO, Sept. 6—(AP)—Stiffening United Nations forces recaptured Yongchon today and halted a plunging North Korean drive on Taegu and its highway arteries.

The highway junction is 20 miles east of Taegu. Communist guerrillas had seized the town. Then the counter-attacking Allied forces retook it.

Other Allied troops plunged northward from Kyongju, another highway junction 18 miles southwest of bombed and flaming Pohang port on the Sea of Japan coast.

But the North Koreans moved two fresh tank brigades and 84 Russian-made tanks into front-line position to spark a thrust toward Taegu, the hub of the northern and western battlelines.

American Fifth Air Force warplanes destroyed or damaged 17 Red tanks in daylong fighting in the main combat areas.

Aerial Victories

The air force made the announcement of the aerial victories as the result of a heavy day's support to hard-pressed allied ground troops.

The planes roared back into the grim battle with 317 sorties. The air support had been largely out of action the day before because of bad weather.

Bombers set aflame Red-captured Pohang, which fell to the Communists for the second time in the war.

Night fighters and bombers roared out Wednesday night to continue the battle.

The 84 Soviet-built tanks reached the front line only a few hours before the planes pounced upon them. They were rushed to the aid of the attacking Communists in a mounting drive on Taegu.

That central rail hub supply centre was in dire peril but still in allied hands Wednesday night.

A battle for Taegu raged 20 miles east of the city at the highway junction of Yongchon, which apparently changed hands in the day's fighting. U.N. forces won it back tonight.

Kyongju, another main road junction 18 miles southwest of

Two Gunmen Rob Bank Of $14,000

Pair Tie Up Dealer In House Adjoining Bank Bldg.

HAMILTON, Sept. 6—(CP) Two armed men escaped with $14,000 in cash early today after blasting open the safe of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in nearby Binbrook and tieing up an 84-year-old farm implement dealer whose home and business is in the building which houses the bank.

Armed with sawed-off rifles the two men broke into the bank through a cellar window. The interior of the small branch bank, on Highway 53 about 15 miles south east of Hamilton was left in disorder. The safe-crackers set off three charges of nitro glycerine to break open the 10-ton vault.

Another safe nearby containing securities was untouched.

The men broke into a home adjoining the bank owned by George Bear about 1:30 a.m. They tied Bear hand and foot on the floor of the bedroom.

Calls For Help

At about 7 a.m. he managed to struggle to the window to call for help.

A near-by resident, William Woods, said he heard a loud noise sometime between 2 and 3 a.m.

"I never investigated because it sounded like a book falling on the floor in the apartment above," he said.

Begin Air Search

KAPUSKASING, Sept. 6—(CP)—Planes were pressed into service today in a search for Phillip Trailleur, 63, and his two sons, Ronald, 13, and Dennis, 15, missing in the woods near here since Monday. Ontario Lands Department planes soared over the area where the trio is believed to be while 13 experienced bushmen, headed by Ernest LaFontaine, District Chief Ranger, beat their way through the bush. The three have not been seen since they set off on a one-day fishing trip.

400 Homeless In Florida After Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 6 (AP). — Two persons were dead and more than 400 homeless today in the wake of a tricky gulf hurricane that still loitered in the Tampa Bay area.

The storm was drifting slowly southward at about four miles an hour, apparently losing some of its force after lashing the middle Florida Gulf coast with 125-mile-an-hour winds.

It had doubled back after stalling all day Tuesday in the Cedar Key area, where its greatest damage was reported. Winds near the centre were estimated at 70 to 75 miles an hour with gusts even higher.

Squalls covered most of north and central Florida.

Aid was rushed to Cedar Key, where the highway patrol estimated between 400 and 500 were homeless. A truck convoy left Albany, Ga., with food for 800 persons. Other trucks carried a supply of water, cots and blankets.

200 Buildings Damaged

The hurricane thrashed Cedar Key with winds estimated up to 125 miles an hour throughout the day. All 200 buildings in the small community were damaged and 75 per cent of them were wrecked.

The town of 900 was without electricity or drinking water. Trees and telephone poles were down and debris cluttered the roads. Bridges were damaged and causeways littered with seaweed and broken timbers.

The town's small fibre factory was damaged and its entire fishing fleet of 100 boats was sunk. Some can be salvaged but it is estimated the loss to the 150 to 200 fishing and pleasure boats in the area will average $1,000 apiece.

Both deaths attributed to the hurricane were caused by electrocution. An oil company official was electrocuted while trying to remove a fallen wire from his backyard fence and a mother was killed when she touched a live wire while helping her husband anchor their house trailer.

The hurricane whipped across western Cuba Friday night, thrashed Key West Sunday morning and then wallowed up the gulf coast. It came to a standstill off Cedar Key early Tuesday and finally drifted southward again, moving inland toward the east of Tampa.

Conservatives Demanding Secret Session To Discuss Defence Plans

Standard of Living Must Be Cut Now Abbott Tells House, Defence Pledges Will Boost Costs

OTTAWA, Sept. 6—(CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, wants a secret meeting of parliament on defence. He threw out a call Tuesday night for a closed session in charging that the Russians have more information about the state of Canada's defences than opposition members. Because, he told the House, the government is not giving any real information and is citing secrecy as one reason for not doing so, he wanted a secret meeting to thrash out the situation.

His request came late in the first day of battle over the Government's $850,000,000 program for expanded defence and armament measures arising from Korea.

Prime Minister St. Laurent was not in the Commons at the time and there was no immediate reply. However, sources close to the Cabinet said the request would be rejected. There has been no secret meeting of Parliament since the war.

Spectators in the Commons also watched:

1—Finance Minister Abbott indicate this special session will be asked to ratify tax boosts and say he is not planning to budget for a deficit this fiscal year.

2—Mr. Abbott introduce a resolution preceding a Defence Appropriations Bill seeking $450,000,000 in cash and authority to undertake contracts whose bills for $409,000,000 will come due in future years.

Defence Costly

3—Defence Minister Claxton say Korea will cost Canada between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 this fiscal year—ending March 31 next—and maybe more.

4—A Progressive Conservative non-confidence motion in the government defeated 147 to 59 to wind up the Throne-Speech debate.

Mr. Drew took the floor after Mr. Claxton once again rejected calls for a House Committee on Defence. The minister said Opposition members want to decide defence policy when it is the responsibility of the Cabinet alone.

Rink Commission Refuses Allow OHA Team Play

KITCHENER, Sept. 6 (CP) — The Waterloo rink commission Tuesday night turned down an application from the newly-formed sponsors of an Ontario Hockey Association Senior "A" team for playing privileges at the Waterloo arena because of heavy bookings throughout the winter.

Bill Timmis, commission chairman, said that due to the uncertainty of whether a senior team would operate this year the schedule of activities was drawn up with the understanding there would be no senior hockey.

Art Diesbourg, Bobby Bauer and Walter (Punch) Scherer announced Tuesday they would sponsor a senior team in the twin cities of Kitchener and Waterloo if they could get playing time at the Waterloo arena.

Scherer said today the commission's decision "means the end of us."

Verbal Duel

Announcement of the formation of the new club and failure to get rink privileges followed a weekend decision by the old organization, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen, to withdraw. It also produced a verbal dual between

Langton Prisoner Pleads Innocent

SIMCOE, Sept. 6 (CP)—Joseph Herbert McAuliffe, 32, of Windsor, pleaded innocent today at the opening of his trial on a charge of double murder in the machine-gun slaying of two tobacco farmers following a bank holdup at Langton last June 21.

McAuliffe, formerly of North Bay, was captured in a shack 23 miles west of here after police and armed posses had engaged in one of the greatest manhunts in Canada.

Police alleged McAuliffe pumped machine gun bullets into two pursuers, Arthur Lierman, 31, and William Goddyn, 24, both of South Middleton, following the $22,000 robbery of the Langton branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

Fifty witnesses have been subpoenaed to testify for the crown at the trial which is expected to last more than a week.

W. E. Ross of Simcoe was appointed to defend McAuliffe when crown counsel D. E. W. Tisdale explained the accused was without funds to provide counsel.

Actor Injured

MISSOULA, Mont. Sept 6 — (AP)—Victor Mature, on location near here for a motion picture to be called "Wild Winds", suffered a leg injury Tuesday in a motorcycle spill.

Few Enemy Ships Eluding UN Blockade, Canadian Says

TOKYO, Sept. 6—(AP)—North Korean Communists are able to slip only an occasional junk through the United Nations naval blockade on the west coast of Korea, Capt. Geoffrey Brock of the Royal Canadian Navy said today. Capt. Brock commands three Canadian destroyers in the blockade force of Canadian, British, Franch, Australian and Dutch warships. American naval forces patrol the east coast.

Capt. Brock whose home is in Victoria, said no large ships are moving on the west coast.

Most junks halted and searched are carrying South Korean refugees. He said their condition was pitiful.

The refugees are packed tightly in slow moving craft. Usually they have neither food nor water.

"We make sure they are not carrying anything but refugees," Capt. Brock said. "Then we give them a few loaves of bread and cigarettes and whatever we can spare and tell them where they may find some shelter."

Junks Sunk

When a junk is found carrying weapons or military supplies the Koreans are arrested, handed over to South Korean forces and the junk is sunk, Brock said.

"From time to time we find them trying to handle a few barrels of oil but that's becoming increasingly rare."

Cost Of Living Bonus At G.M.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 6 (CP). —A three-cents-an-hour cost-of-living allowance has been granted employees of General Motors Diesel Ltd, effective last Monday, it was announced today.

E. V. Rippingille, Jr., president of GM Diesel, said the increase was in line with allowances given GM workers in Oshawa under a United Automobile Workers (CCL-CIO) contract signed there in June.

The Oshawa contract, a precedent in Canadian labor contracts, provided a one-cent-an-hour increase for every 1.2 point increase in the cost-of-living index. Workers at Oshawa and Windsor recently got an additional three cents per hour under the contract.

We plan to keep in line with [illegible] at Oshawa and Windsor," Mr. Rippingille said, "though we do not yet have a bargaining agent in the plant here."

Salaried workers will receive an equivalent increase effective September 1.

Will Announce Tax Changes Thursday Night

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP). — Finance Minister Abbott said today in the Commons that he will announce tomorrow night the tax changes he proposes to help meet increased defence costs.

Mr. Abbott made his announcement at the opening of a morning sitting of the Commons. He gave no details.

He said that at 8 p.m. tomorrow night he will move that the House go into committee of ways and means so he can present the taxation proposals planned for this emergency session.

Staggering Bill

Mr. Abbott Tuesday placed a staggering $850,000,000 defence appropriation bill before the Commons and said he plans to finance the 1950-51 phase without going into the Red.

"I think I can properly say at this time that I am not planning on a budget deficit for this year, despite the large increase in defence expenditures," he said.

In his budget speech last March Mr. Abbott forecast a surplus of $20,000,000 for this year. So far revenues have been running far ahead of expectations. But Mr Abbott has made it clear that they have not been so high as to make nex taxes unnecessary.

Referring to the need for new defence expenditures, he said Canada cannot "escape the real costs involved, and we cannot possibly afford in real terms as high standards of living and in business expansion as we had hoped to achieve."

Judge Cuts $150,000 Off Jan Bata Bail

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP) — Bail for Jan Bata, 51-year-old head of a world-wide shoe manufacturing organization, Tuesday was reduced from $250,000 to $50,000. Bata has been held in jail here since Aug. 24 on a civil charge arising from a dispute over ownership and control of the huge concern.

Justice Samuel Dickstein in Supreme Court observed Tuesday that Bata could afford to jump the higher bail just as easily as a lesser amount.

Russia Claims Plane Unarmed

LONDON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Russia today claimed a bomber shot down by a United Nations fighter patrol Monday was an unarmed Soviet plane on a training flight.

The assertion was made in a statement to the United States broadcast by Moscow radio.

The statement claimed the plane carried "neither bombing nor torpedo armament."

It said the plane was flying "from Port Arthur to the area of Hai-Yun-Tao island, part of the frontier of Port Arthur military base and situated 140 kilometres (about 87 miles) from the shores of Korea."

The note said the plane "without any grounds or pretext was attacked and fired on by 11 fighters of the United States military air force."

The note said two other Soviet planes, which were on the same training flight, were "eye-witnesses of the attack."

Yugoslavia Raps North Koreans

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept 6 (AP)—Communist Yugoslavia lined up with the west Tuesday night in condemning aggression by the North Korean Communists but indicated she will not intervene directly in the war.

In the first statement of a definite Yugoslav position on the Korean conflict, foreign minister Edvard R. Kardelj told the newspaper Borba that the Korean war "is a strong blow to peace in the

Those who are to be blamed for the war in Korea," he said "must know that such a war will jeopardize world peace, stir up all the powers of aggression, start the war machine of the great powers and on all sides sharpen the international conflict. . ."

New York Bans Sirens Won't Spoil Air Alert

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP). — New York City has banned use of sirens on police and fire vehicles and ambulances so as to avoid confusion with any air raid alert.

The city's civil defence director, Arthur W. Wallander, said Tuesday night that "any unannounced siren signal after Monday will mean that an alert has been received from the United States Air Force."

Fire apparatus will be allowed to continue using bells. But sirens will be used only as a temporary air-raid warning system. Radio stations would broadcast the signals.

British Troops Hold Own Against Korean Attacks

WITH BRITISH FORCES IN KOREA, Sept. 6—(AP)—North Korean troops opened up with machine-guns on a British company last night.

But "we sorted them out promptly," said Brig. B. A. Coad, commander of British forces in Korea. This was an apparent understatement of "the situation was in hand."

The Reds' night attack blocked a supply road to the company, which was backed against a steep, slippery hill.

Temporary blocking of the supply road led to a report the company was surrounded. Tanks cleared the road today.

Brig. Coad said about 20 Communists were in the attacking party before his men took care of them.

The British troops moved into the front line Monday night.

Elements of the Argyll and Sutherland regiments relieved an American battalion along the Naktong River on the western front.

(The British force took over about eight miles southwest of Taegu on the right flank of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division. There are 1,500 men in the elements of the two regiments—first British troops in Korea.)

The Reds brought the British troops under heavy artillery fire as soon as they moved into the line. They opened up again last night. No direct hits on emplacements were reported.

Wilgress Will Head Delegation To England

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP).—L. Dana Wilgress, Canada's High Commissioner in the United Kingdom, will head the 13-man Canadian delegation to Torquay, England, where 37 nations will meet Sept. 28 to begin new international tariff-bargaining deals, the external affairs department announced today.

H. B. McKinnon, chairman of the Canadian Tariff Board, will be deputy chairman of the Canadian delegation. Since Mr. Wilgress has been re-elected head of the entire conference on tariffs and trade, Mr. McKinnon will have the main job of directing Canadian negotiations.

Channel Has Defeated 3 More Swimmers

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 6 (AP)—An Egyptian, a Turk and a Frenchman tried to swim the English Channel today. None made it.

The Egyptian came closest. After 17 hours of thrashing about in cold, choppy water in his England-to-France attempt, Abel Moneim Abdu gave up three miles from the French shore.

Turkish swimmer Murat Guler, headed in the traditional opposite direction, was the first to give up this morning—defeated in his second try at the channel.

Shortly after, Dr. Alain Bombard, 25, of France, headed the same way on his second effort, was dragged from the channel after striking a paralyzingly cold current.

Deny Election Orders Given In Britain Before End of '50

LONDON, Sept. 6 (CP)—Speculation has cropped up again about the possibility of a general election in Britain before the end of the year.

Latest reports are that secret preparedness instructions have been issued to Labor party election agents and that Conservative party organizers have been told to be all set for an appeal to the country in November.

These reports, however, have been bluntly brushed aside by government sources as "unadulterated nonsense, based on wishful thinking."

The government, these sources say, must obviously be prepared at all times for such an eventuality but they deny that election orders have gone out.

Political observers close to the government are inclined to agree with this view. With the even balance of strength in the House of Commons, they admit that a snap divisions might conceivably sink the government during the approaching special session, or later. But as long as the government remains in the driver's seat the date of the next election will be deferred until a favorable time of its own choice.

Meanwhile, cabinet ministers have been in almost-daily consultation in preparation for the meeting of parliament next Tuesday. Details relating to far-reaching departmental commitments under the country's mammoth rearmament bill, have been their main concern.

The expenditure of £1,135,000,000 annually on defence for the next three years, has involved sudden switch-over and the transition has inevitably posed a crop of problems.

The major headache confronting the government is how to defeat the spectre of inflation. And behind that bogey lies the problem of how to keep wages pegged in the face of rising living costs.

Reds Given Setback In Danish Elections

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, — Sept. 6 (AP).—Complete returns today from Denmark's parliamentary election showed the voters in this Atlantic Pact country gave the Conservatives and Georgists (Single Tax party) a boost and handed the Communists a setback.

The interior ministry announced that the Conservatives and Georgists, both right-of-centre parties, had received more than one-fourth of the 2,000,000 votes cast Tuesday.

The Communists were reduced to the smallest party in parliament. The Agrarians also lost heavily. The Socialist party, the government party since 1947, barely held its own. However, it remained the largest single political organization in the country. The balloting was for seats in the lower house of parliament.

Expect Russia To Cast 44th Veto In UN Council

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 6—(AP)—Russia is expected to cast her 44th veto today to prevent Security Council adoption of an American resolution urging all countries not to help the North Korean aggressors.

Russia's Jakob A. Malik has insisted since he returned to the council Aug. 1 that the U.S. resolution is merely designed to "hide and justify American aggression in Korea."

He returned to that theme at Tuesday's stormy session declaring that U.S. intervention is "the real threat to international peace and security." The North Koreans, he insisted, are "fighting a just war against the foreign invaders."

Malik's bitter, 45-minute attack on the U.S. came after the United States delegate, Warren R. Austin, officially notified the Council that United Nations forces had shot down a plane off the Korean coast bearing Soviet markings and had recovered the body of a man identified by his papers as a Russian.

Ontario Fruit Crop Is Down

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP). — Ontario's fruit crop, with a couple of exceptions, will be down this year, the Agriculture Department reported Tuesday. Prospects for vegetable yields are about normal.

Apples are down 20 per cent from 1949; pears, 35 per cent; plums, 22 per cent and peaches 10 per cent. However, a grape crop one-third larger than last year and a strawberry yield of 60 per cent greater is expected, the Ontario fruit and vegetable crop report for August says. Both cherry and raspberry crops also were down slightly in 1950.

The department reports almost all major vegetable crops are average or slightly better, as of Aug. 15.

The pea crop for canning showed good quality and was a satisfactory pack. Acreage for canning tomatoes is down substantially this year but crop prospects are considered good, provided an early frost does not damage the crop, already two weeks later than normal.

Potatoes, carrots, cabbage and turnips also will be plentiful this winter, the department says. Acreage and crop prospects are about the same as last year.

Russians Choose Weak Spot In US Defences

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—The United States now has fought more than 10 weeks of the kind of a war for which it was unprepared.

These have been weeks of defeats, retreats and finally flaming conflict along a changing line—150 miles back of where the shooting started.

Some of the most ferocious and biggest attacks by the North Korean Communist enemy have come within recent days.

What happened?

North Korea may have been an obscure little country, geographically and politically, but take it from Gen. Joseph T. McNarney of the United States defence department:

"The North Korean forces are not undisciplined bandits, but well-trained, well-led troops equipped with up-to-the-minute weapons from the Soviet arsenal."

What U.S. Needed

The troops and the weapons they had when they jumped off on the boldest Communistic aggression to date were the kind the United States lacked. The U.S. had planes and weapons for war—but not the kind of war the Communists chose. The strategy-makers of the Soviet world picked the kind of war and the place.

The U.S. was strong in the air and on the sea—and weakest on the ground. And so they chose the ground. They haven't even bothered to throw in air or naval support.

The United States at no time has been able to bring fully to bear its two great weapons, air and sea power. Nor has it chosen to apply atomic warfare. More than that, if the Communists elect to keep the war confined to Korea there is little prospect of major use of these weapons.

Fight Well

It isn't that American ground forces haven't fought hard and well, with what they have. The casualty lists alone prove that.

Has the fault then been in Washington defence headquarters where something called "strategic concepts" are made by the civilian and uniformed heads of the military?

Or does it go beyond that? To faulty intelligence about what Russia and her satellites were doing To foreign policy? To haste in putting the new little republic of South Korea on its own and withdrawing the American military force? To a Congress and administration responsive to popular demand for unrestrained peacetime life and over-economy in national defence expenditure?

Economy alone doesn't account for the traditional attitude of the people toward national defence. They are willing to spend money. Witness any of the annual national budgets. But they don't like wars. And being a race of gadgeteers, Americans long have hoped that machines instead of men could be made to fight them.

7 Fail To Appear On Drink Charges

Failure of several men charged with being drunk over the weekend to appear in police court Tuesday afternoon prompted Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw to comment while asking for bench warrants to have the men arrested, "This nice weather must be too much for them."

The three men who should have been on hand to answer drunk charges were Wesley Taylor, 25, Curve Lake; Lee Pike, 26, 311 McDonnel St., and Joseph McAleer, 56, no fixed address.

Charles Rupert, 24, Havelock, was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to being drunk.

Drunk charges against two men, Edward Desautell, 65, Douro, and Louis Givens, 37, Lakefield road, Smith township, were adjourned to next Monday.

Supreme Court Dismisses Damage Action

Chief Justice James C. McRuer today dismissed a Supreme Court damage action brought against Kenneth H. McCannan, Clonsilla Ave., the aftermath of a three-car collision September 29, 1949, on Highway 2.

Witnesses, both for the defendant and the plaintiffs, testified that McCannan's westbound car was struck and knocked off course by an eastbound car bearing Quebec licence plates. The Quebec driver was trying to overtake a transport.

McCannan's vehicle then plowed into the oncoming car of the plaintiffs—William G. Harrison, Water St., and his wife Dolly.

"I have no doubt that this movement was made so quickly that Mr. McCannan had no reasonable opportunity of avoiding the consequences," said the chief justice. He dismissed the case, costs being awarded the defendant.

At the same time he criticized W. J. Arthur Fair, K.C., for not being better acquainted with the probable testimony of his own witnesses.

"This case should have been investigated further before proceeding to trial," state Chief Justice McRuer. He added that he felt sorry for the plaintiffs who must bear the costs of the action.

Moved For Discontinuance

After Mr. Fair learned of the third car being involved he asked that the case be discontinued, but counsel for McCannan, Brendan O'Brien, Toronto, insisted that the trial go on so his client could be completely vindicated by a dismissal.

Robert Cameron, Toronto, testified that he followed McCannan for about 30 miles, right to the scene of the accident, two miles west of Bowmanville. After a turn in the highway he saw McCannan slow somewhat as he approached a line of eastbound cars following a large transport truck.

The car with Quebec licence plates nosed out across the centre line, presumably in an attempt to pass the transport, and it struck McCannan's oncoming car a glancing blow. The defendant's vehicle was knocked sideways and then ran into the front of Harrison's car, also in the eastbound stream of traffic behind the transport.

Mrs. Harrison, pregnant at the time, was knocked unconscious and seriously injured. Later she had a miscarriage.

The driver of the Quebec car, who gave his name as Malone, cannot be located.

Pohang, was reported safe by General MacArthur's headquarters.

Red advances through the crumbling east wing of the 120-mile-long front were costly.

Gen. MacArthur's Tuesday night summary said 2,035 Communists were killed or wounded and 69 were taken prisoner during the 24-hour period ended at noon Tuesday.

This apparently included 1,000 Reds cut off in the southwestern sector.

UK Troops In Action

British troops from Hong Kong swung into action alongside the Americans on the Allied Naktong River barrier running north and south to the west of Taegu.

A British brigade took over on the left flank of the U.S. 1st Cavalry division, about eight miles southwest of Taegu. It beat off a Red patrol which field reports said pinned down one British company.

The southern anchor of the line near Masan port, 27 miles west of Pusan, flared into action Wednesday night.

Associated Press correspondent Stan Swinton reported three Red battalions, apparently on a suicide mission, infiltrated the lines of the defending U.S. 25th Division.

To Destroy Gunners

Swinton said the Reds' mission was to destroy American artillery and gunners. But the U.S. defenders, who have killed 13,000 Communists there in the last week, prevented them from carrying out their mission.

Just north of the Masan front, American forces raced to the banks of the swollen Naktong river in pursuit of retreating Communists. This action took place 32 miles south of Taegu near Yongsan.

One of MacArthur's intelligence officers identified the Reds 16th and 17th tank brigades as having been added to the force striking at Taegu. He said the 84 Red tanks had reached the battle zone.

Prisoners were quoted as saying two new Communist divisions would join the front-line troops shortly. That would boost Red front-line strength to 150,000 men.

At 4 p.m. (2 a.m. EDT) Wednesday MacArthur said Yongchon still was held by American forces. Earlier front dispatches said the city had been lost.

Pour Through Hole

One Red column poured through a bulging hole in the east end of the United Nations line and plastered Yongchon with mortar fire Tuesday night.

Mr. Claxton said a House Committee might be all right for the External Affairs Department — there is one— but the Defence Department handled matters of such secrecy that it would be a difficult situation.

Mr. Claxton said the amount of operations will largely determine Canada's Korean costs this year, but the Bill for the three destroyers in Korean waters, for air transport aid, and for the Army's special force will be at least $40,000,000 to $50,000,000. This was part of the $142,000,000 being sought in cash for the Defence Department.

$50.00 A Head

Canada, all told, was spending $50 a head on defence and could hold her head high. Further, Parliament got more information than any other comparable Legislature in the Western democracies.

Mr. Drew said the House is not getting any real defence information at a time when reserve training is inadequate, the reserves in poor shape; when the regular airborne brigade is inadequately prepared even to defend Canada; when there are no first-line aircraft available; when $1,500,000,000 had been spent on defence since 1945 with little to show for it.

A house defence committee would not make policy decisions. It would give members background information and allow experienced veterans to make valuable recommendations.

Need Secret Session

But since the government refused it and used secrecy as one reason, he wanted a secret session. It was obvious that the Russians knew more about Canadian aircraft, guns, vehicles and other secrets than opposition members. They had their own means of access to that information. Opposition members didn't and for that reason were prevented from playing their full part in a movement that involved nothing less than national survival.

Mr. Abbott, in placing the unprecedented program before the house in the form of a four-fold resolution, said he is not planning on a budget deficit this year "despite the large increase in defence expenditures."

Split Up

Mr. Abbott's appropriation bill asks $142,000,000 for the three forces in cash this year; $300,000,000 to help arm Europe; $7,300,000 for defence research and the RCMP; and authority to spend another $409,000,000 in future years on defence, that is to sign contracts now for that amount.

He said much of the arms for Europe would go free and possibly $100,000,000 of that sum would be spent this fiscal year. Mr Claxton later said the total covers training facilities here, which might be expanded and might include the transfer of arms Canada now has in stores from the recent war.

Few Enemy Ships

He expressed belief Canada's navy would continue to keep three destroyers in the UN force even though some ships may be replaced.

The Reds' big port of Inchon is "dead," the officer said.

"I have been close enough to Inchon to throw a stone onto main street and there's absolutely no shipping there."

Magnificent Job

Brock paid high tribute to the South Korean navy. He said "they are doing a magnificent job" with their small patrol craft ferretting out Red forces.

He said, too, that North Korean sympathizers are frequently discovered on islands near points occupied by South Koreans.

"When the Roks (Republicans) need any help, we occasionally come in and punish the North Koreans."

None of his ships has spotted any submarines, Brock said.

"But it's sometimes hard to distinguish between a contact you make with a sudden wreck—or even which there are many—or even have been quite a number of whales with sick headaches from being depth charged."

Weber said the league was being run for the benefit of Toronto Marlboros and Maple Leaf Gardens.

"The Toronto Maple Leafs are definitely interested in a second Toronto team," Weber said. "Since they already sponsor the Marlboros they'll be sponsoring this second team if present plans are carried out."

Weber said Harold Ballard, manager of the Marlboros, agreed with him at a recent meeting that the "public might not go for two Toronto teams both sponsored by the Leafs, and it would be a good thing if it did not receive publicity."

Admits 2 Thefts At Theatre Gets 18 Months

As he expected, Jack Billingsley, 20, 555 Douglas Ave., was sentenced in police court today to 18 months definite and three months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph.

Billingsley had pleaded guilty Tuesday to three charges, one of breaking, entry and theft from a house and two of theft from cars. He was given the same sentence on each charge, all of them to run concurrently.

After evidence had been heard, Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw told the court Billingsley had told police he was expecting 18 months.

Robert Livingstone, 21, RR 11, pleaded guilty to receiving some of the drugs Billingsley stole from Dr. Russell Morgan's car, was placed on suspended sentence on condition that he seek work immediately and stay out of poolrooms. He has no record.

Admits Guilt

Billingsley admitted stealing a medical bag and contents including drugs from Dr. Morgan's car August 25 while it was parked outside the Peterborough Summer Theatre. He also pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing two bags, one containing about $100 in stocks from a car owned by D. R. Wiley, 445 Gordon Ave. which was also parked the same night outside the Summer Theatre.

During last week-end, Billingsley admitted, he broke into the house next door to his own owned by Eric A. Gardner and stole a $60 cheque and a small bottle of whiskey.

Constable John Conlin reported having seen Billingsley in the Queen Mary School area the night of the thefts from cars.

Detective-Sergeant W. A. Bud Clarke testified he later learned Billingsley was in possession of a hypodermic needle and some drugs. He arrested the accused youth and questioned him. Billingsley admitted to the detective that he had stolen from the two cars and said he had given the drugs to Livingston.

Billingsley then helped Detective-Sergeant Clarke recover most of the rest of the goods stolen from the cars. When Billingsley was searched after his arrest, a small bottle of whiskey was found on him. It was traced to the one stolen from Mr. Gardner's home.

Billingsley had been picked up before the breakin had been reported. Billingsley said he had destroyed the cheque.

"Nothing To Say"

He had broken into the house next door when his family was away and the Gardners were also away for the weekend.

Asked for some explanation of his behaviour, Billingsley said, "I got nothing to say."

He has a record running back to June, 1947, which includes thefts and taking cars without the owners' consent, commonly known as joy riding.

In telling the court he would agree to suspend sentence in Livingston's case, Crown Attorney Bradshaw commented, "If we knew the whole story, we might not consent to suspended sentence, but we don't know the whole story."

Detective-Sergeant Clarke said the drugs were found in Livingston's home. Livingston apparently had not taken part in the thefts from the cars.

"There is no suspicion that Livingston used these drugs, is there?" Magistrate Philp, K.C., asked.

"None whatever," the detective said. "He had a notion to sell them."

Recession Develops On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 6 — (CP).—After a week or so of almost solid advances the Toronto Stock Exchange apparently ran into technically weak conditions in trading today. Actuated by Korean War news and forthcoming tax increases, sellers hit the market right from the opening bell. Issues in all sections suffered, the weakest being the industrial list which dropped over five points in the index.

Volume for the first three hours was 1,336,000 shares.

In industrials, hardest hit were papers, utilities, refining oils, manufacturing and steels. Liquors, agriculture and construction also lost ground. Algoma Steel dropped 1⅝ at 22⅛, Imperial Oil lost ½ at 28¾, and Aluminum slipped 3¾ at 87. Massey-Harris, International Paper, CPR, and Bell Telephone were among other key issues which bumped lower.

Base metals showed almost a complete list of losses. Noranda, Consolidated Smelters, Quemont, and International Nickel dipped sharply.

In Western oils only a handful of stocks remained on the plus side.

Golds were hit almost as hard as the other groupings. Kerr-Addison, Dome, Giant Yellowknife and Hollinger slipped among the senior producers. Losses in the secondary board ranged downward to 15 cents.

Two Remands

Two men, both facing charges of third offences under the Liquor Control Act, were both remanded on $200 bail to Sept. 11 in police court today. The men were Francis O'Keefe, 29, 303 Cross St., and Frank Johnston, 30, 110 Simcoe St.

R. D. McDonald To Succeed D. Mills At Bank

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 6 — (ENS)—Richard D. McDonald of Frankford will succeed James D. Mills as manager of the Campbellford Branch of the Bank of Montreal effective the end of September, it was announced today. Mr. Mills will retire on pension after more than 14 years as manager of the local branch.

The new manager, Mr. McDonald, has been in charge of the Bank of Montreal branch office in Frankford since 1939. He brings to his new post considerable experience gained in his many years of banking in Southern Ontario.

After joining the Bank of Montreal at the Glencoe branch, he acquired his early training at the bank's Fenelon Falls, Oshawa and Trenton branches, before taking charge of the Frankford office in 1939.

Active in community affairs, Mr. McDonald became well-known in Frankford and the surrounding district during his 11 years there. He and his wife and small family are expected here shortly.

With Bank 43 Years

Mr. Mills' retirement concludes a banking career that began 43 years ago in Brantford. He gained most of his early banking experience at Ontario branches before being attached to head office in Montreal, where he specialized in foreign exchange.

In 1924 he was appointed manager of the bank's Stirling branch, and in 1929 was transferred to a similar position in Alliston, whence he came to take charge of the local branch in 1936.

During his stay in Campbellford, Mr. Mills has taken a keen interest in almost every effort for the welfare of the community.

Acts As Treasurer

He has served as treasurer of the Campbellford and Seymour branch of the Red Cross Society, the Campbellford Memorial Hospital, the Salvation Army Red Shield Campaign, St. John's United Church, and the Bowling Club. He was also a member of several other organizations locally, including the Rotary Club, in which he has taken an active part.

Following his retirement, Mr. Mills will probably remain in Campbellford for several months before settling in the Burlington area.

COSTA RICA

Costa Rica was discovered and probably named by Columbus in 1502.

Old Swing Bridge Seeing Last Days

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP)—The old swing-bridge that piles up traffic across the Burlington ship canal every time a boat passes through may be headed for the scrap heap.

Plans being considered by the Hamilton Harbor Commission and the Ontario Highways Department call for elimination of the bottleneck on the Toronto-Niagara Falls route.

A causeway, leading to a long, high-level bridge would carry traffic across the thin strip of land separating Burlington Bay from Lake Ontario. The new route would take heavy traffic off the main street of Burlington Beach.

238 Pupils Enrol At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 6 — (ENS) Campbellford High School boasted a full house on opening day when 238 pupils registered for the new term. At least five more have definite plans to enrol, but could not attend the first day.

Third Form (Grade XI) presented the major problem of overflow with 57 starters. It is expected this class will be divided into two sections to cope with the seating problem.

As usual, First Form (Grade IX) had the largest number of pupils with about 80 successful Entrance students entering High School for the first time, and others making up this total.

The school has a new principal this term, W. S. Armstrong is a graduate of the University of Toronto and succeeds George Keith of Lindsay, a retired teacher who was principal pro-tem following the resignation of H. R. Hendershot, for reasons of health, last Easter.

Heads Tenor Class

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP) — Peter Alfred Kaiser, Pickering, Tuesday night was named winner of the tenor vocal class at the Canadian National Exhibition music festival. ## 2 Couples Take Salvation Army Officers Course

Two man and wife teams of the Salvation Army has been chosen to train as officers of the Salvation Army at the Toronto Training College and will start an eight-months course Tuesday.

Preparing for their schooling are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shadgett and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bowes. Mr. Shadgett is the deputy band master of Peterborough Salvation Army corps.

During the course, study of the Bible will be emphasized and they will be instructed in the administration of the many aspects of Salvation Army work.

While they are waiting for their course to begin, the four young people Tuesday afternoon were spectators at police court. They believe their learning cannot begin too soon and work in police courts is an important phase of Army service.

Beauty Queen Flies For Toronto Visit

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP) — Margaret Simpson, 18-year-old North Bay beauty queen, flew into Toronto Tuesday night for a four-day visit, part of the reward for winning the title of Miss Silver Jubilee for 1950.

With her was Janet Decare, runner-up in the contest held in connection with celebrations of North Bay's 25th birthday.

They will meet Premier Frost of Ontario, Mayor Hiram McCallum of Toronto and leading performers at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Says Gov't Slow

WINDSOR, Sept. 6 (CP) — Mayor Arthur J. Reaume Tuesday night criticized federal defence officials for the lack of a civilian defence program which could be followed by Canadian cities. "I have waited for five months for guidance from the federal government," Mayor Reaume told a meeting of city council. "To date there has been no indication as to what they think we ought to do."

Lindsay Lad, 5 Recovering After 30-Ft. Hurl

Five-year-old Bobby Smith, whose home is on the southern outskirts of Lindsay, is recovering in Ross Memorial hospital after being struck by a car Sunday and hurled 30 feet.

He sustained several deep head cuts that required stitches, as well as body bruises and shock. No bones were broken.

Bobby was crossing the Peterborough-Lindsay highway when he was struck by a northbound car driving toward Lindsay. His errand was to collect a parcel from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller who live opposite his home.

A few weeks ago his four-year-old playmate, Brian Miller, was hit by a car at the same spot.

Because of these two accidents the boy's father, Robert Smith, manager of Riverside cemetery, feels that the 30-mile-an-hour speed limit should be extended from Lindsay St. south to the Y junction of Highways 7 and 12.

CPR Officials Begin Wage Negotiations

TORONTO, Sept 6 (CP) — Canadian Pacific Railway officials meet representatives of 35,000 operating employees today for wage negotiations.

Negotiations with the Canadian National Railways will begin after the CPR talks are finished.

The Truckers Made Hay

One group of Canadians at least has emerged from the railway strike with cheery confidence; they are the people engaged in the trucking and transport industry. During the strike they were called upon to handle great accumulations of goods under emergency conditions, and they made a first-rate job of it. Big truck and little trucks, they all carried what they could, and in doing so they found out what trucks could do for this country.

• • •

What they found out was not good news for the railways. The belief is exploded forever that the economy of this country would come to a standstill if the railways came to a halt. In wartime we have believed that railways alone could keep our arms and troop programs in action. We know now that, given a little time to organize, trucks could probably handle the job just as well.

• • •

Stories against the truckers have been heard, of course. It has been hinted that they put the needs of new customers before the needs of old ones, and that they left nothing undone to seize and hold new business. There may be some truth in this, but we cannot regard it as surprising or excessively blameworthy. The truckers saw their chance to explode the railroad myth, and they did their best to that end. Without them we should have been in a far worse mess than the nine-day strike provided.

• • •

Let us not, however, become too lyrical in our praise of the trucks. Canada needs both trucks and railroads. No country is safe in wartime or in peace which depends on a single means of transport. The trucks have made a good showing, and we are grateful. But we do not want to be entirely in the hands of the truckers, any more than we want to be at the mercy of the railways.

Honour For Peterborough's City Clerk

The people of Peterborough are delighted at the honour which has come to E. A. Outram, the City Clerk, who has been elected to the presidency of the Ontario Municipal Association. Mr. Outram has for some time been active in this organization, and therefore it is not a surprise that he has been put at the head of its fortunes. Nevertheless, a distinction which has been foreseen is perhaps more meritorious than one which comes unexpectedly, and we feel that we speak for all our readers when we offer warm congratulations to Mr. Outram.

The office of City Clerk in a municipality of this size is a responsible and exacting one. It carries with it many of the duties of a city manager without the executive power which such a position possesses. Mr. Outram's discharge of his obligations has given wide satisfaction to the public and has strengthened the hands of a succession of elected city officials. His election to the presidency of the Ontario Municipal Association brings honour not only to himself but, in its Centennial Year, to the Municipality of Peterborough.

The Psychologists Attempt To Clean House

A confused dispatch from State College, Pennsylvania, tells the world that at the fifty-eighth annual convention of the American Psychological Association some attempt is being made to protect the public from charlatans who describe themselves as psychologists. A code of ethics for clinical and consulting psychologists was discussed; a three-year program of research, subsidized by the Rockefeller Foundation will complete the work. We are somewhat surprised that this action is described as "the first official step to protect the public from charlatans" in the field of psychology. We should have been inclined to describe the International Congress of Psycho-Analysis, which Freud convened in Vienna in 1908, in that way. But our American friends strongly resemble the Russians in this: they do not believe that anything has happened at all until it happens in their own country, and they are quite happy to re-invent what is already in existence.

Nevertheless we are glad that something is to be done to prevent the public from being preyed on, and psychology disgraced, by crooks who trade on human misery and the powerful human instinct to seek advice in times of crisis. There are many people who are constantly appealed to for advice by unhappy and confused people—clergymen, physicians, lawyers and so on—and all of these groups have clearly defined spheres of influence, and ethical codes which govern the advice which they give. But thousands of people want to know why they have failed to achieve happiness in life, and they seek advice not from the people we have mentioned, but from psychologists.

Many of these psychologists are wise, well-trained, honest men with a high ideal of the work they do; they can give excellent advice, and they can give treatment which is, in great numbers of cases, hopeful and sometimes revolutionary in its effect. But there are others who are simply crooks, without adequate training or the character which is demanded of a professional man. Anything that can be done to weed these people out of the psychological world is worth doing. Whether it can be done by the means which the American Psychological Association has chosen remains to be seen. But we must remember that as little as a century ago there was nothing to prevent any man who desired to do so from setting up in practice as a physician; if the psychologists put their house in order as quickly and as thoroughly as the medical practitioners have done, they will have taken a huge step toward the clarification of a sphere of knowledge and work which is still uncomfortably fuzzy.

Goods Crossing The Border

The large reduction of import controls on numerous U.S. items which was announced in Ottawa last Thursday indicates a pretty sound balance of trade with the U.S. The critical American dollar shortage which made stiff controls necessary nearly three years ago is now passed. Since the war our exports to the States (to earn us their dollars) have increased steadily, and the gap between them and our imports has lessened, although we still buy far more from the Americans than they do from us. The improved position results from the emergency controls, the increased trading activity between the two countries, E.R.P., and, let it be stated wryly, from the threat of war and the Korean war itself.

The two countries are arming mutually, and buying each other's military equipment on agreements reached between the military and financial authorities at Washington and Ottawa. The great need which the U.S.A. has for Canadian food, clothing and other goods to arm themselves and their allies, has given a special fillip to trade.

Although it has taken exceptional circumstances to better U.S.-Canadian trade and to remove barriers to it, the freeing of trade between the two countries is itself a valuable thing, which we hope will continue during unexceptional times. High tariff walls, barriers and import restrictions between Canada and the United States are unnatural, unhealthy and undesirable.

Proximity To Ottawa Dangerous

The Cornwall Standard-Freeholder gravely commends the Government for taking the first steps on a civil defence plan for Canada. "It is reasonable to assume that civilian preparedness, which can lessen this effect (of the Atom bomb) to a very great extent, will make this continent's targets less attractive." It goes on, with a quiver, "Cornwall need not be unduly alarmed about its danger, but we should be realistic about it. This would hardly be considered a target of primary importance, but it might be regarded as a good secondary one because of the canal system, the mainline railroad, and its proximity to Ottawa". Ah! There is the climax—its proximity to Ottawa. There is the real reason for alarm. Why, Cornwall is a mere sixty miles away. We are thankful at last that some responsible newspaper has at last said bluntly that Ottawa is a dangerous place to be near. We thank our geophysics and our geopolitics that Peterborough is a good 170 miles away, as we flee down Number 7 from the contaminatable capital.

NOTE AND COMMENT

In these days of gloomy predictions, wouldn't it be wise to put a tax on excess prophets?

The Loch Ness monster has appeared again—a little late for this year's tourist season, but in plenty of time for next year's Festival of Britain.

It is estimated that the Tower of London has moved three-quarters of an inch in thirty-one years. Quite a show of speed when compared with our local town planners and Memorial Centre enthusiasts.

We read of a marathon swimmer who has won $350 in "lap money". He ought to be able to answer the old question, "Where does your lap go when you stand up?"

Global Stocktaking

By JULIAN HUXLEY

THE human species is busy on a new kind of job—a global stocktaking, a world survey of population trends and the resources available to meet them. Opinions differ sharply on the outlook: can food supplies, for instance, keep pace with rising numbers? Warnings of danger have been given lately by several American writers, notably William Vogt and Fairfield Osborn; now we have another American writer, Earl Hanson, whose "New Worlds Emerging" seeks to rebut the prevailing trend of gloomy prophecies.*

◇ ◇ ◇

SIDE by side with these polemics, all sorts of factual surveys are being carried out: they include last year's United Nations Conference on World Resources (to be followed, I hope, by a conference on world population in 1952); the Unesco survey of part of the Amazon basin; and the expert report on population prospects in Japan, undertaken recently at the behest of General MacArthur.

◇ ◇ ◇

ALL these are different approaches to the same world problem, and I want to emphasize that for this stocktaking to be effective it must be worldwide. It must also be dynamic, concerning itself with trends and tendencies instead of static evaluations, and it must take account of all the relevant factors — industrial as well as agricultural production, social organization as well as technological advance, population as well as resources, human nature as well as physical environment—instead of limiting itself to one or a few and shutting its eyes to the rest.

◇ ◇ ◇

IT is here that Hanson's book falls down. It is a vigorous plea for developing the present marginal areas of the world, including the equatorial belt and the Arctic, and contains much valuable information about past achievements and future possibilities. It is particularly interesting about the changes of attitude that have taken place concerning regions which are remote and different from our own. Thus Hanson concludes, with some justice, that if only, by some geographical accident, the Pilgrim Fathers could have landed in Southern Alaska, they would have rejoiced in its richness and looked down on the inhospitable lands of New England.

◇ ◇ ◇

HE is certainly right in stressing that much of the Tropics and the Arctic is neither barren nor dangerous, but can be made eminently "liveable." But he is so determined to be optimistic that he ignores the evidence amassed by Ellsworth Huntingdon and others as to the stimulating effect of a stormy climate on human energy.

◇ ◇ ◇

HIS economic thinking, too, is hopelessly confused: he concludes by proclaiming his belief in the power of capitalism and (if I followed him aright) of free enterprise to cope with the world's present difficulties, although the body of the book is full of examples of the benefits of State action and planning, including Communist planning, and of the "malefits" (if I may coin a useful word) of big business and of capitalistic free enterprise, especially with reference to colonialism in all its aspects.

◇ ◇ ◇

THUS, in his interesting account of Iceland he slurs over the fact that all the developed part of the island lies far south of the Arctic Circle, that three-quarters of the country is a desert of lava or ice, and that the misery of the country between 1350 and 1850 was in considerable measure due to the deterioration of the climate, which reduced the area of cultivable land and prevented the growth of cereals.

◇ ◇ ◇

SINCE 1850 there has been a worldwide amelioration of climate, more pronounced in the last few decades, which has not only contributed to Iceland's recovery but helps to account for the recent successes of the Russians in keeping the North-East Passage open (and may have aggravated the difficulties of the groundnuts scheme in Tanganyika).

◇ ◇ ◇

AGAIN, although Hanson refers several times to the evil effects of over-population in particular areas, such as Puerto Rico, he quite fails to distinguish between areas in which slight relative over-population exerts a stimulating effect, on invention, migration, etc.; and those areas, such as most of the Indian sub-continent, where over-population has long been chronic, where standards of living are low, and have on the whole decreased, and where human energies and natural resources have been dangerously depleted. It would be difficult enough to bring the nutrition and health of India up to the barest minimum standard even if the population were stationary: but it is increasing by over 5,000,000 a year!

◇ ◇ ◇

THE problems of such areas cannot be solved except by a concerted attack — conservation, afforestation, irrigation, industrialization; improved agricultural technique—which is impossible without a radical change in social organization and outlook; and finally birth-control as handmaiden of a long-term population policy.

◇ ◇ ◇

IN his sneers at "neo-Malthusian Jeremiahs," Hanson shuts his eyes to the basic truth that this planet's space and resources are limited while the inherent tendency of population is to increase; and equally to the facts about population-growth ascertained since Malthus's time. Of these, the most alarming is that not only have the numbers of the human species multiplied by about a couple of hundredfold in the last 8,000 years, but that the percentage rate of increase has itself steadily increased—by perhaps twenty-fold over the whole period, and about three-fold in the last three centuries—and shows no sign of slowing down.

◇ ◇ ◇

HOWEVER, the process of stocktaking is driving us towards a new approach, not merely as regards national policies or specific technological fields, but to the overriding question of human destiny, or, in other words, the planning of an overall policy for the human species as a whole. In the process we shall eventually be forced to the conclusion that the ultimate ends for which we must plan are the production not merely of more people irrespective of quality but of fully developed and well-rounded personalities, and the realization in actual experience of the higher values and satisfactions of life.

◇ ◇ ◇

HEALTH, nutrition, higher economic standards, better utilization of resources, more efficient production, and so forth, are only means to those ends—which does not mean that they are not completely indispensable, but that they must never come to be thought of as ends in themselves.

*"New Worlds Emerging." By Earl Parker Hanson. (Gollancz.)

ONE WAY TO GROW MUSCLE BOUND

Letters To The Editor

A SAMPLING OF PUBLIC OPINION

Sir: I work in a small business establishment, which employs about fourteen men, and would like to state some of their opinions on the renewal of Mr. Dick Ouimet's license, which, is a much-discussed topic of conversation these days, in our fair city.

We are wondering, as well as a great number of citizens, what the City Council has against this gentleman.

(Quoting them:)

1st.—"There isn't one member of the City Council with gumption enough to stand up, and give one good reason for putting this young veteran off our streets."

2nd.—"They threw the popcorn man off the streets, now, it's the chip-man. I really think this Council goes around taking candy away from the kids on our streets."

3rd.—"Never heard one complaint against that young man since he's been in business. I wonder who has it in for him?"

4th.—"What is the use for a young man to try and make an honest living in this town, our Council is always against it."

5th.—"No wonder we have wars like Korea, and they call this democracy."

6th.—"Our mayor says, 'There is no discrimination against this young man and is a very desirable citizen'. I wonder what you would call it; could it be jealousy on the part of a few members of the Council?"

7th.—"It would be better for the City Council to get out, and get a few more industries, like other cities, instead of picking on one individual trying to make an honest living."

8th.—"Just one small clique using the strong arm of their office against thousands of citizens, just like our Service Stations' By-law."

9th.—"I'm sure he has abided by the rules and regulations of the sanitation and police departments or he would have been put off the streets by now."

10th.—"That is the biggest reason why we have so few young men in business in this city and leave for other cities to make good."

11th—"Over four years on the same corner giving good clean, courteous service to the public. From my part it stinks at the city building."

12th.—"That same young gentleman has done more for this community than all the alderman put together. He had the guts to start the arena, with the stink of the Memorial Centre still in the air and saw it finished and operating. What thanks you get for being a good Joe in this town!"

13th.—"They threw the popcorn man off our streets, then, the big popcorn machines came in all over town, letting good Peterborough money go out of town. Maybe there's something cropping up for the future, like a new chip machine."

And I'm the fourteenth employee. How small can it be, a young veteran trying to make a clean, honest living by the sweat of his brow, bothering no one, being pushed around by a small group elected to serve the citizens of our city. Gentlemen, everything in a nutshell, it's only jealousy on the part of a few, turning the heads of others, that hasn't got it, to stand up and fight for the right of a young veteran.

I would like to continue Mr. Editor and could, but, it would take too much space of your valuable paper to spend on the 1950 City Council.

Thanking you ever so much.

Yours truly,
HONEST OPINIONS.

A MEAN ACTION

Sir: You have invited discussion re the City Council's decision not to renew Dick Ouimet's license to operate a potato-chip wagon and I am glad to add one opinion.

With no good reason that anyone knows about they have, in one small, mean action deprived a hard-working young man of his chosen way of making a living for himself and fine little family. Mr. Ouimet has done a lot for the city in getting the Civic Arena built and I think he has been treated very shabbily.

Whatever the council may think about the matter, I think the chip-wagon adds a little colour to our downtown section and certainly the chips are the best I've ever eaten anywhere. It isn't going to be any pleasure trying to lure my small daughter downtown for much-needed shoes etc. without being able to promise a carton of "Dick's chips."

Come on, City Council, don't be too small to admit you made a mistake on this deal or a lot of people are going to think you should be running the chip-wagon and Dick Ouimet should be put to work on more important work like helping to get our Memorial Centre built. He gets things done.

Thank you,
YOURS FOR FAIR PLAY.

TIME TO CHANGE ALDERMEN?

Sir: I read with interest the two letters in your column tonight concerning the license for Mr. Ouimet. I agree with the writers of letters. I am sure the vast majority of citizens are in favour of renewing the license. Everyone enjoys the nice potato chips he serves. They are so nice and crisp.

There are too many merchants in the Council, who are afraid of losing a little trade. The working class can't always afford to go in a restaurant for a snack after the show, and it is so nice to be able to get some nice hot potato chips up town. I don't know Mr. Ouimet but I think it would be a very mean thing not to grant him a license. Some of the Council members may not like the chips but the public of Peterborough do like them and they are the people who have the votes. I thought it was a very small thing when the popcorn vendor was put off the street. It was nice for the children to get a nickel bag of popcorn, as the candy in stores cost much more.

I don't like the idea of our market being moved either. I guess one of the aldermen has an axe to grind in that. I think it is time for a change of aldermen. They are throwing our money around, like confetti at a wedding, and yet they are trying to stop a man from getting an honest living, and depriving the public of a tasty dish.

Thanking you for the space in your paper.

I remain,
LIVE AND LET LIVE.

CUT HIS MOUTH

At a dinner a waiter discovered a man systematically trying the knives with his thumb, some time before the meal was due to begin.

"What are you doing?" he asked. "Those knives are sharp!"

"Ah," replied the prospective diner, "'tain't that! I'm lookin' for a blunt 'un. I were here last year and cut me mouth!"

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Doth not wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice? . . . Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom: I am understanding; I have strength. . . . Riches and honour are with me; yea, durable riches and righteousness. . . . I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgement: that I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures. (Prov. 8: 1, 14, 18, 20, 21.)

◇ ◇ ◇

But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. (I Cor. 2: 9-14.)

Confession

(The Tablet, London)

In the Pepysian Library at Magadelene College at Cambridge, they showed me a charming little book which Pepys had carefully bound, published about 1670, for Catholics who were too shy to name their sins in confession. It was written in Latin, in perforated slips easy to tear out, sin by sin, until with a full hand you thrust the whole evil-smelling bouquet forward to the priest.

The book is grouped by occupations. Thus doctors were thought likely to want to confess making their patients worse through lack of skill, or pretending to a knowledge they did not possess, and also, perhaps, hastening the road to the tomb for corrupt motives. Farmers were envisaged as putting their cattle in other men's fields to steal free pasturage, or as poisoning the cattle which other sinners had put to graze in their fields; and, in general, there were large lively sins for every avocation, as well as for private life.

The book opens with all the violent ways in which the Commandments can be broken, and may be said to have put many ideas into many heads. I was reminded of the Dutch missionary who told me that the Chinese, but still more the Japanese, were deeply shocked and distressed by the sections on examination of conscience in the Catholic prayer-books he gave them, exclaiming, "Who are the people for whom these books are written, who could imagine doing all these wicked things?"

I think this little book was written for the Italians, who to this day, they will tell you in Rome, do not learn how to go to Confession, and who are prodigious wasters of the priest's time, for they roam and wait silently to be cross-questioned, and the opening gambit is to say they have nothing to confess, leaving the priest to drag their sins from them one by one.

Quebec's Answer

(Lethbridge Herald)

Quebec is the so-called isolationist province of Canada, just as the mid-west is supposed to be the centre of isolationism in the United States. Recruiting figures for the recent drive to raise troops for the Korean Brigade show, however, that this can no longer be said in truth. Quebecers volunteered by the hundreds for the special force. Several communities, in fact, had a higher enlistment ratio than most other centres in Canada. Several thousand men volunteered in Montreal alone. Toronto, as a matter of fact, had a hard time maintaining its position as the long-time top supplier of recruits for Canada's armed forces. It just barely edged out Montreal.

For Fresh Fish

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

The sort of food you eat is largely a matter of habit. Meat eaters have to get used to fish before they enjoy it as a steady item of diet. Current meat prices should help persuade them that fish is really good and should be given a fair trial. The situation, as it is today, would seem to offer the fishing industry a golden opportunity to market all the fish that can be landed and to create a demand that will continue in the future.

But the fish that is sold must be of uniformly high quality. Otherwise it will boomerang. Nothing is worse than stale inferior fish and persons unfortunate enough to sample it aren't likely to come back for more.

Foundation Aids Young Blind

"The Atkinson Charitable Foundation has undertaken to provide up to $5,000 per annum for a period of three years to The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. This grant is for the purpose of enlarging the service program for pre-school age blind children in the province of Ontario," Colonel E. A. Baker, managing director of the Institute, stated today.

"For some years the Institute has been making special efforts to locate and register blind children at the earliest possible age — and through instruction to parents, and the children themselves, to insure the fullest measure of development in preparation for admission to school," Colonel Baker explained.

Work Already Started

"Home Teachers of the Institute have rendered valuable home service to these. From the Blind Home Teachers' reports it became evident that more intensive and specialized effort was required. In April, 1949, Miss Jean Whitelaw, qualified by training and experience to deal with pre-school children, was appointed to the Institute staff and given special courses to equip her to deal with the sightless. As a result of her efforts, earlier registration and more effective service have been made available.

"Through such efforts also, 73 children have been registered, 42 boys and 31 girls. Another 16 are too young yet for accurate tests to be made. Among the 73 actually registered with The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, 27 boys and 23 girls are under the age of six years; 15 boys and eight girls over six years of age.

It is possible that, with furtner investigation, others may be added to the register," Colonel Baker stated.

Will Add to Staff

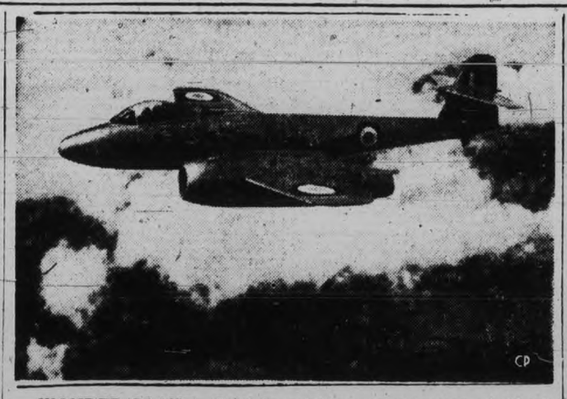
"In the light of experience to date, however, the Institute decided that further research was desirable to develop even more effective measures. The grant from The Atkinson Charitable Foundation will make possible this additional work, placing particular emphasis on methods best adapted to children who present special problems. An assistant instructor will now be appointed.



"Other sightless children may be dealt with in this program even though they are past the age of six, if they have been unduly retarded in their early development or have special problems which interfere with their admission to school."

SCHOOLGIRLS

Nearly 13,000,000 females from kindergarten to college, biggest enrolment in history, will be in America's classrooms this Fall.

STOCKPILER—Stanley Vincent Allen, former Canadian Trade Commissioner in London, Capetown and Johannesburg, has been appointed special assistant to the Deputy Minister of Trade. He will deal with matters pertaining to supplies and production for defence purposes.

WONDER PLANE—British aviation experts have tabbed this aircraft a "wonder plane." It is a Gloster Meteor fighter, which, for experimental purposes, has been equipped with two Sapphire turbo-jet engines. Although performance details are on the secret list, its designers say it has about the same power as four engines in a Superfortress or a Stratocruiser. This is a Royal Air Force photo.

B.C. Flier Wins Webster Trophy

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6 (CP) — Ed Mona, 22-year-old Vancouver flier, is the new holder of the Webster Memorial Trophy, emblematic of Canadian amateur flying supremacy.

Mona, a member of the Aero Club of British Columbia, topped nine other entries from six zones across Canada who competed in the Webster trials completed here last weekend.

Runner-up and winner of the Jack Sanderson shield was D. G. Fisher, of Kingston, Ont.

Precision flying and navigation are judged in the trials.

Scores of the contestants — among them Chilliwack, B. C., nurse Elaine De Lisle—were not announced here. Miss De Lisle was the only woman contestant in the two-day trials.

Other contestants were R. A. Brown, Alberta zone; G. G. Adams and C. R. Hodge, midwest zone; William Van Allen, central zone; M. Vien, St. Lawrence zone and H. F. Knox and H. R. Metzler, Maritime zone.

Judges were Len Milne, Vancouver, civil aviation district inspector; Sqdn. Ldr. H. C. Forbell, RCAF headquarters, Ottawa; J. H. Berrow, and H. A. Wilson, transport department officials from Ottawa.

Red Poll Cattle In Show Ring

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP) — Ontario cattlemen had their first look Tuesday at the show-ring ability of Red Poll cattle.

Red Polls, a dual-purpose breed originally imported from England, were judged at the Canadian National Exhibition livestock show Tuesday with the Hann-I-Gay Farms, Holland Centre, Ont., and Leonard W. Coulson, Milton, Ont., sharing top honors.

It was the first time the breed, popular in some Western Canada and United States centres, had been included in an Ontario show. Bred for beef as well as dairy products, the Red Poll entries caused wide interest among cattlemen at the show.

Bloom's Boy, entered by Hann-I-Gay Farms, took the grand champion bull award, while Mr. Coulson's Rose Ruth Blossom 4th was named grand champion female.

The Edwards Brothers, Waterford, Ont., made a clean sweep of the Aberdeen Angus class.

Stingy Husband: "My husband has a good business position, spends a lot of money on his own clothes and personal expenses, but seems to think I can get along on nothing. He kicks about the household bills, about my clothes, even about my tiny bill for cosmetics. Is there no reasonable basis of arrangement for husband and wife?"

If I were you I'd write to the Community Chest of Greater Toronto, Welfare Division, 100 Adelaide Street West, Toronto, for a very clever budget book called "A Guide to Family Spending." The cost is 50 cents.

In it are laid out the percentage of expenses for husband and wife. If your husband is a good business man and you do a smart sales talk you will be able to send him a budget program which will help you both out.

Also in print now is an excellent budget book produced by the Bank of Montreal and available on request.

Grape Jam: "A bachelor is asking for help. We have plenty of grapes in our garden but no good recipe for making grape jam and we're crazy about it. Do you have something and easy that any man could make?"

Here is our best and simplest grape jam recipe. Wash and stem four pounds of purple grapes; weigh. Separate pulp from skins. Cook pulp gently until soft; press through sieve. Mix sieved pulp and skins in preserving kettle; cook exactly 5 minutes. Add 5 cups of white sugar slowly, stirring until it is completely dissolved. Simmer gently until thick (about 15 minutes). Pour into sterilized glasses; cover with hot paraffin.

NEWSY IS HONORED—Golfers, strongly dotted by those with hockey connections past and present, had a day for themselves at Islemere, Que., recently, honoring the veteran star of ice and lacrosse turf, Newsy Lalonde. Above, Newsy LEFT, takes a putt, while club pro Stan Horne holds the flag, and Leo Dandurand, former Canadien manager, and part-owner, and Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League look on.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

President Paul Irwin of the Petes' senior lacrosse club had two things to say about tonight's big game in Miller Bowl. The playoff betwixt Owen Sound Crescents and the OLA Petes at 8.45. He said the Petes would win it, and he emphasized the fact that the club was not raising prices for playoffs this season. That's good news, as the cost of living is high enough now, and OLA fans here will appreciate that no-increase notice. This second scrap of the best-of-seven quarter-finals should be a whiz as the Petes are tough to beat at home and they'll try desperately to square the series this eve. It should jam the place for sure.

* * * * * *

In senior ball, the Petes are away to Oshawa tonight and these clubs then clash here at 8.15 (note the time) tomorrow p.m. It's even at a game each in the best-of-seven Viaduct Baseball League finals, and no doubt Toronto officials, players and fans don't think much of two newcomers from the COBL hogging the finals. In fact, they want a few games at Millen Stadium and insist on the seventh (if it goes that far) being there this Sunday. The series has to be over by then, with games billed for Oshawa on Friday and here on Saturday, if neither team is out by then. Tomorrow's tilt here should draw well.

* * * * * *

Action At The Bowl

A couple of important softball games—girls' and men's—at the Bowl this e'en. At seven, it's Ashby's vs. CGE femmes, a win for the former giving 'em the intermediate city title. A CGE win forces further round-robin playoffs. At 8.30, the men's city finals resume, third of the best-of-seven serial betwixt East City and the Mutuals. They're tied now at a game apiece after two low-scoring and real tight-tussles, so this one means plenty to both these hustling outfits. Don't know yet when the next one will be staged, after tonight. Weather permitting, of course.

* * * * * *

Oshawa and Orphans tangle tomorrow evening at 8.15 in the Bowl d'Ashburnham, opening their two-of-three OASA junior "A" playdowns. Being in the Motor City on Monday. Manager Harold Dormer has lined up this promising pack of juniors: Doris, Bigford and Hall on the mound, with McGrath catching. An infield of Grafstein, Evans, Casey and Thompson. Outfielders include: Leo Sullivan, Floyd, Wyatt, Pammett, and possible one or two more we missed. Many of these boys played against the senior "B" teams in the city loop and they may well upset the Oshawans. A goodly gallery will encourage them, too.

* * * * * *

Butch Carved 'Em Up

A big lefthander named Butch Meulemeester has been an Oshawa OASA playdown jinx to Peterborough teams for some time. He was again last e'en at the Bowl as he mowed down East City to gain a 10-0 victory to open their two-in-three senior "B" series. Butch threw two-hit ball and fanned 15, issuing no walks, while his mates bingled at the right time off Haddy Eakins—who had some wild streaks—to roll up the count. That about tells the tale of the tilt last night. True, there were a few miscues, some pretty scratchy hits and some passed balls, but Pedlars could have won handily on two hits when 15 guys go down on strikes. They expect to play the return in Oshawa on Friday. Cold weather kept down the crowd, though a fairly good number turned out.

* * * * * *

In mentioning some of the seven or eight imports Orfuns have for ORFU play, we should have pointed out that Bill Huntley, classy placement booter, was with Tigers as a regular last fall. Also, there's a 220-pound lineman by the name of John Lynch from Ottawa. But more again on new and local players with the Bamforth band. They're lining up a practice game with Parkdale Lions in Toronto this weekend, and meantime continuing heavy drills. Some of the local talent is looking real good at present. It'll be a powerful and well-coached senior "B" squad when play opens here in a week and a half at Morrow Park.

Oshawa Takes First One Over East City

Big Butch Meulemeester hurled two-hit ball, fanning 15 and walking none, as Oshawa Pedlars defeated East City 10-0 at the Bowl last night. A fair-sized crowd braved the chill to see the opener of the two-in-three OASA Senior B playdown series, the second one prabably being in Oshawa on Friday. With fine flinging, timely hitting, and neat fielding, the visitors earned their shutout all the way in this fray. Haddy Eakins gave up 14 hits—several of them scratchy — and whiffed eight, but he was wild to walk nine and have seven wild pitches.

Keeler led the winners at bat with three for five, one a double. Gilbert had three in six, while Nelson got a triple and single in five, and Magee two in five. Logeman clouted a homer with Barker getting a three-bagger and Romaniski a double. Only Jaquith and Cornwall got singles for East City. The losers came up with a double-play once and Sullivan had a nice bunt pickup for an out another time. The Oshawa umpire, Kellar, at the plate took a hard riding from the fans on his calls.

Joe Louis looked more like the old Brown Bomber Tuesday as he gave four sparring partners a drubbing in a four-round workout.

Weighing 218 pounds and in fine fettle, Louis made his four sparmates earn their money.

Trainer Mannie Seamon beamed after the workout.

"Joe looks more like himself again," he said.

Louis is preparing for his title bout with NBA heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium Sept. 27.

He's training at Pompton Lakes, N.J.

At South Fallsburg, N.Y., Charles took things easy in the ring Tuesday but put in plenty of work outside it. He did six miles of roadwork in the morning and boxed a couple of rounds with Lloyd Gibson in the afternoon.

Milt Schmidt, veteran centre and captain, became the first member of Boston Bruins to sign a 1950-51 National Hockey League contract Tuesday.

Schmidt, who is spending the off-season as a golf professional in nearby Lynnfield, came to terms while visiting general manager Art Ross in the club's downtown offices.

Ross left last night for Barrie, where the Bruins have 40 amateur prospects training under the supervision of scouts Leighton Hap Emms and Hal Cotton.

In Montreal, Elmer Lach, veteran of the Canadiens, signed his 1950-51 contract, terms of which were not disclosed. He was the first Canadien to sign.

---

The United States Tuesday won its fifth Curtis Cup Trophy over the British Isles with a 7½-to-1½ victory in the women's international golf team matches at Buffalo, N.Y.

The British invaders staged a valiant, late afternoon rally but it was on heart alone. The American lead in all but one of the day's singles matches was too great to overcome.

Only Frances (Bunty) Stephens, last year's British women's champion, was able to salvage anything from the disaster. She came from behind with two beautiful putts on the 35th and 36th holes to draw with Mrs. Mark A. Porter, of Westmont, N.J., the current U.S. titlist.

Coach Frank Tindall worked out 27 hopefuls Tuesday for the 1950 Queen's University grid squad. He found many of last year's regulars absent.

Among those returning was captain Jim Charters, of Hamilton, who said he was optimistic about the season. The Gaels play their first game a week from Saturday, an exhibition tilt with Toronto Balmy Beach.

Two speedy halfbacks, Winnipeg's Tom Casey and Royal Copeland, of Calgary, are locked in a three-way western football scoring leadership tie with Morris Bailey, lanky Edmonton pass-catching end. Each has registered 15 points on three touchdowns.

The official statistics, released in Regina by Bob Gillies, secretary of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, cover the first seven games of the season.

One point behind the leaders is Annis Stukus, place-kicking playing coach of the league-leading Edmonton Eskimos. Stukus has booted two field goals and eight converts for 14 points.

Students returning to Assumption College in Windsor have found one big change in the sports scene. For the first time in nearly a half-century, with the exception of war years, the college will not be represented by a varsity football team this fall.

Financial difficulties were the chief reason given by the Very Rev. J. H. O'Loane, Assumption College president, for dropping football games with outside teams.

Wings Dominate International All-Star Team

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (CP). — Rochester's champion Red Wings dominate the International League all-star team selected by the circuit's baseball writers.

The Wings captured five of 11 positions, while Montreal, Baltimore and Jersey City each earned two posts.

Top vote-getter was Tom Poholsky, young Rochester right-hander, who last week was voted the league's most valuable player. He won the nod from 34 of 35 voting writers.

Here is the team (votes in brackets—35 possible):

Manager—Joe Becker, Jersey City (14).

First base—Don Bollweg, Rochestr (19).

Second base—Pete Pavlick, Jersey City (20).

Third base—Don Richmond, Rochester (26).

Shortstop — Rocky Bridges, Montreal (23).

Outfielders— Russ Derry (32) and Hal Rice ((12), Rochester; Don Thompson, Montreal (28).

Catcher—Clyde Kluttz, Baltimore (16).

Becker, also managerial nominee in 1949, attracted 14 votes to seven for John Keane, Rochester. Nick Cullop, Baltimore, Stan Hack, Springfield, Bruno Betzel, Syracuse, and Wally Alston, Montreal, received scattered support.

Nearly all positions were won by handy margins, but Don Bollweg, Rochester recruit, was able to down Montreal's Chuck Connors only after a ding-dong bout for the first-base post.

Bollweg, who pushed Steve Bulko, last year's first-sacker, off the Wings' starting line-up in mid-season, registered 19 votes to 12 for Connors.

LED THE OLA—Arn Dugan, speedy Petes' forward, led the Ontario Lacrosse Association this season in scoring with 55 goals and 69 assists for 124 points, two dozen more than Archie Browning, of Brampton, in second place.

Dugan Tops Snipers With a Total of 124

TORONTO, Sept. 6 — (CP)— Arn Dugan, speedy Peterborough rover, is the top scorer for 1950 in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior circuit.

League statistics released last night show Dugan scored 55 goals and 69 assists for a total of 124 points, 24 more than Brampton's Archie Browning who had 57 goals and 43 assists.

Bob Thorpe of Peterborough had 56-40—96, and Don Ashbee of Peterborough had 46-42.

Owen Sound's Russ Slater, however, led in goals scored with 65. His 18 assists put him fifth in the standings with 83 points.

Excelsiors Edge Mimico 14-13

TORONTO, Sept. 6 — (CP) — Brampton Excelsiors eked out a 14-13 win over Mimico Mountaineers Tuesday night in the second game of a playoff series to decide fourth place in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior standings.

Combined with a 23-14 win at Brampton Saturday, it gave Brampton the round and moved them into the quarter-finals against Hamilton Tigers. Mimico now meets St. Catharines Athletics in St. Catharines tomorrow.

Al Garbutt got five goals for the winners while Bill Horwood scored five for Mimico.

Four Imports Leading Football Scoring

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP).—The individual scoring statistics compiled by The Canadian Press have an unfamiliar look at this early stage of the football season.

Four newcomers to Canadian football—imports from the United States—head the Big Four, in which each team has played two games. And in the Ontario Rugby Football Union, where only one game has been played, the leader comes from the intercollegiate loop.

Headman in the Big Four is Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones of Hamilton Tiger-Cats who played last season with the professional Cleveland Browns.

Another Hamilton player—Bill Gregus of Wake Forest College, N. Y.—is in a second-place tie with Ulysses Curtis of Toronto Argonauts. Nick Scollard of the Alouettes ranks fourth with nine points.

Johnny Chorostecki, a Toronto Varsity product, scored 23 points in one game for Sarnia Imperials to head the ORFU.

The statistics:

Campbellford won the toss for choice of home grounds for this all-important encounter under the floodlights September 7. The Wooler nine, league champions last season, have been hard-pressed to remain in the running this yea

Toronto Peoples Pace Vancouver To 2-0 Win

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP)—Big Russ Johnson, hurling air-tight ball in the Clutches, Tuesday night paced Toronto Peoples to a 2-0 victory over Vancouver Firemen in the first game of the Canadian senior softball championship.

The best-of-five series, first east-west softball final staged in Canada, climaxes a two-week softball tournament at the Canadian National Exhibition.

The Vancouver nine played on even terms with the powerful eastern champions for seven innings. But they were never able to start a serious scoring rally against Johnson.

The Toronto right-hander didn't allow a western runner past second.

Two successful bunts, both good for base hits, caused the downfall of the western champs in the top half of the eighth.

Port Hope Coasts To 13-2 Victory

COBOURG, Sept. 6 — Port Hope's ace hurler, Mike Harrison, missed a no-hit game Tuesday night, when Jerry Lawless, starting pitcher for Cobourg, cracked a single into right field in the third inning. Harrison coasted to a 13-2 win for Port Hope in the third game of the Lakeshore Juvenile Baseball League finals.

The game was called in the eighth because of darkness. The win gives Port Hope a 2-1 lead in the serie

4 American League Tems Square Off In Vital Series

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The four American League contenders go at each others throats tonight in vital series that may make or break their pennant ambitions.

Fenway Park will be the site of the big vendetta. The Boston battleground will pit the league-leading New York Yankees against the third-place Red Sox. The other will be fought out at Briggs Stadium in Detroit between the runner-up Tigers and the invading fourth-place Cleveland Indians.

Here's the picture at a glance as the feathers begin flying:

| | W | L | Pct | Games Bhd. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York | 83 | 47 | .638 | — |
| Detroit | 81 | 48 | .628 | 1½ |
| Boston | 80 | 51 | .611 | 3½ |
| Cleveland | 80 | 53 | .602 | 4½ |

Yankee manager Casey Stengel has nominated Lefty Ed Lopat (15-7) to face the sizzling Red Sox who have won 18 of their last 21 games with a power-packed lineup boasting a club batting mark of better than .300.

Daring Move

The move is a daring one, as Fenway Park is regarded as a graveyard for lefthand pitchers. Only three visiting lefthanders have pitched a complete game there this year and only one, Hal Newhouser, of Detroit, came through with a victory.

Lopat, however, has mastered the Red Sox four times this year in five decisions and one of the triumphs came in Boston where the left-field wall is entirely too cozy with third base. Lopat needed relief in his winning Fenway effort.

Red Sox skipper Steve O'Neill has named Lefty Mel Parnell (14-8) to spike the Yankee guns. Parnell, who won 25 games last year, is back in form after a poor start, having won six straight games and nine out of his last 10.

At Detroit, Early Wynn (16-6), enjoying his best season, has been named to pitch for Cleveland against Lefty Hal Newhouser (12-9).

Turn Back Chicago

Both of these series are two-game affairs.

The Yanks and Red Sox were idle Tuesday but the Indians and Tigers tuned up for their approaching tests with victories.

Cleveland turned back Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 10 innings. The Tigers came from behind and felled St. Louis Browns 7-4.

Action in the National League also was slight as only two games were played. The surging New York Giants downed Brooklyn Dodgers 8-5 in 10 innings and St. Louis Cardinals snapped a seven-game losing streak with a 4-2 victory over Chicago Cubs.

The Giants' victory dumped the second-place Dodgers 7½ games behind the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies. The Dodgers open a four-game series in Philadelphia tonight. The victory elevated the fourth-place Giants to within 1½ gmes of third-place Boston and to 2½ of Brooklyn.

Giants Crush Springfield 8-2

By The Associated Press

International League observers are tabbing Manager Joe Becker's Jersey City Giants as the dark-horse team in the loop's playoffs.

Despite player raids by the parent New York Giants, the Little Giants have been tough all season, and currently are playing the best ball in the circuit.

The Giants posted their sixth straight victory Tuesday night as lefty Roger Bowman turned back Springfield Cubs 8-2 on three hits for his 16th victory. The Giants pounded out 13 hits, including a home run by Dutch Mele.

By winning, the fourth-place Giants crept to within one game of the third-place Baltimore Orioles, who divided a double-header with Syracuse Chiefs. The Chiefs took the opener 3-1, but the Orioles grabbed the nightcap 4-3.

Montreal's second-place Royals handed the pennant - winning Rochester Red Wings their third straight setback, 10-2.

Toronto Maple Leafs and Buffalo Bisons split a double-header. The Bisons won the opener 4-3 in 10 innings but the Leafs took the nightcap 3-1.

Angry Marines Want Apology From Truman

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP). — President Truman Tuesday drew a storm of bitter protest from marine veterans groups and congressmen by charging that the U.S. Marine Corps has a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's.

Truman served during the First World War as a captain in the U.S. Army infantry.

The Marine Corps League called the statement an insult and demanded a public apology.

The Marine Corps Reserve Officers Association said it felt the statements must have been a monumental misunderstanding on the part of Truman.

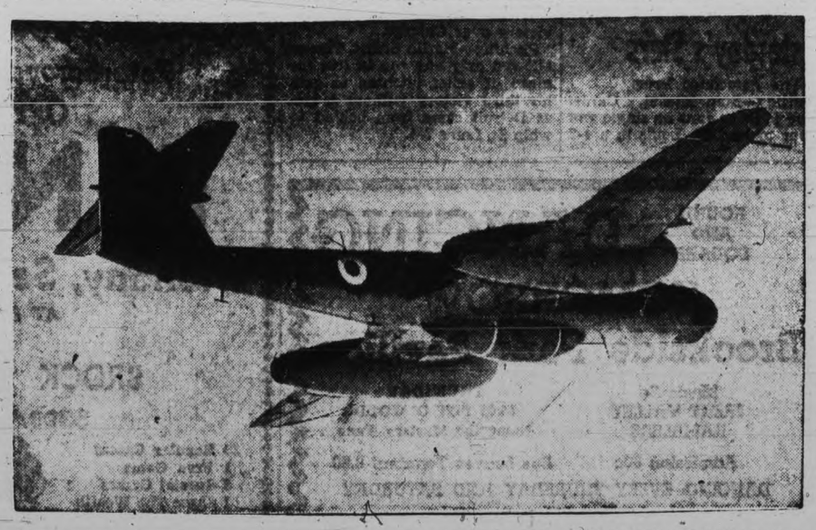
The argument was touched off by two letters tucked away in the back of the congressional record.

One was from Representative Gordon McDonough (Rep. Calif.). He wrote asking the president to name a marine to the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, along with the army, navy, and air corps.

Truman's reply, dated Aug. 29:

"My Dear Congressman McDonough: I read with a lot of interest your letter in regard to the Marine Corps. For your information the Marine Corps is the navy's police force and as long as I am President that is what it will remain. They have a propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's.

"Nobody desires to belittle the efforts of the Marine Corps, but when the Marine Corps goes into the army it works with and for the army and that is the way it should be.



"I am more than happy to have your expression of interest in this naval military organization. The chief of naval operations is the chief of staff of the navy of which the marines are a part."

Double Accident

WINDSOR, Sept. 6 (CP) — A double accident late Tuesday took the life of Joseph Kuczman, 41, of Windsor. Kuczman was struck by a city bus and shortly after fell from an automobile that was carrying him to hospital.

RECOVERING—Dr. A. H. S. Gillson, president of the University of Manitoba, is recovering in London, Eng., from two abdominal operations within a month. The former McGill University professor was taken suddenly ill while visiting Britain to recruit staff for the university.

NIGHT FIGHTER—Here is the new British Armstrong Whitworth NF-11, intended to form the backbone of Europe's night fighter defence. Just off Britain's secret list, the jet-propelled aircraft is believed capable of detecting and intercepting any other known plane today. The elongated nose contains intricate radar equipment, and on the right wing is one of the four 20 millimetre cannons. This is a Royal Air Force photo.

15 Air Cadets Win Scholarships To Two Colleges

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP)—Fifteen air cadets have been awarded scholarships totalling $9,000 Air Cadet League headquarters announced Tuesday.

Valued at $600 each, the scholarships cover first-year tuition and incidental expenses at the Canadian services colleges, Royal Military College at Kingston and Royal Roads at Royal Roads, B.C.

The scholarships were donated by business corporations and individuals in response to annual appeal from the provincial committees of the league.

The winners include:

Albert H. Wagner, Port Arthur; Irving R. Atkins, Kirkland Lake; A. E. V. Simpson, Port Colborne; Fred W. Aldworth, Hamilton; James A. Jennings, Toronto; William R. Stewart, Kingston; Gordon Kilger and Joseph L. Lackner, Ottawa.

UK Trade Unions Stress Solidarity With Canada

BRIGHTON, Sussex, Sept. 6 — (Reuters). — Nine hundred delegates at the annual conference of the 8,000,000-strong British Trade Union Congress greeted enthusiastically Tuesday a declaration of British-Canadian trade union solidarity by Alderman R. K. Gervin of Vancouver.

Gervin, speaking as a fraternal delegate from the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, said it was essential the democratic movements on both sides of the Atlantic should stand together as free men if they were to save themselves from the imperialist designs of Russia.

"Once again our democracy, our freedom and our very institutions —not least our own labor movement—are threatened by a dictatorship," he said.

"We have had enough experience of Communism to be entirely certain that military measures are not enough to compete with the well-armed bandits now in control in Soviet Russia.

"We have dealt with dictatorships before. We are dealing or we will deal with this one—the worst of them all. Today, more perhaps than ever in history, we must realize the full value of our democratic institutions to meet the threats to our established freedoms.

Best Attitude

"The best and surest attitude is to make our democratic way of life operate effectively in the best interests of all."

Gervin gave the Congress a long survey of the development of trade unionism in Canada, of the extent and resources of his country and of the social progress it had made. The five Tolpuddl Martyrs (early British trade unionists sentenced to transportation for their activities) who settled in Canada had never ceased to be an inspiration to the Canadian movement, Gervin said.

His Congress would like to see reimposition of price control which had been removed at the end of the war.

Hydro Chairman Urge Consumers To Save Power

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP).—War in Korea and weather in Ontario are putting the squeeze on the province's power resources.

R. H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, said Tuesday an upsurge of industrial activity following the outbreak of hostilities in Korea, coupled with unseasonably dull and rainy weather, boosted power consumption in Southern Ontario to new highs in the last two weeks of August.

Mr. Saunders urged consumers to save power in every way possible.

CC Delegates At Banff Gathering

By FORBES RHUDE, Canadian Press Business Editor.

Some 300 representatives of Canadian business from the smallest communities to the largest cities are converging on Banff, Alta., for a discussion session.

It is the annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and Tuesday special trains left Montreal and Toronto with eastern delegates, with plans for brief stop-overs en route. They will arrive at Banff next Saturday, picking up western delegates, and being joined there by the British Columbia contingent. With wives, the party will number about 500.

Major national problems will be considered, and 650 boards of trade and local chambers of commerce will have the chance to present their views. Here are some suggestions of boards and chambers in various communities:

Peterborough wants to set aside one day a year as "Parliament Day" on which the virtues and problems of parliamentary government will be dramatized.

Special Tax Plan

Kelowna, B. C., suggests that since small business men find it difficult to establish a company pension plan, the Federal government should make some arrangement under the tax laws to allow all taxpayers to make provision out of income for old age.

North Bay recommends immediate effort by the government to standardize arms, equipment, training and tactics with those of the United States, looking to joint defence of the continent.

The executive council of the Canadian Chamber proposes a resolution urging a policy of decentralization of business both as a defence and increased-efficiency measure.

The Fergus Chamber is concerned with the problem of human relations in business and wants more studies on the subject.

Windsor urges the necessity of a "stepped up" information program on behalf of freedom of enterprise.

Lethbridge, Alta., states that the economy and the country's existence depends on the top six inches of soil and urges more action in regard to erosion.

Uniform Legislation

Saskatoon, Sask., thinks there should be more uniform legislation throughout the country on daylight saving time, and recommends the subject for a Dominion-Provincial conference.

Brampton wants Victoria Day celebrated on the Monday closest to May 24 and Dominion Day on the Monday closest to July 1.

Chatham, Ont., suggests that Thanksgiving Day and Armistice Day both be observed Nov. 11 each year.

The New Westminster, B. C., Board of Trade believes the Canadian Chamber should reiterate its announced policy that private enterprise should be allowed to bring television to Canada.

Saint John, N. B., wants something done to restore trade with British Caribbean colonies.

Kenora suggests that provincial departments of education should try to work out uniform national standards of education and curricula.

Looking For Route

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP). — Survey parties of the Ontario Highways Department are scouting the western part of the province for the best route of the proposed new four-lane highway from Toronto to Windsor. Plans call for the new road to by-pass Guelph, Galt, Kitchener, Waterloo and Preston, swinging south to a point below Woodstock and continuing between highways 2 and 3 to Windsor, in order to relieve the two existing highways of through traffic.

Three Streets Get New Sewers, City Hall Extras

Third reading of a bylaw authorizing the construction of a sewer on upper Homewood Ave. west signified at the city council meeting Tuesday night that approval had been received from the Ontario Municipal Board. The work was actually finished yesterday by the city's engineering department. A sewer for High St. was also approved.

Two readings were given another bylaw for a sewer on Braidwood Ave. east of Lock St. At that stage it has to be sent to the Municipal Board for their assent.

The proposed Cameron St. sewer was also authorized in third reading of its construction bylaw.

Other bylaws empowered Mayor Swanston and City Clerk Outram to sign contractual agreements with R. A. Blyth Construction Co. and Peter Mohan of Toronto whose sewer tenders were recently accepted. Still another bylaw appoints J. Edward Davis of Trenton acting chief assessor at a salary of $3,000 Confirmation of the appointment depends on a period of probation.

Minor Contract Changes

The report of the executive committee by Ald. H. F. Waddell was adopted by the council directing a minor change in the contract for the erection of the new city hall. It was recommended at a conference of the architects, Marani and Morris, Toronto; Mr. R. Winter, the city's consulting architect and City Engineer Chalmers.

It provides for an increase of $4,208.05 in the accepted tender of Eastwood Construction Co. "in order to permit the carrying out of an extra, as provided for in Change Notice No. 1 of the architects; this being necessary because of the elevation of the storm sewers surrounding the city hall, and all three of the expert advisors agreeing that this work was necessary."

The committee report also provides that the plans for the new city hall be changed "so that weeping tile will not be placed beneath the basement floor and that the contractor be requested to submit an estimate of the cost of this work, and to reduce his contract tender by this amount."

Adjourn Theft Charge Advice: Get Lawyers

A charge of breaking, entry and theft against Mrs. Rhoda Bagnall, 145 London St., was adjourned to give both her and Mrs. Mary Corbett, same address, who brought the charge against Mrs. Bagnall, time to get lawyers to represent them.

Mrs. Bagnall chose trial by a higher court when she appeared in police court today.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said, "This charge is privately laid and I don't care to come into the picture at all." And he advised Mrs. Corbett to hire a lawyer to prosecute the case for her.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., told the women it was a serious charge and they might better both have lawyers to represent them when the case came up for preliminary hearing before him in a week's time.

A. E. Bottum, Native Son Of Bobcaygeon, 90 Today, Gave Kawarthas Their Name

By COLLETTE FERGUSON

"Me 90? Why I stopped counting birthdays years ago. Besides, I've been much too busy all my life to think about getting old," remarked Albert Edward Bottum lifelong resident of Bobcaygeon, as he prepared to celebrate his 90th birthday to-day. Reputed to be one of the oldest men in the hardware business in Canada, Mr. Bottum has been associated with the present A. E. Bottum & Sons hardware store, on Bolton St., Bobcaygeon, for the past 75 years.

"I was born the day that the Prince of Wales (Albert Edward) visted Peterborough on September 6, 1860, and was named after him," continued the nonagenarian. "My father, Captain Elijah Bottum came to Bobcaygeon from Ogdensburg, New York, to operate the inland lakes steamboats. One of his boats "Eva" was among the first propeller boats built. These crafts were used to carry the mail, provisions and to tow log drives to the mills. They were also used as excursion boats."

Seated in the office of the store where he has spent so many years, Mr. Bottum recounted to the Examiner his experiences and adventures. He was more willing to talk about his own share in them, but out of the conservation came glimpses of a busy, purposeful and admirable life.

Mr. Bottum was one of a family of five, two boys and three girls. He has one brother living, Captain W. H. Bottum of Belleville. He attended the Bobcaygeon Public School which at that time was built of logs. At the age of 16, he went to work from October to the following August in a lumber camp in Algonquin Park. The next year he took to the wild, then remote north again.

Molasses and Fat Pork.

"It was quite an adventure," reminisced Mr. Bottum. "When I left the first year I weighed 85 pounds, but when I returned after two years in the north, I tipped the scales at 140. All they ever gave us to eat was bread, black strap molasses and fat pork It took me a long time to get used to that pork and the tea we were given to drink was even worse."

Some of his summers, Mr. Bottum spent as a purser on his father's boats. While still at school he began his career in the hardware trade. He worked after school and on Saturdays in the store owned by George Stetham, which had been originally built by J. E. Edwards. After he completed his schooling, and his career as a lumberman, he became manager of the store and finally its owner.

Real Lumberman's Town.

As a lifelong resident of Bobcaygeon, he was able to recount many interesting details of the community's growth and changes. The village grew around Boyd's lumber mill which was built in 1834 by Thomas Need, on the site where the Information Booth now stands. In 1844 it was taken over by Mossom Boyd. A second mill was built where the power house now stands in 1868.

"It was a real lumberman's town in those days," recounted Mr. Bottum. "I can remember when there were five hotels in Bobcaygeon."

Before the incorporation of the village in 1875, the northern section of what is now Bobcaygeon was known as Rokeby. In 1904, the local Electric Power Commission took over the site of Boyd's Mill and lumbering ceased to be the village's major industry. Since that time Bobcaygeon

Chief Justice Praises City As Law-Abiding

Making his first visit to Peterborough as Chief Justice of the high court, the Hon. James C. McRuer, Tuesday afternoon congratulated the community on the absence of serious crime.

There were no criminal cases listed at the current jury sittings of the Supreme Court.

Ontario generally is a "very law abiding community," he said. Statistics of other communities — particularly those of the United States — bear out this contention.

"I am particularly gratified to see that there are no serious criminal cases coming before this court," he said, addressing the assembled members of the Peterborough County Bar Association.

Despite the general talk about lawlessness and delinquency, the Chief Justice said, he felt things are no worse now than they used to be.

Welcome Given

Ralph Standish, president of the Bar Association, officially welcomed Chief Justice McRuer to Peterborough. He said this was a particular honor in Peterborough's centennial year.

F. D. Kerr, KC, senior member of the Bar, expanded this theme. Other professions had built the factories and churches, he said, but the members of the Bar Association felt that their contribution of fair play and justice was of equal importance in the community.

Mr. Kerr also had a suggestion to help prevent delay in litigation: A special sittings for divorce cases only, or four non-jury sittings in a year instead of the present two.

"I have seen justice denied through delay, he said.

Meredith Funeral

Pallbearers at the funeral Tuesday afternoon of William Meredith, 75, 490 Sherbrooke St., included his five sons—William, Donald, Bruce, Robert and Gordon—and Wesley Pavy.

A resident of Peterborough for 68 years Mr. Meredith was born in England. He died Saturday in hospital after a lengthy illness.

The funeral service was in the Comstock Funeral Home, the Rev. Willard B. Day, Burleigh Falls, officiating. He was buried in Little Lake cemetery.

Expenditure on the new Civic Hospital to the end of July was $2,908,732.69 as reported to the council Tuesday night in a progress statement received from Mr. John Hornal, superintendent.

$1,011,684 COLLECTED

Collection of taxes to the end of July as reported Tuesday to the council by City Treasurer Couper, totalled $1,011,684.58. Part of this money was for taxes due and unpaid in recent years. Payment of 1950 taxes amounted to $978,051.38; of the taxes due in 1948 payments were $26,689.61; and $5,894.98 for 1948; and there was a small item of $1,048.61 indicated as tax arrears.

DUNCAN IN LONDON

Donald Duncan, formerly of Peterborough, Tuesday started duties as boys' work secretary of the London YMCA. He succeeds Kenneth D. Gowie, who recently accepted a position on the staff of the University of Western Ontario.

El Jones Joins Kingston Radio

ELWOOD JONES

countless talent contests and a leader of community singsongs.

He is well known by sport fans as the man who started radio broadcasts of local baseball games in the city and in this way helped to revive the sport's popularity.

Organized Jaycees

It was he who organized the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Peterborough in 1946 and is a charter past president of the organization. He is also a member of the Peterborough Sales and Advertising Club, as well as the Peterborough Masonic Lodge 155.

He has been active in the YMCA and has been on the Y's executive.

Although he is looking forward to his new work as CKWS's advertising manager, El said "I'm sorry to leave Peterborough. It's a marvellous city and I have made a lot of friends here."

Aldermen Delay Chip Wagon Licence Law

The proposal of licencing potato chips wagons was turned back to the finance committee at last night's meeting of the council.

In the report of the finance committee as read by Ald. Hugh Waddell, the following clause was pertinent to this matter: "That a bylaw be prepared to licence potato chips wagons, setting out recommended licence fee and also restrictions on the movements of the licencees in accordance with the recommendations of a committee consisting of the chairman of this committee, Mayor Swanston, City Clerk Outram and Chief Constable Thompson."

On motion to adopt the finance committee report, Ald. Doug. Miller commented that it was directing that a bylaw be prepared that would apply restrictions on that type of business to the extent that it might become unprofitable for the present vendor of potato chips, (Dick Ouimet). "He has been operating four years with the sanction of the council. He has kept his business up to date. This seems as if it would be a little rough on him, especially if he got a permit only to the end of the year."

To Regulate Business

Ald. Gillespie remarked that discussion was "just wasting time," that the bylaw was intended to regulate that kind of business.

Ald. Miller: "I don't think I'm wasting my time or the council's. I have a right to say what I think."

Mayor Swanston said if there was going to be any discussion of the matter it should be in committee. Mr. Ouimet was now operating without a licence. There was no bylaw at present. Extension of permission to sell would be to the end of another year for Mr. Ouimet which would be to the end of June in 1951.

Action Suspended

Ald. P. J. Anglesey suggested that the clause in the finance report be withheld for the present "until we hear from the committee," indicating that he proposed the question be sent back to the finance committee.

"I'll so move," said Ald. Miller, and Ald. A. B. Burrows seconded it. The motion carried.

Ald. J. A. Dewart commented that the motion seemed to be a backward step. The bylaw contemplated in the finance report was intended to legalize and regulate the chips business. But, the motion would have the effect of delaying any action in that direction instead of making progress. The question was being turned back to a committee, and it might be weeks before it came back to the council.

2-Hr. Parking Limit In Front Knox Church

Parking on the Knox United Church fronts of Wolfe and Rubidge Streets is to be restricted to two hours from Monday to Saturday inclusive as recommended to the council Tuesday night by City Engineer Chalmers.

Presumably most of the target cars are owned by employees of the Canadian General Electric Company. Council received a letter from Knox Church board to the effect that parking practice prevented entry to the church daily except Sundays. Wedding parties particularly were obstructed.

The council asked City Engineer Chalmers to investigate and report. He recommended the two-hour limit, and a motion by Ald. Adam Sands and Ald. E. C. Braund recommended that the traffic bylaw be amended.

Smith Auction Sale

Auction sale of livestock and implements at the farm of Elmer Northey, Smith township, one mile south of Lakefield, Tuesday, drew a big crowd. J. H. Miles, autioneer, reported $304 for the top cow, a grade Shorthorn. The herd averaged $255, and calves $79.

It is understood that Mr. Northey is retiring to Lakefield, having sold his farm to the government for veterans' housing. It will be divided into two acre lots.

CREEK CLEANED

Dr. R. A. Kelly, city medical officer, said today the board of works has concluded its semi-annual job of cleaning out Jackson Park Creek. He requested citizens not to throw more rubbish into the creek, for the sake of sanitation and health.

MARY ELIZABETH ROWELL

PCVS Head Girl Awarded U of T $870 Scholarship

Head girl at PCVS in 1949-50, Mary Elizabeth Rowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paige Rowell, 494 Gilmour St., has been awarded the J. S. McLean scholarship in English and history by the University of Toronto. This scholarship is valued at $870 and is one of the four J. S. McLean scholarships awarded to students in Ontario outside of Toronto. It is a university college scholarship, the college which the prize-winner will enter this fall.

Miss Rowell has been one of the leading scholars in PCVS from her entrance in grade IX through to grade XIII. A year ago she was selected by her fellow grade XIII classmates and her teachers as the 1949-50 head girl.

In addition to her extra-curricular laurels, Miss Rowell has won the following awards during her five years at PCVS: Grade IX, first Morrow scholarship for general proficiency; grade X, the second Nicholls scholarship for general proficiency; grade XII, the Middle School scholarship for science, and the second Nicholls scholarship for general proficiency; Grade XIII, voted head girl, received the Mrs. Downey prize and the Canadian Council of Women prize.

First Case Polio Of Entire Season

First case of polio reported in the district during the entire year is that of Marjory Tovin, 20, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Murduff, O'Connell Road. Miss Tovin is in hospital in Toronto.

Toronto hospital officials expect her to be back to her Port Hope home within two weeks, as the disease was caught in the early stages.

Planning Committee Approve Lot For Sewer

Acquisition of a small piece of land south of Sherbrooke St. in the west end will be recommended to the city council by the planning committee, following the committee's approval on Tuesday of the city engineer's plan for a sewer in the west end of the city.

The sewer which is to go along Western Ave. will serve Clonsilla Ave and the new subdivision in that area owned by Montgomery Bros.

After looking over City Engineer A. E. Chalmers' sketch map of the proposed sewer, the planning committee, under the chairmanship of James Dutton approved the plan and recommended that the council acquire the extra piece of land required.

THIRD CONCILIATION MEETING

Local 527, United Electrical Workers, and the Ontario Marble Co. began talks today before an OLRB conciliation board seeking to end the deadlock in contract negotiations. Judge J. C. Reynolds, Belleville, is the chairman. Drummond Wren, is the union nominee, and E. M. Dillon, KC, is appearing for the company. The union is demanding a 40-hour week with the same take-home pay and a wage increase, as well as some other contract adjustments. The two parties met early today in the board room of the Public Library.

Sad First School Day For Nancy With $10 Spent 55c For Fees, Books: All the Rest Lost

First day at school turned out to be a tragic day for Nancy McNabb, 13, of 308 Burnham St.

Nancy's mother had given her a $10 bill to pay some school fees and buy a few books and notebook refills. No one at King George School, where Nancy is beginning in the entrance class, could change the bill and she took it downtown to buy her books and get it changed.

She spent 55 cents and put the remainder $9.45 in a small brown zippered purse her grandmother had given her.

She was carrying the purse in her hand, but outside Kresge's store on George St., she suddenly realized she no longer had it.

Nancy and her friend hunted around, but no luck. She tearfully reported the loss to the police. So far the money and purse are still missing.

Biggest School Population In City History Estimated After Opening Day Crush

Tuesday, first day of school, 7,321 Peterborough children trooped to classes. That is the tentative count made by school principals. It was the largest opening day in Peterborough schools history. All institutions showed an increase: PCVS, St. Peter's High, the 10 public schools and seven separate elementary schools. The school authorities reckon that, following the pattern of other years, the enrolment lists will continue to grow for another two or three weeks. A school population in Peterborough crowding 8,000 before the month is out is an estimate.

An all-time high enrolment of 1,280 students, and perhaps a high of 1,300 students, may be reached this year by PCVS according to early indications.

C. S. Browne, principal, said today that the opening day attendance figure Tuesday was 1,244 as compared with 1,226 for last year. Gradually in the opening week students registered at the collegiate last year setting a record high of 1,262. Mr. Browne explained that if the rise corresponds to last year, a new attendance record of 1,300 may be set.

To lighten the load in Grade IX this year two extra classes were added. Students enrolling Tuesday in Grade IX numbered 438 for 12 classes. Included in this figure are the 25 boys and 23 girls compose two classes in the terminal course which is being introduced this year. The boys are taking a two-year vocational course and the girls a two-year home economics course.

Public Schools Up

Percy Windrim, public school inspector, reported today that the public schools' attendance Tuesday increased by 203. In 1949 the opening day enrolment was 4,001. Tuesday it was 4,204. He believed this figure would be added to continually until later this week or the first of next. A number of children, he explained do not register the first few days

The kindergarten enrolment dropped 43 children this year for an opening day total enrolment of 482. Mr. Windrim said there was every indication that this figure would reach the 1949 mark of 525 and possibly exceed it.

Tuesday 70 children began their school-days at the Confederation School kindergarten. Mr. Windrim expects this class to have an enrolment of 80 by the end of this week. Central School, he added, had 37 children beginners Tuesday and he expects this attendance figure to reach last year's 52 by the end of the week.

Noticeable increases were made at Confederation, Prince of Wales, Grove and Parkhill Schools. This year 62 pupils were transferred from Confederation School to King Edward School. But the enrolment Tuesday brought the school attendance figure back to within 10 students of the June enrolment of 487. Despite the fact that 30 pupils were changed from Prince of Wales to Queen Mary School the Prince of Wales enrolment Tuesday morning reached 715 as compared with June's 702

Doubled Figure

Grove School in the southern section of the city nearly doubled its 1949 opening day figure. With the new housing area there now the school enrolment rose to 189 Tuesday as compared with 102 last year. Throughout last term students registered making the enrolment in June 150.

An extra room was opened on Tuesday at the Park Hill school for Grade III pupils. This helped carry the increase which brought the attendance this year to 106 from 39 last September.

Opening day enrolments in the public schools as compared with the attendance in June were: Central, 418, (412 in June); Confederation, 477, (487); King Edward, 437, (377); King George, 570, (520); Prince of Wales, 715 (702); Queen Alexandra, 382, (373); Queen Mary, 755, (688); Grove, 189, (150); May's, 155, (176); Park Hill, 106, (79).

Separate Schools

An increase in Separate elementary and high schools opening day enrolment was recorded Tuesday, J. S. Black, secretary-treasurer of the Separate School Board said today.

At St. Peter's High School additional Grade 9 and Grade 10 classes helped handle the increase. Three hundred boys and girls registered as compared with 255 last year. This increase was much larger than anticipated.

With more than 80 additional children expected to register today in the Separate elementary schools, the opening day enrolment totalled 1,573, well up on last year's figure.

For the convenience of the Catholic families in the south-west area of the city, St. Alphonsus school was opened Tuesday morning with James Moher as principal over 187 children. This school was started a year ago.

Other opening day enrolments were: St. Peter's 260; St. Mary's 218; St. John's 220; Sacred Heart 243; Immaculate Conception 230; St. Anne's 198.

Council Thanks Author-Producer Of 'Heart's Core'

City council will record in its minutes a resolution of congratulation and appreciation of the contribution by Mr. Robertson Davies as author and producer of his play "At My Heart's Core" specially written by him for Peterborough's centennial year.

The resolution was moved by Ald. Adam Sands and seconded by Ald. H. Dodds.

"This is one of the best contributions of our centennial year," Ald. Sands said. "I think the formal minutes of the council should express the appreciation of both the council and the citizens, with their congratulations for Mr. Davies' splendid work and its success. It was an outstanding feature commemorating our centenary, and its subject dealt with the foundation of our community."

In presenting the motion to the council, Mayor Swanston said the tribute was greatly deserved.

DOROTHY DIX

Woman Rescues Marriage Keeping Up With Husband

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I was much interested in the letter the woman wrote to you about being lonely and forlorn because her husband has outgrown her. My case was similar to hers. I had no education. I disliked to read and had a bad inferiority complex. When I realized the situation between my husband and myself I lamented and resorted to tears, but that gained me nothing. Then I resolved to do my best to bring myself as near as possible to my husband's standards. I compelled myself to read. I forced myself to mix with people. I took dancing lessons. I learned how the principal outdoor games were played. I regained my looks by physical exercise and diet. It was hard work and it took ten years before I really gained recognition, but today I can meet my husband's friends with ease. We can discusst subjects of interest to both. We are companions. But I'm still struggling on, trying to keep up with him.

A WIFE WHO WON OUT

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: There would not be so many divorces nor so many lachrymose, neglected wives if more women had the intelligence and determination of this woman.

She saw that her marriage was going on the rocks, but instead of beating on her breast and lamenting over the perfidy of husbands, as most wives do under similar circumstances, she got busy and saved it. And that is what the great majority of other wives could do when they see the same danger ahead of them, if they were only willing to take the trouble and make the sacrifices to do it.

Don't Blame Selves

Most wives who lose their husbands' affections, as the phrase goes, contend that it was an act of God, so to speak. It takes more character than the average woman possesses to do as this correspondent did and recognize that if she is losing her husband it is because she no longer meets all of his requirements in a wife, and to go deliberately to work to make herself over to his taste.

But she did it and she won out, and any wife who will follow her example can attain the same results nine times out of ten. For the wife always has the advantage over any other woman, that she was her husband's first love, that he is bound to her by a thousand ties of association and habit and duty, that the hands of little children hold them together, and all the powers of convention and society fight on her side.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have three little boys, the oldest 6, who are simply driving me frantic. They are into every sort of mischief and I can't control them at all. They never obey me without a threat of punishment. People advise me to whip them soundly, but must I go through life flaying them and leave scars on their minds as well as their bodies?

MRS. R. P. R.

ANSWER: What ails your children mostly is that they are little boys and they are just following the natural impulse of the young human animal. Every mother who has three little boys under 6 is frantic unless she has a philosophical enough disposition to just accept the phase of childhood as some thing that they will outgrow.

Of course it is a serious matter for children not to obey their mother. It saves people much trouble in later life to have had a respect for authority inculcated in them in their youth. You should have started in the cradle to form the habit of obedience in your children. Now you can only do it by being firm with them. Don't let them do a thing one time and refuse to let them do it another time.

But don't beat your children. Corporal punishment seldom does any good. You must rule your children by intelligence and not by fear.

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married little more than four years to a woman I love better than anyone else on earth. She has been a true wife to me and we have been very happy together. But a few days ago she told me that there had been another man in her life before we were married. The other man had fooled her under promise of marriage. She has offered me my freedom if I want it. I feel like taking revenge on the man who wronged her. What shall I do?

WORRIED HUSBAND

ANSWER: Forget it. You are married to a woman you love and who is a good woman and a good wife. Thank Heaven for her and bury the memory of her one little sin so far down in your mind that it will never come up. Her mistake has been in telling you and thus poisoning your mind against her.

As for your idea of revenge on the scoundrel who abused your wife's trust in him, forget that, too. You would only blazen to the world something that it will never know otherwise, and get yourself into trouble. Revenge is a boomerang that annihilates those who throw it.

Exhibition Visitor Finds Quick Hay Fever Relief

A visitor to the Canadian National Exhibition last year writes that Hay Fever threatened to ruin her visit. On advice of a friend she secured Boots Catarrh Pastilles . . . another reliable Boots product sold in the British Empire Building. Result? Welcome relief from running eyes, sneezing and that choked-up feeling. These Catarrh Pastilles contain Creosote which vapourizes and helps relieve congestion quickly. Have them on hand to take at the first sign of Hay Fever discomfort.

Sally, My Pickling Neighbor Offers Some Tasty Recipes

By MARY MOORE.

For the first time this year I sniffed the aroma that tells me autumn is coming even surer than Canadian National Exhibition posters. Somebody was making chili sauce on our street.

I actually did what I have had an impulse to do all of my pickling life (that's pickling)—I went up to the door and knocked—because it was the home of one of my neighbor-friends.

I just sat at her kitchen table and smelled—and eventually was offered a taste of chili sauce on a saucer with a half slice of fresh white bread and butter. I was hungry—but that was wonderful chili sauce.

I wasn't fooling Sally — she knew why I was there—I wanted that recipe. She gladly copied it out for me and here it is—tested, tasted and approved.

Sally's Chili Sauce

Peel 25 medium-sized fully ripened tomatoes, cut them in quarters and let them stand in a large bowl until you can pour off two cups of the excess liquid which forms. Discard (or drink) this. Meanwhile bring to boiling point 2 cups spirit vinegar in which you have placed a cotton bag full of whole spices. These are: 2 teaspoons whole cloves, 2 teaspoons coarsely broken stick cinnamon, 1 teaspoon celery seeds. When the vinegar boils, cover it, and push away from the heat, but keep warm to let the spices flavor the vinegar strongly. Add the drained tomatoes to the vinegar (it is not necessary to remove spices until boiling is fairly well complete if you like the chili sauce strongly spiced), add 1 to 2 cups white sugar (depending on how sweet you like it. (Sally adds one and one-half cups of sugar, half cup of chopped onion, 1 cup chopped celery, one-half to one teaspoon powdered red pepper (cayenne), and 1 to 1½ tablespoons salt. Boil, stirring almost constantly, for half hour, then taste it. If spices suit you, remove spice bag. Test it for salt and sugar. If you would like more add it at this point. Continue boiling and stirring until of consistency that you desire. The faster the boiling the better the finished color. If chili sauce boils slowly for a long time it becomes dark. Pour into sterile jars and seal carefully, at once. Chili sauce does not keep unless it is perfectly sealed.

Two-Day Method

Two quarts 2-inch or 2½-inch gherkins, 1 quart cauliflower flowerets, 1 quart small onions, 1-3 cup salt, 2 quarts water, 2 quarts good cider vinegar, 2 lbs. sugar, 1 oz. mixed whole spices—cinnamon sticks, allspice berries and whole cloves, 1 ounce each mustard seeds and celery seeds.

Prepare the vegetables by washing well and separating cauliflower into flowerets and carefully peeling the onions. Dissolve the salt in the water and put the vegetables in this brine to stand overnight. In the morning drain and rinse with clear cold water.

Pour boiling water over the vegetables and boil exactly three minutes after boiling point is reached. Rinse well with cold water. Tie the spices in a cloth bag and boil them with the sugar and vinegar for 10 minutes, and pour the syrup over the vegetables and let stand overnight. Remove spice bag if desired. In morning pour off vinegar-syrup, bring to boiling point. Meanwhile pack pickles in sterile jars. Pour boiling hot vinegar syrup over them to overflowing and seal. These are ready to use in one month.

Special Wednesday Menu ReasonalbeCost, Fine Flavor

By MARY MOORE

NOTE: I plan to give you a dinner menu every Wednesday that is noted for its reasonable cost and excellent flavour. This is hte type of meat the "Food For Thought" column will be featuring,—tailored to fit a modest purse, but flavoured to please a discriminating palate.

Chilled Pineapple Juice
Beef Cakes with Come-Again Sauce (see directions)
Quick Cream Cabbage
Baked Potatoes
Melon Halves with Ice Cream
Coffee

Directions

Did that Come-Again Sauce make you take notice? To make it, add one pound of hamburg meat, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, shake of onion salt, and ¾ cup sweet milk. Shape this into flat cakes. Cut 2 slices bacon into 8 pieces, and fry until crisp. Pour some of the fat out of the pan, but leave 2 tablespoons. Sear meat cakes on both sides, then cook until just pink through, turning two or three times in the process. Remove to hot platter and put a piece of bacon on each.

Add to the fat in pan ¼ cup strong breakfast coffee, 3 tablespoons catsup, and 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, boil up and pour over the meat cakes. Garnish platter with tomatoes cut in wedges.

Pineapple juice, from vine-ripened pineapples is being packed in Hawaii without any sugar added. In our stores we can buy this for 19 cents per tin and I have the right size glasses to hold enough for four people from one 20-ounce can.

This type of appetizer can be served to very hungry people, reducers, children, and underweight people to advantage. A special enzyme is found in pineapples that has been discovered in no other fruit or vegetable, so far. Do not neglect to serve pineapple to your family.

Quick Cream Cabbage

In top of double boiler melt 2 tablespoons each butter or margarine and cream, over boiling water. Add 4 cups shredded or chopped cabbage—it must be very fine. Put on cover and let cook 5 minutes, then stir it down well and add salt and pepper to taste. If shredded finely enough it will be tender, but will still retain a little of its delicious crispness. In any case cook it only long enough to heat it through. Most of a cabbage's vitamins are retained by this method.

Baked Potato Methods

(1) Scrub potatoes with brush and metal sponge, but leave most of the skin on. Bake at 500 deg. Fahr. for one-half hour, then brush with butter and return to very hot oven to finish baking. This method makes the skin softer and more palatable for those who are inclined not to eat it. Potato skins contain valuable food minerals and Vitamin B.

(2) Scrub potatoes until thoroughly clean. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. until tender. Make gashes to form cross on top. Press from bottom to split cross open. Fill gash with butter and cheese. Return potatoes to oven to melt butter and cheese and brown top a little.

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Serve Seasoned Meat Loaf For Family-style Dinner

For a host of new ideas for meat loaf you must see the seventh book in the Cookbook series being sponsored by The Examiner entitled "250 Ways to Prepare Meat." This excellent cookbook is full of useful suggestions for cooking that will benefit the bride and the experienced housewife equally.

Here is a dinner which can be commonplace or not, depending on the recipe you use. Of the pages of suggestions for meat loaf the one that seemed most unusual is the following:

Fruited Meat Roll

1½ pounds ground beef
¾ pound ground pork
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 egg

Stuffing

½ cup seedless raisins
4 cups toasted bread cubes
1-3 cup minced onion
2 tablespoons minced parsley
2 tablespoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon sage
2-3 cup water or soup stock

Mix meats, seasonings and egg. Spread out on waxed paper into a square about ½ inch thick. Rinse raisins, dry and combine with remaining ingredients. Spread evenly over meat, roll as for jelly roll, place in greased pan and brush with fat. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1½ to 2 hours. Serves 8.

Use spiced ham loaf or sausage loaf instead of meat above.

But, if you prefer something more conventional but well seasoned, here is an entirely different recipe you might try.

Meat Loaf Ring

2 pounds ground beef
1 pound ground pork
¼ cup minced onion
½ cup prepared horse-radish
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup tomato catchup

Combine first 8 ingredients and mix well. Pour catchup into bottom of greased ring mold. Fill mold with meat mixture and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour. Unmold and fill centre with creamed mushrooms. For 8.

As you can see, the Meat Book is a must in any homemakers kitchen. All you need to do to obtain your copy is clip a coupon from any issue of this newspaper and present it with 25 cents at the Examiner office, to your Examiner carrier or at Braund's Food Markets. Or if you wish to order your copy by mail, send 30 cents (5 cents additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, The Examiner, Peterborough.

Wins Water Skis Chemong Race

"Hap" Palmer, of Bowmanville, won the free-for-all event at the Chemonk Lake Power Boat Club races on Saturday afternoon; his prize was a pair of water skis. B. Garrison, of Oshawa, won $10, coming second, and "Doc" Webster $5 for third. Weather was excellent and water not too rough as boats roared over the three-mile triangular course. A gallery of 500 people lined the banks of the lake above the boat livery. Results of the six other events were as follows:

In 5 h.p., Barry Foster, 1st, Gordon McArthur, 2nd, and Walter Summerville, 3rd. Ed Grasik took 1st in the 10 h.p. class followed by F. Lundy and George Coros. In the 10 h.p. hydroplane event, Bryce Garrison was 1st, "Doc" Webster 2nd, and John Stacey 3rd. Garrison again took the lead in the B Utility 16 h.p. event followed by Lloyd Smith and P. Vezena. The C Utility 22 h.p. class was headed by "Hap" Palmer with Mero Tuck and Garrison again trailing in that order. Bob McCoy took the 1st spot in B Hydroplane class followed by Stan James and Harry Simmons.

Disney Actors Frequently Get Out Of Line

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6—(AP)—Alfred Hitchcock, the director who has called actors anything from children to cattle, once remarked that Walt Disney has the ideal relationship with his stars: he can erase them if they get out of line.

When I told Disney this, he replied: "We have trouble with our actors, too."

For instance, there is Mickey Mouse. The famed rodent has been brought back more times than Sarah Bernhardt. Several times Mickey has faded and his sentimental creator has revived him in a new vehicle.

"The trouble is," Disney explained, 'that Mickey isn't funny himself. He has to be surrounded with comic situations. That takes a lot of trouble."

Minnie Mouse has suffered an eclipse for the same reason. "There's no action connected with Minnie," the cartoon man said, "and we have given up the subtle stuff.

"The duck (Donald) and the dog (Pluto) are funnier characters in themselves, but even they get out of line. We got so busy with what we're doing that we lose perspective. We have to step and see what is happening to the characters."

Fresh Faces

Disney has taken on a new set of actors who are even more unmanagable than his film veterans. He has started a series which he calls "true-life adventures," starring the wild life of North America.

The first of the series was called "Seal Island" and it chronicled the life of seals on an Aleutian island. It won an Academy Award. The second is "Beaver Valley," which is currently winning much praise throughout the country.

Fraserville Church Re-opens With Service

FRASERVILLE, Sept. 6 (ENS)—Fraserville United Church held its re-opening services Sunday after being closed for re-decorating.

Special speaker at the morning and evening services was a former minister on the circuit, Rev. E. Cook, who delivered two inspiring sermons and along with Mrs. Cook renewed many past acquaintances.

The local choir sang anthems at both services and Mrs. Lawrence Winslow, of Millbrook, sang two solos at the evening service.

Farm Products Pool

PARIS, Sept. 6—(AP)—The French cabinet has decided to investigate the possibilities of forming a European pool of farm products. Albert Gazier, Information Minister, said Tuesday the study would be aimed at "organizing the principal European farm markets within the framework of the policy of building a United Europe."

Makes New Comeback

DAMASCUS, Syria, Sept. 6—(AP)—Syria's aged but politically-resilient veteran, chief of state Hachem Bey El Atassi, today was credited with a new comeback. Ousted by the French from the Syrian presidency in 1938, Atasi, who became Chief of State last November, Tuesday was returned to the presidency by the Constituent Assembly. Atassi is in his 80s.

A. E. Bottum

has steadily developd into a tourist centre.

Mr. Bottum also recalled that the first real hotel in the village was called "Forest House." The first automobile to make an appearance in Bobcaygeon was a Ford owned by Jack Kenny.

Got Kawarthas Named

According to Miss Dorothy Comber, local historian, Mr. Bottum has played a major part in the development of Bobcaygeon and the Kawartha district as a tourist area. At the time when Muskoka was beginning to prove a great tourist attraction he and Charles Stewart, the editor of the "Bobcaygeon Independnt," the village newspaper, went to the Indian Reserve on Chemong Lake to find a name for the district. The name given to them by the Indians was "Kawatha," which later, due to an error, became "Kawartha." This name was presented to all the municipal councils who were asked to use it in their advertising. It was accepted, and from that time on the Kawartha district has stood in its own right as a tourist area.

"Our cottage on Nogie's Island was the second one built on Pigeon Lake, and now there are more than 400 cottages," stated Mr. Bottum.

An Outdoors Man

Always fond of the outdoors, Mr. Bottum is a great fisherman and hunter. He has gone to a hunting camp every year but one for the past 27 years. Two years ago he shot a buck. He spends his summers at his other summer cottage at Chemong Lake where he still operates both an inboard and outboard motorboat and paddles a canoe. In the winter, he returns to the family home on Front St.

An ardent curler, Br. Bottum was a member of the two rinks that won the Dominion tankard in 1884. Since then he has been made an honorary member of the Ontario Curling Association.

Prominent Municipally

Mr. Bottum has many other claims to fame in his community. He is the oldest living resident of Bobcaygeon who was born in that community. Three generations of his family have been wardens of Victoria County and reeves of Bobcaygeon—his father, himself and his son, Roy. He is a past district deputy grand master of the Masonic Lodge, honorary president of the Verulam Agricultural Society, honorary president of the Bobcaygeon Curling Society and honorary president of the Verulam Cemetery committee. He has been a member of Christ Church (Anglican) ever since it was built and has held the post of church warden.

These numerous activities did not keep Mr. Bottum from travelling. He has visited the west coast and has travelled as far south as Mexico and southeast to New York.

In 1886, he married the former Emily Armstrong, who died in 1934. Mr. Bottum has two sons, Roy and Claude; one daughter, Mrs. B. E. Kelly, all of Bobcaygeon; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Birthday Celebration

Today more than 100 relatives and friends will be present at a birthday celebration for Mr. Bottum. Out-of-town guests are expected from Montreal, Bellevile, Toronto, Lindsay and Peterborough.

At the end of the interview, Mr. Bottum said good-bye, hopped into his 1929 Essex car and returned to his summer cottage.

Critics Lash Bernard Shaw's New Play

LONDON, Sept. 6—(Reuters).—George Bernard Shaw's latest play—a peep into the post-atomic age—was previewed here last night.

The play, "Farfetched Fables," was shown to an audience of professional critics at the Watergate Theatre, a tiny house seating only 100 people.

The 94-year-old sage dispenses with plot to present his interpretation of what would happen after the atomic era. In five conversation pieces and one monologue, he traces the destruction of modern civilization, the rise of a scientifically-organized society where men can manufacture themselves in the laboratory and the eventual evolution of a being without cumbersome body, all mind.

The Times critic wrote: "This by-no-means-witty parody is acted playfully, as it has been written. . . . The playfulness comes to very little in the way of entertainment."

The Daily Express critic said: "It is a pathetic sight to see that mighty legend, 'By Bernard Shaw,' on a play built out of the shards and ruins of genius."

New World Crisis May Speed U.S.-Canada-Alaska Rails

By NEA Service.

VANCCOUVER, Sept. 6 — (NEA). — The Korean War and the US determination to hem in any Soviet expansion may mean a railroad to Alaska.

Even before the war, such a plan had passed the dream stage. Last October President Truman signed legislation authorizing negotiations with the Canadian government for location of a railroad route across Canada to Alaska.

Specifically, the Bill calls for a survey for a railroad from Prince George, British Columbia, to Fairbanks, where it would connect with the Alaskan Railroad.

What would be the cost? Nobody has made a recent estimate. However, in 1942, when the Japs were crouched on some of the Afeutian Islands, the American Army Engineers made a quick survey and placed the cost at $200,000,000.

Most Direct

Military Supplies now go by steamer, by plane, or via the Alcan Highway, a relic of the last war. A railroad would be the most direct and could carry the largest cargoes the fastest.

British Columbians are certain that their Pacific Great Eastern, one of the most fabulous railroads on the North American continent, would be an important link in Uncle Sam's rail route to Fairbanks. At the present, the PGE, government-owned, is a railroad that begins nowhere and ends nowhere.

For 38 years, this 347-mile railroad has rambled through the rugged and little-developed lands of south-central British Columbia. But it did not connect with the outside world.

To reach its southern terminus at Squamish from Vancouver, for example, you have to take a three-and-a-half-hour steamer ride up Howe Sound. The northern terminus at Quesnel is 83 miles short of connecting with the Canadian National Railway at Prince George.

The British Columbian government is changing that now. Under way for more than a year is a $13,000,000 PGE extension program. It means connecting Quesnel and Prince George by rail. A fast 38-mile bus and truck highway will close the gap between Vancouver and Squamish.

A rail extension from Prince George north and to the west to Fairbanks would mean more than 1,000 miles of new track. But engineers say it would not encounter too many geographical difficulties. The road would follow what is known as the Rocky Mountain "trench," a valley-like stretch of land on west side of the Rockies. The weather's mild, too, to allow all-year passage.

PROPOSED ROUTE of railroad link to Alaska (Fairbanks to Prince George and Quesnel) is shown by light marking. Heavy railroad markings are existing routes.

Union Services End At Havelock

HAVELOCK, Sept. 6 (ENS). — Union services of Knox Presbyterian Church and Havelock United Church for the holiday season were terminated in the latter church on Sunday evening.

It was the occasion of the annual church parade of the Royal Black Preceptory of the Orange Lodge and the recently organized Crystal chapter of the L.O.B.A.

The Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh conducted the service and the Rev. R. D. Duncanson of Knox Church, concluding a series of sermons on the Lord's Prayer delivered a very impressive message on the latter part of that great petition, "For Thine is the Kingdom, the power and the glory, forever."

Mr. Duncanson referred to a radio announcement on the World Church News program regarding the work of Russian agents in the distribution of 20 million pamphlets and the use of films in an effort to abolish the idea of any spiritual life or any conception of God in the minds of the people under their domination. Once again, he said, "we see a nation rising up in defiance of Almighty God."

He made special reference to Pharaoh, contrasting his treatment of the children of Israel with the persecution suffered by nations during recent years and God's question to Moses "What is that in thine hand" when commissioning him to deliver Israel.

How many, Mr. Duncanson asked, are using what is in their hands today? We are called of God not to enjoy privileges but to render service because He needs earthen vessels to carry out His work. Despite the persecution all down through the ages, the plans of evil men, and devastating weapons, God's Kingdom of love and peace will overcome and we shall continue to pray "For Thine is the Kingdom."

Two anthems were sung by a joint choir with Mrs. R. Campney at the organ.

U.K. Displays 58 Planes, Reds Left Out

FARNBOROUGH, Eng., Sept. 6 (AP).—Britain Tuesday showed off 58 of her newest aircraft before foregin aviation experts. Representatives of Russia and other Communist countries were conspicuously absent.

It was a preview of the annual show of the British Society of Aircraft Constructors, which opens Wednesday for a five-day run at Farnborough Aircraft.

Thirty of the 58 new planes were shown for the first time.

Society spokesmen said they sent invitations for today's preview to diplomats and military and civil aviation leaders of more than 50 countries. But none went to Russia or her satellites "because of the international situation."

"The Communists can come if they wish," one spokesman said. "But only on the two public days of the show, and then only by buying tickets like anone else."

Not On List

This is the first time the Soviet group has not been included in the society's invitation list.

Developments in military aviation dominated the show this year.

Three new anti-submarine warplanes, two of them turbine powered, are on today's display list, along with a new model of Britain's Canberra jet-bomber, several new fighters, and a jet night-fighter just off the government's secret list.

Also displayed is a new rocket aircraft motor, whose performance and internal details still are on the secret list. Using hydrogen peroxide as fuel, it was designed at the Royal Aircraft Establishment as a power unit for experimental aircraft.

Finland Given Good Dose Of Controls

By THOMAS HARRIS

HELSINKI, Sept. 6 (Reuters)— Finland's agrarian government is giving the country a dose of "socialist" controls.

The government's twin objectives are to check inflation and to placate the unruly trade unions, which favor the Social Democrat party.

The government has introduced price controls for all important consumer goods—ranging from food and household equipment to clothes, bus fares and funerals. Prices were pegged at July 15 levels.

The measures were taken on the prompting of the trade unions. They told the cabinet that its policy of fewer controls was throwing Finland back into the old vicious circle where rising wages chased rising prices.

At the same time the delegation hinted it would be a good thing to widen the government by addition of Social Democrat ministers.

Inflation Dangers

Official statistics show the dangers of inflation.

Between June and July the cost-of-living index rose another 65 points to 936, nine times the pre-war level. Worse, the increases were for indispensable commodities like food, clothing, heating and lighting.

As wages now are pegged to the cost-of-living index, these rises meant all wage earners received an increase of five per cent in August.

Business men, too, are finding their goods more expensive. The wholesale price rose 17 points to 1.246, or 12 times the prewar level.

At the same time the savings banks report another symptom of inflation—deposits are decreasing again, either because people cannot afford to save, or because they are losing confidence in the currency.

MP's Reject Secret Defence Meet

Drew's Plan Lost By 156-64 Vote Opposition Unites

OTTAWA, Sept. 7—(CP)—The Commons voted 156 to 64 today against a Progressive Conservative suggestion for a secret session to discuss defence matters.

Liberals voted almost solidly against the secret session, with the C.C.F. and Social Credit parties joining with the Progressive Conservatives.

The vote developed upon the statement "I spy strangers," made by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader. This is the traditional form of demanding that the galleries be cleared of spectators.

Break Away

One Liberal—Jean Francois Pouliot (Temiscouata) — broke away from the otherwise solid government ranks to support the opposition groups. J. L. Gibson (ind.—Comox-Alberni), who sits among the Liberals and customarily votes with them, also broke away.

Also supporting the demand for a secret session were two other Independents — P. E. Gagnon (Chicoutimi) and Dr. Raoul Poulin (Beauce).

Mistakes Headline

After the vote Defence Minister Claxton rose and said the seriousness of Mr. Drew's proposal for a secret session could be gauged by one of the reasons he gave—a "mistaken headline in the Ottawa Journal."

That headline said "Canadian tank squadron for U.N." but was not borne out in the story. Mr. Claxton said he already had said the special Korean force would consist of three battalions of infantry, a battalion of artillery and a squadron of self-propelled guns. It was probably the latter reference which had been responsible for the story.

The record bore out that the government had given "fact after fact" of Canada's defence position. He had made no reference to security or secrecy in answering

2 U.S. Fighters Downed Plane

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP).—The United States Navy acknowledged today that two of its fighter planes shot down the Russian bomber off Korea Monday.

This was the first official word that American planes knocked off the twin-engined Soviet craft when, the U. S. charges, it attempted to attack United Nations naval forces.

At the time the incident was first reported the State Department said the bomber "opened fire upon a U.N. fighter patrol, which returned its fire and shot it down."

A navy spokesman identified the fighter planes as two navy Corsairs attached to task force 77, composed of carriers and supporting units.

Catch Up On Tax Work 3,000 To Be Released

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (CP)—The government's income tax division has caught up with its back-log of work and between 2,500 and 3,000 employees will be released by next spring, the civil service commission announced today. About 1,600 have been released within the last year.

About one-third of them are expected to be absorbed by other government departments. No provision has been made for the others.

The reductions in staff will take place across the country with Toronto and Montreal getting the biggest cuts—about 500 in each city. About 200 in Ottawa already have received notice.

Many will be taken into the defence department and related agencies, gradually expanding to meet new defence commitments.

Barefoot Corporal

DAYTON, O., Sept. 7 — (AP)—You've heard about soldiers so big that the Army can't fit them in clothes or shoes. Dayton's 423rd Engineer Construction Battalion may have a barefoot corporal. His feet are too small—they take a 4½ triple E shoe to be exact. Charles Arnold, 24, had been drilling in civilian clothes. But the Battalion is to go active soon and he needs combat boots. A desperate supply sergeant tried padding the Army's smallest boots with extra socks and sponge rubber without success. Arnold insists the Army managed to fit his tiny feet in the last war.

Secret Raids In Paris Net 208 Reds

PARIS, Sept. 7 (Reuters) — Counter-espionage agents in widespread secret raids today detained 208 alien Communists in what the interior ministry described as an effort to "destroy the fifth columns."

Main operations were carried out, and were believed still going on, in Paris, Lyons, Lille, Strasbourg, Mulhouse, Toulouse and Marseille.

About 100 were arrested in the Paris region alone.

Most of the people arrested were veterans of the Spanish Republican army.

Altogether 300 Communists were expected to be detained and expelled from the country in the biggest anti-Communist drive in France since 1939.

Going into action at dawn, 150 counter-espionage agents swept through the refugee districts of Paris and three hours later returned with the first arrests.

Among them were Yugoslavs, Poles, Czechs and Romanians.

Inter ministry reports said the counter-espionage raiders found radio transmitters and propaganda material.

The operation follows the discovery three months ago of an arms dump in Southeastern France and mysterious murders of Spanish refugees in the Toulouse area.

Anti-Tank Section For Korean Brigade

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 — (CP). — The Army said Wednesday formation of a squadron of self-propelled anti-tank guns for the special force has been launched at Camp Borden.

It will be a component part of the brigade slated to fight aggression in Korea or elsewhere. The unit will be earmarked as part of the armored corps and some of its officers will be drawn from the two permanent force armored units, the Lord Strathcona's Horse and the Royal Canadian Dragoons.

F. B. I. Ready To Arrest 12,000 Reds

Dangerous Elements Under Surveillance Hoover Tells Senate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 — (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was reported to have told Senators today his agents are ready to arrest 12,000 dangerous Communists in the United States if war should break out with Russia.

A member of the Senate Appropriations committee, asking not to be named, quoted Hoover as telling the group in a closed session that he needs more funds for additional agents to keep a close check on these persons.

He said Hoover wants his agents to be able "to put these people to bed at night and get them up in the morning" in watching their activities.

President Truman asked Congress last week for $6,000,000 to finance increased FBI activity due to "the changed international situation."

Need New Agents

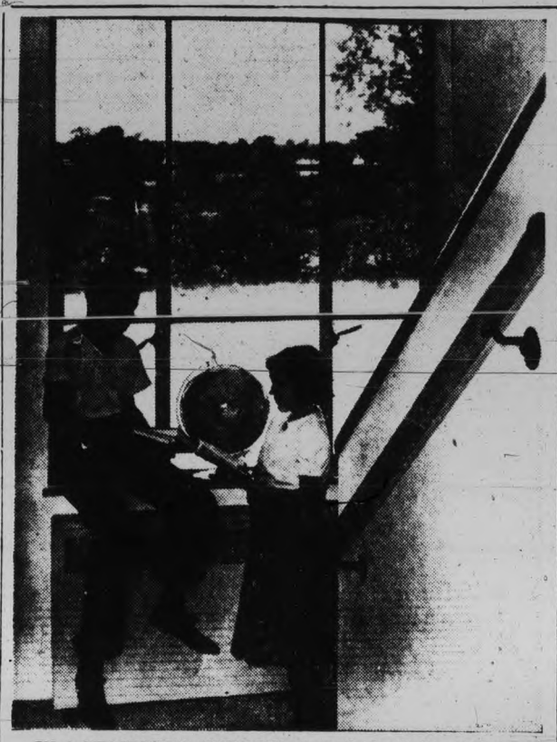
The FBI told reporters then that the money was needed to permit hiring of 835 new agents and 1,218 new clerical workers.

The Senate committee called Hoover before it to learn just what he proposed to do with the money.

Hoover was reported to have told the committee that a special problem is posed by the fact that half of the 12,000 dangerous Communists are American citizens, many of them native born.

He was quoted as saying it would be up to the Justice Department to decide whether these persons could be arrested immediately, as well as the aliens.



Senators said the 12,000 have been listed by the FBI as the most potentially "dangerous"—from a national security standpoint—of more than 50,000 known Communists on which the FBI has been keeping tabs.

Bandit Terrorized Staff Bank Accountant Testifies

SIMCOE, Sept. 7—(CP)—A bank accountant today described in detail how a bandit terrorized the staff and customers during a $23,000 holdup last June 21 as the double-murder trial of Joseph Herbert McAuliffe entered its second day. Henry W. Thompson of the Imperial Bank of Canada at nearby Langton identified the 32-year-old accused as the bandit who threatened him with death during the holdup.

McAuliffe of Windsor and formerly of North Bay, is charged with the machine-gun slaying of two Norfolk County tobacco farmers, Arthur Lierman and William Goddyn. They gave chase as the bandit fled with his loot from the bank.

Mr. Thompson, the Crown's ninth witness, said he and other members of the staff were ordered at gun point to line up facing a wall. Customers were ordered to jump over the counter and join the staff.

Ordered To Fill Bags

The witness said that Frank Hall, one of the customers, was ordered into the teller's cage and instructed to fill paper bags with money.

"He threatened me," said the accountant. He quoted the bandit as saying, 'Now listen, chum, I'll be back to Langton and I'll kill you because I don't intend to get caught."

The witness said he and Mrs. Lavonia Leedham, bank teller were forced to open the vault and load a bag with money, including silver.

He said he was within three feet of the bandit, "face to face." He described the gunman's voice as "low" and his complexion as "sallow."

The witness also identified a dark blue, pin-stripe suit coat, a soiled blue shirt, sun-helmet and sun-glasses entered as exhibits Wednesday as "about the same" as those worn by the bandit.

Unions Revolt Against Attlee

BRIGHTON, England, Sept. 7—(AP)—The Trades Union Congress, in a revolt against the Labor government, voted today to abandon its policy of restraint in pressing for wage increases.

The government has campaigned for restraint—which has amounted almost to a wage freeze—with the TUC's reluctant cooperation since the British economic crisis boiled up soon after the war. It argued that restraint was essential to prevent disastrous inflation.

The TUC, ctnral body of labor unions, with a membership totalling 8,000,000, kicked over the traces at its annual meeting this afternoon. Rejecting the advice of its own general council, it voted 3,949,000 to 3,727,000 to abandon restraint and urge the government to limit employers' profits by law.

A general council statement supporting the restraint was rejected by 3,838,00 to 3,521,000. each delegate casts as many votes as there are members in his union.

U.N. Troops Roll Back Red Attack

Say Red Casualties Reach 20,000, In Week's Fighting

TOKYO, Sept. 7—(AP)—Fresh Communist attacks north of Taegu were rolled back by United Nations troops today. The western forces were braced for a major Communist blow at the important base city in the centre of the front.

Most of the 84 Russian-made tanks the North Koreans threw into battle Wednesday were destroyed or damaged.

Allied aircraft were credited with destroying 19 enemy tanks and damaging 22 more in a record 625 sorties. Seventeen other had been knocked out Wednesday.

Two Red thrusts against Taegu were stopped. One lunge was halted seven miles north of the rail and supply centre along the Kumhwa highway by United States troops. The other was forced back east of Yongchon, road junction 20 miles east of Taegu.

Communist commanders recklessly rushed great truck columns carrying men and supplies toward this major point.

In the southwest, an attack on the approach to Pusan, prime allied harbor in the southeast, was beaten back.

Naktong Advance

Advances were made by American troops toward the Naktong river in their central front offensive west of Yongsan, 32 miles south of Taegu.

The tense challenge of the last two days, when the Reds poured through the broken allied east wall, was eased at least momentarily.

A spokesman for Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said the allies were holding firm on all fronts.

Red casualties were said to have reached 20,000 men killed and wounded during the last week's ground fighting. This was out of a total of 150,000 Reds who took part in the all-out drive.

In Red Hands

Pohang, the blasted and burned second most important east coast port, remained in Communist hands. But the allied airfield, six miles southeast of the city, was under American control.

At dawn Thursday the North Korean southwestern force hopped off in an attack on the U.S. 25th division west of Masan, port city 27 miles west of Pusan on the south coast.

The attack was preceded by an intense artillery bombardment, the most severe the oft-tried American division has undergone.

Stan Swinton, Associated Press Correspondent at the front, said one slight penetration was made but that the American lines generally held fast.

U.S. troops, pushing westward of Yongsan, won Hogback Ridge and its commanding flat ground leading to the Naktong River after bitter hand-to-hand fighting.

Fight Off Attacks

British infantrymen of the 27th Brigade fought off probing attacks and infiltrators farther north

No Decision Reached

OTTAWA, Sept. 7—(CP)—No decision has been reached by Cabinet on an appeal by seven Provincial governments against the latest series of freight-rate increases, Transport Minister Chevrier told the Commons today. He was answering a question put by John Diefenbaker (PC - Lake Centre).

Hope To Clarify Details On Civil Defence

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (CP). — Maj. F. F. Worthington hopes next week to end some of the confusion that now exists in civil defence planning by distribution to the provinces of an organizational manual, detailing how the country should organize itself to meet the threat of atomic or other kings of war.

Broadly speaking, the federal civil defence co-ordinator said in an interview Wednesday, the organizational strategy is for the federal government to offer guidance to the provinces. The provinces in turn would have the responsibility of co-ordinating and guiding the efforts of each of the municipalities within their boundaries.

Gen. Worthington made this clear in the light of conflicting views by various municipalities, some charging that the federal government and others charging provincial governments with responsibility for directing civil defence programs in the cities and towns of Canada.

Great Confusion

In Sudbury, city council said Tuesday night that civil defence was primarily a federal responsibility. A similar stand was taken in Windsor. In Ottawa, Mayor E. A. Bourque said he was waiting for direction from the Ontario government. In Toronto, Mayor Hiram McCallum said he would not wait for federal direction Toronto was setting up a civil defence plan on its own hook. So was Winnipeg.

Gen. Worthington said the general organizational policy was formulated at a federal-provincial civil defence conference held here Aug. 24.

"We will deal with the provinces and the provinces will have the responsibility of guiding the efforts of the municipalities," Gen. Worthington said.

From other quarters it was learned that some of the provinces already have indicated they will proceed on these lines and plan to call conferences of municipalities to push provincial planning.

Public Information

Meanwhile the federal authorities were pressing ahead with their own plans to make available to the public the latest information of how to cope with incendiary attack, radiation from atomic bombing, and the reception of casualties and refugees

Gen. Worthington said his own staff of three or four officials will be expanded as quickly as he can train the necessary manpower. One officer now was in England taking civil defence

Say Bigger Payments To Be Asked

Cars, Refrigerators Other Goods On Abbott's List

OTTAWA, Sept. 7—(CP)—Canadians will have to shell out bigger down payments on instalment purchases of such items as passenger cars, refrigerators, electric stoves and other consumer goods as a result of government legislation to be introduced during the current session of parliament.

Notice of the government's proposal to bring down legislation affecting the regulation of consumer credit was given today by Finance Minister Abbott on the Commons order paper.

A government source later disclosed that the government does not intend to increase the down payments required on the construction of new homes or the purchase of new trucks or farm machinery.

The government's edict will mainly be directed at items which Canadians can obtain in department stores, but will include passenger cars. Main purpose of the regulations will be to fight inflationary trends in consumer prices.

The source said the consumer-credit control program will be similar to the one carried out during the Second World War but will not be so tough on the purchaser's pocketbook. Details of the government's program still have to be worked out.

During the last war, the government ordered that purchasers on the instalment plan provide a down payment of one-third. On purchases of less than $500, the time limit of payment was 12 months. On more than $500, it was 15 months.

Russia Tries Exclude Chang

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 7 (AP) —Russia made another unsuccessful effort today to exclude South Korea's ambassador, John M. Chang, from United Nations discussions on Korea.

The Soviet move was made by Jakob A. Malik, Russian delegate, immediately after the Security Council met this morning to take up a Soviet resolution seeking to end what Russia call "inhuman and barbarous" bombing attacks on North Korea.

Malik said this resolution did not concern Chang in any way, since the "Syngman Rhee clique" and "Gen. Douglas MacArthur are not victims of the bombing but aggressors and "have no place here"

Council president Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Britain ruled that the council had already decided that Chang had a right to take part in the Korean discussions. Malik did not make a formal challenge.

Couple Find A Spot Where Wal Unknown

TORONTO, Sept. 7 —(CP)—A United States anthropologist, his wife and two children stopped off here on their way to New York after spending a summer with two races who don't know the meaning of the word war.

Dr. John F. Honigmann, a professor at New York University, and his family have been living at an Eskimo and Indian village at Great Whale River on Hudson Bay in a "perfect laboratory of race relations."

Dr. Honigmann said the Indians and Eskimos forgot their traditional rivalry years ago and now live side by side in the greatest friendship and understanding. It is almost impossible to make them understand the meaning of war, he said.

It's hard even to find a word for it. You say 'great big fight' and about the only thing they can think of is the worst brawl they've seen along the Ontario Northland Railway"

Must Curb Reconstruction Or Fight Grave Inflation

PARIS, Sept. 7 (AP).—Directors of the International Monetary Fund warned western Europe today that it faces dangerous inflation unless reconstruction spending is reduced.

The international money experts also said that continued wage increases will push export prices up to a point where vital North American markets will be lost.

The statements were contained in a 160-page report made public at the current meeting of the board of governors. The governors, representing 49 member countries, rule both the fund and the international bank for reconstruction and development.

The directors voiced a viewpoint directly opposed to that of strong left-wing parties—both Communist and non-Communist—in West Europe.

Those parties maintain wages must be raised to meet increased living costs, and tremendous reconstruction jobs still must be done. By contrast, the fund directors said the danger of inflation would persist "as long as government expenditure and private investment continue on the present scale."

Continued rises in defence expenditures, the report continued, increase the difficulty of cutting government spending.

Last year's devaluation of European currencies, the fund experts said, had been an important aid toward helping Europe pay for its imports from North America. Devaluation cut the price of European goods and made them more attractive to the American market.

But wage increases would make export prices creep up, the report declared, "and if this attitude is carried to the extreme where every rise in prices must be compensated by a corresponding rise in incomes, the effect of devaluation in reducing dollar export prices must be completely lost."

Communists Prepare To Hurl In Reserves

TOKYO, Sept. 7—(Reuters)—American intelligence reports today indicated that the Communists have not yet committed all their troops in their offensive against the 120-mile-long United National defence line in Korea.

North Korean reserves were estimated at two divisions by staff officers at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters today.

Reports of large-scale truck convoys running the gauntlet of Allied air attacks support the belief that the northern offensive will continue on an even bigger scale.

Intelligence reports also indicate that the Communists are getting ammunition to their front-line troops by a relay system of Korean villagers. Each village was responsible for getting ammunition through to the next village and so on until it reached the front. The movement could not be detected by air observers.

Truman Eats Words To Marines

US President Apologizes For Criticism

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Truman made an unheralded visit to the Marine Corps League's meeting today and expressed hope there will never be "another misunderstanding" between him and the Marines.

It was a personal and emphatic follow up to his apology of Wednesday for his earlier "unfortunate" words about the fighting corps.

The league gave him a standing ovation and applauded furiously when he said: "When I make a mistake, I try to correct it."

Truman had apologized in a letter yesterday.

One immediate result was an ebbing away today of some of the fury over President Truman's description of the Marines as simply a naval police force with a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

That was the way he had sized up the leathernecks in a letter to Representative Gordon McDonough (Rep.-Calif.) that came to light Tuesday. His words blew up a gale of counter-criticism.

The President was worried. Late Wednesday he called Marine Commandant Clifton B. Cates to the White House and personally handed over a letter that began:

"I sincerely regret the unfortunate choice of language which, I used in my letter . . ."

Sets Precedent

Washington old-timers could remember no comparable language from the White House.

Even so, Republicans are sure to see to it that the country hears more about the Truman slip during this year's election campaign.

On Capitol Hill, the incident is cited as proof that the president is (a) a big man or (b) a careless bungler—depending on whether it is a Democratic or a Republican viewpoint.

Gen. Cates walked from the White House with a wide grin, and a word to reporters that the Marines were "very gratified to receive this letter."

Truman rushed a copy to Clay Nixon, national commandant of the Marine Corps League, suggesting that it be read at the national convention of that organization of marine veterans, Nixon complied.

The convention opened Wednesday wtih many a delegate demanding a presidential apology. Some wanted Truman thrown out of the league—he is a member as commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

But it closed the day with a yelling, rising vote of approval for Nixon's statement that the Truman slap at the marines now is "a closed incident."

Livestock Production Boost With Good Feed Crop Predicted By Gardiner

Believes Farmer In Good Position With Highest Returns Ever, Urges Livestock Increased Even Higher

TORONTO, Sept. 7—An increase in livestock production, particularly in hogs was predicted Wednesday by Agriculture Minister Gardiner at the directors' luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition. After his address on Agricultural and Livestock Day at the CNE, Mr. Gardiner joined some of the country's leading farmers in viewing a parade of champion livestock in the Coliseum. The parade featured the best horses, and the best in beef cattle breeds shown at the Ex., and showed off an estimated $1,000,000 worth of blue-blooded livestock.

In his address, Mr. Gardiner noted that there had been a good crop all across Canada, and that feed was available everywhere. The western crop had been particularly good, but frost had hit before the harvest and this was likely to result in large quantities of grain being converted into feed

Lots of Feed

"It may reduce the quantity of oats and barley, but it will convert much of the wheat into feed and this is the best hog feed in the world," he said. "In the west there have been 14 degrees of frost and the best wheat that has been delivered so far is grade four. That seems to mean that we're going to raise more livestock whether we like it or not."

The farmer today was in a good position, he felt, with returns the highest they had ever been. Grain prices had been nigh after the First World War, but livestock prices were lower at that time. The highest supplies of feed since 1945 were now on hand, and breeding stock was above the long-time average. There were no excessive surpluses.

"We should produce more livestock and livestock products in 1951 than in any year in our history excepting two years during the war," the agriculture minister said. "Farmers depend for their continued prosperity upon that higher production being realized."

It required greater ability, ingenuity and study than any other trade or profession to bring success in the breeding, feeding and marketing of livestock, he said.

Layng Suspect, Two Others Try Suicide

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 7 (AP).—Sheriff's officers said on Wednesday that three county jail prisoners who slashed their wrists apparently in a concerted suicide attempt included a man wanted in Toronto on a murder charge.

Chief jailer Charles Fitzgerald said that one is booked as Frank P. Miller, 23, but is known in Canada as Stanley Buckoski. Fitzgerald said a warrant has been received from Toronto for Miller of Buckoski in the slaying of Alfred Layng, a bystander at a robbery, in Toronto, July 30, 1949.

All are recovering.

Sheriff's officers said Buckoski and two fellow inmates slashed their wrists with razor blades in a play for public sympathy. The prisoners claimed it was to protest against living conditions in the jail.

Chief Jailer Fitzgerald identified the others as Homer Fletcher Neal, 27, Leo P. Carrico, 18. Neal faces an escape charge. Carrico is held on suspicion of grand theft.

"I've been starved for 28 days and kept in The Hole at the county jail," Neal protested. Chief Jailer Fitzgerald said Neal's food was the same as that given to other prisoners.

Previously Neal and Buckoski escaped from the prison ward of the county hospital, but were soon recaptured. Buckoski got free by knotting bed sheets together and descending the side of the hospital.

Buckoski is booked on suspicion of murder here on the Feb. 1 slaying of Mrs. Helen Edmunds, 78, in her home. He also faces burglary and robbery charges. These cases will be disposed of, authorities said, before his removal to Canada is considered.

Rejects Secret Meet

questions "as fully and frankly as is possible to be done." But the opposition chose to ignore these facts then accuse the government of not telling them anything

Mr. Drew said it was difficult to "use the right language" to describe the charge about the seriousness of the opposition desire for a secret session. That statement by the minister was "the very sort of thing" that made a secret session desirable.

Old Procedure

In his move to obtain the vote, Mr. Drew made use of a procedure which dates back to the days of Charles I of England. He said simply that "I spy strangers."

Under house rules that statement requires that a vote be taken to see whether the members feel that the strangers should be ordered to withdraw.

The commons was in committee of the whole house when he first announced that he spotted strangers. Prime Minister St. Laurent said that as a recorded vote could not be taken in committee, possibly the Speaker could be recalled so there could be a formal, roll-call division. Mr. Drew agreed to the suggestion.

First Time Used

Veteran parliamentarians believed that it was the first time the procedure had been used in the Canadian House to obtain a secret session. There were secret sessions during the Second World War, but they were held on motions of the government.

In the days of Charles I the galleries were cleared of strangers when parliamentarians complained that the representatives of the king were interfering with their work. Some historians say the king's representatives often sat in the galleries and motioned with a finger across throat to whoever had the floor. This threat of beheading effectively closed off opposition to the king.

Mr. Drew said his motion was not aimed at the people in the galleries, even if they included some who might be trying to distribute Communist propaganda. At the time he spoke, a Canadian peace congress delegation was attempting to gain admission to the building to see the members.

The age-old procedure, he said was the only one he could find in the rule book that would permit a vote on his suggestion for a secret session.

Before seeking a vote Mr. Drew warned again of the Communist menace to Canada and reiterated demands for a tightening of the law to "deal not with the dupes but with these traitors."

Heavy Propaganda

Canadians, he said, were being subjected to a steady stream of Communist propaganda in various publications. He mentioned a publication called "The Protestant" which listed a number of ministers among its associate editors. Among them was Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red Dean" of Canterbury.

Mr. Drew also charged Defence Minister Claxton with "evasion" in supplying details of defence.

He mentioned a report that a Canadian tank unit was being prepared at Camp Borden for service in Korea. He said the minister had indicated that there was no foundation for the report, but Mr. Drew said he believed there was foundation for it.

Roll Back Attack

along the Naktong in their second day of combat.

AP Correspondent Ben Price reported from the front that South Korean forces were driving eastward of Yongchon, the traffic centre near Taegu that Red guerrillas held briefly Wednesday.

The road junction was the goal of Red forces plunging through a gap in the lines south of Kigye, near the east coast. American and South Korean troops halted the most serious Taegu threat in that action.

One of McArthur's intelligence officers said a captured North Korean lieutenant reported a full division was thrown into this thrust when it was learned Yongchon was defended lightly.

The prisoner said the North Korean 15th Division first was ordered to roll down the Kumhwa highway against Taegu. Then, the prisoner said, it was diverted to the end run from the east and ordered to cut through Yongchon.

MacArthur's spokesman in Tokyo said that after the Yongchon drive was halted South Korean forces were pulled down from the north to strengthen the eastern approaches to Yongchon.

Drive 5 Miles

Correspondent Price reported elements of the US 24th Division drove 5 miles north of Kyongju, another important road junction 18 miles south-west of Pohang. A Red column Wednesday reached the outskirts of Kyongju before it was halted.

Counter-attacking South Koreans also hit Red forces northwest of Kongju near Red-held Angang, 8 miles west of Pohang.

The significance of these small towns is their control of major highways. Red forces have cut the Pohang-Yongchon road, but supplies still are moving along the Kyongju-Yongchon route.

Correspondent Price said the ultimate Allied goal was to reestablish a strong line anchored on the Sea of Japan near Pohang.

Thursday's gains were made after the Reds had forced back some defensive units Wednesday in the Angang sector.

MacArthur's spokesman said the US 1st Cavalry Division was holding new lines tightly north of Taegu. Red attacks were beaten off there during the night.

Orderly Withdrawal

AP Correspondent Jack MacBeth, with the Cavalrymen, said the Americans made an orderly withdrawal Wednesday north of Taegu despite the milling of 20,000 bewildered and frightened Korean refugees.

The weary troops were dug into new positions in a pyramid anchored in the centre at a point a mile from Tabu, north of Taegu. The left side of the line runs to the Naktong River with the British troops on the flank.

The right side of the Taegu defence line stops within two miles of Red-held Waegwan.

Foxholes were dug in Taegu by residents and defenders of that largest south-eastern Korea city still in Allied hands.

Boiling battles continued in the rear of the American Division. One US regiment cornered and annihilated an enemy battalion estimated at 450 men. The same American outfit on Wednesday wiped out 1,000 Reds.

training and others would be dispatched at later dates.

He also was proceeding with plans for the establishment of a special school on atomic warfare, probably at Meaford, to be made available to all of Canada. It will have a series of courses for doctors and others, to build up a core of leadership on which local organizations can build.

Signs Of Recovery Appear On Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 7 — (CP).—Signs of recovery appeared on the Toronto Stock Exchange today following Wednesday's severe drop. All groups had mild support as key stocks crept ahead fractionally.

Industrials, which were thrown for the greatest loss, pushed ahead cautiously. Utilities and refining oils broke about even in gains and losses while steels, papers, agriculture, manufacturing and constructions still showed a majority of minus signs.

Golds, which were the most stable group in yesterday's drop, pushed ahead for gains of five cents. Seniors were still weak, but Chemical Research, Bagamac, and East Malartic eased forward on the secondary board.

Base metals brightened slowly. Quemont, Steep Rock, Waite Amulet, and Falconbridge chalked up advances.

Western oils began to climb in mid-session. Gains ranged up to 15 cents. British-Dominion, Pacific Pete., Del Rio and Calvin were among those which gained.

Fears Attack On Canada MP Worried

Picture Devastation In New War, Wants Civil Defence

OTTAWA, Sept. 7—(CP)—The frightening picture of a Canada brought under devastating atomic attack, her peoples maimed and driven into inadequate shelter, was placed before the Commons Wednesday night by an eminent medical doctor.

It came from Dr. W. G. Blair (PC—Lanark) as he urged the government to move swiftly in the formation of a civil defence program to meet the possibilities of a Third World War—high explosive and atomic bombing and germ and gas warfare.

That program, he suggested, should include the setting up of life-saving blood banks and depots of medical and surgical supplies, the training of first-aid crews to succor the wounded and plans to evacuate cities shattered by enemy bombing.

Dr. Blair injected the down-to-earth phase of a possible war-stricken Canada into a defence debate which had grown heavy with continued opposition charges that the government had failed to bring this country to an adequate state of preparedness and was failing to give information.

Wins Support

He was joined in the call for civil defence preparedness by Owen Jones (CCF—Yale) and Lt.-Col. Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East), both of whom agreed with him that it was time the government got moving in that field.

In reply, Defence Minister Claxton said the federal government already has discussed the matter with the provinces most concerned with the problem. However, if war came, the federal government would take responsibility for planning and organization "at a higher level." Meantime, there were plans for co-operation in civil defence with the United States.

The side debate developed on continued study of the government's $850,000,000 defence appropriation bill, still bogged down in its preliminary resolution stage.

Make Statement Soon

The defence debate proper rambled over a broad field and External Affairs Minister Pearson, stepping into it briefly, said the nature and scope of Canada's military obligations both under the United Nations charter and the Atlantic Pact will be known shortly. At the moment, they are political.

He said this country hopes to see her own example of forming a special army brigade for U.N. service followed by other U.N. members to give that body its first military strength in the world-wide fight against aggression.

Both he and Trade Minister Howe, who also joined the debate briefly, made it clear that Canada's activities in wartime would include the dispatch overseas of both men and materials.

Attack Unlikely

Mr. Claxton said a major amphibious attack on this country is considered highly unlikely at this stage. The time is not yet believed here to bring the army's regular airborne brigade together for the one or two months' training needed to fit it to fight as a formation.

Meantime, he said the raising of the special force will give the army roughly the equivalent of three-quarters of a division of 20,000 men in actual but separate fighting units.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (PC—Nanaimo) charged that Canada has not a single land fighting force ready for action at a moment's notice, while George Hees (PC—Toronto Broadview) attacked the government for planning to have another period of six to eight months to build up once war strikes.

E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops) asked for legislation to enable the government to raise fighting forces without delay if needed. He did not specify conscription directly, but asked for an act that would distribute the manpower burden fairly.

Julian Ferguson (PC—Simcoe North) said the government has given the House no more information about the Korean situation and the state defences than they could obtain from the newspapers.

Notable Cobourg Judgment Goes Against British-Israel

COBOURG, Sept. 7—Judgment in an interesting court action was handed down yesterday by County Judge M. A. Miller in connection with the damage action brought by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown of Cobourg against Frank Stover and the Fish and Game Club of Cobourg and the British Israel World Federation (Canada). Plaintiffs sued for $1,000 and judgment for $925.00 was allowed as against the British Israel, with costs. The action as against the other two defendants was dismissed with costs.

J. C. M. German appeared for plaintiffs; J. C. McCorkindale for British-Israel; A. R. Willmott for Stover and Harry Deyman for the Fish and Game Club.

The action was the result of an accident which occurred on December 1, 1948. Plaintiffs attended a meeting in the fish and game rooms, which are owned by Frank Stover and are used by the club, at which the speaker was the field secretary of the British Israel World Federation. On the way down the stairs after the meeting, a tread gave way under Mrs. Arthur Brown and she injured her leg.

The status of Mr. Stover as owner of the fish and game club as occupiers of the rooms at no cost and the use of the rooms for the British Israel meeting, raised the question of the degree of liability attached to owner, occupier, licensee and invitor and a number of cases were quoted to establish the extent of the liability. The involved nature of the case aroused a great deal of interest in legal circles and will likely invoke a considerable amount of outside legal interest.

"On December 1, 1948, the plaintiffs attended a meeting addressed by a speaker of the British Israel movement in a room occupied by the Northumberland Fish and Game Club. The plaintiff, Mrs. Brown was injured when one of the steps gave way. In 1946, Mr. Stover allowed the Northumberland Fish and Game Club the use of the rooms, charging no rental and in 1947 the club gave $50 to Mr. Stover, not as rent but as a gift of appreciation. The fish and game club at times let other organizations use the room and at no rental. The Pentecostal group gave the club $5.00 which they in turn donated to the recreational centre. Mr. Stover didn't object to the club allowing others to use it and said it was all right so long as it didn't become a commercial enterprise," the judgment read.

"Prior to December 1, 1948, Mr. Austen (Cobourg) asked the Fish and Game Club for use of the room for a British Israel meeting, which was granted. There was no arrangement to pay, but Mr. Austen gave an officer of the Fish and Game Club the sum of two dollars for which a receipt was given and marked as a donation. Mr. Austen advertised the meeting and paid for the advertisement.

"The British Israel has no organized branch in Cobourg, but Mr. J. G. Sproule, the field secretary, said this type of meeting was arranged through him with the consent of headquarters. The corporation directly made no arrangements for the meeting or for the advertising, but the local interested people took advantage of his suggestion, and he said that they had express or implied authority to advertise the meeting under the name of the British Israel."

"Mr. Sproule presided and addressed the meeting, and the collection of $7.35 went to him. A tread pulled out of the notches in the stringer due to one stringer being warped. The wood in both tread and stringers appeared to have been sound. I am of the opinion and find that an examination of the stairs, either from above or beneath, directed to ascertaining whether they were safe, would have disclosed that the stringer had spread and that the stairs were dangerous.

"I also find that the defect was not such that one using the stairs in an ordinary way would see that there was anything wrong with them . . . plaintiffs were not trespassers nor were they invitees of Stover or the Fish and Game Club. The duty of an occupier to warn a licensee of concealed danger is limited to concealed danger actually known to the occupier.

"The corporation was a party to the meeting and to the invitation and must be charged with such responsibility as it entails and was the invitor and the plaintiffs were invitees. While the purpose of the meeting was to spread the doctrines of the movement, there was the secondary consideration that the greater the attendance the larger would be the collection. Therefore they had a pecuniary or material interest in the attendance of the Brown's. I find that the British Israel was in sufficient occupation and control of the premises, including the stairway, to have the legal right to invite the plaintiffs thereon, and that upon it was imposed a corresponding duty to the plaintiff to take reasonable care that the premises were safe or to warn them of any danger.

Society Begins Fall Term

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 7 — (ENS)—St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society opened its meetings for the fall term on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 5th. Mrs. Wesley Stephens presided and the correspondence, read by the secretary, Mrs. P. B. Nelson, dealt largely with the disposition of the legacies. Mrs. F. Adamson, treasurer, reported on monies spent during the summer months. A total of 39 calls were reported by the members.

The Home Helpers will prepare the program for October. October 29th was reserved for a missionary night, during which a film showing work among the Bhils of India will be shown. Plans for a cooking sale on the afternoon of October 21st were also discussed. The resignation of Mrs. J. R. Battisby as Welcome and Welfare secretary was accepted and a successor will be named later.

A brief program was presented, the features of which were the topic from the study book, "Canadians Enter Japan," given by Mrs. R. N. McCulloch, and the life story of Dr. McDonald told by Mrs. Hazel Storie. Dr. McDonald had devoted her life to missionary work among the Japanese.

Wrote His Play In P.O.W. Camp

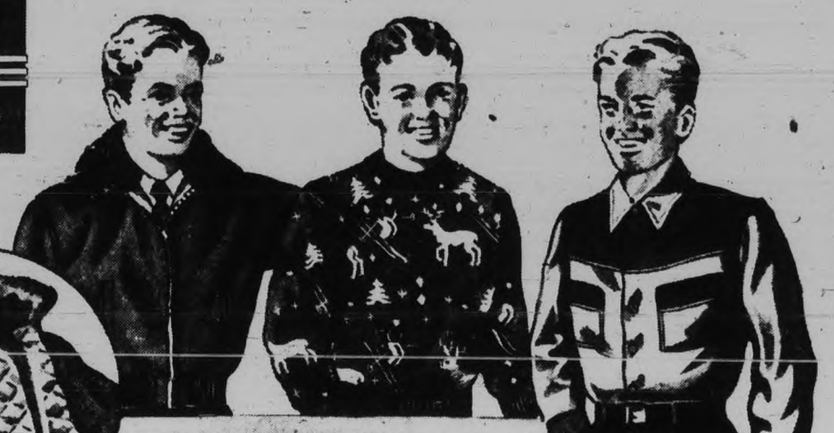
LONDON (CP). — Londoners have been given a new play, "Sayonara," appearing at the New Lindsey Theatre, which its author Ken Attiwill admits was written "under somewhat trying circumstances.

At the close of the opening performance, he gave members of the cast some of the details. The play, he said, had been written in secret during 3½ years he was held a prisoner-of-war in Japan.

"I had three difficulties to overcome," he said. What to write the play on — as paper was almost unobtainable; how to write it without being detected by the Japanese guards; where to hide the script."



Attiwill found a solution for each problem. The play was written on the back of soup can labels. All the work was done at night by the light of the moon. The script was hidden inside a model yacht he carved with a razor blade from a piece of teak wood.

EYE TOPICS

THOMAS YOUNG
Master of Mathematics and Optics.

Today, thanks to optical science, we have at our command a wealth of knowledge and experience by which we can accurately detect such defects and provide appropriate lenses — we call them eyeglasses — to remedy nature's shortcomings.

We make greater demands on our eyes than our forebears of those pioneers who themselves, working with eye and hand, first discovered the nature and causes of defective vision.

Among the greatest of these pioneers was Thomas Young, an English physician. He was not only a physician, he was a philosopher, archeologist, linguist, and [illegible]. He wrote on the cause of tides, magnetism, acoustics and optics.

And he was the first to determine accurately the cause of astigmatism in the human eye. It was soon learned that astigmatism of the eye could be neutralized by means of cylindrical lenses. Today no one need suffer from astigmatism, for glasses can be provided to correct it.

Our eyes could be described as miniature cameras. We call upon them to give us vision—to photograph, as it were, the objects of our attention. These eye cameras of ours possess lenses, living lenses. If it is important for a photographer to have a good lens for his camera, how much more important is it for each of us to have good eyesight to carry on the daily business of living.

Responsibilities Of Labour

We do not intend to go on much longer commenting on various aspects of the recent railway strike, but the strike was so full of food for reflection that we must say one word more about it. In the first place, we question whether the strike was really necessary. When labour was weak, and could only draw attention to its desires by violent means, the strike had its place. But those days are gone, and it is high time that the strike, as an instrument of policy, was abandoned. The strike, in our day, is a weak argument, savouring strongly of blackmail. And talk about "the right to strike" is as foolish as talk about the right to hit another man on the nose. In a jungle society physical force may settle arguments, but we have laws which do it much better; and so in the labour sphere we have means of arbitration which are far better than strikes. A strike loses money for everyone and creates bad feeling. In the case of the railway strike, it was principally a strike against the people of Canada, hoping to enlist their support against the railway managements. Although the people of Canada were annoyed, they were not aroused to take sides. They were being blackmailed, and they resented it.

• • •

The strike is an old-fashioned and ineffective means of settling disputes. Proof of this was offered when there was some wild talk of a general strike. The suggestion was coldly received by Canadian labour as a whole. A general strike, tying up all the vital services of the country, is of advantage to nobody. It could bring nothing but lost wages, and deep resentment against labour. What our country needs is less talk about "the right to strike," and a system of labour legislation and labour courts which can take care of any dispute without disorganization of service. The strike is as old-fashioned and inconclusive as the old-style Kentucky mountain feud.

• • •

During discussions of the strike, the word "compulsion" was freely used by the representatives of labour. They would, they insisted, resist anything which suggested compulsion, and they begged the Prime Minister not to sully his record by resort to compulsory methods of restoring order. This was fine talk, but it impressed nobody, for it is perfectly plain that nothing which exists in Canada is more strongly compulsory than membership in a trade union for a man who wants a job in certain trades. He simply cannot work at his trade unless he has a union card, or is content to accept whatever bargains the union makes for him. In dealing with the worker, the union holds all the high cards, and can exercise a degree of compulsion which a government might envy.

• • •

Much is said nowadays about the responsibilities of labour, and most of it is true. Labour now occupies a position of great power, and sometimes it uses that power in an arbitrary and thoughtless manner. But the day has long since passed when all the workers had to lose was their chains; nowadays if they strike needlessly they stand to lose their watch-chains, their cars, their electric refrigerators, their pleasant homes and their bank balances. For labour has a big stake in the country, and should be concerned about the national welfare.

Illustrated London News, 1843. Rescue Apparatus

After the Reliance and the Conqueror Indiamen were wrecked off the coast of Boulogne in 1843, The Illustrated London News clucked a reproachful and sorrowful tongue over the absence of any life-saving facilities in France. The journal felt that many more lives might have been saved in the two wrecks had it not been for this "improvidence of the French people", and went on to describe, perhaps a bit smugly, the practical measures taken by the British to rescue persons in danger of drowning. Four of these measures were shown in sketches.

The first illustration showed Captain Manby's "celebrated mortar line", which shot a line aboard a ship in distress; it was modified by a Mr. Dennett, of the Isle of Wight, who preferred a rocket, but the mortar was said to be the most generally used. The second engraving exhibited a cliff crane invented by J. Johnston, Esq., of Brighton; it was a basket-like gadget designed for picking persons off beaches accessible only by sea and hoisting them to the clifftop. A third engraving showed two globes of cork joined by a shaft, to which a line was attached. In using it, "the person is desired to lash himself . . . securely to the bar, and then commit himself to the course of the waves to be cast ashore."

The fourth engraving depicted Prince Albert's life-ladder, presented to him by the Royal Humane Society for use at the Royal skating parties on Virginia Water. Judging from the illustration, it was a most practical bit of apparatus, but we regret we were unable to find any report of its use. The winter of 1843 was so mild that instead of the ladder taking "its monitory stand in sight of her Majesty's sliding chair, it has continued to enjoy an honourable sinecure beside the throne of the Waterloo Gallery". It would be interesting to learn if Prince Albert's ladder ever was employed to rescue some hapless Court personage who had broken through the ice.

Is Seasickness A State of Mind?

The St. Thomas Times-Journal, in a fit of editorial optimism, declares that seasickness is a state of mind. People who suffer from it could, if they would brace up, avoid the discomfort which afflicts them. After devoting a fair amount of space to an exposition of this theory, the St. Thomas paper concludes with this advice: "If you are going to sea, however, and fear that you are afflicted with a weak stomach, don't look down from the deck at the foamy water rushing by; look out toward the horizon". Those lines, we will bet a dollar, were written by a man who has never deserted the level plains of Western Ontario.

When we write of seasickness, we write of what we know. We have crossed the ocean many times, and we have experienced that miserable ailment in every form, from slight queasiness to utter and hideous indifference to the fate of our ship. We have taken pills for it, and we have tried to chase it away by taking the firmly cheerful view recommended by our St. Thomas contemporary. Nothing avails against it. When the ship rolls and heaves, there is nothing for the afflicted party to do but roll and heave as well, and pray that his ship will reach a calmer stretch of water.

As for looking at the horizon—that is fatal. When the sea is calm the horizon heaves and disappears very slowly, which is disquieting but not unendurable. But when the sea is rough, the horizon twists, lurches and seems, at times, to have broken loose from its moorings; to look at it is to know the deepest despair of which man is capable.

There is an English sailors' proverb which says all that can be said on this subject: "The only cure for seasickness, is to sit on the shady side of an old brick church in the country".

Giving The Bride Away

If you want to get your name in the papers, you may easily do so by flouting some old custom about which people have ceased to think. The minister of the Free Christian Church in Doncaster, England, achieved some notoriety recently by declaring that he would not permit brides to be "given away" at marriages in his church. Women, said he, were not cattle, to be disposed of in that fashion. We see what he means, though we feel that he expresses himself clumsily, for we have never heard of anyone giving away cattle—certainly not with the price of beef what it is today.

Giving away the bride is an old custom, and a harmless one. Of course, if you want to be completely hard-headed at a wedding, the bride can come to church by herself, can make that lonely walk to the altar by herself, and can snort defiance at the world when the clergyman asks who gives her away. But if you are going to be completely hard-headed you will probably not marry in a church at all, for a civil ceremony will serve for all purposes. Most couples, however, choose to be married in the traditional way, for they are entering upon a traditional mode of life. And in doing so they show considerable wisdom, for not all traditions are bad; many of them have the weight of centuries of experience behind them. Marriage, in particular, should not be stripped of anything which can give it stability.

What harm, after all, is there in pretending that the bride's father gives her away at her marriage? The action is itself a link with a distant past, and emphasizes the antiquity of the ceremony. If we begin to strip away all the accretions of time and tradition from our customs and ceremonies, we may find that we are tearing down more than we intended. When the ivy is removed from a wall the wall quite often tumbles down with it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Man does not live by bread alone, in spite of the number who seem to get by on their crust.

Canada's Tunnels

By GRAHAM McINNES
In the Canadian Railway Employees' Monthly

WITH a great shriek the train rushes into the tunnel. The kids who've been standing at the window leap back as if they'd been hit. The newsy bumps into the knees of a couple making love on the back seat. The landscape vanishes and your world becomes a humbling windowless corridor of close packed gloom. Then presto—you're out again, with smoke and steam still swirling past the windows. Perhaps you've burrowed 10,000 feet under a great mountain, or bored under a knuckle of Laurentian rock, or maybe you've just passed beneath fifty city blocks of busy traffic.

But whichever it is, you must admit that there's a thrill about a tunnel.

◇ ◇ ◇

CANADA has a good many tunnels and some of them are world famous, but the trouble is that almost nine-tenths of them are west of the Great Divide. If you live between Banff and Jasper and the Lake of the Woods, you'll never see a tunnel. If you live east of Campbellton, N.B., it's the same thing. Canada for its size and its enormous railroad mileage has comparatively few tunnels, even if what she has are spectacular.

◇ ◇ ◇

CANADA has a lot of trackage for very few people, and second, much of Canada consists of mountains and very tough rock. These two things add up to a high cost per mile of railroad construction. Tunnelling's a costly business and if you can go around or over an obstruction rather than through it, you usually do.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE longest tunnel in Canada is the Connaught Tunnel which runs for five miles dead straight but not dead level and carries the main line of the Canadian Pacific under the Selkirk Range in British Columbia. How the C.P. ever found its way through the mountain often seems baffling when you ride the transcontinental yourself.

◇ ◇ ◇

AS a matter of fact, steel was already creeping down the western slope of the Great Divide before Col. Rogers, the Canadian Pacific surveyor, discovered the path through the Selkirks that still bears his name. The railroad first negotiated that pass by a two and one-half per cent. gradient without a tunnel. And today as you climb slowly up the valley of the Illecillewaet from Revelstoke to Glacier, you can see the old line far up on the mountain side like a huge grey scar among the rocks and spines.

◇ ◇ ◇

IN 1914 the C.P.R. decided to shorten the route, ease the gradient and cut down expense, and they drove the Connaught straight through the Selkirks. It takes about twenty minutes to traverse the tunnel and trains are run on the left hand track to ensure a clear view for the engineer.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE second tunnel in Canada, curiously enough, isn't in the West at all. In fact it's not even under a mountain in the proper sense of the word. Instead of passing beneath Himalayan crags it burrows under the roaring traffic and tramping feet of a million and a quarter people. Yes, under Montreal. The tunnel goes from the Canadian National's Central Station right under the city to emerge at Portal Heights on the rearward slope of Mount Royal, over three miles further north.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE tunnel was originally built to carry the old Canadian Northern's main line from Montreal to Ottawa and west; but with amalgamation into the C.N.R. the tunnel has come to be used chiefly for commuter traffic to and from communities on Montreal's back river. Traction is electric, and as the tunnel is straight for almost the whole of its length, you can, if you like, stand at the rear of the train and watch the north portal dwindle to a mere speck of light in the roaring darkness.

◇ ◇ ◇

CANADA'S third tunnel is also under a city—the City of Quebec. The C.P.R. drove it right under the Plains of Abraham for a little over a mile to emerge at Wolfe's Cove where the big trans-Atlantic steamers used to berth. Hamilton is another city pierced by a tunnel. No, it does not go under the Mountain. It burrows beneath a hump in the city's down-town section—on the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo R.R.—and comes out at a very pleasantly designed station—a good clean mass of steel and cement and glass. It's about a third of a mile long.

◇ ◇ ◇

THERE'S a tunnel under the City of Brockville, Ont., too, though not many people know about it, because it's on a little used spur of the C.P.R. running from the waterfront on the St. Lawrence and back under the steep hill on which Brockville stands, to join the C.P.R. line from Ottawa and Smiths Falls. It has the distinction of being the oldest tunnel in Canada, having been built for the old Brockville and Ottawa Railway Company in 1853-59 and opened for traffic in 1860.

◇ ◇ ◇

IT'S just under a third of a mile long and is the only tunnel in Canada—and perhaps in the world—which has barn doors on each end, closed nightly during periods of severe weather. But you can open these doors—if you're a real enthusiast—and walk through, listened to your ghostly footfalls on the ties, and smelling the harsh metallic smell of generations of smoke and soot.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE rest of our tunnels are noted less for their length or their oddity than for their frequency. By far the bulk of them lie, as you would expect, in British Columbia, about equally divided between the two main systems: Forty-two on the C.N.R. and forty-eight on the C.P.R. Most of them are less than 1,000 feet long and one is only ninety feet—perhaps the shortest on record. However there's one close to 3,000 feet long on the C.N.R. between Red Pass Junction and Kamloops in the valley of the Thompson.

OUR CHANGING WORLD

The Pikemen of London

(FROM LONDON CALLING)

IN the year 1635, Lieutenant William Barriff, of the Artillery Company of London, published a drill-book. In the style of the period he called it "Military Discipline, or the Young Artillery Man. Wherein is discoursed and showne the Postures both of Musket and Pike . . together with the Motions which are to be used, in the exercising of a Foot-Company . . very necessary for all such as are studious in the Art Military".

In graceful verse he dedicated it "To Captaine Walter Neale, now Captaine of the Artillery Garden: and to all the rest of the Worthy Captaines, Lieftenants, Ensignes, Serjeants, and other Gentlemen of that noble Society." Barriff's drill-book became a standard manual.

In the Summer of 1950, members of Barriff's old unit, now the Honourable Artillery Company, senior regiment of the Territorial Army, gave a display of drill, as laid down in his book, before appreciative audiences at the annual Royal Tournament.

People of the atomic age heard an echo from 300 years ago: "Take heed to give fire by ranks to the rear retreating" . . "Charge for horse and draw your swords" . . "Gentlemen of the Artillery Garden, charge your pikes." Barriff, one likes to think, would have felt himself among comrades if he could have been there (though the loud-speakers that gave out his orders might have startled him somewhat).

Every pikeman and musketeer down in the arena had signed the roll of members in which Barriff had flourished his signature; they had followed faithfully the instructions he laid down so clearly in his book; and they had rehearsed their display not far from the place where their forerunners of the sixteen-forties had trailed a pike, or, poising heavy musket on rest, had "given fire breast-high".

THIS is how it all came about. The Honourable Artillery Company is in unbroken descent from a body of archers and hand-gun men to whom King Henry VIII gave a charter in 1537. Artillery then meant any weapon of volley, from a crossbow upwards. Members became known as Gentlemen of the Artillery Garden, from their original exercise-ground outside the City walls. Armory House, headquarters of the HAC, stands hard by this day, on ground granted to the Company in 1641.

For centuries, the HAC has provided officers for the citizen forces, from the Trained Bands to the Territorial Army. No unit in Britain has a longer or better-documented history.

Many of its members who have retired from service on the active list join the Veteran Company, and some hundred of these form the Company of Pikemen and Musketeers, who form a link with the old days by exercising themselves on the lines laid down in Military Discipline.

They are, naturally, much in demand on occasions of pageantry, and, in recent years, have been appointed as personal escort to the Lord Mayors of London. When their present Majesties attended their silver wedding celebration in St. Paul's, the pikemen were on duty outside the cathedral, as well as the customary modern guard of honour from the regiment.

◇ ◇ ◇

THEIR uniform and equipment follow closely those of the pikeman and musketeer who are supporters of the HAC coat of arms, and their wearers make a brave spectacle on the march.

First come two drumbeaters, with scarlet plumes in their wide-brimmed hats. The captain is truly magnificent in red and gold, with the armor of a horseman of the period. Two pioneers attend him, carrying grappling balls, originally a device for pulling down loose walls, but also used to clear a way through crowds.

Next, a party of musketeers swings by, bandolier over leather jerkin, with heavy musket on shoulder and carrying the rest from which they fire it. Then a solid phalanx of pikemen, glittering in breast-plate, back-plate, and thigh-guards, and the distinctive up-tilted headpiece; their arms a twelve-foot pike and a sword. In their midst is the ensign with the Company's colour escorted by two sergeants. Then more pikemen and another body of musketeers to bring up the rear.

And the members of this Company? Professional men, "something in the City", retired business executives, mostly. Giving way to the craving for dressing up that is latent in most of us, the cynic may say. But he would be wrong. A feeling for tradition is becoming increasingly rare, and it is good to know that there are still some ready to preserve it.

They still have tramps in England. But they are no longer called tramps. Nor are the casual wards called casual wards. Instead, they are "Reception Centres for Persons Without a Settled Way of Living". This means a change in the lyrics of at least one favourite folk-song. Henceforth we shall have to sing: "Hallelujah! I'm a Person-Without-a-Settled-Way-of-Living."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Elisha came again to Gilgal: and there was a dearth in the land . . . And there came a man from Baal-shalisha, and brought the man of God bread of the first fruits, twenty loaves of barley, and full ears of corn in the husk thereof. And he said, Give unto the people, that they may eat. And his servitor said, What, should I set this before a hundred men? He said again, Give the people, that they may eat: for thus saith the Lord, They shall eat, and shall leave thereof.

So he set it before them, and they did eat, and left thereof, according to the word of the Lord. (II Kings 4: 38, 42-44.)

And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick. And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart; give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes. He said, Bring them hither to me. And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full. And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, beside women and children. (Matt. 14: 14-21.)

Letter To The Editor

A PUZZLED CITIZEN

Sir: I see in our paper last week where Dick's Rolling Lunch was given ten months to get off the street and find a new job by the City Council. But can they or any one else please tell me why this chap who has worked hard and who has a very tidy looking setup and who is paying his way should be refused a license to make an honest living? What about this fellow that stands on the street corner and in front of factories going on as though he were nuts?

My wife and I were coming down George St. on Saturday night and when we came by where he was we could hardly get by for he kept walking back and forth in front of us yelling at the top of his voice as though he were mad. I do believe in religion but that's what churches are for and why don't they use it?

For Dick's Rolling Lunch if any person or persons would like to see how much it is appreciated, let them stand in sight of Dick's Lunch no matter if it's on Simcoe and George Streets, or near a ball park, and you will see the old and the young alike buy his chips. I am a taxpayer, a working man as well; I go to church, so I don't see why they have to put a working man off the street to let a fanatic on?

Yours truly,
A. W.

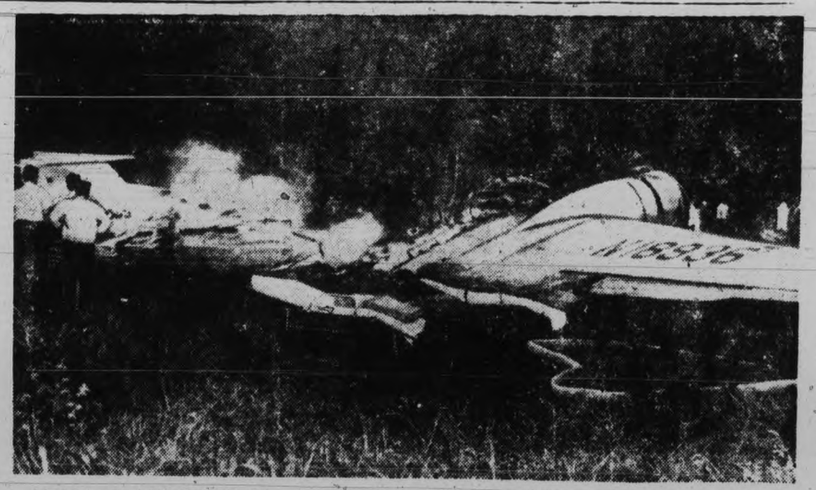
Urges Avoiding Rail Tie-Up By Using Labor Court

OTTAWA, Sept. 7— (CP) — Senator J. W. de Farris (L., B.C.), said Wednesday that the recent Canadian railway strike was not justified and urged consideration of steps to avoid tieups of such vital industries in the future.

One such consideration, he told the Senate, might be establishment of a labor court in Canada. Eventually he would like to see organization of an international court with power to act in the problems of all countries pertaining to law.



The veteran lawyer and one-time British Columbia attorney-general addressed the Senate for almost two hours.

Senator Farris emphasized that he was not saying the railway men did not have grievances nor the right to press them. But the issues at the time of calling of the strike were different from those at the time the men had voted their leaders power to halt the railways.

There was no justification either he declared, for "making Donald Gordon (president of the CNR) the scapegoat." He praised Mr. Gordon and suggested the only reason he had been attacked was that he was a government appointee.

Senator Farris said immediate steps that should be taken by the government were implementation of the secret ballot; assurance that any strike ballot shall contain the latest issues involved in any dispute and a fair summary of argument on both sides of the question.

Strike ballot should first be submitted to the Labor Department or a labor court which would bring both sides into agreement as to what this fair summary should be.

Would Clarify Traffic Act

WINDSOR, Sept. 7 —(CP)—A request for clarification of Ontario's Highway Traffic Act in regard to careless driving charges gained oral support at a meeting of Windsor City Council Tuesday night.

But the council turned down a motion asking for a review of decisions by Magistrate Angus W. MacMillan in two recent cases of careless driving charges in city court.

The motion, supported by William Riggs, said there has been "considerable public alarm" over the dismissal of the cases. The decisions could have a "serious psychological effect" on police enforcing traffic laws.

Controller Lawrence Deziel said the courts would welcome a clarification of what constitutes careless driving, but he criticized the motion for hinting that magistrate MacMillan was not doing his duty.

M.P. Doesn't Want Any Army Trucks Used To Take Colonels' Wives To Pink Teas

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (CP)—H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay W.) talked about the little things Wednesday as the Commons debated the government's big rearmament program.

He said he hoped none of the money would go to drive staff officers who could but wouldn't use day rail coaches or to furnish army trucks for officers on hunting trips or to drive colonels' wives to pink teas.

"What," interjected A. L. Smith (PC—Calgary West), "is pink tea? I've never seen any."

"Pink teas," snapped Mr. Herridge, "are the sort of things blue Conservatives go to."

In the recent war, he said, many people got a bad idea about waste in the services from seeing the wife of the colonel using staff cars to go to pink teas. He hoped that sort of thing would be stamped out.

Mr. Herridge also called for a defence committee of the House and for investigation of reports about bad food being served soldiers of the special force at Petawawa.

Four Small Children Reunited With Parents

TORONTO, Sept. 7 —(CP)— It was a joyful ending to a tiring 14-day trip alone when the four little Rocca children arrived here Tuesday night from the Sicilian town of Pachino, Italy.

The youngsters, Salvador, 13, Corravo, 9, Luis, 6, and Lucille, 4, were reunited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ricupero who came to Canada ten months ago.

While the four children stayed with an aunt in Italy, their parents scraped up $675 for their fares to Canada. Ricupero is a $45-a-week laborer, his wife a $20-a-week seamstress.

Quiet Please

NEW GLASGOW, NS —(CP)— The board of trade here is conducting an argument with the Aberdeen Hospital commission about the site of a new hospital. The board claims that the site selected by the commission—on nearby Trenton Road—is too near the hammering and banging of the Trenton Steel Works.

Petes Trim Owen Sounders To Even OLA Senior Series

Displaying a fighting drive before some 1,400 fans at Miller Bowl last night, the Petes downed Owen Sound Crescents 7-3 to even their best-of-seven OLA senior "A" quarter-finals at a game each. It was their first victory this season over the OLA champions (this series being for the Mann Cup playdowns), and they earned it all the way. Next game is Friday in Owen Sound, and the fourth one here on Monday.

The visitors were at full strength and battling hard, while Red Creighton's crew were short Jerry Fitzgerald and Joe Nolan—the latter being re-instated after the game on his promise to attend all away-from-home games in the future. The Petes fought fiercely, every man from the goalie out, every minute of the close-checking but clean melee. The six penalties were evenly divided.

A Close Heat

The score was 1-1 in the tight first chukker, and the Petes moved ahead with the only two in the second to make it 3-1 at the half. Each side hit the twine twice in the third as the Petes led 5-3 but the locals had the bulge with a 2-0 margin in the fourth, the final goal coming with a few seconds left to play. Owen Sound drove desperately the last half but found the homesters full of fight and holding their lead. The game was slow in spots but had plenty of speedy, exciting periods, too.

Husky Don Crowe proved an inspirational player out there for the victors. He led his side in a fine all-around fighting display, and scored one goal and had two well-earned assists. Mick Magee was another valuable cog, aiding on three and checking hard throughout. Arnold Dugan led the snipers with two goals, while Don Ashbee, Emmett Creighton, Bobby Thorpe and Lou Vitarelli were other stars with a goal each. Thorpe also helping on one. Ralph Speck was brilliant in goal all the way, and there wasn't a weak man on the team on the night's showing. Bill Allum, Jack Foote and Arn Smith scored the Crescents' markers, with Doug Gillespie, Russ Slater, and Harry Kazarian earning an assist each. They all fought hard and Lloyd Wootton was plenty tough to beat in goal every quarter.

A Neat Solo

Foote scored the first at 55 seconds from Kazarian but Crowe got it back shortly on a nifty solo. Speck was hurt late in the heat but stayed in there in the close-checking play. Dugan got credit for a goal when Magee's hot shot glanced in off him early in the second stanza. Ashbee returned from a hooking penalty to break clear and score a honey with Crowe's long pass. Fred Smith was gated for slashing and Doug Gillespie and Bob Thorpe got it for roughing. Dootch Vitarelli soon hitting the sin bin for slashing as play got a bit rougher for a time.

Crescents Drive

After the halftime intermission Owen Sound bored in for one, Allum from Slater, but Dugan tore through alone for a nice one to even that count. Arn Smith got another from Doug Gillespie at close range and, with McWhirter away for charging, Em Creighton counted a dandy from Magee to make it 5-3, the Petes showing some beautiful positional passing. It was tight in the fourth as the Crescents tried hard to get in close, but finally Thorpe hit the open side of the net when Magee and Crowe had Wootton out of position on a smart bit of inside play. Speck had to hop to keep the visitors out but in the last minute of play, the Petes made extra sure of it when Lou Vitarelli blasted Thorpe's pass by Wootton to send the crowd home happy.

Owen Sound—Goal, Wootton; defence F. Smith and Allum; centre G. Gillespie; wings, McWhirter and Campbell; rover, Woods; alternates, D. Gillespie, Foote, Mason, A. Smith, Shkordof, Kazarian and Slater.

Petes: Goal, Speck; defence, Crowe and Magee; centre, Creighton; wings, Dugan and D. Vitarelli; rover, Thorpe; alternates, Wright, Curtin, L. Vitarelli, R. Breakspear, J. Breakspear and Ashbee.

Mutuals Lead City Series With 8-6 Win

Mutuals edged East City 8-6 last night at the Bowl as the men's city softball finals continued after a few days' respite, though both clubs have been active in their other playoffs against outside opposition.

A fair crowd saw a close, exciting battle last night as Mutuals took an early lead by virtue of good stickwork by Leether, Crowe, Greenlaw, Hawkes, and Carpenter. East City came from behind nicely in the sixth and seventh to almost tie it up, sending Hunter to the showers after the latter had twirled a neat game up to that point. The bats of Red Sullivan, O'Heron, Wade, Cornwall and Spencer rang out in the late stages, but Bob Greenlaw proved a good fireman in the crisis and struck out five in 2 1-3 frames, to save the night.

Lefty Doris started for the Guilfoyle crew, but retired with three runs in and two on in the fourth and Haddy Eakins took over. He pitched well, too, his second night in a row, but Mutuals were not to be denied (thought short in manpower due to the baseball final at Oshawa), and put the winning runners across before Haddy got settled down. Sullivan homered while Spencer, Cornwall, and Hawkes had the only other extra base blows of the game. Fielding features were supplied by Willshaw, O'Heron, Sullivan, Pryde, Hawkes and Greenlaw.

Athletics Edge Mimico 13-10

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton and St. Catharines both picked up a win in their first games of the best-of-seven Ontario Lacrosse Association quarter-finals Wednesday night.

Athletics edged Mimico Mountaineers 13-10 with Croft tallying four times for the winners. Hamilton downed Brampton Excelsiors 11-9.

In Peterborough, Petes squared the series by turning back Owen Sound Crescents 7-3.

At Brampton, Tigers swept in to the lead in the second quarter and were never headed. They led 8-4 at the half and maintained that margin to the end of the third canto when they led 11-7.

Toronto Will See First Sunday Football

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (CP) — Toronto will see its first Sunday football game Sept. 17 when Toronto Balmy Beach of the Ontario Rugby Football Union and Pittsburgh Black Bears, an all-negro team, meet at Maple Leaf stadium.

The Bears, coached by former Saskatchewan Roughrider Gabe Patterson, will play half the game under Canadian rules and half under their own.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Oshawa Merchants and the Petes are billed to tangle at 8.15 tonight in Riverside under the lights, weather being okay. Third of their crowded best-of-seven Viaduct Baseball League finals. It should be another fine playoff scrap before a big crowd of ball fans. Since the floodlights were installed, a lot of folks who like their baseball but couldn't make it on Saturday afternoons are enjoying the sport again. And they're now seeing the most interesting part of the race, the hectic finish. Teams are away tomorrow, again on Saturday and end it up in Toronto on Sunday if the series lasts that long.

* * * * * *

Oshawa lumberman John Harris hasn't spared expense this season in rounding up a strong ball squad. USA imports came and went in batches right up to July 15, and by then he had a dozen from south of the border with which he was satisfied. Pitchers like towering Darrell Thompson, lefthander Jerry Creasy and George Davidson. Catchers Charlie Walsh and George Ticcony, and infielders Vic Napolitano, Aaron Bitman, Roger Wood and Manager Sherry Rowland, who plays first. With a couple over for the garden. Most are young college players. A scrappy bunch who argue bitterly over the close ones. Especially in games with the Petes.

* * * * * *

A Tough One To Drop

It took 11 innings for Oshawa to win 7-6 at home last night, and the Petes vigorously kicked on one decision at the plate which gave Merchants a run. Bill Edger and Davidson both hurled swell ball for nine heats with southpaws Dadson and Creasy finishing up. A walk, steal and single by Rowland did the damage in overtime as Harry Hill scampered home with the winning marker. A big crowd to see the first floodlight fray in Oshawa. The Viaduct Loop officials have ordered the fifth, sixth and seventh—if it goes that far—games to be played in Millen Stadium in Toronto.

* * * * * *

A happy throng headed for home from Miller Bowl about 10.50 last night after seeing the Petes trim Owen Sound Crescents. A 7-3 win (their first victory o'er Crescents this year) to tie up their OLA senior "A" quarter-final series, best four out of seven, at a game each. They're in the Sound tomorrow and back here next Monday. Crowd wasn't as big as expected, but then a lot of fans figured it would be four straight for the OLA champs. Crescents won the title by finishing first, these series now being to put a team into Mann Cup (or Dominion) playdowns. Well, fans who stayed away missed something. The Petes are very much in the fight yet, and they still hope to get Jerry Fitzgerald for future games. Joe Nolan has been re-instated on his promise to miss no more tilts.

* * * * * *

Locals Really Fought

It was a fighting pack of Petes out there last p.m. They battled for that ball every minute and roughed up the champs plenty in the process. Every man fought, not a weak sister being seen in the lineup. That's the only way to play lacrosse when the chips are down. You've got to give it everything, or you're suddenly out for the season. It's not fair to pick stars when they were all extra good, but we especially liked the fight of Don Crowe, the hard checking of Mick Magee and the goaltending of Ralph Speck. Also Dootch Vitarelli, Bob Thorpe, Arn Dugan, Don Ashbee, Em Creighton—and the rest, too. The Crescents fought hard also, and they didn't take kindly to defeat at all, but the Petes had it this fray.

* * * * * *

Re the men's softball setup. Tonight has Oshawa playing the Orphans at 8.15 in the Bowl to start their OASA junior series. East City goes to Oshawa this week-end to play Pedlars again. Mutuals are idle till Tuesday. In the city finals, best-of-seven, at the Bowl last gloaming, Mutuals squeezed out an 8-6 win o'er East City to lead that serial two games to one. Hunter went well for the winners till the 7th and Greenlaw finished up good. Doris got into trouble in the fourth on the other slab, Eakins going better the rest of the route. Carpenter and Greenlaw led at bat with two each, while Spencer got two for East City, and Sullivan a homer. Next tilt is Monday at 8.30 p.m.

Vancouver Blows Lead Bows To Toronto Team

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (CP) — Vancouver Firemen blew a three-run lead Wednesday night to fall two games behind Toronto Peoples in the best-of-five series for the Canadian senior men's softball championship. Toronto won 4-3.

The victory made the eastern champions overwhelming favorites in the series, first east-west softball final staged in Canada.

The third game will be played at the Canadian National Exhibition ball park tonight.

Firemen, who eliminated Winnipeg to reach the finals, appeared headed for an easy victory. They rolled up a 3-0 lead in the first inning on Laurie Shuttleworth's homer. Then they fell apart in the second to yield four easy runs and the game was over.

SPARK PLUG— Hefty Don Crowe proved a spark plug for the Petes here last night as they defeated Owen Sound Crescents, the OLA senior champs, 7-3. Big Don led a fighting pack to pull an upset win and square the playoff series.

Orioles Edge Syracuse

By The Associated Press.

Jersey City Giants and Baltimore Orioles begin the final important series of the International League season when they clash tonight in the opener of a five-game set in Baltimore.

Third place is at stake. The Giants trail the Orioles by two games.

Baltimore turned up for the clash by edging Syracuse Chiefs, 2-1 Wednesday night on a ninth-inning home run by Austin Knickerbocker. The Giants dropped a 6-5 decision to Springfield Cubs.

Dave Jolly had the Orioles blanked on four hits going into the ninth when disaster struck. Jolly retired the first Oriole but Butch Woyt followed with a single and Knickerbocker with his home run.

Springfield piled up a 6-0 lead over the Giants in the first two innings and then staved off a counter-bid in the late frames. The Giants scored twice in the seventh on a pinch-hit homer by Johnny Metkovich, and routed Bill Mosian with three runs in the eighth. Tony Jacobs halted the eighth-inning rally and blanked the Giants in the ninth. The victory snapped a seven-game losing streak and six-game Giant winning skein.

In the only other game, Toronto Maple Leafs downed Buffalo Bisons 6-3. Bill Glynn socked a pair of homers and Ed Sanicki one to lead the Toronto attack.

Rochester and Montreal were idle.

Local Juveniles Tie With Oshawa Squad

Oshawa and the Peterborough juveniles opened their OBA playdown series in the Motor City by going to a 1-1 tie in eight innings before darkness halted proceedings. They are due to meet again in Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon in their best-of-three series.

In the fourth frame, Young grounded out and Bigford walked, taking second on a wild throw. Sullivan's grounder went through third to score the Petes' only run. Two hits and a steal home by Jeffs gave Oshawa their marker in the sixth of a fine tussle. Murdock pitched three-hit ball for the visitors, fanning five, while Stone gave only two safeties as he whiffed 10. Teams:

Peterborough — McGrath c, Gandy lf, Young ss, Bigford 1b, Sullivan cf, Wilson 3b, Reynolds rf, Hillier 2b, Murdock p.

Riverdales Begin All Over Again

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (CP) — Toronto Riverdales, who suffered through the bulk of the lacrosse season without a home rink and almost without a victory, will start all over again tonight.

Forced to play even their "home" games on foreign rinks, Riverdales had a thin time of it in the Ontario Lacrosse Associations senior A loop, finishing a distant last with only two wins to their credit.

But tonight, as they open their brand-new headquarters at Riverdale Terrace in east-central Toronto, they still have a chance to pick up post-season honors.

Relegated to Senior B competition, in which they already have lost three games on the road, Riverdales are confident that their home opener tonight against Huntsville Hawks will be the start of a drive that will bring them the title. They'll follow with Toronto's first Sunday afternoon lacrosse game against Fergus Thistles.

Red Sox Smear Yanks 11-2 As Stengel Defies Jinx

By RALPH RODEN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Casey Stengel defied the Fenway Park southpaw jinx and lost. As a result his New York Yankees are fidgeting atop the American League pennant scramble by only a half game today.

The Yankees invaded the lair of the torrid third-place Boston Red Sox Wednesday night for the opener of a two-game series. Old Case sent lefty Ed Lopat to face the murderous Red Sox completely aware that only one visiting lefthander, Hal Newhouser of Detroit, had pitched and won a complete game in the Fens this year.

Casey didn't have long to wait to rue his decision. The Sox bombed Lopat for four runs in the second inning and went on to slaughter the Yanks, 11-2.

While the Yanks were smeared the runner-up Detroit Tigers, behind Newhouser, turned back the fourth-place Cleveland Indians, 5-3, in the opener of a two-game series in Detroit to move within a half game of the lead.

Here's the picture at a glance:

| | W | L | Pc. | Games Behind |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York .. | 83 | 48 | .634 | — |
| Detroit ..... | 82 | 48 | .631 | ½ |
| Boston ..... | 81 | 51 | .614 | 2½ |
| Cleveland ... | 80 | 54 | .597 | 4½ |

Today's Lineup

For today's final game, Stengel has named righthander Allie Reynolds (13-11) to oppose righthander Ellis Kinder (13-12) Kinder hasn't started a game since Aug. 17 but has performed brilliantly in relief to earn another chance.

Lefty Mel Parnell breezed to his 15th victory as the Sox supported his eight-hit pitching with a 16-hit attack against Lopat and lefty Ed Ford, who worked the final two innings.

Parnell, who now has won seven straight kames and 10 out of his last 11 decisions, was in trouble only in the first and ninth innings.

Vern Stephens led Boston by driving out his 29th homer, a triple and two singles.

Erase Deficit

At Detroit, the Tigers came up with four runs in the seventh inning to erase a 2-1 deficit. Hoot Evers and Johnny Groth knocked in the first two runs and Charley Keller slammed home the two clinching ones with a pinch-hit single. Newhouser allowed eight hits, including a home run by Allie Clark, in besting Early Wynn.

Rookie Sandalio Consuegra pitched the Washington Senators to a 3-0, six-hit victory over Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox edged St. Louis Browns, 6-5, on Mike McCormick's ninth-inning single in other American League games.

Brooklyn Dodgers supplied the biggest surprise in the National League by defeating the league-leading Philadelphia Phils, 2-0 and 3-2, in a two-night doubleheader. The victories moved the second-place Brooks to within 5½ games of the Phils.

Big Don Newcombe attempted to perform the iron man stunt. He blanked the Phils on three hits in the opener but was forced to bow out for a pinch-hitter in the eighth inning of the second game, trailing 2-0.

Not Many Try

Newcombe is the first pitcher to try the feat since Buck Newsom attempted it and failed for Detroit in 1940. The last big league pitcher to pitch and win two complete games in one day was Emil Levson, of Cleveland, in 1926.

The Dodgers blanked on one hit by Curt Simmons, came to life in the ninth inning and scored three runs to pull the nightcap out.

Simmons struck out Ed Miksis to start the ninth but then granted a walk and a single and left in favor of Jim Konstanty, who made his 62nd appearance of the season. Jackie Robinson singled to load the bases. Carl Furillo fanned but Gil Hodges followed with a game-tying single.

Robinson raced to third on Hodges' hit and when third baseman Willie Jones cut off the throw from the outfield and pegged to second in an attempt to get Hodges, Robinson broke for the plate. Second baseman Mike Goliat took Jones' throw and fired to the plate. Robinson was caught in a rundown but catcher Andy Seminick threw the ball wild to third and Robinson scored the winning run.

Robinson drove in the first run in the opener ad scored the second after some daring base running

Triumph Costly

The Dodger triumph was costly, however, as they lost the services of their brilliant catcher, Roy Campanella, who broke his right thumb on a foul trip Campanella probably will be out for the season.

The surging New York Giants turned back Boston Braves, 3-1, to advance to within a half game of the third-place Braves. Larry Jansen pitched a strong nine-hitter to gain his 15th victory. The Giants collected only six hits, including Wes Westrum's 20th homer.

St. Louis took a day-night doubleheader from Chicago Cubs, 5-4, in 10 innings, and 7-3. Stan Musial homered to win the opener. The Cards scored five runs in the eighth inning to take the finale.

Pittsburgh Pirates edged Cincinnati Reds, 3-2, scoring the winning run in the ninth inning when Ewell Blackwell hit winning pitcher Vern Law with a pitched ball with the bases loaded.

QUARTER-MILLION DOLLAR NEW ST. ALPHONSUS SCHOOL OPENS

ST. ALPHONSUS SEPARATE SCHOOL in North Monaghan Township, finished at a cost of a quarter of a million dollars, opened its doors on Tuesday to admit a full complilment of pupils. The auditorium will be ready for use in a few days and workmen are progressing steadily with landscaping. Even the thrill of a new building was not as appealing as the first recess, LEFT photo, as small boys raced out to play in the sun. The newest pupils in a new school, kindergarten, are shown in the CENTRE photo, listening to a "Once upon a time" tale by teacher Leila McGrath; twelve kiddies attend in the mornings and 11 in the afternoons. The well-lighted rooms show up to advantage in the picture of the school at the RIGHT. Examiner Staff Photos

The tour covered a period of more than seven weeks and took in Calgary's famous stampede, Banff National Park, Vancouver and Victoria, Crater Lake, the Redwoods, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Grand Canyon, Zion and Bryce Parks, Salt Lake City and Yellowstone Park. The group visited 13 states in the U.S.A.

Knows Weather Year In Advance

CAPETOWN (CP).—A Riebeek West man claims that, by making a carefuly study of the first 12 days of the year, he can forecast the weather for the rest of the year.

The amateur meteorologist is Jan Truter. He has spent most of his life in the open and this, he says, helps him in his forecasting. He says the weather so far this year has been exactly as he predicted in January.

Truter bases his weather calculations on the various wind directions. To be exact in the predictions, he says, one should sleep outside during the first 12 days of the year.

The way certain stars shine also assists him in his forecasting.

CAPETOWN, South Africa, Sept. 7—(Reuters)— South Africa's former army chief of staff, Gen. Len Beyers, said today another world war was certain and South Africa should prepare for it.

Modern Building To Serve Southwest Section of City

First day back at school this week was a great excitement for 187 youngsters living in the southwest end of the city and North Monaghan on the western outskirts. For them Tuesday was not just the beginning of the fall term, but first day at a new school—a school building which was still being given its last touches of paint.

First day back at school, Tuesday was a great excitement for 122 youngsters living in the southwest end of the city and North Monaghan on the western outskirts. For them Tuesday was not just the beginning of the fall term, but first day at a new school — a school building which was still being given its last touches of paint.

Built by the Separate School Board for the sum of approximately a quarter of a million dollars, St. Alphonsus school on a four acre site between Highways 28 and 7a, opened Tuesday.

The two-storey school has ten classrooms designed on the most up-to-date lines with no-draft windows and translucent walls. The inside walls are painted white and the ceilings are plastered with an acoustic finish.

Above the blackboards are three lights with aluminum shades, focusing extra light onto the boards.

The school is equipped with three sizes of desks with storage space for books under the chair. And there are special chairs and tables for the kindergarten.

At the back of every classroom is a long clothes closet with racks for hanging coats and a hot air system for drying.

Multi-Purpose Auditorium

The auditorium is on the ground floor, complete with stage and a small green room. Underneath the stage there is ample storage space for the chairs, enabling the hall to be used also as a gymnasium.

Upstairs there is a medical room complete with sink and built-in cupboards.

The painters and electrical fitters were still in the building when school assembled and because of the railway strike, all the equipment was not yet in.

Most of the books have arrived but there had been no time to get them all sorted into the right cupboards. There were still no arithmetics and no scribblers.

After the morning session, Principal P. J. Moher dismissed the children until Wednesday. For some, this was a disappointment and particularly one youngster who returned after lunch to ask "Can't we have school this afternoon?"

Organization Problems

But Mr. Moher and his staff of five teachers had not been able to get things organized that quickly. The afternoon was spent by them preparing to start the school curriculum.

Mr. Moher who, at the age of 30, has received his first headship, was teaching last year at the Assumption College High School, Windsor. His home is Lakefield and before serving in the army during the war, he taught school two years in Douro.

This is a busy time for Mr. Moher. In addition to the work of getting ready for this term, he has been travelling frequently to Kingston, where his first child, a son, was born two weeks ago.

Mass to the Holy Ghost was attended in St. Alphonsus Church by pupils and staff, before assembling at school.

Much To Be Done

Although the school building is completed, there is still a good deal of work to be done on the surrounding grounds. The ground is rough and has not yet been landscaped. Mr. Moher expects it will be about a year before the grounds are fully landscaped according to plan.

There are, however, concrete walks from the roadway to the two front entrances to the school.

Mr. Moher's staff, although subject to change, was as follows:

Kindergarten, Miss Ljela McGrath; grade 1, Miss Helen Lyons; grade 2, Miss Hilda Lynch; grade 3, Miss Anne Walsh; grades 5 and 6, Frank McTeague; grades 7 and 8, Mr. Moher.

Union Rejects Offer To Re-Open Talks

OAKVILLE, Ont., Sept. 7—(CP)—Tim Cooper, president of local 95 of the International Woodworkers of America, said Wednesday the union had rejected an offer by the Oakville Wood Specialties Company to re-open wage negotiations if the employees ended their week-long strike today.

The company manufactures fruit baskets for Ontario farmers.

The union, representing the plant's 128 employees, is asking for a 20-cent hourly wage boost and a 45-hour week in place of the present 48 hours. Mr. Cooper said the company had countered with a five-cent offer.

Company officials declined comment.

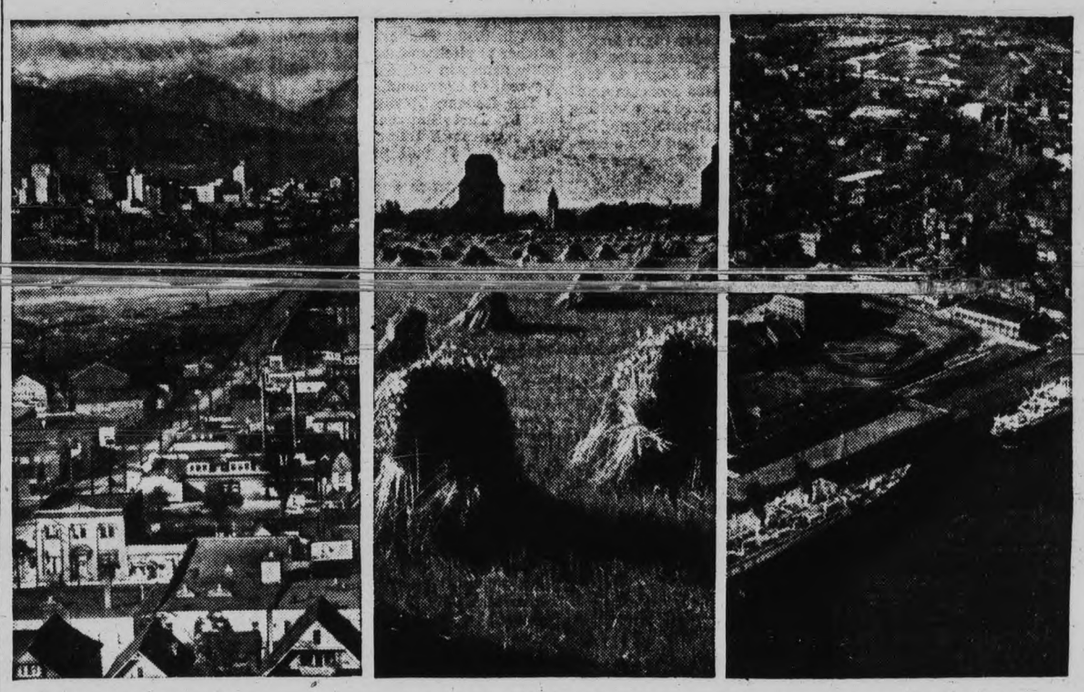
GOING FISHING?

Now the fishing season is in full swing. Now, too, is the time to remember, and observe, the fishing regulations. There's a reason for them.

The number of fish available for each season is estimated. The authorities then balance this against the expected number of fishermen to establish catch limits. This is done for your protection to provide a continuing supply of game fish for the future. To permit full growth, minimum lengths are set for various species of fish which may be taken.



Take Black Bass, for example. The maximum catch allowed in Ontario is six per day and the minimum legal length is 10 inches. Only by observing regulations like these will you be sure of enjoying this sport in the future.

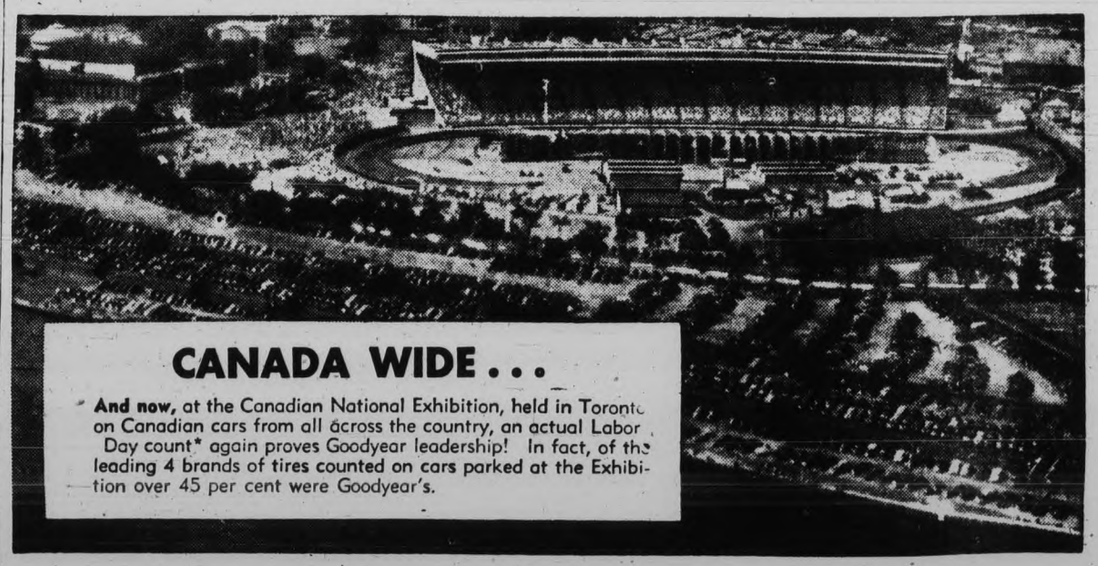
IN THE ROCKIES . . .



In British Columbia, an independent research organization asked city motorists "If you replaced tires, what brand did you buy last?" They found that more people stated Goodyear tires than the next 6 leading brands combined!

ACROSS THE PRAIRIES . . .

In leading towns and cities all over the prairie provinces, where a tire is judged on mileage, most motorists said "The tires I bought last are Goodyears." In fact Goodyears were preferred by more prairie drivers than the next 5 leading brands combined.

IN THE MARITIMES . . .

In the land of seaports and scenery . . . tops again! More urban folks preferred Goodyear than the next 6 leading brands together! Evidently, Canadian motorists agree with carmakers, who put more Goodyear tires on new cars than any other brand.

CANADA WIDE . . .

And now, at the Canadian National Exhibition, held in Toronto on Canadian cars from all across the country, an actual Labor Day count* again proves Goodyear leadership! In fact, of the leading 4 brands of tires counted on cars parked at the Exhibition over 45 per cent were Goodyear's.

MORE PEOPLE RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES THAN ON ANY OTHER KIND

Dominion Becomes Federal As Quebec MP's Object

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (CP). —Is it the Dominion-provincial or the federal-provincial constitutional conference that convenes at Quebec City Sept. 25?

Authorities here say either usage is correct, though the federal (Dominion?) government has been leaning more and more toward "federal" in recent years.

Until the latest series of these meetings, they have been known as Dominion-provincial conferences.

However, there has been considerable pressure on the government here from Quebec members to drop the "Dominion." This is inspired by the feeling that the word connotes a degree of subjugation to Britain.

A noticeable effect of this pressure in the last couple of years has been that "Dominion of Canada" has been dropped from most government publications.

Also, government telephone operators in the capital now greet callers with "Government of Canada" instead of the former "Dominion Government."

The last plenary constitutional conference in Ottawa started off as a Dominion-provincial conference.

But on the last day, Premier Duplessis of Quebec asked to have the word dominion in a resolution changed to "federal authorities."

Prime Minister St. Laurent said his government was quite happy to be designated as federal, and the change was made.

An upshot was that the official record of the conference subsequently came out under the label of "constitutional conference of federal and provincial governments." That label undoubtedly will stick.

Council To Visit Proposed Gas Station Site

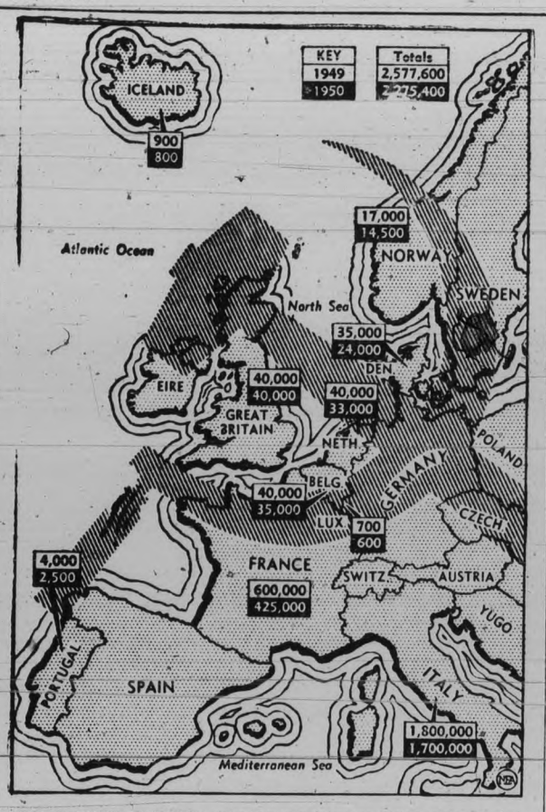
City council agreed at its last meeting to a suggestion of T. J. Carley, K.C., to visit Lansdowne St., east of Lock St., in considering the merits of the application of Conger Lehigh Coal Co. for permission to build a service station at Lock and Sherbourne Streets.

A report from the city planning board recommended that this application be not granted.

Mr. Carley, representing the company, recalled that he had submitted a list of the businesses already established on that street, easterly to the Locks, and also a supporting petition with more signatures than a similar petition of objection.

"We can tie ourselves too closely to a plan," Mr. Carley remarked.

He said the council would see that the street is greatly commercialized, and that the city planning board "has not taken a realistic view of the conditions that already exist."



A motion by Aldermen Waddell and Dewart that "we look it over and take it up in committee," was adopted.

Ease Parking Restrictions?

Parking restrictions at his southwest corner of Water St. and Park Hill Road have substantially reduced his business, Mr. Percy Harrison informed the council, requesting some practical consideration.

"There is no parking allowed all around me," he said. "You have to go a block away, and people won't walk back that distance."

His request was referred to the new special parking committee.

REDS OVER EUROPE—The Communists are losing strength in Western Europe, according to a survey of authoritative sources made by United Press. The Newsmap above gives estimated Communist Party membership in Atlantic Pact nations of Europe in 1949 and 1950. An overall decline of 12 per cent is reported. In addition to figures given, the survey reported Western Germany's Red strength dropped from 300,000 to 200,000 in four years; in the same period in Western Austria it dropped from 150,000 to 140,000, and in Switzerland, from 25,000 to 20,000. Best guesses of Red strength in Spain put the total between 10,000 and 20,000.

Judge Declares Evidence Circumstantial

SIMCOE, Sept. 7 (CP) — Mr. Justice R. W. Treleaven, presiding at the Supreme Court trial of Joseph Herbert McAuliffe, charged with double murder, told the jury Wednesday that it was apparent that much of the Crown's evidence was circumstantial and they would have to draw certain conclusions from the facts.

The slim, sharp-featured McAuliffe appeared calm as he heard Crown Counsel D. E. W. Tisdale describe the machine-gunning of Arthur Lierman and William Goddyn June 21, as the "most cold-blooded killing Norfolk county has ever known.

The two men were killed as they chased a lone bandit who held up a branch of the Imperial Bank at Langton, Ont., and sped away in a stolen car. McAuliffe was captured in the area of the slaying after a three day manhunt by police and civilian posse.

Mr. Tisdale said police found McAuliffe's fingerprints on the windshield of the stolen car used by the Langton killer.

The court sustained a defence objection against a crown attempt to link the theft of a car in Windsor with the robbery and subsequent slaying.

Describes Car

Inspector Leonard Neal of the Ontario Provincial Police described the condition the bullet-drilled car found at the scene of the slayings. Thirty discharged .45 calibre cartridge cases were found on the floor of the bandit's car, he said. All bullet holes in the window's of the bandit's car were "exit" holes.

The inspector told of the identification lineup held on Sunday following the capture of McAuliffe. The suspect had been given a bath, shaved and fed. His fingerprints were taken after the lineup and when formally charged with murder, he was asked if he had any statement to make.

asked.

"He said: 'Let's not go into that,'" replied Inspector Neal.

Haven't Decided On Training Camp

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (CP).—Defence Minister Claxton told George Fulford (L-Leeds) in the Commons Wednesday it has not been decided whether the wartime officers training camp at Brockville will be reopened. Pending further developments, the department is keeping the establishment intact.

Reviewing officer training plans, he said more than 6,000 officers are in training in Canada at present "so that to a very large degree we are meeting current needs in each locality and also, to a smaller degree, building up a pool of trained officers across the nation."

"In the event of an emergency, this would enable us to meet the first shock and have time to accelerate training under arrangements such as those in effect during the Second World War."

CONGRATULATE CLERK

Congratulations to City Clerk Outram on his election last week to the presidency of the Ontario Municipal Association were conveyed by the city council in a motion by Ald. E. C. Braund, seconded by Ald. Sands.

"We were all very pleased in the election of our clerk," Mayor Swanston said. "This association takes in the whole province, and I understand that 435 delegates attended the convention at Sudbury."

Great Industrial Happenings In Newfoundland

By C. E. A. JEFFERY

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. —(CP)— As time counts in a country's history, it was not long ago when Newfoundland's economy depended almost entirely upon the disposal of the products of the sea The primary product was salt cod.

An industrial revolution within the short space of 50 years has changed the whole economic outlook. May it not be regarded as but the beginning of an industrial era?

Here are some of the things that have happened:

In 1864 copper mining began in Notre Dame Bay and for a time Newfoundland ranked sixth among copper exporting countries. The available supply petered out, but it is possible such mining may begin again.

Then in 1895, iron ore mining began on Bell Island. This industry now can provide employment for 2,000 and maintain a population of 7,000.

Since 1905 the pulp and paper industry has mushroomed until now Anglo-Newfoundland Development company and Bowaters Newfoundland Pulp and Paper company employ more than 15,000. Indirectly, they provide employment for thousands of others and bring millions of dollars to the island.

Base Metals

The lead-zinc-copper mines at Buchans have increased in value from $4,000,000 to $12,000,000 in the last 10 years. A quantity of gold and silver also is obtained.

Local enterprise shared substantially in the change—as exemplified by secondary industries, power plants and the cross-country railway.

Those engaged in the primary industry of fishing were not backward. Today, fresh fish is reaching markets in the western world and demand exceeds supply. Lobsters are shipped alive. Herring is cured in a variety of ways. Fish and fish offal, formerly discarded, are being converted into fish meal and fertilizer. Further, the methods of reaping the harvest of the seas have undergone changes that increase the catch, reduce the hazard and bring better returns.

Now the eyes of Canada's 10th province are focussed on Labrador where recent discovery of vast quantities of iron will mean a great deal in the development of Newfoundland's economy.

Autumn Colors Hit Cosmetics

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Color is bursting out all over this fall, not only in the landscape and the shop windows, but on the cosmetic counters as well. The light pinks, reds and corals used during the summer are giving way to tawny or vivid shades more in keeping with the autumnal atmosphere.

Because of the brilliance of the general color scheme, make-up is being coordinated with costume in order to avoid clashing.

If you have responded to the appeal of the tangerine, apricot and pumpkin shades so popular this season, choose your lipstick and rouge in a red with a tinge of orange.

Darker tones of make-up are gaining popularity, also. Rich, deep shades have been created to pace the new fashion trend toward elegance.

These include a new brown-red which complements the tortoise-shell tones ranging from amber to oxford brown.

GREETINGS FROM PETERBOROUGH

Iranians Careful To Avoid Grounds For Red Invasion

By ROBERT HEWETT.

JULFA, Iran, (AP). — Two bored-looking Russian soldiers lounge under a red metal sunshade at the far end of the little white bridge. A hundred yards away, at the near end of the bridge, an Iranian sentry wearing an American-made battle helmet paces back and forth behind a wooden barricade.

That's practically all the movement there is in the hot hours of the afternoon in this sleepy little border village. It's one of the many spots along the 600-mile frontier where wary Iranians are facing Red Army troops.

Tension has increased in Iran as a result of the Korean war. Iranians and western diplomats are wondering if this oil-rich country is next on the Communist timetable of aggression.

Most of Julfa's 500 inhabitants fled southward a month ago when rumors spread that the Russians were up to something across the narrow Araxes river that forms the boundary.

People Return

Almost all are back today. The rumors have died down.

Iranians here can't be described as jittery they are used to Russian pressure tactics. But they definitely are leaning backwards to avoid any action that the Russians could claim as provocation for a possible invasion.

The first correspondents permitted to visit the border area since the outbreak of war in Korea, although escorted by Lt.-Col. Gorgeen Soussanbari, chief of the Iranian border guard detachment at Julfa, were stopped twice at security checkpoints on the 90-mile trip from Tabriz, capital of Azerbaijan province.

Russians On Edge

At Julfa itself, they were barred from going up to the Iranian sentry post on the river bank and had to look it over from a spot 200 yards away.

"The Russians sometimes get excited and shoot," Col. Soussanbari explained.

A few hundred yards to the east is another bridge for the broad-gauge railroad which runs from Tabriz in Iran and connects with the Russian trans-Caucasian line.

No trains cross the boundary these days but Iranians can watch Russian trains puff along the Trans-Caucasion line. Informed sources report there have been extensive movements of troop trains and others carrying weapons in recent months but add there is nothing to indicate any unusual buildup of strength.

Troops In Pass

The only point at which Iranian troops in any strength were seen was in a strategic mountain pass 12 miles south of the border, called in Persian "The Pass of the Assassins."

Informed sources say the 150,000-man Iranian Army has prepared defensive positions all along the border but apparently such positions are well back from the frontier.

Just how effective the Iranian army would be in opposing a full scale Russian invasion is the No. 1 guessing game here. If the Russians came in forces—with parachute troops to seize advance points—some military observers believe the Red army could knife through to the big oil fields in southern Iran in from two days to two weeks.

Class of Five All Fail Matriculation Exams

HAVELOCK, Sept. 7 (ENS) — Five pupils who tried their Upper School examinations at the Norwood High School all failed, Principal S. S. Breckon reported to the Norwood District High School Board Tuesday.

Mr. Breckon said the teaching staff was not responsible for the poor showing. He said class was made up of a group of unprogressive students who had come up through the school.

He felt the poor results were also partly the fault of the students' parents who did not realize their responsibilities.

The principal reported to the board that 121 pupils enrolled the first day at the High School and he expected more would enter this week.

R. McMillan White has been added to the High School's teaching staff to replace Miss Jacomb who resigned last year.

Clarence Copp reporting for the property committee said that repairs had been made to the roof of the Norwood High School. Plaster had been replaced in some rooms and defective furnace pipes replaced.

He reported that the property committees of the High School and public schools had held a joint meeting and agreed on the division of the school property. Lot 26 and one third of lot 25 would be assigned to the high school. The board adopted the report.

A letter was read from Ralph Cuthbertson of Norwood regarding a piece of land for the school site. He advised the board that he could not state a price until the Norwood village council stated who was the owner of Elm street.

Elm street which borders on the fair grounds and Mr. Cuthbertson's farm is a closed street, to which Mr. Cuthbertson claims ownership. Until this complication can be cleared up no price can be stated.

Chairman E. T. Buck and the secretary H. W. Roche were instructed to meet the Norwood village council at their first meeting to obtain action on the board's request to open up Elm street.

The chairman and secretary were then to interview Mr. Cuthbertson regarding price. A special meeting of the board would then be called.

The board adopted a 20-year debenture plan to provide money for a new high school. The total amount of the loan sought will be $478,625.

Principal Caskey of the Havelock High School reported that he had an enrollment of 81 for school opening.

Examination results showed that a high percentage of pupils had passed and that the school had enjoyed a good year. The attendance showed an increase of nine over last yer.

Say Fruit Crop Prospects Better Than One Month Ago

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (CP) — Though prospects have improved slightly during the last month, Canada's fruit crops this year will be down from a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday in its third estimate of fruit production in Canada.

All tree-fruit and grape crops showed improvement with the exception of apples and pears. The apple and pear crops are estimated to be three-per-cent lighter than that anticipated in July.

The apple crop, currently set at 15,209,000 bushels, will be 16 per cent below the 1949 harvest of 18,151,000. The drop is expected to result from poorer prospects in Nova Scotia where high winds and severe scab infestation have reduced both the size and quality of the fruit.

The crop in Ontario and British Columbia showed some improvement during the month. Prospects in New Brunswick and Quebec remained unchanged

30% Lower

The anticipated pear harvest is set at 703,000 bushels, 30 per cent lower than last year's crop of 1,000,000. Plums are also down sharply this season, the current estimate of 519,000 bushels being 37 per cent below the 1949 level of 827,000. But seven per cent higher than was expected last month.

The peach crop shows a minor upward revision since July at 1,160,000 bushels. The crop, however, still is well below the 1949 harvest of 2,011,000.

Apricots remained unchanged since last month at 12,000 bushels. The cherry estimate, on the other hand, has been revised upward to 324,000 bushels, an increase of four per cent. A five-per-cent improvement in grape prospects since July brings this year's crop to 68,642,000 pounds or 34 per cent more than last year's harvest of 51,104,000.

Kaiser Grants 12-Cent Boost

DETROIT, Sept. 7 — (AP). — Kaiser-Frazer Corporation and the United Automobile Workers Union signed an agreement Wednesday night giving some 16,000 production workers an increase of 12 cents an hour.

Eight cents of that was a cost-of-living wage boost. The other four cents represented an improvement factor increase, due June 1, 1951, but to be paid immediately.

The improvement factor, written into the Kaiser-Frazer-UAW contract along with a cost-of-living escalator clause, also provides four-cent hourly boosts on June 1 of 1952, 1953 and 1954.

In addition the new agreement provided an extra five cents an hour for skilled workers and upped vacation pay and night premium pay.

The adjustable cost-of-living feature was identical to the General Motors and Ford agreements.

Fire Chiefs Take Welland Special

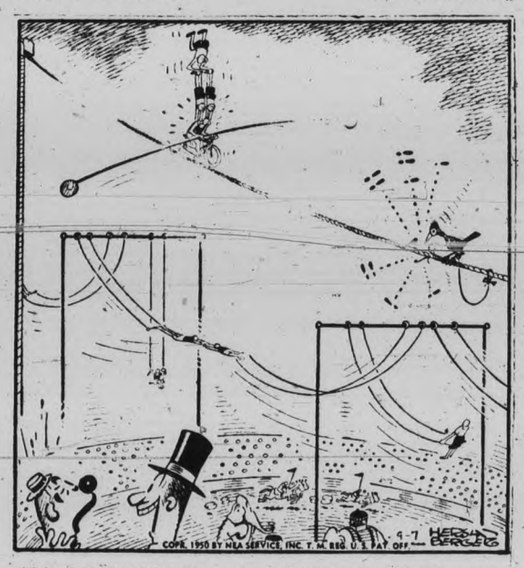
VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 7 (CP) — "The Welland Special," a train which doesn't exist, has made history at the annual convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs.

More than 40 Ontario delegates had already purchased their tickets to Victoria when the rail strike occurred. The fire chiefs were about to forget about the convention when James Arnott of Toronto, started organizing.

He wired Chief Robert T. Brindle of Victoria that Ontario would be well represented. Then he took charge of getting refunds from the Canadian rail lines for the delegates and set about making reservations on American lines.

"He took care of every detail. We were like one big happy family all the way," said one Ontario delegate.



For his efforts, Mr. Arnott Wednesday was presented with a gift from the Ontario delegates.

The train on which the delegates travelled had no special name, but it always will be the "Welland Special" to most Ontario delegates. The name was adopted because many delegates started from Welland.

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

Conservation is a frequently-used word these days in Ontario. Nor are we awakening to the seriousness of the situation a minute too soon. The increasing evidence of soil erosion, floods and poor soil management is appalling. As I travel the province, the signs of increased pride in our homes thrills me but bare hillsides, deep gulleys and rich soil deposited in hollows modify my feelings of jubilation.

Even the urban dweller can do his part to help the situation by maintaining soil fertility and planting trees. There is no need to wait until next spring to plant one, as most will do well when planted in September.

Rimmed

If you look longingly at andirons and fire baskets for your fireplace but decide they're still beyond the budget, try this simple suggestion picked up while visiting a friend's cottage. An old steel tire rim had been picked up at a junk yard and cut with a hack-saw as shown in the illustration. Placed in the fireplace, the rim was particularly effective and not unattractive. The open space permitted good draught and the rim made the task of cleaning out the ashes much lighter.

Jewel Boxes

Christmas is still a long way off but at least one person is thinking about it. I found my sister making jewel boxes as Yuletide gifts for a few of her friends. Tin powder boxes and cardboard cheese boxes were being transformed into attractive jewel cases. The bright plaid covering on some of the boxes was as eye-catching as the frugalness of the idea.

Ski Holder

If you have tripped over your skis all summer as they reclined in the corner of the garage, you'll be receptive to a suggestion for their storage. Try hanging them between the studs as shown in the illustration. I did and it has been marvellous.

Can't Make Out All The Hubbub

KAPUSKASING, Sept. 7 — Philip Tailleur still can't fathom all the hubbub. He and his two sons left Monday on a trout-fishing expedition. They got back Wednesday afternoon. When he trudged into town, Tailleur discovered that aircraft were scouring the woods for his party. Police, townsfolk and fellow workers were combing forest trails.

"We weren't lost," Tailleur said. "We walked a long way. We didn't catch any fish. We got tired. We slept in the bush."

Food and shelter? "We had heavy clothes. I kept a fire going for the boys (Denis, 15, and Ronald, 13). We had a couple of sandwiches. There were lots of wild berries."

Tailleur is at ease in the bush. The 63-year-old employee of Spruce Falls Pulp and Paper Co. has lived here since 1918. He knows most of the district trails and has acquired a mastery of bushlore.

"Lost? We could hear the trains and the factory whistles. We weren't lost."

Polished Briton Respected For His Polishing Off Malik

By SUMNER P. AHLBUM

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept.—(NEA)—A tall and haughty man with the polish of old-school diplomacy moved into the center of the stage at the United Nations Security Council this month.

Already something of a hero to the public who have watched, listened or read about his performance in the UN's crucial days since the Korean war began, Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb was taking over from a man who all through August seemed bent on becoming the villain of Lake Success.

Sir Gladwyn, along with the United States' Warren Austin and other delegates in supporting roles, had kept Russia's Jacob Malik from creating complete havoc as council president, although nobody could have kept him from being the villain he wanted to be.

A career man in the British Foreign Office for 26 years, Sir Gladwyn has had a finger in many big diplomatic pies, mostly as a consultant, although he served briefly in 1946 as secretary general to the United Nations organization he helped create.

Americans—and the rest of the world public, too—suddenly discovered Jebb at about the same time they were re-discovering the UN as something important to watch.

He had hardly sat down as successor to Sir Alexander Cadogan as chief British delegate when he touched off some fireworks by Egypt's Mahmoud Fawzi Bey, whom he chided for abstaining to vote for UN support of the South Koreans. His cool rebuttal quickly soothed the delegate from Cairo..

Since then, his Oxford accents around the oval council table and in the rambling halls of the UN's temporary home have won him respect as the council's most astute—and polished—phrasemaker.

The phrases, however, have not soothed Russia's Malik, whom Sir Gladwyn has stalked, verbally, with the same persistence he stalks stag back in the English countryside.

His initial broadside at Malik's cries of U.S. aggression in Korea reddened the face of the thick-skinned Russian. "The queer, upside-down language" of Soviet propaganda, Sir Gladwyn said, makes it seem as if we are "living in a rather nightmarish Alice-in-Wonderland world."

Malik winced again at Jebb's observation that Russian propaganda is "so obviously absurd that it is hard to think it can be swallowed even by the automatons who listen to the Moscow radio."

Even on Malik's last day with the gavel, Jebb gave him no peace, bowing the Russian out of office with these words:

"For the representative of a country which maintains millions of its own compatriots in slave labor camps in unspeakable conditions . . . to denounce other governments for alleged misdemeanors as regards political prisoners is just about as nauseating a spectacle as that of Satin rebuking sin."

Sir Gladwyn, 50 and unruffled, has been in big roles before. He was an adviser to Churchill at Yalta (where he helped pick the date for the opening UN conference at San Francisco by suggesting his own birthday—April 25). He helped draft the Italian peace treaty and is one of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's close advisers.

At Lake Success, however, he had captured the public. There have been telegrams a star would relish on opening night, such as one from Brooklyn which said "Bravo, bravo. You and your delegation are a credit to civilization."

He was even becoming something of a star on television, which has been keeping an eye on UN proceedings lately. "I'd rather watch Jebb than the wrestlers," one spectator said.

SECURITY COUNCIL HUDDLE—Left to right, Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Secretary-General Trygve Lie, and Egypt's Fawzi Bey. For Jebb, the debut was a soothing word for Cairo's delegate.

The decree affected some 11,000 monks and nuns outside the groups designated for teaching duties.

The decree followed a concordat concluded Aug. 30 between the Hungarian government and the Roman Catholic church of this country. The government promised to return to the Catholics eight former church schools in which monks and nuns will perform the teaching.

Whether the new regulation was a consequence of the new negotiations or a unilaterlal action of the government could not be immediately ascertained.

So Much Rain Grass Sprouts On Sheep Backs

By LOUIS L. LECK

SYDNEY, Australia—(CP)—There has been so much rain in New South Wales this winter that grass is growing on the sheep's backs. Burr and grass seeds caught in the wool have begun to sprout.

The flood conditions resulting from the rains have done uncounted damage—£5,000,000 $15,500,000) worth to roads alone.

Air Force and civilian aircraft have dropped hundreds of tons of food and fodder to outlying stations cut off for weeks by the slowly rising and slowly receding flood waters. Some farmers have been cut off for two months.

Trucks Bogged Down

One truck with a load of 50 bales of wool, worth about £3,000, was bogged down in the mud for six weeks near Boggabilla in the northwest part of the state. Hundreds of other trucks were bogged down for shorter periods.

Miles of fencing have been washed away and sheep flocks almost hopelessly intermixed.

Shearing has been delayed about eight weeks and the value of many wool clips was greatly reduced by water-staining, vegetable fault, matting and, worst of all, the effect of blow-fly strike.

Spokesmen say the floods will cost the wool industry of new South Wales £20,000,000 in loss of sheep, lowered wool quality, lambing deaths, hand-feeding and damage to fences and other station property.

Find State-Run Lotteries Very Popular In Australia

By LOUIS L. LECK

SYDNEY, Australia —(CP)—Australians like to gamble and they like lotteries. They like them so much that last year they brought 21,500,000 tickets in 214 drawings of the New South Wales Government Lottery.

They paid in £6,312,000 ($15,148,800) and received £4,024,000 in prizes. Allowing £136,000 for administration, that left a government revenue of £2,152,000 ($5,164,800).

The New South Wales Lottery is only one of several in Australia, but it is by far the largest. It was started in 1932 to provide funds for the state's public hospitals. Nowadays, however, only about half the profits go to the hospitals, the rest augmenting state coffers.

Tickets are 5s.6d. (66 cents) each and there are 100,000 in each drawing. First prize is £6,000, second £1,000, third £500, fourth £350, fifth £200. There are also 10 £100 prizes, 10 at £50, 10 at £40, 10 at £30, 15 at £20, 200 at £10, and 1,000 at £5.

About once a month there is a special lottery for which tickets are 10s. and first prize is £12,000.

Tickets can be bought through agents who accept orders and buy tickets in the names of their clients for delivery the next day. Winning numbers are drawn from a drum containing 100,000 numbered marbles.

Most offices have syndicates which buy a ticket or two each payday. Lottery tickets are often given as prizes on radio contests.

Two other states—Queensland and Western Australia—run government lotteries on a smaller scale, and in Tasmania a private concern runs periodic lotteries.

Strange feature of the whole business is that three states and Tasmania ban the sale of tickets for lotteries other than their own.

But people take little heed of that, because the commonwealth delivers letters from any source to the offices of the various lotteries. In fact, the demand for postal notes was so large that the post office issued a special 5s.6d note.

The nation's top golfers had gathered at Saint John, N.B. It was July 23, 1949 . . . and eight four-man teams were set to tee off. At stake was the annual inter-provincial golf team championship—classic struggle for the ownership of the Willingdon Cup.

Upsetting pre-tourney predictions, Quebec took the lead in the 36-hole contest. Ontario's last man on the 17th hole needed a 73 to even tie. In a brilliant last-ditch display he took a one-over-par 71. Ontario had won Canada's hardest-fought cup match.

Oshawa Edges Petes In 11th To Lead Senior Ball Series

OSHAWA, Sept. 7.—Shortly after midnight this morning, Playing Manager Sherry Rowland of the Oshawa Merchants slapped a scorching single into right field to score Harry Hill from second base with the run that gave the homesters a 7-6 victory over Peterborough, in the 11th inning of their third game in the Viaduct Major Baseball League 4-out-of-7 championship series.

Fourth game of the round will be played in Peterborough tonight and the balance of the series will be played off on the Millen Stadium diamond, in Toronto.

George Davidson for Oshawa and Bill Edger for the Liftlock City squad waged a torrid tussle for nine innings and then each gave away to a left hander. Davidson struck out 11 batters and gave up only three hits until the Petes nicked him for three straight singles to tie the score in the 9th. Two walks and Davidson's own error coupled with solid singles by Garvey and Stewart, gave the visitors a four-run splurge in the second frame, to take a 4-2 lead but they were never ahead after that. A brilliant throw from the outfield by Barnes nipped Edger trying to score from 3rd after the catch, to end that big rally.

Tied The Score

Petes tied the score in the 7th when Danny Brown walked and went to second on an error by Ticcony and scored when Al Menzies' sizzler caromed off 3rd baseman Rog Wood's chest, into the crowd that lined the base lines for Oshawa's first floodlight game.

In the 9th, after Oshawa had taken the lead again with a run in the 8th, Peterborough came up with three hits, a single by Joe Lowrey, a double by Brown and a single by Howie Dalton, all with one out. Lowrey scored on Dalton's blow but "Tommy" Thompson's spectacular throw to the plate nipped Brown trying to score from 2nd on the hit—and as it turned out, that brilliant throw saved the game for Oshawa.

Thompson's double in the first and single by Wood, followed by Rowland's single which scored Wood, gave Oshawa a 2-0 start. Hill doubled in the fourth and scored on George Ticcony's triple and in the fifth Ted Barnes hit a home run out of the park; then Thompson got his second hit, stole 2nd and 3rd and sprinted home on a wild pitch, the close decision being vigorously protested by Manager Eddie Murphy and Catcher Al Menzies.

Broke The Tie

In the eighth, Oshawa broke the 5-5 tie when Bitman got the first walk issued by Bill Luger and he moved on a passed ball and score on Vic Napolitano's scorching single.

Bill Dadson took over for Peterborough in the 10th when Ticcony singled and Napolitano walked with only one out. Jerry Creasy started the 10th for Oshawa and didn't yield a single hit. In the last of the 11th, Dadson fanned Thompson and Wood, then issued a walk to Harry Hill, who promptly stole second and came home when Rowland singled down the right field line.

Errors and walks made up for Peterborough's lack of hits and only the smart fielding plays of both teams prolonged the game into overtime. Thompson, Rowland and Ticcony each had two hits for the winners.

Hastings Victors

HASTINGS, Sept. 7 —(ENS)— Hastings staved off elimination in the OASA Junior "C" playdowns by handing Brooklin a decisive 9-3 defeat in Hastings park, after dropping the opener 6-5. Third and deciding game is slated for Cobourg, with the winner meeting Tweed.

West appeared completely recovered from his recent injury, handcuffing the Brooklin batters, and he gave up but three hits while setting down nine on strikes. His support was good, and after the kids got one run in the opener, they were never headed.

Goodwin, a left hander, started for Brooklin, but was taken out in favor of McKay in the fifth after giving up seven runs.

Thomas, who is playing his hottest ball of the season in the current series, provided the fielding gem of the game, a beautiful douple-play that nipped a Brooklin rally in the bud.

An anonymous letter writer has threatened the lives of four members of New York Yankees—Phil Rizzuto, Hank Bauer, Yogi Berra and John Mize.

A pencil scribbled note, postmarked at Hartford, Conn., was received by shortstop Rizzuto Wednesday night. It read, in part: "If the Yankees are still in the pennant race on the last two days of the season, and you dare to show up at Fenway Park to play the Red Sox, I have contrived to shoot you (Rizzuto), Bauer, Berra and Mize from the stands."

The letter was turned over to Boston police.

A team of Sunday golfers, marshalled by Dick Young, president of the Ontario Golf Association, overcame a 16-14 lead to surprise a group of professionals by winning the third annual amateur-pro match on a one-poin margin.

The amateurs won the tourney—for the Hulbert Memorial Trophy—by beating 20 members of the Professional Golfers' Association 30½ to 29½ at Islington, Ont.

After a 16-14 licking in the morning matches, the amateurs pulled up when Moe Norman, of Kitchen Rockway, and Emerson Creed, of London Hunt, came in 10 under par to score a 5 and 4 win over Jack Littler, of Oakdale, and Lou Cumming, of Toronto Golf.

Another win by Phil Farley, of Toronto, and Jack Nash, of London, over Gordon Brydson and Murray Tucker, of Toronto, cut the pros' lead to a single.

Nick Weslock, of Windsor, and Gerry Kesselring, of Kitchener, beat Bobby Gray and Dick Borthwick, of Toronto, in the tight final contest.

It was the amateurs' first win since the tournament began.

Ferman Hanover, owned by Cleo A. Young, of Timmonsville, S.C., Wednesday set a world record for three-year-old pacers of two minutes and two-fifths of a second for a mile.

The time clipped three-fifths of a second off the previous record, set in 1936 by Worthy Gratton.

Ferman Hanover, driven by Clint Hodgings, set the new mark in a $5,000 pace at the Syracuse State Fair.

Hamilton Slaters advanced into the finals of the Canadian National Exhibition softball championships Wednesday night when they won by default from Cobourg Orphans. The Cobourg club was unable to appear for the semi-final because of a previous engagement.

Slaters will meet the winners of a sudden-death semi-final game between Oshawa Pedlars and Toronto Hustlers. The finals will be played Saturday.

Pete Karpuk, fleet backfielder with Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four for the last two years, has been signed to play football for Riders again this fall.

Karpuk will don grid togs as soon as he finishes with Ottawa Nationals of the Border Baseball League, with whom he is shortstop. Earlier reports were that Karpuk might join Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Conference.

Sarnia Beavers, champions of the Canadian-American Lacrosse League, are slated to enter the intermediate A lacrosse playoffs. Ken Oliver, manager of the Beavers, announced that Sarnia will meet Dundas Bombers in a semi-final clash.

Expert Foresees No Shortage In U.S. Dairies

NEW YORK —(NEA)— Despite Korea, the US rearmament program and any further Red satellite aggression, there will be no shortage of milk and milk products.

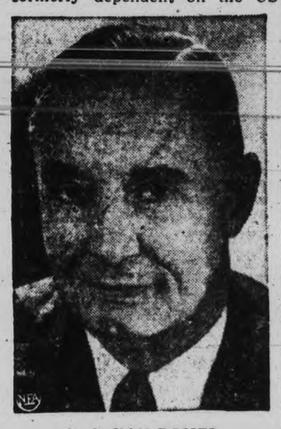
That's the conviction of L. A. Van Bomel, a top American food industrialist, with executive experience in two world wars behind him.

Van Bomel is president and chairman of the executive committee of National Dairy Products Corp., whose sales last year hit just under a billion dollars.

Among National Dairy's 65 subsidiaries are Sheffield Farms, Kraft Food Co., General Ice Cream Corp. and Southern Dairies.

In an exclusive interview, Van Bomel said "it seems unrealistic to me to foresee anything but plenty of dairy foods."

He added: "Nor can I visualize any shortage of butter and cheese such as existed in the last war.



"There are seasonal fluctuations in the fluid milk supply which is usually lower in the fall and more plentiful in the spring. This affects supply and prices, but I believe the industry can continue ian demands for fluid milk." to meet both military and civil-

The reasons for his confidence are:

1. Since the last war the US have accumulated terrific surpluses of many dairy foods, particularly dry milk, butter and cheese.

2. During the same period applied science has been improving pasturage. As a result, dairy farmers get a longer pasturage season and nutritionally better grasses. Dairy farming has become so profitable that most farms today are at least partially mechanized. Less labor therefore produces more milk.

4. Most European countries formerly dependent on the US for dairy products now can produce their own.

Military Needs

He admitted that military needs may reduce this surplus, and that manpower shortages may take men away from dairy farms into factories for higher wages unless government controls are applied straight across the board.

"No one can hold people in production with controlled sales prices unless wages are controlled at the same time," he explained.

He believes scientific research is a vital factor in both industrial progress and our national defense. His corporation spends over $4,000,000 annually on pure and applied research.

"Both the Department of Agriculture and industry have done so much through research to make dairy farming profitable that the average farm today has at least 10 cows," he said.

"In fact, there is now an average of one cow per family in the United States," Van Bomel pointed out. "That is significant in terms of possible war feeding because milk cows are now scientifically bred for better bone structure and body texture. When their milk producing days are ended, they become good meat. They no longer end up in the sausage factory."

He believes mechanization of dairy farms will play a steadying part in any manpower shortage even if total war should come.

"Today, with so many easy-to-manipulate farm machines, women can do 90 per cent of our farm work," he explained. "It is certainly no harder for a woman to drive the new tractors than it is to drive some of the old cars you see on the road."

Any upping in dairy products prices would depend on three factors, Van Bomel believes—"Labor, the government's price support program and any additional transportation costs caused by our accelerated rearmament program."

L. A. VAN BOMEL: Unrealistic to see anything but plenty.

Marbles Held Up

OTTAWA, Ill., Sept. 7 (AP).—Production of glass marbles for small-boy sharpshooters was halted Wednesday at the Peltier Glass Company by a strike of AFL employees. A spokesman for 60 members of the Flint Glass Workers of America affected, said a 10-cent hourly wage boost and other concessions are sought. The company, founded 60 years ago, is one of the United States biggest producers of "glassies," turning out several millions annually.

Emphasis On Farm Activities On Exhibition Agricultural Day

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (CP)—The emphasis at the Canadian National Exhibition swung today from agriculture to the country's transportation and communications systems.

A special luncheon was arranged to honor railway, airline, trucking and communications officials, together with commercial travellers.

Another big sports program also was planned, highlighted by the Canadian senior men's softball championship series between Vancouver Firemen and Toronto Peoples. The eastern champions boast two straight victories in the best-of-five series.

Agricultural activities and problems completely dominated Wednesday's program run off in brilliant sunshine. The day saw the total attendance for the first 11 days of the 14-day show zoom well past the 2,000,000 mark.

Attendance for the day was 151,000—a gain of 29,500 over last year's figure for the corresponding day. Total attendance for the year is 52,000 ahead of the 1949 mark.

Livestock Climax

Climaxing the annual CNE livestock show, close to $1,000,000 worth of livestock Wednesday were paraded before more than 3,000 spectators, including Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

Mr. Gardiner and Agriculture Minister Kennedy of Ontario presented trophies, ribbons and some $125,000 in prize money to the proud owners of livestock winning championships at the fair.

Mr. Gardiner told farmers that Canada was on the eve of a big increase in livestock production, particularly hogs. He urged the farmers to go in for bigger production and said returns on livestock "now are the highest ever obtained by farmers in Canada."

A tasty spice cake, shipped more than 2,000 miles to the exhibition, won a $100 prize and the CNE's golden wedding cake contest for Mrs. George Sterling, Westlock, Alta.

Arson Possibility

WHITBY, Sept. 7 (CP).—Provincial police said they are investigating the possibility of arson in connection with a $10,000 fire which destroyed the barn of Mike Shisko, two miles southwest of here.

To Keep Building Off Street Line Monaghan Road

Intention of the Peterborough Lumber Company to project their Monaghan Road building to the street line was not favorably regarded by the city planning committee who suggested to the council that a setback of 20 feet on that east side of the street should be maintained.

On that point the council adopted the report of the finance committee Tuesday night as follows: "That having considered the recommendation of the city planning board, the Peterborough Lumber Company be informed that providing their plans and specifications for the proposed building on Monaghan Road comply with the building bylaws and the building's location conforms with setback requirements, City Engineer Chalmers will be granted authority to issue the necessary building permit."

No Park

There was another reference to property in that area of Lansdowne St. and Monaghan Road in the finance committee report. The text was: "That the recommendation of the city planning board be not approved limiting the use of the property at the southwest corner of Lansdowne St. and Monaghan Road to park purposes, and that the property be not leased by the city."

That property was a gift to St. Peter's parish many years ago when its parish was the whole town. It is immediately south of St. Peter's Cemetery, and will likely some day become an extension of its burial ground.

There is no definite information before the city authorities as to what use it may serve in the near future, but it is not to be restricted to park purposes in that broad meaning of the term.

Special Account

Here is the clause relating to the financing of the floodlights at Riverside Park, previously reported: "That all expenditures made in conection with the floodlighting of Riverside Park be charged to a special account, and when the expenditures are complete the overdraft be repaid by the issuing and sale of short term debentures".

Ottawa Kitten!

An Ottawa kitten turned up in Peterborough today cold and hungry.

A Peterborough salesman phoned city police this morning to take in the orphan after he found him in a car he had driven from Ottawa for his employer.

His employer's children had found the stray kitten, played with it for some time around their father's car. Later the kitten was missing and a search for it was fruitless.

The local salesman then drove the car to Peterborough for his boss and discovered the kitten this morning meowing in his car. It was turned over to Humane Society Inspector Gerald Dunford.

Plan To Bring Israeli Group Local Concert

In the city today, to arrange for bringing a distinguished concert group to Peterborough shortly, is M. Ladsky, Canadian director of the American Fund for Israeli Institutions. A dinner meeting is being held tonight with community leaders to plan the concert which will bring a nucleus of the Israeli Symphony Orchestra to the city.

This famed symphony orchestra which has been under the baton of Toscanini, is to tour the continent early next year, with Serge Koussevitsky conducting. It will play in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Oshawa.

M. LADSKY

Mr. Ladsky, himself a citizen of Israel, says: "We have decided not to ignore the smaller Canadian cities and therefore are bringing a group of four outstanding artists to numerous places. Already details have been completed for appearances in a dozen Maritime centres, and, in Ontario, at Windsor, Hamilton, London, St. Catharines, Kitchener and Kingston."

Tonight's meeting will arrange details of bringing the group to Peterborough.

Among the artists are Zvi Zeitlin, virtuoso violinist of the Israeli Symphony Orchestra, who has played in various capitals, and with Koussevitsky. Pianist will be the brilliant composer and keyboard expert Robert Starr, whose works have been played in Palestine and broadcast over the BBC.

Of special interest in the group is Zamira Gon, an interpretive dancer who has danced from Broadway to Carnegie Hall, and has appeared on Broadway, with Paul Muni. Ingrid Rypinski, mezzo-soprano, is the fourth of the group. She has given recitals in Carnegie Hall, New York, and abroad.

The American Fund for Israeli Institutions, of which Mr. Ladsky is Canadian director, sponsors 89 cultural and artistic institutions in Israel, of which the Israeli Philharmonic Orchestra and the Habimah theatre are two.

Plywood Cakes To Hang Over Central Corners

Eight plastic and plywood cakes, each with a hundred candles, will decorate Peterborough's main intersections for the remainder of the year.

The brainchildren of Ross Dobbin's utilities staff, the cakes—marking Peterborough's centennial—are being made at the filtration plant, and are painted by Harris and Boddy.

First one was put up Wednesday at Charlotte and George, a second today at Simcoe and others will hang in place as soon as they are built and painted.

Illuminated

Inside each of the three layers of each cake is a hundred-watt bulb, and around the bottom layer the words: "100th Anniversary."

The cakes are white with red and blue decorations, and red script lettering. The candles are red with yellow flames.

City clerk E. A. Outram said the cakes will hang at the intersections for the remainder of the year. "I think they'll brighten the place up and help business along, too," he said.

Open Nursery School With Two In Charge

The Dixon House nursery school will open September 18, Alex Sinclair, recreation director, announced today. Twenty children will be admitted to the morning and afternoon classes which will be conducted between 9 a.m. and 11.30 a.m., 1.30 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Mrs. Jack Taylor (Joyce Wyatt) who conducted the school in its first year of operation, will once again be in charge of the activities with the assistance of Miss Jeanne Stewart.

Mr. Sinclair explained that there will be no change in the monthly fee of $5.50 for the morning class and $4.50 for the afternoon. Applications are now being received.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

CLEARING HOUSE FIGURE

Bank clearing house figure for the week ending Wednesday, September 6, was $3,046,641.

FEWER TOURISTS

Tourist trade is slacking off. On George St. between Charlotte and Hunter streets today, there were five U.S. cars—three from New York, and one each from Ohio and Pennsylvania.

SUPREME COURT OVER

The current jury sittings of the Supreme Court for Peterborough ended Wednesday afternoon, after an unusually short (two days) session. There were no jury cases and no criminal cases. Principal actions were two damage suits over car accidents.

CLEAN OUT CHIMNEYS

The job of being a fire chief entails not just fighting fires but preventing them. That's the opinion of Fire Chief George Smith. Because of this he is asking home owners to clean out their chimneys and furnace pipes before the cold weather arrives. If this is done there will be a lot fewer chimney fires this coming winter.

GUARD BEACHES

Lifeguards will patrol the Inverlea and Riverside beaches only on the weekends Alex Sinclair, recreation director, said today. Guards Gerard Armstrong at Riverside, Barry Hollingsworth and Donald Wood at Inverlea, will be on duty between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m.

SPLENDID LAWNS

De Laval Company and Martin-Hewitt factory lawns are at the peak of their trimness. They were never greener all season, not even in spring, a major element of the attractiveness of that locality including Elmwood Park of A. Wander Co., Ltd., the trees and boulevards of Prince and Princess Streets and finally the grounds of King Edward School. That impressive neighborhood asset extending from Romaine St. to Lansdowne St., lacks completion in a neglected stretch of frontage north of Martin-Hewitt's lawn. It appears to be an under-privileged spot, that may have grown quite a crop of quack grass.

Church Organist For 30 Years Mrs. Logan Dies

Organist at All Saints' Anglican Church for 30 years, Mrs. Agnes Helen Logan, 210 McDonnel St., wife of the late William Allison Logan, died Wednesday at her home.

She was born in Cardinal, Ont., in 1866 and lived in Prescott until 1909. In that year, her husband, a civil engineer, moved to the Trent Canal office in Peterborough.

An accomplished organist and pianist, she first played at All Saints' Church in 1920, and continued as organist there until April of this year, when she retired because of poor health.

She was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, and of her the Rev. C. G. Boyd said: "Mrs. Logan was loved by all who knew her. She was always interested in the activities of the congregation."

Mrs. Logan's musical interests and ability made her widely known. She had played a prominent part in the city's music over the last 30 years. Two of her daughters, Agnes Logan Green, pianist, and Mrs. Percy Hooper, violinist, are accomplished musicians.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. A. L. Sutherland, Toronto; Mrs. C. E. Steele, Kentucky; Mrs. T. P. Hooper, and Mrs. F. J. Green, both of Peterborough; one son, George C., of Toronto, and one brother, Edwin S. Thompson of Prescott.

A private funeral service will be held Friday at her home, conducted by the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite of All Saints' Church, and the Rev. C. G. Boyd, of St. Paul's Church. Burial will be in Cardinal Saturday afternoon.

Approval Asked On School Cost $450,000

Ratepayers will be asked to vote at the December municipal elections on a bylaw authorizing construction of a new collegiate institute in the former Monaghan section of the city.

Authority will actually be given to issue debentures for the project. Board of Education is now completing plans and estimates of cost. This was one of the recommendations of the finance committee adopted by the council Tuesday night. It was passed at the request of the Board of Education who in the financing of the new school wished to submit the undertaking to the public.

Board of Education has been confronted in recent years with an increasing problem of accommodation and efficiency at the Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. The conditions and circumstances were explained to the council some weeks ago by a deputation of the board in setting out the necessity of preparing for expansion of secondary school facilities in Peterborough.

An estimate of the cost of the proposed new collegiate is around $450,000 including site, building and furnishings. It would comprise gymnasium and sixteen class rooms for the regular studies with shop and science rooms.

Plans Approved

The Department of Education has already approved the preliminary plans of the board, which is meeting Monday night for study of the sketch plans which are expected from the architect.

Collegiate Institute and Vocational School has at present between 300 and 400 students more than the accommodation they require for the effective maintenance of the school's established standards.

The new collegiate would provide for a total enrolment of 500 students, and would be designed for expansion in the future.

Mr. K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools under the Board of Education, said today that the seriousness of the problem of accommodation presented itself more acutely than ever with the opening of the new school year on Tuesday.

"With such an excess attendance," he said, "we had to make a choice of staggering periods on an extended schedule from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. or arranging for study periods in the auditorium. We decided on the latter course because we have many students from outside the city, and the longer school day would interfere with their means of bus transportation. So, we have just done the best we could by running some of the classes and shop work on some overtime basis."

A Real Need

Mr. Wightman said there was no doubt about the reality of this problem of secondary school facilities. Public School attendance this term began with an increase of 250 more than at the beginning of the vacation time.

The city was steadily growing, and there was every expectation that as the groups of children move upward and onward through the primary studies, the collegiate situation would be aggravated. He remarked that that assignment of study periods to the collegiate auditorium could be readily imagined by the public as not conducive to the efficiency of the school, but that expedient had to be adopted and is now in the first week of the school year.

The proposed site is west of Monaghan Road and south of Gillespie St. in the last of the housing subdivisions developed by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

City council was required to provide the best land for those houses, and in its purchases the council contemplated school needs arising out of new population in that broad expansion south of Lansdowne St.

So, the council consulted the Board of Education whose estimate of needed ground was about sixteen acres. The acquisition of land was then enlarged to take in the Hughes car-wrecking place, which has yet to be appropriated, and it is in that general location the required collegiate will be built if the board received the approval of the ratepayers in December.

JUMPED THE GUN

The State of Rhode Island adopted a resolution renouncing allegiance to the British king and government on May 4, 1776, two months before the Declaration of Independence.

4 Youths In Madoc Holdup Face Total of 18 Charges Wanted In Various Centres

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 7—(Special)—The four youths charged with a $50 holdup two weeks ago from a Madoc garage were today further remanded for sentence by Magistrate T. Y. Wills. Further charges of auto theft were laid against three of them today as a result of information from Toronto police.

The three, Orville King, 18, Toronto, Thomas Henry, 22, Toronto, and Johnny DeSeno, 18, Oshawa, pleaded guilty to that charge, and one of theft of license plates.

The three, along with William Bailey, 18, Kingston, faced a total of 18 charges, including attempted armed robbery and theft. Bailey was not involved in the charges laid in Toronto.

Magistrate Wills said he would deal with their cases before September 12, but did not set a date on which he would give sentence.

The four youths were arrested early in the morning of August 21 after provincial police sought them for eight hours in connection with the theft of $50 from a garage in Madoc. All have records.

Bobby Clark Back At Warsaw

Bobby Clark has arrived back home at Warsaw from Civic Hospital, handicapped for life by the amputation of his left arm at the shoulder. There will probably be no more climbing apple trees by Master Clark.

It will be recalled that he fell out of a tree at Warsaw weeks ago. Distressful circumstances wnich just can't be told resulted in gangrene infection from a fracture of his left arm. Sympathy of the Women's Institute of Warsaw responded to his grievous need, aggravated by domestic straits. They opened a fund in his behalf, and appealed to the public for donations. The Examiner has been co-operating with them here in the city.

Supreme Court Awards $4,500 For Car Injuries

When no defence was offered in a damage action case Wednesday, Chief Justice James C. McRuer awarded Walter Purdy, 550 Reid St., $4,500 for crippling injuries received in a car accident July 9, 1949, on the Lakefield highway.

Mr. Purdy, who was in the lumber business, spent six months in hospital with compound fractures of both ankles and chest injuries. He is now confined to his home and is only able to move about in a wheel chair or with the direct assistance of another person.

Probably the 73-year-old man will be unable to walk properly again.

The accident was on highway 28, a few miles north of Peterborough.

Mr. Purdy was driving south toward Peterborough, accompanied by two Haliburton youths, when it was alleged that a northbound car driven by Clarence Markwick, then a Lakefield resident, crashed into his car. The Purdy vehicle was completely wrecked and Purdy sustained the serious chest and ankle injuries.

Admitted Liability

Gordon H. T. Farquharson, representing the Attorney General, said the defence admitted liability. Only the plaintiff's case was heard so the chief justice could assess damages.

Purdy obtained judgment for the $4,500, and $400 costs. He will likely take legal action to receive this amount through the unsatisfied judgments fund.

W. J. Arthur Fair, K.C., represented Purdy.

Retiring 2nd Generation Pensioner

John Barnes, 729 Franks St., has retired on pension from the CGE after 32½ years employment. He is being feted tonight by a number of his fellow employees at a dinner to be held in the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Barnes' father, William Barnes, who died in 1933, was also a CGE pensioner. This is the first time at the Peterborough works that two successive generations have become pensioners.

A designer by trade, Mr. Barnes came to the Peterborough works in 1917 and first worked as a draftsman under the late Enos Maybee. While in the mechanical department he designed much of the special machinery and boiler equipment still used in the plant.

More recently he has been calculating load capacities for presses, cranes and crane equipment. And he has been a helpful counsellor for younger men.

To Canada 1910

He was born in Radcliffe, Lancashire, and came to Canada in 1910. Two of his sons—Jack and Cyril—are with the local plant, and his third son Clarence is on the staff of the Department of National Revenue, Ottawa. His daughter Eunice is the wife of Vic Ridley who is employed in the machine shop.

Having tucked away his sketch pad and slide rule Mr. Barnes is settling down to a life of ease in retirement.

14 Family Court Offshoots Routine Tale of Local Woe

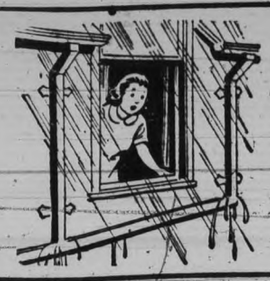
The names of fourteen children passed, unnoticed through the gristmill of the council at this week's meeting. They were written in the file of orders from the Family Court.

Four of these children were made permanent wards of the Children's Aid Society. Ten become temporary wards. And a sizable boy was committed to Bowmanville Boys School as a juvenile delinquent. Five children of one family have become a care and responsibility of the CAS and are now temporary wards.

It is the custom of the council merely to receive these records of the Family Court, and their pitiable stories of desertion, betrayal, illegitimacy in some instances, and want and poverty in most of them.

Two of the unmarried mothers in this wretched company were girls in their early twenties and of alien names. They were from Central Europe. They told Magistrate Philp in the Family Court that they could not take care of their babies, apparently unwanted and accidental, and they were given ful consent to the order of the court placing the children in family homes permanently.

Members of the council are not interested in these chapters of woe. The court record and transcripts of the evidence merely constitute the basis of information of the circumstances by which the city becomes liable for the statutory levy of the community for the support of the children who are reported as awards, and for whom certain costs of maintenance have to be levied on the community.



The file of these orders appeared to be considerably bulkier than usual.

A notation common to several of the reports was: "Name of father not determined." The names of the children of the record were those of the mothers.

Benny To Take Big Jump To Television

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 7 (AP)—Jack Benny announced today he is going to take the big jump into television.

The fiddle-murdering comedian will make his regular television debut October 29. The show will be for his radio sponsor and he will do three others this season, at intervals of eight weeks. I asked him how he picked his timing.

"I have to go to New York for the television shows," he explained. "That means I will have to tape-record my airshow a week in advance so I can get away. If I tried to do do this every four weeks it would be too much. So my sponsor and I agreed on every eight weeks."

Debut Last Year

Last year Benny made his TV debut on a program to dedicate a local station. He views his new program with this philosophy:

"I don't say that I am going to be any better than anyone else on television, but on the other hand, I see no reason why I should be worse, either."

What about the format?

"I'll do an hour-long show. It will be variety entertainment with perhaps a scene from my radio program....

"People tell me that television is a completely new medium. I don't think so. I'm gong to give them the same kind of entertainment I do on stage appearances. It's the same type of show I used to do at the Orpheum in vaudeville days."

TV Future

Benny foresees the day when he will give up radio entirely.

"It would be hard to do both radio and TV and make both of them good," he said. "And perhaps radio will not be able to afford a show like mine. After all, the others on my show are stars in their own right and have their own shows."

SHEERER STOCKINGS

The apparent lower quality of present-day nylon stockings is due to the fact that nearly half the nylons sold today are of 15-denier—twice as sheer as the sheerest available in early post-war days.

THE HIGH COST OF LIVING in Canada was felt by the Spanish freighter Monte Monjuich. For years the officers and crew of the ship have been purchasing cows at various ports they touch, to provide them with fresh meat on the voyage home. But the stalls, built on the ship to house the beef until the sea-going executioner is ready to go to work, are empty because of the high price of Canadian cattle. The ship sails in a few days from Montreal with a grain cargo for her homeland.

Fire Chiefs Protest Japanese Lighters

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 7 (CP)—Restrictions on importing of certain types of Japanese lighters will be requested by the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs.

Delegates to the association's annual convention Wednesday unanimously adopted a report on the subject from Chief Arthur Burch of St. Catharines, fire prevention committee chairman.

Chief Burch said the lighters are constructed to look like tripod cameras. When one falls, he said, the lid flies open and ignites the lighter, constituting a definite fire hazard.

BEST MATERIALS

Most popular woods used by French-Canadian wood carvers are basswood, white and yellow pine and walnut.

Worked 42 Years On Railroad E. Seeney Quits

HAVELOCK, Sept. 7—(ENS)—Ernest W. Seeney, car repairer with the Canadian Pacific Railway here, ended almost 42 years with the railroad when he came off duty at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Mr. Seeney began work with the CPR Dec. 24, 1908, as a coal man, shovelling coal from cars to the shoots where locomotives were supplied. The late Samuel McGill was his foreman and Edward Murphy was the locomotive foreman at that time.

He remained in the coal department until January 29, 1910, when he was given employment in the car department and classed as a car repairer.

The late Francis Voyer was his foreman then. He served as car repairer until superannuated.

Mr. Seeney has always taken a keen interest in municipal affairs and has served on the town council for 17 consecutive years, 10 years as reeve and seven years as councillor. When he retired at the end of 1945 the town was free of debenture debt. He was warden of Peterborough County in 1941 and the last three years he was in office he was elected by acclamation.

Police Boat Covers A Long Beat

VANCOUVER (CP). — A 93-mile nautical beat where tots may be "lost at sea" or sailors stranded on sand bars is the responsibility of two Vancouver City constables.

In their 40-foot police crash boat, John Knight and Roy Chapman are protectors of the city's harbor front water line. They've done the job so well that when two years ago the service was eliminated as too expensive, the outcry brought them back in two months.

Both Constable Knight, who skippers the former RCAF crash boat, and Constable Chapman were sailors before they joined the force.

It comes in handy. Skipper Knight usually handles the two-motor craft in rescuing stranded sailors or persons overboard while Chapman lugs them aboard. In the harbor mouth's trick waters, there isn't usually more than one chance to get near the swimmers.

Emergency Work

They have had to act as emergency lighthouse keepers and search for missing children — in all likelihood playing pirate somewhere along the harbor line — as far away as Nanaimo, 30 miles across the Gulf of Georgia on Vancouver Island.

Their work calls for such incidental knowledge as the facts a rip tide may travel six knots an hour through the harbor mouth and that an ebb tide combined with a west wind makes conditions far worse.

Marine men consider their work "absolutely essential" — especially boat livery operators who day in and out are in touch with weekend sailors handling small craft.

Two-Headed Meters

VANCOUVER (CP). — Vancouver is experimenting with double-headed parking meters on a single post which allows one machine to every two parking spaces. Public opinion, officials say, will decide whether they order 1,000 of them.

Aussie Farm To Produce One Million Trout Yearly

MELBOURNE (CP). — Australia's largest fish hatchery, built to raise 1,000,000 trout a year, will be opened shortly at Snob's Creek in Central Victoria.

The $168,000 hatchery built by the Victorian Government covers 300 acres and is on a large tributary of the Goulburn River.

Its site was specially chosen because it has two qualities desirable for trout culture: slightly acid water from the creek suitable for hatching eggs and slightly alkaline water from the river good for rearing young fish.

One experiment to be made at Snob's Creek is reduction of cannibalism among trout. In an arrangement of circular connecting ponds strung along the creek, the upper ponds will be reserved for the smaller fish.

Wire screens of varying meshes will regulate the passage of fish, according to their size, from pond to pond so that the smaller the fish, the higher they will be allowed to go.

By thus using the habit of trout swimming up stream, it is estimated the usual low survival rate will be raised to about 80 per cent.

Rainbow and Brown trout are already well established in most ponds and streams of the eastern Australian states. These are stocked from hatcheries in Tasmania and New Zealand, but the Victorian project at Snob's Creek is more ambitious than anything previously attempted.

The hatchery will also be used to breed native varieties of fish such as Murray Cod, MacQuarrie Perch, Golden Perch and Blackfish. The decline in these varieties has caused state fisheries authorities grave concern in recent years.

From this state-sponsored experiment, the authorities hope that fish farming will be evolved as a part of general farming. Land farmers, especially in the irrigation areas, will be encouraged to breed fish of all varieties to help restock rivers, streams and lakes in all parts of the Commonwealth.

Letters Introduced In Murder Trial

TORONTO, Sept. 7—(CP)—A thick stack of letters written by an RCAF veteran to his estranged wife have been introduced as evidence in his appeal against a death sentence for her murder.

The letters, written by 29-year-old James Fosbraey from England to his wife in Napanee during the month before he arrived in Napanee and stabbed her to death last November were presented by defence counsel W. B. Williston to the Ontario Court of Appeal as evidence of insanity and provocation. If the appeal fails, Fosbraey is scheduled to be hanged Sept. 21.

Mr. Williston noted Wednesday that the letters, more than 80 in number, contained threats against the woman's life as well as threats of suicide. Fosbraey had gone to England promising to obtain a divorce with money his wife had given him, but later changed his mind and deluged her with letters pleading for a reconciliation.

"The letters were most violent at times," Mr. Williston told the court. "He called her vile names and charged adultery."

But he added that there were no threats in the later letters.

The hearing before five appeal court justices is continuing. It is expected that a decision may be handed down late today.

Send Papers By Taxi If Newsboy Slips Up

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP). —Subscribers to The Prince Albert Daily Herald will receive their paper by taxi if the newsboy slips up.

Because "mistakes will happen," the newspaper announced that subscribers not receiving their paper by 7 p.m. should advise The Herald by telephone.

As rapidly as such calls can be handled, a taxi concern will use its radio-dispatching service to have delivery made by cab.

Thumbing Decried By Youth Official

BERKHAMSTED, Hertfordshire, England (CP).—Hitch-hiking can be harmful, says E. St. John Catchpool, secretary of a British youth movement.

Criticizing what he called the "false rumors" spread by praising the spirit of adventure in hitch-hiking, Catchpool told an International Youth Hostel Conference that people who travelled "on their thumbs" were made to appear almost heroic in the newspapers.

He suggested a country-wide "Youth Saving for Travel" scheme and cheaper rail-and-boat fares would counteract the trend. Otherwise, he said:

"Hitch-hiking may, if not faced squarely, lead to a 'something for nothing' attitude and loss of self-respect."

Howe Expected To Take Hand In Joint Planning

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (CP)—Trade Minister Howe soon will take a direct hand in joint Canada-United States industrial mobilization planning in a drive to get the plans approved by the United States and Canadian governments, officials said today.

A set of principles on which the planning was to be based was worked out by the joint mobilization committee here Aug. 8 and officials disclosed that they still have not been approved by the United States government.

The Canadian government, it was indicated, likely will await U.S. approval before it endorses the principles.

Mr. Howe, it was indicated, has informed U.S. authorities that he would like to step into the committee membership, replacing Sydney D. Pierce, former associate deputy minister of trade.

Ironing Out Details

Norman Chappell, member of the trade department's industrial defence branch, now is believed to be in Washington, ironing out some industrial planning details.

The general planning itself likely will have to await approval of the principles which are believed to include:

1. That the U.S. agree to withdraw the buy-American act of 1934 which restricts purchases by the U.S. forces to U.S. shores.
2. That the U.S. agree to eliminate high tariffs on Canadian armaments.
3. That both countries avoid discrimination in allocation of materials among war factories in the two countries.
4. Creation of bi-lateral economic controls on priorities and allocations of strategic raw materials.

URBAN LIFE

In spite of South Australia's large agricultural industry, more than half its population of 658,000 live in the capital of Adelaide (population 382,604).

Kremlin Gleams As Gilt Towers Fully Restored

MOSCOW, Sept. 7— (AP) — Workers Wednesday completed their four-year job of restoring the walls and glittering towers of the 450-year-old Kremlin — the heart of Moscow and once its bastion of defense.

In past centuries the ravages of time and wars on the famed Byzantine fortress have been repaired, but never so thoroughly as the job just finished. Even repairs done after Napoleon blew up the walls were not as complete as today's work.

Along the nearly two miles of thick walls masons and stone cutters have put in 600,000 new bricks. Steeplejacks have scaled the bulging, oriental towers to gild the copper decorations. Stone figures of strange beasts and allegorical figures have been restored. New glazed tiles cover the roofs. The casements which Peter the Great made wider have been restored to their original narrow shapes.

Most delicate job to challenge the workers was repairing Spaski Tower—one of the highest in the Kremlin — while the huge old clock by which all Russia sets its watches, kept running without losing a single second.

EGYPTIAN BRUSHES

The earliest - known paint brushes, as used by the Egyptians, were made of reeds which were soaked in water and split into minute fragments.

RICH WATCH—Time-telling is just a breeze for this wrist piece worn by Joan Evans in Chicago. Besides telling time—with a sundial—the piece includes a compass, weather forecaster, magnifying glass, ballpoint pen, constellation chart, Morse code chart and plastic tape measure.

Egypt Again Encouraging Search For Oil By Foreign Companies

By GILBERT SEDBON

CAIRO — (Reuters)—Egypt is again encouraging foreign aid in the search for oil.

For about two years the Egyptian government had refused to issue new prospecting licences. Now permission has been given to continue the task of seeking new sources of supply.

Much oil is believed to lie beneath the wind-blown sands of the Sinai desert on the eastern shore of the Gulf of Suez and in the eastern desert stretching from the Suez down to the Red Sea frontier between Egypt and the Sudan.

Need Products

Exploitation of this wealth could give Egypt petroleum products she needs urgently and help materially in the country's industrial development.

Oil production in Egypt is at present about 2,250,000 tons a year.

The government's quota is 15 per cent of the total annual oil extract and it has also the right to purchase the remainder.

Contracts already concluded between the government and oil companies operating in certain areas provide that the government can buy one-tenth of the quantities extracted at 10 per cent less than the market value.

The quantity which can be purchased by the government amounts in other areas to 20 per cent at a similarly reduced price.

Handicapped By Delay

The leading foreign oil companies in Egypt—Anglo-Egyptian Oilfields Limited, and the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company—have been recently greatly handicapped in their activities by government delays in issuing prospecting licences. The companies applied more than 15 months ago. There was a danger, in fact, that Anglo-Egyptian Oilfields would follow the example of Standard oil Company and withdraw their exploration teams from Egypt.

Such a decision resulting from the non-co-operatiive attitude of the government would virtually have meant the end of major oil exploration in Egypt.

Two-Fold Demands

The foreign oil companies have been urging the Egyptian Government to extend their prospecting area in the hope of increased advantages both to the government and the companies themselves. Officials of the companies state that they have spent millions of dollars on exploration and prospecting, and their demands on the government were two-fold:

1. They asked to be allowed to transfer at least part of their profits to their headquarters outside Egypt.

2. They asked to be allowed to export oil in excess of Egyptian domestic requirements.

So far, the Egyptian government has refused to accede to both these demands but now there are signs of a relaxation in this attitude.

Nellist Funeral

The Rev. B. S. Morwood, of Mark St. United Church, assisted by the Rev. E. Rowland, of Grace Church, conducted the funeral service. The pallbearers were: Alvin Graham, J. W. Crowe, Ward Gamble, Henry Morton, Frederick O'Brien and Bob Sager.

400 Refugees Head For Homes In Canada

GENEVA, Sept. 7—(AP) — Four hundred refugees were on the Atlantic today, heading for new homes in Canada, because of the urgent need of harvest hands in the Dominion.

The Canadian government advised the International Refugee Organization Aug. 4 that if 400 farm laborers could be sent to Canada by Sept. 15, they would be accepted for immigration. Selection teams from Canada started examining candidates one week later.

The Canadian government has agreed to accept the dependents of the farm hands chosen and approximately 600 women and children will be following the immigrants on other ships.

Sleepy Burglar

CAPETOWN —(CP)— An African who broke into a luxury flat here was so overwhelmed at the comforts before him that he sank into an easy chair and fell asleep. The owner returned late at night found him still sound asleep. The government provided him with a harder bed for six months.

Driver Fined On 2 Counts

Pleading guilty to two charges of driving without a permit and careless driving, William Farrow, Morrow St., was fined a total of $25 and $5 court costs in police court today.

A charge of drunk driving was dismissed when the Crown offered no evidence.

"They threw the book at him," commented Magistrate E. A. Gee, of Lindsay.

"They certainly did," agreed Gordon H. T. Farquharson, representing Farrow.

Hit Three Cars

The charges were laid following an accident Friday night in which Farrow hit three parked cars on Charlotte St. He had been driving south on Water St. and turned west into Charlotte.

He hit one car on the north side and then careened across the street and struck two other cars parked at the curb.

Police reported he had only an out-of-date beginner's licence.

Mr Farquharson asked the court to deal leniently with Farrow because he had made arrangements to have all the cars repaired.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said Farrow was a good steady worker. Magistrate Gee stated he would reduce the usual $25 fine for careless driving to $15.

"That's showing leniency, I believe," he said.

Security Precautions Taken For Atomic Energy Conference

LONDON, Sept. 7—(Reuters)—Security precautions for the atomic energy conference opening in Oxford today include close screening of all overseas delegates.

Two hundred scientists from 14 countries have assembled in the university town for the largest atomic energy conference ever held in Britain.

The 150 overseas delegates were strictly scrutinized by immigration authorities on their arrival. They were required not only to show passports but to produce credentials confirming they had been invited to the conference.

Invitations were issued by the atomic energy research establishment at Harwell, Buckinghamshire, host for the six-day discussions on nuclear physics.

One delegate—a scientist from Brazil whose name was not disclosed—still was being investigated today. His name does not appear on the list of invitations accepted. A conference official said an invitation was sent to Brazil six months ago, but no reply had been received

"I have no doubt," the official said, "that the Brazilian delegate will be admitted after the necessary inquiries have been made. Invitations were sent to scientists known to be working on special branches of nuclear physics. They are not attending as representatives of their governments.

No Political Barriers

"There are no political barriers, although no one from the Iron Curtain countries was invited."

Dr. Thomas Bonner of the Rice Institute, Houston, Tex.—one of 25 United States delegates—said the lectures and discussions would have no direct bearing on the atomic bomb or the harnessing of atomic energy for industrial uses.

"We are chiefly concerned with the development of tools which will enable us to delve deeper into the mysteries of the atom," he said. "This is essentially a conference on basic research rather than a practical application."

The delegates are from universities and atomic establishments in western countries, including Britain, Canada, the United States, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Italy, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and Germany.

Original Styles To Be Given Mass Production

By DOROTHY WADDINGTON.

PARIS (CP).—The woman of average means now can have the chic and distinction she has always longed for and never could afford—an authentic couturier dress.

The Associated Couturiers make these clothes, retailing at 25,000 to 40,000 francs ($75 to $120).

The idea was thought up by M. Gaumont Lanvin and M. Dhorme when they saw the success "Boutique" clothes—as distinct from more costly models — were having with the smartest women.

The intention is not to compete with the haute-couture creations, but to offer an easy-to-wear version of the latest styles at a tempting price.

Five leading couturiers — Jean Desses, Jacque Fath, Robert Piquet, Paquin and Carven—submit designs to Dhorme and Lanvin. The two carefully check the sketches with an eye to simplicity and unexaggerated elegance.

Once they have decided on the best numbers, the originals are given to contractors, complete with color and samples of fabrics. The finished garment is returned to the Associated Couturier headquarters. Yardage, cut and workmanship are never skimped and reasonable prices are obtained by mass production and good distribution.

No "High" Styles

Majority of the models shown at the first collection consisted of coats, suits and day dresses. The dressiest models shown were midcalf dancing gowns. The Associated Couturiers feel formal gowns should be left to the "name" houses.

One of the most striking gowns was designed by Piquet in his 1951 color "Baghari," parrot green named after his new perfume. This little dress carried out the line of the season, with dropped shoulders and fullness belling from the knee.

Another dress that won approval was in grey-blue satin with an off-shoulder neckline cuffed in pink satin. The large rose in the centre of the corsage picked up the two colors.

America was excluded from the scheme owing to prior agreement between select haute-couturiers in France and America which gave exclusive rights to some American firms. Wide diffusion of the models should therefore be a violation of the agreement. But this does not apply to Canada, where it is thought that models will be on sale at reduced prices.

"MEPRISE", A BLACK WOOD DRESS tightly belted. The Tunic apron is padded to give a contoured hip line. "Zephyr" of beige silk faille, CENTRE, has a "magnet" neckline. The straight skirt has soft hip drapery. "Chestnut", a brown lace dinner dress, RIGHT, has covered shoulders, sleeves and pale blue satin bodice.

"Catman" Knocks With An Arrow

CAPETOWN —(CP)— Housewives in the Parow and Tiervlei areas are being worried by an archer calling himself "the Catman."

Steel-tipped arrows have been left quivering in doors at night. The thud of the arrow is mistaken for a knock on the front door, and householders answering the "knock" have been rudely surprised.

The three-foot arrows are well-fashioned and the mysterious archer attaches a note to the shaft of the arrow. It reads: "Your house is marked. The Catman will come again!"

Bethany Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding Monday

BTTHANY, Sept. 6 (ENS). — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howard Shea celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home here Monday, with all their immediate family present for the occasion. During the afternoon and evening more than 150 friends called to add their congratulations. Many lovely gifts were received from their family, friends, Janetville church, Bethany United Church Women's Association and the Women's Institute.

This happy couple are well known throughout this district, having spent all their lives in the community. Both of their parents' families were among the early pioneers of this section of Manvers township.

Mr. Shea is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shea and is the only surviving member of his parents' family. He had two brothers, James and John; and five sisters, Mrs. E. Fair, Mrs. John Leslie, Mrs. John McGill, Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. Elmer Jones.

Mrs. Shea was the former Ethel Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stewart. There were six children in the Stewart family: Mrs. Fleming (Elizabeth) of Raeboro; Miss Edna Stewart and Mr. Clement Stewart of Toronto; a brother, Thomas and a sister Cora (Mrs. John Fallis) both deceased.

The families of both Stewarts and Sheas both farmed on the 16th concession of Manvers, living just across the road from each other, in what is known as Fleetwood or Brick Corners community.

The wedding ceremony of fifty years ago took place in the parsonage of Cambridge Street Methodist Church in Lindsay, with the Rev. Thomas Manning officiating. Mr. Shea drives a car now, but the wedding trip to Lindsay and back was made with horse and buggy. Their attendants were the bride's sister Elizabeth, now Mrs. Fleming of Raeboro and Herbert Brown, who now lives in Lakefield, and both were present at the celebration. Their wedding luncheon was in the old Butler Hotel in Lindsay. That evening a family celebration was held at the Stewart home, which is now owned by Mr. T. McWilliams, and the bride and groom went to their own home, just across the road, which is now owned by Mr. Emory Shea.

They both attended the Fleetwood public school and the Methodist Church thtere, which has since been closed. At one time Fleetwood was a thriving centre the construction of the Midland and Grand Trunk Railway through Bethany seems to have been the beginning of its decline in industry and population.

Mr. and Mrs. Shea retired from active farming five years ago and moved into Bethany village, purchasing the former home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Brown. They have a large garden which keeps Mr. Shea fairly busy and in spite of his 77 years, he helped with the harvest at his son-in-law's farms this summer.

Mrs. Shea, several years his junior, is an expert at sewing and does considerable work for the ladies of the village. She is active in the work of Bethany United Church, a member of the Women's Association and the Women's Institute.

They have three daughters: Mrs. E. Corneil (Olive) of Stamford; Mrs. Horace Heaslip (Ida) of Janetville, and Mrs. Clare Staples (Beatrice) of Bethany.

There are six grandchildren: Ray, Carmon and Beverly Corneil of Stamford; Ruth and Ralph Heaslip of Janetville; Mrs. Everett Saltern (Audrey Staples) of Peterborough; and two great-grandchildren, Garry and Allan Saltern, Peterborough.

Bridgenorth WA Begins Season

Fall opening meeting of Bridgenorth United Church WA was held Tuesday evening in the Sunday School auditorium with a large number in attendance.

Mrs. Brigadier A. E. McElhiney, former officer of the Peterborough Salvation Army Corps, was guest speaker on the topic "The peace that comes through faith." Mrs. McElhiney is celebrating her 79th birthday today.

The WA theme song "Let the beauty of Jesus be seen in me," followed with prayer by the Rev. D. P. Morris. Miss L. Udy read the scripture lesson. The program, arranged by Mrs. J. Pettersone, was on "The Kingdom of God" and given from the lesson thought by Mrs. K. Hardill. Miss Wilma Telford sang a solo "Near when we need Him," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. G. Telford.

Reports from committees operating during the summer were heard by president Mrs. C. Payne. Letters and cards of thanks were read by Mrs. Hardill, Mrs. Wallace Nicholls reported on the work completed in the parsonage, and Mrs. C. Telford reported seven calls made by the visiting committee. A donation of $5 was voted to the Bobby Clark fund.

Appreciation to the speaker was expressed by Mrs. C. Hartman. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Smith and her committee.

Deplores Passing Of Sweep's Kisses

DIBDEN PURLIEU, Hampshire, England — (CP) — Chimney sweep Frank Miles deplores the passing of old customs associated with his calling—especially the sweep's prerogative of bride-kissing at the church door.

He says the reason is that many people now use vacuum cleaners to remove soot from chimneys.

"How," he asks, "can you wave or blow kisses to a sweep who wears a white coat and hasn't a trace of soot on him?"

Miles has written a book about chimney sweeping in the old days. But, while the 48-year-old sweep says most of the fun has gone from the job, he plans to buy himself one of those new-fangled vacuum cleaners soon.

Shouldn't Burden Parents By Marrying Too Young

DEAR MISS DIX: I am not yet 19 years old, but I want to marry. The girl is a year older than I am and is willing, but my parents are not, giving as a reason that I am too young and am not able to make a living. I cannot deny this. What do you think I should do? DICK

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: There isn't but one honorable and decent thing you can do, and that is to put off marrying until you can support a family. Providing for his wife and children is a man's own responsibility and he has no right to dump that on anybody else's shoulders.

Certainly a boy has very little self-respect and manhood about him if he marries a girl and brings her home for his parents to support, and he is a still more abject and despicable creature when he becomes a parasite upon his wife's people.

Family's Point of View

Try to look at this matter from your parents' point of view and see what a rotten deal you are giving them if you marry before you can provide for a family. Ever since you were born they have worked hard to take care of you and give you the best advantages they could possibly afford. They have made many sacrifices to educate you and to give you a chance in life. They have been glad to do all this for you because they loved you, and wanted you to have a better chance in life than they had themselves.

But they are human, and they have been looking forward to the time when their children were reared and on their own feet, when they could slack down and take things easier, and when they could spend their income on the little treats and luxuries that they have denied themselves. But if you marry and bring a wife home for them to support then you simply send your parents back into slavery. Don't you think that is playing it pretty low down on the father and mother who have been so good to you?

And believe me, son, you will bring misery on yourself as well as your parents. Not once in a thousand kid marriages ever turns out well. You are too young to know what you want in a wife. Don't do it. If you have no regard for your parents, have some pity on yourself.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: The answer to the question of why fewer college girls than other girls marry is that the college woman is absolutely devoid of sympathetic understanding. She prides herself on her aloofness and arrogance and tries to impress her superiority on every one. No matter how educated a man may be and no matter how muche he may admire the college woman at a distance, the woman who is to be his wife must have sympathetic understanding. The wife and mother without this quality cannot make a home, and by home I mean a home, not a house. That is the reason that even college men prefer non-college women. Am I not right?

J. C.

ANSWER: In former days, when college educations for girls were as rare as 20-carat diamonds the college woman may have flaunted her degree in people's faces and felt herself superior. But nowadays when half the girls you know are going to college, and to have a AB to tack after your name is no distinction, it seems to me that the highbrows walk very unpretentiously amongst us lowbrows.

I know scores of women who have had a college education and have forgotten it, so to speak, and who are competent business women and splendid wives and mothers and whose conservation is just ordinary woman stuff—their work, the new styles, the price of groceries, the baby's diet, etc.

And as for an education making a woman unsympathetic and lacking in understanding, that is all piffle. The more a woman knows, the more she understands. The broader her vision, the greated her tolerance. In educating a woman's head you also educate her heart and make finer and keener her sensibilities.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Is it true that only the illiterate are jealous? Can it be overcome? And if so, how?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Jealousy has nothing to do with literacy. Many very highly educated and intelligent people are victims of the green-eyed monster, but it always seems to me that they are lacking in common sense and the ability to see things in the right proportion. Jealousy is a queer combination of some of the worst traits in human nature. It is made up of selfishness, suspicion, evil imaginings, and an inferiority complex, and the best way to combat it is to face the fact that you are jealous of someone because you want to monopolize him or her.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: How can we tell whether our marriage will be happy or not? We are very much in love with each other, but we have seen so many other couples who did nothing but bill and coo before marriage, fight like cats and dogs after marriage that we are wondering if we will be that way also when we undertake to live together. Aren't there any signs that forecast whether a marriage will be a success or a failure?

BOB AND SALLY.

ANSWER: There are plenty of signs and omens right under your noses. For instance, it is a sure sign that your marriage will turn out unhappily if you think that all that is necessary to make a marriage a success is love. It isn't. It takes love, of course, but to that you have to add hard work and self-sacrifice and tact and good, hard, horse sense.

If you quarrel before marriage and haven't the same tastes about cosmetics and movies and clothes and things to eat, it is a sure sign that you will be in a perpetual row after marriage.

Jealousy Bad Sign

If either of you is jealous and gets green-eyed every time you see your intended out with another girl or boy it is a sign that you will never have a single happy moment after you are married, and that your husband or wife will come to hate you.

If the man is not willing to work and bring home the bacon and the woman is not willing to stay at home and cook it, it is a sign that there will be no peace and comfort in the home.

But if a young couple is congenial; if they have the same tastes and habits and read the same books and play the same games and have the same interests, it is a sign that they will get along together after marriage without friction.

If they are unselfish and try to see how much they can do for each other instead of trying to see how much they can get out of each other, it is a sign they will be happy.

If they go into marriage determined to stick it in spite of hell and high water, it is simple a guarantee that they will make a success of it.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: On the eve of my 29th birthday, I paused and asked myself what am I getting out of life? Since I was 14 years old, I have worked and given almost all of my money toward my family's support. My father is lazy and loafs. My mother is quarrelsome and hard to get along with and our home is a place of strife; no peace nor happiness in it. What I want to ask is, would it be terrible if I went to live by myself? I could be so happy away from my fighting family. I could enjoy life if I were not burdened with an ungrateful family who continually make more and more demands upon me. My sister has recently married and brought her husband home for me to support. Do you think 29 is too late to think of living for yourself for a change?

ALL ALONE.

ANSWER: Not a bit of it. Just the right time, for at your age you have discretion and know how to take care of yourself, and nobody can question your right to live your own life.

As I have said before a hundred times in this column, there is no animal that is less to be admired than the family goat. There is neither sense nor dignity nor virtue in permitting yourself to be sacrificed for the pleasure and indulgence of others. You made that mistake. Now snap out of it. Buck up. Spend your money on yourself and go and live where you can have peace and quiet instead of being in a perpetual broil.

Most sacrifices do harm instead of good. They encourage selfishness and laziness in others. Your family will take all you can give as long as you give it, but when you refuse to be held up any longer, they will go to work and support themselves.

The best procedure for you will be for you not to tell your family about what you are going to do. Just move out and settle yourself and when they rave, as they will when they find out that their slave has ecaped tel lthem that you have given them fifteen years of your life, and that you are going to keep the balance for yourself.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What do you think about the way girls graft cigarettes? Why don't they use their own and maybe offer a boy one occasionally instead of sponging on their dates for their smokes? These cigarette bummers make me sigh for the good old days when no lady smoked.

BEN.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Maybe the girls who swipe their cigarettes aren't as greedy and grasping as they seem to be. Maybe it is just because they haven't realized that when they take up a man's vices it is up to them to pay for them like a man. Somebody once said, you know, that when a woman tries to be a man she never is quite gentleman.

✧ ✧ ✧

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"What have you got with extra vitamins, mom? The first day of school was a lulu!"

Bernice Traviss Marries Robert J. Adams

The marriage took place in St. Peter's Cathedral Monday morning of Bernice Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Traviss, and Mr. Robert Joseph Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Adams, all of Peterborough. The Rev. R. J. Garvey officiated.

The church was decorated with white and pink gladioli and the wedding music was played by Mrs. R. G. Aman. During signing of the register Mr Anthony DeNoble sang "On This Day."

The bride was gowned in ankle-length ice blue nylon marquisette, over ice blue taffeta. Her headdress was blue net covered all over with small pale blue forget-me-nots and was in pixie shape. She carried a white prayer book with white baby 'mums and streamers of orange blossoms. Given in marriage by her father, she was attended by Mrs. S. Hobbins who wore ankle-length navy marquisette over navy taffeta with a Juliet cap of navy velvet. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and pink gladioli cups.

The groomsman was Mr. Steven Hobbins and ushers were Bernard Traviss, Clarence Shaughnessy, Stewart Sage and Dale McCabe.

The reception was held at the Kawartha Country Club where the bride's mother received, wearing a gown of leaf green corded faille with black accessories and a corsage of pale yellow rosebuds. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a gown of faille in toasted muffin shade and had navy accessories and a corsage of pale pink rosebuds.

The bride and groom motored to Toronto and boarded a plane for New York City where they will spend their honeymoon. For travelling Mrs. Adams wore a gabardine suit in toast shade and navy accessories and navy topcoat.

On return they will live at 521 Aylmer St.

Kitchen curtains made up of colorful dish-toweling add a note and offer ease in laundering.

California Girl Wins One Round

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 7 —(AP)—Miss California—Joanne Durant of San Diego—Wednesday night won the first bathing-suit preliminary in the Miss America pageant.

Wearing a chartreuse suit, the 21-year-old blonde won over 18 other aspirants in the bathing suit preliminary, one of three divisions of the contest.

Miss Durant is five feet, five inches tall, has a 35-inch bust, 24-inch waist and 35-inch hips. She weighs 112.

A victory in one of the three preliminary contests — bathing suit, talent and evening gown—usually means the winner will be one of the 15 finalists to battle it out Saturday night for the big crown, but not always.

Miss California will appear in the evening-gown division Friday night and will sing to demonstrate her talent Friday night.

The 54 girls from the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico alternate in groups of 18 in evening gown, bathing suit and talent competition. As an example, a girl who appeared Wednesday night in talent, will be in tonight's bathing-suit competition and in Friday night's evening-gown show. Miss Canada—19-year-old Margaret Bradford of London, Ont.—is representing the Dominion in the contest.

Study Variety of Sauces To Use With Meat Dishes

Every cook needs new ideas to spruce up her meals, and the Examiner's seventh release in its series of twenty-four cookbooks, "250 Ways to Prepare Meat," has all the answers in its lively illustrations and mouth-watering recipes.

But no matter how well prepared a piece of meat may be, it must have a tasty sauce or gravy to bring out the best. A good cook varies her gravy-making technique. For instance, instead of the usual flour and water pan gravy, here is a good contrasting sauce to try with veal or pork. Because they are bland meats they need a snappy flavor:

Anchovy Sauce

1 cup butter
1-3 cup sherry
1 tablespoon anchovy paste

Melt butter, stirring in paste as it melts. Add sherry gradually and heat to boiling. Simmer 5 minutes. Serve with veal or pork chops. Makes 1 1-3 cups sauce.

As both a garnish and gravy, nothing will spruce up a slice of ham like a good raisin sauce. Here is another recipe from the Meat Book to give a perfect touch to ham or tongue:

Raisin Sauce

¾ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1½ cups broth from ham or tongue
¼ cup vinegar
½ cup raisins
1 lemon, sliced thin
1 tablespoon fat

Mix sugar and cornstarch in top of double boiler and add broth gradually, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients and cook until raisins are plump and mixture is thickened, stirring occasionally. Serve hot with ham or tongue. Makes about 1½ cups.

These are just two of the many suggestions in the Meat Book which make it a must on your kitchen shelf in order to feel you are doing the best with the meat you buy. And this valuable cookbook is so easy to own. All you need do is clip a coupon from any issue of this newspaper and present it with 25 cents to the Examiner office, your carrier or at Braund's Food Market. If you prefer to order your copy by mail send the coupon with 30 cents (5 cents additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, The Examiner, Peterborough.

Clothes which are excessively soiled should be spot-cleaned with a sudsy brush before they are tossed into the washing machine.

Makes Models Of Kings, Queens

EWELL, England —(Reuters)—Modelling the Kings and Queens of England is the fascinating but intricate hobby of 19-year-old Vivienne Price.

Vivienne, with painstaking care, makes her dolls correct to the smallest detail. She spends hours in the public libraries looking at old books from which to copy details and regalia worn by British monarchs and their queens in past times.

She began with Henrietta Anne, sister of Charles II, and continued at the rate of one a month with such historical figures as Queen Elizabeth, Margaret of Anjou, Queen Anne, Henrietta Maria, Elizabeth of York and Queen Charlotte.

"Henry the eighth was more trying than his six wives put together," she said. "The trouble was his legs, which unenclosed by female skirts, required a special form of wiring."

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"I thought we had that game salted away when I picked up that amazing hand," said Hard Luck Joe. "However, my hard luck stayed with me. If only you had known that the one card in my hand was a king, we would have been out before our opponents melded at all."

It was tough luck for poor Joe to be punished as seriously as he was for the mistake he made. Nevertheless, as usual, he had manufactured his own hard luck. Both sides had scores just under 5,000. Joe's partner dealt and turned up a six. The first player drew and discarded a ten. Joe's hand was four kings, three queens three tens and a deuce. Quite properly, Joe decided to take the ten and play for a quick out. He would have liked to have melded four kings, three queens and four tens, and discarded the six, retaining the deuce in his hand. But that would not count 120. He was forced to meld the deuce. Therefore Joe held up a king and melded three kings, three queens and four tens, putting the deuce with the tens, and, of course, discarded the six.

At his first turn, Joe's partner held only one wild card. He promptly added this to the meld of four tens and a deuce, and also added two kings to the meld of kings at his first turn to play. Then the hand went on.

* * *

Neither Joe nor his partner drew a ten, a king or a wild card for several rounds. Eventually the opponents grabbed a big discard pile and managed to score a couple of thousand points before Joe finally went out.

And now for Joe's mistake. He was correct in holding up a king, but he should have melded a deuce with the three kings, not with the four tens. This clearly would have told his partner that Joe was holding a king. Obviously no player in his right mind would waste the deuce with three cards when he could place it with four.

When going away on a motor trip the bride was wearing a jade green suit with maroon accessories and she carried a Russian squirrel neckpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunning will live in Toronto.

Before leaving Toronto, where she was an employee of the Bell Telephone Company, the bride was honored when 85 fellow workers presented her with a shower of gifts and the chief operator presented a bridge set from the staff.

Manitoba Woman Grows Orange Tree

MINNEDOSA, Man. —(CP)—The village of Newdale, 20 miles west of here, boasts a woman with an unusual hobby.

Mrs. Morris Lavery is a gardener—but not the usual kind. She grows citrus fruits.

Mrs. Lavery's tropical garden consists of a four-foot orange tree which has so far produced two ripe, rich oranges, and a lemon tree which last year bore a gigantic lemon 11 inches in circumference.

She also had a grapefruit tree which grew so vigorously that she planted it outside. Fall frost destroyed it.

What's Right?

You see a young couple who have just announced their engagement.

WRONG: Congratulate the bride-to-be.

RIGHT: Cangratulate the young man and tell the prospective bride that you hope she will be very happy.

6—In Memoriams

COONS—In loving memory of Celia Coons, who passed away Sept. 7, 1949.
Gone from us, but leaving memories
Death can never take away.
Memories that will always linger
While upon this earth we stay.
—Ever remembered by Mildred, Victor and family.

COONS—In loving memory of Mrs. David Coons, Lakefield, who died Sept. 7, 1949.
"Gone but not forgotten."
—Ever remembered by her daughter, Dolly.

CROWE—In loving memory of George Alfred Crowe, who passed away September 8th, 1946.
I cannot say and I will not say
That he is dead; he is just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be since he lingers there.
And you—oh, you, who the wildest yearn
For the oldtime step and the glad return
Think of him faring on, as dear,
In the love of there, as the love of here.
Think of him still as the same, I say.
He is not dead—he is just away.
—Ever remembered by family Nellie, Ottie, Keith, Clinton, Lou.

JAMES—In loving memory of a dear dad, Mr. John C. James, who passed away five years ago today, Sept. 7th.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory sad and true,
Just the love and sweet devotion
Of one who thinks of you.
We shall meet with many a loved one
That was torn from our embrace,
We shall listen to their voices
And behold them face to face.
—Sadly missed by daughter Mrs. W. Wilson.

TIMM—In loving memory of Mrs. W. Timm, who died September 7th, 1945.
There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance last forever.
—Ever remembered by Aileen and Harold Kennedy.

Amateur Lures Get Top Results

WINNIPEG — (CP). — Jack Platt's hobby is making fishing lures—and the lures he makes have a fish-fooling quality.

His hobby started in 1942 at a lake near Hudson, Ont., when his only plug hit a rock and the head broke off. He took the remaining piece and whittled a new head.

The repaired plug had a different action. It danced through the water with a tantalizing wriggle that hooked a fish on almost every other cast.

Mr. Platt experimented with hand-carved plugs of the same shape and after several months perfected the plug.

He fastens on special treble kooks imported from Norway and gives them a primary coat of wood sealer to make them waterproof.

To obtain the scale effect which makes the plug look like a minnow, Mr. Platt holds a piece of curtain in front of the lure and sprays paint through it.

Every plug is identical in shape.

Mr. Platt—a Winnipeg resident—gets letters from anglers in many parts of Canada and the United States who have seen his plugs in action and want one.

Marmora Gains Win

MARMORA, Sept. 7 (CP) — On Deloro ball grounds Marmora beat Campbellford in a Trent Valley final playoff game on Wednesday evening by 2-1.

Both pitchers hurled good ball requiring no replacement. Drummond, although walking three in the first inning, held himself well and had 10 strikeouts. Marmora effected a double play in the second, Brooks to Borland. Dikun's two-bagger in the fourth was the feature hit of the game. The next game will be played in Campbellford on Monday evening.

Teams:

Campbellford: Lee, 1b; Simpson, 2b; Hardy, 3b; B. Bennett, cf; Jeff, lf; Heard, rf; McFarland, ss; Darrah, c; McNaughton, p; Barnum, rf.

Marmora: Sweet, rf; Brown, ss; Brooks, 2b; Killian, c; Dikun, cf; Auger, 3b; Jones, lf; Borland, 1b; Drummond, p.

Motorboat Champ

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (CP) — John Haineault, Cornwall, won the Canadian championship motorboat trophy when he drove his King Cot II into first place in the 225-class of the Canadian National Exhibition motorboat races Wednesday.

Man From Tribe Women Ruled Leads Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Sept. 7 (AP).—Mohammed Natsir, 42-year-old Moslem from a remote mountain tribe ruled by women, formed a new government for the young Republic of Indonesia on Wednesday.

His 18-man cabinet comprises four members of the Masjumi Moslem Party, five non-party members and nine representatives of smaller parties. It excludes the Nationalists, formerly a dominant force in Indonesian politics.

Natsir's Masjumi Party holds 50 of the 243 seats in the new parliament. With other backing he expects the cabinet to command a narrow majority.

Former Premier Mohammed Hatta, who formed the Nationalist Party 25 years ago to spearhead the right for independence from the Dutch, may become vice-president. Hatta resigned the premiership last month when Indonesia abandoned its federal structure of government in favor of a unified one-state government and changed its name from the United States of Indonesia to the Republic of Indonesia.

Little To Say

Like Hatta, former Premier Sutan Sjahrir, and Defence Minister Abdul Halim, Natsir comes from the Menangabau tribes of Western Sumatra. In his home country, women inherit the tribal wealth. Descent is traced through the female line. The husband takes his wife's name and moves in with her clan. The wife and her family rear the children, leaving him little to say.

Because of this way of life among the 2,000,000 Menangabaus many men leave their homes and often become the pioneers and revolutionists of Indonesia.

Boyish looking Natsir, a former school teacher, took no part in politics until 1945. He represented Moslem groups then in the working committee of the rebel Republic's parliament at Jogjakarta, and in 1946 took the job of directing a world-wide propaganda campaign for independence. He was interned in 1948 when the Dutch captured Jogjakarta.

He was designated premier two weeks ago, but failed in his efforts to form a government with Hatta's Nationalists. President Soekarno then approved a cabinet excluding the Nationalists.

New Gyp Trick Hits District

A new method has been devised to sweep money from the hands of the people of Peterborough and district. A door-to-door textile salesman has been selling cloth with the guarantee that a local tailoring shop would make the suit for $23.

James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, brought the first case reported in the district to the attention of the Examiner today. A Warkworth resident was approached recently by the salesman who sold her the suiting material with the understanding that Dunn's Tailors in Peterborough would make the suit for $23. The local store knew nothing about this arrangement.

Mr. Fraser warned that other stores may be used by the salesman and suggested that no material should be bought under these conditions.

To Preserve Charm Of Thames Village

SONNING - ON - THAMES, Berkshire, England (CP)—One of Britain's beauty spots—charming, tranquil Sonning—is disturbed by proposals for a nearby entertainment centre.

Sponsors want to introduce swimming pools and colorful beach umbrellas. Sonning, an established community long before the Domesday Book, doesn't like the idea.

Old inhabitants recall the legend of the grey lady, a ghost reputed to lurk in the shadowy woods above Sonning's famous lock. She is said to appear, heralded by organ music, whenever village sanctity is threatened.

Civic officials have asked that any applications for an entertainment centre should be refused. The next move rests with a county committee.

Merchants Note Increase Buying

An increase in consumer buying, attributed by some merchants to the return to school and early fall purchasing, has been noticeable during the past two weeks.

One George St. men's wear store reported a recent Saturday as "the best all summer." In mid-summer, buyers were scarce, and the slump blamed partly on cost of living, weather and partly on the high

"It's a little early for fall buying," one merchant said, "but look at the weather. We've had very little real summer weather."

Yet another merchant found the increase encouraging, particularly in view of the four-point jump in cost of living. Recently the cost of living index went from 168 to 172 in a single month.

Professor Dies

KINGSTON, Sept. 7 (CP) — Professor William P. Wilgar, 38, head of the department of English at Carleton College, Ottawa, died in hospital here today. Born in Port Arthur, he served on the staffs of Texas State University, University of Manitoba and Mount Allison University before going to Carleton College as head of the English department two years ago.

COSTLY EXPERIMENT

Development of the United States' first atomic-powered submarine is expected to cost about $40,000,000.

More Children Study Music

A definite increase in the number of children studying music in the city has been noticed in the past few years, Mrs. Ross Williamson, Reid St., said today.

Mrs. Williamson is a former president of the Peterborough branch of the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association.

Certainly, she said, a larger number of examinations have been written in the past year than in previous years.

The increase, she said, included "legitimate music" such as teaching of theory, piano, organ, and singing. She said there are about 45 registered music teachers in the city and district.

RECOVER FLORIST'S TRUCK

The W. W. Hick and Sons truck that was reported stolen from Lindsay Saturday night has been found in a Gravenhurst park. Two Lindsay women are responsible for its recovery. Mrs. Victor Calvert saw it in the park while on her way to North Bay. Later she informed a friend, Mrs. Sam Harris, who was aware the sedan delivery truck had been stolen. Mrs. Harris told a boarder and the boarder related the story to Bert Hick. To make a long story short the provincial police recovered it and report it to be in good condition.

Allan Mouncey has returned home. He has spent the past two weeks as a patient in a Montreal hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Varcoe were guests the first of the week of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Black, Lakefield.

Week After

Local residents who are still waiting for magazines, parcels and suchlike—presumably held up by the rail strike which ended a week ago this morning—need not blame the Peterborough post office. The local staff is clearing up the daily influx of second, third and fourth class mail as fast as it comes in. The delay, if any, is at border points where the mail accumulated during the rail strike. And also at the major centres of mail handling, such as Ottawa, Montreal, and Toronto. Here, the posties would accept only first class mail and so were not faced with this problem.

Alert Bermuda Against Storm

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 7 (AP) — The resort island of Bermuda today was given an alert for a great storm moving up the Atlantic while northeast Florida and southeast Georgia felt the last gasps of a gulf hurricane.

The storm inching in the general direction of Bermuda had winds up to 130 miles an hour near the centre and hurricane force winds (75 miles an hour or more) extended outward 100 miles in all directions.

It was due to pass west of the island resort, but gales were forecast there and the weather bureau said a slight change in direction would bring much higher winds.

The hurricane was moving northward at about six miles an hour which would bring the centre opposite Bermuda tonight.

Indian Government Uneasy Over Red Threat To Tibet

By G. E. POWELL

CALCUTTA, India —(CP)— A report that the Chinese Communist government is willing to settle the question of Tibet peacefully through negotiations at New Delhi has temporarily calmed fears of military invasion of the remote country.

Well-informed authorities in Kalipong, West Bengal, have long been convinced, however, that the Communist regime in Peiping prefers fomenting internal trouble to using force to gain control of the country.

Kalipong is the picturesque hill station which serves as the jumping-off point on the main route from India to Lhasa, the Tibetan capital.

Take Every Precaution

Waiting there since June has been a seven-man Tibetan delegation seeking an appointment with the incoming Chinese ambassador to India. The Dalai Lam's government is taking every precaution to retain Tibet's independence and aloofness from world affairs.

It is not clear whether Communist troops have actually been moved in any considerable number to the border of Tibet, but some frontier clashes undoubtedly have occurred. However, observers believe the season now is too late for military expeditions on the "roof of the world." Whether the negotiations go ahead or not, peace seems assured, at least until May or April.

In the intervening seven months Communist China may place more emphasis on encouraging various opponents of the present Tibetan government. Among these is the entourage of the Panchen Lama, Tibet's second great monk-prelate, whose influence in spiritual matters is considered superior to that of the Dalai Lama. He and his advisers are in exile in Western China.

Another influential institution, the 600-year-old Sera monastery, one of three monasteries known collectively as "the three pillars of the state," is also said to be opposing resistance to the Communists. In 1947 it revolted against the present regent and had to be firmly dealt with. Some of its monks also are said to be in Communist-held territory.

Powerful Brothers

Finally, in South-Eastern Tibet, are the powerful Pandatsang brothers, one of whom staged an unsuccessful coup in 1934. The brothers have so far resisted Communist overtures, but the outcome of their negotiations with Lhasa is not yet known.

War minister Ragashar is reported to be visiting Tibetan defences north of the capital, whither yaks, the country's hard-working beasts or burden, are carrying ammunition and food supplies. Recruits are also being sought for the army, which does not exceed 10,000 and is ill-equipped.

Can Get No Help

Help from abroad can probably be discounted, if only because India and Britain, the countries most concerned, have long recognized Chinese suzerainty.

The Tibetan's best allies are the natural difficulties and the inhospitable nature of their territory.

India would be much happier if China refrained from "precipitate action." A strong Communist neighbor just across the Himalayas would be embarrassing, especially if it led to the encouragement of Indian Communists.

The general view in India is one of apprehension of the possibility that Tibet in the not-too-distant-future may cease to serve its traditional role of buffer state.

All Aboard Safe

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 7 — (AP)—An alert pilot flopped a DC-3 Braniff Airlines plane into a belly landing Tuesday when one engine conked out 40 feet above the ground. Not a person was hurt. The Dallas-bound plane, carrying 11 passengers and a crew of three, was taking off when the right engine failed. Pilot E. D. Matthews of Dallas landed rather than try to circle the field on one engine.

Lois Campbell Gets Certificate and Pin

CENTREVILLE, Sept. 7—The WMS of Centreville Presbyterian Church met Wednesday in the Sunday school hall and was host to the Mission Band.

It was decided to hold the fall thankoffering service on Sept. 28 when Mrs. Toombs, Campbellford, a returned missionary from India, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Ray Brackenridge, president, presented a junior certificate and bronze pin to Lois Campbell for being the best all-round member of the band.

Miss Glenna Hall, a former winner of the certificate, was given her final seal, thus making her a life member.

The Mission Band was in charge of the program. The scripture was read by Donna Lord, followed by prayer by Lois Lord. The senior boys sang a chorus, Joyce Hutchison led in prayer, the offering was taken by David Brackenridge and Bryce Bonner; there was a song by the Junior Mission Band, reading by Sandra Muspratt, and duet by Sylvia Muspratt and Carol Brown. A reading by David Brackenridge followed, and also a piano solo by Norma Willan and chorus by the senior girls.

Refreshments were served by the WMS.

Abducted Girls' Family Take Up Battle Positions

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 7 (AP) —Opponents of the marriage of Crete's Romeo and Juliet were reported taking up battle positions on the island today, east of the home of the bridegroom's family.

Other partisans of the Petrocogeorgi clan, family of the 20-year-old bride, hurried to Athens to protest her wedding last week in a lonely Cretan monastery following her abduction by swashbuckling Constantine Kephaloyannis. The two families have been enemies for generations.

A lawyer for the bridegroom failed today to gain the hotheaded Costa's release from an Athens jail on charges of illegally carrying weapons. A hearing was held before an Athens magistrate, but a final decision on his case must come from the public prosecutor in Herakleion, Crete.

Tassoula, the bride, remained with her husband's relatives, where she has been since Costa was arrested on their arrival in Athens last weekend. She refused to see her father, Liberal party member of parliament George Petracogeorgi, who seeks an anulment of the marriage.

The families have feuded for generations. Constantine has said he kidnapped Tassoula and held her prisoner in caves on Crete's legendary Mt. Ida for 11 days before their wedding because the feud made a normal courtship impossible.

Protest Marriage

Three committees, one headed by Orthodox Church Metropolitan Evghenios of Crete, were here today or due in Athens to protest the marriage.

The Metropolitan charges the wedding was illegal because he had banned it. He and a party of 10 representatives of legal, medical and trade organizations were 2searched thoroughly for arms when they arrived by plane Tuesday.

The Cretan church is independent of the jurisdiction of Athens' Archbishop Spyridon, who has said the wedding was legal because Tassoula told him she had married Constantine of her own free will.

St. Thomas Offers London Bus Deal

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 7 (CP)— St. Thomas offered its interest in a London to Port Stanley bus franchise to London Tuesday night for assurance of a reliable home-town transit service.

Mayor J. E. Peterson, of St. Thomas, speaking to London city council and London Railway Commission proposed a system of urban and interurban transportation involving London, St. Thomas and Port Stanley by rail and highway.

At the end of the joint meeting, devoted to generalities of the plan members decided to hold further discussion following London's transportation balloting on Sept. 19. On that date London ratepayers will vote to purchase the London Street Railway for $1,000,000 or to establish a new transit system for $1,895,000.

128 Miners Trapped Underground

Huge Section of Mine In Scotland Collapses In Night

NEW CUMNOCK, Scotland, Sept. 8—(AP)—Rescue teams worked at top speed today to open an escape tunnel for 128 miners trapped 700 feet down and threatened with drowning in a river of mud.

"There are reasonable hopes for the trapped men," a mine-workers' union official said.

The miners were entombed Thursday night when a rain-soaked surface area the size of a football field sank into the workings of the Knockshinnoch Castle colliery, 30 miles south of Glasgow. The sodden earth mass cut off their path to the exit.

[illegible] through the morning to clear dangerous gas fumes from an adjoining tunnel so they could cut through a 30-foot wall of coal separating them from their imprisoned co-workers.

The entombed men were in telephone communication with the pit head.

"We are in good spirits," one of them reported.

None was reported injured and they said they were getting enough air.

The miners were believed to be together in one room. The mass of mud clogged most of a tunnel through which they were getting air.

Dam Mud

They telephoned that there was a six-inch gap between the mud and the roof of the tunnel. They said they were moving coal and timber to dam the flow of mud into their chamber.

Eight miners on the pit-shaft side of the cave-in escaped. One of these lucky ones, John Stevenson, 56, whose son was trapped, told reporters:

"We went along to a turning point about 100 yards from the pit bottom and were met by oozing sludge which came through with

3 Canadians Meet In Korea

MASAN FRONT, Korea, Sept. 8 (AP).—Lt.-Col. Frank White of Montreal, Canadian army observer for the United Nations, walked into a front-line hospital to visit a patient Thursday.

The ward orderly brightened when he saw the Canadian uniform. He introduced himself: United States Army private Murray Freel of Ottawa, who had served 4½ years in the Canadian army.

Freel called to the ward nurse, Lieut. Goldie Mae Bowman of Centreville, Ont., also in the American Army.

An all-Canadian gabfest followed.

6 Million Bus. Wheat Dumped At Spokane

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 8 (AP)—There's no place to store it and no place to ship it, so farmers in this rich wheat producing area have had to dump more than 6,100,000 bushels out on the ground.

They have had to dump wheat before, but never in piles like the ones that dot the inland empire of Eastern Washington, Eastern Oregon and Northern Idaho today. The biggest before was 5,000,000 bushels in 1946.

It sits out in the wind, the sun and the rain. It might even be there when it snows. It sits alongside warehouses already bulging with wheat. Unless prolonged wet weather sets in, much of it can be salvaged.

The Pacific Northwest Grain Dealers' Association got out a report on the situation and took a dim view.

News To Canadians

MOSCOW, Sept. 8—(AP)—Izvestia says today that the United States is seizing all of Canada, Greenland and Iceland under the pretext of North American defence. The Soviet government newspaper claims the United States has more than 200 airdromes of varying sizes in Alaska, 12 in Canada, six in Greenland, and one in Iceland.

Red Attacks Peter Out U.S. Line Holds

TOKYO, Sept. 8 (AP)—North Korean attacks weakened before Allied guns today on the rain-lashed Korean battlefields.

A United States Eighth Army spokesman in Korea said the fourth massive Communist effort to drive the Allies into the sea had "petered out." He also told Associated Press correspondent Jack MacBeth: "We believe they are running out of ammunition, supplies, men and other things necessary to press an attack."

But a general staff officer at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo warned that 130,000 Reds pressing against the Allied beachhead from all sides retain the power for a fresh new offensive.

Taegu, main northern and western Allied base, was reported safe for the time being. The Red threat there was stopped seven miles north of the city.

The Communist power and force northeastward from Taegu to the sea of Japan was waning visibly.

Down in the southwest corner of the front, another Red build-up behind the lines was foreseen. And there were indications of reserve build-ups behind all sectors.

Pusan Target

Heaviest action of the last 24 hours was in the southwestern coastal sector where the Reds are building for a new drive on Pusan, main Allied port.

An order went out today for the removal of all non-essential civilians from Masan, port base town on the southwestern front.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported the evacuation followed information from North Korean prisoners that a special force of at least 100 Reds had been ordered to infiltrate into Masan and create trouble.

The Communists kept the Allies guessing as to where their next drive would start.

Use Taxi-Cab Cordon To Trap Two Suspects

TORONTO, Sept. 8 (CP)—Two shopbreaking suspects were trapped on the roof of a downtown building Thursday night when a dozen taxi-cabs were used to form a cordon around the building. The men, William Ferguson, 27, and Jack Turkoski, 28, were charged with breaking into two offices and attempting to smash a safe.

An officer heard noises inside the building and asked a passing taxi to radio for help. Within a few minutes the cordon was formed and headlights trained on the building. The suspects were found on the roof. They are alleged to have had $100 and a bottle of whisky when captured.

Gov't Plans To Control Key Material

Bill Gives Authority To Direct Prices Of Essential Items

OTTAWA, Sept. 8—(CP)—A bill empowering the government to control key materials and services authorizes it to direct the price and distribution of all items designated as essential including electric power, Trade Minister Howe told the Commons today.

Moving a resolution preliminary to the bill, the Minister said it will give sweeping powers over all materials and services that may be designated as essential by the Cabinet from time to time.

However, he expressed the hope that much of the allocation of these goods and services to defence needs will be done voluntarily by business and without the need of government action.

The authority to control prices of the essential goods and services, Mr. Howe said, was a stand-by power and there might be no need to use it if reasonable price levels were maintained.

Can't Take A Chance

"But if that is not the case," he added, "we cannot allow allocation of essential materials and services for defence purposes to be defeated by the charging of exorbitant prices.

"While we are primarily concerned with getting the materials and services required to see through our military preparedness program, we must have the authority to control all aspects of production, supply and distribution, use and prices of essential material and services.

"For, if output or supply cannot be increased, it is only by taking away from less essential civilian needs that the rising military demand can be met."

Mr. Howe said that, barring a major emergency, the government believes the powers provided in the act will be enough to meet the situation.

Top US Advisers Urge Joint Army

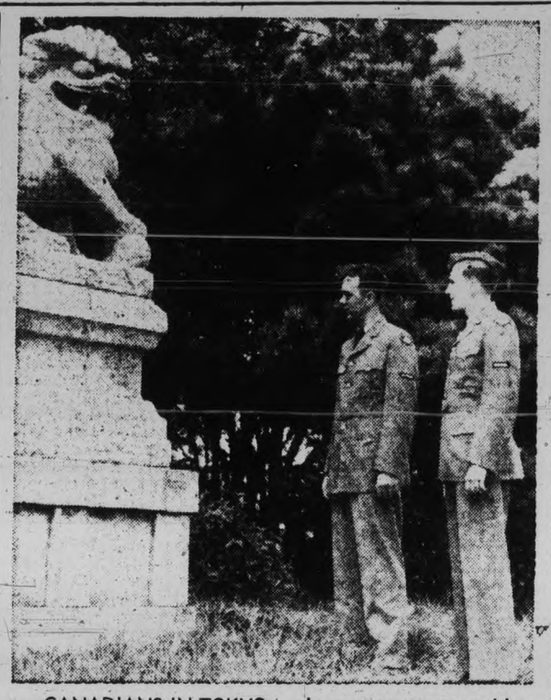
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The United States is being urged by some of its top advisers overseas to press for quick action on early formation of a joint army under a single supreme commander for defence of Western Europe.

Diplomatic and administration officials, getting ready for the foreign ministers conference opening in New York next week, have been told the matter is urgent in light of the military build-up in Communist East Germany.

Moreover, creation of a joint army is described as a condition for agreement by the West German government to provide a German military force and participate in a rearmament program. German participation probably could be expected under no other conditions, these advisers are reported to have told Washington.

Clout Bear On Nose With Rusty Hatchet Housewife, Child Escape To Farm Home



BLIND RIVER, Sept. 8. — A local housewife, rounding the bend in a woodland trail Thursday, almost collided with a huge black bear. Without hesitation, she unlimbered a rusty hatchet and clouted the hairy creature on the nose.

The bear reared up on its hind legs, turned its back and fled. Mrs. Vernon Solomon, already upright, did likewise.

She left her farm home on the Serpent river road, near here to meet her husband on a farm two miles away. With her was the Solomon's three-year-old son. As protection she took along an old hatchet.

Mrs. Solomon thinks her swing partially blinded the bear. She didn't pause for an examination. With the three-year old in tow she fled to safety.

When her husband went to the scene later he found the hatchet covered with blood. There were several bits of flesh on the ground.

Report Canada Developing 2 Secret Anti-Tank Weapons

OTTAWA, Sept. 9—(CP)—Canada is working on two highly-secret anti-tank weapons. For the Army's special force the government is purchasing quantities of the Americans' sensational new 3.5-inch bazooka. Canada also is working on a new military transport plane she may produce for herself and for allies. She is strengthening Pacific coast defences but is holding aloof from any commitments, military or political, in the Pacific area.

Those and numerous other facts about Canada's rearmament program and the build-up of the forces poured into the Commons' record Thursday as three Cabinet ministers faced up to another barrage of opposition questioners' assertions and accusations in a short-tempered house.

Among other facts were:

1. Canada has no plans to buy new tanks this year or next because the west hasn't yet produced a tank that would justify the cost. She has more than 300 medium Sherman tanks bought as late as 1946. The Korean force will contain an experimental unit, a self-propelled anti-tank squadron manned by personnel of the armored corps rather than the artillery. It won't have any Canadian tanks.

2. Canada is turning two railway cars into hospital cars and is earmarking more than $8,000,000 for northern housing and accommodation. She is spending more than $9,000,000 to fit last war-type guns with automatic fire control to take their part in the interceptor network of guns planes and radar.

Introduce Bill Control Consumer Buying

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (CP) — A bill giving the government power to regulate and control consumer buying by stiffening the terms of instalment buying was introduced today in the Commons.

The measure places permissive powers in the hands of the federal cabinet. It does not mention any goods that will be affected by the controls and it does not indicate what form the controls will take.

The cabinet would be given power to make regulations covering certain goods and to set out the terms of instalment buying for consumer products.

Government sources said the controls will be put into effect on a piece-meal basis. They said introduction of the controls will depend on Canadians themselves. The bigger the buying splurge the sooner the controls.

Priest Captures 65 Red Soldiers

CENTRAL NAKTONG RIVER FRONT, Korea, Sept. 8 (Reuters)—The Rev. Frank Woods, a carbine-carrying priest from county Louth, Republic of Ireland, shouted a few well-chosen words in Korean across a rice field west of Changnyong one day this week.

There was a pause of a few minutes. Then 65 strongly-armed Communists who had been about to attack came out to surrender, their arms held high above them.

American troops, keyed up for a last-ditch stand, were dumbfounded.

Father Woods said today it was "all a mistake." With a twinkle in his eyes, he said he was merely advising a wounded man he had better give up."

'I think he was dead even then, but to my surprise all the others popped up," he added.

He is unofficial chaplain to a battalion fighting here. He joined the men in their foxholes with his carbine when North Koreans infiltrated during the night to within 25 yards of a command post.

Canadian Given UN Appointment

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 8 (CP).—Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, 52-year-old Canadian Deputy Minister of Resources, today was placed in charge of the United Nations' program of technical assistance to the world's undeveloped areas.

Dr. Keenleyside's appointment is director-general of the U.N. technical assistance administration was announced by secretary-general Trygve Lie.

Dr. Keenleyside will be responsible for technical assistance programs until recently administered by the U.N. departments of economic and social affairs.

These programs include organization of technical assistance missions, provision of expert advice, award of fellowships and scholarships and organization of demonstration projects, seminars, training institutes and administration centres.

Yield from new taxes estimated at $58,900,000 for remainder current fiscal year ending March 31, 1951; $189,500,000 over a full year.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8—(CP)—A stop-gap budget, born of the Korean war and the threat of an even-larger conflict, put moderately-higher commodity taxes into effect today—with an ominous hint of bigger levies in the not-too-distant future.

The tax boosts, some an extension of existing levies and others newly installed, apply to corporation incomes, liquor and beer, soft drinks, candy, chewing gum and a variety of semi-luxury goods which include motor cars and household electrical equipment. These apply at the manufacturing and importing level.

There was one major concession for the housewife. The new taxes don't touch electric stoves, washing machines or refrigerators.

Personal income taxes also were left undisturbed, but the little man who pays the shot in this department is living on borrowed time.

Holding Higher Taxes In Reserve

Finance Minister Abbott, as he placed the off-season "baby" budget before the emergency session of the Commons Thursday night, made it plain that he is holding this "important" source of additional revenue "in reserve" for future use.

In a frank forecast of things to come, he said the plain fact is that Canada now must undertake defence measures running at about $1,000,000,000 a year. This year's defence budget, including increases for Korean aid, runs to $860,000,000.

Mr. Abbott then spelled out future tax expectations with these words:

"It is obvious, therefore, the total Federal budget will be further increased in the year 1951-52."

He was equally clear on two other points—that the budget is intended to curb inflationary pressures already apparent in Canada's economic structure, and that its provisions arise directly from this country's military commitments under the United Nations Charter and the North Atlantic Pact.

Won't Re-Introduce Any Price Controls

He replied with a terse "no" to suggestions, made both in parliament and without, that the government reintroduce price controls and subsidies, and that it revive excess-profits taxes.

The budget was a not-unexpected reversal of the tax-cutting trend which has marked government financing since the end of the Second World War. Its provisions will reap revenue of $58,900,000 in the current fiscal year, ending March 31 next, and will produce $189,500,000 in a full year. They also will bring a budget surplus of $15,000,000.

Mr. Abbott did not extend his tax-tapping to tobacco because these levies already were "very high", but he did boost those on lighters, matches and smokers' accessories.

Here is the new tax line-up:

1. Corporation income taxes are increased to 15 per cent. from 10 per cent. on the first $10,000 and to 38 per cent. from 33 per cent. on income of more than $10,000, retroactive to Sept. 1, 1950.

Luxury Taxes To Be Boosted

2. The existing 10-per cent. excise tax is increased to 15 per cent. on motor cars, tires and tubes, cameras and photographic equipment, fountain pens and pencils, furs, jewelry, watches, clocks and ornaments, cigaret lighters, matches, radios and phonographs, slot machines, smokers' accessories, toilet articles and trucks, purses and luggage—all effective immediately.

3. A new 15-per-cent. excise tax is levied on electrical household appliances, including blankets, chafing dishes, coffee makers, curling irons or tongs, dishwashers, food and drink mixers, food choppers and grinders, floor waxers and polishers, garbage disposal units, hair driers, irons and ironers, juice extractors, kettles, portable humidifiers, razors and shavers, toasters of all kinds, vacuum cleaners and attachments, and waffle irons—all effective immediately.

4. A new 15-per-cent. excise tax also is levied on motorcycles and other two or three-wheeled motor-driven vehicles, motors for attachment to bicycles, golf clubs and balls, fishing rods and reels, and firearms and ammunition, except for military and police use—all effective immediately.

5. A new 30-per-cent. tax is levied on bottled soft drinks, candy and chewing gum, plus a tax of 50 cents a pound on carbonic acid gas used in fountain drinks—all effective immediately.

Excise Duties On Spirits Go Up

6. Excise duties on spirits go to $12 from $11 a proof gallon and the tax on malt used in beer goes to 21 cents a pound from 16—both effective immediately.

There are no changes in the eight-per-cent. sales tax or in tarriff rates.

J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Toronto Greenwood), Progressive Conservative financial critic, promptly opened the traditional budget debate with the criticism that Mr. Abbott's accounting did nothing to "create that sense of urgency that I believe we need."

The tone of the budget, he suggested, was that "we're going to insist on a rigorous standard of essentiality—next year."

Mr. Abbott, stressing that the budget was anti-inflationary in character, said the fundamental policy against this type of economic force was to "maximize output, minimize waste and follow a pay-as-you-go policy." That was what the government was doing.

6 Apt. Buildings Razed By Fire

MONTREAL, Sept. 8 — (CP).—Fire of undetermined origin on Thursday night razed six partly-completed apartment houses — some 225 apartments—in suburban Ville St. Laurent, leaving only cracked brick chimneys standing amid the rubble.

Heavy damage was also caused to four other half-finished buildings in the development as windborne embers were carried freely about the area.

Although official figures were not available, early estimates said damages may run to more than $250,000.

More than 20,000 people jammed the development opposite the Canadair aviation plant to watch the spectacular blaze.

Lack of water pressure in the area hindered fire-fighters until pumps were brought in to increase the water pressure.

In Centre of Block

The fire is believed to have started around 7 p.m. in the centre of one of the apartment blocks and at the height of the blaze one hour later, flames shot high in the air.

A strong north-east wind carried cinders to other buildings. One building across the street from where the fire started was set ablaze and reduced to ruins in a matter of minutes.

Fire-fighters battled the conflagration for 3½ hours before bringing it under control.

Gov't Stiffens Farm Loan Rules

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 — (CP). — Farmers received notice from Finance Minister Abbott Thursday night that the government is stiffening the terms of farm improvement loans.

Generally, they will be able to borrow less money than now and will have to pay it back sooner.

Mr. Abbott announced the move in his budget speech as one of a number of "anti-inflation measures" being undertaken by the government.

Future policy, he said, will be to reduce the proportion of improvement expenditures financed under the Farm Improvement Loan Act and to "accelerate the repayment of such loans in a reasonable and practicable manner."

The minister gave no details, but it was learned there will be no government legislation covering the change. The banks, which make the loans under government guarantees, will simply be told to tighten up on the amount lent and on the repayment period. They will have discretionary power to deal with individual cases.

Stevenson said they rang an alarm bell and then got out up the main shaft.

The cave-in is believed to have been caused by heavy rain throughout Thursday.

A colliery official said the entombed miners seemed confident they would be saved.

On the surface other miners worked to fill the cave-in with wood, branches and hay so the sides of the hole would not collapse.

Relatives of the trapped men stood around the pithead throughout the night in grim-faced, whispering groups.

indicated crop up in the next 18 months, he said, parliament will be asked to give additional authority.

"But for the present," he declared, "we have no intention of being drawn into, or getting involved prematurely, in a set of overall controls which would be praticularly appropriate to an emergency much more intense than the difficulties we are facing at the moment."

Mr. Howe's explanation of the controls bill did not mention materials or supplies specifically except for steel and electricity. It said these would be designated by the government as the need arose.

Its primary purpose, he said, was to "enable the government to make sure that Canada's military program and international commitments with regard to preparedness and defence can be implemented without undue delay or disruption."

He emphasized that a "great deal" of the allocation and price control might be accomplished by business itself.

Need Something More

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said he felt that "something more" was needed than was foreshadowed in the legislation if Canada was to have a long period of defence preparedness.

It was all very well to allocate essential materials, but there also should be power to allocate to the ordinary Canadian his day-to-day needs in the way of goods.

Canada was troubled by a severe inflation at a time when there were more goods and services than ever before. There was some other factor pushing prices higher and he suggested that there were in Canada "some profiteers."

Luxury Taxes

It was moving to curb its expenditure program, over and above defence, and, if others did the same, "these new inflationary pressures can and will be neutralized."

Keep Other Weapons Up Sleeve

Meantime, the Government had other anti-inflationary weapons up its sleeve. He would, as already announced, ask for power to limit the use of consumer credit, which had undergone "very rapid" expansion during the last two years.

Also Trade Minister Howe would seek "stand-by" powers to direct the distribution of essential materials, if and when necessary, to "meet both increasing defence requirements and essential civilian needs."

In another step in that direction, the Government is stiffening the terms of farm improvement loans. Generally, Mr. Abbott indicated, this means farmers will be able to borrow less money than at present and will have to pay it back sooner.

The so-called anti-inflationary program also extends into the housing field.

Approve Curb on Housing Loans

Mr. Abbott noted with approval that the Government's Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has already taken action to limit the dollar value of its housing loans "by not recognizing recent increases in costs when establishing the lending values on new houses."

This means that the home builder or buyer, financed by the Corporation, now has to provide in a higher down payment the increased cost of building materials and labor that has developed in the last few months. In some cases, this may mean a decision to postpone building and, thus, an easing of the pressure on labor and construction materials.

Number 9 in the parade of skunks shot by city police after being trapped on the grounds of Martin-Hewitt Containers Ltd. on South Park St. was no ordinary skunk.

Constable Andre Dalton, who shot the animal this morning was surprised to find it had a metal ring of a sealer around its neck, with two pieces of glass jutting out along the sides of its neck. Mr. Skunk looked like a high-collared old gentleman.

It apparently had got its head stuck in a bottle some time ago and managed to break it and was left with a metal collar.

It was the ninth skunk trapped in three weeks on the company's [illegible] were threatened by an invasion of the not-so-welcome kittens Skunks were apt to be found wandering anywhere about the plant at any hour of the day or night.

Judge's Words Error--Defence

TORONTO, Sept. 8 (CP). — The Ontario Court of Appeal today considered a defence contention that Chief Justice J. C. McRuer wrongly used the word "and" instead of "or" in his charge to the jury at the murder trial of James Fosbreay at Napanee.

The defence claim that the chief justice used the wrong word in reading to the jury the legal definition of insanity was put before the court Thursday. Crown counsel W. B. Common was asked to submit his argument on the question today.

The court is hearing an appeal against Fosbreay's conviction in the knife-slaying of his wife, Marie. The air force veteran was sentenced to be hanged Sept. 21.

The defence argued that the legal definition of insanity is that in committing an illegal offence such as murder, the accused "did not appreciate the nature and quality of his act in doing or did not appreciate that it was wrong." The trial record shows that four times in his charge the chief justice used the word "and" instead of "or", the defence contends.

Red Attack

Koreans 3,100 casualties. These were piled on the 20,000 they had lost in the southwest alone in a week of fighting. There has been no estimate of their losses from Taegu to the east coast, but casualties have been heavy there.

Building Up Again

The MacArthur spokesman said the Reds are building up again in the northeast, north and southwest. Bad weather Friday kept Allied planes from hitting the Communist concentrations of men and supplies.

Reformed Allied lines in the critical flatlands southwest of the Pohang port generally held firm against a series of assaults. One section bent under Red attack southwest of Angang, eight miles west of Communist-captured Pohang. But other Allies pushed forward to straighten defensive bulwarks.

U.S. 1st Cavalry troops attacked key Red-held heights seven miles north of Taegu and held their lines elsewhere at the high-water mark of the Communist advance.

Need Material

Across the 50 miles of mountain front from Taegu to the east coast the Red line was manned by between 60,000 and 80,000 Communists.

It was there that the U.S. Eighth Army spokesman said the Reds were believed to be running out of men and material power.

The Communists themselves seemed to bear out his words. They sent a desperate truck column of men and supplies into the raking fire of B-26 night marauders which struck in the eerie light of flares Thursday night.

Air Force spokesmen said they had no estimate of the damage inflicted but the miles-long column was moving as a ready prey to attack with reckless regard for safety.

Already the Reds were reported building a bridge across the Nam River in the southwest to be used by 40,000 Communists concentrated there west of Masan.

Friday the Americans in the southwest hammered back the latest in a series of probing attacks which could lead to a renewed offensive.

No ground was lost and the Americans once again regained Battle Mountain two miles southwest of Haman. It was the ninth time the mountain has changed hands.

Industrial Stocks Lead Market Rise

TORONTO, Sept. 8 (CP). — Industrial and base metals stocks led the upward swing at the Toronto Stock Exchange today in brisk trading as the market showed signs of complete recovery from Wednesday's plunge.

Traders bought and sold briskly for gains up to $2.50 as fears of heavy corporation tax hikes failed to materialize when the budget was read last night. Most traders had expected heavy budget proposals and the market had dipped correspondingly.

Industrials showed the greatest gains as plus signs held a strong majority. Refining oils pushed ahead with advances in McColl, International Pete, McColl and Imperial Oil. Dominion Foundries, Algoma, Dominion Steel B and Page-Hersey climbed fractionally in steels.

Increased zinc prices boosted base metal leaders. Noranda, International Nickel, Quemont jumped and Consolidated Smelters added 2 1/2 at $114. Steep Rock Waite Amulet, Eureka and East Sullivan also moved higher.

Golds and western oils followed the market pattern and shoved higher. Most senior golds were ahead and on the secondary board gains doubled losses. Central-Ledus, Del Rio, Royalite and Atlantic brightened in oils.

4. Canada's rearmament program can be handled by factories now in the arms and aircraft production business. She is offering European allies from existing stocks enough equipment to arm nearly a division. She will have more than that left in stocks from the last war but the offer is considered, Defence Minister Claxton said, a commentary on the government's confidence about defence of Canada.

After three days of debate, the resolution embracing the $850,000,000 rearmament program was approved and the resolution on the army's special force was passed, and the bill that would authorize constitution and maintenance was also given first reading.

Elephant Herd Ravaging Transvaal Farms

PRETORIA, South Africa — (CP). — The biggest elephant hunt in the history of modern Transvaal is taking place in the Blyde River district, where a herd of about 15 elephans has been ravaging farmlands.

The Transvaal declared war on the animals, who have caused heavy damage to crops, after efforts to drive them back to Kruger National Park failed. Six hunters engaged by the provincial administration have so far killed six of them.

Dr. T. G. Nel, head of the Fauna and Flora Division of the Transvaal, said that the first elephants to break out of the game reserve were a few bulls. They spied out the land, and, after finding the surroundings suitable for grazing area, went back to the reserve and returned with the rest of the herd.

Farmers complained to provincial authorities and applied for permits to hunt the elephants themselves, but the provincial administration decided to tackle the job itself.

This is not the only herd causing trouble in the Eastern Transvaal. Near the Crocodile River in the Malciane district another band of elephants is causing much damage. These animals are said to be in a dangerous mood.

VIENNA, Sept. 8 (Reuters) — A gang of arms smugglers, moving hand grenades and detonators from Western Europe to the Iron Curtain countries has been uncovered in the district of Carinthia. # Beecham To Lead Troops In Finale At Edinburgh

By R. B. MacLURKIN

EDINBURGH, Sept. 8.—(Reuters).—Scottish troops go into action here Saturday night under probably the fiercst general they have ever encountered — Sir Thomas Beecham, Britain's star orchestra conductor.

They will be 70-year-old Sir Thomas' shock brigade in a performance of Handel's Royal Fireworks Music, which will net Edinburgh's international festival of music and art.

Played by massed military bands from the heights of the castle esplanade, and pepped up by bursts of artillery fire, the show is confidently expected to give the ancient city its biggest shakeup since John Knox chastised Mary Queen of Scots.

Nervous-minded visitors have 48 hours left in which to take to the surrounding hills or seek the shelter of the capital's wartime dugouts.

Popular Event

But thousands of the city's overseas guests look forward excitedly—if in some cases apprehensively — to the floodlighted finale with Britain's martinet of the baton in his new military role of "Blood and Guts" Beecham.

George Frederick Handel wrote the fireworks music for Britain's celebration of the peace of Aix-La-Chapelle in 1749, but owing to an accident, the performance did not take place.

It is in no danger of being cancelled this time.

But "General" Beecham still has to lay his fire plan.

He has to plan his cannon-fire in suitable volume and timing with the music.

Sir Thomas is sure of his double basses, but is still preoccupied with the double barrels.

He has apparently ruled out a suggestion that the bands use the 25-pounders of the castle battery for the gunfire that punctuates the music.

They might prove too much both for the music and the spectators.

Sporadic bursts of gunfire shatter the air from time to time nowdays as experts help Sir Thomas to gauge where the guns should be placed and what type should be used.

If "General" Beecham maintains his podium traditions, he will want the same split-second timing from the guns as he demands from his 90-piece orchestra.

Peterborough's Birthday Cakes

At its principal intersections the city now displays handsome birthday cakes, suspended over the street and capable of being illuminated at night. These novel and pretty decorations are the work of the Public Utilities and the Centennial Committee, who are to be congratulated upon them.

* * *

We have heard some criticism to the effect that the cakes have come too late; most of our toufists have gone, and will not see them. But what does it matter? We are not observing our Centennial primarily in order to amuse tourists, but to amuse ourselves. The Centennial celebrations are to do honour to the city in which we live, not necessarily to charm money out of the pockets of summer visitors. Peterborough is glad to welcome tourists and to provide them with what they need, but we must beware of developing a tourist-town psychology—a state of mind in which everything is judged by its usefulness in attracting and squeezing tourists. Let us not lose our self-respect in our anxiety about tourist trade. There are cities and towns in Ontario which have done so, and they are pitiable objects—cringing, venal and despicable. Let us have tourists by all means, but do not let us sell our souls to the tourists. And therefore, what does it matter if the tourists do not see our birthday cakes. We see them, and it is for us, the people of Peterborough, that they are intended. They are charming adornments, and we hope that they will remain in place until the Centennial Year is out.

* * *

The Centennial celebrations have been spread out over the whole of 1950, and they will not be over until the last hour of the last day of this year. We have four months in which to enjoy the birthday cakes.

Long Municipal Service

We wish to draw attention to the long term of municipal service which has been given to Havelock by Mr. Ernest W. Seeney, who has just retired from his work on the C.P.R. Mr. Seeney served on the town council for seventeen consecutive years, and for ten of those years he was reeve. In 1941 he served as Warden of Peterborough County.

Sometimes we forget that our system of government has three chief branches—dominion, provincial and municipal. Municipal government is a complex study and municipal administration and municipal finance have problems which do not occur in precisely the same form in the dominion and provincial fields. When Mr. Seeney retired from public service in Havelock that municipality was free of debenture debt, a fact which suggests excellent financing.

We owe a debt to our municipal legislators which too often we forget to acknowledge. They are a little too near to us to be seen at full length, and too often we take them for granted. In the person of Mr. Seeney we do honour to all those patient servants of the public who work in our municipalities to keep the wheels of civilization moving.

Destroying The Papers Of The Dead

such a request; the private papers of an important man undoubtedly contain much that is of the deepest interest, and they may contain information which would alter our notion of history if it were made public.

We feel, nevertheless, that a man's expressed wishes should be obeyed in such a matter. A statesman, in particular, spends much of his career in building up his public character. If he keeps a private and honest diary he must necessarily record many things which are out of keeping with the impression which he seeks to make on the world at large. They may be trivial matters, but if he chooses to keep them secret he must be allowed to do so.

We live in an age of boundless and unscrupulous curiosity. There are millions of readers eager to know what the Duke of Windsor thought about the late Archbishop of Canterbury; millions more want to know what the governess of the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret thought about her pupils; further millions want to know anything that Mrs. Roosevelt will tell them about the private life of her late husband. The world is full of snoops, and people who are not above making money by pandering to snoops. If a man has anything to conceal, he may well leave orders for his executors to burn his diaries; if he is particularly cautious he will probably burn them himself.

Of course we are all curious. We should love to know what it was in Byron's papers which caused Tom Moore to destroy them. And we should like to know what gaudy passages in Sir Richard Burton's translation of The Scented Garden impelled Lady Burton to burn it. But in these cases it was the squeamishness of the living, not of the dead which brought about the destruction. If Mackenzie King ordered his diaries into the fire, that is the only honourable place to put them.

Berenice And Berneice

For the past four years the women's professional swimming contest at the C.N.E. has been won by a woman from Ashtabula, Ohio, called Berneice Looney Crandall. We salute her prowess as a swimmer, but it is not that which chiefly interests us about her. We are fascinated by her name. She is the only person we know of who spells the name Berenice as a majority of people on this continent pronounce it.

The name Berenice is, to our ears, a beautiful one—but only when it is pronounced with four syllables and the final 'e' sounded. It is derived from the Greek name Pherenice, and it has been the name of five Egyptian and two Jewish princesses. Canadians and Americans, when they bear this lovely name, usually choose to pronounce it as though it were spelled Burnees—just as they insist on pronouncing Evelyn as Evlun and Irene as Ireen. Ignorance is at the root of this barbarity, but if enough people insist on an ignorant pronunciation it quickly becomes current, however much may be lost in beauty of sound.

But Mrs. Crandall, or her parents, has taken a firm and sensible stand on this matter. Wishing her name to be pronounced Burnees, she has spelled it Berneice. We suggest that other parents follow the example of Mrs. Crandall's, and leave the name Berenice to those who like it, and who are willing to take the pains to pronounce it correctly.

Canada's Overseas Empire

Canada has no colonies, no external dependencies, no territorial empire. But empires in land are outmoded and expensive these days; they have been replaced by financial imperialism. In this realm Canada has a pretty stake. The Bureau of Statistics has recently reported that Canadian investment abroad in 1949 amounted to $4,763,000,000. In 1926 this nation's external holdings totalled $1,296 millions. Thus, in the short space of twenty-three years, Canadians have quadrupled their foreign investment. It is a measure of Canadian enterprise as well as of Canadian wealth.

The investment abroad is both public and private. The Canadian government's export credit loans to other countries—Britain, France and the Netherlands for instance—are stakes in those countries, though chiefly an assistance to them to buy Canadian goods and services in years when they have a deficit balance with Canada. Canadian businessmen have invested in new projects abroad, such as rubber plantations, in foreign railways (Canadian holdings in American roads have always been large), and in bonds.

On the other side of the ledger—foreign investment in Canada—the situation is healthy and the total of Canadian bonds held outside the country (that is, Canada's bonded indebtedness to foreigners), dropped from $3,508 millions in 1939 to $3.041 millions in 1949.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A winner of a beauty contest says that the trend today is toward brains. We can't give an opinion on that, but when we look at the winners of several recent contests we observe that there is a strong trend away from beauty.

To win a bet, a fourteen-years-old English boy swallowed 24 bullets, 10 buttons, two farthings and a length of metal chain. Let's hope the bet was for a sum which will cover an exploratory operation.

Swedish scientists have developed a giant race of rabbits through the use of five cents' worth of chemical. Thinking of delicious rabbit pies we have eaten in the past, we acclaim this as the answer to the present problem of high-priced beef

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR READERS, past, present and to be, please note the heading of this column: Notes and Queries. At the end of June, before I took Friday leave of this page, I dutifully cleaned up all the Questions on hand. Now I have none, since I am starting out afresh, although one kind person, remembering that I was due on the scene again this month, came forth with a query early in the week. It is answered below. Now I await with open maw for more. They are my meat and drink.

* * *

ALPHA: How much did the new city hall site cost? Who decided it should be bought? Where did the money come from? By whose generosity or authority?

ANSWER: The cost has not been settled yet; prices of several of the properties in the lot are still under negotiation. It is expected that the total cost will be about $120,000. By terms of the Morrow will, the city had to provide the site. Last year the Council, after many months of discussion and investigation, approved the Murray-George St. corner, which is in accordance with the City Plan. No major sums have yet been paid out for the site; when the time comes debentures will be issued.

* * *

SEEING MRS. MOODIE on the stage last week, I wondered if she looked like Clarine Jackman, or rather if Miss Jackman looked like Mrs. Moodie. I think the portrayal was faithful to the mind and spirit, if not to her flesh, and not far off from the flesh, judging from portraits. A note by Florence Randal Livesay of Toronto has come to my hand. It is dated March 1928 and reports that Mrs. Sawtell at Lakefield saw Mrs. Moodie in her old age. "A dear old lady, childish-looking, peacefully knitting at a window; kerchief crossed on dress, seemed to take no interest in the conversation; but suddenly woke and became animated giving her reminiscences. I could have listened to her for hours." Mrs. Moodie died in 1885, at the age of 82.

HOW THE C.G.E. CAME to Peterborough: The Langton family has been much in the news during the last year, partly because of Anne Langton's Journals, a selection from which was recently published under the name "Gentlewoman in Upper Canada". John Langton's letters were published earlier. Mr. George M. Douglas of Lakefield writes me of the long connection and friendship between the Langtons and the Douglases.

"What is of particular interest to Peterborough is the fact that it was due to John Langton that the C.G.E. plant was established at Peterborough. John Langton, son of the John Langton of the 'Letters', was an engineer of great merit. He was in charge of the G.E. plant at Sherbrooke when the matter of establishing a new G.E. plant came up. The G.E. authorities wanted this at either Hamilton or Toronto.

"In spite of opposition John Langton persuaded them that Peterborough was the best place. His arguments were waterpower available, suitable space, two railways, and particularly the high grade labour that a place like Peterborough would attract and hold. John Langton was an old friend and boss of my own, and he told me all about it. The first time I ever met him was at Peterborough in the first days of construction of the G.E. plant. His arguments for establishing the plant in Peterborough have been justified, especially as regards the high grade personnel."

My thanks to Mr. Douglas for this highly interesting information, new to me, and I am sure to most readers.

AUBURN HOUSE: The north-east outskirts of the city along the river are called Auburn after the house of that name. The Stewart home, "Auburn", was the setting of the play "At My Heart's Core", written with Peterborough's centenary in mind, and presented with official backing last week by the Peterborough Summer Theatre. The present house at Auburn (in the possession of the Hamilton family) across from the Peterborough Golf Club, whose barns are now being used as a rent-a-horse-by-the-hour stable, was not built by the Stewarts but by a gentleman named Moir who owned the Auburn mills at one time.

This information comes from Mrs. Helen F. Brown of R.R. 9, a great-granddaughter of the Stewarts. She writes that her brother and she have "Goodwood", which is "all that remains in the family of the large grant our great-grandparents received. This is where our great-grandmother spent the last years of her life and where she died. This house was remodelled in 1908 from the old nineteen-room monstrosity that replaced the log house burned in 1866."

* * *

DURING THE SUMMER Alpha answered the call of nature several times, and saw a kicked tree, shouted at him, threw sticks, and finally stirred him to climb higher. (I wanted to see a porcupine walk a limb.) After a while my slanderous hoots and inexpertly aimed missiles really got him "out on a limb". It was only a fifth as wide as he was. When he crawled where he could apparently go no farther, I tried to get him to plop down. (Somebody told me that a porcupine can drop down from a great height and not hurt himself.) But he didn't budge further—preferring to endure my jeers to the hard ground underneath.

It is said that porcupines are the only wild animals which a person is forbidden to molest or shoot. It is a law of the woods, if not statutory. The reason is that a porcupine is the only edible animal a man can surely kill without a weapon other than stick or stone. (They move slowly, like skunks.) So next time you are lost, unarmed, do not despair. Eat porcupine.

By the way, porcupines do not throw their quills. They shed them, like baldies their hair.

FOR THE RECORD: Centennial year is still on, even though the street bunting has gone. Now we are taking the cake (in the eye at intersections). Perhaps we could have a sod-turning ceremony at the new city hall site before the snow flies.

Letters To The Editor

PRAISE FOR TROJAN BOYS' CHOIR

Sir: Just a week ago our Legion Boys' Choir under the leadership of Mr. Walter Bent attended the Canadian National Exhibition.

I understand they were one of three boys' choirs from Ontario chosen to attend. Don't you think we should recognize that distinction as something special in this our Centennial year?

Now if Mr. Bent had had the misfortune to have lost one of the "gang" or had anyone hurt everyone most certainly would have heard about it and Mr. Bent criticized. Such was not the case. Mr. Bent and his secretary Charles Foster had this company of young, excited boys so well organized that they appeared at the various places of entertainment on the appointed times. They were a smart looking group neatly dressed in dark trousers, white shirts and black bow ties.

Then they also had to be together on the Grand Stand, at dining halls, sleeping accommodation etc., etc

It is hard to realize the magnitude of such an adventure! Just boys under the capable leadership of Mr. Bent singing to thousands and in their own sweet manner advertising their home town Peterborough.

We all know the old saying, Boys will be boys! But it takes men like Mr. Bent to try and make better boys.

My husband joins me in thanking the sponsors of the Trojan Boys' Choir, Chas. Foster secretary, the careful bus-driver and particularly Mr. Walter Bent for including our son in this unforgettable experience.

Sincerely,
MARGARET ARMSTRONG.

SOME QUESTIONS FOR MR. OUIMET

Sir: I have just been reading the letters regarding Mr. Ouimet and his potato chip stall. I do not know Mr. Ouimet so have no spite against him or any of those who wrote the letters (under noms de plume) but there are several things I would like to mention. First I would like to ask if Mr. Ouimet pays a business tax? Still another question is, does not Mr. Ouimet work at another job all day, and the chip stall is only a side line? If it is his only way of making a living he must be people standing [illegible] passed his stall I have never seen a queue waiting to be served. I would also add that it is most annoying for people riding on buses to have three or four people get on eating odorous chips and throwing empty containers on the floor. Complaints are made of smoking on bus but in my opinion eating potato chips is just as annoying.

F. A. DAINTON.

IF ALL SHOPS WERE WAGONS

Sir: Every letter writer is falling tearfully on his face in support of the man who runs the potato chip wagon. There are fingers pointed at council members as if they were tin-pot dictators. I'd like to say a word on the other side. I do not know the operator in question, have never eaten his chips (which must be all right, judging by the enthusiasm of his supporters), but I am a taxpayer, in a small way.

I suppose Mr. Ouimet pays a business tax, like other merchants. But he does not pay high rents, land taxes or anything else. He has his wagon perched in the very centre of the business section, all for free on the city's roadway. A little shop the size of his wagon, located in the best business section would fetch a pretty rent. It seems to me potato chip wagons etc. are in unfair competition with other merchants of hot dogs, potato chips etc., who with shops either pay taxes or high rents. Perhaps because his wagon stand is on the spot where the Salvation Army holds its Saturday evening street meetings people think he is doing as much good for the community as the Salvation Army, and should get the site free.

I thoroughly sympathize with the majority of the Council's desire to regulate the chip-wagon, peanut wagon, soft drink wagon and other wagon businesses. They are not trying to drive sanitary, decent wagon-vendors out of business. They want merely to protect the taxpayers.

[illegible] and special taxes on these wagons) what would happen to business on George Street, to firms paying $100 to $500 a month rent for their shops? They would all move out into the street. Soon we would have ladies undies, men's shops, tea-time cakes, fruit and vegetable, and even surplus war goods, being sold on the streets, escaping rents, escaping land taxes. Perhaps the time would come when all the stores on George and Charlotte would be empty, and everybody doing business on the street, just like Arabs in Algeria. Then watch the householders' rents go up, the home owners taxes soar, boarding-house rates rise.

I'll bet the people who are writing saying the Council are dirty so-and-so's are the same people who write about the high taxes and rent. Mr. Editor, they have written anonymously, permit me to do so too.

Yours,
JANUS.

BUSINESS MAN FAVOURS OUIMET

Sir: Could you spare a few lines in your columns, to add further objections, along with the many letters already printed in your columns, in regard to Mr. Ouimet and his license.

We feel Mr. Ouimet should not be deprived of his growing business, in a free country such as this. He spent many hours and days working for the City Civic Arena, before it was built, and has shown he is a very public spirited citizen.

I am told on good authority, his wagon and equipment meets all requirements of the Department of Health, so as a citizen of this fair city, I am very much in favour of seeing Mr. Ouimet remain on the streets as in the past.

Give him his license so he will know where he stands.

Yours truly,
GEORGE AND HUNTER STS. BUSINESS MAN.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I will remember the works of the Lord: surely I will remember thy wonders of old. I will meditate also of all thy work, and talk of thy doings. (Ps. 77: 11, 12.)

Unto Timothy, my own son in the faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord. (I Tim. 1: 2.)

Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity . . . Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all. (I Tim. 4: 12, 15.)

Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. (Phil. 4: 8.)

Casualties May Boost Red Aid

By MAX BOYD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—(AP)—Two developments appeared today to be pushing Russians and Communist China towards a decision on helping the North Koreans with troops and air power, or by some action to engage American forces elsewhere.

These developments are:

1. The gradual build-up of United Nations forces which, if not checked by the North Koreans or by the outbreak of Communist aggression in some other quarter, should assure a successful offensive eventually.

2. The heavy casualties which UN forces claim to be inflicting on the Korean Communists.

Exact information as to the size of the North Korean army is not available, but there seems little doubt that it still outnumbers the United Nations forces heavily. Original U.S. estimates of North Korean strength at between 90,000 and 100,000 have been revised upward steadily as the conflict progressed. Units with an estimated total strength of 150,000 men have been identified, and one of Gen. MacArthur's intelligence officers estimated at the end of July that the North Koreans had brought their army strength up to 200,000 by frantic mobilization.

57,000 Casualties

The U.S. army estimated several weeks ago that the North Koreans had suffered 57,000 casualties. No estimate of the total North Korean casualties has been made since then. However, an army spokesman said today that estimates of 20,000 casualties among the Korean Communists during the last week did not seem out of reason.

American casualties based on notices sent to next of kin through Sept. 1 have been announced as 8,863. South Korean casualties have been estimated at about 40,000.

Continued losses at such a rate undoubtedly would increase North Korean demands that aid from the outside go further than Russian tanks, heavy artillery, mortars and ammunition.

Russian tanks have been a major factor in enabling the North Koreans to retain the initiative in the fighting thus far.

BERLIN, Sept. 8 (Reuters) — East German demolition squads Thursday blew up Berlin's imperial castle—one of the last links with Germany's kings and emperors—to make room for a political parade ground. The castle ruins were all that remained after allied bombing of Berlin during the Second World War. The castle, built in 1443, housed the Prussian kings Frederick I and Frederick William I, and all the German emperors.
